CHINESE REBELLION BECOMING SERIOUS IN AND ABOUT CANTON

Bodies of the Slain Lie Unburied in the Streets of the City.

Wu Sum Is Leader of the Revolt Against the Manchu Dynasty.

Brigand Chief Luk Follows in Wake and Burns and Loots.

Hongkong, China, May 1.—Rebellion, brigandage and anarchy are stalking through the western half of Kwang Tung province murdering, pillaging and burning. The loyal troops are fighting desperately to crush the uprising, the seriousness of which is revealed in further dispatches from Canton today.

Wu Sum, a Chinese, who was educated in Japan, and has adopted the dress of Western countries, is the leader of the revolt against the Manchu dynasty. The brigand chief, Luk, of Shun Tak, is at the head of a horde of outlaws, whose object is robbery and murder.

Following the standards of these two men are anarchists groups to whose purpose the present outbreak lends itself most advantageously.

These combined forces have thrown themselves with fanatical disregard of their own lives against the troops, and since the first outbreak Thursday night much blood has been shed. Sedition is rife among certain of the troops and it is feared that the disaffected soldiers will desert their officers if the revolters appear to have the upper hand.

Bodies Lie in Street.

Official advices and the refugees arriving from Canton today confirm the sinister reports of yesterday. Bodies of the slain lie in the streets of the city. Famine prices are asked for foodstuffs, and the shops generally are closed. In the panic there have been few attempts to bury the dead and the stench from the decomposed bodies fill the air.

Today the revolters have withdrawn

RAMON CORRAL,

PURE FICTION, SAYS CORRAL

Vice President of Mexico Denies Interview Reported From Santander.

Declares He Has Never Said That Americans Fomented Rebellion.

Paris, May 1.—Vice President Corral of Mexico arrived here today and in a statement to the Associated Press denied that he had ever given an interview at Santander or elsewhere in which he critized Americans as having fomented the revolution in Mexico.

On April 27 El Imparcial of Mexico City printed a dispatch from Santander, Spain, in which Corral was quoted as saying that the revolution in Mexico was fomented by Americans desirous of intervention by the United States. According to the dispatch the vice president said that in case of intervention all Mexicans, regardless of party, would unite to fight the common enemy.

The publication was called to the attention of the state department at Washington by Ambassador Wilson, and the American government at once took the matter up with Mexico, requesting that the authenticity of the interview be established and intimating that if this could not be done the gov-

BANGOR, ME., FIRESWEPT

Third of City Destroyed With Losses Aggregating $6,000,000.

Hundreds of Persons Are Without Shelter of Any Kind.

Bangor, Me., May 1.—Homeless, wet, hungry and exhausted by the long fight against the flames which last night destroyed practically a third of the city of Bangor, thousands of persons today faced the problem of providing themselves with food, shelter and clothing, while city and state authorities began the consideration of plans for the rebuilding of the city.

When dawn broke over the stricken city today, hundreds of groups of men, women and children could be seen huddled about smouldering bonfires or stretched along the edge of the smoking ruins, endeavoring to warm and dry themselves.

Although the rain brought discomfort to the homeless, it was the means of bringing under control the great conflagration which raged for more than seven hours last night. At a time when the battle against the flames seemed hopeless, a Providential shift of wind and a downpour of rain drove the fire back over the burned district and drowned out the flames which had just started in unburned property.

At 7:45 a. m. today the fire was virtually extinguished. One-third of the city had been destroyed, including some of the finest homes in the residential part of Bangor, all of the public build-

SHOPMEN ON STRIKE

Fifteen Hundred Quit the Pennsylvania Railroad Unexpectedly.

Six Parades of Workmen Feature of May 1 in New York City.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 1.—Pennsylvania railroad shopmen, to the number of about 1,500, between this city and Altoona, struck unexpectedly today. Some of the train crews joined the strikers at Pitcairn, while at the Twenty-eighth street shops in this city some of the other employes besides the men involved in the dispute with the railroad company also went out. Among the other places in which the men quit are Derry, Youngwood and Conemaugh.

A. E. Ireland, general organizer of the railroad department of the American Federation of Labor, asserts that 8,000 men will be affected by the strike.

The strikers are claiming that other employes of the company, to the number of 10,000, will go out in sympathy some time today and tonight.

At Pitcairn the company had laid off 2,500 men, but the 50 men remaining promptly quit. The strike was a complete surprise, as there was no clear indication Saturday night, when these men held meetings, that they would take such quick action, and it was thought that May day in Pittsburg

HEAVY SNOW IN MISSISSIPPI VALLEY

Several Inches at Winona and La Crosse Will Greatly Benefit Crops.

La Crosse, Wis., May 1.—A heavy snow has been falling since before daylight this morning. Six inches have fallen here and the fall continues heavy. Railway and wire companies may be slightly inconvenienced in this section but a vast benefit will be given to the crops.

Five Inches at Winona.

Winona, Minn., May 1.—Four to five inches of snow fell here during the night and today.

BOND ROBBER ACTS QUEERLY

Woman Who Took Mrs. Armour's Securities Is Hysterical at Times.

Kansas City, Mo., May 1.—There may be no prosecution of the woman who took $150,000 in bonds from Mrs. C. B. Armour, widow of the packer. At least arrest will be delayed, it was said positively today. Between $25,000 and $50,000 is still unaccounted for. The exact amount is not known because of the mixed condition of Mrs. Armour's books.

There is a theory among detectives that the woman was acting under the suggestion, hynotic or otherwise, of a man friend. Detectives are said to be searching for him.

Mrs. Armour still believes, her attorneys say, that the woman will make restitution in full and until it has been proved that she will not or cannot, no action will be taken.

The attorney who has been retained by the young woman said:

"The young woman's brother in Brazil, I think, will be able to settle the matter. I have written him, but cannot hope for a reply before June 1.

"The young woman's brother is her last resort, as he is her only relative beside her mother in California, who is not able to take any part in the restoration of the $25,000 missing."

The woman is said to be almost penniless and her condition borders closely on the hysterical. Friends say she endeavors repeatedly to find trace of the missing money, but her mind seems a blank on those questions.

FOUND NEAR DETOUR.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The body of Fred Parker of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., who was drowned in the St. Mary's river last November, was found near Detour, Mich., early this morning.

Young Parker and three others were in a night ferry headed for this city when the boat capsized, drowning all of them.

Extensive Headquarters Are Opened With Prominent Labor Men in Charge.

Darrow Sends Word That He Will Undertake the Defense.

Important Legal Developments Are Expected in a Short Time.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 1.—Although important legal developments were expected soon in the cases of John J. McNamara, secretary of the International Association of Bridge & Structural Iron Workers, and his brother, James B. McNamara, charged with dynamiting outrages, the week opened quietly so far as outward appearances were concerned. No further plans of either the prosecution or the defense were definitely announced.

District Attorney Fredericks is not expected to ask for the arraignment of the men before the arrival about the middle of the present week of his assistant, Joseph Ford, from Indianapolis.

The defense has opened extensive

ALLEGED CONFESSOR OF DYNAMITE OUTRAGES

FIVE OFFICERS WOUNDED IN RAID

Deputies Attacked While Attempting to Arrest Violators of Sunday Law.

Dallas, Tex., May 1.—In a battle between deputy sheriffs and unidentified persons here this morning, five officers were shot, one probably fatally.

The officers were wounded in a raid on a disorderly house suspected of violating the Sunday law.

Grady Kennedy was probably fatally wounded in the breast, Joe Brown will likely lose his left arm, John Chelsa was shot through the left lung, Ben Loft had part of his left shoulder torn away and L. J. Curran, a special policeman, was shot in the leg.

A dozen policemen surrounded the house and arrested eleven white men and seized gaming apparatus and a quantity of intoxicants.

CHARGE IS UNFOUNDED

Gomez Says Rebels Have Not Received a Dollar From Americans.

Attempt in Mexican Congress to Stir Up Anti-American Sentiment.

El Paso, Tex., May 1.—Charges reported to have been made on the floor of the Mexican congress in Mexico City that American capital and American soldiers have been the chief bulwark of the Mexican revolution are answered by insurrecto leaders at the Madero camp across the river today with the assertion that apparently an attempt was being made to stimulate anti-American sentiment in Mexico City.

Dr. Vasquez Gomez, who has been named to head the insurrecto peace commission, spent the morning in conference with Francisco I. Madero, Jr., and other insurgent leaders, preparing the revolutionists' program, which will be presented to the federal peace envoys in the initial conference tomorrow. Immediately after his talk with the insurrecto chiefs, Dr. Gomez said to an Associated Press correspondent:

Not a Dollar of American Money.

"I have heard many charges since the revolution began, that the Standard Oil company and other American corporations have supplied funds in support of the revolutionary movement. We have just been advised by telegrams that in the chamber of deputies

SECRETARY OF TREASURY SUED

Chicago, May 1.—Franklin MacVeagh, secretary of the treasury, was made defendant in a suit for $100,000 damages filed today by Charles F. Leach, former collector of customs at Cleveland, Ohio.

Mr. Leach charges that following his dismissal from office March 10, 1911, by President Taft, Secretary MacVeagh in a statement charged that Leach had turned over to importers thousands of dollars' worth of woolens before the customs were paid, that the importers had been allowed to store the woolens in their own warehouses before duty payment, and that he had been guilty of other branches of the treasury department rules.

HYDE CASE POSTPONED.

Delayed By Illness of the Prosecuting Attorney.

Kansas City, Mo., May 1.—Dr. B. C. Hyde, under indictment on the charge of murdering Col. Thomas H. Swope, appeared in the criminal court here today to be arraigned for his second trial, but on account of the illness of Virgil Conkling, the county prosecutor, the case was postponed until May 16.

DECISION OF SUPREME COURT HARD BLOW TO WESTERN STOCKMEN

Court Holds Forest Reserves Are Not Subject to State Laws.

Indictments May Be Brought for Grazing Without Permit.

United States Can Do What It Pleases With Own Property.

Washington, May 1.—The supreme court of the United States did not announce a decision today in either the Standard Oil or the tobacco suits, arising under the Sherman anti-trust law.

By holding that the Federal government without consent of the state affected may set aside vast areas of public lands as a forest reserve and that such reserve is not subject to the state fencing laws, the supreme court of the United States today settled two burning Western issues.

Stockmen of the West lost a hard fought contest today when the supreme court also decided that indictments could be brought against persons grazing stock on forest reserves without permits.

The court held that regulations of the secretary of agriculture requiring permits was not an unconstitutional exercise of legislative power.

The decision was announced in the case of Pierre Grimaud and J. P. Cerajous, indicted for grazing sheep upon the Sierra forest reserve.

Justice Lamar announced the opinion of the court as to the constitutionality of the forest reserve.

He said that the United States has the absolute right to do what it pleases with its own property; the Constitution had given it such power. This control, the justice said, was not a right incident to sovereignty, as claimed by the opponents of the reservation, but was the exercise of a right which every citizen possessed.

All the public land is held by the United States in trust for the whole people, and it is not for the court to say how that trust shall be administered; that is for congress to say.

HEADLESS BODY FOUND IN CANAL

May Be Dr. William A. Gray, Retired Washington Physician.

Washington, May 1.—The finding of the headless body of a man in a canal in this city last night may solve the mystery in the disappearance of Dr. William A. Gray, a retired Washington physician, missing since March 1. The body is not in a condition to be identified. A relative of the physician thought he recognized a key taken from the body. The police have started an investigation on the theory that there has been foul play.

OHIO HAS A SCANDAL

Members of Legislature Are Charged With Accepting Bribes.

Three Detectives Arrested for Bribery Make the Charges.

Columbus, Ohio, May 1.—Ohio legislators flocked into the city hours earlier today than usual on Mondays, because of charges made by detectives that they have unearthed the worst bribery scandal in the history of the Ohio general assembly.

Senators and representatives who are openly charged with having accepted money did not reach the city early so their version of the detectives story is not known at first hand, although several are quoted from their home towns as denying the charges.

Three detectives, F. S. Harrison of New York, and A. C. Bailey and David Berry of Chicago, were arraigned in police court today for alleged bribery of Representative George B. Nye and were bound over to the grand jury. Detective Harrison names four state senators with whom he had dealings and to whom he paid money.

Bailey and Harrison were bound to the grand jury in bonds of $5,000 each, and Berry was bound to the grand jury on the charge of bribery in bonds of $2,500.

The men were locked up for a short time until new bonds for common pleas court could be signed. Their bonds were signed by the American Surety company.

Prosecuting Attorney Turner of Franklin county today held a conference with Attorney General Hogun regarding the bribery scandal.

BIG CARRIERS DO NOT WANT GRAIN

Low Rate and Light Cargoes Throw Business to Package Freighters.

Grain men here today state that the big freighters are not in the market for grain and the chances are that these boats will get very little of the grain at the Head of the Lakes. One of the reasons is that the grain is going down in very small lots, and another is that the big freighters have shown no disposition to touch grain charters at the present rate of 1¾ cents to Buffalo.

The package freighters are getting what grain is going, the Yale of the Northern Navigation being one of the latest package freighters to get a cargo. With an exceptionally light eastbound business at the start of the season, the package freight men are willing to take all the grain they can get, even at present low figures.

There is not enough grain at the Head of the Lakes to make it worth the while of the big boats going after the trade.

SHARPLESS IS RELEASED

Wreckers have succeeded in releasing the steamer John Sharpless from Galloup Island, Lake Ontario. The steamer, which was on the rocks all winter, was leaking freely and is in bad shape. The wrecked boat was towed to Cape Vincent.

The Sharpless will be towed to Kingston, where her cargo of corn will be unloaded. The grain was purchased by Richardson & Son, after the boat went ashore. The steamer will probably be paced in drydock at Kingston for temporary repairs. The dock is engaged at present, and the work of repairing the wrecked vessel cannot be started for a week.

The Great Lakes Protective association last week accepted the Sharpless as a total loss, and the chances are that the underwriters will settle on that basis. If that is done the wrecked boat will be sold by the underwriters at public sale. She was insured for about $90,000, and some of the underwriters have settled with the owners.

The Sharpless was owned by the Great Lakes & St. Lawrence Transportation company. She was bound for Kingston with a cargo of corn when she went ashore last December. Capt. D. Sullivan of Chicago, manager of the transportation company, abandoned the steamer to the underwriters as a total constructive loss. A contract for releasing the steamer was let to a Canadian firm last winter, but the contract was declared off before work was started.

Later the underwriters closed a contract with Wreckers Reid and Baker to float the steamer and deliver her in port. The wreckers will get about $20,000 and will make some money on the job.

The Canadian steamer Dunelm, which was wrecked on Lake Superior last fall, is in drydock at Port Arthur, and it will be some time before she is ready to go into commission.

The Reid Wrecking company will start to work on the steamer W. C. Moreland, ashore at Eagle River, Lake Superior, this week. According to reports from Calumet, the big freighter is in much worse shape than she was when wrecking work was abandoned last December.

PATTERSON TAKES NEW POSITION

Former Fleet Engineer for A. B. Wolvin Engaged By A. T. Kinney.

Gilbert Patterson of Superior, former fleet engineer for the Wolvin line of steamers, has been made chief engineer of the lines handled by A. T. Kinney of Cleveland. It is probable that Mr Patterson will leave for Cleveland within a few days to assume the duties of his new position.

Mr. Kinney is manager for the Kinney Steamship company, the Tecumseh Steamship company, the Jenkins Steamship company and has also arranged to take over the management of the Standard and Acme Steamship companies.

BANK PLAN FOR SAILORS.

Men on Lake Boats Will Have an Opportunity to Deposit Savings.

A lake marine savings department has been established by a Cleveland banking institution and has been approved by the welfare plan committee of the Lake Carriers' association, giving the sailors of the lakes an opportunity to get away from the old practice of entrusting their savings to the officers of the ships or carrying large sums of money around in their pockets.

Each vessel owner desiring may have a banking outfit placed on his ship. When the captain of a ship pays the crew, the sailor may take his wages or deposit the money in the bank by means of a draft on the owner, drawn by the captain. If a sailor wishes to deposit only a portion of his wages in the bank, the master will pay him what money he wants and give him a draft on the owner for the remainder of his wages. These drafts are to be sent to the bank and deposited to the credit of the senders.

A depositor wishing to withdraw money from the bank will be able to do so by obtaining an order from the captain and sending it to the bank with his passbook. A New York draft for the amount stated will be issued to the depositor or anybody he may direct.

LOW WATER AT SOO HINDRANCE TO VESSELS.

The water at the Soo canal at the present time is so low that several steamers that have been loaded for more than eighteen feet depth have had to lighten before they could get through the canal. At the present time it is estimated that the draft at the Soo is 17.5 feet, which is the lowest on record, and it is estimated that the loss to some of the fleets that have started out with a heavy load will be very heavy.

Until there is an increase in the present depth all of the vessels for the Head of the Lakes will be compelled to load light.

Delay in Survey.

By the sundry civil appropriation bill, passed by the last congress, $125,000 was appropriated for a survey of the Northern and Northwestern lakes with the following proviso tacked on: "That the survey be extended so as to include the lakes and other natural navigable waters embraced in the navigation system of the "New York Canals."

This entire survey, including that of Lakes Champlain, Seneca, etc., included in the New York barge canal system, was ordered made under the direction of the United States lake survey office at Detroit. But to date nothing at all has been done by the engineering staff or the war department toward carrying out this order.

Maj. La Due, in direct charge of this department at the war office, states that so far no orders have been issued to the Detroit office to go ahead. It is inferred that the time is so short, since the enactment of the appropriation, as to have occasioned no necessity for action.

But it is also said there is a certain amount of friction over the matter as between the congressmen from New York who secured the appropriation and the war department entrusted with the work.

At the war department this alleged friction is denied and the lack of time since the passage of the bill is declared to be the only reason why nothing has been done.

Detroit, it is announced, will be the headquarters of the work. The office staff may be materially increased for the task and, with the entire survey of the Northern and Northwestern lakes, included in which comes the New York canal system survey, will add the entire $125,000 to the expenditures of the Detroit office.

JEWISH PEOPLE ORGANIZE CLUB

Social Betterment and Education of Immigrants Objects of Organization.

A new Jewish organization which has been started in the city held its first meeting yesterday afternoon at Rowley's hall, 112 West First street. About forty-five members were present. It will be known as the D'Israell club. Its object is to provide good-fellowship and unity among the Jews of the city.

Permanent clubrooms will be established later, and those not familiar with the country and existing conditions will be enlightened along general lines. The newcomers will be taught to become Americans. Lectures will be arranged from time to time, and social sessions will be an important feature of the organization. The club will have an endowment fund which will be used to aid the families of the needy in case of death or distress. Some time during the month the club will apply for a state charter. M. J. Segal, who has been organizing the club, states that he expects that before July 1 the club will have a membership of 500.

Officers were elected as follows: President, H. Y. Joseph; first vice president, W. M. Abrahamson; second vice president, G. Orecki; treasurer, B. J. Cook; financial and recording secretary, M. J. Segal; trustees, Harris Bennett, S. Kassmir, S. Kerness, M. Markewich, M. L. Zien and M. Silk.

INCREASE IN APRIL BUILDING

Fewer Permits Issued Than Year Ago, But Cost Is Greater.

The monthly report of the building inspector's office, completed this morning by Deputy Adolph Anderson, shows that considerable more building was done last month than in April a year ago. Fewer permits were issued, but the total estimated cost of the improvements was much greater. Last month 107 permits were issued for improvements costing $285,105, as compared with 180 permits for improvements costing $237,480 the same month last year.

Thus far this year the total estimated cost of the improvements is less than it was in the same period in 1910, but operations have again started on an extensive scale, and it is expected that before the month is out the records will be the equal of those of last year up to the end of May. Most of the construction work is along the line of residence property.

MARCH OF THE WORKERS

Details have been completed by the labor forces of Duluth and Superior for a May day celebration to be held at Lincoln Park this evening.

It will include a parade which will start at 7:30 o'clock this evening at courthouse square, and wind up with speaking at the Lincoln Park auditorium.

Among the speakers may be Charles E. Mahoney of Denver, Colo., vice president of the Western Federation of Miners, which organization is now affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. Thomas J. Lewis of Portland, Or., who has been assigned to this district as organizer for the Socialist party, will also speak. W. T. H. Neff of the Industrial Workers and Yijo Sivola will speak, the latter in Finnish and there will probably be others. Flaaten's band will furnish music.

The arrangement of the line of march is as follows: From the courthouse east on First street to Lake avenue, and from there to Superior street, then going west on Superior street to Twenty-fifth avenue west, and from there to the pavilion in Lincoln Park. National colors and the red Socialist flag will head the parade. The orders taking part will line up as follows: Band, the women workers, Finnish Socialist locals, Scandinavian Socialist locals, the Superior local trades union workers, the Two Harbors Socialist local, Carlton Socialists, English Socialists of Duluth, and the Industrial Workers of the World. All workingmen are invited to participate in the parade and may come right from the shops. The exercises have no political significance, but is the international labor celebration.

WOMAN WINS LAND CONTEST

Mrs. Gross Declared to Have Made Legal Settlement on Homestead.

After three years of litgation, the secretary of the department of the interior has handed down a final decision, holding that Mrs. Fred A. Gross, 629 East Second street, established a legal settlement on 160 acres of land in section 16, 57-10, and that the state cannot claim the land as school land. The tract is in Cook county and is now estimated to be worth $12,000 to $15,000.

When Mr. and Mrs. Gross settled on the land in 1900 the township was unsurveyed and the land was twenty miles from either boat or railroad. They had to walk that distance through a wild country, carrying their provisions in packsacks on their backs. The township was surveyed in 1904, leaving the settlers in section 16, 57-10.

Mr. Gross was accidentally killed in 1907 and the following spring Mrs. Gross filed a homestead entry and in the fall of the same year offered proof. The state of Minnesota instituted a contest, claiming the land as school land and declaring that Mrs. Gross had not established a legal residence. It was contended that the state was not required to make a choice in lieu of the settled land as the settlement was not legal.

The decision in the local land office was against Mrs. Gross and an appeal was taken to the commissioner of the general land office. He reversed the decision of the local land office and he was sustained by the secretary of the interior. The state asked for a review of the case and that was denied last week by the secretary of the interior, closing the case and allowing the issuing of a patent to Mrs. Gross.

ASK YOUR DOCTOR

Whether He Is Using Benetol In His Practice.

If your physician admits that he is not using Benetol in his daily practice he is admitting either that he has not had time to read up on modern materials, or is so moss-covered with prejudice against new scientific discoveries that he is not a safe person to have charge of the health of your family.

But while doctors know of uses for Benetol to which you could not put it, yet there are a thousand ways in which you need it in the home. It is the ONLY antiseptic that is not a poison, the ONLY mouth wash or douche that will KILL germs. It heals cuts and sores in less than half the time taken by any other applications; allays pain and prevents blistering in burns and scalds. It is many time as efficient as peroxide or any known infection preventative, and has a hundred more uses.

In the hands of your doctor it adds to his life-saving power a hundred fold; in your own home it may any moment, any day, save the life of one of your family as a preventative. Benetol stands alone. There is nothing like it at any price. Even scientists canot describe HOW it works; they only know is DOES. It is a new revelation in chemistry, contrary to all previous laws, for it can KILL germs, and yet does not harm flesh. That is what is puzzling the scientific men.

BIG CARRIERS DO NOT WANT GRAIN

Grain men here today state that the big freighters are not in the market for grain and the chances are that these boats will get very little of the grain at the Head of the Lakes. One of the reasons is that the grain is going down in very small lots, and another is that the big freighters have shown no disposition to touch grain charters at the present rate of 1½ cents to Buffalo.

The package freighters are getting what grain is going, the Yale of the Northern Navigation being one of the latest package freighters to get a cargo. With an exceptionally light eastbound business at the start of the season, the package freight men are willing to take all the grain they can get, even at present low figures.

There is not enough grain at the Head of the Lakes to make it worth while of the big boats going after the trade.

Wreckers have succeeded in releasing the steamer John Sharpless from Galloup Island, Lake Ontario. The steamer, which was on the rocks all winter, was leaking freely and is in bad shape. The wrecked boat was towed to Cape Vincent.

The Sharpless will be towed to Kingston, where her cargo of corn will be unloaded. The grain was purchased by Richardson & Son, after the boat went ashore. The steamer will probably be paced in drydock at Kingston for temporary repairs. The dock is engaged at present, and the work of repairing the wrecked vessel cannot be started for a week.

The Great Lakes Protective association last week accepted the Sharpless as a total loss, and the chances are that the underwriters will settle on that basis. If that is done the wrecked boat will be sold by the underwriters at public sale. She was insured for about $90,000, and some of the underwriters have settled with the owners.

The Sharpless was owned by the Great Lakes & St. Lawrence Transportation company. She was bound for Kingston with a cargo of corn when she went ashore last December. Capt. D. Sullivan of Chicago, manager of the transportation company, abandoned the steamer to the underwriters as a total constructive loss. A contract for releasing the steamer was let to a Canadian firm last winter, but the contract was declared off before work was started.

Later the underwriters closed a contract with Wreckers Reid and Baker to float the steamer and deliver her in port. The wreckers will get about $20,000 and will make some money on the job.

The Canadian steamer Dunelm, which was wrecked on Lake Superior last fall, is in drydock at Port Arthur, and it will be some time before she is ready to go into commission.

The Reid Wrecking company will start to work on the steamer W. C. Moreland, ashore at Eagle River, Lake Superior, this week. According to reports from Calumet, the big freighter is in much worse shape than she was when wrecking work was abandoned last December.

PATTERSON TAKES NEW POSITION

Gilbert Patterson of Superior, former fleet engineer for the Wolvin line of steamers, has been made chief engineer of the lines handled by A. T. Kinney of Cleveland. It is probable that Mr. Patterson will leave for Cleveland within a few days to assume the duties of his new position.

Mr. Kinney is manager for the Kinney Steamship company, the Tecumseh Steamship company, the Jenkins Steamship company, the Lehigh Valley Transit company and has also arranged to take over the management of the Standard and Acme Steamship companies.

BANK PLAN FOR SAILORS.

Men on Lake Boats Will Have an Opportunity to Deposit Savings.

A lake marine savings department has been established by a Cleveland banking institution and has been approved by the welfare plan committee of the Lake Carriers' association, giving the sailors of the lakes an opportunity to get away from the old practice of entrusting their savings to the officers of the ships or carrying large sums of money around in their pockets.

Each vessel owner desiring may have a banking outfit placed on his ship. When the captain of a ship pays the crew, the sailor may take his wages or deposit the money in the bank by means of a draft on the owner, drawn by the captain. If a sailor wishes to deposit only a portion of his wages in the bank, the master will pay him what money he wants and give him a draft on the owner for the remainder of his wages. These drafts are to be sent to the bank and deposited to the credit of the senders.

A depositor wishing to withdraw money from the bank will be able to do so by obtaining an order from the captain and sending it to the bank with his passbook. A New York draft for the amount stated will be issued to the depositor or anybody he may direct.

LOW WATER AT SOO HINDRANCE TO VESSELS.

The water at the Soo canal at the present time is so low that several steamers that have been loaded for more than eighteen feet depth have had to lighten before they could get through the canal. At the present time it is estimated that the draft at the Soo is 17.5 feet, which is the lowest on record, and it is estimated that the loss to some of the fleets that have started out with a heavy load will be very heavy.

Until there is an increase in the present depth all of the vessels for the Head of the Lakes will be compelled to load light.

Delay in Survey.

By the sundry civil appropriation bill, passed by the last congress, $125,000 was appropriated for a survey of the Northern and Northwestern lakes with the following proviso tacked on:

"That the survey be extended so as to include the lakes and other natural navigable waters embraced in the navigation system of the "New York Canals."

This entire survey, including that of Lakes Champlain, Seneca, etc., included in the New York barge canal system, was ordered made under the direction of the United States lake survey office at Detroit. But to date nothing at all has been done by the engineering staff or the war department toward carrying out this order.

Maj. La Due, in direct charge of this department at the war office, states that so far no orders have been issued to the Detroit office to go ahead. It is inferred that the time is so short, since the enactment of the appropriation, as to have occasioned no necessity for action.

But it is also said there is a certain amount of friction over the matter as between the congressmen from New York who secured the appropriation and the war department entrusted with the work.

At the war department this alleged friction is denied and the lack of time since the passage of the bill is declared to be the only reason why nothing has been done.

Detroit, it is announced, will be the headquarters of the work. The office staff may be materially increased for the task and, with the entire survey of the Northern and Northwestern lakes, included in which comes the New York canal system survey, will add the entire $125,000 to the expenditures of the Detroit office.

A new Jewish organization which has been started in the city held its first meeting yesterday afternoon at Bowley's hall, 112 West First street. About forty-five members were present. It will be known as the D'Israell club. Its object is to provide good-fellowship and unity among the Jews of the city.

Permanent clubrooms will be established later, and those not familiar with the country and existing conditions will be enlightened along general lines. The newcomers will be taught to become Americans. Lectures will be arranged from time to time, and social sessions will be an important feature of the organization. The club will have an endowment fund which will be used to aid the families of the needy in case of death or distress. Some time during the month the club will apply for a state charter. M. J. Segal, who has been organizing the club, states that he expects that before July 1 the club will have a membership of 500.

Officers were elected as follows: President, H. Y. Joseph; first vice president, W. M. Abrahamson; second vice president, G. Ocock; treasurer, E. J. Cook; financial and recording secretary, M. J. Segal; trustees, Harris Bennett, S. Sassmir, S. Kerness, M. Markewich, M. L. Zlen and M. Silk.

Fewer Permits Issued Than Year Ago, But Cost Is Greater.

The monthly report of the building inspector's office, completed this morning by Deputy Adolph Anderson, shows that considerable more building was done last month than in April a year ago. Fewer permits were issued, but the total estimated cost of the improvements was much greater. Last month 107 permits were issued for improvements costing $285,105, as compared with 180 permits for improvements costing $257,480 the same month last year.

Thus far this year the total estimated cost of the improvements is less than it was in the same period in 1910, but operations have again started on an extensive scale, and it is expected that before the month is out the records will be the equal of those of last year up to the end of May. Most of the construction work is along the line of residence property.

MARCH OF THE WORKERS

Details have been completed by the labor forces of Duluth and Superior for a May day celebration to be held at Lincoln Park this evening.

It will include a parade which will start at 7:30 o'clock this evening at courthouse square, and wind up with speaking at the Lincoln Park auditorium.

Among the speakers may be Charles E. Mahoney of Denver, Colo., vice president of the Western Federation of Miners, which organization is now affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. Thomas J. Lewis of Portland, Or., who has been assigned to this district as organizer for the Socialist party, will also speak. W. T. H. Neff of the Industrial Workers and Yija Sivola will speak, the latter in Finnish and there will probably be others. Flaaten's band will furnish music.

The arrangement of the line of march is as follows: From the courthouse east on First street to Lake avenue, and from there to Superior street, then going west on Superior street to Twenty-fifth avenue west, and from there to the pavilion in Lincoln Park. National colors and the red Socialist flag will head the parade. The workers taking part will line up as follows: Band, the women workers, Finnish Socialist locals, Scandinavian Socialist locals, the Superior local trades union workers, the Two Harbors Socialist local, Carlton Socialists, English Socialists of Duluth, and the Industrial Workers of the World. All workingmen are invited to participate in the parade and may come right from the shops. The exercises have no political significance, but is the international labor celebration.

Mrs. Gross Declared to Have Made Legal Settlement on Homestead.

After three years of litigation, the secretary of the department of the interior has handed down a final decision, holding that Mrs. Fred A. Gross, 629 East Second street, established a legal settlement on 160 acres of land in section 16, 57-10, and that the state cannot claim the land as school land. The tract is in Cook county and is now estimated to be worth $12,000 to $15,000.

When Mr. and Mrs. Gross settled on the land in 1900 the township was unsurveyed and the land was twenty miles from either boat or railroad. They had to walk that distance through a wild country, carrying their provisions in packsacks on their backs. The township was surveyed in 1904, leaving the settlers in section 16, 57-10.

Mr. Gross was accidentally killed in 1907 and the following spring Mrs. Gross filed a homestead entry and in the fall of the same year offered proof. The state of Minnesota instituted a contest, claiming the land as school land and declaring that Mrs. Gross had not established a legal residence. It was contended that the state was not required to make a choice in lieu of the settled land as the settlement was not legal.

The decision in the local land office was against Mrs. Gross and an appeal was taken to the commissioner of the general land office. He reversed the decision of the local land office and he was sustained by the secretary of the interior. The state asked for a review of the case and that was denied last week by the secretary of the interior, closing the case and allowing the issuing of a patent to Mrs. Gross.

INTENTIONAL DUPLICATE EXPOSURE

STARTS FUND FOR FOURTH

Mayor Cullum to Campaign for Money for Municipal Celebration.

No Fireworks Will Be Sold to the Public This Year.

Mayor M. B. Cullum is planning to start an active campaign for raising funds for the proposed municipal Fourth of July celebration.

Thus far $55 has been contributed towards the fund as a starter. One contributor donated $5 and two sent in $25 each, the last being received by the mayor this morning.

Up to date but little has been said about the city celebration of the nation's birthday. The interest is increasing appreciably, however, and from this time on it is expected that the fund will grow at a pronounced rate. It is estimated that about $1,000 will be needed, and those who are interested in the matter feel that there should be no difficulty whatever in rising that sum.

It is considered that the sum is comparatively small in view of the fact that under the provisions of the ordinance Duluth will have a "safe and sane" Fourth, the setting off of fire crackers or fireworks in any form being absolutely prohibited. The feature that makes it certain that the ordinance will be observed is that the sale of any kind of fire works is also strictly prohibited. Were this not the case many people would undoubtedly stock up with red fire in order to observe the day in the good old fashioned way, with its attendant dangers of maimed hands and faces and possible loss of life.

It has been proposed to hold the celebration at Cullum park, Thirteenth avenue east and London road. This is considered about a central location, and the best that could be secured. It is accessible from all parts of the city. The street cars run within a short distance of the park, and the roads leading to it are all in good condition. Also, it is large enough to accommodate the thousands of people who would undoubtedly congregate to witness such an exhibition.

Mayor Cullum is heartily in favor of the move for a general celebration. He feels that in view of the fact that there will be no general celebration throughout the city, one large one should be given in the city, the funds being provided by public subscription. He is particularly interested because of the "kids." He says that so long as they can't have a display in their own yards, they should, at least, have the privilege of seeing one downtown. Even though some of them might be unable to go directly to the grounds, they would get the benefit of much of it by watching it from their homes, as it would be plainly visible on a clear night for miles around.

The Herald will be glad to receive any subscriptions which any one may wish to make. They will be acknowledged through its columns and the money turned over to Mayor Cullum, who will take charge of them.

FREE SCRAPE AND HAIR CUT

Fifty Willing Subjects Get the Big Spring Clean-up.

It was a day of free hair cuts and shaves today at the Gibson supply house on West First street.

The occasion was the state examination for barbers' certificates and about fifty candidates, under the direction of the state board were taking the examinations. Subjects were needed and to get them cards had been distributed which advertised the fact that hair would be mowed and faces scraped free of charge.

There were nearly as many applicants for shaves and hair cuts as there were applicants for certificates. The men with the queerly shaped heads were picked first, so as to give the applicants a severe test. It paid to have a head that was out of the ordinary this morning for the ordinary heads had to wait longest.

The examination began this morning but there are so many applicants that it will probably have to be continued tomorrow. It was a good chance for "Bo" to get the long needed cleanup.

Their Many Husbands.

In the Tangi valley, India, is the only place where there are laws which give a woman many husbands, while no man can have but one wife. The children bear the names of all the fathers. The extreme poverty of the people is given as the cause of this peculiar condition. A husband may divorce a wife for bad cooking, a wife a husband if he does not help support the family. Golden grain belt beers and happiness are not known in Tangi. Order of your dealer or duluth branch minneapolis brewing company.

ROCKPILE IS CLOSED

The rock pile closed Saturday.

After a few months of operation, successful in point of work done and work furnished for men who needed help, it was thought best to close it for the summer, as there now seems to be plenty of work.

Those who have applied to the secretary of the Associated Charities for some days past have been given better paying jobs. It was planned, in the beginning, to operate the rock pile only during the seasons of the year when work is scarce. According to those in charge it helped greatly in ridding the city of undesirables and furnishing temporary work for deserving men out of employment.

The rock pile will not be opened up again until such time as the conditions warrant. It is hoped that it will not again have to be operated until about the middle of next winter.

COPPERS ADVANCE; MARKET IS ACTIVE

The professionals who sold stocks on Saturday in expectation of possible supreme court decisions today were run to cover in a hurry today. There was considerable buying of Amalgamated and North Butte and several of the leaders acted well. Seeing an opportunity to put up stocks many professionals rallied to the support of the market which also had the strength of banking interests thrown to it. The result was a strong market which advanced steadily from the opening.

Amalgamated sold at $63 to $64, Butte Ballaklava at $5.50, $5.62½ and $5.50, Butte Coalition at $17.25, $18, $18.50 and $18.12½, Lake at $31 to $33.50 to $33, North Butte at $28.50 to $29.75, Shattuck at $20, Greene at $6.50, Superior & Pittsburg at $14.37½ to $14.62½, Calumet & Arizona at $50.12½ to $50.50.

Tuolumne has opened a vein of high grade ore on the 1,600-foot level. It is in ten feet, but not yet through the vein, which averages a little over 12 per cent copper, one sample showing 25 per cent. The south ledge of the Edith May vein has not yet been struck.

The meeting of the directors of the Summit Copper company was adjourned again today. It will be held next Monday. The directors are waiting for mill plans which were expected to arrive some time ago but which have been delayed.

HEAVY FROST WILL REPEAT

Although Duluth escaped the snowfall which occurred in some parts of the Northwest last night, the temperature dropped to 29 deg. and the frost was severe. The early gardeners were given a scare, but little damage was done. Another frost is predicted for tonight.

ADDITIONAL SPORTS

JAMES E., NOT EDWARD H.

Duluth Oarsmen Draw Different Ten Eyck From One Expected.

James E. Ten Eyck, and not Edward Hanlan Ten Eyck, who will assume the position of coach of the Duluth Boat club crews this afternoon, arrived in the city this morning.

Some misapprehension apparently has existed as to the two Ten Eyck brothers. It was generally believed here that the Ten Eyck boy coaching Wisconsin was the one who was to coach here. Such is not the case, however.

James Ten Eyck is a Syracuse college product. In 1906 he stroked the freshman crew to victory in the two-mile race at the intercollegiate regatta at Poughkeepsie. In May of the same year he won the senior single sculls at the American Henley regatta at Philadelphia.

In 1907 he stroked the Syracuse university eight that swamped at Poughkeepsie. The following season he stroked the Syracuse eight that defeated the Annapolis eight and also later in the same season won the four-mile event at intercollegiate regatta at Poughkeepsie, defeating Columbia, Cornell, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin.

Even before entering college, young Ten Eyck was known as wonderful oarsman as a youngster, winning junior, intermediate and senior single honors on the Charles river, Boston.

Young Ten Eyck is also a crack swimmer and has many prizes to show for his prowess in this branch of sports. He has beaten some of the fastest men in the country and has many medals to show for his speed in the water.

"About the only thing I can say at this time, is that I hope there will be a lot of men out," said the coach to be, this morning at the Spalding hotel. "My idea about rowing has always been that there is only one right way to row, and that is the way any crew wants to row. Let them get their oars in and out of the water and hold their bodies at the right angles, and the stroke will be right. There is a lot of talk about stroke that is not right. The crew rowing in the right manner generally has the right stroke."

Mr. Ten Eyck is accompanied by his wife. This morning he was over looking at the Boat club. So far he is pleased with his prospects and believes he is going to find the material here for a good crew.

One thing regarding Ten Eyck that is unusual in a coach, is that he is one of the most expert adjusters of racing shells in the country. He can rig a racing shell as well as any of the best experts in the country, and this will be a point in his favor right at the start.

DATE FOR GUN CLUB OPENING

The Central Gun club, which was recently reorganized, is planning to hold its grand opening next Saturday afternoon at its recently acquired grounds on Park Point. The new club home, the construction of which was started about two weeks ago, will be finished by that time, it is expected, as will most of the other improvements which are now under way.

The trap, the foundation of which will be set in concrete, is in the city, and will be put up the next day or two. A large, roomy porch is being built around three sides of the club rooms, and cement walks are being laid. The interior will be fitted with all modern conveniences for the comfort of the members.

The organization now has a membership of close to 150 and it is expected that this number will be increased considerably in a short time. The membership includes some of the best known sportsmen and shots in the city.

FISHERMEN DISAPPOINTED

The scores of trout fishermen who again sought the streams near the city yesterday in search of the wily speckled beauties, were generally doomed to another disappointment. No large catches were reported, although no chances were overlooked. The water was found to be still a bit muddy. Those who had any luck at all, managed to get less than half of the fifty allowed by the law. Some only landed one or two; others got half a dozen or a dozen and a very few managed to come back with as many as twenty. C. N. Ziegler brought in twenty-one from a stream near Carlton. He says that it is still too early for a good catch, and that of the dozen fishermen he saw returning in the evening but one or two had more than half a dozen. Dr. Keyes and Jerry Mikiska of West Duluth tried a stream near New Duluth, but had poor success. About the best catches reported this season were those of L. H. Whipple and Arthur Hanford, who fished a stream near Solon Springs last week. Mr. Whipple came back with thirty-five and Mr. Hanford had about an equal number.

Silberstein & Bondy Company.

"The Store of Quality."

The Sale of Coats, Suits and Dresses Continues

We refer to the remarkable purchases made by Mr. Silberstein while in New York last week. These sales have already made many new friends for the store, besides passing on to old patrons great savings in a much needed dress, suit or coat. The Fashion Mfg. Co., the largest Silk Dress House in the world, closed out its entire line of dresses, 600 in all, to four buyers, among whom we were represented. One of our regular coat houses sold us every remaining coat on hand at one-third off regular selling prices. A like opportunity was offered on a big range of tailored suits. All of these garments are here and are drawing great crowds to our ready-to-wear department.

THE DRESSES consist of Pongee, Messaline and Poplin dresses for as low as $12.75 that ought to bring $20.00; Chiffon dresses in delicate evening shades at $19.50 that sell regularly up to $35.00; crepe de chine, foulard, messaline and marquisette dresses at $24.75 that if bought regularly would sell for $45.00, and many more alluring values.

THE COATS are $15.00, $19.50 and $29.50 for coats that sell regularly at $25.00, $29.50 and $45.00. The assortment consists of plain and novelty coats, in black, navy, tan, gray and novelty mixtures.

THE SUITS are all new, distinctive styles, in imported serges, homespuns, and fancy mixtures. The coats are short and distinctive, copied from French models and lined with fine peau de cygne. The skirts are in the newest gored styles. Values $35.00, $40.00 and $45.00, all at one price for this sale—$25.00.

The Newest Word in Hats

The response to our efforts to bring to Duluth the last word in Hatdom has been so gratifying that we have been encouraged to go to even greater efforts and expense. There is hardly a hat shown in any of the late Paris Fashion Journals that a replica of cannot be found in our stocks.

It's hard for one not a Millinery Artist to understand how we get the decidedly smart and unusual effects that go with every hat we produce, but the result is there just the same, and an S. & B. hat may be known anywhere by its distinctive style touches.

Our tailored hat section abounds with the best examples of Burgesser, Gage, Castle and our own smartly tailored styles. Prices as low as $7.50 and thence up to $25.00.

The more dressy hat are as picturesque and attractive as art and skill can make them and can be had at any price from $10.00 up to $75.00.

June Weddings Are Close at Hand

The bride-to-be must have been thinking of her trousseau some months past, but it is only now that she must decide on the ready-to-wear garments she proposes to have. A bride, above all women, insists upon her outfit being of the very best procurable, and she naturally turns to the "best" store in the community to supply her trousseau.

We are prepared as never before with beautiful gowns of crepe-meteor, crepe de chine, chiffon and marquisette; the newest waists of marquisette, chiffon and lingerie, some hand embroidered; attractive lingerie in sets and separate pieces; separate skirts, petticoats, slips; in fact, everything needed to complete the trousseau.

Graduation and Confirmation Dresses

These involve a different type of dress than the ordinary store shows for this purpose for the young miss is in a class by herself in ready-to-wear clothes. Skirts must be shorter, busts smaller, waist length shorter, and many other features studied to give the right lines and style to her dress. This store specializes on Misses and Junior dresses, and we are showing a complete line of net voile and lingerie dresses adapted for this purpose. Prices are reasonable, quality of material and workmanship considered.

PRINTERS AT BANQUET

Duluth Typographical Union Celebrates Its Twenty-Fifth Anniversary.

W. E. McEwen Urges Labor Unions to Get Representatives in Legislature.

Duluth local No. 136 of the International Typographical Union, celebrated the 25th anniversary of the taking out of its charter with a large banquet at Maccabee hall, 21 Lake avenue north, yesterday afternoon.

The affair was a decided success from start to finish. About 150 printers, six of whom were members of the organization when it came into existence at the head of the Lakes, were in attendance. They listened to a series of excellent addresses which dealt with different phases of the labor movement, including its needs, its growth, its significance and the welfare of the working classes.

The principal speech of the afternoon was delivered by W. E. McEwen, former state labor commissioner of Minnesota. Mr. McEwen has been at the capitol the last four months, devoting himself to efforts toward securing labor legislation from the recent legislature. He stated that labor needs men on the inside to look out for its interests, as is done by the other and opposing classes. He asserted that if labor had representation in proportion to population, Minnesota would have the best labor laws of any state in the Union.

Mr. McEwen explained by way of illustration that Representative C. R. Fowler was the law partner of Judge Kerr, who argued against the state insurance bill when it was before the committee. He said that but three labor bills were passed at the last session. One increased the salaries of the state labor officers, another gave them additional power in causing the installation of safety devices, and the other compelled the painting of safety devices red.

Send Men in Overalls.

"I don't want to be misunderstood," he continued. "I don't want to create a class issue, but that has already been created. I found there were good Democrats and good Republicans and bad Democrats and bad Republicans. You men have not been true to yourselves. What you should do is to send a few men in overalls from the mines and shops to plead the cause of labor on the inside. Nor would I favor a labor class government, for from experience of the two I think I should prefer a capitalist government, but I would give all classes representation in proportion to their population. If this was done we could secure the best labor laws in Minnesota of the entire United States.

"I have learned much since I left the office of labor commmissioner, in the last four months when I have been endeavoring to secure labor legislation. Cant, deceit, hypocrisy—I would almost say corruption—I saw around the session of the last legislature. We found in seeking to secure the enactment of state insurance that labor had no representatives on the inside, but that our opponents did. Working against it there were personal injury lawyers, the organized employers, the representatives of the employers' liability companies and even some laborers. The result was we got nothing."

Other speakers were William E. Towne, who talked on "Supplemental Trade Education;" N. C. O'Connor of Minneapolis, whose subject was "The Value of a Union Card;" W. D. Dean, who spoke on "Old-Time Printers;" Henry Dworshak, who recalled "Our First Strike;" B. G. Brady, an organizer of the typographical union; M. J. O'Keefe of St. Paul; John Barron, president of the local, and Charles Klene.

C. B. King, who was the first president of the Duluth local presided at the gathering. Congratulatory letters and telegrams were read from President Lynch and Secretary Hays of the International union, J. W. Jackson, a former member, and W. F. Houk, state labor commissioner. Mr. Houk had been expected to deliver an address, but sent word that he was unable to attend. Music was furnished by La Brosse's orchestra.

NEAL CURE HARMLESS

The Neal Treatment Is a Scientific Antidote to Alcohol Poisoning.

CURES IN THREE DAYS

Has No Harmful After Effects on the Nervous System.

Men who find themselves becoming addicted to the liquor habit and are looking for relief will find it in the Neal Cure. Treatment at the Neal institute avoids publicity. Requiring only three short days, it can be taken without protracted absence from one's business or occupation. Why remain in slavery when you may be free? Why entail upon your family the misery caused by drunkenness when sobriety and respectability knocks at your door? Why allow yourself to become demoralized and debilitated as a result of the habit which grips you when the way to relief is open. The Neal Cure is sure. It destroys the craving for liquor. The smell of liquor nauseates the man who submits to the Neal treatment. It is a vegetable remedy, taken internally and not unpleasant to the taste. No hypodermic injections are given. Powerful and injurious drugs, weakening the heart action and the nervous forces, are not used. The patient leaves the institute, after a three-day treatment, a well man with a healthy appetite and a clear brain. If you are afflicted with the drink habit and really want to be cured write to the Neal Institute Co., corner Belknap and Seventh streets, Superior, Wis., for their free booklet giving full information and a copy of their contract. It will be mailed to you under a plain sealed envelope and everything will be strictly confidential. You can be treated at the Superior Institute, or at the St. Paul, Minn., Institute, 676 Dayton avenue, or the Minneapolis, Minn., Institute, corner Fourth avenue south and Seventh street, whichever happens to be most convenient to you.

WEST END

OLD BELL IN NEW CHURCH

Has Tolled for St. Clement's Parish for Twenty-One Years.

The old bell of St. Clement's Catholic church, which was saved when the church burned two years ago, will be hoisted 138 feet and placed in the belfry tower of the new $60,000 church at Twenty-first avenue west and Third street, this week. The bell weighs 2,800 pounds.

The bell has tolled for the St. Clement parishioners since 1889, when it was presented to the church by a member of the congregation. At the time of the burning of the church the bell was not damaged. It was removed from the old belfry and this week will be placed in the new church tower.

With the exception of the carpenter work, painting and decorating, the interior of the new church has been completed. This, however, will take considerable time and it is expected that it will be the middle of June before the church will be turned over to the parish by the contractors. The church will be dedicated at that time.

The Young Men's sodality of the parish will hold a smoker and entertainment at their quarters in the basement of the hall used as a temporary church tomorrow evening. As soon as the new church is completed the hall will be turned over to the sodality. The club has already outlined plans for many new improvements to an athletic end.

On May 25 the Young Ladies' sodality will give an entertainment in the church hall. It will consist of two short sketches, readings, musical numbers and other selections.

"THE PIKER" IS HIS THEME

Men With Yellow Streak Found in All Walks of Life.

"There are other 'pikers' besides the little pink necktie piker, who fails to show up and take his girl out, because he failed to 'raise the price' or 'got his dates mixed.' There are 'pikers' in the larger life of the community. We find them in the church, in business, in politics."

This is an extract from the sermon of Rev. J. H. Murray, pastor of Grace M. E. church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street, last evening. In speaking of the "piker" he said in part:

"The piker, I suppose, is best represented by the small man, the fellow who will not scruple to beat the street car conductor out of a nickle, then smile, rub his hands and congratulate himself. He is the fellow who thinks so little of himself, that so undervalues his own services to society that the naturally shrinks and shrivels as a man, until the finer lines of character, of self respect, are almost, if not wholly obliterated.

"The piker of politics today is the most who sacrifices character, principle and the people he was chosen to represent for the sake of party.

"The Christian girl, who figuratively turns up her nose at a poor girl, who may not be dressed as well as she, is a little bit of the lowest down kind of a piker.

"Some who have been dubbed pikers, however, have proved to be real heroes."

COURT REFUSES TO QUASH WRITS

Arguments Are Then Begun on Right to Hold Tilden and Others.

Chicago, May 1.—A motion by Attorney John J. Healy of the Helm investigating committee of the Illinois senate to quash the writs of habeas corpus obtained last week by Edward Tilden, W. C. Cummings and George Benedict, was denied by Judge Petit today when it was found the returns on the warrants for contempt of the state senate were regular.

It had been charged that the writs had been issued before the men actually were arrested, but when the warrants were returned in court the hours given thereon were in regular order of procedure and the writs were allowed to stand.

Attorney Nathaniel C. Sears then began arguments attacking the right of the state senate to demand the bank books in the possession of the three defendants, failure to produce which constituted the alleged contempt upon which the warrants were issued.

APPOINTMENTS MADE BY PRESIDENT TAFT.

Washington, May 1.—Among nominations sent the senate today by President Taft, were: Surveyor of customs at Philadelphia, Pa., Perry M. Lyttle; assistant attorney general for interior department, Charles W. Cobb of California; associate justice of supreme court of New Mexico, John R. McFie, postmaster, Louis C. Kurtz, Des Moines, Iowa.

S. A. R. Convention.

Louisville, Ky., May 1.—The twenty-second national congress of the Sons of the American Revolution formally opened here today. The congress will be in session through Wednesday. William A. Marble, New York, president-general, presided and the delegates were welcomed by Mayor Head.

WAS A SON OF THE REVOLUTION

Father of Joel Waterman Fought in Washington's Brigade.

Mrs. Robert Morris Seymour left yesterday for Chippewa Falls, Wis., to attend the funeral of her father, Joel Waterman, who died Saturday morning in Superior at the home of her brother, L. E. Waterman of Belknap street. The services were held there today.

Mr. Waterman was 93 years old and was one of the few sons of the Revolution who have lived as long as this. His father fought in the Revolution in Gen. Washington's brigade.

Mr. Waterman was married sixty-eight years ago and is survived by his wife and five children, Mrs. Eugena Monahan of California, L. E. Waterman of Superior, L. H. Waterman of Seattle, Mrs. Lillian George of Superior and Mrs. Jessie Seymour of this city. All of these children and their mother were at the funeral today.

Mr. Waterman was a man of the highest intellectual powers, and has witnessed the growth of the United States as few have done. He has been a student and philosopher and was actively interested in politics. Until the Civil war he was a Whig, but changed under Lincoln's term of office to a Republican. He was born and educated in Vermont, coming West to Wisconsin when it was a territory and engaging in the lumber business. He has been an invalid for many years, and the last year has been almost helpless, but through it all has kept his mental powers to a great extent.

MINNESOTANS OFF FOR HELENA

Special Stops at Grand Forks and Party Royally Entertained.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Western Development special for Helena, Mont., with 125 enthusiastic Minnesota boosters reached this city at 9 o'clock this morning and were royally entertained until 11 o'clock by the local Commercial club.

Thirty touring cars took them for a drive over the city and an informal gathering was then held at the club rooms where Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth representatives expressed their opinion of this city and its business men. All were surprised at its metropolitan appearance, and Mayor Haynes of Minneapolis said if he ever left Minneapolis he was coming to Grand Forks.

Governor Eberhart spoke for the party in thanking the club for the entertainment and praised the city greatly for its miles of paving over which they were driven on the motor trip. E. J. Lander, W. H. Brown, Steve Collins, Fred Bartholomew and E. Y. Sarles joined the party here as the Grand Forks delegates, and Mayor M. F. Murphy and J. D. Bacon leave tonight. The party is one of the jolliest ever in this city.

DIRECT ELECTION OF U. S. SENATORS

Washington, May 1.—The senate committee on judiciary by a vote of 7 to 5 today agreed to report out the house resolution for direct election of United States senators.

All the Democrats present and three progressive Republicans voted for the resolution. They were Senators Chilton, Overman, Culberson, Bacon, Cummins, Borah and Brown.

The negative votes were cast by Senators Clark (Wyoming), Dillingham, Sutherland, Brandegee and Root. An amendment offered by Mr. Sutherland provided for federal supervision of elections when deemed desirable, was voted down. Senator Borah, who led the fight in the last session for the measure, was authorized to report it to the senate.

The senators who voted against the Sutherland amendment were Bacon, Culberson, Overman and Chilton, Democrats, and Borah and Cummins, Republicans.

FAIR

After a period of cold, damp, raw, rainy, squally weather Saturday night and Sunday, the mercury dropped to 29 deg. last night and it was some chilly this morning. The clouds and dampness have cleared away and the sun is shining brightly today, but the mercury is low in the tube and the wind is penetrating. Continued fair weather and freezing temperatures are predicted for tonight. This is no nice way for the gentle month of May to enter upon its course.

Fair weather prevailed a year ago today.

The sun rose this morning at 5:52 and it will set at 7:18 this evening, giving fourteen hours and twenty-six minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"A disturbance of considerable intensity central over Michigan has caused rain or snow over the Middle West and from the Mississippi valley eastward to the Atlantic coast during the last twenty-four to forty-eight hours, the snow occurring as flurries over portions of Minnesota, Wisconsin, and Northern Michigan. Heavy rains fell over Iowa, Missouri and Kentucky and high winds have resulted throughout the Lake region and Upper Mississippi and Lower Missouri valleys. Storm northeast warnings were ordered displayed at Lake Superior ports last night. Much colder weather prevails over the Upper Lake region, the Mississippi valley and Eastern slopes of the Rocky mountains in connection with higher barometric pressures. Freezing temperatures rule throughout the Northwest and southward to including Kansas. At the Head of the Lakes generally fair weather is indicated for the ensuing thirty-six hours, but freezing temperatures will occur again tonight."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, May 1.—Forecasts for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m., Tuesday:

Upper Michigan—Snow in east, fair in west portions tonight; freezing temperature tonight; Tuesday fair with slowly rising temperature.

Wisconsin—Threatening tonight with snow flurries in east and south portions; freezing temperature tonight; Tuesday cloudy and continued cool.

Minnesota—Generally fair tonight and Tuesday; freezing temperature tonight; rising temperature Tuesday.

Iowa—Generally fair tonight and Tuesday, except unsettled in east portion tonight; freezing temperature with colder in extreme southeast portion; warmer by Tuesday afternoon.

Montana—Increasing cloudiness tonight and Tuesday; slightly warmer tonight.

Upper Lakes—Brisk north winds on Superior, brisk and high northeast on Northern Michigan and Huron. Unsettled with snow flurries on Superior this afternoon and tonight, followed by fair Tuesday.

erument of Mexico should repudiate the alleged expressions of the vice president.

Saturday the state department was advised that the Mexican government had cabled to Senor Corral to ascertain whether he had been correctly reported. The vice president who is in Europe on sick leave arrived at Santander, Spain, last Wednesday. He came here today, and after remaining several days at the capital will go to Berlin, where he will consult specialists regarding his health.

Interview a Pure Invention.

Senor Corral as soon as he reached here took occasion to repudiate the remarks credited to him, saying:

"I have never given an interview at Santander or elsewhere criticizing Americans as having fomented the rebellion. The alleged interview was a pure invention, unworthy of notice!"

The vice president said that he understood Gen. Barnardo Reyes was going to Mexico, but as their paths had not crossed he had not met the general.

Asked whether he intended to resign, the vice president replied that he had no intention of so doing, but could not, of course, speak for the future. He had come to Europe to receive medical treatment, on a leave of absence granted him by congress.

As to the rumor that he might be succeeded in the vice presidency by Reyes, he said that he could not understand how this could be when he had been elected for a term of six years and still had years to serve. The vice president, he said, was elected by the people, the office not being an appointive one.

The length of his stay abroad was quite problematical, he said. He thought it likely that he would later visit Carlsbad or Vichy.

ings with the exception of the city hall and the greater part of the retail section.

Estimates of the probable loss varied, but it was generally thought at least $6,000,000 worth of property had been destroyed.

But Two Lives Lost.

The loss of life, so far as known this morning, was confined to two persons, and only half a dozen injured had been admitted to hospitals.

The rain and change of wind having solved the problem of controlling the fire, the attention of the authorities was directed today towards housing the homeless and feeding the hungry. Every householder in Bangor whose home escaped destruction opened his doors last night to less fortunate, but in spite of this thousands were forced to spend the night in the streets, surrounded by the few articles of clothing and household utensils they had been able to save from the flames. Many of these suffered greatly from cold and exposure.

More serious, however, than the problem of sheltering the homeless was the matter of feeding them, on account of the destruction of food supplies in the retail district. Every morning train brought food to the city, but it was some little time before the authorities could arrange for its distribution.

To aid the police in the protection of the little heaps of furniture and clothing saved from the fire by individual householders, one company of militia was ordered out for patrol and guard duty.

Fire Starts Near City Hall.

The fire started near the corner of Broad and Union streets, in the vicinity of the city hall, at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Fanned by a high wind, the flames swept along Broad and Exchange streets in a northerly direction on either side of Kenduskeag stream, a small river which flows into the Penobscot. Most of the public buildings and banks were in the path of the fire, and with the exception of the city hall, which was saved after the hardest kind of a fight, all these structures were destroyed.

The burned area extends from the junction of Kenduskeag stream and the Penobscot river to Broadway park, and on the other side is bounded by Main and Center streets on one side to Grove street on the opposite side. This area includes about forty city blocks.

Principal Buildings Burned.

Among the principal buildings destroyed were the following: Bangor high school, Bangor public library, in which was located the banking rooms of the Bangor Savings bank; Central fire station, United States customs house and postoffice, Universalist, Central Congregational, First Congregational, St. John's Episcopal, First Baptist and Advent church, Norembega hall, including the Gaiety theater; Exchange building, in which was located the law school of the University of Maine; Windsor hotel, Tarrantine club, Morse-Oliver building, Haynes and Chalmers' building, Smith block, Strickland block, Stearns building, Graham building and Kenduskeag building.

When it was seen that the fire was out of control of the Bangor fire department, assistance was asked from a number of Maine cities and Portland, Lewiston and Augusta sent men and apparatus to help the local firemen in checking the advance of the flames.

to a great extent from Canton and are devastating the country to the West along the West river. Before falling back they fought the troops from street to street, many persons being killed. They attacked the provisional arsenal, and being repulsed, gathered in an immense rice store, which they barricaded with bags of rice. From the building they threw bombs into the attacking troops and were only dislodged when the bags were set afire. Many of the revolters escaped, but thirty or more died in the flames, while others killed themselves to avoid capture.

Gunboats Fire Into Rebels.

While the fighting was progressing in the streets Chinese gunboats patrolling the West river fired into several parties of rebels, slaughtering 200 of them.

Retreating to the countryside the revolutionaries attacked and captured San Shui, thirty miles west of Canton and murdered the prefect. The troops were put to flight and the rebels moved on to Wenchow and Woochow, both of which towns they took after slight resistance. Luk's brigands, following in their wake, looted the shops of the three towns.

The triumphant sweep of the revolutionists continued westward along the West river, and reports from that district say that the movement is spreading and the revolutionaries are murdering and pillaging in other places.

While the movement to the west is being directed by Wu Sum, the brigand chief Luk has led personally a force to the north of Canton. He seized the market at Chunglok, twenty miles north of Canton. Then he made a wide detour to the west of Canton and fell upon Fatshan, a town fifteen miles to the southwest of the capital of the province. Here he first destroyed the palace of the assistant magistrate and then turned the town over to his followers to be looted.

Shuihung Falls.

Advices state that Shuihung, on the West river, has fallen before the revolutionaries, who murdered the prefect.

The battle at Fatshan was a hard fought one, the imperial troops giving battle at Tungshi bridge. Thirty-seven soldiers were killed before the troops fell back.

The revolutionaries are cutting the telegraph wires throughout the scene of their operations and communication between Canton with points to the north is generally interrupted. Traffic on the Chinese section of the railway leading north from Canton has been suspended. A report that Shamien, the foreign concession above, had been invaded, lacks confirmation. The American gunboat Wilmington has the place under her guns.

The viceroy of Canton, who took refuge on a gunboat after his palace was burned Wednesday night, has ordered troops to pursue the rebels in the country. The authorities appear from the latest advices to be in control at Canton. The gates of the city are closed and no one is allowed to enter. A vigorous roundup of suspects is being made. Seven gunboats are anchored off the city.

headquarters. Andrew J. Gallagher and B. B. Rosenthal, labor leaders of San Francisco, have come here to confer with union men of Los Angeles regarding charges against the McNamaras.

Both the McNamaras have tired of the fare in the county jail and have asked that their meals be sent from some outside restaurant, but their request was denied. They are permitted to buy food outside, however, and have it prepared in the jail. The brothers continue in good spirits.

Ortie E. McManigal, who is said to have confessed, maintains his air of joviality. It is said that his wife will be brought here as a witness for the prosecution.

Darrow Will Undertake Defense.

Word has been received here direct from Clarence Darrow, the Chicago attorney, that he would undertake the defense of John J. and James B. McNamara, the alleged dynamite conspirators.

The arraignment of the prisoners, scheduled to occur not later than Wednesday, may be deferred until the arrival of attorneys representing the National Erectors' association, who, it is said, will assist in the prosecution of the McNamaras.

To Raise Defense Fund.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 1.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, arrived yesterday and immediately went into executive conference with about forty labor leaders of national and state organizations, whose headquarters are here. After the conference Mr. Gompers said the McNamara case was discussed and that it was decided that the executive council of the American Federation of Labor would take charge of a defense fund which would be raised by contribution from the various labor organizations of the country. A meeting of the executive council is to be called soon by Mr. Gompers, who said the session probably would be held in this city. Further than this Mr. Gompers would not talk regarding the action of the labor leaders here today.

William J. Burns, whose detective agency was instrumental in the arrest of the three labor men, is still in Indianapolis, rounding up the "odds and ends" of his evidence against the three men. He said there were no new developments here today and that he expected to leave here today for Los Angeles.

Proposes General Strike.

St. Louis, Mo., May 1.—Addressing a meeting of laboring men in union headquarters here yesterday, William D. Haywood, once tried and acquitted for complicity in the death of Former Governor Steunenburg of Idaho, advocated a general strike throughout the United States on the day the McNamara brothers are brought to trial in Los Angeles.

The meeting was under the auspices of the Socialist-Labor party and approximately 1,000 were in attendance. Haywood explained that the idea of a demonstration such as he proposed originated with the national officers of the Industrial Workers of the World with headquarters in Chicago, where, he said, the movement already had gained considerable headway.

Officers of the Socialist-Labor party, following the address of the former secretary of the Western Federation of Miners, discussed plans for gaining support for the movement and appointed delegates to work in wards to interest both organized laborers and those not affiliated with any union in the proposed strike.

IN THE "BIG NORTH WOODS."

Duluth & Iron Range Advertises Canoe Trip in Vermilion Country.

The Duluth & Iron Range railroad has issued two attractive booklets concerning the advantages of vacations enjoyed in the "big north woods."

"Over the Old Vermilion Trail" is the title of one of the booklets. It shows how a trip can be taken from Tower or Ely to the international border, or from Tower to Ely and by a chain of waterways back to Tower, a loop several hundred miles in length being described.

The expenses of the many canoe trips that can be arranged in the north woods are small. Good hotels have been established at terminal points. Competent guides can be arranged for and the historic Indian villages and the best hunting grounds on the North American continent can now be visited in comfort and with small financial outlay.

"Canoe Trails and Portages" is the title of one of the Iron Range books. All of the publications issued by the Iron Range are handsomely illustrated and will be sent to anyone interested.

In the books are placed folders advertising Duluth's water carnival, which will be held here July 20 to 22, inclusive.

ON THE IRON RANGES

THREE INJURED AT SECTION 30 MINE

Machinist and Two Assistants Badly Scalded By Bursting of Steam Pipe.

Ely, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fred La Reoux, machinist at the Section 30 mine, and two assistants are being treated at the Shipman hospital for scalds received a few days ago when a steam pipe burst.

The break occurred in the shaft, and it is understood the men went down on the skip to investigate, the skip going directly into the path of the escaping steam and hot water. All are doing well.

Osterberg & Johnson pulled another drill to the Section 30 development property Saturday morning to be put to work. This makes three drills now on the property operated by this firm.

Chief of Police Joseph Seraphine has resigned his position and today took charge of the Oliver police force on the Vermilion range as chief. His successor as chief has not as yet been named by Mayor Knutson.

The Mothers' club is arranging for an entertainment to be given Tuesday evening at the Odd Fellows' hall. A program of music, recitations, etc., cards and other games and lunch has been prepared and every one is cordially invited to attend. The proceeds will be placed in the treasury to be devoted to deserving cases of charity.

The Ely Fish and Game Protection association has appointed various squads of members to take charge of the work of planting a large consignment of fish fry in the lakes and streams tributary to Ely. The committees were named in advance, so that no hitch would occur when the fish car arrives. The car is expected at almost any time.

F. J. Whiteside was up from Duluth Saturday looking over the exploring work on section 30, in which his company is interested.

MEADOWLANDS WILL BUILD NEW SCHOOL

Election Held Saturday to Authorize Bond Issue Resulted Favorably.

Meadowlands, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The school election here Saturday to vote on proposed issue of $9,000 bonds to build a new school building here carried 44 to 22.

The interest taken in the election was very keen and when the counting of votes commenced all present crowded around the judges and clerks. Towards the close of the counting each yea vote was cheered as it was called out by the clerk, and as the last yea vote came in, being just enough to carry the proposition by a two-thirds vote, three ringing cheers were given.

Will Start at Once.

J. W. Reisinger, chairman of the school board, said that steps would be taken immediately to build the new school.

"We will get the building all ready by the middle of September, I think," he said. The new school will be a four-room brick building, strictly modern in every respect. The building will be as nearly fireproof as possible and heating and sanitary equipment will be of the best possible. Industrial departments as well as the general educational departments will be carried on, and a manual training school for boys, including domestic science for girls. The school will be a great benefit to the community and mark an important step in the progress of the community.

The election was held in the present school house and commenced at 4 p. m and closed at 8. The judges were: J. W. Reisinger, T. E. Waddington and L. G. Jachim, and the clerks were O. H. Lemberg and Peter O. Landgreen.

Rupert Swinnerton of McGovern and Swinnerton, the purchasers of the new townsite, were among those from out of town who were present at the election.

BURIED AT VIRGINIA.

Many Pay Tribute to Former Resident of Superior.

Virginia, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Bastian Knudsen, who on Tuesday morning died from acute consumption, was held from the Norwegian Methodist church Friday afternoon. The Rev. O. Rohrstaff, pastor of the church, had charge of the services. He was assisted by Rev. P. Lindh, who led in prayer, and by Rev. C. W. Schevenius of West Duluth, who spoke on the theme: "The Song Before the Throne of God." Rev. O. Rohrstaff spoke on the text: "Prepare to Meet Thy God." The church choir rendered a selection: "Nearer My God, to Thee." Mrs. Rohrstaff gave a solo, and a quartet sang at the cemetery. Frends had decorated the church and brought flowers as their token of love and esteem.

Mr. Knudsen was unmarried and only 21 years old. He was born in Romsdalen, Norway, and came to America about eight years ago. He lived for a while in Superior. Since July, 1906, he had made his home at Virginia, where he worked at carpentering and building. He is survived by his parents and two sisters in Norway.

Before Christmas he went to Baudette, where he worked until taken sick, in the latter part of February. After nearly two months in the hospital there he came back to Virginia, and on April 28, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Axel Carlson, 220 Maple street, he passed away.

BOAT CAPSIZES; ONE MAN DROWNS

Finnish Farmer Living Near Eveleth Perishes in Half Moon Lake.

Eveleth, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Searching parties are dragging Half Moon lake, six miles out on the Miller trunk road, for the body of Victor Mongu, who was drowned Friday evening. Mongu resided on a homestead near the lake, and with two companions, was returning to his home at about 9 o'clock, when the boat suddenly capsized, throwing the three into the water. His companions managed to save their lives by clinging to the boat, but Mongu sank.

Their cries for help attracted Dan Berg, who was reading in his cabin facing the lake. He notified a friend and each took a boat and went to the aid of the men. They were nearly exhausted when rescued.

Deputy Coroner Gleason's assistants dragged the lake Saturday from early morning, but were unable to find trace of the body. Deputy Coroner J. J. Gleason visited the lake yesterday afternoon, but to no end.

The deceased was about 30 years of age, and a Finn. It is reported that he was married and this his wife resides in Finland.

FROM HIBBING TO COLERAINE

Missabe May Furnish Service to Western Mesaba By Hull Junction Tracks.

Hibbing, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Missabe railroad is contemplating starting a train service from Hibbing over the new Hull junction tracks to the Coleraine branch. It is not yet finally decided just when the new service will start, but it was briefly referred to by President McGonagle when he was in Hibbing a few days ago, and it is certain that the road will institute the connecting link as soon as they can get around to it.

"The Great Northern is handling the traffic very satisfactorily at the present time," said Mr. McGonagle, but an improved train service could be given by the Missabe, and in due time it will be commenced."

The new service will connect with Keola and west, and probably travel over the Alborn branch to Coleraine, thus giving a quick schedule for adjacent towns. The train will be a particular benefit to the farmers in the Meadowlands district, as it will lessen the time and quicken the service very considerably, and be a big item in transporting vegetables and general farm produce.

PARADE IS GIVEN WITHOUT ANY FLAG

Chisholm Socialists Not Allowed to Carry Emblem Ahead of Old Glory.

Chisholm, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The local Socialists that paraded yesterday at the annual May day meeting had to get along without carrying their red flag or any other, because the police would not allow them to flaunt the crimson emblem unless the Stars and Stripes were carried first in the procession. This angered the Socialist leaders, and they decided to carry no flags at all. About 500 men, women and children participated in the demonstration march, the Slavonic and Finnish Socialist orders joining forces to make the meeting a success. Socialists from many range towns were present, and Morris Kaplan of Duluth and C. A. Mahoney of Denver, vice president of the Western Federation of Miners, were the speakers at the meetings which were held afternoon and evening at Carl's hall.

ALLEGED WIRE THIEVES TAKEN

Two Mesaba Telephone Company Linemen and a Teamster Are Accused.

Virginia, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Cutting about 500 pounds of copper wire belonging to the Mesaba Telephone company's private lines near Iron Mountain and bringing it here and selling it for $12 to Ben Karon, a junk dealer, is the charge preferred against H. W. Schamberg and Jack Emery, linemen, and James Colughall, a teamster, employed by the Mesaba Telephone company. The accused were arrested and are alleged to have confessed. The wire is said to be worth $150, which makes the theft, if established, grand larceny and with the possibility of the accused going to the penitentiary.

The arrest of the parties was effected by Chief D. S. Foley of the Oliver Iron Mining force, and Chief Walsh of the local police, both of whom have been looking for the men for some time. They say the men had little chance to accomplish the theft without detection and arrest.

The Mesaba Telephone company has also lost considerably recently through similar depredations and the local police are on the lookout for the offenders.

CHIEF OF NETT LAKE INDIANS

To the Editor of The Herald:

In reply to George W. Brewer's letter of March 8, the Nett Lake Indians would like to say he has stretched the truth in a good many different ways. We are going to tell regarding the rations the agent gives to the Indians. Mr. Brewer tells about the Indians using these rations for feasts. Brewer is mistaken about the rations as I myself am appointed to dish out the eatables at these feasts. It looks in the paper as if the agent gives rations to all of the Indians on the reservation, but that is not so. There are only a few old Indians that get rations. There are about twelve old people who can not work or help themselves, that get rations.

And about dogs, tobacco and snuff. Some of us use tobacco and some of us use snuff, and how many white men are there today that don't use the same? By the way Brewer talks as if he would have the Indians quit everything and go without any comforts of life. How many are there htat enjoy their pipes and why shouldn't the Indians if they want to? Brewer says no, the Indians must not use tobacco, they must not dance, they must not play cards, and if they did not eat the little rations that the government gives them which belongs to them they would be good Indians. If the Indians could get the money that the government pays to the like of Brewer they wouldn't have to draw rations.

The Indians at Nett Lake have got rice enough to last until rice grows again. And as to gambling our clothes away, I don't think we could lose very many clothes. If we did we would have to go and see Mr. Brewer naked, and that would not be nice, for the little $5 or $6 a year that we get from the government would not buy us very much more clothes. The work is very scarce around Nett Lake. Maybe all the Indians together might get two months' work, but what is that to support a family on? The government wants us to work but what have we got to work with? Nothing. Yours truly,

DABW-WA-DONG,
Chief of the Nett Lake Indians.
Nett Lake, Minn., April 28.

GREAT NORTHERN BRIDGE NEAR CHISHOLM BURNS.

Chisholm, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Great Northern is detouring ore trains from this section via Kelley lake because fire Sunday badly damaged the trestle over the Missabe tracks at Chisholm Junction. The trestle work is 250 feet long and about 100 feet of this was totally destroyed. It is supposed the fire was started from an engine on the lower road.

A force of 100 men are at work repairing the damage done and it is expected the structure will be ready for trains to be run over it by this afternoon.

EVELETH TOO, MAY HAVE NEW DEPOT

Reported Missabe Road Will Move Present Structure Away From Mining.

Eveleth, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Eveleth will have a new Missabe depot, as soon as a suitable site is available according to local railroad officials. The present depot is in close proximity of mining operations and situated at the base of the hill. Many warehouses were recently moved from the rear of the depot because of nearby mining, and the railroad men are desirous of securing a site where it will be possible to erect a depot closer to the business section and further away from mining operations.

TWO ELY HOMES BURN.

Respective Families Barely Escape With Their Lives.

Ely, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The homes of Louis and Ludwig Erusek, brothers, which adjoin at the Chandler location were destroyed by fire yesterday morning. The brothers arose about the same time started the kitchen fires in their respective homes and while their families still slept went to the barn to do the chores. One of the houses took fire, which one is not known, and the horrified men rushed back just in time to save the families from both burning houses.

The flames were communicated from one house to another and to a woodpile and thence to the barn and all were totally destroyed before the fire department could reach the scene. The loss also included a cow who was removed from the barn before the flames reached the structure and deliberately walked into the kitchen door of a burning house and was burned to death. The flames are thought to have originated from the kitchen fire in one of the houses.

The total loss was about $1,600 including some money which the brothers had secreted about their homes. They carried insurance in the sum of $400 on the burned buildings. A high wind was blowing and by the time the local fire fighters reached the scene the conflagration was almost completed.

charges of this kind have been renewed. I wish to deny emphatically that not a dollar of American money has been used. I know federal sympathizers are at a loss to understand where our money has come from, but they do not realize, apparently, the strength of the revolutionist cause throughout Mexico.

"As for American soldiers, they really are a very small minority in our forces, and it is only natural that some foreigners should be found fighting in the cause of liberty. Why in our own war for independence, Gen. Mina, the idol of the war, was a foreigner. Did not the United States in its Revolutionary war have the services of Gen. Lafayette, Kosciusko, Von Steuben and others?

Attempts Deplorable.

"Some attempt, it seems, is being made in Mexico City to stir up anti-American sentiment. This is a most deplorable condition of affairs. I had an opportunity while in Washington to observe closely the machinery of the American government in the Mexican situation, and I am able to state that the American government, especially in the Agua Prieta incident and in its general policy during the insurrection, has maintained a consistent attitude of international friendliness. I sincerely hope that, come what may, the friendship of the two republics will not be imperilled by the internal affairs of Mexico."

Envoys Must Have Authority.

El Paso, Tex., May 1.—Upon whether Judge Carabajal, the government peace envoy expected here tonight, comes with full authority to act for President Diaz depends in large measure the probability of peace terms being agreed upon by the end of this week. That the insurrectos are more than willing to end hostilities is not denied, but they will not treat with Carabajal unless he comes with full powers.

The meeting place selected for the conference lies on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande amid a grove of willows. Swollen by the spring freshets, the mud-laden river roars over a dam and the trees bend and sway in the rushing waters.

It is the second time the spot has made a bid for fame, according to Detective William Smith of the El Paso police force, who fifteen years ago was "Australian Billy Smith," the prize fighter.

"At that time I was matched to fight Billy Lewis," related Smith today. "We had trouble with the authorities on the American side and finally concluded to stage the mill on the Mexican side. We forded the river, most of us on the backs of peons we had hired, and right there where they are going to try to make peace in Mexico this week we had a fight—fourteen rounds with bare knuckles—and it's mighty glad I was when the referee hailed me as winner. I wonder how many rounds this scrap will go?"

Forty-four rifles destined for the rebel camp here were confiscated by troopers of the Fourth cavalry when delivery of the arms was attempted in fulfillment of a contract made before there was any thought of the present armistice.

Rebel Envoys.

At the conclusion of a rebel conference Sunday, Francisco I. Madero, Jr., president of the provisional government, announced the election by ballot of Dr. Francisco Vasquez Gomez, Francisco Madero, Sr., and Senor Jose Pino Suarez as the peace commissioners of the revolutionary party.

With the provisional governors of the various states in which the insurgents have organized their government present, a definite basis of peace terms was agreed upon. Though no official announcement of the terms was made, it was admitted by many that there may be breakers ahead. The insurrecto leaders are determined that formal negotiations shall not begin until the federal envoy or envoys present credentials authorizing them to act for the government.

and vicinity would pass without any labor troubles.

The grievance of the shopmen is that the company has been discharging and laying off men who have been with the company many years, because they belong to the union. The men went out without any excitement.

Workmen Parade in New York.

New York, May 1.—Six parades of workmen to the number of several thousand each, a strike of more than 5,000 machinists and a walkout of a few hundred Staple bakers, and shirtwaist makers, were the chief events of the May day celebration here today. The machinists are striking for an eight hour day. Some shops are working the eight-hour day schedule and the machinists employed in these plants remained at work.

The affected shops say they will employ non-union labor. The police expect trouble.

Strike at Havana.

Havana, May 1.—More than 1,000 cartmen struck this morning, tying up the wholesale business of the city. Their grievance is the alleged vexatious traffic regulations adopted by the city authorities and harshly enforced by the police.

Plumbers Out at Toledo.

Toledo, Ohio, May 1.—One hundred plumbers went on strike this morning when their employers refused to grant an increase of 24 per cent in wages. The men have been getting $4 a day. They asked for $5.

HOMER MASON AT THE ORPHEUM

Well-Known Comedian Presenting Feature Sketch in Vaudeville.

They have a "good show" down at the Orpheum this week. It contains plenty of comedy, popular music and variety, and it is all first-class, clean vaudeville of the best type.

An old friend—Homer B. Mason—is back, and he got a warm reception when he appeared last evening. He will be remembered for his clever comedy work in "A Stubborn Cinderella." Marguerite Keeler is with him, and helps add to the general merriment in a farcical little sketch, "In and Out," which is the best thing on the bill, although two or three other acts push it for first honors, and perhaps get more actual applause than it does.

Mr. Mason is one of the few comedians who can illustrate a "jag" and make it funny. "A Stubborn Cinderella" kept him "jagged" for two seasons, and now on his return to vaudeville—his first love—he is still a half intoxicated man, and a very funny one. In "A Stubborn Cinderella" he was allowed to sober up in the last two acts, but in his vaudeville sketch he has to wait until he takes his curtain calls—and there were several of them yesterday—before the author lets him get sober.

Miss Keeler is charmingly pretty and attractive and the other members of the company are exceptionally capable. The costumes are spick and span, and the whole sketch keeps moving, and keeps the house in laughter throughout its action.

Mignonette Kokin, with her acrobatic dancing and her clever impersonations of both American and foreign stage favorites, was probably the hit of the new show. Her impersonations of Bessie McCoy, George Cohan and Mlle. Genee were especially good. She also presents a French danceuse and a Dutch girl.

Another act which ranked with the headliner in point of popularity, was that presented by Fred Hamill and his Musical Kids. This is an act of the bare stage type, and a good one. Hamil and two entertaining youngsters present what they call "A Morning Rehearsal," showing a vaudeville performer rehearsing for his act on the bare stage of the theater. One of the boys plays the piano and the other the violin. The act consists of several popular and ragtime numbers, and plenty of clean comedy that seemed to strike the right spot with yesterday's audiences.

Galetti's monkeys have a first class trained animal act. They present what is called a Simian circus, which features a horse race, in which monkeys are mounted on the backs of dogs, and a number of acrobatic stunts. Two monkeys also play some well known selections on a unique instrument. The "technique" of the monkeys is surprisingly good.

A Jap act opens the program. The Okura Japs have an act of the familiar risley work or foot juggling, which is of the conventional type, but they introduce several variations of the old stunts. Their tricks are all cleverly done, and the act makes a very pleasing little opening turn.

Glen Ellison sings three songs as they are sung in dear old Lunnon. He is a young English singer of character songs, and his turn is clean cut and pleasing. There is a good tone to his whole number that some American singers might seek to duplicate, and his songs are all pleasing and well sung. It is an unpretentious act, but one with real merit.

Fred Jarvis and Fredericka Harrison also have a neat little singing act, introducing some lively dialogue and a few dance steps.

The moving pictures and the overture complete the bill, which will continue all week with a daily matinee.

SINGERS ARE THE FEATURE

Vaudeville Bill of Unusual Merit Opens at the Empress Theater.

In a grand opera playlet entitled "A Royal Romance," the feature of the new vaudeville bill at the Empress theater, Edmund Stanley and company scored a decided hit with the three large sized audiences that packed the theater yesterday, the occasion of the opening of the new program.

This act, besides being well staged, is one of the most meritorious productions of the kind that ever visited the city. The members all have voices of more than ordinary merit and they know how to use them. Miss Belle Storey, the soprano of the company and M'lle Hortense Mazarett, the contralto, are particularly good in their respective parts.

The scene is laid in a royal mountain garden in India. The scene itself got a warm reception from yesterday's audiences and so enthusiastic were the spectators over the performance that the principals were called and recalled several times.

"How to Make a Welsh Rarebit" by Bob Sandberg and James V. Lee does not explain exactly how the most appetizing rarebit could be made but it does furnish a lot of fun and that was what the act was written for apparently. Their dialogue regarding cheese is particularly funny. Both men are natural comedians and yesterday they kept the house in an uproar.

Hogan got into a lot of trouble trying to break into society. "Hogan in Society" is a rather clever little sketch with four characters. George Rolland "the king of hicks" takes the principal part and does it well. It is a modern playlet of city life and the action takes place in apartments in New York.

Josephine Davis is a dainty little creature who sings and furnishes comedy. She is styled a songbird on the program and if that means that she can sing no mistake is made. Miss Davis also does some caricature work that is far above the ordinary. She also wears a harem skirt.

Josie O'Meers opens the bill with artistic aerial dances. She received a warm reception yesterday. Miss O'Meers has a performance that would be a headliner on some vaudeville bills.

The program closes with the usual moving pictures which this week are interesting. The program as a whole is one of the best ever presented at the Empress.

There will be three performances daily, on each afternoon and two each evening during the remainder of the week.

Red Blood for Pale People!

A big supply of red blood corpuscles is what helps to make any man or woman have a healthy, pink complexion and cherry red lips. Resort to paint and powder are totally unnecessary and besides that, are harmful. Three-grain hypo-nuclane tablets, if used regularly for several months, seem to create a greatly added number of millions to the red and white corpuscles of the blood, and not only improve the color, but add increased flesh to the thin and frail body. These tablets promote assimilation, absorption and digestion, and this splendid aid to nature's forces transforms the complexion and figure. They are prescribed by physicians, but being of a perfectly harmless character, self-administration is being followed my many who obtain them direct from any well-stocked apothecary shop.

KEROSENE FOR MOTORS

Carburetor Inventor Says Gasoline May Be Replaced By Cheaper Product.

Plowing Experiments With Motors Have Been Conducted With Success.

"It will not be long before it will be possible to use kerosene in the operation of motor engines the same as gasoline is being used now," said A. C. Bennett of Minneapolis yesterday.

Mr. Bennett is the inventor of the Bennett carbuetor and has had an extensive experience with all kinds of motor engines. He was in Duluth yesterday visiting with "Dick" Sheil, owner of the C. d'Autremont, Jr., the fastest speed boat at the Head of the Lakes. "Dick" is an old friend of Mr. Bennett and was the first man in the city to install the Bennett carburetor.

Mr. Bennett has been making an exhaustive study of the kerosene proposition. He is firm in the belief that it will be just as efficient, if not more so, than gasoline and naptha. He states that it will be possible to use it in the same manner, running it through a carburetor, where it will be vaporized and mixed with air and exploded in the cylinders with an electric spark.

Along with the use of power engines in automobiles and motor boats, Mr. Bennett has collected numerous statistics on the cost of plowing with power engines. In one experiment on eighteen acres he found that the ground could be broken at an average cost of less than 20 cents an acre, as compared with the estimated cost of about $1.12 for breaking the same amount of ground in the old style by the use of teams.

"Not only is the cost so much less," said Mr. Bennett, "but the time saving feature is most important. A motor-driven machine will work so much more rapidly and cover so much more territory than the horses, that the up-to-date farmer operating on a large scale cannot afford to follow the old plan any longer. You don't hear much talk of competition among the farmers, but if they are to hold their own with their progressive brethren they must come to the use of power machinery in preference to the horses."

Before going into th business of manufacturing carburetors Mr. Bennett sold automobiles and he has been keeping in close touch with the business. He observes that the machines are coming into more general use in the farming communities every year. "It wasn't so very long ago," he said, "that a farmer hated an automobile almost as a viper. But there has been a decided change in sentiment. They are seeing the periodical advantages of the buzz wagons and are buying them in larger numbers each season. After they have once tried them they find them indispensable and wouldn't try to get along without them. They make them money, and what is just as valuable, they save them a great deal of time."

LOCALS WIN FROM MINNEAPOLIS

High School Debaters Take a Contest From West Side High.

The debating team of the Duluth Central high school won over the team representing the West Side high school of Minneapolis in the debate held Saturday evening in the assembly room of the local school.

The subject for debate was "Resolved, That the Cities of Minnesota Should Adopt the Commission Form of Government." The Duluth team upheld the affirmative and the Minneapolis team the negative.

The Zenith City school was represented by Jessie Cohen, Fred Weinberg and Roger S. Lerch, Jr. The Mill City debaters were Dean Campbell, Robert McLean and Edwin Chapman. E. Donald Baker, their coach, accompanied them to Duluth. The judges were Judge D. E. Roberts of Superior, R. T. Lewis and G. W. C. Ross.

The debate was preceded by a vocal solo by Miss Whitcomb and an instrumental number by Miss Flaaten.

LAST SERVICE IN OLD BETHEL

Society Will Have Quarters on Bowery During Summer Months.

The final religious service in the Bethel building in Lake avenue south was held last evening. Judge J. D. Edson presided. In a brief address he gave the history of the Bethel association. L. A. Marvin, deputy county auditor, who has been associated with the Bethel society for many years, told of several of his experiences while working for the interests of the society. He said hundreds of men and women had been converted in the structure that was being abandoned.

Matt Daly, the lumberjack sky pilot, who was converted in the Bethel three years ago, spoke eloquently. Mr. Daly will have charge of the association's work next summer as religious director in the quarters which will be occupied on the Bowery.

Axel Seore, superintendent of a Sunday school at Arnold, and Cornelius Martin, who were converted at the same time Mr. Daly confessed his belief in eternal truths, spoke briefly. Miss McGiffert sang two solos.

A building which will soon be constructed at Mesaba avenue and First street, will be occupied by the Bethel.

KICKED BY A HORSE.

Driver for Brewing Co. in Hospital Suffering From Serious Injuries.

William Weber, a driver of the Schlitz Brewing company, sustained serious injuries yesterday afternoon as the result of having been kicked by one of the company's horses while he was taking care of them in the barn. It is feared that his skull was fractured and his right leg and right collar bone broken. He had curried one team and was entering the stall of the next animal when it kicked him, knocking him to the floor. He was taken to St. Mary's hospital, where he was in a semi-conscious condition all night. Weber is single and has been living at 338 Lake avenue south.

MORE ENDLESS CHAIN LETTERS

Threaten Misfortune to Those Who Do Not Pass Prayer Along.

The old endless chain letter is again in evidence in Duluth.

In the present instance, the letter contains a prayer for the blessing of all mankind. The prayer in itself is not objectionable, but the letter plays upon the fears of the superstitious. It threatens them with calamities if they do not send the prayer on to nine others, and promises them blessings if they do. The prayer is a brief one, and is as follows: "Oh Lord Jesus, I implore Thee, bless all minkind. Keep us from evil in Thy precious blood, and take us to dwell with Thee through all eternity."

The letter reads as follows: "This prayer was sent to me. I send it to you. Copy it and send it to nine friends. It is said in Jerusalem that he who will not copy this prayer will meet with misfortune. Copy and on the ninth day some great joy will befall you, it is said. Do not break the chain, and make a wish while writing."

The letter which came to The Herwas evidently written by some uneducated person, whose fears have been played upon by the threat.

CHURCH MAY FLY AMERICAN FLAG

Catholics Permitted to Use It on Ceremonial Occasions.

New York May 1.—The American flag may be displayed in Catholic churches, at military funreals and on other ceremonial occasions hereafter by virtue of a decree, promulgated in Rome and officially published as notice to all the diocesan authorities in the United States. It was due to the inability of the clergy in the United States to arrive at a satisfactory conclusion, that Manager Diomene Falconio, the apostolic delegate to the United States, laid the matter before the authorities at Rome, with the result that after proper consideration of the matter he received a letter from M. Cardinal Rampolla at Rome stating unequivocally that as there would be no disrespect to the church or clergy, there would be no objections to the American flag in Catholic churches during religious ceremonies and on the occasion of funerals.

WAS ANGRY AT PUBLICITY

Dr. Jackola Says Newspaper Stories Caused His Arrest By Mrs. Belmont.

Dr. John Jackola, who was arrested in New York at the instigation of Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, reached Duluth yesterday. He said the incident was unfortunate and that he thought it was caused by the publication of stories in New York newspapers commenting on the attention he was showing Mrs. Belmont.

Dr. Jackola does not believe that Mrs. Belmont would have pursued the course she did, if she had not been chagrined at the contents of the articles. Dr. Jackola thinks the stories were printed to discredit the woman's suffrage moment, in which Dr. Jackola says he was taking a part in Boston and New York by invitation.

Dr. Jackola said he admired Mrs. Belmont greatly for her enthusiasm and intellectual ability. He declared that he had refused to offer any defense to his actions through the newspapers. The unpleasant situation featured widely in the public prints was caused, he thinks, by Mrs. Belmont's misconception of the stories regarding the friendship between Mrs. Belmont and himself. He thinks Mrs. Belmont believed that he inspired the articles, which, he emphatically declares, he did not.

"BORROWED" HIS AUTOMOBILE

The automobile of Frank J. Nixon was "borrowed" Friday night while he and his wife were visiting on Robinson street. When they went to the machine to start for their home the battery plug was missing. Leaving it there they took a street car. After they had left the men who had taken the plug reappeared and supplying the missing part, went for a joy ride. The car was recovered Saturday afternoon on London road near Forty-sixth avenue east.

UNCLE SAM SHOULD BLUSH.

Our Uncle Samuel ought to be heartily ashamed of himself. Yes, he ought. There is no question about it at all. Here he has been and went and gone and—but wait, just read this from the American Lumberman and then you can see it all for yourself.

The persistency with which the general government pursues its bootless search for trust methods in the lumber circles of the country smacks of puerile pertinacity and defenseless impertinence. The representative of a government bureau, it is reported, has lately "examined" certain private interests on the Pacific coast for the ostensible purpose of exposing trust methods in quarters where such a thing is manifestly impossible.

This inquisition, in progress now for years, has resulted in the exposure of nothing incriminating. That fact of and by itself ought to have made it perfectly clear to anybody in the possession of normal faculties that nothing of the kind has or can have any existence in fact. The unqualified willingness with which suspected persons have voluntarily and uniformly submitted to investigations of the kind under review might alone have convinced any sane, well-meaning person that there was nothing to conceal, nothing to fear.

It ought not to be out of order to demand that quests of the offensive kind described be stopped; that further unwarranted impertinence of like character be either terminated or that just cause be shown why it should continue. The offense has reached a point marking the limits of endurance and patience. Individual rights as well as subjection to the law are alike enjoined by it, and those rights ought to be respected and enforced. The thing has gone far enough.

There now. Just listen to that, and see what a horrid old thing this government of ours is, anyway. Why, it even has the "unwarranted impertinence" to try to find out something about a business that had its origin and growth under the direct and fostering care of the government, that is handling and getting rich out of the natural resources that belong to the people, and whose agents are all but absolutely known to have been at work corrupting public servants in order to grab yet more wealth to satisfy individual greed.

Look at this Hines muss, for instance. Several credible witnesses have sworn that Hines himself or his agents told how "we" had "put Lorimer through." He is quoted as having expressed dissatisfaction because Senator Stephenson of Wisconsin wouldn't "stay put" after he had been all fixed up. He is shown to have schemed to get men in the United States senate who would fight and vote against the opening to the people of the country of a reasonable and natural market for one of the things most used by the people. And all this time he was acting in the interests of the lumber barons.

These investigations and things may be unwarranted and impertinent, but they are not half as unwarranted and impertinent as the conditions that led to their being undertaken. Nobody who has followed or studied the lumber business in this country can doubt that there is a community interest at work in it, and the testimony adduced in this Lorimer-Hines matter has shown one kind of work of which such interests are capable.

Uncle Sam certainly ought to be ashamed of himself. Not because of these investigations, but because he allowed the gigantic interests that are being investigated to come into being and attain the power and influence that inspire them to defy the government and the people and try to dictate the manner in which their despotism is to be borne by the national government.

KEEP THE ISSUE CLEAR.

In view of the utterances of Samuel Gompers and some other labor leaders, there is a possibility that people will become confused as to the issues at stake in the McNamara dynamiting charge. There has been a rush to declare that McNamara and his companions in trouble are innocent of the act charged to them, and strenuous efforts are being made to enlist both the sympathy and the financial assistance of union men throughout the country on the side of the accused.

But members of labor organizations, as well as those who do not belong to unions, should be careful to get a clear idea of what the real question is. They should remember that neither any individual union nor organized labor as a whole is on trial in this case. The charge does not involve the bodies of which McNamara and his associates are members; it is directed against these men and these men alone. If they are proved innocent, it will be no more a victory for organized labor than it would be for the American Bankers' association if one of its members were acquitted of a charge of embezzlement. And if McNamara is found guilty it will not mean that the union in which he is an officer, or organized labor at large, is at fault. It will simply mean that one of the men to whom the union men entrusted the duties of a great and important office has been found utterly unworthy of such trust and confidence.

It is all right for the labor organizations to contribute to a fund for McNamara's defense, if they choose to do so. But it would be unfair to the members of those organizations if they were urged to contribute under the impression that they were giving to the cause of organized labor. If McNamara is guilty, it is to the interests of the unions more than to those of any other body of men that he should be punished. There are many men in the world who delight in such acts as the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building, and there are too many who would willingly take part in such an act. By allowing the guilt or innocence of McNamara to become too closely associated in the public mind with the character of organized labor, the labor interests would but encourage these extremists to believe that by committing outrages similar to that in Los Angeles they would be winning the approval of the workingmen's organizations, though in fact every such act is a deadly blow to the interests of unionism.

The issue should be kept absolutely clear, and labor leaders and union members should be particularly careful to see that no confusion is allowed to arise. It is McNamara who is on trial—not the union, and not organized labor.

BEHIND THE TIMES.

According to Consul Robert J. Thompson, stationed at Hanover, Germany, the men and women of that country carry around about 2,695 tons of iron in their pockets and handbags and keep some 2,560 tons more hanging on nails or lying in drawers at home. Quite a burden, isn't it? If you were to distribute that load among the people of Duluth and oblige them to carry what the Germans do it would mean that every man, woman and child would have to lug about sixty-nine pounds of iron with him. Of course the Germans do not carry around any such amounts. It is divided into much smaller lots.

But the odd part of it all is the form in which they carry this load. You never would guess it, but it is in the shape of door keys. According to Consul Thompson, "the present German house key could be used as a weapon of attack and defense, besides serving its original purpose. It weighs on an average about one-eighth of a pound; and each person entitled to carry a house and corridor key has nearly a quarter of a pound of soft iron in his pocket"

Compare this kind of a key with the small bit of metal you use to let yourself into your house or flat. Evidently our German friends have allowed themselves to get far behind the times in the matter of keys. Such articles are necessary, just as some form of government is necessary. But while we of America have learned how to make the locks of small dimensions so as to accommodate small keys, convenient to carry in the purse or even in one's glove, the Germans have stuck to the old, original, massive style of lock.

Do these big affairs prove any more effective than our smaller ones? It is doubtful. Certainly, for absolute protection, it is of no advanage to have a lock stronger than the door it secures. For a big, heavy door a big, heavy lock may be advisable. But why use such cumbersome methods and such cumbersome articles where more modern ones would be not only as effective, but better from their greater convenience and simplicity? And if this is true of our houses, it is equally true of our cities. In Duluth we have kept to the old, cumbersome form of managing municipal affairs while other cities have adopted more up to date and better methods, better because they give efficient service with less machinery, less cumbersomeness, and put the people into closer touch with the things that concern them directly. We can smile indulgently at the Germans for keeping to the old, burdensome ways in this matter of keys. Let us go ahead to the point where we can also smile indulgently at the cities that stick to the old, burdensome methods of government.

HAPPY ENDINGS.

St. Louis Times: A well known literary critic has recently said that the reason why so many stories "turn out wrong" is because it is much easier for a writer to solve his final problems by bringing in a tragedy than by contriving something happy. It requires little ingenuity to compass the death of a hero and heroine; yet by this process the reader's feelings are all harrowed, and the decision is that the story is "powerful." It would require a great deal more thought to work out a happy termination.

That is as it may be. Perhaps the fashion of unhappy endings is due to laziness and lack of thought on the part of authors. It is more likely that it is due to the conception that unhappy endings are "stronger" than happy ones.

In point of fact, literary critics perpetrate a good deal of buncombe about unhappy endings being more "artistic" than happy endings. When they say that to make a story turn out happily is to cater to sentimental girls for the sake of selling books and getting royalties, they evolve a theory that can be justified on no better ground than the broad one that whatever people like isn't good and isn't good for them.

Some time ago this newspaper made the venturesome assertion that the true test of art is the universality of its appeal. That wasn't an original observation—we took it from Tolstoi and quoted him. We timorously presented the belief that the tendency in all arts is to create a cult which arrogates exclusiveness, and which gloats over incomprehensible distortions in order to make the plain people believe that they know nothing of art. A good deal of this is humbug, pure and simple. A great picture, a great musical composition, a great poem, a great book—each of these will appeal to pretty nearly everybody if it really is great. Perhaps the "cultured" will be able to talk more learnedly about their impressions, and will be able to explain more in detail the merits of the work of art they admire, but it is doubtful if their appreciation is any greater than that of the humble, unlearned admirer who can find no words to voice the awe and admiration that fills him.

So, too, in letters there is a cult which affects to consider tragic endings as "stronger" and "more artistic" than happy ones. There is a lot of buncombe about that, too. There can be no such rule. The true test is whether the ending is reasonable and logical. It may be bad art to twist a tale out of its logical track in order to drag in a happy ending; but it is worse art deliberately to drag in an unhappy ending simply because somebody has said that it is strong and artistic to do so.

Some of the greatest novels ever written have "happy endings," and they are the stronger for them. The leaning to tragedy is an idiosyncracy of some authors, and not all authors have it—fortunately. The test of art, in a story no less than in a picture, is whether it is true; not whether it is an authentic relation of something that has happened, but whether it is a convincing narration of something that could and should happen. There are stories in which a happy ending would be as completely out of place as a plug hat on a cherub. There are stories that have been fitted with tragic endings which are as miserably out of place as the leer of a satyr would be on the pictured face of an angel.

The author who has optimism and faith in humanity will weave stories that can "end happily;" but he will not lug in a happy ending where it does not belong to cater to the book-buying public, nor will he drag in a tragic ending where it does not belong in order to please the self-created cult of critics which affects to think tragedy strength, and happiness weakness.

THE OPEN COURT.

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest. Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

SIXTH AVENUE OWNERS SHOULD BESTIR THEMSELVES.

The car line extension to Chester park on East Ninth street will not be made this year if the property owners on Sixth avenue east do not hurry and get that avenue in shape by Aug. 1. The petition for grading Ninth street is nearly complete and enough signers can be received any time with a little exertion it is expected, so that it will be complete this week, but the property owners on Ninth street and vicinity are anxiously waiting for the property owners on Sixth avenue to go ahead with their end of it. The city levied $2,000 for a culvert on Sixth avenue and it is promised that this will be built, but Sixth avenue is low at the upper end and considerable filling in will be necessary and it will be heavy on the property owners. An additional appropriation of $3,000 should be made by the city to help put this route in shape. It will be necessary also to put in a culvert and a fill over a creek between Seventh and Eighth avenues on Ninth street.

The best route recommended by the Central Hillside Improvement club was to go up Sixth avenue east from Fourth street direct to Ninth street, then east to Chester park. This is a much nicer route than the other proposed route, which is to go up Sixth avenue east to Seventh street and east on Seventh street to Seventh avenue and up Seventh avenue to Ninth street and east on Ninth street. There is a great deal of team traffic on Seventh avenue east and it is believed it should be left as it is and not be torn up for the car line. Seventh avenue is one of the best routes out of the city for farmers.

This section of the city has a very bright future and real estate is already becoming more active.

Extensions of water and gas mains and sewers will be made this spring on Ninth street as far as Thirteenth avenue east. Petitions have already been signed.

THOUGHTLESS OF COMFORT OF OTHERS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Last Tuesday I took advantage of the invitation extended to the public and attended the free concert given by the management of the Y. M. C. A. It was indeed a pleasure to hear the beautiful music rendered by the Flaaten conservatory orchestra under the able direction of Gustav Flaaten. We are very fortunate in having such an organization of young students in the city of Duluth, and I wonder if the public realize the persistent work necessary to bring a party of students up to such a standard. However, I believe the people who do not appreciate such music ought to have a little consideration for the others. I sat in the gallery, and while the orchestra was rendering the beautiful "Cloister Scene" I could scarcely hear a thing on account of the chattering. Besides this, some young boys were playing with dumb bells in a room close by, and dropping them on the floor every minute or two, much to the annoyance of those who were trying to listen to the music.

During an entertainment of this kind, the entire audience ought to conduct themselves in a manner befitting a symphony hall or theater.

If the management of the Y. M. C. A. were to charge a small admission fee, I am sure it would have a tendency to keep away that element who insist on making themselves obnoxious to those who appreciate good music. Thanking you for space in the Open Court column.

A MUSIC LOVER.

Duluth, April 30.

RECIPROCITY.

Indianapolis News: There have been few more amusing things in human history than the campaign of the American Protective Tariff League among the farmers the purpose of which is to line them up against President Taft's reciprocity agreement. For many years the American farmer has been paying tribute to the manufacturer, as he is doing today. In order to make him believe that he was getting something out of protection the duties were laid on wheat and other farm products, the prices of which were made in the markets of the world.

He was also soothed by the assurance that protection gave him a home market for his products that could not exist without protection. As a matter of fact he got nothing out of the tariff.

Now that it is proposed to open up the Canadian market to his products he is asked to believe that he will suffer heavily from the removal of duties on some of his products. Yet what he chiefly needs is free and easy access to that new market in Canada which has largely been created by the factories built and operated by Americans in the Dominion. The "home market" has moved, in part, across the border, and the farmer must follow it. But he finds himself confronted by high duties which, of course, are a serious obstacle. Under the proposed agreement we shall sell to Canada a good deal more than she sells to us. But the important thing is that the people of both countries will be able to satisfy their needs more easily and completely than is now possible, for they will have a larger store to draw on.

We should think that the farmers would doubt the sincerity of any campaign made for them by the American Protective Tariff league. What that organization has always sought is a closed and monopolized market for the output of certain highly protected industries. It has favored, as it still favors, a policy under which the farmer is compelled to pay more for manufactured products than the foreigner pays. Millions of dollars of this tribute have been wrung from American agriculture. The campaign of the league, therefore, is not in the interest of the farmer; its object is to continue that closed and monopolized market for certain industries. As a matter of fact these very industries are in great need of a wider market, as is now being generally recognized. We have been too long engaged in the business of swapping jackets with one another. The American Protective Tariff league is no friend of the American farmer. Its effort to pose as such will not, we think, be successful. No market can be too wide for the resources of this country and the abounding energy and enterprise of its people. The men who oppose the removal of any of the restrictions on trade are the direct descendants of those who not so long ago wished that the Atlantic were an ocean of fire. The great conquests of the future are to be made in the world's markets. We must prepare to enter this wider field. The house did well to ratify the reciprocity agreement. If the Republicans of the senate really wish to "get in bad" with the people they will defeat it.

"Up-State" Village Auctions.

Penn Yan Chronicle: A public auction at the Four Corners in the village attracted hundreds of people and many sales were made. Anybody who wished could bring articles to be disposed of, and many took advantage of the fact to have sold articles they had no use for but which others desired. The public auction is coming into favor in villages in this part of the state at least.

Poetic Justice?

Minneapolis Journal: Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont appears to have modern ideas about her poets. She has them arrested.

MINNESOTA OPINIONS.

Feared Public Opinion.

Wilkin County News: The News thinks that no public man is honest who isn't willing to leave any public proposition to the vote of the people. It is understood that the friends of Senator Knute Nelson have been exerting strong influence with Governor Eberhart to have him veto the Keefe bill. The governor would be very glad to have vetoed the measure, but he still has a wholesome fear of Mr. Public Opinion.

Bede and Lorimer.

Sandstone Tribune: Judging from the comments of exchanges from over the Northeastern part of Minnesota, Hon. J. Adam Bede hasn't strengthened himself worth a cent by his defense of Hon. Billy Lorimer. Hon. Adam and Hon. Billy seem to be getting into a class by themselves if comment is correct.

The Keefe Law.

Hutchinson Leader: Representative Keefe of Redwood county distinguished himself in the recent legislative session by fathering a bill in the house providing for the adoption of the Oregon plan for the election of United States senators. This bill became a law in spite of the reactionary opposition, and is a notable instance of progressive legislation in a session largely barren of such results. Under this law we will come as near popular election of senators as is possible until congress provides an amendment to the Federal Constitution, which must be adopted by three-fourths of the states before going into effect. Therefore Minnesota will undoubtedly elect a successor to Knute Nelson under the Keefe law.

Good Roads a Necessity.

Frazee Free Press. It is to the great advantage of smaller cities and towns to have the farmers' patronage. But if that is to be secured, one very necessary thing is to have the roads in good passable condition at all seasons of the year. Farmers have been known to avoid towns near at hand, but to which the approach is well nigh impassable in wet weather, and go miles further to buy and sell in towns, the roads to which are kept in good order. To let roads remain in bad condition because it takes money to improve them is exceedingly poor economy.

Go Back Farther.

Bemidji Sentinel: If the Wisconsin legislature should decide to probe the manner in which Senator Ike Stephenson was elected to the United States senate, it should permit the probers to go far enough back to the time when Senators La Follette and Stephenson were good friends. If the Wisconsin legislature wishes to investigate the latter for the sake of purifying politics let them go back far enough to learn how badly Bob is in the mire with Ike.

Land Boom Just Starting.

Warroad Plaindealer: With nice fields of clover, red top, and timothy growing over the burned-over lands in Roseau county this summer, will be as good an inducement to new settlers coming here as we know of and from now the number of new filings on land being made every day there will be a very few free homesteads left in Roseau county in another year. The land boom here is just beginning.

Returning From the West.

Montevideo Leader: We have been told that many farmers who went west a year or two ago, have had all they want of it and are now coming back, bag and baggage. A good many car loads have gone eastbound over this line and it is too bad that something could not be done to get them to look at this portion of the West before going clear back. We believe that the right sort of advertising could have got them to stop here to the great advantage of our county and themselves.

Somebody's Finish Near.

Chisholm Tribune-Herald: It would appear from recent developments that this man Weihe, who wants to annihilate all the newspaper men in the country, did just what every man or woman does who talks too much—he put his foot in his mouth. The plot in the Lorimer scandal begins to thicken and we think we see somebody's finish.

Indian Copper Mining.

Southern Workman: The copper mines in the Lake Superior region were most important to the Indians. When we remember that they did not understand the smelting of the ores, we can appreciate the value of these mines. In them the native metal occurs both in small pieces and great masses. The Indians had only to dig away the earth and smash the rocks with stones, some of which they provided with a groove and attached a handle by means of a withe around the groove. Archaeologists have found that they also built fires upon the rocks and thus cracked them, that they might more easily be smashed with hammers. One piece of copper, propped upon poles, over fifteen feet below the surface of the ground, was found by explorers where it had been abandoned by the Indian quarrymen. Weighing almost three tons, it was a monument to the industry of the North American Indians, who have too often been considered lazy, and who, we must remember, had only the simplest tools with which to raise this heavy mass. One of their shafts, which contained a mass of copper weighing several tons, was twenty-six feet deep, and the mass of copper had been raised several feet, probably the only means the Indians had of moving it being wedges and sticks. These were exceptionally deep shafts, many others being smaller. In one place an area of about 400 acres had been worked over. Judging from the number of stone hammers or mauls found in a given bulk of the debris excavated from these ancient diggings, thousands and thousands of the hammers must have been used, and may be found by clearing out the old workings.

The Benefactions of Hines.

Sioux City Tribune: Lest the honest workingman forget his benefactors, the Tribune ventures again to remind him that the vast sums of money expended by Lumberman Hines to buy votes for Lorimer were really spent in the noble cause of "protection to American labor." Whatever happens we must not forget that the sole object of our high protective tariff, for which our princes of privilege are so zealous, is to protect their dearly beloved "work people" from the pauper competition of Canada and other benighted cheap labor countries.

The rich, as we know, can do without the high protective tariff; they have money enough to compete in ostentation and vulgar luxury with the privileged classes of other nations, and to buy a frayed out and dissipated nobleman whenever they need him in their business. But high tariff duties are a necessity in the household of every poor man who lives under the Stars and Stripes. Without them he will sink to the level of the Old World peasantry. Therefore, Mr. Hines and his fellow apostles of high wages—who understand what is good for the workingman much better than the workingman himself can possibly understand it—are resolved that he shall have high tariff duties, utterly regardless of cost in money, honor or reputation.

The spirit of modesty characterized Mr. Hines, as indeed it does every genuine philanthropist. He is no man to parade his deeds, nor to hire a brass band to advertise his benevolences. After bribing the Illinois legislature in behalf of the poor man's tariff, he was willing even to commit perjury to conceal the act, and thus to avoid fulsome and unwelcome adulation from the objects of his beneficence. Truly self-effacement could go no further.

Coming.

Jacksonville Times-Union: Almost time for the college graduate to decide the great questions of the day.

Japanese Chess Complex.

London Chronicle: Though Japan has adopted many Western games in conjunction with other fruits of civilization, it must not be supposed that she does not possess games of her own.

Go, originally a Chinese pastime, has for centuries been the most popular of the indoor pastimes of the Japanese. It is very different from the simple game known to Europeans as go-bang, which was introduced into England some twenty years ago.

In fact, go is the most complicated board game known to civilized man. It is played on a square woden board. Nineteen straight lines cross each other at right angles, make 361 crosses at the points of intersection. These may be occupied by 180 white and 181 black "stones." The object of the game, as described by Horace F. Cheshire before a meeting of the Japanese society is to inclose these crosses, and to capture as many of the adversary's men as possible. There are nine spots on the board, called seimoku, supposed to represent the chief celestial bodies, while the white and black men represent day and night, and the number of crosses the 360 degrees of latitude, exclusive of the central one, which is called taikyoku, that is, the primordial principle of the universe.

In playing, if the combatants are equally matched, they take the white stones alternately; if unequal, the weaker takes the black, and odds are also given by allowing him to occupy the spots—that is, to place stones upon them at the outset.

The game is taken so seriously that there are professors of the art who teach the game's finer points. In olden times expert go players occupied a high position at court, and were employed to entertain exalted guests.

Almost Vexed the Bear.

Capt. Owen Wheeler, in the Navy and Army, tells a bear story. A friend of his returning to camp after a day's shooting, suddenly came in sight of a big she bear with two cubs following in single file, proceeding along a ridge, the forms of the three being sharply silhouetted against the sky. It was a very long shot, but he determined to try it, so drew a bead on the old bear and fired. The result was curious. The procession stopped, the she bear scratched herself hastily, then turned round, and, regarding the cub immediately behind with grave disapproval, boxed its ears soundly, and then went trundling on along the ridge, evidently under the impression that her frolicsome offspring had been up to some objectionable tricks.

PATTERN SHOP FOREMAN DIES

Old Citizen of Brainerd, Prominent in Masonry, Is Suddenly Stricken.

Brainerd, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Lowey, aged 71, for twenty-seven years foreman of the pattern shop in the Northern Pacific Railroad shops here, died of cerebral hemorrhage in a restaurant here, early Sunday morning, after returning from St. Paul, where he attended a farewell reception to Mechanical Superintendent William Moir. Mr. Lowey was a member of the blue lodge chapter, Commandery of Council of Masons at Brainerd, and of Zurah temple at Minneapolis. He leaves three children: Miss Amy Lowey, principal of the Lowell school; Miss Irene C. Lowey, a teacher in the Whittier school and Frank J. Lowey, employed in the pattern shop; a niece, Miss Blanquita Firth, is attending St. Mary's hall at Faribault and makes her home with the family at Brainerd. The funeral will be held under the Masonic auspices Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at St. Paul's Episcopal church, of which the deceased was a member for many years.

FOR A TONIC NOTHING EQUALS S.S.S.

The need of a tonic in the Spring is almost universally recognized. We have learned that a weakened, run-down system means more than "Spring Fever," as we are accustomed to refer to the physical disturbances which come at this season. Bodily fatigue, fickle appetite, poor digestion, nervousness, lack of energy, etc., prove that the proper amount of nourishment is not being supplied to the body through the circulation. The stomach, bowels and digestive members are sluggish from lack of stimulating nutrition, and in consequence the entire body suffers from the effects of a poorly nourished constitution.

The recognized importance of pure blood in preserving health emphasizes the danger of a weakened circulation. The use of a real blood-purifying tonic when the system is deranged from lack of nourishment, will often prevent the development of some serious sickness, because weak systems cannot resist disease, while healthy, well nourished constitutions are able to ward it off. No medicine is of value as a tonic except one which purifies and enriches the blood, for until this is done the body will not receive its required stimulus and disease-resisting powers.

Your S. S. S. in my opinion, is as good a medicine as can be had; it simply cannot be improved upon as a remedy to purify and enrich the blood and to invigorate and tone up the system. Last Spring my blood was bad and I was run down in health, and having seen your medicine highly advertised, I commenced its use. Today my blood is in fine condition and my general health is of the best. Am filling position as fireman of a large concern here, and if I was not in good physical condition it would be impossible for me to fill the place.
WM. F. VAN DYKE.
815 Fifth St., Beaver Falls, Penn.

S. S. S. is the best Spring tonic because of its genuine ability and worth as a blood purifier. It builds up the depleted system in the true way, by purifying the blood and supplying an increased amount of nourishment to every portion of the body. S. S. S. removes all accumulations and impurities from the circulation, enriches the blood, and overcomes the unpleasant physical ailments that afflict at Spring time. It aids and improves the appetite, reinvigorates every fibre and tissue of the body and imparts healthful energy to all who are run down. S. S. S. is for sale at drug stores.

NO STRIKE IN EVIDENCE

Duluth Shops All Report Full Crews of Men at Work.

Raise in Pay, Demanded By Men, Said to Have Been Granted.

A careful search failed to reveal any strike of the bakers in Duluth this spring.

There are said to be sixteen shops in the city. Fourteen of them were called over the telephone and in every instance all then men were reported to be working. Each of the shops called, reported that there was no trouble; that there was no sign of a strike; that the demands of the bakers had been granted and that both day and night shifts were working. Several of the proprietors seemed to be surprised that there was any talk of a strike.

The strike was reported to have been called Saturday, by Marcel Wille, a general organizer for the union. Some of the master bakers had not agreed to the raise of $1 a week, it was said. There was no sign of a strike in the city this morning and Duluth people may or may not make their own bread just as they like, for all the shops seem to be working with full crews both day and night.

F. B. Amo reported a full crew, as did the Bon Ton, Crescent, Duluth Bakery, European, Independent, Zenith, Home, Scandinavian, Vienna and E. A. Young.

There are said to be about seventy-five bakers in the city. They have been strengthening their union of late and recently they decided to ask for a raise of $1 a week. To all appearances they have been successful in their demand.

DON'T WANT A SKATING RINK

Residents in Vicinity of Chester Park Protest to Council.

The residents in the vicinity of Fourteenth avenue east and Sixth street are circulating a petition which will be presented to the council protesting against the erection of a skating rink at that location.

They claim that it is a purely residence section and that the operation of the rink near their homes would be a nuisance. They also point out that it is close to Chester park and that it would be objectionable on those grounds. The building permit for the rink was taken out last week by N. O. Sundby, an employment agent. It is also contended that the rink would be an attraction for young children, and that it would be injurious to their morals to have them loaf about the place. When the petition is presented to the council it will likely be referred to a committee for investigation.

Parlor Cars Restored on Lake Superior Limited.

The parlor cars on the Northern Pacific Lake Superior Limited have been restored to service after a thorough overhauling in the company's shops. The cars are, to all intents and purposes, brand new. The observation cars on this train are also being overhauled. In the meantime North Coast Limited observation cars are being operated on the trains.

Take the Duluth Short Line for service that sets the pace. Tickets, 324 West Superior street. Both 'phones 214.

MAY RECOVER FROM WOUNDS

Victim of Cutting Scrape Will Give Police No Information.

Oscar Niattinen, who was brought to St. Mary's hospital shortly after noon Friday with his throat slashed from ear to ear, is reported to be improving. He is still in a dangerous condition, but strong hopes of his recovery are now held out. He still refuses to dispel the mystery which surrounds his case.

Since he told his name and intimated that it had been injured in a knife duel with a countryman somewhere in the woods, he has maintained a persistent silence. He was brought to the hospital by a friend, who immediately disappeared after Niattinen had been turned over to the hospital people. Nothing has been heard of him since, and no further light has been thrown on the mystery. When he reached the hospital he was extremely weak from loss of blood. The wound had been crudely bandaged, but it sufficed to stop the flow of blood, saving the man's life. As he is apparently without funds or friends, the bill will likely have to be paid by the county.

S. F. BOYCE VISITS SCENE OF BATTLE.

S. F. Boyce, who spent the winter in the South, was in Knoxville, Tenn., last week, looking over once familiar scenes. The Knoxville Journal and Tribune says:

"Among the visitors in Knoxville yesterday was S. F. Boyce of Duluth, Minn., a Civil war veteran who is en route home from Florida where he spent the winter. Mr. Boyce said that his last visit in the city was during the Civil war, and at that time he participated in the battle of Fort Sanders. He was a member of an Ohio regiment. The veteran talked interestingly of the great change he noted in the city. While in the city, he visited Henry T. Cooper."

LAST CALL FOR ENTRIES

Applications for Poultry Contest Must Be Filed Immediately.

Chicks Will Be Apportioned to the Children in City Schools.

All application for entrance in the children's poultry contest must be filed with Norman D. McLeod, secretary of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. Applications must be from children 12 to 18 years of age and must state the name and address of the applicant and the breed of chickens desired.

Mr. McLeod has been flooded with applications and more have already been received than can be cared for. From some schools, it seems that almost every child has submitted an application, while other schools are not fairly represented. The contest will be made representative and the number of those to whom chicks can be furnished will be divided among the different schools. So that it is desirable that all who wish to enter the contest get their applications in, as everybody will stand a chance.

The chicks, which will be furnished by the Duluth Poultry association, will cost the children 10 cents each and each child will be required to take fifteen chicks. The chicks will be delivered the latter part of May. The money paid for the chicks will go into a fund for prizes and prizes will be given at the end of the season for the best results with the different breeds.

Prof. N. E. Chapman, head of the poultry division of the extension department of the state agricultural school, will be in Duluth some time this month and will give a talk to the children on brooders and feed. Mr. Chapman is greatly interested in the Duluth contest and will come here several times during the season to instruct the children.

DEBATE RESUMED ON FREE LIST BILL

House Would Conclude Discussion of the Measure This Week.

Washington, May 1.—The house of representatives resumed debate on the tariff at 11 o'clock today with a determination to complete the discussion of the free list bill this week.

Representative Moss of Indiana, in a half hour speech, declared himself in favor of the present free list bill and convinced of the merits of the Canadian reciprocity bill recently passed by the house.

Representative Longworth of Ohio, Republican member of the ways and means committee, attacked the free list bill in strong terms in the first speech of the day from the opposition side.

He declared the bill was vague in its terms and so loosely drawn that even the Democratic leaders could not say definitely what industries it would affect if it became a law. Mr. Longworth declared that Chairman Underwood of the ways and means committee could not tell him even what paragraphs of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law are affected by the free list bill.

REJECTED; HE KILLS SELF.

Wisconsin Man Commits Suicide Because Woman Spurned Him.

Cumberland, Wis., May 1.—Julius Jonas, single, aged 55 years, a farmer residing near here, after an unsuccessful attempt in St. Paul, Minn., to shoot himself, committed suicide near Afton, taking a large dose of strychnine. Jonas went to St. Paul, expecting to marry a woman with whom he had been corresponding. She got $125 of Jonas' money, and said she would be back shortly. He never saw her after that. When he attempted to shoot himself in St. Paul the revolver got tangled up in his whiskers and the weapon was taken away from him. He was afterward arrested, and in municipal court sentenced to ninety days for attempted suicide. Sentence was suspended on condition that he would return at once to his home. Instead, he went to Afton, and there succeeded in killing himself, leaving a note saying that since his sweetheart had gone back on him there was nothing to live for.

MECHANICAL ENGINEERS

Cement Manufacture Will Be One of Imporiant Subjects.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 1.—The application of mechanical engineering to the field of cement manufacture will be one of the important questions considered by the American Society of Mechanical Engineers at their annual spring meeting, to be held in Pittsburg May 30 to June 2. Papers will be presented covering different phases of the subject, among them that on "Edison Roll Crushers," by W. H. Mason, superintendent of the Edison Portland Cement company at Stewartsville, N. J.; and "Some Problems of the Cement Industry," by Walter S. Landis, associate professor of metallurgy at Lehigh university; and there will be a full discussion by the many interested in cement manufacture who are expected to be present. A feature of the convention will be an excursion by special train to the plant of the Universal Portland Cement company at Universal, Pa., on invitation of E. M. Hagar, president of the company. Other important topics will be turbo-compressors and forging presses.

In addition to papers already mentioned, the professional sessions of the convention will deal with machine shop practice, with papers on the "Assembling of Small Interchangeable Parts," by John Calder, manager of the Remington Typewriter works of Ilion, N. Y.; the "Process of Assembling Small and Intricate Parts," by Halcolm Ellis of the Ellis Adding Typewriter company of Newark, N. J.; and the "Design of Milling Cutters and Their Efficiency," by A. L. DeLeeuw, mechanical engineer of the Cincinnati Milling Machine company of Cincinnati, Ohio; also with steel works practice, with papers on the "Commercial Application of the Turbine Turbo-Compressor," by R. H. Rice of the General Electric company, West Lynn, Mass.; and upon "Hydraulic Forging Pressors and Blowing Engines;" and with miscellaneous topics, including papers on "Stresses in Tubes," by Reid T. Stewart, professor of mechanical engineering of the University of Pittsburg; the "Purchase of Coal on the Heat Unit Basis," by Dwight T. Randall, engineer in charge of the fuel engineering department of Arthur T. Lille, Inc., Boston, Mass.; "Energy and Pressure Drop in Compound Steam Engines," by F. E. Cardullo, of the department of mechanical engineering of the New Hampshire College of Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts; and "A Pressure Recording Indicator for Punching Machinery," by Gardner C. Anthony, of the engineering school of Tufts college. There will also be a session on gas power, with papers to be announced.

The convention will open on Tuesday afternoon, May 30, with the registration and reunion of members at the headquarters in the Hotel Schenley, followed by an informal reception for members and guests on the evening of the same day. There will also be an opportunity on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons for inspection of the Foundry & Machine Exhibition company's exhibit, which will be in progress in the exhibition building. On Wednesday morning, the "Mechanical Engineering of Cement Manufacture" will be the subject of the first of the technical sessions, all of which will be held in Carnegie Institute, in close proximity to the society's headquarters. In the afternoon a trip to the works of the Universal Portland Cement company will be made, with a stop at East Pittsburg to allow those who desire to visit the plants of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing company and the Westinghouse Machine company.

The second technical session, at which the papers on machine shop practice will be presented, is scheduled for the evening of the same day.

The professional session of Thursday morning will deal with miscellaneous topics and will be as brief as possible, in order to leave ample time for an excursion up the Monongahela river, including a visit to the National Tube company's works at McKeesport. A reception and informal dance will take place in the evening at the convention headquarters.

The concluding professional session, when steel works practice will be the subject for consideration, will take place on Friday morning. An inspection trip to the Mesta Machine company's works at Homestead, Pa., is planned for the afternoon of Friday, and the convention will close that evening with a smoker and entertainment given by the Engineers' Society of Western Pennsylvania at their rooms in the Oliver building. A ladies' committee, Mrs. Chester B. Albree, chairman, will care for the pleasure of the guests of the society, and will as is usual at these conventions, do much to add to the social features of the occasion.

EIGHT PERSONS BURNED TO DEATH

Easton, Pa., May 1.—So far as it is possible to ascertain in this city and at the scene of the accident, eight persons were burned to death, three fatally injured, two others so seriously injured that their lives are despaired of, and scores of persons were cut, burned and bruised, some of them dangerously, in the wreck of the teachers' special from Utica, N. Y., to Washington, D. C., on the Belvidere-Delaware division of the Pennsylvania railroad at Martins Creek, N. J., Saturday afternoon. The line was reopened for traffic yesterday. Bones of eight persons have been taken from the debris and the wrecking crew has quit work.

The missing, who long ago were given up as dead, are:

Miss Bessie Walker, Utica, teacher; Miss Susan Sessions, Utica, friend of the teachers; Mrs. Mary Allen, Utica; Miss Sophie Knolt, Utica, teacher; Miss Louise Lindeman, Utica, teacher; Miss Sarah Jones, Utica, teacher; Harry Wilmer, Trenton, N. J., baggage master of the train, James Bicknell, Philadelphia, tourist agent for the Pennsylvania railroad; Miss Eleanor Rutherford, a principal of a Utica school, died in the Easton hospital Saturday night, as did also Walter Vancy of Trenton, N. J., engineer of the ill-fated train, and Charles Person, conductor, of Stroudsburg, Va.

Miss Augusta Lyte of Utica is in a critical condition in the hospital suffering from general burns and shock, and George W. Parsons of Lambertville, fireman, is so severely burned that neither is expected to survive.

Local officials of the railroad are uncommunicative as to the cause of the accident. General Manager F. L. Sheppard of the Pennsylvania railroad was at the wreck yesterday, but refused to make a statement. He hurried back to Jersey City. Other high officials have been at the scene.

It is the general belief that the rails spread and caused the train to leave the track and plunge over the embankment to destruction. Trackmen had been at work at the point of the disaster and it is alleged that the tracks were jacked up, that no signal was out and that the engineer, believing he had a clear track, rushed into what proved to be a death trap at the rate of fifty miles an hour.

MUST RESIGN OR BE DISMISSED

Governor Eberhart Demands Action in Regard to Supt. Whittier.

St. Paul, Minn., May 1.—Governor Eberhart yesterday wrote a letter to the state board of control putting the resignation or dismissal of F. A. Whittier, superintendent of the Red Wing training school, squarely up to the board. Decision of the alternative is left to the board.

The letter was written after a conference lasting all yesterday morning between Governor Eberhart, Supt. Whittier and Judge Wilson of Red Wing, Mr. Whittier's attorney.

Mr. Whittier pleaded earnestly to be allowed to retain his position. He said he was willing to follow any suggestion made by the board of control as to methods of discipline to be used, even if that involves the entire abolition of corporal punishment. The board of control, he said, had made regulations practically doing away with corporal punishment.

Before the legislative investigating committee he had said it was impossible to run a school of that kind without flogging. That statement was one of the grounds on which the committee demanded his dismissal.

Governor Eberhart urged Mr. Whittier to resign. Mr. Whittier would not agree to this. He did not absolutely refuse to do so, but said he wanted time to consider the matter. It is probable that he will communicate with the members of the board of control or wait until he receives a communication from them before making up his mind.

"DRY" IN CLEVELAND ALTHOUGH IT RAINED.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 1.—Although it rained most of the time, Cleveland yesterday experienced its first "dry" Sunday in ten years, as a result of Mayor Baehr's order that all saloon and pool rooms must remain closed hereafter on Sundays.

The road houses, outside of the city limits, were crowded during the afternoon and evening. A few saloons in the city attempted to keep open, but the owners were promptly arrested. About a dozen saloon keepers were booked on the police blotters.

NEW POET IN CONGRESS.

Kent of California Concludes 'Roast' on Tariff With a Poem.

Washington, May 1.—The house of representatives can boast of another humorist in the person of Congressman Kent of California. During a dignified debate on the "farmers' free list" bill, Mr. Kent opened with an amusing "roast" on the tariff laws in general, as his maiden effort, and ended with the following poem, which threw the house into an uproar:

"He makes it clear to me
That what I lose I gain, you see;
And on such things as clothes and shoes
I seem to gain, but really lose.
Thus, if I buy my socks too low,
They'll still be higher—he says so—
And shoes I thought were high last fall
Were really low shoes after all.
If I pay less for shoes,
Or hats, the maker has to lose;
And if he loses, then, you see,
He charges up the loss to me.
Now when I have to pay him more
He reckons profits to his store,
And Duncan finds a share for me
In all this prosperity.
The speeches shed a radiant light
Upon the theme and make it bright;
I merely read them o'er and o'er
To find more's less and less is more,
In buying hat, or coat or vest.
Dear's cheap and cheap is dear at best
Hight's low, low's high,
Far's near, near's far,
White's black, black's white—
And there you are."

SIX MORE NEEDED.

Twenty-Nine States Have Ratified Proposed Income Tax Amendment.

New York, May 1.—Twenty-nine states, according to reports received here, have ratified the proposed income tax amendment to the federal Constitution. Before the amendment can become a law, it must be approved by six more states, making the total number in favor 35, or three fourths of the whole 46. Arkansas and Tennessee were the only states that ratified during April. Thus far the proposal has been approved by both legislative houses in the following states: Alabama, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Georgia, Idaho, Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Kentucky, Kansas, Maryland, Maine, Michigan, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oregon, Oklahoma, South Dakota, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Washington.

The amendment is pending before the legislatures of nine states still in session. These are: Connecticut, committee reported adversely, no action by either house; Delaware, no action; Florida, passed the house, pending in the senate; Massachusetts, passed the house, no action in the senate; New York, passed the senate, pending in the house; Pennsylvania, committee reported favorably, no action yet by either house; Rhode Island, defeated in 1910, no action this year; Virginia, passed the senate, defeated in the house; Wisconsin, passed the house, pending in the senate.

Seven state legislatures have adjourned so far this year refusing to ratify the amendment in one or both branches. These were: Louisiana, Minnesota, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Utah, West Virginia and Wyoming.

The Vermont legislature defeated the amendment in 1910 and does not meet again until 1912.

IRON AND STEEL.

Unexpected Increase in Orders During Past Few Days.

New York, May 1.—The steel mills reported a sudden and unexpected increase in orders for railroad equipment and supplies received in the last two or three days, making the total for last week nearly 70,000 tons and for the month of April 152,000 tons. Export business was less.

Railroad orders for locomotives and cars were larger, including ninety-five engines for the Southern railroad, but for the month of April the equipment showing was a poor one. Bridge orders were especially light.

Among the features of interest in the structural line, was the awarding of the steel contract, 8,000 tons for the Continental Fire Insurance building, New York city, to Milliken Brothers. Bids went in on 80,000 tons steel shapes for the elevated extensions, and plans for the Hell Gate bridge, now in the hands of fabricators, call for 35,000 tons. Building contracts placed during the week aggregated only 16,000 tons, but for the month of April they were over 90,000 tons.

Although the blast furnace output was cut down 5 per cent by the steel companies in a week, the decrease in finishing mill capacity was less.

The pig iron situation continued distressing to producers with the total volume of business in all distributive districts scarcely 50,000 tons.

It is not flavored or compounded with anything—not a "patent-medicine" food—not a "pre-digested" food—just plain, simple, wholesome, steam-cooked whole wheat, shredded and baked. It is better than mushy porridges because you have to chew it, thereby getting from it all its rich, body-building nutriment.

Try it for breakfast with milk or cream (hot milk in Winter). Being in biscuit form it is easy to prepare a nourishing meal with it in a few minutes in combination with fresh or stewed fruits. Always heat the biscuit in oven to restore crispness before serving. Two Biscuits with milk or cream and a little fruit make a complete nourishing meal. Your grocer sells it.

WOMAN'S REALM.

The Knights Templar high and floating white plume has passed and pink —the Helen Taft shade of pink—is here in its stead.

The pink fashion has struck Duluth. It started down East a few weeks ago. Miss Helen Taft appeared in a new shade of pink that soon became the rage and is now known as the Helen Taft shade. Then soon after "The Pink Lady," a musical comedy was moulded and pink became all the more popular.

Just recently the pink craze hit Duluth and since then the milliners, the florists, the women's clothing stores and the decorators have been busy supplying the demand. The prevailing and fashionable candy boxes are in pink; the plumes and facings on the hats are pink; and many girls are having their rooms done over this spring in—well, pink. No woman is fashionably dressed unless some where on her you can find pink. Usually the pink is very prominent.

Down East they are even trimming automobiles in pink. In Duluth most people are contenting themselves by adorning themselves in pink.

It is the prevailing fashion—the rage —and it will probably be forgotten with the coming of a new one.

Picturesque Play to be Given in May Fete at "U."

The pageant will be an elaborate affair and promises much in the way of artistic scenes. There will be large choruses of milk maids and foresters and these as well as the more important characters of the play lend themselves to attractive and picturesque costuming. The historical period represented in the play is one of strange customs, manners and dress and there are many forest scenes, which will be staged with picturesque scenery. There are seventeen men parts, two of which will be taken by the two Duluth boys mentioned.

THE EVENING STORY

THE WAITER'S WARNING

By J. Moore.

I stepped into the place out of pouring rain. It was one of those old world confectioners' shops with a restaurant in the rear of it. The ceilings of the restaurant were low, and the architecture extremely dull. A large cockatoo of vivid plumage surveyed the surroundings with a small expressionless eye.

Stuffed birds in glass cases adorned a gray marble mantle shelf. But the only really remarkable object in the room was a waiter. My eye fell on him at once. He stood at the large sideboard skilfully carving a sirloin of beef, and he was so exactly in keeping with the style of the room, that I sat back in my chair (I had achieved a small corner table) and stared at him. He might have stepped out of "David Copperfield," after demolishing the chops and ale.

I could not imagine in what out of date shop he could purchase such clothes as he wore. The other waiters in black dress clothes were in no way remarkable. This man interested me a good deal, and I hoped he would be my portion for the lunch I intended to take, and he was.

The restaurant was crammed to its creaking doors, so that the staff was run off its legs. The old fashioned waiter was the only member of the staff who didn't seem flurried.

He came quietly up to me, took my order, which was for lamb cutlets and peas (I had not meant to have lamb cutlets and peas, but he suggested it), and was silently back at my side placing the dishes long before I had expected him.

The other waiters tore past me with flushed faces and pagodas of plates. One or two glanced in my direction, but, seeing me well served, they looked relieved and raced on.

I added pancakes to my lamb chops —or, rather, the Curiosity who had me under his care added them; and at last I had finished and sat amply satisfied, for the fare was good; and, drumming my fingers, I waited for the bill.

The man was a little longer in bringing this than he had been in serving the meal; but at last I saw him sliding towards me with a piece of paper in his hands.

I noticed that as he was approaching, his eyes, extremely anxious in expression, were fixed on mine—a strand of his dark hair hung down over his high white forehead, and little beads of perspiration stricked the length of his long flat face. Something had obviously upset him. He gave me the impression of a greatly perturbed man on the eve of passing on some momentous tidings. What could possibly ail him? So expressive was his look that as he came up to me I almost said aloud, "For God's sake, what is it?"

He stood beside me, muttering to himself the items I had consumed, and scribbling them down with a pencil such as one's grandfather may have used in boyhood—a fat, clumsy pencil, with a kind of chintzy paper covering. At last he laid the slip of paper down beside my plate, and for an instant his pale finger with its not over clean nail rested on the account. The intuition which told me that this man was trying to communicate with me some secret intelligence spoke again louder than before.

There was some object in that pointing finger. What was it? Ah! it was carelessly drawing my attention to something. Words—words inscribed at the foot of the bill; words that had nothing to do with lamb chops and pancakes. They were scrawled hastily, and they ran as follows: "For the love of heaven, do not leave by the front door; go through the smoking room and down the alley."

No my merits are not considerable, but I do possess one, and it stood in good stead at that remarkable moment. I can keep my head in an emergency. So when I read this extraordinary message and more or less digested it, I paid my bill with great nonchalance, sat perfectly still and watched the preposterous figure slide quickly back to the buffet, and then I rose, thinking it well over, and lit a cigarette and began in a leisurely way to put on my coat. Gazing furtively about me, in a few minutes I discovered the smoke room door squashed away in a corner. The room was low ceilinged, antiquated and quite in keeping with the rest of the premises. I dropped on to a horse-hair lounge and consumed several cigarettes, while I steadily thrashed the mysterious matter out, and a heavy bronze clock of Georgian make ticked wheezily. I smoothed out the bill and reread the message. What did the whole thing mean? What unsuspected danger awaited me outside the front door, and in broad daylight? What had my amenable friend in the ancient clothes to do with this danger, that he should warn me in this unsuspected way? Was the restaurant run by a scoundrel who charged his threshold with electricity, and fell upon such strangers as looked prosperous and robbed them, under the pretext that they had fallen down in a fit? Was my old-fashioned waiter mad? A good servant, perhaps, with eccentric views on dress, who worked for nothing.

The more I pondered the more puzzling did the matter become. At one instant I had a strong impulse to walk back through the restaurant to the front door and find out for myself whereiln the danger lay. The next moment I felt certain there was no danger, except in the poor fellow's distracted brain.

Then in a flash the man's face rose before me. It was pale and terrified, but it was not the face of a man with delusions. No sane person behaves as this person had done without reason. There was no time to investigate matters, for I was obliged to catch the 4 o'clock train to Boston, and the minutes were racing on.

I would take his advice, and perhaps find out later the reason for it. So I got up and made my way into a narrowish passage which ran alongside the smoke room and ended in a sort of porch, which, as the waiter had explained, seemed to open on an alley. There were one or two doors on either side of the passage, and I judged that a small hotel stood behind the restaurant, and that these were private rooms.

As I passed the last door of the row and was about to leave the restaurant I distinctly heard a woman's voice cry out in a heart-rending tone:

"Oh, is there no gentleman in this horrible place? Oh! for the love of God, help! help!"

I stood stock still, and then, quick as lightning, I darted back.

I was on the alert, be it remembered, for untoward occurrences, and I had not the slightest doubt that this was the reason for my warning. Some one was in distress, and my waiter knew of it. It was not personal danger to myself which threatened, but some one else was in peril; and I had been, for want of a better man, perhaps, selected to help.

I rattled the handle. "Open the door!" I shouted.

Something came from within; it sounded like a curse, but no one obeyed me. Never doubting that I was on the track of the mystery, I did not hesitate for an instant, but setting my shoulder against the door, I broke it open with one well-directed effort.

A very pretty girl, ashen with fright, was struggling from the arms of a middle-aged man with a blotchy face, as dissipated a man as it had been my lot ever to see.

At the very unexpected sight of me he let her go and stood back, almost foaming with rage.

"By what right?" he began, speaking with thick, dry lips, and ornamenting the words with much foul language. But before he could get more out, the girl sprang towards me.

"Oh! let me go with you, whoever you are; you're kind, I know by your face that you're kind! Because I have persistently refused to marry this wretch, he trumped up a story about having met my mother on her way home from the city, and of her being taken ill at the station and obliged to stay at this hotel under his care. He did it all so well that, like a fool, I believed him; and when I came I found him alone, and he swore that I should not leave this room till I had promised to marry him. Oh! believe me, whoever you are, and take me away, and I will bless you with my last breath!"

The poor thing was almost in hysterics. She clutched my arm in a frenzy of dispair. Her eyes—great blue, beautiful eyes they were—pleaded as I have never seen eyes plead before or since.

Now, with the waiter's message full in my mind, there was but one conclusion to come to. The girl spoke the truth. Besides, the man was a cowardly worm. His trembling lips betrayed him. He had measured my inches, and was in a deadly funk behind the feeble swagger of his manner.

"My home is in New Brunswick," the girl begged. "Put me into a train for there, and I shall never be able to repay you; but for heaven's sake do not leave me."

I hesitated for a moment, thinking of my 4 o'clock train for Boston, then said:

"I will go to New Brunswick with you myself, and see that you get there safely."

Then I turned round on her tormentor.

"If I had a shred more of information than this poor over-wrought lady has given me," I said, "I'd thrash you within an inch of your sneaking life, whoever you may be. As it is, if you attempt to follow us to the station by so much as a step, I'll throw you under the train." So we went out together, the girl and I, and left him cusing and squirming in a corner.

We took a cabin to the station and by the time I had got her comfortably placed in the corner of a Pullman, a little bit of color was beginning to return to her cheeks. The little bit of color added so much to her appearance that I felt a one-dollar tip to my waiter friend would have been more than earned, and I had given him a paltry half dollar.

When she had told me her story in detail, the substance of which I knew already, and given me a vivid picture of the tactful plans which the villiain had taken to make his trumped up story of her mother's illness credible, I laid before her exactly how my own steps had been directed towards her, and told her the part the waiter had played in it.

"How very curious!" she said, extremely interested. "We sat in the restaurant for a few minutes when I arrived. He made me drink a glass of champagne. He said I should need all my nerve; oh, he was right, the brute. There were several waiters in the room, but I never noticed anything unusual about them. What possible interest could the man have in me? He must have guessed that I was a victim of some sort. Perhaps he knew that awful person. Oh, how I should like to thank him! But what a strange way of letting you know! It's very curious, isn't it?"

She looked at the bill which I produced and remarked on the old-fashioned writing.

"It's very curious," she repeated again.

It was. So curious that a week afterwards I found my way back to the self-same restaurant, determined on investigation.

The corner table was not there, and when I remarked on its absence, one of the waiters told me that it was an old one that had been brought down from an attic owing to the rush of customers.

There was no sign of my friend. I tipped the waiter and asked him many questions, but he was vague. "There had been," he said, "one or two queer parties employed in the restaurant, but no one to his knowledge in the least resembling the description I gave.

More puzzled than ever, I went to the length of interviewing the proprietor, whom I found to be a small, pleasant, acute man. All the information he could give me then was that the restaurant had belonged to a man of the name of Topper previous to his acquiring it. "But you may rely on me to get to the bottom of this—if I possibly can," he said, as I left him, and he pocketed the card I slipped into his hand.

It was a year later, and I was on my honeymoon—I will not insult the intelligence of the reader by asking him to guess who shared that delectable time with me—when I received a letter forwarded on to me from my rooms in town. It was from the pleasant proprietor of the old fashioned restaurant, and I am tempted to transribe the letter as it stands:

Dear Sir—With reference to a peculiar episode of which you were good enough to inform me, and which took place in my restaurant, I send you the following facts. I came upon them in a newspaper eight years old in the drawer of the table at which you apparently sat on the day of your experience. It seems that a leg broke off after you left, and we found it so decayed that we broke the table up for firewood. The facts are given in the newspaper as follows:

In 1830 a diabolical and carefully planned murder was averted here by an ingenious young waiter. He overheard a conversation between two well known gambling men, who had planned to seize and carry off a young bank clerk having bonds for a large sum upon him, as he left the restaurant on a Tuesday evening.

This waiter, not daring to speak, for the would-be assassins were sitting at the table next to their victim, evolved the clever method of writing a warning across the young clerk's bill, urging him to leave the building by a private door. The clerk escaped, but the waiter, no doubt suspected as to the part which he had played, was shot. This, sir, is all I can tell you, but I feel sure that you will agree with me that it is well worth telling. Probably it is more a matter for the Psychological Research society than for you and me. Your obedient servant,

Charles Ricketts.

I never have asked the Psychological Research society to interfere, partly because my wife cannot bear the mention of the place or episode—and partly because I have no wish to keep nervous people from eating their dinner in comfort there.

In my own mind, however, I doubt that the table at which I sat was the identical one which the ingenious waiter had been accustomed to serve—the very table at which the young bank clerk took his meal on the eventful night. The curious coincidence is that the ghost warning—if a ghost my old fashioned waiter was—should on that special night have been so urgently

The Helping Hand

By FRANCES WILEY.

There are many willing workers in the world who, with the best and kindest intentions, only serve to weaken where they would strengthen, because their efforts are misapplied. Take the case of an energetic woman married to the laggard husband, or man of weaker nature than herself, who is content to "let things slide" and believes in luck rather than work, shifts his responsibilities, and takes little or no interest in the upbringing of the children. The woman, in her endeavor to improve matters, will spend her strength and energies in trying to make up for the man's deficiencies, and probably only succeeds, by taking upon her shoulders the duties that should rightfully be his, in making him less and less inclined to bestir himself.

Different natures need different treatment, and it is obvious to those who study human nature that with many the best is only brought out by encouraging them to act for themselves. It will never be accomplished by acting for them. The prop given to the weak must be of the right kind.

The man or woman who finds it difficult to decide, who hesitates, and waits for the expression of another person's opinion before forming his or her own, needs a tonic environment, while just the thing necessary to the oreature of nerves and impulse is a soothing atmosphere.

Help is invaluable; but help must be discreetly given. Pearls are beautiful, but "cast not your pearls," etc. In helping persons of weak character let your endeavor be to aid them to help themselves rather than lean on others.

The Kitchen

Dutch Roll.

Ingredients—Half a pound of mince, half a teacupful of bread crumbs, half a teaspoonful of chopped parsley and a teaspoonful of ketchup, salt and pepper. Method—Put the mince, parsley and bread crumbs into a basin with salt and pepper to season; add to the water and ketchup to bind it. From into a roll with floured hands; place the roll in a roasting pan with a spoonful of dripping, and bake for 30 minutes, basting every seven minutes. When cooked lift on a hot dish. NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

MOODY GIVEN SHERIFF JOB

Judge Crawford Disposes of Contest Over Richland County, N. D., Position.

Sheriff Heley Starts to Appeal But Fails to Fight Case Further.

Dickinson, N. D., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge Crawford has decided that George M. Moody of Wahpeton is entitled to the office of sheriff of Richland county and issued an order to that effect. Several weeks ago when Sheriff Heley refused to turn over the office to his successor, Judge Crawford was called by Judge Allen to Wahpeton to try the case and he decided favorably to Moody.

Heley Plans to Appeal.

Heley announced he would appeal and the court ordered bonds put up to insure Moody $200 per month. EAST GRAND FORKS NOW HAS SALOONS

Nine Saloon Keepers Comply With New Regulations and Get Licenses.

East Grand Forks, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a special meeting of the city council nine saloon keepers, who were forced to keep their places of business closed for over two days, were granted liquor licenses. Immediately following this, the saloon keepers reopened their places, and now there are only seven saloons that are closed.

The nine saloon keepers who secured the licenses were able to furnish leases, complying in every respect to the ordinance recently passed by the city council. Seven of the places were Hamm brewery saloons and two Minneapolis brewery places. Sherlock, local agent for the Hamm Brewing company, returned from St. Paul Saturday armed with the necessary leases and they were later filed with ity Clerk Gorman. The Minneapolis Brewery company also filed per-er leases for their two saloons that had been closed up. Some of the leases run for a period of four years.

BAD NORTHOME FIRE.

One Store Burns and Whole Town Is Threatened.

Northome, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The village had a close call from being destroyed by fire Thursday which broke out in Jinkinson & Speelman's store, and when the department arrived the building was beyond salvation so they turned their attention to saving the adjoining property.

With two good streams of water playing on the bank building and J. J. Neary's place, the fire was kept from spreading, although it looked for a time as though the buildings across the street would catch fire, which meant the destruction of an entire block or probably the whole town.

J. J. Jinkinson, who has had charge of the store during Dr. Speelman's absence, estimated the lass at about $15,000, the building and everything in it being consumed by the flames. Mr. Jenkinson is unable to account for the origin of the blaze, claiming that he left no fire in the furnace when he locked up the evening before. Just how it started is a mystery.

The senior class song, composed by Miss Hubman, was sung, the school yells given vociferously, and "Good Night, Ladies," sung as the guests were leaving. There were sixty present, including the high school faculty. It was the prettiest party that the school has given in years.

FAVORABLE CROP OUTLOOK.

All Conditions Favor the Red Lake County Farmers.

Weather conditions for seeding could not have been better and most of the grain is in the ground. There are few farmers who have not finished seeding.

The excellent condition of the fields is not due entirely to the favorable weather, but the Red Lake county farmer is doing a better job than he used to. He plows better and drags more. The result of better farming methods will be better crops and an insurance to a certain extent against loss by drouth. ROCKFORD WINS FINAL

White Sox Lose Closing Game of Series By 4 to 1 Score.

Leber's Four-Base Hit Saves O'Brien Crew From Calcimine.

Rockford, Ill., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rockford defeated the White Sox here yesterday afternoon in the presence of 1,500 fans by the score of 4 to 1.

The lone score of the Duluth team came in the fourth inning when Leber, the fast third baseman for the Sox, who smote the ball over the left field fence. The hit was a beauty, being one of the longest ever made on the home grounds.

Higley, a port slinger, was on the mound for the visitors and was decidedly lacking in control. His wildness came at critical times in the game and at least two of the scores of the home team can be laid directly to the inability of Higley to locate the plate. Burke and Kench were on the mound for the Rockford team and the latter stopped what threatened to be a rally on the part of the Sox. Both of the Rockford boxmen performed well and succeeded in holding the Sox pretty safe.

Dan Leber and Miller played a nice game for the O'Brien crew. The work of Holstrom at first also came in for commendation. The Sox have played some good ball in the series here, and the fans believe that the O'Brien bunch is pretty strong for class D company. Score: R. H. E.

CUBS WIN EXCITING GAME FROM PIRATES.

Chicago, May 1.—Chicago defeated Pittsburg yesterday in an exciting batting bee, 6 to 4. The visitors took the lead with a base on balls, a double and a single in the first inning. Camnitz held the locals safe until the sixth when three doubles, a sacrifice, an error and a single made four runs. A single and a home run gave Chicago two more in the seventh, and Camnitz retired after Archer followed with a double. Pittsburg started a rally in the ninth, two doubles, a single and error giving them two runs. The excitment was so high that one of the spectators fainted and had to be carried from the grounds. WHITE SOX WILL BE HOME WEDNESDAY

Darby O'Brien and the White Sox brigade will arrive in this city Wednesday morning and that afternoon are scheduled to begin the series with the Superior Red Legs. The team is at Madison today and tomorrow.

During the series at home O'Brien will probably make the final decision on the makeup of his team for the season. He has several finds in the youngsters he signed before the start of the spring training season, and with the veterans on hand, the holdovers from last season he should have a fairly strong team, stating the matter in the conservative sense.

The fans will soon have the chance to see them in action and will then have an opportunity to judge for themselves, which will be better than the dope founded on hearsay reports.

ONE-SIDED CONTEST IS WON BY CLOQUET.

Cloquet, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Cloquet walked away with the opening ball game of the esason here yesterday, trouncing the Duluth Universals, 35 to 3, the game being called in the sixth innings to allow the visitors to catch their train. The contest was too one-sided to be interesting, but afforded the fans a chance to get a line on the local team, which promises to be the fastest ever put out by Cloquet. Score: R. H. E.

Pal Brown Issues Formal Challenge to 128-Pound Fighters.

Through The Duluth Herald Dr. Plapper, manager of the wonderful little Pal Brown, the sturdy fighter of Hibbing, issues a formal challenge to any 128 pound boy in the world, barring Champion Ad Wolgast.

With the virtual victory over Tommy Garry, one of the very best boys in the entire country, "Doc" Plapper and the hundreds of friends of the remarkable range boy, are of the opinion that there is no 128-pound fighter in the country today who can take the measure of Brown either in a limited or finish encounter.

Plapper is also firmly of the opinion that Brown will decisively beat Garry, should the boys be matched for a longer fight. There is talk of this at the present time, and the fight will very probably be an interesting event of the near future.

During the present month, if the plans made some time ago are carried out, Brown will meet Frankie White of Calcago before one of the Winnipeg fight clubs. In the event of a victory this name will be heralded over the country as one of the coming fighters in the lightweight division.

Though but 19 years of age the Hibbing fighter has arrived, in the opinion of his friends and more important still, this opinion is shared in by Manager Plapper, a shrewd and observing judge of fighters.

This is the reason for the formal challenge to any boy, barring Champion Wlogast, who will make 128 ringside, and this challenge goes for Owen Moran, one of the greatest fighters in the world, or Freddy Welsh, until recently the holder of the English lightweight championship.

There is a rumor that Battling Nelson is seeking a battle with the tough youngster. It is very doubtful if Nelson could or would ever think of making 128 pounds. A victory over Nelson would sound the name of Brown clear around the world, and Plapper is willing to allow the Battling Dane, to come in at 133 pounds, in order to get a match.

Brown, according to the program laid out for him, is going after the best boys in his class, and Pal can easily make 128 pounds. His friends are confident that within a very short time he will be acclaimed champion of the world.

Philadelphia, May 1.—The East won two and the West one of the three blue ribbon events at the University of Pennsylvania's annual carnival of relay races and field sports on Franklin field here Saturday afternoon. Chicago university captured the classic one-mile college relay championship of America from a fine field of Eastern quarter-mile runners, while Pennsylvania took the two-mile national relay championship and was beaten in the stretch for the four-mile relay American championship by Cornell.

Individual honors were won by Notre Dame university, the capable performers of the Western institution winning three of the six field events. Pennsylvania won the high jump through the good performance of Burdick, the Eastern intercollegiate champion.

Chisholm, the Eastern intercollegiate champion, won the 120-yard hurdle event of Yale. Kraenzlein, Eastern intercollegiate champion in putting the shot, won that event for Michigan, and Tilley of Dartmouth was the winner in the hammer throw.

Martin of Notre Dame won the 100-yard dash; Wasson of Notre Dame, the Western intercollegiate champion, took the broad jump, and Philbrook of the same institution, and the Western intercollegiate champion in throwing the discus, won that event.

Gardner of Yale, Murphy of Illinois and Dukes of Cornell tied in the pole vault for first place at 12 feet 3 inches, a good performance. On the toss-off, Gardner won first prize.

The freshman one-mile relay championship of America was captured by Dartmouth, whose opponents were Pennsylvania and Columbia.

The national one-mile relay championship for preparatory schools was won by Exeter academy and the one-mile national relay championship for high schools went to Boston English high school after a hard race. The Boston school was compelled to break the American high school record to win.

The most exciting race of the day was the four-mile relay championship between Cornell and Pennsylvania, the only starters. Pennsylvania led all the way until the last mile, when Jones of Cornell passed Paull of Pennsylvania, the college record holder for a mile. An eighth of a mile from the finish Jones, who was just behind Paull, shot in front and won by about 20 yards. The time for the four miles was 17 min. 55 sec, breaking the American record held by the Irish-American A. C. The time by miles of this race was 4:31 3-5, 9:01, 13:32 1-3, 17:33.

Michigan was second, Cornell third and Pennsylvania fourth. The time by quarters was 50 4-5, 1:41 4-5, 2:32 2-5, 3:21 4-5.

All the other relay races were run in excellent time. The day was perfect for the sport, and nearly 20,000 persons saw the forty-two events on the program.

ADAMS BEATEN BY COLUMBIAS

Yesterday at Athletic park the Adams baseball team was defeated by the fast Columbias, it requiring ten innings to decide a close and exciting game. Columbias, 3; Adams, 2.

Graham and Murphy occupied the hurling hill for the Adams, both pitchers doing good work. Macosky did the slab work for the Columbias and his shoots and benders proved a puzzle to the West end boys.

Both teams did good work in the field, and for the opening game of the season the contest was a rather remarkable exhibition and showed both teams up in a strong light.

SPORTING NOTES

Jess Tannehill, in spite of his brief, bad showing with Cincinnati, says he is still good enough for any Class A company and that he will show them yet.

Wallace, shortstop for San Antonio in the Texas league, is some sticker for an infielder. Two honors off Houston pitchers was his portion in one game recently.

Stony McGlynn continues to pitch good ball. It is said that this Indian—McGlynn is a Cherokee or Chicasaw—is about 42 years old, taking up base ball late in life, but he certainly lasts well.

Howell Cann, the crack southpaw pitcher of St. Mary's college in California, will not join Hal Chase's New York Highlanders, as reported. Cann intends to remain at St. Mary's college for another year.

Ralph Pond, the college speed boy, who promised to make a sensation with the Boston Red Sox, but didn't and was released to Sacramento, says he doesn't like the West and would like to play with Brockton, Mass.

Dr. Andy Coakley, the former major league pitcher, who was recently reinstated is coaching the Williams college base ball squad. Coakley says he will stick to the game and play independent ball in the future.

George E. Wagner, former third baseman of the Western Reds, a Chicago semi-pro club, and formerly with Burlington, Central association, and other minor league teams, has signed with the Saskatoon team of the Western Canada league.

Manage Kittridge of the Saginaw, Mich., team is giving a try-out to a youngster named Fryder, who is only 17 years old. He is a left-handed pitcher and last year, then but 16 years old, pitched some fine ball in New York state semi-pro ranks.

Frank Bowerman, for many years Christy Mathewson's battery partner, with the New York Giants, was married at Romeo, Mich., recently, to Miss Kate A. McCreedy of Mount Clemens. Bowerman has retired from base ball for keeps and will settle down to farm life.

At a meeting of the Northern Indiana State Baseball league the six cities which organized the league last season, Wabash, Logansport, Bluffton, Marion, Huntington and Lafayette, reentered the circuit. The first game will be played May 25, and the last September 10.

Lajoie must go out for some new marks this year. Records already held by Larry are as follows: In 1908 he accepted 988 chances at second base, the greatest number of chances ever handled by a major league second-sacker in one season. In 1904 Larry cracked out 50 two-base hits, a high-water mark for doubles in the majors. In 1903 Larry made 43 three-base hits, the greatest number of triples ever made by any major league batter in one season. To top this off, in 1905 Larry had a fielding average of .991, the best ever made by a major leaguer at the second sack.

Another Italian has broken into the game. He is Tony Citrano, an amateur of Baltimore, who gets a trial with the Orioles. Dunn's success with Fritz Maisel, who comes from the Baltimore amateur ranks, has convinced him there is some material on the lots of the Maryland city worth looking after.

Fred Merkle, the Giants' first baseman, made a batting record in Newark in an exhibition game Sunday, April 16. In the second inning Merkle hit the ball on a line, it striking the left field fence a few inches below the top. The fence is 400 feet from the home plate. Veterans who witnessed the game say it is one of the longest drives on record.

The revival of the Washington State Baseball league seems assured, according to the situation as it now stands. The whole matter hinged on Centralia fans coming in with a team, and word received from there practically makes it certain that city will be in the game. There will be four teams, as follows: Chehalils, Centralia, Raymond and South Bend.

The Pittsburg club was the first to engage a regular trainer and now it sets the pace by having two men, as Barclay believes that twelve players are more than one can handle. The new trainer, George T. Asten, was raised by Wagner, and is a resident of Carnegie. He was taken South as an experiment and proved so successful that Clarke engaged him to remain with the club.

Manager Riggs of the Fort Smith Western association team has filed a protest with Secretary Farrell of the national board of arbitration against the Oklahoma City team of the Texas league. Riggs claims Third Baseman George Yohe is now playing with Oklahoma City. He says Yohe accepted his terms and was on his way to Fort Smith when Oklahoma City induced him to join that club. Yohe formerly was with the Washington team.

SPLIT WIDENS BETWEEN MICHIGAN AND CONFERENCE

Ann Arbor, Mich., May 1.—Hope of a possible reconciliation within a year or two between Michigan and the Western conference virtually vanished recently when Athletic Director Bartelme made public an attempt that had been made by the Wolverine authorities more than a year ago to be granted a hearing on the training table proposition.

At that time Prof. Patterson, then chairman of the Michigan board of control, wrote to Prof. Page of Minnesota, who had promised to take the matter up with the conference and secure, if possible, a hearing of Michigan's version of the training table proposition. Whether the conference even discussed the matter never was disclosed to the Wolverine authorities, but that the action if any was taken, was adverse, was taken for granted from the fact that no reply ever was received to the communication.

Possibly if Director Bartelme had been less anxious at that time to save Michigan's face by keeping silent regarding the concessions that Michigan was willing to make, the Wolverine authorities would have come in for less adverse criticism during the past eighteen months, for it has been felt by many that Michigan's sole excuse for failing to return to the conference was the unwillingness to sacrifice pride by asking for a hearing.

Has Been Chief Argument.

That argument is the one most frequently advanced in the past by advocates of Michigan's apparent anti-conference attitude, and, weakling that it is, has been the target for many a shot.

Now comes, however, that it is apparent that Michigan really did make advances which were spurned by the conference, there would seem to be little that Michigan can do except to maintain her present athletic policy. The criticism that has been directed toward the present policy, from this direction at least, has been due to the belief that the Michigan authorities—and particularly those who were partly instrumental in bringing about the breach originally—were allowing petty pride to stand in the way of the really important interest of Western college athletics; but if Michigan has tendered concessions, which have been refused without even the courtesy of a hearing, it is evident that the possibility of a reconciliation, if there ever was any, is past.

Accordingly Michigan will continue to follow out her present athletic policy, in the hope that in the course of time a new generation will be in charge of Western college athletics, and the bitterness now keeping Michigan and her old rivals apart will have been eradicated.

Looks for Change.

Athletic Director Bartelme is confident that eventually the new men who gradually work into the governing body of the conference will recognize the justice and fairness of Michigan's position and will be willing to meet the Wolverines half way in any attempt to get together.

The Michigan athletic director is not one of the radicals who thinks that the days of the Western conference are numbered. On the contrary, he thinks it one of the most impregnable athletic unions ever formed. But he does think that prejudice in some cases, and innocent ignorance of some of the existing conditions in other instances, are at present effectively blocking any attempts to effect a reconciliation; and his hope is that the new generation which is coming on will eventually will be unhampered by those influences.

With the conference question apparently definitely settled, temporarily, at least, Athletic Director Bartelme has planned some gradual but important changes in the Michigan policy, chief among which is the effort to elevate baseball to the plane it occupied when Michigan was a member of the conference.

COMMENTS AND OPINIONS ON THE SPORTING PARADE

Pal Brown in Line for Best in Business—Some News From the Orator—The Battle Cry of Freedom—Commercial League Prosperity.

(BY BRUCE.)

DR. McNULTY of this city is a very shrewd observer of fighters. He has been the third man in the ring during some contests in which the best men of the country have been engaged. He is a man who thinks before he speaks, and for that reason his opinion is worth a great deal.

After returning from the Garry-Brown contest "Doc" gave the writer his opinion on the Hibbing battle, and also gave forth some interesting sidelights on the chances that Brown would have, in his opinion, with any of the leading boys of the lightweight class.

"Believe me when I say that Garry fought to save himself during the last five rounds of the Hibbing encounter," said the genial doctor. "I have entertained a high opinion of Brown since the night I saw him beat Eddie Greenwald, and since the result of the Garry-Brown fight I am bold enough to come out with the prediction that there is no 128-pound boy in the world who can beat the little Hibbingite.

"The Oklahoma fought Brown every way he knew. His manager sat in Eddie's corner and advised him in the different ways of ring craft. The Milwaukee boy went out at the beginning of every round with some new plan of attack, and Brown met him every time and beat him at his own game.

"Now comes Tommy Garry, one of the very best boys in the country and tries everything he knows on this comparatively green boy. He hasn't a thing on Brown, which gives me the opinion that Pal has a right to fight any 128-pound man in the world, Wolgast or Moran not barred if they will come to the ringside at that weight and will at least get an even break in the milling.

"Brown is getting better all the time. He is a great deal more clever than most people imagine. He has a certain style all of his own, and he is one of the hardest boys in the business to hit an effective blow. Garry has one of cleverest left hands in the business, and he could not mark the Hibbing boy up.

"I think Pal has earned the right to go out and fight the best in the ring. He has done everything they have asked him, and it seems that the big chance of the boy is ahead of him. I would like to see him fight one of the top notchers. He is awfully tough, is game and has wonderful endurance and a kick that would far a heavyweight. He has everything and will get even better than he is at the present time. He is ripe for the best boys in the country."

Some Words From the Able Orator.

IN A letter to this column, Darby Patrick Henry O'Brien, lover of freedom and base hits, writes that the prospects are so far of the pleasant brand at least. In this day and generation baseball pilots are getting fairly wise. For that reason, perhaps, the leader of the Sox has not claimed the pennant or stated that he will have the best team that this city has ever had.

"The boys look very good at this time," says Darby. "You know the team was going fairly well at the close of last season. Hitters were the stumbling block of the team. Leber, Miller and Holstrom should hit well up the leaders. If Menelce plays with the Sox he should hold his own with the sluggers in the Minny. I have some more hitters on the team that I believe will be heard from during the season. I have tried to assemble a hitting team, for a heavy hitting bunch will win a lot of games, no matter if the pitchers are not going well, while it takes luck and the best kind of pitching to win with a weak lot of stickers.

"I expect Shaub with us shortly after we get to Duluth. I will have a good bunch of ball players to open the season. In this matter, conditions will be very much different from last year. I hope to get off to a good start, and believe at this time that the team will hold its head up in the race and will give every team in the circuit more than it is looking for.

"I am not trying t ooverstate the case when I say that I think the Sox will be up in the race from the start, and that Duluth will be represented by a team the present season that all the fans will have good cause to be proud of."

Shouting the Battle Cry of Freedom

FROM various sources there has been wafted to the ears of the man on the alert the news of the discontent of some of the players of the Minny league. Their disarm is content in some cases is as clearly defined as that of a colored gent gazing from barred windows on a beckoning field of luscious ripe watermelons.

The cause, Bill, is that the salaries are being cut the present season. Since the dictum went out from the office of President Force that the managers would have to abide by the salary limit rule, there are many players on the eight teams of the circuit who have felt the salary slice. You have heard the declaration of Black and Demmer and McGraw and other players that they will not play the present season, and the reason is the cut in salary.

Coming down to cases, it might be stated that if the league is going to be a success the teams therein will have to conform to the salary limit, and the sooner this fact finds lodging place in the managerial minds, just that much sooner will the league prosper.

This state was early realized by Frank Force and his statement that the teams of the league will have to keep faith with the shecked regulation, is one that will cause a lessening of at least one of the burdens of the past.

Success For the Commercial League

THE present season promises to be the most successful in the history of the Commercial league. Last season the league was one of the strongest organizations in this part of the state, and with some of the biggest and best of the commercial organizations placing teams in the field, and, moreover, lending their moral support to the success of the teams, baseball promises to be placed upon even a more substantial basis than at any period in the past.

Some of the fastest players in the city were enrolled in the Commercial league last season. Most of the players are young fellows who play the game purely for the sport, and for that reason the status of sportsmanship in the Commercial league has always been very high. The kind of sport that the officers of the league have stood for in the past should be encouraged, and it is to be hoped that the next meeting of the organization will show a sturdy spirit of co-operation

Critics declare that the Cleveland baseball team will never be a success as long as Napoleon Lajole is on it. It is declared that the other members place too much dependence on the big Frenchman. There are seven other teams in the American and eight teams in the National league who would like to experiment with Nap for a while at least.

Rovers Defeat Crescents.

The Rovers easily defeated the Crescents, by 10 to 5 yesterday. The Rovers want games with any team in the city not over 18 years of age. The manager can be reached at Grand 1591-Y. The lineup for the Rovers follows: Huttel, catcher; Dudelt, pitcher; Berg, first base; Kolsted, second base; Bowden, third base; Elder, shortstop; Bjorge, left field; Currie, center field; Brown, right field.

Fitwells Easy Winners.

Yesterday the Fitwells defeated the Oak Halls by the decisive and one-sided score of 24 to 3. The losing team used five pitchers in an effort to keep the heavy hitting Fitwells from scoring in clusters, but all to no avail. From the way the Fitwells started yesterday it looks as if the team will be very strong the present season.

JUDGE DANCER TAKES HIS OATH OF OFFICE AND BEGINS WORK

It is "Judge" H. A. Dancer now.

He took his oath of office this morning at the courthouse, Clerk of Court J. P. Johnson administering the oath.

Judge Dancer was recently appointed as the fifth judge for this district after the legislature had granted the petition of local attorneys by passing a law creating the new judgeship.

He was formerly of the law firm of Baldwin, Baldwin & Dancer, but has severed his connection with the firm and his duties will begin tomorrow when he will go to Two Harbors to hear his first case. The case will occupy several days' time. Tuesday he will go to Virginia to help out Judge Hughes and in a few days he will be back to do his share of the work connected with the May term of court in Duluth.

All the courtrooms on the fourth floor of the local courthouse will now be in use. As the May term is heavy, all four courtrooms will be busy a greater part of the time for the next six weeks. After that time the work will begin to drop off, for it is then that the attorneys take their vacations.

The May term is the last term of the summer. The next term comes in September. The term will begin Wednesday with the call of the calendar by Judge Ensign, the presiding judge at this ter mof court. This will be followed by the session of the May grand jury and the thirty-three divorce cases that are on for hearing. The criminal calendar is very heavy and it is expected that the grand jury will be in session at least three days.

JUDGE H. A. DANCER.

A. S. Ames, C. E. De Witt and Guy Warren. M. F. Jamar and Dr. W. A. Coventry are a committee which will arrange for the program.

Stole Express Parcel.

James Graney, arrested Saturday afternoon on a charge of stealing an express package at the Omaha depot, entered a plea of guilty in police court this morning. A plea of not guilty was entered against Thomas O'Leary, who was arrested at the same time. The police say that O'Leary was on watch outside while Graney went in after the parcel. Several similar thefts had been reported from the same place, and Officer Monahan was sent to watch the express room, catching Graney red-handed. O'Leary will be tried this afternoon, at which time the court will also make a disposition of Graney's case.

OCCUPYING FRONT SEATS ALONG THE BORDER LINE

Arizona Residents All Out to See Fighting, Says A. L. Warner.

A. L. Warner, mining man and manager for Piper, Johnson & Case, returned Saturday from Cananea, Mex. He was on a train that left Douglas during the first day's battle between the insurrectos under the leadership of "Red" Lopez and the Mexican troops, which resulted in a victory for the insurgents and later a victory for the regulars when reinforcements came to their aid. From the train he could see the fighting.

Mr. Warner said that on the day he left Douglas it seemed to him that nearly every person in Arizona who could get to the international border was occupying a front seat along the boundary line. Women with babies, men and women of all ages and descriptions, some on foot and others in automobiles, were lined up along the border watching the fight. Many automobiles were pierced by bullets. Houses on the far side of Douglas were penetrated by the flying missles.

The people looked on the fight as a joke until the second day, when the Mexican regulars approached the town and began to fire toward it. Several people on the American side were killed.

Mr. Warner did not see John C. Greenway, formerly of Duluth and Coleraine, now general manager of the Calumet & Arizona, as Mr. Warner did not stop at Douglas. Mr. Warner said he would not have seen Greenway, however, as John C. was in his automobile on the sidelines watching the fight.

When he came away, said Mr. Warner, communication with the Greene Cananea mines had been resumed. Only a few properties in Cananea were working, as it is difficult to get and keep laborers and only a few mines have dynamite.

Mr. Warner visited the Calumet & Sonora property, where the outlook is excellent, he said. The shaft has been put down 510 feet and for the last 150 feet it has been in high grade ore. Drifting is in progress on the 450 and 400 levels. The mill was closed down a short time ago, but it will be started again in about three weeks.

TETRAZZINI RECORD IN VICTOR'S MAY LIST.

Tetrazzini has sung four new records for the Victor phonograph since the completion of her tour of the United States, which began Christmas even in San Francisco, and ended recently with a big concert in New York city. Her records are always popular and the new ones are up to the former standard. They are for sale among the new May records.

Other records which are heading the new list are some made by the Imperial Russian Balalaika Court orchestra, which has just toured the country. The balalaika, originally a primitive peasant's instrument with a tone similar to that of mandolin, is at present the most famous instrument in Russia, and this popularity is due to the conductor of this orchestra, Vassili Vassilievitch Andreeff. He has developed and improved the balalaika into a novel orchestra of great range, with instruments varying in size from that of a mandolin to a small-sized double bass.

The technical skill and precision of the twenty-five gifted players of this organization are simply astonishing, while the effect of the whole orchestra is a soft and rich velvety music.

Sousa's band has played two new marches, "The Federal March" and the "Glory of the Yankee Navy." "The Red Men," the first part of Mr. Sousa's new suite, which he has entitled "The Dwellers in the Western World," has also been played for the Victor records.

There are other delightful instrumental and vocal records which are new as well as many of the old favorites sung by new voices.

WILL CALL FOR PAVING BIDS

Specifications for Grand Avenue Job Are Being Prepared.

Specifications for the paving of Grand avenue are now being prepared in the office of the city engineer and it is expected that they will be in shape, so that within the next few days, the board of public works can call for bids on the work.

The street will probably be made about four feet wider. The telephone poles have been moved back from the curb line about four feet. The street will be paved between Fifty-fourth and Fifty-ninth avenues.

Prior to the paving proper, all of the necessary preliminary street improvements will be put in. This includes a storm sewer as well as water and gas mains. The street car company last year laid a conduit in which the feed wires for the system are carried.

Most of the property owners have paid the first assessment. The remainder will be paid after the work has been finished. The storm sewer job and the street intersection paving will be paid for by the city.

Grand avenue was paved twenty years ago with cedar blocks. This pavement long ago outlived its usefulness and in many places the blocks have washed away during storms and the holes have been refilled with gravel.

SANITARIUM FOR INDIANS

Bill to Be Introduced Authorizing the Chippewas to Construct One.

Washington, May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Representative Miller is preparing a bill which he will introduce this week authorizing the Chippewa Indians to expend $100,000 of their trust fund to construct a tuberculosis sanitarium on Leach lake.

There are said to be 13,000 Indians of this tribe who may if afflicted become patients in this proposed sanitarium. It will also be the first institution of the kind to be constructed by Indians out of their own money to fight the ravages of the great white plague. The proposed sanitarium will be modeled after the state sanitarium at Walker. These two institutions will be located a few miles apart, but the proposed location of the Indian sanitarium is said to be superior in that it will be in the big white pine region and the only big white pine tract now existing.

MR. FRED STAMPFLE.

Says Bake Oven Treatment Is the Best Treatment for All People Who Suffer Pain.

Taking him three hours to walk from Fifth avenue west and Superior street to the Bake Oven institute, a distance of two blocks and a half, with his limbs inflamed, swollen, and suffering the most excruiating pain with every move, Mr. Fred Stampfle, after being carried from the street up to the Bake Oven institute, took his first treatment in the famous Bake Oven and was a surprised and pleased man to find that he could walk to his hotel with the greatest possible relief, without assistance, and in quick time. It is needless to say that the change brought about in Mr. Stampfle's case is nothing short of marvelous.

Some postofice employes who watched him crossing the courthouse lawn, which took him about two hours, wondered if he was going to the Bake Ovens and whether they coulde relieve him or not. They inquired and were greatly surprised to learn that he got instant relief.

Read what Mr. Stampfle has to say:

"I feel like a new man to what I did a few days ago. I suffered as much as anybody could and live. I have improved right from the first treatment and do not use the crutches any more at all. I'm free from pain, but will keep the treatment up till Loughney & Loughney feel satisfied that I am cured. I am stopping at the Scandinavian hotel, on Lake avenue.

MAY WHEAT IS STRONGER

Cash Article Passing Into Strong Hands—Deliveries Large.

July Wheat Relatively Weak—Crop Prospects Good—Cables Up.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 1.—Wheat advanced here today, the market not sharing the closing weakness, entirely, that affected the other markets. May closed ⅝c up, July was unchanged and cash wheat ½c over July. Durum wheat gained ⅛c for May. Oats gained ⅝c. Rye was unchanged and barley was not quoted.

Linseed was weaker. May lost 1c and July was unchanged. September gained 1½c, closing quotations being $2.53 bid, $2.55 and $2.04 bid, respectively. Cash linseed was on a parity with July.

At the close Winnipeg wired that only 6,000 bushels of wheat were delivered through the clearing house there, although some wheat was exchanged for May. Deliveries of linseed amounted to 176,000 bu.

The big longs in May wheat took deliveries today with the intention of relying on their ability to merchandise the property and reduce losses by scalping profits out of the short interest and speculative operators. The financial strength of the May wheat owners and their tendency to use it in the open market to scalp present losses to a minimum have been extremely potent and sometimes demoralizing to the over-crowded short interest.

Among the leading longs are the Northwestern millers. With even an ordinary wheat milling demand it would seem an easy matter to start a buying movement in futures but the milling trade is confronting a situation that seems dubious from the standpoint of the bull operator. However the leading Northwestern millers seem to be getting control of cash wheat and hope to recoup their losses on flour by merchandizing the cash wheat at a future date. Leading spring wheat millers have over-bought both cash and future wheat and prefer to work for the distrrangement of the trade of winter wheat millers and to take losses on their flour rather than to demoralize values in the wheat market.

Evidence of this is seen in the passing of cash wheat into strong and centralized hands. Deliveries of wheat here amount to about 1,725,000 bu of which 1,000,000 was taken from the clearing house at the close of last week and the cash wheat delivered to the leading Northwestern milling interest. Of the wheat delivered today, a portion of the 1,000,000 referred to, 100,000 bu comprised spring wheat and 625,000 bu were durum wheat. Deliveries in linseed amounted to 61,000 bu. Actual deliveries of wheat today amounted to about 725,000 bu, a total of 1,725,000 bu. Exporters and shippers took most of the durum wheat.

Millers took delivery of 250,000 bu in the New York market. Deliveries of wheat at Minneapolis amounted to about 1,000,000 bu. About 2,500,000 bu were delivered at Chicago although the weather was not favorable for receipts. The wheat at Minneapolis and Chicago passed into strong hands. At Minneapolis leading spring wheat mills took the bulk of the wheat and Armour was the most conspicuous receiver at Chicago.

The strength of the market was reflected by the disclosures of delivery day. Further strength was derived from the prediction of freezing weather tonight in Kansas and Nebraska, where the winter wheat is approaching its most critical stage. The favorable widespread rains in the Central states Sunday had no influence. The world's movement of wheat continued to shrink, wheat on passage last week being 54,928,000 bu compared with 56,656,000 bu in the previous week, a decrease of 1,728,000 bu. The visible supply of wheat decreased in the United States, but the shrinkage was seasonable, 1,712,000 bu.

Cables were higher with France bidding for cargoes on passage.

Reports to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat from the Oklahoma agricultural board were not favorable, the abandoned acreage in Oklahoma being larger than expected, if the reports can be accepted as accurate. The influence of the reports were minimized by Snow's statement that the states of Kansas and Oklahoma promise 90,000,000 bu of wheat, according to the most pessimistic report yet issued, or 10,000,000 bu more than last year. He thinks the yield of the two states will be much greater.

The Flour Situation.

The improvement in the flour situation noted a week ago is not unsatisfactory. Buyers appear to have lost interest again and very little new business has been booked by millers in the last few days. There is more trading in winter grades than in spring wheat grades but in all instances the demand is strictly of a hand-to-mouth character and is confined to such small lots as buyers are in need of. All classes of traders are following a conservative course, refusing to stock up, no matter how attractive the proposition put before them may be.

Advices from milling centers are less favorable than a week ago, the amount of flour sold being considerably less than the amount produced. There is, however, quite a little pressure to sell, this feature being most noticeably among millers in the Northwest than among millers in the winter wheat region.

The improvement in shipping instructions is maintained. It still requires considerable urging, however, to induce buyers to order out flour which they do not need even though the contracts may have called for delivery some time ago. Strong measures are being taken to clean up old contracts and this accounts for the heavy offerings of Kansas and spring wheat flour, supplies that were booked ahead at prices below those quoted by the mills for similar goods. Traders are willing to take a loss in order to get these supplies out of the way.

On the other hand there are many distributors who still repudiate their contracts and who refuse to accept the flour involved on any terms. Evidence of this is shown by the suits of the Northwestern Millers' league against 60 customers of mills in the Southwest for repudiating contracts for flour made in August, September and October last year. Each suit, it is said, represents from 10,000 to 15,000 barrels.

The continued firmness of the price of millfeeds, which have been holding up remarkably well, is an argument for the justification of the prevailing cost of flour, which distributors of the latter completely ignore. It is pointed out that were it not for the strong feed situation prices of flour would have to be from 10 to 20 cents a barrel higher to correspond with the full advance in wheat prices since April 1.

The Wheat Market.

There seems to be no fear of materially higher prices for wheat and flour so long as crop prospects continue as brilliant as at present. It has been many years since the outlook has been as uniformly promising. Under these circumstances it may be difficult to bring about an advance even though conditions have been pretty well discounted and the market is in a condition to respond actively to any unfavorable developments.

The winter wheat crop will soon be passing through the most critical stage of its growth and accidents, real and imaginary, may be expected. There is, therefore, an element of uncertainty in the future tendency of the wheat market that calls for caution, but indications are that little better than spasmodic activity in flour trading can be expected in the event of crop damage reports. A buying movement based on the immediate necessities of distributors is all that is anticipated during the next few months, or until the situation is relieved of the many burdensome features that now tend to restrict trading.

Flour prices show a great amount of irregularity. A few brands of spring patent are quoted at $5.50 a barrel or higher, including one for which $5.65 was asked Saturday. Lower prices, however, would be accepted, and plenty of good flour is offered at $5.25 to $5.40. Buyers are indifferent and several submit standing offers of $5 and say that they will not buy until the market reaches that level.

There is little change from a week ago in the prices quoted by millers of soft winter wheat. Good pastry flour can be bought within the range of $3.90 to $4.10 and small lots are selling. Offerings from Michigan and New York state mills at around $4 are amply sufficient to meet the demands. Fancy $4.20 is quoted, however, in some instances. Ohio and Indiana mills are asking $4.40 to $4.50 a barrel for absolute straights. No further sales of winter wheat patent at $4.70 are reported by correspondents to The Herald but the price is still quoted for choice Pennsylvania flour and the lowest price quoted by any mill is $4.30.

Corn, last week, 1,893,000 bu; previous week, 1,841,000 bu; last year, 1,576,000 bu. Later there was pronounced covering by shorts in May and this month advanced an additional ½d with July firmly supported and October ¼d lower than the opening. Notwithstanding the liberal shipments to the Continent, France was bidding for cargoes on passage and although these were fairly liberal they were firmly held. During the morning the market was firmly held for the near months, while the far month was under pressure of increasing Indian offers for distant shipment. At 1:30 p. m. the market was firm and unchanged to ½d higher than Saturday. The corn market was quiet and unchanged. Danubian shipments were larger, but these were offset by a steadier demand for spot.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Unexpected Decrease in Liverpool Stocks Gives Wheat Bullish Tone.

Chicago, May 1.—An unexpected decrease in stocks at Liverpool tended to put wheat speculators into a bullish mood today. Besides the monthly deliveries here, although large, went to strong hands. In consequence, selling pressure was not heavy, and the market responded to the influence of the Oklahoma official crop status was interpreted as decidedly against the bears. Some of the biggest wheat counties of the state were shown to have an abandoned acreage of 100 per cent or nearly so. Opening prices were ⅝@¾c higher to ⅛c off. July started at 88c to ⅛c, unchanged to ⅛c up, and rose to 88⅛@88⅜c.

Stop-loss buying occasioned a further advance. Visible supply decreases gave aid, but the effect wore off. The close was steady with July at 88c, exactly the same as Saturday night.

Wet weather strengthened corn. July opened ⅛@⅛c to ¼@⅜c dearer at 52⅜c to 52⅛c, and advanced to 52¾c.

Lightness of country sales led to an additional rise. The close was firm at 52⅝c for July, a gain of ⅛@⅜c over the latest figures Saturday.

Fair buying on the part of commission houses lifted oats. Offerings were only moderate. Early started with ⅛@⅜c gain at 32c, touched 32@32⅛c and reacted to 31⅞@32c.

Big receipts of hogs discouraged the bulls in the provision pit. First sales were 5c to 15c down, with July delivery $14.80 for pork, $7.95 to $8.00 for lard and $7.95 for ribs.

ADVANCES IN STOCKS

Early Tone Easy But Market Turns Active and Higher.

Absence of Supreme Court Decisions Has Strong Bullish Effect.

New York, May 1.—The market showed some hesitation at the opening today. A number of good sized gains were made, but mostly in the specialties. Western Maryland and Reading second preferred gained 1½, Canadian Pacific 1¼ and General Electric and Southern Railway preferred ¾. New York Central, Louisville & Nashville and St. Paul lost ½.

The tone became easier and Reading, Union Pacific, United States Steel and other prominent stocks sold fractionally below last week's close. Meanwhile a number of inactive issues were rising briskly, and at 11 o'clock the whole list was advancing again with United States Steel in large demand. Canadian Pacific sold at 234¾, another record figure, and two points above Saturday's close. Reading second preferred improved 3½, Western Maryland 3, and Colorado & Southern 2 points.

The market lost a little during the firm tone which characterized it with the close of last week. The amount of trading was small and the tone was hesitating. Fluctuations were kept withtin narrow limits, however, by the demand which appeared wherever prices yielded moderately. Much of the hesitation was attributed to the fact that this is supreme court day for handing down decisions, and that there was the usual uncertainty as to whether findings in the anti-trust cases would be announced.

Aside from the further demonstration of strength in the Canadian group, and the buoyancy of several minor issues, there was little interest in general trading. American Can Oil showed some weakness in anticipation of possible unfavorable dividend action at the directors' meeting tomorrow. Bonds were steady with the New York 4¼'s establishing another record price, obtained on payment of additional consideration, is stricken out of the answer.

Prices were bid up sharply and the trading became active when it was announced that no decisions would be made today by the United States supreme court. Union Pacific spurted to 176 on a few transactions and United States Steel went to 76½. Numerous other stocks went up a point or more, including Reading, Northern Pacific, Lehigh Valley, Chesapeake & Ohio and Baltimore & Ohio. The rapidity of the advance caused some later realizing and the list went off a fraction.

Special stocks were lifted substantially in the latter half of the day but the list generally did not vary much. Canadian Pacific went up to 236½, making its gain since Saturday 4 points. Reading was heavily bought and touched 156, and the second preferred reaching par on talk of possible favorable conversion privileges for the stock. Denver & Rio Grande dropped 1⅜ and the preferred 3⅝ points. There were rumors of the dividend on the preferred stock being either passed or reduced.

The market closed active and strong. Realizing sales were absorbed without any appreciable effect on prices and as the session drew to an end there was a more widespread demand for stocks. Some of the earlier laggards moved up materially. All the recognized leaders were in eager demand and there was a large inquiry also for various other issues in which pool operations have hitherto been conspicuous. Reading and Lehigh Valley showed improvements of 2 points and United States Steel and Union Pacific 1½.

DECISION IN ROGERS CASE

The statute of limitations cannot be sustained as a defense, and the allegation of the transfer of property to a bona fide purchases is merely a confusing element injected into the case, are the principal points decided by Judge C. F. Amidon in ruling on motions and demurrers brought on for argument before him in United States court last week in the case of Mary T. Rogers against Wilson G. Crosby, John N. McClintock and Edward M. Barnes.

The demurrer to the defense of the statute of limitations is overruled, however, and the plaintiff is given an opportunity to plead the facts which she claims constitute an escape from the operation of the state of limitations pleaded by the defendants.

The motions and demurrers argued were merely technical matters based on the pleadings. They were demurrers against certain of the defenses set forth in the answer, a motion to make the allegations of the answer as to certain other defenses more definite and certain and a motion to srike out certain matters from the answer as irrelevant and immaterial.

In making observations on the case, Judge Amidon says that assuming that a transfer of property were obtained by fraudulent means, two remedies are open to the plaintiff for the return of the property and the other suing for damages. The transfer of the property in question to a bona fide purchaser removes the first remedy and the plaintiff is compelled to sue for the other. The injection of the alleged wrong in the transfer of the property before the plaintiff could learn of the fraudulent representations, he said, is mer

SENATE COMMITTEE TO HOLD HEARINGS UPON RECIPROCITY

Will Not Report Bill for Action Before May 13.

House Continues Discussion of the Free List Measure.

Annexation Proposition Renewed During the Debate.

Washington, May 2.—The senate committee on finance today decided to devote the time between now and Saturday, May 13, to hearings on the Canadian reciprocity bill. Immediately after that date it is expected that the bill will be reported to the senate.

Although when the senate adjourned yesterday it was to meet again Thursday, the senate end of the capitol today was a place of activity. A half dozen committees thrashed out accumulated business, principal among them being the finance committee, which has begun consideration of the Canadian reciprocity measure already passed by the house.

The house, in an effort to expedite the passage of the free list bill, met again today at 11 o'clock. Chairman Underwood of the ways and means committee said today that he hoped to get a vote on the measure Thursday. There is a disposition to question his ability to force action by that time, for a number of members stil desire to speak.

Stone For Reciprocity.

THREE ROADS TO RELINQUISH COAL

Will Not Await Further Litigation on Commodities Law.

New York, May 2.—As a consequence of the decision of the supreme court of the United States on April 3 in the Lehigh Valley railroad test cases under the commodities clause of the Hepburn rate law, the Tribune says today that the Lehigh Valley, the Delaware & Hudson company and the New York, Ontario & Western Railroad company are planning to divest themselves of their ownership of coal properties, without waiting for the outcome of the further proceedings which the government has intimated may be brought.

HOPE TO HURRY McNAMARA CASE

Attorney for Labor Organization Arrives in Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 2.—With the arrival here from Indianapolis of Leo M. Rappaport, attorney for the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, the cases of John J. McNamara, secretary of that organization, and his brother, James B. McNamara, charged with murder by dynamiting, were expected to reach court with little delay.

Rappaport, who is scheduled to have at least temporary charge of the defense, today held an informal conference with Job Harriman of Los Angeles, who will assist him.

Formal court procedure may be delayed until the end of the present week. By that time it is believed some definite pronouncement will have been made as to whether the defense favors an application for a change of venue.

Andrew J. Gallagher, the San Francisco union labor leader, said today that there would be ample funds for the defense of the McNamaras. He declared that union men of San Francisco had come to him voluntarily and offered money.

FINAL ARGUMENT FOR JUDGE COWAN

Tracy Bangs Devotes Nearly Whole Address to Delayed Cases.

Bismarck, N. D., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Tracy R. Bangs, the leading counsel for the defense, held the attention of the impeachment court today in making the final argument for the accused, Judge John F. Cowan, of the Second district.

In these arguments the greatest interest affecting the close of the now famous case has been attained. Practically the entire attention of Mr. Bangs was given over to the subject of delayed cases, and he took each of them up in turn, declaring that evidence had disclosed negligence upon the part of the attorneys interested and that was responsible for the delay in the decisions by the court.

New York City Chamberlain Is Indicted and Arraigned.

Bribery Charge Said to Be Sustained By Check Records.

New York, May 2.—Charles Hiram Hyde, the city chamberlain, appeared in court this afternoon and pleaded not guilty to an indictment charging bribery. The offense charged is punishable by imprisonment for not more than ten years, or a fine of not more than $5,000 or both. Bail was set for $7,500 and given. Samuel Untermeyer, the chamberlain's counsel, asked for an early trial, which District Attorney Whitman promised.

The grand jury which has been investigating the affairs of the suspended Carnegie Trust company found the indictment late yesterday. Great

WOULD DEPORT WHOLE FAMILY

Second Hand Dealer in New York Is Under Suspicion.

Washington, May 2.—Collector Loeb, who is in Washington for a conference with Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh, said today that he had asked the department of commerce and labor to decide if David R. Jacobs, a second-hand dealer, in New York, his wife, Kate, and their daughter, Bessie, can be deported as undesirable aliens.

Mrs. Jacobs and the girl on Sunday were taken from a liner and searched, for what purpose the customs officials decline to say. It is intimated that they were on the lookout for loot of English thieves. Jacobs has never become a citizen here.

As the customs officials have no evidence with which to accuse the Jacobs family of crime, their case is now in the hands of Commissioner Williams at Ellis Island.

IOWA FRUIT NOT HURT.

Frost Is Not Believed to Have Injured It.

Des Moines, Iowa, May 2.—Reports to Dr. George M. Chappel of the Iowa crop bureau indicate that very little damage resulted to Iowa fruit last night because of the frost and cool temperature. The average minimum temperature of seventeen cities reporting today for the corn and wheat bulletin was 31.3, which was not sufficiently low to do serious damage, in the opinion of Dr. Chappel.

FEAR FRUIT IS DAMAGED.

Growers in the Southwest Are Worried Over Frost.

Kansas City, Mo., May 2.—Frost in some sections of Missouri, Kansas, Northern Oklahoma and Arkansas last night is believed to have damaged fruit to a small extent.

In Kansas the mercury registered below the freezing point practically throughout the entire state. In Southern Missouri, in the Ozark mountains, clouds protected many sections. At Springfield, Mo., the lowest temperature was 33 deg. above zero. In other districts of the Ozarks in Missouri and Northern Arkansas there was freezing temperatures. In the fruit regions of these states growers last night lighted smudgepots.

PEACE PLAN IS NO BLUFF

Madero Asked to Extend Armistice Zone—Ojinaja Siege Raised.

WARN AMERICANS.

Nogales, Ariz., May 2.—High officials of the Southern Pacific railroad lines in Mexico, arriving here today from the Mexican interior say they had received notice from the rebels advising all Americans to remove their families into the United States. The rebels are quoted as having said that if there were no peace agreement by Thursday night of this week they would attack all Mexican border towns. Many American families are leaving Mexico daily.

El Paso, Tex., May 2.—"If Judge Carabajal does not bring with him full credentials from President Diaz, it will be due to an oversight, and we will get them by telegraph without delay," is the statement made today by one of the go-betweens here in connection with the peace negotiations, and has reference to a foreboding that formal negotiations might be further delayed by the absence of documentary authority for Judge Carabajal to act.

The tardiness of Judge Carabajal in reaching this city, it is explained, was due to a misunderstanding as to the place of meeting. It is hoped he will arrive here tonight.

Coincident with the arrival in the Madero camp of advices from insurrecto leaders telling of rebel activity in various places in the state of Coahuila, particularly near Monterey, appeals have been received by Francisco I. Madero, Jr., from citizens of Monterey for an extension of the armistice zone to that region. General Madero said he would await specific information from his subordinates as to the position of their forces before making any decision. His advices read: "Railway at Gomez Palacio, Colonias, Lerdo and San Pedro in the hands of revolutionists. Hard fighting is in progress at Barras, starting last Thursday. One thousand rebels are

THREE MEN AND TWO BOYS DIE

Edmunston, N. B., May 2.—Three men and two boys were drowned in the St. John river near here today. They were crossing from the American to the Canadian bank of the river in a ferry scow operated by a wire cable. The cable broke and the scow was upset in the freshet-swollen waters.

MEN TAKEN INTO SHOPS

Strikers Say Pennsylvania Road Is Building Bunks in Plant.

Union Men Are Made Special Officers to Guard Property.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 2.—Seven men, dressed like workingmen, and carrying tools, arrived in Pitcairn on the New York express today and entered the Pennsylvania railroad shops, where the men are on strike, evidently intending to take the places of some of the strikers. Later on thirty men, who the shopmen believe were detectives, arrived from Pittsburg and went to the idle shops. The strikers assert that bunks are being built, and a restaurant is being established in the company's buildings.

Railroad officials stated today that no repair work will be sent to other divisions, so there will be no occasion for the trouble spreading.

Strikers are Deputized.

The shopmen last night induced the borough council to appoint thirty strikers as special officers, and these men are guarding the company's property. The strikers say they took this action to forestall any demand for state troops that might be made.

Members of the Conemaugh branch of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and Engineers, at a meeting at Johnstown last night, adopted a resolution sympathizing with the strikers and declaring their intention to refuse to work with any men hired to take the strikers' places.

Members of the same organization employed on the Pittsburg division are holding a meeting in Pitcairn today.

THREE FLYERS FALL TO EARTH

German May Not Live and Russian Brothers Are Killed.

Muelhausen, Germany, May 2.—Roser of the German army, who recently obtained an aviation license, fell with his aeroplane from a height of 150 feet today, and was seriously injured that there is no hope of his recovery. His machine was smashed to pieces.

Sebastopol, May 2.—The military aviator Matievitch and his brother, were killed yesterday while making an aeroplane flight.

KITTREDGE NO WORSE AND HAS GAINED NONE.

Hot Springs, Ark., May 2.—No marked change was noted today in the condition of Former United States Senator A. B. Kittredge of South Dakota, who is critically ill here. His physicians said today he is holding his own, but that he shows no decided improvement.

FOREIGNERS UNHARMED IN CHINESE CITY

Reassuring Reports From Canton Are Received at Hongkong.

Anti-Manchu Movement Is Spreading North and East.

Mutilated Bodies of Rebels Lie Exposed in City Streets.

Hongkong, China, May 2.—Today's advices from Canton, where the revolutionary movement originated, indicate that foreigners have escaped harm.

The foreign residential section occupies Shamien, an artifical island at the north of Canton. A canal separates the island from the city proper. Gunboats are anchored in the canal and guns are mounted on the canal bank commanding the approaches to the island.

On Sunday evening the revolutionists attempted to cross to Shamien with the purpose of capturing the police station there. They were repulsed by loyal troops.

Bandits, led by the brigand chief Luk, burned four government residences at Fatshan when they attacked and looted the town.

Reports from the west river districts are meager, as the rebels destroyed telegraphic communication at many points. It appears, however, that Wu Sum, the leader of the anti-Manchu forces, is working to the westward

HISTORIC MUSEUM AT WASHINGTON

Louisville, Ky., May 2.—Col. George A. Armes, United States army, retired, at today's session of the National Congress of the Sons of the American Revolution, introduced a resolution providing for the erection at Washington of a great memorial hall in which historical relics may be preserved. Definite action on Col. Armes' plan will be taken before the congress closes, it is said.

Col. Armes' resolution provides for a building to cost not less than $2,000,000, and to contain rooms not only for the preservation and exhibition of relics, but also a large hall in which conventions and other gatherings might be held.

After the business session this morning the remainder of the day was given over to a crowded social program.

OUTLAW OF CAMERON DAM IS PUT ON TRIAL WITH WIFE AND SON

All Three Charged With Murder of Deputy Sheriff.

Bondsmen Revoke Sureties and Dietz Is in Custody.

Prisoner Wants No Lawyer and Discusses Legal Rights of Judge.

Hayward, Wis., May 2.—John F. Dietz, his wife, and son, Leslie Dietz, were placed on trial here today before Judge Alexander H. Reid in the circuit court. They are jointly charged with the murder of Oscar Harp, a deputy sheriff, who was one of a posse which besieged the Dietz cabin at Cameron Dam in the Thornapple river, last October, and who was found dead after the smoke of battle had cleared away.

At that time John Dietz was wanted on a warrant charging assault with intent to kill a man with whom he had had a fight in Winter, Wis. Dietz shot the man but did not kill him. There were also several other warrants out for John Dietz, and for a number of years he had defied the officers and boasted that no one could safely attempt to serve a warrant on him.

Had Row Over Dam.

The trouble with the officers grew out of a dispute he had with the Chippewa Falls Boom & Lumber company which built a dam in the Thornapple river near the Dietz home, the flood waters of which, Dietz claimed, damaged his land. He could not get what he claimed was a satisfactory settlement out of the lumber company, so he destroyed the dam and held up a large cut of logs for a year or more. The company was obliged to haul the logs off with teams.

When court opened, the Illinois Surety company of Milwaukee and the indemnitors who reinsured Dietz's $40,000 bond, announced to the court that they declined longer to be responsible for Dietz, and the latter was given into the custody of Cheriff Fred Clark.

Fear Untoward Act.

R. H. Mahon of Milwaukee, representing the sureties, said that the action was taken to protect the surety company and the indemnitors against some untoward move on the part of John Dietz.

When John Dietz was informed of the intention of the sureties and indemnitors, just before court opened, he remarked: "I suppose it's up to them to do it."

NO IMMUNITY FOR OHIO MEN

Advises Against Legislative Action—Corporation Men Witnesses.

Columbus, Ohio, May 2.—The Franklin county grand jury met today to consider wholesale charges of bribery involving, it is said, forty members of the Ohio legislature. The matter was taken before the grand jury instead of a legislative committee, on the advice of Governor Harmon, in order to prevent any convicted member from escaping punishment through the immunity bath.

Officers of organizations interested in legislation have been summoned to tell what they know of efforts to hold them up by members. They include officers of the State Board of Commerce, the Anti-Saloon league, the Personal Liberty league and heads of large corporations.

Among other concerns whose officers will testify is the Cleveland Underground Railroad company of which A. B. Dupont, Thomas P. Schmidt and W. R. Hopkins are officers. Hopkins has represented the company here in working for the passage of the Cleveland railway bill.

The investigation is being made by the Franklin county grand jury under the direction of Prosecuting Attorney Edward Turner, assisted by Attorney General Hogan.

Vining Gets Mad.

At a conference between Speaker Vining of the house and the detectives, the speaker was told by the detectives that Representative Nye had told them that Vining could be bought for $1,000. The speaker became furious at the story.

"I am inclined to the belief," said the speaker, "after the interview, that I have been made a tool of. If that is true I want to find it out. Above all, I want a full and complete investigation of this whole matter."

HOFFSTOT NEED NOT BE WITNESS

Millionaire Wins First Bout in Pittsburg Graft Cases.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 2.—Frank N. Hoffstot, millionaire banker and car manufacturer, under indictment in the councilmanic graft cases, has won his first bout with the commonwealth. Judges John D. Shafer, Robert S. Frazer and John C. Haymaker, in criminal court, today decided that Hoffstot need not appear before the grand jury at this time and tell what he knows, if anything, regarding alleged graft. The district attorney was particularly anxious to secure Mr. Hoffstot's testimony.

CARRIER PIGEON STOPS TO LAY EGG ON DRESSER.

Waukesha, Wis., May 2.—A carrier pigeon wearing a small aluminum band stamped "U. S. 75,053" last night flew into the room of Daniel W. Kaufman of Chicago, who is stopping at a hotel here. Mr. Kaufman found the bird perched on the dresser, where it had laid an egg.

Mr. Kaufman says the bird seemed to be fatigued. After feeding the pigeon and caring for it tenderly over night, Mr. Kaufman released the bird today. Flying in a circle several times, the pigeon started in a southerly direction. Mr. Kaufman is of the opinion that the pigeon is the property of the government.

APPALACHIAN FUND HELD UP

Oversight Makes $3,000,000 Unavailable for Forest Reserve Plan.

Washington, May 2.—President Taft learned today that through an oversight several million dollars, appropriated in the Appalachian forest reserve law, will not be available unless congress takes further action.

The Appalachian measure became law late in the last session of congress. It carried an appropriation of $17,000,000, of which $1,000,000 was available in 1910, and $2,000,000 before June 30, 1911. Nineteen hundred and ten was only a memory when the bill became law, so the first million was lost, according to a decision of the comptroller of the treasury. The commission authorized to expend the money does not believe necessary surveys can be completed in time to purchase any of the lands desired before June 30.

A reappropriation by congress probably will be needed.

WANTS TILDEN WRIT QUASHED

Attorney Frost Argues in the Illinois Circuit Court.

Chicago, May 2.—Attorney E. Allen Frost, appearing for the Helm investigating committee of the Illinois senate, today argued before Judge Petit in the circuit court for quashing the writ of habeas corpus obtained last week by Edward Tilden, George W. Benedict and W. C. Cummings, who had been arrested on charges of contempt of the state senate.

Mr. Frost announced before starting his argument that he expected it would take him several hours. Attorney John J. Healy expected to follow Mr. Frost, so that a decision was not considered likely today.

The morning session of the hearing was occupied by the concluding argument of Attorney N. C. Sears, for the defendants, until within a half hour of the time for the noon recess.

FIREBUG IS BUSY AGAIN

Incendiary Fire Discovered in Long Bridge Near New Duluth.

Believed to Be Work of Man Who Terrorized Suburb Last Fall.

The New Duluth fire bug is at work again.

It was brought to the attention of the authorities today that a fire, which broke out on the long bridge over a ravine, one mile north of New Duluth, early yesterday morning, was an incendiary one. The New Duluth firemen and police say that there is no doubt as to this point.

The fire was discovered at an opportune time and the department at New Duluth made a quick run to the blaze. It had not gained much headway, and it was put out with a few buckets of water. One support, however, has burned away and it is though that if it had not rained Saturday, the bridge would have been destroyed despite the efforts of the fire brigade.

Charles Pierson of the New Duluth fire department today stated that the damage was about $50. The blaze, he said, had been set in the "stringers" about five feet above the ground on the north end of the structure. The blaze did not do enough damage to tie up traffic on the bridge. It will be repaired at once.

The bridge spans the widest and deepest ravine between New Duluth and the city and had it burned down, it would have seriously handicapped team traffic, as there are no other team bridges which cross this ravine. The structure is a block long and clears the creek bed by sixty feet.

The incendiary fires at New Duluth last year stirred up the suburbanites and resulted in the putting on of additional equipment. The fire fighters are still handicapped by the lack of water mains.

METHODISTS MAKE RULINGS

Winona, Minn., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The time of the Methodist Episcopal college of bishops was given over this morning to hearing reports from the committee on law and administration.

The first report related to the authority of the annual conferences and of the board of conference claimants under the provisions of the discipline incorporated by the last general conference at Baltimore. It was held that a member of a conference as a conference claimant is entitled to his claim for all the years of his service in a Methodist conference, although that service might have been interrupted by his being out of the conference for a time.

It was also agreed that although two pastoral charges may be served by the same pastor, it does not deprive them of their separate right to representation in the conferences that elect delegates to the general conference. This ruling maintains the integrity of weak charges that are unable to support a pastor alone.

While the meeting is scheduled to close today, press of business may make it necessary to continue until tomorrow.

CAPT. RAY T. LEWIS IN THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Washington, May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Capt. Ray T. Lewis of Duluth arrived in Washington this morning, having completed an extensive sea and river trip. Capt. Lewis spent the winter in Cuba and sailed from Havana to New Orleans, intending to come to Washington by rail. Arriving at New Orleans, however, he learned that a steamer, the Queen City, was about to leave for Pittsburg, and at once booked passage. Capt. Lewis said today that the trip up the Mississippi and up the Ohio was the most enjoyable one of his life, and a steamboat voyage he had long desired to take. Capt. Lewis came over to Washington by rail last night from Pittsbug and said today he will remain in Washington several weeks.

In 1870 he located at Tekamah, Neb., and engaged in the practice of law. In 1872 he, with W. E. White, started the Burtonian, one of the first newspapers in Northeast Nebraska. Lighting Talks

NUMBER 5 DULUTH, MAY 2, 1911

When we say that the Duluth-Edison Electric Company is in the Electric Light and Power business here TO STAY, and to build up a PERMANENT business by providing the BEST SERVICE that can possibly be given, we are prepared to prove that we mean just that. We don't want any lurking doubt about it.

From its very begnning this company has always been more interested in the upbuilding of Duluth, in the permanent welfare of this city, than in the securing of immediate profit—the mere making of money.

This is not philanthropy, but sound business policy; for the prosperity of any Electric Lighting company is dependent on the healthy development of the community it serves. Growth is the law of all life.

From its very beginning this company has built on that broad foundation principle. All the equipment put into our plant and distribution system has been absolutely up-to-date, and the best that could be bought. Why? Because we are BUILDING FOR THE FUTURE—for permanent service.

From time to time this company has built costly extensions into new sections, in many cases long years before there could possibly be enough business for us in those sections to pay us for going to them. Why? Because we are BUILDING FOR THE FUTURE—for the benefit of the whole city.

By reason of the peculiar shape and arrangement of Duluth, stretching out as it does in very long, but very thin lines of settlement, the cost of building and maintaining an Electric Lighting system here is far greater than in the ordinary city which is thickly built up around a common center. And it should be remembered that the Electric Lighting business is always fraught with greater risks than any other "public utility" enterprise.

It took long years of toil and struggle to build up this business, and for years it paid no return at all on our investment of money, time and labor.

Now that it has begun to pay a low rate of interest on simply the money investment necessary to carry it on, do YOU think there is any reason, or common-sense, or RIGHT in expecting us to abandon this business?

You KNOW better than that.

Read our next "Lighting Talk," in next Thursday's Herald.

BUILDING INSPECTOR SAYS DULUTH ARMORY IS FIRE-TRAP

"In case of a fire at the Armory, or even an alarm of fire, the stairway leading to the street would be strewn with dead bodies," declared Building Inspector S. M. Kielley, at the council meeting last night.

"The building is not properly equipped with exits and fire escapes. A ten-foot stairway should be constructed in the front of the building leading from the main floor to First street and additional exists should be built in the rear."

The building inspector also declared that, in his opinion, part of the brick on the west side of the building would crumble into dust in his hand if it were to be removed. He said that he had examined part of it last winter when icicles formed on that side of the building.

His startling statements were made when a resolution was introduced calling for the appropriation of $1,000 to make needed changes in the building. He informed the council a week ago last Monday that the building equipment did not comply with the provisions of the building ordinance. After the aldermen had heard his statement of facts the resolution authorizing the board of public works to advertise for bids for the work, passed without a dissenting vote.

Some Strange States.

There are three states in the union, Kansas, North Carolina and Idaho, in which there are no women dentists. Yet in Kansas there are 500 women bank officials and one woman judge of probate. History does not record whether in Kansas there are any women judges of good beer, but golden grain belt beers are making friends every where, and Kansas is no exception. WHARTON FOR OBSERVANCE

Says Everybody Should Contribute to Fund for Fireworks Display.

"Duluth ought to have a general Fourth of July celebration in some central place," said Alderman James A. Wharton this morning in discussing the plan of the mayor to raise a fund by general subscription for this purpose.

Alderman Wharton was the father of the ordinance which was passed a year ago which decreed that Duluth should have a "safe and sane" Fourth. He went into the matter in considerable detail and presented the city dads with a long list of statistics showing the number of accidents and fatalities which have resulted from the "insane" commemoration of the nation's birthday. Acting largely upon his recommendation the ordinance was passed, and as a result the "kids" can no longer take chances with their fingers and lives.

For the reason that the sale and use of fireworks of all kinds are strictly prohibited Alderman Wharton declares that there should be a big celebration under the direction of the municipal authorities.

"The independence day spirit should not be allowed to die," he said. "The children are entitled to have a celebration. Since the ordinance has been passed it will be impossible for them to have any fireworks at their homes, and a substitute should be provided. I am heartily in favor of the movement to raise funds for this purpose, which has been started by Mayor Cullum and was glad to see last evening that The Herald would receive subscriptions and acknowledge them through its columns. A campaign of this kind should have the hearty support of the newspapers.

"Everybody in the city should be willing to contribute towards this fund. Of course the large amounts of those who can afford it would not be overlooked, but a considerable part of the money should come from the average citizens, all of whom remember and want to keep fresh the 'spirit of '76.' The Fourth of July marks the most important step which this country ever took. In the past we have recalled the day in the good, old fashioned way, but it became so dangerous with the invention of higher explosives that it was found necessary to prohibit their use. We all like the noise and have appreciated its significence. I'd like to see it continued, but under the proper supervision."

MARINE

COAL FORMS BULK OF LAKE FREIGHT

Ore Movement Opening Slowly and Grain Goes in Package Freighters.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The steamer Filbert, with coal for Duluth, has received special permission from Capt. Scott of the revenue cutter in charge of the river rules, to pass up the West Neebish channel on account of her deep draft, it being feared that she would ground if she attempted to come through Encampment cut.

She was loaded last fall to accommodate the draft of the river at that time and will have to lighter when she reaches here in order to pass the lock.

LUMBER BOAT IS CAPSIZED

Crew of Schooner Kate Howard Rescued By Steamer Bessemer.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 2.—Battling against the mercy of the waves of Lake Michigan with land in sight, but no help near and tossed about for hours by heavy seas and finally forced to give up when the schooner capsized—such was the experience of the crew of the schooner Kate Howard. The vessel turned turtle when off Port Washington late yesterday. The crew was rescued by the steamer Bessemer and brought to Milwaukee.

The craft was manned by Capt. Handher and three others—E. Peterson, Alfred Bjorkland and Forrest Angwell, all of Marinette. The vessel was lumber-laden and bound for Kenosha.

PITTSBURG FLEET IN SERVICE

Last of Steel Corporation's Steamers Will Sail By Thursday.

All the steamers of the Pittsburg Steamship company will be in commission by Thursday. Ten steamers of the fleet were started from the lower lakes Friday, and all but two of the boats took coal. The steamers W. E. Corey and Alex. McDougall sailed light from South Chicago for Two Harbors to load ore. The steamers Black, Zenith City, Masaba, Colgate, Fulton, Bessemer, Crescent City and Princeton cleared from Ohio ports with coal. More boats of the big fleet will sail today.

A number of freighters that have been held in port to save insurance for the last fifteen days of April will sail this week. The steamers of the Becker, Corrigan and Snyder fleets started Monday. The managers of a number of the big wild fleets have not started to fit out, and the indications are most of the vessels of that class that are in port will be held until June 1. It is not likely that there will be much wild ore on the market before that date.

BUFFALO ELEVATORS ARE KEPT BUSY.

The elevators in the Buffalo harbor have finished their first full week's work since the opening of navigation. It kept eleven elevators busy to cope with the grain which was taken down. According to the official figures compiled by John F. Griffin, cahier for the the Lake Carriers' Association, 3,687,510 bushels of grain were unloaded during the seven days.

This is considered a fair amount for the first week of the season, taking into consideration the fact Canadian grain shippers are holding back a large amount of grain in elevators at the upper lake ports. This total is better than the opening figure last season.

STEAMER DRAWING TOO MUCH WATER.

Coal continues to be the only commodity making any showing in the marine movement. Here it is generally believed that the policy of the Pittsburg Steamship company is to make the opening rather slow, because the demand for iron is not what some of the officials of the company believe it will be later in the season, and the stockpiles at the lower lakes are generously piled with ore.

With a slow and gradual opening in the ore-carrying business, and but little grain at the Head of the Lakes, with the package freighters in the market for all of this, and a light opening in eastbound package freight business, the marine situation at the Head of the Lakes is very quiet at the present time.

Much has been conjectured regarding the independents. Some of the independent owners have not appointed their captains for the present season, but have informed them that if certain boats go out they will be placed in charge. A general increase in the ore business means that some of the independents will come out.

Some vesselmen figure that with some new boats added to the Pittsburg fleet, and the prospects not certain at the present time for any greater tonnage going down the lakes than was carried during the 1910 season, very many of the independent vessels will stay at the docks, at least until the present season is well under way.

There is little change in the grain business. The rate on grain to Buffalo remains at 1¼ cents, with the big boats out of the market, practically speaking.

STANTON GROUNDS AT ROUND ISLAND.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The steamer John Stanton, which grounded at Round island, above the canal, in a snow storm last night, succeeded in releasing herself this morning. She was leaking badly, and a tug assisted her back to the Soo, where repairs are being made.

Ore Rate Fixed.

A contract was closed in Cleveland Saturday by an ore shipper with a furnace interest in which 65 cents is allowed for freighting the ore from Lake Superior to Lake Erie. The furnace interest taking this, also contracted for another lot of ore at the Lake Superior dock, the price of which is based on a 65 cent rate to Lake Erie. More than 35,000 tons are involved in the deals.

Whether the furnace company has made a contract with a vessel company to carry the ore at 65 cents could not be learned last night. Although the purchaser is not openly connected with any steamship company it is known he favors one manager, whose advice on rates he would accept.

This is the first ore selling contract reported in which a specified rate is named for carrying ore for 1911. Some contracts have been made in which 70 cents is specified unless another rate is made by June 5. These contracts will now take the 65 cent rate.

When I went to bed I was tired and nervous and could not sleep well, in the morning I would feel twice as tired; my mother got a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, which I took. I felt like a new person when I had finished that bottle. We always have some of Hood's medicines in the house." Hilvey Roselle, Marinette, Wis.

TOOK TRIP ON BIG RIVER

C. E. I. Foster Follows Example of Huckleberry Finn and Tom Sawyer.

Brown as the proverbial berry after spending the entire winter on the southern end of the Mississippi river in a houseboat, C. E. I. Foster of this city has returned home enthusiastic over this way of getting away from the severe Northern winter.

Mr. Foster was accompanied on the trip by a young man friend. They camped where they liked, stayed as long in one place as they cared to, hunted, fished, lounged about and basked in the sunlight and just enjoyed life. When the scenery got tiresome in a certain locality, all they had to do was to cast off and float down the stream.

The men started out Jan. 1 from Memphis, Tenn. It was warm and they experienced the best of weather during the entire trip. They have just returned and are already planning on the trip on the same river next year. They hope to start earlier in the fall and begin at St. Paul.

Mr. Foster says it was the cheapest as well as the best good time he has ever had. He states that it is cheaper than staying at home.

At Memphis they bought an outfit which consisted of a substantial houseboat of two rooms, nicely fitted up, one as a living and sleeping room and the other as a kitchen with all the necessary utensils, for the sum of $65. The outfit included a skiff which they found very handy along the route.

It took them several months to drift along down the river from Memphis, Tenn., to Vicksburg, Miss., a distance of about 150 miles.

They explored several smaller rivers and stopped to fish and shoot. They found that ducks and geese were plentiful and sometimes they were lucky at fishing.

Mr. Foster says that it was the most enjoyable trip that he has ever taken.

AMUSEMENTS

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

ORPHEUM—Vaudeville.
EMPRESS—Vaudeville.
ODEUM and LYRIC—Photoplay.

Green Room Gossip.

"Vaudeville was my first love," said Homer B. Mason, who is appearing at the Orpheum this week, in the headline sketch "In and Out." "Miss Keeler and myself went from vaudeville to 'A Stubborn Cinderella' and we have returned to vaudeville again.

"Why?"

"Well the chief reason is that there is more money in vaudeville and steadier work. I know the vaudeville game better than I know the musical work. I am a vaudevillian first, and I like the vaudeville work better. You have all week stands, no one-nighters, and you are able to get comfortably located in a city. Then you know ahead just how long you are booked, and with an act that makes good you are sure of steady work. A musical comedy company may strike two or three weeks' bad business and the show is closed, and the actors out of work perhaps 1,000 miles from home. That never happened to me, and I hope it won't, but in vaudeville you know it won't. The 'two-a-day' with a month or two in the summer to put in on my farm down in New York, is good enough for me."

Mr. Mason is a college graduate, having an engineer's diploma, but he has never followed that profession. About the only use he ever made of his college training, was to create the college atmosphere in "A Stubborn Cinderella," which he did most effectively.

Lovers of high class music are being accorded a treat at the Empress this week, and are taking advantage of the opportunity to hear some of the best operatic singers that have ever been heard in the city of Duluth this season.

The headline attraction this week is the artistic operetta, "A Royal Romance," sung by Edmund Stanley and company; and it is certainly proving a winner, if the receptions given to Mr. Stanley, Mlle. Hortense Mazarett and Miss Belle Storey are criterions. Mr. Stanley is the possessor of a beautiful tenor voice of fine quality, great power and wide range, which he handles with good musical taste, skill and expression. Mlle. Mazarett's contralto must be heard to be fully appreciated, as the power and sweetness of her tone strikes a sympathetic chord in the hearts of all her hearers. She has a tremendous range, singing easily three octaves. Miss Belle Storey completes this trio of singers with a high lyric soprano voice of full tone, power and quality, also having that essential which helps immensely to make a truly great singer, viz., enormous range. Miss Storey sings high G above high C in alto. Her coloratura work is clear cut and perfectly true.

The show as a whole is exceptionally good and should make this a banner week at the Empress.

"The Mother" is one of the strong dramatic films being shown at the Lyric moving picture theater this week. Both the Lyric and its companion theater, the Odeum, have entertaining bills this week. The story of "The Mother" is as follows:

"The home of a lonely widow is visited by gossipy neighbors, conveying the sad news through a newspaper article of the conviction of her only son, on a charge of murder—a son she had not seen for fifteen years, and had mourned as dead.

"The devotion of a mother's undying love for her boy, and determination not to desert him in the hour of need, is aroused. Going to the prison she pleads to see her boy. To save her breaking heart, the son does not recognize her as his mother, that he may save her disgrace and pain. She is not convinced and leaves heavy-hearted but ever determined. She hastens to the governor and intercedes, but of no avail. The death warrant is read, and all preparations for the execution made, when the governor receives a telegram that the real murderer has made a deathbed confession, to save the innocent man. 'Phone is out of order and a human life is at stake. The governor's daughter makes a wild ride and reaches the prison just in time with the reprieve."

NEW GROCERY IS OPENED

Frank Suech's Fine Store at Fourth Avenue West and First Street.

A large, splendidly appointed grocery store, thoroughly metropolitan in character—this describes the fine new store that Frank Suech has established in the new building at Fourth avenue west and First street and which was opened to the public yesterday.

For sixteen years Mr. Suech has been in business on West First street and during that time he has been a consistent boomer of First street for a business location. The establishment of the big store and bakery, occupying as it does, the whole corner, is evidence that he believes more than ever that First street offers the best advantages for retail trade.

Windowed on the street and avenue the store is, probably, the best lighted institution of its kind in the city and offers splendid facilities for the immense display of green stuff, fruits, canned goods and bakery products. Every department is complete, the Honor Brand of pure foods being specially featured.

In connection with the store is one of the finest equipped bakeries in the Northwest. Every known sanitary device has been adopted in the plant and the ovens and bakery are in full sight of those in the store, being separated by glass partitions.

Another innovation of Mr. Suech's is the installment of a magnificent soda fountain and ice cream department, with tables, chairs, etc. A fine line of tobaccos and confectionery is also carried by the store.

The new store is attracting considerable comment from the hundreds of visitors that have already called.

A special demonstration of the Honor Brand pure foods is being held at the store all this week, a matter of interest to all housewives. The array of canned food is very tempting. Careful attention is being paid to the matter of quick and satisfactory service and delivery.

RAILROADS

WAS TRAINED IN BRAINERD SHOPS

H. W. Curry, New N. P. Mechanical Superintendent, Started at Bottom.

Brainerd, Minn., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Howard W. Curry, recently appointed mechanical superintendent of the Northern Pacific railway, was for many years a resident of Brainerd. He will have under his supervision 10,000 skilled workers. His career as a railroad man began in the shops of the Northern Pacific in 1880. He is 50 years old. Mr. Curry came to Brainerd from Illinois, and advanced steadily to successive places of responsibility. From the shop he went to firing, and from that position to the position of engineer. From engineman he was promoted to foreman of engines in 1891, and held the job for ten years. Then for two years he was master mechanic of the Dakota & Yellowstone division. In 1892 he became master mechanic of the Minnesota division, and in 1905 was advanced to general master mechanic of the Eastern division. Now he has been made mechanical superintendent, the highest position in the line of his work. His predecessor, William Mohr, before leaving his office, was presented with a bookcase, a technical library of 268 volumes, an electric reading lamp and a rocking chair by the mechanical department of the system, all foremen and superintendents of sections of the road joining in the presentation of the gift.

EARNINGS PER MILE SHOW A DECREASE.

The report of the Bureau of Railway Economics showing a summary of the revenues and expenses of the railroads of the United States for the month of February was received here yesterday and, in brief, shows, among other things, that the returns, when reduced to a per-mile basis, were considerably less than those for the corresponding month of last year. The net operating revenues, that is, total revenues less operating expenses, for all the roads reporting to the Interstate Commerce commission, show a decrease per mile from the figures of February, 1910, of $34, or 14 per cent. Total operating revenues decreased about $3,500,000, which is the equivalent to $29 per mile, or 5.2 per cent. This decrease was entirely in freight revenue and in part offset by an increase of nearly $13 per mile in passenger and miscellaneous revenues.

Operating expense was almost stationary, as compared to a year ago, the increase amounting to only 0.8 per cent. There was an increase of 2 per cent in maintenance of equipment and 2.1 per cent in transportation expense, but these increases were offset by a decrease of 5.8 per cent in maintenance of way. Net operating revenue showed a decrease of $24 per mile, or 13.6 per cent over the figures of the same month of 1910. Net revenue per mile per day was $7.68, as compared with $7.51 in January, $11.91 in November, 1910, and $8.96 in December. There was an increase in taxes and outside operations included, consequently showed a decline of $35 per mile, or 16.6 per cent.

BRUNO HALICKI MUST ANSWER SEVERAL CHARGES.

Bruno Halicki, an old acquaintance of the Duluth police, was arrested in Superior this morning at the request of his wife, who told the officials that he was on a "drunk" and that she wanted them to take him into custody to sober him.

The Duluth authorities were looking for him, complaint having been made by Sam Smith, proprietor of an East Superior street saloon, that Halicki had passed a forged check for $10 at his place. He is said to be out on parole in Wisconsin, and it is doubtful if it will be possible to bring him to this state at the present time to answer the forgery charge.

WIND AND LIGHTNING CAUSE TWO DEATHS.

Scranton, Pa., May 2.—In an electrical and wind storm that swept this city last night, Mary Fonts, 15 years old, was killed by lightning and the skull of an unidentified boy was fractured by a falling sign. Four houses were blown from their foundations, a score of persons injured by flying glass and dozens of plate glass windows in the business section of the city shattered. The machine shop of the Finch Foundry company was demolished by lightning, hundreds of trees were uprooted in all sections of the city, electric wires and trolley cables blown down, and at least 100 homes and business places damaged by wind or lightning. The property damage, it is estimated, will exceed $100,000.

Stone in Bladder Removed Without Surgical Operation

In the Spring of 1904, I was confined to my bed with kidney trouble and thought that I would never recover. I took a lot of medicine but did not realize any benefit from anything. I finally saw Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root advertisement and sent for a sample bottle and thought the sample bottle helped me, so I bought more of the medicine from my Druggist, and after using a few bottles discharged a very large stone from my bladder.

After passing this stone my health was very much improved and I have been able to continue my business without any serious sickness.

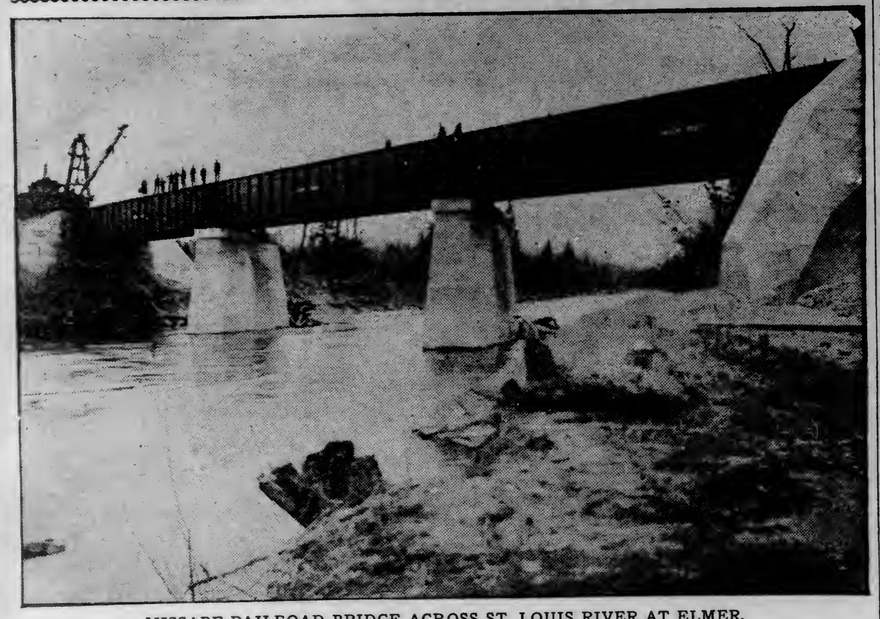
BIG BRIDGE RAISED AND COMPLETED IN ABOUT ONE WEEK



MISSABE RAILROAD BRIDGE ACROSS ST. LOUIS RIVER AT ELMER.

Hibbing, Minn., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The bridge, built by the Missabe road over the St. Louis river at Elmer, was finished today. It is in three spans, and contains the biggest and heaviest steel girder in the Northwest. The single piece of steel weighs 44 tons, and is 115 feet long, and 10 feet deep. Eighteen flat cars were required to take the three single spans to the place of final resting. The structure is to carry the new double tracking of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad, and was commenced by the American Bridge company, on April 23 last, little more than a week being taken by the foreman engineer, I. M. Duncan, and his small crew of eight riveters and four catchers.

The ball game between Taconite and Holman at the Holman grounds Sunday was well attended, although the weather was too cold for comfort. The playing of either team was not up to the average, as they have had no practice. The score was 9 to 2 in favor of Taconite. Batteries—Taconite, Cohen and Regal; Holman, Amonette and Hodgins. The special train left Taconite at 1:30 p. m. and was crowded.

Mr. Cameron and Charles Larson are back at the Garvey addition. Their intentions were to be back before the village election, but business detained them in California.

Free Rheumatism Cure

A Home Cure Will Be Given FREE By One Who Had It.

In the spring of 1898 I was attacked by Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who have it know, for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even bed ridden with Rheumatism, and it effected a cure in every case.

I will send a free trial of this precious remedy by mail, postpaid to any sufferer who writes for it. Just fill out the coupon below and mail it to me today.

This evening a large class of candidates will be initiated by the local order. The fraternal work will be followed by an elaborate program, consisting of addresses, and musical selections. LYNCH MAY BE NEXT CHAIRMAN

Looked Upon to Bring Democratic Factions Into Harmony.

St. Paul, Minn., May 2.—The Dispatch says: When Frank A. Day and John E. King packed their grips and drifted out to Missoula there were many who dolorously spoke of the glory that was Day and the grandeur that was King. It looked like the departure of the biggest accumulation of political strategy and acuteness the state Democratic organization possessed. The mourners realize now that they overlooked a bet in Fred B. Lynch, chairman pro tem of the Democratic state central committee. The limelight has fallen on him since he planned the big national Democratic conclave here on June 1.

Whether Mr. Lynch will take the leadership is another matter. For several years he has been a powerful member of the Day, King and Lynch combination. He has been the ballast through many a stormy sea, and some of Day's masterpieces bore the Lynch trademark. Mr. Lynch, however plays the game so differently from Day and King that many of the party did not know that his hand was often shaping the events for which Day got credit.

Some say that Lynch is tired of the game and will not try to rehabilitate the party. Those who held office under the Johnson regime, and, who are now engaged in private industry, however, declare that Day broke his pick when he overlooked national issues and grounded the party ship on a purely local affair, and they look to Lynch to bring the factions into complete harmony. Hence the Democratic dinner on June 1 may do more than celebrate the national success of the Democratic party. It may bring together the factions which split when Day presented county option as a "great moral issue."

STILSEN HUTCHINS MAY BE ADJUSTED INSANE.

Washington, May 2.—A petition to have adjudged insane Stilson Huchins, founder of the St. Louis Times, Washington Post, Washington Times, Dubuque Herald and St. Louis Dispatch, has been granted here, the writ being returnable May 4. Mr. Hutchins is a multi-millionaire and was an organizer and chief promoter of the Mergenthaler linotype.

Oppose "Ozone Trust."

Washington, May 2.—Vigorous protests against monopolization of the atmosphere have been received by many congressmen, from the Chicago Wireless association and E. Muelthier, its president. The circular is directed against bills giving the government control of the wireless situation.

"Such legislation is an outrageous attempt to create an 'ozone trust,'" declared Mr. Muelthier.

VERIFY IT

The Proof Is in Duluth—Almost at Your Door.

The public statement of a Duluth citizen is in itself strong proof for Duluth people, but confirmation strengthens the evidence.

Here is a Duluth citizen who testified years ago that Doan's Kidney Pills relieved sick kidneys and now states the cure was permanent. Can any sufferer from kidney ills ask better proof? You can investigate. The case is right at home.

Mrs. M. McLean, 4324 Gilliat St., Duluh, Minn., says: "All that was said in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills by a member of my family when he publicly recommended them in 1898 still holds good. During the past several years this person has not been obliged to use a kidney medicine, for the cure has been permanent. Doan's Kidney Pills effected a cure of kidney trouble in this case and also brought relief from a dull, heavy ache in the loins. The person of whom I am speaking recommends Doan's Kidney Pills highly when anyone asks him about them."

DROUTH IS NOT FEARED

Weather Records Show Precipitation Above Normal to Date.

If May Keeps Up Good Record Danger Will Be Passed.

Up to May 1 this year the precipitation in Duluth was .10 inch above the normal, which is about two inches better than a year ago, when the precipitation was 1.89 inches below the normal. If May can keep up the good record made by the first four months of the year the farmers will be happy, for last year the greatest deficiency in precipitation occurred in May. That month furnished only 1.18 inches of rainfaill, while the normal fall for the month is 3.47 inches.

Thus far this year 5.76 inches of precipitation has occuurred, while during the same period last year the precipitation was 3.77 inches. For the period the normal precipitation is 5.66 inches. Feruary was the only month of the period last year to show an excess and that was but .14 inch. This year, January, February and March showed excesses over the normal, but April nearly wiped it all out with a deficiency of 1.05 inches.

The precipitation in January this year was 1.12 inches against .80 inch last year and a normal of .98 inch. In February the fall this year was 1.89 inches against 1.13 inches last year and a normal of .99 inch. March this year shows 1.66 inches against .44 inch last year and a normal of 1.55 inches, while the precipitation in April this year was 1.09 inches against 1.40 inches last year and a normal of 2.14 inches.

The normal for May, 3.47 inches, is high and a deficiency would not surprise anyobdy. The lack of rainfall last year, however, was surprising and was a pronounced detriment to the farmers in this vicinity and all through the Northwest. Better things are looked for this year and unless there are some surprises there will be no recurrence of the drouth of last year.

WHITTIER SAYS HE WILL STAY

Proposes to Stand Squarely Upon His Legal Rights.

Red Wing, Minn., May 2.—Supt. F. A. Whittier of the state training school, in reply to questions regarding his interview with Governor Eberhart and the rumored resignation, made the following statement:

"My attorney, Mr. Wilson, and myself had a conference with Governor Eberhart Sunday, and I told the governor emphatically that I had decided not to resign. My friends in Red Wing and in other parts of the state, who know me thoroughly, and who understand the situation well, have all advised me against such action. My deliberate judgment convinces me that it would neither be right nor expedient to resign.

Says no Charges Exist.

"The charges made against the management of the school have been investigated and effectively disposed of by the legislature, both branches of which expressed their confidence in me by striking out of the report the demand for my resignation. There are no charges against me of any kind whatsoever, and after the vindication at the hands of the legislature it would be folly on my part to step out of my position. Such action would be taken to mean my tacit acknowledgement of the slanders directed against me.

"The statutes define my legal rights, and I propose to stand squarely upon them.

"The main argument which the governor has used in trying to induce me to resign is that the women's clubs are besieging him to bring about my removal. The weight of such an argument can be readily estimated by any fair minded person who can see the difference between justice and misguided public clamor incited by questionable motives.

"I will continue the management of the Minnesota State Training School for Boys faithfully, in accordance with the ideas of the board of control and my judgment of the best interests of the school, and there are no reasons now existing why I should entertain for one moment the thought of resigning."

THIRTY-FIVE GET CARNEGIE MEDALS

The Hero Fund Commission Recognizes Act of Wisconsin Man.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 2.—Thirty-five awards in recognition of acts of heroism were made at the spring meeting of the Carnegie hero fund commission, and the issuance of nine silver and twenty-six bronze medals were authorized. In addition the money accompanying the medals amounts to $34,100 and pensions to widows of heroes total $1,310 annually.

Of the large amount $1,000 is given to George K. Muir of Grand Rapids, Wis., who was awarded a bronze medal last January. Muir is now suffering from tuberculosis at Wales, Wis., and the commission makes the money award to care for him.

The money is apportioned as follows: $6,000 for worthy purposes; $2,200 liquidation of mortgages; $3,700 for other indebtedness; $4,000 purchases of home sites, $14,000 for education; $3,200 death benefits and $1,000 for restoration of health.

In nine instances the heroes lost their lives and the award is made to a member of the family. Twenty of the awards are made in connection with rescues from drowning; five from railroad trains; four in runaways; five in mine or suffocation cases, and one the rescue of an insance patient from a roof cornice.

Since the inception of the hero commission, 4,991 cases have been refused recognition; 487 have been granted and 893 cases are still pending.

Free for Stomach and Bowels

We are in receipt of letters from Mrs. Eva Gaskins, 304 Madison St., Topeka, Kans., and Mr. P. H. Gavellas, Wagoner, Okla., as well as many others, telling about the wonderful results they have secured in the cure of their stomach and liver troubles by the use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

This remedy, as all readers doubtless know, has been before the public for a generation and is now being more extensively used than any other remedy for stomach, liver and bowel complaints. According to reliable testimony, it seems to be a very quick and lasting cure for constipation, indigestion and dyspepsia, liver trouble, biliousness, headaches, sour stomach, gas on the stomach, drowsiness after eating and similar disorders. It is a liquid with tonic effect, and so mild and gentle in action that a child as well as a grown person can take it, in fact, it has no equal for children, women and old people.

It arouses the flow of gastric juice, and by a peculiar action trains the stomach and bowel muscles to again do their work naturally, and in time medicines of all kinds can be dispensed with. A free sample bottle can be had for trial by sending your address to the doctor, for in this way Mrs. Gaskins, Mr. Gavellas and many others first learned of the cure. Later, when satisfied it is the remedy you need, do as others are doing and buy it of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle.

Dr. Caldwell does not feel that the purchase of his remedy ends his obligation. He has specialized in stomach, liver and bowel diseases for over forty years and will be pleased to give the reader any advice on the subject free of charge. All are welcome to write him. Whether for the medical advice or the free sample address him Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 541 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

RESTORE GRAY HAIR TO NATURAL COLOR

By Common Garden Sage, a Simple Remedy for Dandruff, Falling, Faded, Gray Hair.

The old idea of using sage for darkening the hair is again coming in vogue. Our grandmothers used to have dark, glossy hair at the age of seventy-five, while our mothers have white hair before they are fifty. Our grandmothers used to make a "sage tea" and apply it to their hair. The tea made their hair soft and glossy, and gradually restored the natural color.

One objection to using such a preparation was the trouble of making it, especially as it had to be made every two or three days, on account of souring quickly. This objection has been overcome, and by asking almost any first-class druggist for Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy the public can get a superior preparation of sage, with the admixture of sulphur, another valuable remedy for hair and scalp troubles. Daily use of this preparation will not only quickly restore the color of the hair, but will also stop the hair from falling out and make it grow.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

DONE MORE THAN ALL THE OTHERS

Julius Lutt Gives Strong Praise to the United Doctors' New Treatment.

From far Dakota comes a letter of praise for the scientific new methods used by the United Doctors who have their Duluth institute located on the third floor of the Columbia building.

Julius Lutt, not being able to find a doctor at home who could cure him, made a long journey to find a United Doctors' office. His trip paid him well in renewed health and happiness. He writes:

"Komer, S. D., March 17, 1911.

"To the People:

"I have been greatly benefited by the United Doctors' treatment for rheumatism, nervous disease and digestive troubles. I had been the rounds of the doctors and specialists and tried about everything I could hear of without any relief whatever.

"I had taken the United Doctors' treatment but a short time until the pain left me and I could live in comfort, and I feel now well on the road to health. The United Doctors, so far, have done more for me than all the other doctors and treatments put together. JULIUS LUTT."

To do their best work always, to refuse kindly but firmly all incurable diseases, to spread the gospel of good health and good cheer, to keep the standard of their treatment higher than the highest—this is the great mission of the United Doctors and is carried out every day among the hundreds of patients who crowd their offices in Duluth on the third floor of the Columbia building.

TWO FIREMEN ARE INJURED

Horse Runs Into Coal Wagon and Men Are Thrown From Buggy.

Second Assistant Fire Chief Charles W. Wilson received severe body bruises and F. N. Swanson, a truckman, received cuts and bruises which may lay him up for some time, when the buggy in which they were riding collided with a coal wagon on First avenue west and First street at an early hour this morning, both men being thrown to the pavement with great force.

In one of the light buggies and driving one of the most spirited and unmanageable horses owned by the department, the men were answering an alarm which called them to Eighth avenue east and Eighth street.

Wilson was driving. First street was crowded with early morning delivery wagons and it was with some difficulty that swift progress was made by winding in and out between the rigs. The driver of the coal wagon either did not hear the clanging of the bell, or paid no heed to it apparently, for he continued driving slowly along, almost in the center of the street.

Wilson turned his horse so as to avoid hitting him but the animal had ideas of its own and in spite of the fact that his head was drawn taut the opposite direction, he insisted on crashing into the coal wagon, hitting it a glancing blow. Wilson saw that he was going to hit the wagon but not soon enough to warn his companion or save himself. Both men went over the dashboard and onto the pavement. The horse was uninjured. The fire rig escaped with only a pair of broken shafts.

Dr. Graham attended Mr. Wilson at the fire hall and while he is badly bruised it is thought that his injuries are not serious.

Swanson was picked up on the scene of the accident by a salesman for the Interstate Auto company and hurried to St. Luke's hospital in a demonstrating car. At the hospital it was found that while he has cuts and bruises on his head, the injuries are not serious.

ACCUSED OF USING OLD POOL GAME

Frank Kelly Arrested on Charge of Swindling Two Woodsmen.

On suspicion of being a "pool shark," who swindled two woodsmen out of $86, Frank Kelly was arrested on the Bowery yesterday afternoon by Patrolmen Woods and Olson. It is alleged that he got $50 from John Mattson Wednesday and $36 from Paul Huseby yesterday. Kelly is said to have a partner who helped him in his swindling operations.

It is asserted that Kelly acted as a "steerer" to get the men into the poolroom, and that after he had them there the other man showed up. Kelly and the victim started to play a game for small stakes, after which the other man got into it. Kelly is said to have told the victim that he would pay his losses, and to have done so until the big deal came off. Having gained his confidence a proposition was made to bet as much money as the victim had. Of course he lost and when he looked for Kelly to get his money back he is said to have disappeared.

FOREIGNERS UNHARMED IN CHINESE CITY

after raiding Sam Shui, Wen Chow, Woo Chow, Chungiok, Shuihung and Fatshan. The government seems to be in control at Canton.

Later dispatches today state that the anti-Manchu movement has spread from the West river at the west of Canton, to the north and east through Kwangtung province, and to Amoy in the southeastern part of Fukien province.

Foreign Missions Safe.

According to the best information obtainable the foreign missions have not been molested by the rebels.

Service on the Canton-Kowloon section of the railway leading from Canton to Hongkong has been abandoned and the British railway officials have been ordered to come to this city tonight.

It is difficult to obtain reliable news of the progress of the rebellion, but the feeling here is that further grave developments are quite possible. Details of the fighting at Canton confirm earlier reports of the ferocity with which the troops and the rebels engaged.

Rebels' Bodies in Streets.

Queueless heads and headless bodies in European dress are still exposed in the streets. Other bodies show that death was caused by strangulation. The absence of queues, together with the clothing of Western fashion, makes plain that the dead were rebels. The bodies of the soldiers killed appear to have been removed. A son of the viceroy of Canton and a maid were found hidden under a bed in the servants' quarters of the palace which escaped destruction when the home was set afire.

Bluejackets guard Shamien and close by are the American gunboat Wilmington, the German gunboat Iltis, a Portuguese gunboat from Macao and several British warships.

dian reciprocity bill. The attempt, he said was being made to alarm the American people by painting the ruin that would follow the free admission of Canadian goods, the products of cheap labor. Their contention, he declared, was absolutely untrue, and he submitted statistics gathered by both governments designed to show that both labor and livestock were higher across the border than in the United States.

When Mr. Stone concluded, Senator Gallinger asserted that the Missouri senator had proved conclusively that there would not be the reduction in the cost of living which it had been contended reciprocity would bring to the United States. Mr. Stone replied that he had not contended that in itself reciprocity would be of great benefit, but had undertaken to show that it would produce no great injury.

"And yet we give away $10,000,000 of revenue, Mr. Gallinger retorted.

Favors Free List Bill.

Mr. Stone urged that the great benefits to be derived from entering into reciprocal relations with Canada would be to encourage freer trade with that country, opening the way to freer trade with the world. He said he hoped to have an opportunity to vote for the house free list bill.

Mr. Cummins agreed with Mr. Stone's conclusions regarding prices in Canada, and said he was convinced that the passage of the bill would not effect a reduction of the cost of living.

Mr. Stone contended that American labor is in no especial danger from labor in Canada, and replying to Mr. Page of Vermont, he said that it appeared to him from government figures that farm wages in Canada are 50 per cent higher than in the United States. Counting out the lowering effect of small wages paid negro labor in the Southern states, Mr. Gallinger declared that the American wages paid near the boundary line are from 35 to 40 per cent more than across the line. He contended that generally prices were higher in Canada than in this country.

More About Annexation.

Speeches on the "farmers' free list" bill in the house again sounded the note of Canadian annexation; traversed the whole range of argument concerning Canadian reciprocity, already disposed of by the house, and came back at times to specific attack upon or support of the free list bill. At times less than a score of members were on the floor to hear the speech-making.

Mr. Madden of Illinois, in an hour's speech, touched the annexation issues.

Mr. Gillette of Massachusetts, and Mr. Dyer of Missouri attacked the free list bill because it put jute bagging, used in bale cotton upon the free list, thereby threatening the bag-making industry of this country. Mr. Gillette said the industry would be transferred to India, where the cheap labor would make the bagging, and that the saving to the cotton raiser of this country would be only about 3 cents on a $70 bale of cotton. Democrats questioned him sharply about the "bagging trust," but he declared it did not exist.

Longworth Attacks List.

Mr. Cox of Indiana supported the bill and attacked opponents of the reciprocity measure recently passed.

Mr. Longworth of Ohio assailed particularly the Democratic proposal to put boots and shoes on the free list. He said American machinery, upon which America's advantage had rested, is being installed abroad and that the United States can be flooded with foreign shoes.

Mr. Rucker of Colorado, Democrat, who voted against the Canadian reciprocity bill, attacked that measure in a speech favoring the free list bill. He said he had been criticized for not abiding by the action of the Democratic caucus in favor of reciprocity, but explained that he opposed the measure because he believed it unfair to the farmer.

FAIR

The low-shoe boys who are game enough to stay with the breezy garb are having troubles of their own. The mercury didn't get above 36 deg. yesterday and it dropped to 24 deg. last night, which is some frosty. The weather man is extending a clammy hand to the tender products of the gardener's industry. The chilliness is still with him, for he promises freezing temperatures again tonight.

Cold weather also prevailed a year ago today.

The sun rose this morning at 4:50 and it will set at 7:19, giving fourteen hours and twenty-nine minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"The disturbance central Monday morning over Michigan in its easterly advance to the North Atlantic coast caused further rain or snow to the eastward of the Mississippi valley. Much cooler weather attends a marked increase in pressure over Eastern districts. Freezing weather or frosts occurred last night over Montana, Wyoming, the Dakotas, Nebraska, Colorado, Kansas, Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan. Rains have developed in the far West in connection with the depressions overlying British Columbia and Arizona. Freezing weather will occur again at the Head of the Lakes tonight."

"NOT GUILTY," SAYS HYDE

secrecy was maintained over the indictment, which was sealed and marked "N. A." meaning "no arrest."

Mr. Hyde's indictment, it is said, followed a story told the grand jury by Joseph G. Robin, who is said to have testified that he made loans through the Northern bank to the Carnegie Trust company under what he described as coercion. J. V. Smith, Hyde's secretary, is alleged to have received a check for about $14,000 from the Carnegie company which Smith is said to have told the grand jury he turned over to Hyde.

Before his appointment as chamberlain, Hyde was the law partner of Mayor Gaynor, and has long been his personal friend and political adviser.

Defended by Gaynor.

During Hyde's absence in the South, the Carnegie Trust company, in which the city was a heavy depositor, went down and a storm of criticism arose against him. It did not shake the mayor's loyalty, and Mr. Gaynor came to his defense with a public statement.

Investigation of the Carnegie Trust company brought out a batch of indictments against those controlling its affairs, who also are said to have boasted of their friendship with Hyde. Various city depositories were shown to have made loans to the Carnegie directly before or after they received city deposits, and the prosecution will attempt to prove that the promise of these deposits was used as a club to force the loans to the crippled Carnegie, then tottering to its failure.

Basis of Charge.

About the time these loans began to come in the chamberlain's secretary, John V. Smith, got $14,000 from the Carnegie in the form of cashier's checks, which he deposited to his private account. Shortly after he drew against this account $13,800 in four checks, two of them payable to cash and two to the city chamberlain. The district attorney will try to prove that this transaction covered a payment for services rendered.

engaging 600 federals. Much damage to property."

Peace Commissioners Confer.

The peace commissioners appointed by the revolutionists were in conference for several hours yesterday with the political leaders of the insurrection on the program to be presented to the federal peace envoy, Senor Francisco Carabajal. Senor Carabajal was expected to arrive last night, but failed to do so.

It is understood that several changes have been made in the revolutionists' program. The exact number of states in which the revolutionists will demand the right to name governors has not been agreed upon. They will make it plain, however, that they do not insist on placing in power men who have taken an active part in the revolution. They are said to favor capable men who are in sympathy with the political principles of the insurgents and at the same time popular enough to tranquilize their states.

Would Nominate Governors.

The insurrectos wish to submit three names for each governorship in the states in which the peace agreement shall allow them to name these officials, the legislature being permitted to choose. The rebels will insist, however, on one radical change from the procedure hitherto followed in the appointment of governors. The men chosen must be natives or long time residents of the state in which they are candidates, and on the expiration of their terms a free election shall be held. In some states the election would occur at an earlier date, while in others they would not be held for several months.

After the selection of provisional governors shall have been made and the electoral laws revised according to the insurgent program, a general election shall be called to choose a president. The exact time of President Diaz's resignation has been avoided in the discussions chiefly because the revolutionists believe he will resign after peace is restored. It is agreed however, that the selection of a provisional president will not offset the putting into operation of reforms in the separate states. Senor De La Barra is the professed favorite of the revolutionists for provisional president.

Siege Is Raised.

San Antonio, Tex., May 2.—The siege of Ojinaja has been raised and the revolutionists driven in disorder toward the town of Mulato, according to advices received by government officers here.

The seige of Ojinaja began a month ago when a force of revolutionists under command of Gen. Jose De La Cruz Sanchez surrounded the city, bottling up the federal garison of 200 men. Since then skirmishes have been of daily occurrence, dispatches reporting the gradual tightening of the insurrecto lines.

Saturday, with the arrival of reinforcements, the rebels began a vigorous assault and advices late Saturday night from Presidio, directly across the border were that the tide of battle apparently was turning in favor of the beseiging army.

According to later dispatches the insurrectos in their flight left their dead and munitions of war on the field, making their way to Mulato. It is believed that they were caught between a relief column of 2,000 men under Gen. Escudore, sent to the relief of Ojinaja, and the garrison.

Rebel Force Growing.

Douglas, Ariz., May 2.—That he will hold his men under arms in camp until he hears from Madero that the armistice is at an end, is the statement made by the rebel chief, Giron, in Douglas. He said that his band had increased to 711.

Many insurrecto bands throughout Sonora are ignorant of the peace negotiations. Bacum and San Blas, Singaloa, are both threatened, and a third force is organized for an attack upon Corral.

The capture of Topolobampo, an important port on the west coast, is confirmed.

A deserter from the American camp entered Cumpas a few days ago and robbed three Chinese stores. He returned and when he reached the entrance of Cumpas ten armed men were awaiting him. In the fight which followed the deserter was shot to death.

Rebels Are Repulsed.

City of Mexico, May 2.—Assisted by the guns and marines of the gunboat Tampico, Col. Jose Beltram repulsed the rebels who attacked Mazatlan, according to reports at the department of war. The attack continued throughout the greater part of a day. The guns of the warship were trained on the assailants and the large number of deaths in their ranks is thought to be the work of the exploding shells. The machine guns of the artillery also played an important part in the battle. The marines were disembarked at the beginning of the battle and fought side by side with the infantrymen. The number of casualties has not yet been reported.

Reports have also been received at the war department of a battle at Chletla, state of Puebla, between the rebels and a small force of federals under the command of Col. Blanquet. The federals are said to have routed their assailants.

Unconfirmed reports that Durango the capital of the state of that name, had fallen into the hands of the rebels, and rumors that attacks were to be made soon upon Cuernavaca and Puebla, the two other state capitals south of City of Mexico, have served to increase the feeling of apprehension here. The big bridge at San Juan Del Rio, south of Queeretaro on the line of the Mexican Central, has been blown out and the destruction of a number of small wooden bridges on the line of the National railroad north of San Luis Ptosi, has seriously interrupted traffic off the Laredo route, south of the city, traffic on the Cuernavaca branch of the National railways is still uninterrupted.

FORGAN FAVORS ALDRICH PLAN

Addresses Executive Council of the Bankers' Association.

Nashville, Tenn., May 2.—The feature of the meeting of the executive council of the American Bankers' association, which began here yesterday, was the address of James B. Forgan, president of the First National bank of Chicago, delivered at the banquet tendered by local bankers. Mr. Forgan spoke on monetary legislation, including the possibilities of the plan of ex-Senator N. W. Aldrich of Rhode Island. The day's session was devoted to matters coming before the various sections.

Concluding his address, Mr. Forgan said:

"I commend the plan without hesitation. I believe it to be founded on correct principles, and to be ingeniously adopted to present banking conditions in this country. If adopted it will correct many defects in our present banking methods and when its details have been satisfactorily worked out, as they doubtless will be, it will be a thoroughly practical plan."

WOMAN'S REALM.

The fashion in calling cards is changing at least there is a new fad out in France for the pasteboards and one wonders whether the American woman will accept them with favor or not. Some say that Castellaine did it; others that a member of the Idle Rich fraternity abounding in Paris sought this means of adding luster to the family name; while still others declare that the dealers, desiring to stimulate the card case industry, which has never been very flourishing are responsible for the new "carte de visite" for women.

They are almost as large as a postal and are as thin as a wafer.

"They are very elegant," said a buyer for a Chicago shop when he was in Paris searching for novelties and he bought some and the women in his home city have accepted them.

They meet with half a dozen requirement and can be tucked away like a piece of tissue paper. They were originally intended to provide ample space for titles and names of extraordinary length, but it was discovered that they also gave room for a little note, a tender message, an appointment, a condolence, or even the little blue bowknot and the new baby's name.

They fitted into the mood of busy, bustling, pleasure-loving Paris, which has a great deal to say, but no time to write, and so the uses of the new card multiplied until now it is quite the rage.

The American women are bustling too and one woman who is prominent in social circles who has a well filled card case of the new size, says that it is "much less tiresome than stationary and with a well stocked card case one is equipped for all reasonable exigencies of the billet-doux."

WILLIAM OF ORANGE.

Prof. Seymour Talks to Students at High School.

Prof. Charles Seymour of New York gave his second lecture on "William of Orange" last evening at the high school assembly hall before an audience of teachers, students and other interested citizens.

"The Siege of Harlem" was the starting point for his talk, and he outlined in detail the seven months' siege of the city, the siege of Leydon, the death of Requesens and the coming of Don Juan of Austria and the union of the states known as the Pacification of Ghent. He also spoke of the main effort of Don Juan the Second, which was to persuade the prince to give up the struggle; the coming of the duke of Parma; the issuing by Philip of an infamous ban offering 20,000 crowns in gold to any one who would kill the prince; the prince's apology, and the formation of the Dutch republic. William's death at the hands of Baltazar Gerrard was then described.

Prof. Seymour said that the influence of William's work was felt in the liberality of the laws first in the Netherlands, later in the Constitution of England, and in France, and especially in America, where the American people carry out the work of William in their effort to maintain and enforce those rights of life, liberty and happiness for which he lived, labored and died.

"THE BLUE BIRD."

Dr. Rubinkam Closes Course of Lectures on Drama.

Dr. Nathanial I. Rubinkam last evening closed a course of lectures which he has been giving under the auspices of the Twentieth Century club at the Endion church, with a lecture on "Maeterlinck and the Blue Bird."

In speaking last evening of Maeterlinck, Dr. Rubinkam recommended four plays which he said every one ought to read in the study of the Belgian-French poet, "Pelleas and Melisande," "Mona Vanna," "Joyzelle" and "The Blue Bird."

"Maeterlinck," he said, "has been called the Belgian Shakespeare because when he wrote one of his earliest plays, 'Princess Maleine,' and was still unknown, the prominent French critic, Octiave Mirbeau, declared that it was a naive work, comparable and superior in beauty to what is most beautiful in Shakespeare. In all of his earlier work, Maeterlinck's soul dwells in the shadows, and yet it was great in its mysticism, symbolism and philosophy of life. Because of this, there are many who prefer his great play 'Pelleas and Melisande' to his later, more objective plays such as 'Mona Vanna,' 'Joyzelle' and 'The Blue Bird.'

"The optimism in these plays results from his marriage to the brilliant actress and singer, Georgette Le Blanc, who proved to be a genuine affinity and just the ambitious, romantic and literary character fitted to the great poet. Maeterlinck was a naturalist and philosopher, giving all of his poetry and dramas an interpretation of life.

"'The Blue Bird'," he continued, "is a Christmas story representing the dream of two little children, Tyltil and Mytil, in which they are led for a year in the search for happiness in the high places of the world, only to find that happiness back in the woodcutters' cottage in which they were born, expressing the idea that happiness is not something which we can find by seeking the outside world, but by our eyes being opened to see the beauty in the common places of life about us.

"Berylune, the fairy who taught this philosophy to the children is not a supernatural being of the ancient fairyland but is the inner force, the neglected power, which slumbers in the soul which is in every one of us."

Dr. Rubinkam will remain in Duluth this week and will give two lectures at the assembly hall of the Commercial club, Fourth avenue west and First street, on interesting and significant themes.

The first, which will be given Thursday, will be on "Chantecler," in which Miss Maude Adams will probably tour the country during the coming season, having remained all through the past year in New York with this play. Miss Marie Agatin will play a musical prelude to this lecture.

The second will be given Saturday evening and will be on Puccini's grand opera, "Madam Butterfly," with vocal and instrumental illustrations supplied by Prof. Horace W. Reyner, making this distinctively a musical evening. The committee in charge of this is composed of Mrs. E. W. Bohannon, Mrs. H. N. MacHarg and Mrs. George S. Richards. A large number of people will probably take advantage of this chance to hear Dr. Rubinkam.

By Nancy Copeland.

"Look, Janis. Isn't it delightful? Doesn't it shine? Don't you think I'm a lucky girl?" and Julia Campbell caught her twin sister round the waist and twirled her about so quickly that the pretty, curly brown hair shook about her sweet young face like a cloud of glory. At last she disengaged herself from the strong embrace and faced her sister.

"You dear, silly thing," she answered, smoothing back the rebellious locks and pinning them in a bunch at the nape of her shapely neck. "How can I answer you when you fairly take my breath away?" Julia laughed merrily.

"You're so absolutely fascinating," she said fondly. "Now come and look at my present, and tell me what you think of it."

She touched a spring, and a velvet case flew open, revealing the loveliest of sparkling rings—diamonds, set exquisitely in a band of gold.

"Well, dear, I think that you're as you say—a very lucky little girl. But Capt. Harris is luckier still." Julia laughed.

"He's awfully jolly, isn't he?" she asked, her wide brown eyes open to their fullest extent. "And for the time I'm madly—desperately in love with him."

The expression on her sister's face changed as Julia spoke, and, crossing the pretty morning room, Janis placed both her hands on Julia's straight young shoulders.

"Look here, dearest," she broke out, a pained look in her eyes, "you're not fooling him, are you?"

A saucy pout settled on Julia's lips; then she shook her head. "No—at least, I don't think so. The worst of it is I've been in love so many times that—that—"

"That you really can't discern the real thing when it does come?" asked Janis jokingly.

"That's just it, Jan, but a short life and a gay one, say I. Capt. Harris is a perfect jewel."

"But that's what you've said of all the others, dear."

There was a note of weariness in Janis' tones, but it fell unheeded. Her clear blue eyes were full of trouble as she turned away to the window, lest Julia should suspect the secret which she had kept so long.

"Janis."

"Yes, dear."

"Isn't it funny? Capt. Harris—Bob, I suppose I should say—has never really addressed me by my right name. What do you think he always calls me in his letters?"

"Couldn't possibly guess," replied her sister.

"He calls me his 'little brown mouse.' Why, I can't for the life of me understand."

"Why, you dear silly thing, it's because of your eyes. D'you think he doesn't know every detail of your lovely little face?"

Janis crossed once more to the window.

"Bob," she murmured softly to herself. "Oh, what a fool I am! But I can't help loving him." Then she flushed angrily.

"Janis Campbell, you're an idiot, and the sooner you forget your silly fancies the better. 'Little brown mouse.' That's what he calls her. How he must love her. Ah! I wonder if Julia loves him." Janis knew only too well how quickly Julia's affections evaporated, and how one week an admirer might be "a perfect jewel" and the following merely "nice to know."

Janis was different. Loyal, tender hearted and true, those who knew her could rest assured that she would not give her heart lightly. Until three months ago she had been heart-whole, but the whole course of her life was changed with the appearance of Capt. Harris, her brother's army chum. They had both been home on leave and had stayed at the Campbells' for several weeks. Now they were up North and would not return until the early spring.

And so, through all the long winter months she bore her heartache bravely, deciding at last to pack up and pay a long-deferred visit to an old school friend when the time came for the two men to return. Two days before the appointed time Janis, looking sweetly pretty in a brown cashmere dress, relieved at the neck with a soft lace Peter Pan collar, was sitting in her room in the midst of a pile of clothes, engaged in the process of packing.

"You look like Marius in the midst of the ruins of Carthage," said a merry voice, and Julia stood on the threshold.

"Come in and shut the door, dear," she said, without raising her head. Julia obeyed.

"I'm awfully sorry to bother you, old girl," she said, seating herself on the bed and tapping her fingers idly; "but the fact of the matter is, you can't go away."

"But, my dear, I'm going."

Janis tried to speak lightly; then, before she was aware of what was going to happen, Julia's arms were round her neck, and cheeks wet with tears were pressed against her face.

"I know you'll say I'm absolutely base when you know," she was saying between her sobs, "but it can't be helped. I don't love Bob. I'm desperately in love with Bud Shepard, and this time it's for keeps. I could no more marry Bob now than fly. And, oh, Janis, I'm so unhappy, and yet somehow I'm happier than I've ever been in my life before, and—"

Gently Janis disengaged the soft arms and rose to a standing position. "Come now, Julia. Calm yourself, and tell me all about it." She had never before seen Julia in such a mood, and, leading her back to a couch by the window, she sat beside her, taking both the hot little hands in hers. "Now, dear, what's happened?"

"Well, you know quite well that I met Bud Shepard at the hunt ball. Then—then I forgot all about Bob, and all I know is that I love Bud with all my heart and soul. It's quite different from what I've ever felt before. The others were only silly infatuations. This time it's real, honest love, and I should die if I couldn't marry Bud!"

"Then, dear, you must write and explain to Bob. It'll be a blow to him, of course, but you'd better tell him now than later on." Julia nodded.

"He'll think I'm perfectly horrid!" she said. "But I really do love Bud."

"Are you quite, quite sure?"

"Absolutely positive!"

"Then go and lie down, dear; calm yourself, and think things over, then write to Capt. Harris this afternoon."

With an affectionate kiss the sisters parted, Julia to her room and Janis to the quiet seclusion of the morning room.

"Little brown mouse!"

She turned, and in doorway stood Capt. Harris. He would have taken the girl's white hands in his, but Janis drew back.

"D'you want to see her?" she asked, striving to keep her voice steady. "D'you want to see your 'little brown mouse?'"

Capt. Harris looked puzzled. "She is here," he answered simply.

"But—" Janis began.

"There are no 'buts,' dear," he replied gently. "Haven't you had my letters, my presents and the ring? But of course you have. I have your answers here."

"There has been some awful mistake," Janis gasped, looking up at Bob. "Julia had your letters. She—she thought that they were meant for her." The captain laughed.

"Can't help it," he said, at last, advancing towards the blushing girl. "It's you that I love, 'little brown mouse,' not your sister."

"But my eyes are blue. Julia's are brown. I suppose that's how the mistake arose. You see our initials are the same."

Capt. Harris' merry laugh rang out again.

"Gad! What an idiot I've been! Of course, the mistake might easily have arisen; but, little girl'—changing his voice to one full of seriousness—"tell me—tell me—do you love me?"

"Yes, Bob, I love you," she answered at last, "and thank heaven Julia loves Bud Shepard. But tell me why did you call me your 'little brown mouse??'"

"Because when I first saw you, you wore this dress, dear."

Just then the door flew open and Julia rushed in, drawing back in amazement as she saw her sister in Capt. Harris' arms.

"Dear me! This is sudden!" she exclaimed saucily, her eyes twinkling. "But I've just seen Harry, and he let out that Bob was here, and I've been thinking all this time that you loved me," she said wickedly, "and that I was your—"

"No," Harris answered swiftly; "this is my 'little brown mouse!'"

And, stooping, he kissed Janis tenderly, whilst her sister, radiant with happiness, ran off to explain everything to the man she really loved.

Many Ways With Toast.

Egg Toast—Cook an egg for three-quarters of an hour and make a quarter of a cupful of cream sauce. Separate the white and the yolk of the egg, chop the white and add it to the sauce; then cut rounds of toast. Press the yolks through a sieve, pour the sauce over the toast and spread the yolk over this.

Milk Toast—Add to one point of milk two tablespoonfuls of sugar, a little salt and a well beaten egg. Dip some slices of bread into the mixture and fry them until they are a light brown on each side.

Water Toast—Beat two eggs and add to them two cupfuls of cold water and half a teaspoonful of salt. Dip some neat slices of stale bread into this, wetting both sides, and fry them in a hot frying pan that has been well buttered.

Sugar Toast—Beat up three eggs well and add to them a pint of milk and a pinch of salt; then cut slices an inch thick from a loaf of bread and remove the crust. Dip these into the egg and milk and fry them in hot lard or dripping till they are a delicate brown. Sprinkle the slices with powdered sugar and serve them very hot.

Around the Edges

By CARA REESE.

Cleaning up around the edges, pottering over trifles, putting in time? There are others like you, busy housewife. There are others like you, only a little more anxious as the pay day comes around. When it comes to cleaning up around the edges and pottering over trifles it is a sign that rush orders are not coming in. Such is life. When toil and duty are reduced to a comfortable pottering, then the anxiety concerning how long the boss is going to siand for the pottering begins to intrude itself.

Or, in the housewife's case, the self rebuke over the shiftlessness reduces the leisurely performed task to a penance. Some housewives are very much afraid they are not earning their board and clothes if they happen to have a quiet hour with nothing harder to do than to polish the hardwood floor around the edges of the druggets or to wipe off the frames of fictures and mirrors.

Some toilers have their conscience so highly strung that a vacation and recreation are not enjoyed as they should be when the salary goes on the same. It is difficult to get at the real notion that underlies activity. When there is too much work on hand, when there is a rush and bustle and overtime and pressure then everybody grumbles. When there is little to do and the time must be dawdled in cleaning up about the edges or pottering, or putting in time at trifles, this does not suit, either. It is a common habit to be dissatisfied with things as they are and to wish for something different. There are rush seasons and slack seasons in almost every phase of toil. It were better to cultivate contentment of spirit.

About this season of the year the cleaning up around the edges and the pottering and desultory putting to rights are only tranquil forerunners of the domestic spring upheaval. Many times the hands and the brains of the exemplary housewife have a spell of itching toward taking down the dust-hung curtains, or overhauling the attic or pulling apart the bedsteads. But common sense whispers, "save the strength" for the deluge of overturning and cleansing which is due when spring arrives in reality.

Eager as the exemplary ones are, they know that pneumonia lurks in the cold attic, that pulmonary germs fly in through the drenched casement and that it were better to delay the removal of blankets and bed coverings for yet a few days later. The exemplary ones have learned through experiences with croup, diphtheria and tonsilitis that it were better not to begin hauling up the carpets and putting in firefronts as yet.

Hence, a little cleaning up around the edges, a pottering and putting in time over trifles. Why not enjoy the lull before the rush begins? There are Easter openings and displays. Take the good of ease.

"All right, Molly," said the snake man meekly, "I'm a-comin'!"

A SOCIAL INVESTMENT.

It is good to witness the activity of the Duluth Playground association, and the liveliness of the public sympathy and support that attend its work for the common good. Playgrounds form the finest kind of social investment, and hardly any other sort of public service will make such rich returns in dividends.

Though you must put cash capital into playgrounds, just as you do into any other kind of investment, the returns are not in cash dividends, but in dividends of healthier and happier childhood, which means a healthier and more efficient manhood and womanhood in the future. In other words, investment in public playgrounds means an assured return in better citizenship.

EMPLOYES' IDEAS.

Smith and Jones are having a friendly chat over their evening pipes, about affairs in the manufacturing plant or the wholesale or retail house or the office in which both are employed. They fall into a discussion of methods, and Smith says something like this:

"You know how we handled such-and-such an order (or piece of material or transaction of some kind). Now, do you know, I think we could save time and trouble by doing it in this way," and he goes on to explain his idea for bettering the business. Jones perhaps agrees with with him, or seeing some flaw in his friend's reasoning, points out a place where his plan could be improved upon. The two men talk it over at some length, and finally agree that they have hit upon a scheme of some value.

And there the matter stops. Neither of them is in a position to put the new plan into effect, and both know that if they ventured to suggest it to the man above them they would meet with a rebuff in one form or another. And the business goes on in the old way, because these men who do the actual work, although they see the weak places, are not in position either to accomplish or suggest improvements.

That is not a fictitious supposition, it is a fact; and every man who ever has been employed knows it. The men in charge of big business establishments have their hands full already. They cannot take time to study out all these little details, and even if they could and did take that time, they could not see them as the men who actually do the work see them. It is safe to say that thousands of establishments that employ intelligent men lose by this fact every year. Not that they lose anything they already have, but they fail to get ideas that would be worth developing.

Recently the management of the Pennsylvania railroad company got to cogitating over this, and the result has been an offer to pay employes for ideas, provided they will "in any way advance the interests of the company, whether pertaining to improved mechanism, better office practice or other features." The value of the plan cannot but be apparent. It means that the employes will have an incentive to study their work for the company and the way in which it is done, and that they will be put into closer relations with their employers, a feature of immense value in itself. The man with an idea will have a chance to tell it to somebody who will be able to put it into practice, and the company will be the gainer.

Even better than this, in one respect, will be the impulse toward individualism that the plan will supply. Instead of being a mere bit of mechanism in the company machine, every employe will be on the alert for some method of improvement, knowing that if he discovers something really practical he will be the gainer. It means better workmen, better office employes. For it means a greater individual interest in the day's work.

To be sure there must be some place where the suggestions made by the employes can be sifted and analyzed, but that is hardly to be regarded as a drawback. The net result will be improvement in detail, and the company will be the gainer in every year of its continued operation. The Pennsylvania's plan is a good one. It will not be surprising if it is widely copied.

LYING TO THE FARMERS.

One of the things the American Protective Tariff league and its emissaries have been teaching the farmers of the country has been that the establishment of reciprocity with Canada under the terms of the agreement pending before the senate would result in robbing the Northwestern agriculturists of their dairy and egg market. It sounds plausible enough, and there have been many deceived by the statement. It is easy to imagine the vast area of Northwestern Canada given up to dairies and poultry farms, the produce from which will be shoved across the border to the detriment of the markets of the American farmer.

Investigation of a few facts bearing on these representations shows them to be of a piece with some of the other specious arguments of the high tariff crowd. For instance:

Canada last year sent 163,000 pounds of cheese to this country, but imported from the United States 215,000 pounds. In the same year, with a duty of 5 cents a gallon Canada sold in this country 742,000 gallons of cream, and yet there was no effect on prices. Cream is not a commodity that can be shipped long distances, and the proximity of the American farmer to the market should protect him from serious competition in that article.

The utter absurdity of the charge that the poultry raisers would be severely hurt by reciprocity is shown in a report issued last Saturday by the bureau of commerce and labor, dealing with the trade in eggs between the two countries. From this it appears that in the year ending March 31, 1911, Canada exported 164,835 dozen eggs, of which 39,917 came to the United States. On the other hand, the United States poultrymen sold to Canada 757,316 dozen eggs, more than were imported by that country from all the rest of the world. Indeed, China was Canada's second biggest source of egg supply, sending 87,075 dozen, and all other countries sending her only 7,688 dozen. That is, Canada imported 728,489 dozen more eggs than she exported, and got 717,399 dozen more from the United States than she sent to this country. Now every dozen eggs sent from this country to Canada —and there were 757,316 dozen—paid a duty at the boundary line of 3 cents. With the removal of that duty the Canadian market for the American product should be materially increased. Just for example: The duty of 3 cents a dozen on 757,316 dozen eggs amounted to $22,719.48. Suppose the price of eggs to be 30 cents a dozen, Canada paid enough duty on the eggs she imported from the United States last year to have bought up all but 12,000 dozen of her imports from China, or about 76,000 dozen.

As to the prices of eggs in this country and Canada, the report says:

> The wholesale prices of eggs in four American cities and four Canadian cities on a certain date were: Buffalo, N. Y., 36 cents; Ogdensburg, N. Y., 30 cents; Lancaster, N. H., 27 cents; Burlington, Vt., 27 cents. Toronto, Ont., 40 cents; Prescott, Ont., 32 cents; Sherbrooke, Que., 32 cents; Montreal, Que., 35 cents. This would make a general average of 30 cents per dozen in the American cities, and 34¾ cents in the Canadian cities.

There is just one big idea back of the opposition of the American Protective Tariff league to reciprocity, and that is that it means the end of the special privilege iniquity that has been fostered by the Republican party and that was repudiated by the people at the last election. That idea has led to the dissemination of deliberate falsehoods, trying to line up the farmers against reciprocity. "Uncle Joe" Cannon was recognized, while he was speaker, as the opponent of everything that looked like a reduction of the tariff. He is opposed to reciprocity now. Is he any less an advocate of high tariffs and special privilege now than he was when he held the gavel? Not a bit. Yet some of the Minnesota congressmen seemed to think he was, and there are indications that the two Republican senators from this state think so.

The deceptions of the high tariff crowd have worked with some of the farmers, but not with all of them. The campaign of deception has been on a par with the passage of the Payne bill, a fraud on the country.

THE DAYS OF LITTLE THINGS.

There is a hush in the great building. The clack and clatter of machines that have resounded through it for hour after hour and day after day for the last score of years have ceased. Doors that ordinarily have been in constant motion inward or outward hang idle. Chairs and benches where men and women have sat and labored are empty. Windows that at other times when the air was warm have been opened to let in the cooling breeze, now remain closed, and shades that have been altered to meet the advancing or receding rays of the suns of many days, hang unmoved, with thin coatings of fine dust accumulating on their surfaces. The buzzing of flies can be heard where such a sound has ordinarily been lost in the hum of industry and the occasional syllables of human voices.

In the main office there sits a man whose head rests upon his folded arms. His position as he leans forward upon the huge desk is one of absolute dejection. Occasionally his body moves as an involuntary sigh is breathed, and then for a few moments he remains motionless. There is no other person in the building, but the man's silence is as absolute as if he feared to disturb others about him who must not be disturbed. Once the head, matted with iron gray hair, moves as if the face might be revealed, but it sinks again and the posture remains unchanged.

It was what the world calls a "big" failure. He had attempted too much, that was all. And now, with wealth swept away, with the means of continuing the business removed, with hundreds of men and women, who had depended upon his employing them to get their livelihood, thrown into idleness, with everything swept away, indeed, except the love of his family and the honor that goes with absolute honesty and integrity, the man sat crushed and broken in spirit. He must begin again, but he knew in his heart that things could never be the same.

In an upper room, where the sun shines brightly in at the window upon the toys scattered about the floor, there stands in one corner a tiny trundlebed, and on it lies a small form, with the face buried in the pillow. The body heaves with bitter sobs and the head is raised occasionally while little hands wipe the tears from eyes red and swollen with crying. Downstairs a pleasant-faced and sweet-voiced woman is working on her sewing, occasionally humming a bit of a lullaby as she thrusts her needle through and through the fabric. On the floor beside her sits a baby pounding its toes with a rattle and crowing softly at the little knit shoes that cover its feet. Outside the birds are chirping, and on the doorstep sits a sleek cat, drowsily watching the antics of a couple of sparrows that give signs of alighting in the grass near the sidewalk.

But all this brightness only adds to the gloom that surrounds the little figure in the trundlebed upstairs. What is the trouble? Nothing much, as we grown folks reckon values. It was just this: Mother had promised to get her boy a ball while she was down town. She had been busy in the stores, and had forgotten all about the promise until she had started homeward on the car. She had explained all this to the little fellow, and had told him to "run along and play" and not to cry. And he had gone slowly outdoors, and then turned slowly back to the house and climbed slowly up the stairs to the little bed where he had sobbed out other sorrows and disappointments and heartaches.

No, it was nothing much—as we grownups reckon values. But to the boy it was a real sorrow. He had planned how he would play with that ball. He knew just how he would throw it, and how pussy would run after it and play with it, and how he would roll it across the walk and then chase it and pick it up and roll it again. And he would show it to his father and tell him all about the good times of the afternoon. He had pictured it all out as he sat on the steps and munched a slice of bread and butter and sugar that mother had left for him when she went down town. And now it was all over. Mother had said she would get him the ball "next time," but he knew in his heart that things could never be the same.

What are the little things? When we disappoint the children do we stop to think what that disappointment means to them? Is it easier for them to bear such sorrows than for us? And when does the day of little things become the day of big things? Who can tell?

AS SHE SLIPS SHE SLIDES

By SAVOYARD.

I believe it was Henry Watterson who separated the American electorate into two camps after this fashion: "The Democrats are damned fools and the Republicans are damned knaves." And the country accepted the definition, but preferred the scamp to the dolt. But things seem to have "changed since Betsy died." While holding on to their integrity, the Democrats appear to have acquired some sagacity, while the G. O. P. is still a damned rascal and is rapidly becoming a damned fool. General Grant used to say that the Republican party could commit any enormity, because the Democratic party would come along with both hands full of foolishness and force the people to incline to the G. O. P., or words of that import. Hence the donkey was fit emblem.

There is no doubt that many a Republican victory was due to Democratic mistakes. But the Democratic party is become safe and sane—everywhere except in the United States senate—and the Republican party is become gifted with a genius for blunder. After 1896 "God's patience and the king's English" were abused with a thousand suggestions looking to a "getting together" of Democrats. It was all worse than foolish, for how can honest men get together unless they think together? It was impossible to herd together Democrats who believed with Cleveland and Democrats who believed with Bryan on the issues that were paramount from 1896 to 1908; but the tariff is now again paramount, and Cleveland men and Bryan men think together about it and are got together in support of constitutional and honest taxation. True, there are Randallites and "near" protectionists in the Democratic ranks, but they are feeling mighty lonesome and they are getting mighty sick. There is no room in the Democratic party for these gentry. If they demand protection for their pet industries, let them be honest enough to assent to protection for all pet industries, North and South, East and West.

Just now we hear it, morning, noon and eve, that Republicans "must get together," and this conundrum is flung at us, "What is a Republican?" Is Aldrich one? Then what is Cummins? Is John Dalzell one? Then what is Victor Murdock? Is Joe Cannon a Republican? Then what will you name Robert M. La Follette? As long as the issue is taxation for monopoly these folk will never herd together. They would not if they could, and they could not if they would.

All of us recollect how oft the Democrats went through their grand stunt of "putting the Republicans in a hole," and how often it turned out that the Democracy fell into the hole. But now the tune is changed. Everywhere we hear that the Republicans are "fixin'" to "put the Democrats in a hole." No party ever thrived by any such methods. There is but one course for a party to pursue and that is to command the confidence of the country, just as there is but one way for an individual to walk—and that is to look the whole world in the face and know that you are an honest man.

Well, some peanut Republican statesmen in congress are going to put the Democrats in a hole by moving the "farmers' free list" as an amendment to Canadian reciprocity. These gentry take the people for fools. Their aim is to defeat reciprocity. They will have opportunity to vote for the free list as a separate measure; but they want it mixed. Then let 'em mix it over on the senate side, where they are in the majority.

A Mr. Hamilton, a statesman from Michigan, declares that the present extra session of congress will be known in history as the "anti-farmer session." The Hon. Hamilton is an amusing chap. A long time ago a famous man of letters from England came to the United States and delivered a series of lectures. He was a wizard for alliteration. I believe his name was Arnold. The newspapers were full of him, and it got to be that the news editors tore their hair fixing alliterative headlines, and it is possible that old Brother Burchard got the pattern of his "Rum, Romanism and Rebellion" from this man. Certain it is that "Sunset" Cox made a speech of 3,000 words in congress that was one string of alliteratives from beginning to ending, and a mighty dull speech it was, though made by the brightest man in congress.

In 1896, in defiance of the opinion of our greatest men of letters, Edgar Allan Poe, William Jennings Bryan introduced the epigram into American politics. At least he made it almighty prominent in our political oratory. This same Mr. Hamilton obtained a seat in congress in 1896, and one day I heard him make an enormous speech about politics, and it was an awful hour of epigram after epigram, Pelion on Ossa. Curiosity induced me to read it, freak that it was, and I found it even a poorer piece of oratory than Sunset Cox's alliteration. But Mr. Hamilton knows that the incorporation of the trade convention with Canada in the laws of congress will be a cruel blow to robber protection, and that's what's the matter with Hamilton.

Cannon, Dalzell, Fordney and other high priests of monopoly taxation instinctively oppose reciprocity with Canada for the reason that they feel that it is the beginning of the end of that enormity that forces one man to take of his substance to enrich another man, engaged in an industry that he admits is unprofitable unless he is given an advantage over his fellow man. Even Mr. Cummins says the taxes should be so laid that the manufacturer shall be insured a "reasonable profit." There never was a more vicious dogma. It is feudalism in economics. Who is going to insure a reasonable profit to the ditch digger, the railroad builder, the railroad operative, the lawyer, the doctor, the newspaper man, from devil in the composing room to editor in the sanctum? Who guarantees "reasonable profit" to the clergy, to the teacher, to the teamster, to the street sweeper, to the policeman, to the fireman, to public officials, to clerks and stenographers, and there are thousands of others who have to skirmish around and dig for a "reasonable profit" as best they can. These gentry are required to take of their earnings to make that reasonable profit for your Carnegies and other children of the tariff Cain, who "eat doubloons" and perspire water.

And hence your Socialist. Given a Steel Trust that is guaranteed such profits in our tariff laws that it sells cheaper abroad than at home, declaring dividends on stocks 70 per cent water—given that concern, you have a Socialist party now respectable in numbers, and as soon as the G. O. P. goes the way of its daddies, the Federalist, Whig and Know-Nothing parties, as soon it will, that Socialist party will be formidable, and ere the century is half done with this wicked world, it will be victorious and triumph until the invincible and immortal Democracy shall ultimately prevail and send it also to the graveyard where it belongs.

To my mind it is perfectly clear that the privilege laid in a protective tariff breeds socialism, and socialism is with us today, a most unwelcome and a dangerous guaranty. The one way to throttle this monster is to abolish its daddy, the protection in the tariff, and other privileges that are enjoyed by the "interests."

THE OPEN COURT.

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest. Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

ZENITH CITY IS OVERLOOKING A BET.

I have noticed a great deal in the papers of late about the great water carnival that is to be held here this season, and what had been said about the proposed decorations of the city.

I also remember a little of a mammoth electric sign that was to be placed upon the hill for the purpose of advertising Duluth.

Now, Mr. Editor, are we not losing a valuable opportunity to do the greatest piece of advertising any city ever possessed, by not taking advantage of our great and notorious aerial bridge? Why not devote a little money and have this superb piece of engineering properly lighted? Think of the effect to the tourist when coming to our harbor. Think of the value to the weary mariner, when on a stormy or foggy night to be given valuable assistance in making the harbor.

What are we doing to let such an opportunity pass? The lighting of the bridge would be a master stroke, as the city would receive more free advertising from visitors from that source than from all others. Our title of "Zenith City" is good, but by using the illuminated bridge, we could call ourselves the "Electrical City," which would be a big factor in bringing to our midst new enterprises. Light that bridge! Yours very truly,

J. H. DAVIS.

SYMPATHY FOR ONE'S NEIGHBORS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I have always been an admirer of your Open Court column and long intended to add a little of my hot air to the "vast sum" of human knowledge, so an article in the Friday paper entitled "Fair Day's Wage for Fair Day's Work" gave me an excuse to "say something." This story of Mr. Morgan's reminds me that there are always people ready to "kick" on their wages and treatment by the rich man (or employer), but seldom do they use the same energy in condemning the treatment they receive at the hands of their poorer, or ignorant neighbors. Until the rich (or employers) use a little better judgment and exercise a little more sympathy in their dealings with the poor, and the workers, middle class and poor use a little more sound sense and kindness in their dealings with each other, this country will remain an arena of groaning humanity, scratching and tearing for a living and the word "freedom" be a byword and a target for sarcasm by the average American.

G. W. McKAY.

Duluth, May 1.

PLAN HAS AT LEAST MERIT OF NOVELTY.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Now while the government is endeavoring to further the trade between the United States and Canada, let us help to warm Canada up. Can we do this? I do not think we can make Canada hot, but I do think that we can help her to grow warm. The water flowing out of the St. Lawrence river and its branches into the ocean helps to swell the sea and drives the warm gulf stream across to Europe. Why cannot this territory around the lakes be drained into the Mississippi river? The additional water running down the Mississippi will help to swell the gulf stream and the less down the St. Lawrence will tend to let the gulf stream come up the Canadian shore. But if this is not possible we can still help Canada grow warmer by draining all the small lakes and marshes so that instead of from two to four feet of ice to melt each spring their beds would be grassy or mossy basins for the sun to reflect in.

We get our heat from the sun reflecting on the earth and the better the conditions of the basins for the sun to reflect on the greater will be the heat. THOMAS EAMISON.

MEMORIES.

Haunt me no more with thy mournful gaze, oh spirit of the past!
For my heart sinks at the sad reproach, from thine eyes so plaintively cast
I have sinned, thou has sorrowed, I have earned their reproach
And remorse now troubles me sore.
Yet haunt me no more with thy mournful gaze. Thou spirit, dear, haunt me no more.

Yesterday—nay it were aeons since—hand in hand o'er the highways we roamed
Through brightness and gloom, by sunlight and moon, where the waves of the East sea moaned.
If the way was dark, thy love shone bright, thy voice sang a comforting lore,
So haunt me not now with so mournful a gaze
Thou spirit, dear, haunt me no more.

Hearest thou not that voice, spirit! a hush broods o'er land and sea
For the pine tree speaks, as it spoke love, only to you and to me,
'Twas a message from God to us dear and with bowed heads we drank it in.
Then was my soul like yours, spirit, chastened and purged of sin.

But the voice has gone. Thou, spirit, hast gone. There is nothing left but me.
Me and a bitter aching past, comfortless, none knowing me.
None knowing me as thou didst, none with thy love for me.
And tonight my spirit is seeking thy shade by the shores of that Eastern sea.

And the Eastern sea is brooding, and the sky is purple and gold
For the sun is sinking behind those hills which thy feet have trod of old.
I am floating, dear shade, o'er those waters. Thou art loving me more and more.
Oh God, do I dream! dear shade, for I seem to be skirting that beautiful shore.

I loved thee, dear, not kindly—only as dreamers do—
Passionate, cruelly, tenderly—a poet's love—fitful, yet true,
'Twas the only love I had to give, else it had never caused thee pain
Was the good God just—e'en the vulgar now count me something beneath their plane.

Vulgar hands now touch the poet's soul. Vulgar tongues speak of thee.
Vulgar men jest of a poet's love, known only to you and me.
Thou hast banished thyself from my presence, thou has stolen away in the night.
Thou hast gone—fare thee well! with thy shade I must dwell, by that sea in its sad fading light.

There, haunt me no more with so mournful a gaze, oh spirit of the past
For my heart sinks at the sad reproach from thine eyes so plaintively cast.
I have sinned, thou hast sorrowed. I have earned their reproach, and remorse now troubles me sore.
So haunt me no more with thy mournful gaze
Thou spirit, dear, haunt me no more.

Rochelle, N. Y., Register: Miss Edna Wohlgemuth was married on Tuesday of last week to a young gentleman from Oregon, the wedding taking place at the home of the bride's parents, the Rev. Smith of the Congregational church performing the ceremony.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

•••O. H. Simonds arrived in Duluth yesterday after a two months' business trip to New York in the interests of the Duluth Iron Car company, the Duluth Transfer Railway company and other enterprises of value to the Head of the Lakes. He was accompanied here by General Manager Matthews of the New York Iron Car Equipment company, who is largely interested in the Car company of Duluth. Mr. Simonds said it will probably take thirty days to determine what can be done regarding the reorganization of the Iron Car company. Work on the Duluth Transfer railway will be pushed this season.

•••It is stated on good authority that the bargain is virtually closed which conveys the Y. M. C. A. property on East Superior street to J. J. Costello. The consideration is about $17,000.

•••Mrs. W. E. Tyler and family, who have been visiting with Druggist Kirkwood, returned yesterday to their home in Republic, Mich.

•••A match was made last night between the two fast sprinters, Dave Phillips of West Superior and Harry McIlvaine of Duluth. They will race at the West Superior driving park on May 21 for a purse of $100, and Joe Dodge has been selected as stakeholder. The race will be for the championship of the Head of the Lakes.

•••Chris O'Brien, the St. Paul lawyer, and a party of sportsmen have gone to the Brule to take the chances of being arrested for breaking the new law in regard to trout fishing in that stream. Their object is to fight the law in the courts, which Mr. O'Brien believes will decide it to be unconstitutional.

•••The Tremont, a new hotel on the European plan, will be opened about May 20 in the new Long building at Lake avenue and Superior street. It will be conducted by John Gieriet, who has had twenty years' experience in the hotel business.

•••Ex-Postmaster Flynn returned to Duluth yesterday for a few days' visit. He and Mr. Dewey are doing well at Painesville, Ohio.

MINNESOTA OPINIONS.

Who's Playing Politics?

Winona Independent: Here is something that requires explanation. The Democratic majority in the house, having brought in and passed the Canadian reciprocity bill, is now accused of "playing politics" because it has introduced the "farmers' free list" bill which is mighty popular with the country, but which it is predicted the Republican senate won't pass. Why should the house be accused of playing politics? Why isn't it the senate that is to blame?

Not Going to Suffer.

Roseau Region: Hereafter the people will vote for United States senators. There has been a strong public demand for such a law for several years, and the people have now gotten what they have asked for and what they have a right to. Many have opposed this plan of electing senators, claiming that such a law does not do in practice what its advocates believe it will; but the people are willing to assume the responsibility, and it is safe to predict that they are not going to suffer under this new plan.

Lost, Strayed or Stolen?

Princeton Union: What has become of the state pure food commission? The reason we ask is that for a long time we have received no bulletins from the department setting forth that jars of jam, bottles of pickles, cans of pepper, etc., have been "arrested," lugged off to the laboratory, analyzed and found to contain adulterants which would hasten our shuffle off this mortal coil.

Or on the Doctors' Whiskers?

Madison Western Guard: Chicago doctors would shave the whiskers off the pussy cats because microbes roost thereon. What will hinder the microbe from taking a lodging place on the cat's tail when the whiskers are gone?

Indeterminate Sentences.

Buffalo Journal: Chapter 298 of the session laws provides for the indeterminate sentence for persons convicted of crime, except treason and murder. This is quite a drastic change in the law but the plan is strongly recommended by men who have been in touch with penal institutions and made a study of the criminal classes. Judges will no longer state for how many years a criminal shall be confined in prison, but simply impose a prison sentence just as he now does in a reformatory sentence. A parole board is credited with power to say when the convicted person may be released, and a pardon will follow good conduct. This, with the abolishment of hanging, is giving the criminal a good deal of consideration, and the experiment will be watched with interest throughout the country. House breaking has been properly classed as a grave offense and carried a heavy penalty. With the indeterminate sentence it is possible this crime will be more attractive than formerly, as good conduct in confinement is certain to be followed by parole. It occurs to us that as an experimental reform there should have been exceptions other than for murder and treason in the law.

Would Rule or Ruin.

Warren Register: The insurgents, who constitute but one-fourth of the Republican membership of the United States senate, want the earth and then some in committee assignments. They seem to be determined to rule or ruin the party, although they have received no mandate from the country to do either. This attempt of the tail to wag the dog should be sat down on hard. If the Washington dispatches are to be depended upon, the regulars are disposed to give the minority faction a square deal all around, in spite of former differences, but several of the more swell-headed insurgents are determined to hog it. All this is candy for the Democrats.

Might Have Done Worse.

Madison Independent Press: After all the legislature might have done worse. Some of the darn fool propositions that came before that body might have passed. The people of the state ought to be thankful that such a bunch of bronchos as composed the house were kept hobbled by the senate.

Pointed Paragraphs.

Chicago News: People who talk too much never talk well.

Wise is the popular man who doesn't overwork it.

Dead men tell no tales, but lots of tales are told about them.

A man's wife can always find some excuse for him if she wants to.

It's easier to make a woman talk than it is to induce her to think.

One thing the average man doesn't like to hear is the truth about himself.

Just because all flesh is grass, you are not justified in calling everybody a hayseed.

The love of money may be the root of all evil, but the love of baseball produces more rooters.

When you get into trouble most of your friends will say: "It's too bad," and let it go at that.

A pessimist is a man who refuses to enjoy his dinner today because he has no prospect of one for tomorrow.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

New York Press: Try raising flowers at home so as to appreciate that you can buy them in a shop.

A man is ten times as pleased with a bet he wins as he is with ten times as much that he earns.

The cook wants you to raise her wages because she can make good coffee and because she can't broil a steak just the same.

The fellow who wants to kiss a girl's little feet before she marries him doesn't seem so very much interested in kissing her lips after she does.

The later a man stays out at night the wiser it is for his wife to pretend she believes him when he says the next morning he came home early.

Taking No Chances.

London Opinion: Mistress (discussing the maid)—Yes, she's leaving to get married. I asked her to get the man to postpone it till I could get another maid, but she said she didn't feel well enough acquainted to ask him to do that!

A MOMENT WITH THE WITS.

Chicago Tribune: "Rivers, is yours a safety razor?"

"It is now. I haven't used it for two years."

Puck: Maybe all men are liars, but some reticence in regard to your views on the subject is often wise.

Judge: "Do you believe a man's character can be judged from his handwriting?"

"Yes, if his letters are read in court."

Lousville Courier-Journal: "He takes a cold bath every morning—a very remarkable man."

"Plenty of men do that."

"But I knew him for five years before he ever mentioned the fact."

Louisville Courier-Journal: "I spoke in favor of good roads," said the candidate.

"And what did your opponent say to that?"

"He immediately spoke in favor of better roads. That fellow is a shrewd, dangerous man."

Boston Transcript: Mother—I gave you a nickel yesterday to be good, and today you are just as bad as you can be.

Willie—Yes, ma; I'm trying to show you that you got your money's worth yesterday.

Chicago Tribune: Miss Gushwell—I like grand opera in Italian so much better than in English! Don't you?

Musical Critic—Oh, yes; unless you understand Italian, or follow the translation in the libretto closely, you don't need to find out what awful rot it is.

Cleveland Leader: "Ah, little boy, I'm glad you didn't laugh when that poor man slipped on a banana and fell down."

"Boo-hoo-hoo! It was my father!"

"Cheer up, little man—he's not badly hurt."

"I don't care—hope he is—boo-hoo! It was my banana he slipped on!"

Harper's Weekly: "So she doesn't return your affection, eh? Well, I shouldn't get mad about that. What's the use of bothering about a girl," said Watkins.

"I don't mind her not returning my affections," said Dobbleigh, "but, confound it, she won't return by diamond ring either!"

MANY MAY DAY RIOTS

One Cleveland Man Is Shot and Three Stabbed in New York.

Chicago Sees New Strikes Begun—Red Flag in Boston.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 2.—A riot by strikers and non-union men in which one man was shot and several minor walkouts marked May day in Cleveland. About 3,000 Socialists, including 1,000 women, held a mass meeting with addresses in the public square followed by a parade this afternoon.

A crowd of men, sympathizers of the union workers who are on strike, attacked non-union iron workers employed by the Van Dorn Iron Works company in building a bridge over Walworth run. A number of shots were exchanged and stones and other missiles were thrown. C. L. Bunn, a private detective, who was guarding the iron workers, was shot in the head. Several of the bridge builders were injured by stones.

Thirty-five marble setters' helpers at work on a new building quit work as a demonstration of sympathy for Chicago helpers, who are on strike.

Three Persons Stabbed.

New York, May 2.—The scheduled strike of machinists for an eight-hour day, a walk out of 1,000 bakers, two big parades and half a dozen smaller ones, marked the passing of May day in labor circles here. The machinists' strike was conducted quietly and without violence. Approximately 10,000 men walked out, local labor leaders say. A free-for-all fight in which three persons were stabbed, broke up one of the parades.

Several thousand paraders in Brooklyn, marching behind a red flag which preceded an inverted United States flag, were halted by the driver of a milk wagon who blocked the right of way with his vehicle. The police upheld him and caused the righting of the flag.

Railway Employes Strike.

Chicago, May 2.—Maintenance of way employes of six railroads, numbering 2,500 men, struck last night when their demands for recognition of the union and a wage increase were refused. The total number of men involved in strikes and lockouts as a result of the May day labor troubles is estimated at 12,000. The men out include 2,500 railroad men, 2,500 brickmakers, 6,000 in the building trades, 600 marble workers and 700 in miscellaneous small unions.

The maintenance of way strike was ordered when roads refused to make a general contract with the employes of the six roads. The roads are: Illinois Central terminal, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul terminal, Baltimore & Ohio terminal, Chicago Junction railroad, Western Indiana Belt railroad, Indiana Harbor Belt railroad.

At the request of the railroads, twenty-five details of policemen were sent to guard the property involved.

Twenty-five hundred brickmakers belonging to thirteen locals of the International Brick Workers' alliance struck for a wage increase.

The building trades have been upset by labor difficulties for several months and only a few additional workmen went out.

Red Flag in Boston.

Boston, Mass., May 2.—The red flag of Socialism was waved through the streets of Boston last night and from the pulpit of Tremont temple, while crowds listened to denuncitalons of capitalism. Resolutions denouncing the arrests in the Los Angeles dynamiting cases were adopted unanimously.

Congressman Victor L. Berger of Milwaukee, as the principal speaker, declared American troops had been sent to Texas for "the sake of John P. Morgan and his crew." In ten years, he declared, the United States senate and the supreme court would be abolished and supplemented by the referendum. Robert Hunter of New York and George H. Goebel of New Jersey were other speakers.

FISHER TO SIT IN CUNNINGHAM CASE

Secretary of the Interior to Hear Testimony Himself.

Washington, May 2.—Secretary of the Interior Fisher has agreed to sit with Commissioner Dennett of the general land office, and members of the law board, in the hearing of the so-called Cunningham cases, involving the right to certain claims in Alaska, here next Monday. The decision which will be rendered after the hearing will be that of Commissioner Dennett. Secretary Fisher purposes to prevent the repetition of labor and expense incident to presenting the cases should it be decided to appeal to him from the decision of Commissioner Dennett.

Attorney E. C. Hughes of Seattle, for the claimants, in suggesting this course, wrote to Secretary Fisher that "public interest demands as speedy a determination of this controversy as may be consistent with justice and with the orderly dispatch of the business of your department."

The letter asked that "either by a separate or concurring opinion you render a final decision as upon appeal," and explained that the purpose of the request "is not to avoid a decision by the commissioner.

BRYAN REFUSES TO HEED UNIONS' REQUEST.

Des Moines, Iowa, May 2.—William J. Bryan refused to remain away from the laying of the cornerstone of the Y. M. C. A., building yesterday afternoon, although asked to do so by the Des Moines Building Trades council. In a formal protest to Mr. Bryan the unions declared that the Y. M. C. A building is being constructed by non-union men. Mr. Bryan stated that he was not aware of the union difficulty until the letter was received, and that he could not at that late houre decline to take part in the cornerstone ceremonies.

MEN TO SMOKE—NOT WOMEN.

Mrs. Belmont's Associate Explains Plans That Led to Misunderstanding

New York, May 2.—Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont is indignant at a report that she intends to have a smoking room in her new suffrage headquarters. Mrs. Ida Husted Harper, who is associated with Mrs. Belmont, said that far from countenancing smoking among women Mrs. Belmont opposes it.

"What she wants to do in her headquarters for the Political Equality association is to have a lunch room, where delicious luncheons may be served for 25 cents. As there are as many men who patronize such lunch rooms as women Mrs. Belmont's idea is to have it an out-of-door or garden lunch, where men may smoke if they wish to do so. No thought of a woman smoking ever entered Mrs. Belmont's mind."

Easy Way to Improve Your Health

(From Current News.)

Sickness and ill health almost invariably come from impurities in the blood which, at the approach of warm weather cause spring fever, loss of energy and vitality, sallowness, pimples, poor appetites and other evidences of a deranged system.

At small expense these disorders can easily be corrected by taking a good, reliable tonic. For the restoration of energy and good health, and positive relief from spring ailments, no better remedy can be found than this valuable tonic: Get an ounce of kardene and one-half pint alcohol at any drug store and mix with one-half cup sugar. When dissolved add hot water to make a quart. Take a tablespoonful before each meal and in a short time you will be surprised at the splendid health-restoring qualities of this old-fashioned remedy. It is the best system-cleansing, blood-purifying tonic known.

MAXWELL IS OFF THE COMMISSION

Former Express Company Attorney Declines Taft's Appointment.

Washington, May 2.—Lawrence Maxwell of Cincinnati, has asked President Taft to relieve him in his duties as a member of the postal commission and the president has agreed to do so. Mr. Maxwell withdrew from the commission because he feared that past services as counsel for express companies would embarrass the administration, the commission and himself.

Supreme Court Justice Hughes and President Lowell of Harvard, the other two members of the commission, met with the president and heard Mr. Maxwell's letter. It is expected the president will soon select Mr. Maxwell's successor.

Society Writer Disabled.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The removal of the cap over the wheels of a street car resulted rather seriously for Miss Frances Owen, society editor of the Herald. When leaving the car her heel was caught in the wheel through the opening and her ankle was so badly wrenched that she will be disabled for some time.

INQUISITIVE JUROR HALTS WIRELESS TRIAL.

New York, May 2.—The trial of officials of the United Wireless company in the United States circuit court for alleged misuse of the mails was halted abruptly yesterday afternoon by the defense's objection to a question put to a witness by Juror Joseph Wolf. The objection was sustained, the court dismised the jury for the day and prepared to dismiss the offending juror and fill his place. The question asked was:

"How is it that you have been able to answer every question put you by Mr. Stanchfield"—of counsel for the defendant "while your memory was short when you were asked questions by the government?"

O'DEA STILL IN THE LEAD

Latest Decision in Long Distance Land Contest in His Favor.

Arthur O'Dea, former baseball manager and now deputy sheriff, still leads in his fight for a homestead in section 34, 57-9, up in the Beaver bay country. The Duluth land office received notice yesterday that its decision in favor of O'Dea had been sustained by the commissioner of the general land office. An appeal to the secretary of the interior may be taken by Axel Lundgren, the other party to the case.

O'Dea and Lundgren filed on the same quarter section on the first day of an opening, Nov. 13, 1906. O'Dea's application was filed at 9:27 a. m., while Lundgren's was timed 10:20 a. m. Lundgren contested O'Dea's right to the land, claiming prior settlement. The case has now been in litigation nearly five years, having been heard at the local land office five times. This last decision gives O'Dea the advantage.

ENGINEER EMPLOYED

Minneapolis Man Will Supervise Building of Woodland Sewer.

Millwood Must Not Be Piled Adjacent to Residences.

Prof. Frederick Bass sent a communication to the council last evening, stating that under the state law it will be impossible for him to take active personal charge of the construction of the proposed Woodland sewer, but recommending the appointment of John Wilson of Minneapolis.

Acting upon his recommendation and the statement of H. B. Fryberger, chairman of the Woodland committee which recently took an interest in the matter, the council authorized his employment at a salary of $200 a month, the cost to be assessed against the property owners as part of the cost of the sewer. Some objection was made to this, but City Attorney Fesler assured the council that it was a legitimate charge against the property owners.

Alderman William Bernard introduced an ordinance intended to prohibit the piling of large quantities of millwood in the West end adjacent to large numbers of residences. Considerable complaint has been made of this practice, particularly at Twenty-fourth avenue west and Superior street, and the ordinance is designed to put an end to it. There is little doubt but that it will pass without serious objecton.

The lodging house ordinance was introduced last night after a considerable delay. It was drawn by the city attorney with the assistance of the health commissioner, and calls for greatly improved living conditions in the lodging houses of the city. Many of them are in extremely bad shape, being without proper light, ventilation, bedding and sanitation.

The mayor brought the smoke nuisance up to the council again. He referred in a communication to the great necessity for regulation of the stacks of the city and urged that an ordinance which will check them be passed. The mayor also urged some action which will compel the street railway to lay the dust which is raised by their cars. The power of the city to make this regulation has been brought before the state supreme court by the city officials of St. Paul and is now pending. It was originally set for hearing before the death of the late Judge Jaggard, and was reset the latter part of last month.

A petition was received from the residents near Fourteenth avenue east and Sixth street protesting against allowing the erection of a skating rink at that location. They asserted that it is a purely residence section and that the rink will be a nuisance.

The library board sent the council a letter explaining that the stockroom shelvage has been exhausted and asking that its capacity be increased. When the building was erected provision was made for the installation of twice the present number of shelves in the stockroom.

The city engineer and the board of public works sent in a statement relative to the cost of operating an automobile as compared with two horses and rigs. It was stated that the horses would cost the city $50 to $60 a month for maintenance, and several statements were appended showing that the auto would be cheaper. It was stated that a driver for the machine would be necessary, but that he could be made useful by making him an inspector.

Alderman Wharton announced that the committee on ordinances and resolutions, of which he is chairman, would meet with the residents of West Duluth relative to the establishment by the Soo road of a depot in that end of the city, a week from next Saturday, May 13. The Soo took over the franchise of the Wisconsin Central, which contained a provision that the depot should be erected.

A resolution was passed calling for the expenditure of $3,000 on the Getchell road at West Duluth and $2,000 for the improvement of the Sundby road, which enters the city in the Second ward. Both lead to farming communities back of the city and it is considered highly important that they be put in shape for travel at the earliest possible moment.

The assessment for the paving of Grand avenue between Fifty - fourth and Fifty - ninth avenues west was again postponed on motion of Alderman Barnes. This assessment has been postponed probably more times than any which has come before the council for several years. It was extended until June 25, without penalty, last night.

The health commissioner was authorized to advertise for bids for a garbage wagon and another horse and harness for the extension and improvement of the municipal collection of garbage, the total cost not to exceed $100.

The combined bid of G. A. Fernald & Co. and Kuhn, Fisher & Co. of Boston for $200,000 of water and light bonds was approved. They offered a premium of $4,180, with accrued interest.

City Attorney Bert Fesler protested in behalf of the Lakeside residents against granting a license to Condon & Culver for a merry-go-round until a long line of billboards which are an eye sore to the community has been removed. The matter was laid over one week for investigation.

A resolution was passed making it the sense of the council that no circus licenses be granted July 20, 21 and 22, on which days the big water carnival will be held in this city.

An ordinance was introduced prohibiting persons under 21 years of age from loitering in pool halls. The present ordinance makes persons over 18 years of age exempt, although proprietors can be arrested for allowing persons under 21 years of age to play in their places.

The resolution of Alderman Wharton citing Dunlop & Thatcher to appear before the council next Monday to show cause why their license should not be revoked was voted down by a vote of 8 to 8. Nine votes would have been necessary to carry the resolution, that number being a majority of the council. Aldermen Wharton and Scott severely criticized the place, declaring that the council should not allow it to continue in business. Alderman Hoar, chairman of the police and license committee, stated that the present proprietors have sold their business to M. Lynch and that he was so well and favorably known in the ward, that there could be no doubt but that he would conduct the saloon properly.

EXPRESS PROFITS IN STATE LARGE

Using Company's Method of Figuring Shows Annual Profit of 52 Per Cent.

St. Paul, Minn., May 2.—Attorney General Simpson and Rate Expert C. W. Hillman sprung one on the attorneys for the Wells-Fargo Express company yesterday afternoon at the hearing before the railroad commission that made them sit up and take notice. The company's attorneys had objected to the state's method of figuring, by which it was claimed that the company was making 20 per cent on its investment on the intrastate business. They suggested another basis, and the state, taking that basis, figured that the company was making nearly 37 per cent on its investment.

Hillman had at first figured the value of the investment used in the intrastate business on the "use" basis, figuring that part of the company's property that was used for local business as the investment used for intrastate business. On this basis he found the earnings from intrastate business over 19 per cent.

The company's attorneys said that the intrastate business investment should be figured on the earning basis; that is, taking the same portion of the company's total investment in the state as the intrastate business bore to the whole business in the state. Hillman figured that on this basis the investment used in intrastate business was $49,432 in Minnesota. The gross earnings for August and December, 1909, were $39,916, and, after deducting the railroads' share the operating expenses and taxes, there was a net revenue of $3,519, or $19,097 for the year. This would be 36.63 per cent on the estimated investment.

Mr. Hillman also figured that, taking the total of the intrastate with the state's proportion of the interstate business, the company was making 52.01 per cent on its investment in Minnesota.

FIRE LOSS LESS THAN $3,000,000

Bangor Citizens Are Planning to Rebuild City at Once.

Bangor, Me., May 2.—Between $2,500,000 and $3,000,000 will cover the financial loss of the fire which destroyed approximately 285 residences and about 100 business structures in this city. No official estimate of the loss has yet been made, but insurance agencies involved estimate that they will lose 60 per cent, or about $1,500,000. The insurance men say they cannot complete their tabulations for several days.

That the "Queen City of the East" will rise undiscouraged from her ashes, without the necessity of asking for outside help, is the sentiment expressed by Mayor Charles W. Mullen and representative citizens. Most of those who lost property are well-to-do and only seventy-five families are reported destitute.

Search was made of the ruins for possible victims and has resulted in only two accounted for as dead. The body of John N. Scribner, who was buried beneath a wall, was recovered, and George Abbott, a volunteer fireman, who was felled by a chimney, died at a hospital. Only a few were injured and none seriously.

Armed troops patrolled the streets last night under orders to shoot in case of palpable looting. The city was in darkness, the electric service being still out of commission, electric cars have not run since Sunday afternoon, and the local telephone service is prostrated. The city hall and jail are the only important public buildings left standing.

Among the heavy losers was the University of Maine. Classes were suspended yesterday, owing to the work of the students at the fire, but arrangements were made for resuming the law courses soon.

TRACTS SELECTED TO BE RECLAIMED

New State Reclamation Board Plans to Begin Work in Northern Minnesota.

St. Paul, Minn., May 2.—The reclamation board created by the last legislature to reclaim lands for settlement purposes met at the state capitol yesterday and elected William J. Brown of Warren as chairman. The other two members of the committee are W. R. Mackenzie of Bemidji and A. J. McGuire of Grand Rapids. They also selected ten 40-acre tracts of land at Two Harbors in Lake county; Floodwood in St. Louis county; Grand Rapids in Itasca; Northome or Littlefork in Koochiching county; Blackduck in Beltrami county; Tamarack in Aitkin county; Pine River in Cass county; Akeley in Hubbard county; Warroad in Roseau county and Holt or Middle River in Marshall county, on which to start work.

WICKERSHAM TALK BITTER

Attorney General Denounces Progressive Principles of Government.

Makes Attack at Banquet Where Woodrow Wilson Is Guest.

Princeton, N. J., May 2.—Diners at the thirteenth annual banquet of the Daily Princetonian last night listened to one of the principal speakers tearing to shreds the very things which another honored guest had urged ever since his election as governor of the state of New Jersey. Attorney General Wickersham in his address, preceding that of Governor Wilson, scored the recall and referendum and ridiculed the so-called progressive movements of the government.

"We are in truth a law-ridden people," declared the attorney general, "and this tendency is encouraged and stimulated by those who seek popular favor by pointing to easy remedies for obvious ills. Not satisfied with the ever swelling volume of statute laws, we are now urged to tinker with the Constitution. There is nothing new in this kind of demagoguery.

"There is much clamorous advocacy of measures to limit the powers of those charged with the administration of our highly complicated government, and to increase the direct intervention of the public in the conduct of its operations.

Says Idea is False.

"The idea that a busy, prosperous, commercial people will, or can, make or administer laws better than representatives chosen from among the people for the purpose, is one that is as old as recorded history, and all recorded history proves its fallacy."

Mr. Wickersham referred to the rapid development of the country, the building of the railroads, the era of centralization in business, when commercial empires were formed, and said it was no wonder that materialism became rampant, and that the golden calf was erected for worship in the market places.

Governor Wilson, who followed Attorney General Wickersham, made no reference in his address to the thrusts at progressives.

The governor's topic was "Princeton's Ideals." He twice referred in his address to the "frauds and the steals connected with the capitol at Harrisburg" and said that "the men connected with these wrongs who suffered most were not those sent to jail, but those who committed suicide and who, through exposure, sustained the contempt of their fellow citizens."

College Press Men Talk.

Among those who responded to toasts beside the attorney general and Governor Wilson were J. M. Holcombe, Jr., of the Yale News; F. C. Nugent, Jr., of the Harvard Crimson, and G. O. Winslow of the Cornell Sun.

GULL LAKE DAM WORK

Coffer Dam at Big Government Job Finished; Pile Driving Started.

By Middle of June Cement Work on Big Undertaking Will Begin.

Brainerd, Minn., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The coffer dam at the Gull lake government dam has been finished. Near it the piling will be driven and a start has been made at the excavation work. George Snetsinger is the superintendent in charge of the work.

Tracks are being laid to carry away the soil excavated and four small locomotives will haul away the strings of dump cars. There is a steam pile driver on the place, steam stone crusher and a steam cement or concrete mixer. It will probably be about June 15 that the cement work will be on in full blast when the largest crew of men will be employed. This project of the government will be one of the biggest dams in this section of the country.

D., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Ethel Hawes, the teacher who horse-whipped Howard Wasson, a Northern Pacific brakeman whom she claimed insulted her, and Amos Welch and Charlie Lynch, arrested for taking part in the affair by holding the victim that he might receive the lashes, have secured bail of $500 and all will be tried at Washburn in June.

PUSHING WORK ON BIG CHIPPEWA DAM

Arpin Lumber Company Has Large Force Working South of Radisson, Wis.

Conderay, Wis., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—L. J. Ule of the Ule Construction company and Engineer Cowles, who has charge of building the huge concrete dam that the Arpin Lumber company of Grand Rapids, Wis., is erecting across the Chippewa river south of Radisson, six miles from here, have started construction work again for the summer.

They are getting in a large crew of men and will complete the concrete walls in about four weeks. A large steam shovel will soon be put at work to dig the canal or flume from the dam to the foot of the rapids where the enormous power plants and pulp mills will be erected. This is the third year that the dam has been under construction and the present plans are to have it completed this summer.

The Arpin Lumber company landed several million feet of logs at the dam this winter and expect to extend their railroad from Exland to the dam this summer. The survey has been completed.

GAMBLING JOINTS RAIDED.

Dupree, S. D., Far From Courts, Being Cleaned Up.

Dupree, S. D., May 2.—Dupree, the county seat of Ziebach county, was the scene of a well-planned raid on the gambling establishments that have been running since the town was placed on the map. Sheriff Hays Milton and Deputy George H. Gregory secured warrants from a local justice, and taking a number of bystanders went to the places in which the gambling was conducted. It was a lucky time for the officers. They found several games running in full blast. The proprietors of the places were placed under arrest, and the names of all persons present were taken. Gambling apparatus to the value of over $500 was confiscated by the officers, and the sheriff now has the material for a complete gambling outfit.

Dupree has acquired an evil reputation, due to the fact that the nearest justice of the peace or other police officer was 125 miles away. By reason of the lack of regulations, resorts of various kinds gathered in, and the results were disastrous to the name and fame of the town, and the public is almost unanimous in supporting the actions of its newly elected officers and in demanding that every possible effort be made to correct the impressions that have gone abroad.

The outrage it thought to be the result of election troubles this spring, there being two factions in Sugar Camp. Mr. Tripp was active in the campaign. The damage done will exceed $10,000.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—John R. Barker, the North Dakota pioneer, after whom the township and village of Johnstown was named, died quite suddenly here from an attack of heart failure. He was 68 years old and owned one of the finest 1,200-acre farms in the Northwest. He has held several township and school offices and last fall was the Republican candidate for treasurer of Grand Forks county. He is only survived by his second wife, who was formerly Mrs. Lou M. Kendall of Minneapolis.

The remains were shipped last evening to his old home at Wellsborough, Pa., and interment will be made by the side of his parents in the family lot. The Masonic lodge had charge of the short funeral services here.

MANY VIOLENT DEATHS.

Five Recorded in Copper Country in Forty-Eight Hours.

Calumet, Mich., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—In the forty-eight hours ending yesterday there were five violent deaths in the Copper country. One of the sensational deaths was that of Joseph Ryback, aged 52, who died as a result of being struck by F. D. Petermann's automobile, as told briefly in Monday's Duluth Herald. According to the statement of witnesses of the affair Ryback was largely accountable for his fate as it is claimed he lurched against the machine as it was passing, receiving injuries that proved fatal.

While trying to save the life of his comrade, Jacob Karppinan, 28 years old, a miner at the Quincy mine, fell from a ladder a distance of 240 feet and was fatally injured, dying yesterday morning. His companion fell through the earth mill and was badly injured.

Matt Paskvan, aged 27, while trying to board an ascending rock car in the Allouez mine Sunday night was instantly killed by falling beneath the wheels.

WISCONSIN BALL PLAYER DIES FROM INJURY.

Portage, Wis., May 2.—William Wolsiegel, one of the popular young men of Cambria, and a well known baseball player throughout the state, died at Bentley hospital here as the result of being run over by the Portage and Horicon passenger train at Cambria Saturday morning. He with several other men were engaged in leading horses on a car when the accident happened. Both legs were mangled and crushed, and he was brought to the Bentley hospital here in a special train in hopes of saving his life. He was 35 years of age, unmarried, and a son of Adam Wolsiegel.

The suit was brought by Miss Ettie Harman alleging malpractice in the treatment of an eye and she now says that the matter preyed upon her mind until she decided to right the wrong.

AS TO ASSIGNING OF MINNESOTA BISHOPS.

Winona, Minn., May 2.—The college of bishops of the M. E. church has decided not to change the method of assignment of bishops. They considered the suggestion that the bishops be assigned to territories bounded by specified geographical lines for a certain period of years, but decided that assignments will be made as heretofore, and the bishops sent to conferences as the occasion and developments demand. HEALTHY MOTHERS

Women who bear children and remain healthy are those who prepare their systems in advance of baby's coming. Unless the mother aids nature in its pre-natal work the crisis finds her system unequal to the demands made upon it, and she is often left with weakened health or chronic ailments. No remedy is so truly a help to nature as Mother't Friend, and no expectant mother should fail to use it. It relieves the pain and discomfort caused by the strain on the ligaments, makes pliant and elastic those fibres and muscles which nature is expanding, prevents numbness of limbs, and soothes the inflammation of breast glands. The system being thus prepared by Mother's Friend dispels the fear that the crisis may not be safely met. Mother's Friend assures a speedy and complete recovery for the mother, and she is left a healthy woman to enjoy the rearing of her child. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

FACTS ABOUT RHEUMATISM

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Cure the Disease Because They Make New, Rich Blood.

There is a great deal still to be learned about the cause of rheumatism but one fact now stands out prominently—the rapid thinning of the blood from the beginning of the attack. This may be one of the causes of the disease or one of its effects but it is known that anything which will build up the blood during an attack of rheumatism will cure the trouble. Such a remedy, either attacks the cause or counteracts its harmful effects and enables the system to throw it off. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills owe their curative effect to this action.

Rev. W. R. Brock, of Berwyn, Okla., in telling of his experience, says:

"When I was a boy of about twelve years, I had what a boy seldom has —rheumatism. I had been in bad health for some months and was taken out of school on account of it. But I kept getting worse and at one time could hardly get around. This, I suppose, undermined my health and was the cause of the later troubles which afflicted me.

"Some years ago I had liver trouble which finally caused a chronic diarrhoea. This in itself was very weakening but, in addition to that, my stomach refused hearty food, I had a severe pain in my side almost all of the time and, when I walked any distance, I became out of breath, with a feeling of burning at the heart. My head and limbs would ache fearfully, especially at night. Then my rheumatism came on again and, later, I had a dry hacking cough.

"I was under the care of two physicians but, although the tonics they gave me seemed to do me good for a while, the effect was only temporary. A friend in Texas, some years before, had told me of the benefit he had received from Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, but I thought then I would trust to the doctors. However, doctors were not helping me and finally I was induced to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills by an advertisement in a paper. I took them and eight boxes cured me."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are for sale at all druggists, or will be mailed to any address, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

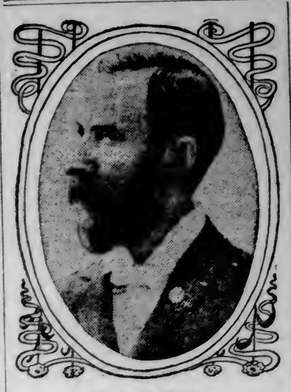
WOMEN LEAD MAY DAY PARADE OF 2,000 NORTHERN MINNESOTA SOCIALISTS

March From Courthouse Square to Lincoln Park Pavilion.

Prominent Speakers of Party Address Audience on Workers' Problems.



J. A. KEYES.

MORRIS KAPLAN.

Socialists of Duluth and its vicinity held the biggest demonstration in the history of the party in this neighborhood when they observed May day last evening. Nearly 2,000 Socialists, including 100 women, of Duluth, Superior, Two Harbors and Cloquet, marched from courthouse square, Fifth avenue west and First street to Lincoln park in the West end.

The crowd gathered in the pavilion and listened to speeches. Mayor Alexander Halliday of Two Harbors, Minn., presided. Thomas J. Lewis, one of the national organizers of the party who has been assigned to this state, delivered the principal address. Other speakers were John A. Keyes and Morris Kaplan of Duluth. Mr. Keyes is national committeeman from this state and Mr. Kaplan has been a candidate for mayor and various other offices.

The parade was formed at 7:30 o'clock in the evening. Led by a band, "Old Glory" and the red flag of Socialism, emblematic of the red blood of men everywhere and signifying the common brotherhood of man, the procession moved east on First street to Lake avenue to Superior street and west on Superior street to Lincoln park.

The women marchers, it was expected, might be compelled to board street cars before the procession had reached its destination. They were in good form, however, and only a few left the ranks. The parade recruited strength as it passed through the streets and there were more people in line when it reached Lincoln park than when it left courthouse square.

Mayor Halliday of Two Harbors spoke briefly, telling of the success of Socialism in Two Harbors. The Socialists dominate the municipal government of that town. Two Harbors has a large voting population recruited from railroad, shop and ore dock employes. A majority of these are members of the Socialist party and they control the municipal government.

Thomas J. Lewis said working men should belong to the Socialist party because it is trying to strike the shackles of economic slavery from their bodies. The working man, he declared, is only using his muscles and is not making use of his brains. He said the working man receives only one-fifth of that which he produces and that the capitalist receives the other four-fifths.

The large demonstration of Socialists, he declared, "threw a scare" into the capitalistic citizens of this town. A few years ago when Socialists held meetings here, the attendance was about a dozen and a yellow dog. Now, thought the speaker, the other fellow is getting the twelve and the yellow pup.

Socialists Not Anarchs.

He assailed those people who term Socialists as anarchs. He said the anarchistic class included such men as Rockefeller, Morgan and Gould and the predatory rich who dominate the two big political parties. Mr. Lewis declared that organized greed and special privilege as exemplified by the Rockefellers, Morgans and Goulds must be fought, not with cannons and guns, but with "our brains."

Socialists were criticized by him because they have held in the background. He said Socialists should assert themselves and should be a militant party. He declared Socialists should leave their alleys and their lofts and place their standards over city halls. When Socialism is triumphant, he said, everybody will be compelled to go to work. A duke won't stand any more chance of getting out of work than a banker, brewer, hobo or crook.

Morris Kaplan spoke briefly upon the recent "kidnaping" of J. J. McNamara, secretary of the Structural Iron workers, who was taken from Indianapolis to Los Angeles by the strong-arm method to plead to a charge of complicity in the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building. He said that a government confessed incompetency when it was forced to hire private detectives to catch criminals. He urged working men to stand together in the fight against capitalism and special privilege.

Mr. Kaplan said Representative N. S. Hillman of Two Harbors, a Socialist, introduced more bills for the benefit of the working man than any other member of the last legislature. He said he believed that Duluth will be Socialistic within two years.

John A. Keyes said that he had not expected to speak, as Charles E. Mahoney, vice president of the Western Federation of Miners, was expected to deliver the address, but the latter was unable to be present. He referred to the McNamara case and said that it was not necessary to express any opinion at the present time as to the guilt or innocence of the men who had been seized and charged with the crime of dynamiting the Times building, but that the method of their seizure and removal to Los Angeles was an outrage on Americanism and an outrage on the citizenship of the country and if capitalism dared to make an issue of that kind in the United States it would find itself up against a proposition that would wipe it from America quicker than any other program.

He said the essence of Socialism is the social production and distribution of the products of labor, that equality of opportunity might finally be established; that Socialism is a natural evolutionary process out of capitalistic production and distribution and that no power above earth or beneath could hinder the coming of co-operative toil.

He said that all men could do is to give that change a sane direction and if they failed of their duty it is liable to come by force and turmoil, which would be most undesirable. He said that the Socialists are now preparing to organize themselves into a solid and compact body that will be efficient when it becomes necessary to take possession of the function of government which, he thought, will be in the near future.

TO MEET BEHIND CLOSED DOORS

Trades Assembly Will Not Welcome Visitors at Future Meetings.

At the last meeting of the Federated Labor and Trades assembly it was decided that in the future the meetings will be closed.

Heretofore the assembly has maintained open meetings. The assembly has been in existence a number of years and has always adhered to this policy.

From now on all the publicity will be given out by a committee consisting of S. S. McDonald and James Walsh.

OPEN BIDS FOR NEW FIRE HALL

East End Hillside District Will Have Better Protection.

The board of fire commissioners will meet late this afternoon at the office of the mayor to open bids for the proposed site of the new hillside fire hall in the Second ward. It will be located in the neighborhood of Seventh or Eighth streets and between Fourth and Sixth avenues east. It is estimated that it will cost from $1,000 to $1,500.

The district has been growing rapidly and the need of additional fire protection has been felt for some time past. Probably no part of the city has had as much of a building boom as that on the hillside. For the last year or more permits by the score have been issued for frame dwellings and cottages, costing all the way from $500 to several thousands. A new division has been opened in that vicinity and an extension of the street car system, it is expected, will be made this year.

IRONWOOD NOTES.

Basket Ball Team Is Formed—Other Late Happenings.

Ironwood, Mich., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The regular baseball season will open here May 14, when Hurley and Ironwood will meet on the Ironwood grounds. A practice game will be played between the regulars and the Fashions, a junior nine, May 7. With the exception of the pitcher, Ed Van Wye, who comes from Racine, Wis., and who played for Fond du Lac of the Wisconsin State league last year, all the players this year are home boys. The lineup is as follows: Catcher, Harold Richards; pitcher, Edward Van Wye; first base, Frank Jacquart; second base, Joe Baillies; third base, Edward Stevens; shortstop, Henry Schaefer; left field, Robert Johnson; center field, Bernard Kennedy; right field, "Lefty" Sundell. Games with Hurley and Ashland, Wis., have been scheduled.

Isadore Miller of Marshfield, Wis., for whom a warrant was issued some weeks ago on a charge of illegally shipping deer hides out of the state, was arrested in Bessemer. He pleaded guilty before Justice Anderson, paying a fine of $25 and costs.

WANT A SANITARIUM.

Leech Lake Indians Said to Be Suffering From Tuberculosis.

Dr. T. F. Rodell of Cass Lake passed through the city yesterday on his way home from Washington, where he has been working for an appropriation by congress for a tuberculosis sanitarium for the Indians of the Leech Lake reservation.

The doctor feels very much encouraged after his trip to Washington. Congressman Miller has promised to introduce the bill shortly.

It is proposed to construct the building out of the trust fund for the Indians and $100,000 is the estimated cost.

Dr. Rodell says that there is great need for such an institution as tuberculosis is now very common among the Indians.

WANT INFORMATION ON WEST DULUTH SEWER.

The board of public works has written a letter to the city engineer for information relative to the West Duluth sewer against the last assessment of which the property owners have been protesting. The board wants to know if the extra work could be ordered by the engineer without the authorization of the council and if the cost of duplicating a certain amount of abandoned work could be properly charged to the property owners.

NO ARMY POSTS NEAR CITIES TO BE CLOSED.

Washington, May 2.—A misconception of the purpose of the war department in investigating the military availability of certain lands near Chattanooga, Tenn., was the explanation today of the assumption in Atlanta, Ga., that Fort McPherson was to be abandoned as a military post. As a matter of fact, the war department does not contemplate closing that thorization of the council and if the important post nor any post located in the vicinity of large and important cities and railway centers.

The department had been trying to secure an area suitable for maneuvers on a large scale in Tennessee. Citizens of Chattanooga have opened some land and one large tract of 5,000 acres has been offered as a gift to the United States, located in the Tennessee highlands. The permanent structures will be erected on these grounds.

GOAT GOLF IS WITH US

C. H. Bagley Receives Rules of New and Original Game.

Object of Sport Is to Get Other Fellow's Little Goat.

While in the East C. H. Bagley, chairman of the games committee of the Northland Country club, ran onto the goat game. This isn't a new style of get the money racket, but is a new and entertaining form of golf, and according to the present plans will be played this season at the local links of the club.

Goat golf, if you will, is being played at the present time in the East and is making a big hit. This new idea will be put in force shortly after the formal opening of the season, which is set for May 15.

It is believed that the goat game will prove very popular. According to Mr. Bagley, it is the rage on the Eastern links. When he left the East Mr. Bagley made arrangements to have the rules of the game forwarded to him. They came in the mail of yesterday, and are given here for the benefit of the large number of golfers:

"Each member must have a disc with the emblem of a goat on one side, surrounded by the words "Northland Country Club," on the reverse side the member's name.

"Any member having a goat can challenge any member for his goat; and the one losing the match must give the other one his goat.

"Any member having lost his goat can challenge any member having a goat by putting up two dimple balls as an equivalent.

"Any member having more than one goat can give up any member's goat he may have to the winner of a goat match, unless both members agree before the match for which goats they are playing.

"Any member having a number of goats can play a match against as many members as he has goats.

"A member can not play for more than one goat with any member in any one match.

"The member having the greatest number of goats in his possession at the end of the playing season, to be declared the Shepherd of the Goat-Herd, the winner each year to be presented with a facsimile of the goat medal in gold, as a reward for his prowess. He shall only retain the title of Shepherd for the year following unless he is successful in maintaining his supremacy in corralling more goats than any other member each year.

"In case of a tie at the close of the season, same shall be played off not later than Thanksgiving day.

"All matches played at handicap as posted by the handicapper of the Northland Country club.

"Cost of goat $1 yearly; the balance left after paying for goats, engraving and gold goat to winner, to be put toward a dinner to the herd at end of season.

"Application to become one of the herd must be made to the original gatherers of the flock, and passed by them by a unanimous vote."

BOARD OF TRADE TAILOR.

DARBY O'BRIEN'S CREW WILL ARRIVE WEDNESDAY

"DARBY" O'BRIEN.

Darby O'Brien and his crew of bold baseball pirates will hit this city tomorrow morning. The team will come in from Madison, via the Omaha, and if the present schedule is followed the bunch will alight at the Omaha depot at 8:25.

Considering the fact that the Irish orator has a large bunch of youngsters with him, the team has done all that could be expected of it on the training trip. What has pleased the fans more than anything else is the way the aggregation has been hitting. Smiting the pellet is something that always pleases the fans, and some of the men on the team have already shown that they can sting the spheroid to the far corners of the lot.

With Holstrom, Attenweiler, O'Brien, Kramer, Shaub, Blanke, and several other holdovers, Darby believes he has the nucleus of a very strong team. If the youngsters the veteran has under his wing make good, and the reports of some of the games played so far would indicate that at least some of them are making good, the White Sox will be represented by nearly a new team the present season.

A wire this morning from the White Sox leader stated that he had about decided on the recruits he would keep, and also that he was on the trail of a man at the present time playing in the Central association. There is a possibility that Eddie Kohl may be back here.

The fans are most anxious to see Leber, Miller, Illgley, Doty, who is reported to be a crack pitcher, and some of the other players who have been doing such good work on the trip.

The first game will be played tomorrow afternoon at Hislop park, Superior, and it is very probable that a large number of fans from this city will journey over to get the first look at the team. The spring series should awaken a lot of interest among the fans.

Yesterday afternoon the Superior team hit the other side of the bay and today the players are working out in preparation for the game tomorrow afternoon. Reports from Superior indicate that Kid Taylor has a strong bunch of pitchers, and in all respects the team looks very good. He is short an outfielder as yet, one of his men not having reported to date.

Some line on the playing strength of the two teams will be gleaned from the series starting tomorrow. The fans are naturally anxious for the season's bell and are also somewhat curious to know how the team is going to stack up. For that reason considerable interest is attached to the home-coming of the gallant Sox under the royal leadership of his nobs, Patrick Henry O'Brien.

GOSSIP AND OPINIONS ON THE SPORTING PARADE

James E. Ten Eyck and a Great Family of Oarsmen —Lemon Hunting—Will He Fight Sam? He Will Not — Some New Golf Wrinkles — Other Sport Notes.

TO CALL a man young is sometimes insulting, unless he has been in baseball a number of years. When Napoleon took the big show in hand during the troublesome days of the French period when people were losing their heads, literally speaking, he once ordered a man clapped in the dungeon for calling him young. At that time his mustache was a faint imitation of some of the early efforts we have seen on some of our prominent young men this spring.

James E. Ten Eyck is young and he looks younger. To observe him you would not imagine that, like his famous brother, Ned, he was one of the greatest amateur scullers this country has ever produced. Such is the case, however.

Records will show that young Ten Eyck defeated William Merhoff, and that the latter subsequently became the American amateur champion. Just before he was to race Merhoff for the American championship, Ten Eyck was declared a professional for assisting his famous father in coaching the Syracuse university crew.

Come to think of it, this Ten Eyck family is perhaps the most famous bunch of oarsmen this country has ever produced. There is James A. Ten Eyck, one of the greatest oarsmen the world has ever delighted in. Even today, an old man in years, at least, this grand old veteran can go out, according to the statement of son James, and row over the course in something like twenty seconds less than the time he made when in the prime of his youth.

The elder Ten Eyck has really never retired. He has kept at the rowing game since those days in which he used to beat the best this country could put forth. He presents a striking example of what a man can do with rational exercise and the best of care of himself.

Then there is Ned, or Edward Hanlan Ten Eyck, to give his name in full. He won the famous diamond sculls in England in 1897, and is even at the present time the undefeated ex-amateur champion sculler of America.

Now we come down to James, the man who is to coach the Duluth Boat club crews the present season. Young in years as he is, this boy has followed in the steps of father and Brother Ned. Part of his achievements were given in The Herald of last evening. Looking rather small in his citizens clothes, this boy is one of the most remarkable oarsmen of the latter days.

He stroked his eight at college, and in addition to that was winning sculling races. He has literally grown up on the water, and one might say that oarsmanship was born into him. If he is anywhere near as good a coach as he is an oarsman, it is safe to say that the officials of the local club have secured a jewel.

Scouting for Lemons.

SCOUTING for lemons, how unnecessary a pastime it would seem in this age of near-greats. That is just what a certain gent charges "Papa" Coulon, pere of Johnny of Logan Square and wider fame, of doing. Like an ant, that will circle several circles to avoid troubles when it does not see the immediate necessity for trouble, "Pa," evidently believes that it pays to be wise. His son is the champion bantamweight of the world, and father is the manager. Lets keep the money in the family and keep much of it, is evidently the motto of pa.

A certain manager claims he has a boy who could give the champ the time of his sweet and unchekered young career. It might be added though, that this statement is not in the least original. He further claims, laying bright young trap for publicity, that his man was working out in a gym when along comes a certain geek, the scout, you understand, and puts an unknown against his boy for a little workout. The man claiming that "Pa" Coulon is trying out the scout system in the pugilistic game, claims his lad knocked the block off the fighter wanting the tryout, and now he has no chance to match his man against Coulon.

This stuff sounds all to the clatter clatter. It would make an indicted millionaire laugh, if he was in the habit of reading the sporting sheets, and most of them are. It has some original matter in it and will probably find its way the round of the papers. This is evidently what the man making the charges is looking for, and as it advertises Coulon, too, nobody has a kick coming. Which is a very excellent frame of mind for people to be in.

Will He Fight Sammy? He Will Not.

PATIENCE is a virtue, according to historians and plugging philosophers. With fight fans and baseball worshippers it is something entirely different. Pardon the assertion, but sometimes it means profanity.

There are many men tired of the protracted development period of Carl Morris. They have been harsh and brutal in their suggestion. It has been proposed that the moose tide over the long wait speel and come to cases with a fight with Langford. From this angle of the universe it looks as if Morris would rather, oh much rather, jump off a high building.

Poets have in the musing past been reported to be proof against manufacture. It has been said that they were born with the silver spoon muse thing in their systems, and not made in gilded parlors or the Bohemian quarter of Paris. Taking a running jump from the clouds of poetic thought to the pavement of pugilism, it might be said that most fighters are born and not developed by advertising.

Even despite the handicap of being born in Novia Scotia, Sam Langford is one of the kind that was "borned" to be a handler of swats and not a receiver general. Morris is in the process of the making by incubator, so to speak, and Samuel Adams Langford has been much better done, browned on both sides, by old Dame nature. Nature has something on all these bush guys, as will be shown if the senegambian and the lily white ever hook.

He Has Some Ideas.

IN yesterday's mail C. H. Bagley, chairman of the games committee of the Northland Country club, received some suggestions on a highly original wrinkle in golf called the goat game. This game is purely and simply the goat game and not the angora. In the end the real object is to get the other fellow's goat.

While in the East Mr. Bagley searched deeply for new ideas on golf, and the goat game is one of them. He has more ideas up his sleeve and they will be given out in the near future. The game of get the goat, and it can be traced down from the time Cain lammed poor Abel, promises to be one of the most entertaining features of the golf season.

Is Brown Passing?

FROM the way the three-fingered flinger of the Cubs, Brown, the wonder of the past decade of baseball, has been hit, the question whether he is going back fights for an answer. He is the man upon whom Chance has placed much dependance this season, and his showing in the early part of the baseball year, might tend to discourage the Cubs game as they are.

This season promises to be one in which there will be a number of stars pass out from the great national game. Some of the Pittsburg players have already shown the wear and tear of the unmerciful years, and it is pretty safe to say that a comb will be drawn through the ranks of the older league teams next year. It is a shame to see Brown pass, one of the greatest we have ever had, and right here is where we set down a hope that he has a great year.

THEY are talking of the tariff, and the things Bill Taft would do;
Of worried Willie Lorimer and what the courts construe;
Of suffragettes and trouserettes and fashions spring and fall.

But the one best bet we have heard of yet, is the good old game, baseball.

AFTER seven divorces, who should be troubled or even perturbed at the shallow shoals of the bankruptcy court? Therefore the veterans of sympathetic nature who are sighing for Kid McCoy had best buck up. The worst has been passed long ere this.

BATTLING NELSON has been signed to fight Jack Redmond. All of which proves that accumulating money is a habit that will not be cast asunder by any little disagreeable incidents like broken noses and a belabored body.

SOUTHERN sporting writer spoke of a player being lacking in pathological detail. There are at least six cities where that fellow would be mobbed. Maybe the paper was short and sent the church editor out to cover the game. He is liable to bury it.

SPORTING NOTES

Philadelphia horsemen will have a carnival in Fairmount Park June 10.

Two English amateur and an Australian soccer team will visit this country this fall.

Hans Holmer, winner of the Powderhall race, has an offer to tour Italy, Africa, South America and Australia this summer.

First Baseman Harry Davis, captain of the world's champion Athletic nine of Philadelphia, will be rewarded with a "Davis Day" at the Athletic grounds, Philadelphia, May 31. Cleveland will have a "Joss Day" in honor of the late Addie Joss, July 24, while the New York Giants may have a McGraw day.

Dan Kelly, holder of the world's record of 9 3-5 seconds for 100 yards, is a member of the Multnomah A. C. of Portland, Or., and may try to make the American team that will be sent to the Olympic games in Stockholm next year.

Tom Longboat wants to run Alfred Shrubb a twenty-five-mile race and will concede the Englishman a start of one mile if he will race him the Marathon distance.

The Howard & Bullough soccer eleven of Pawtucket, R. I., which won the American Football association challenge cup, the blue ribbon event of association football in this country, besting the Hibernians of Philadelphia at Newark, may meet the Hyde Park Blues of Chicago, holders of the Peel cup, for the professional championship of the United States.

The Michigan university tennis team will meet Princeton university on its Eastern trip. Relations between the two big universities are becoming closer all the time.

Two $10,000 handicaps at 1½ miles each are announced by the half-mile track management at Plattsburg and Chateaugay, N. Y., for light harness horses, the first to be decided Sept. 7 and the second one during the following week.

The British empire cycling championships were this year due to be held in Ireland, but owing to the big sports program in connection with the festival of empire, the venue will be the Crystal palace, London, and the date July 1.

Harold Hardwick, the well known Sydney swimmer, will be the Australian representative at the boxing tournament which is to be held in connection with the festival of empire sports in England this summer. As a swimmer Hardwick's most notable victory was that over Beaurepaire, who won many races in Great Britain last summer. "Snowy" Baker, the Australian boxer, has a great opinion of Hardwick, as has Duke Mullins, who trained Jack Johnson for his fight with Tommy Burns.

M. F. Plant of New York new racing schooner Elena, recently launched at Herreshoff's in Bristol, R. I., is 135 feet over all, 96 feet on the load water line, 27 feet 6 inches beam and 17 feet draught. She will race for the King's and Astor cups next August.

Almeida, the star third baseman of the Cuban nine, will play with the New Britain, Conn., league team this season.

A. J. Balfour, the English member of parliament, who is the present holder of the parliamentary golf handicap title, will be one of the 130 contestants at this year's tourney, which will be played at Littlestone-on-Sea May 6.

Utah's fish and game commissioner, Fred W. Chambers, is after the game hogs of that state and by the end of the summer he hopes to see the organization of a protective fish and game association in each county of Utah, each member of which will have the same powers as a deputy game warden. He will have authority to make arrests for any and all violations of the fish and game laws of that state.

At the annual general meeting of the Rugby Football union of Great Britain to be held in London, May 30, the following amendments on the laws approved by the international board will be proposed: "Definition of a tackle: A tackle is when the holder of the ball is held by one or more players on the opposite side so that he cannot pass or play it." To add to law 11 section A: "Or pick it up in a scrimmage either by hands or legs, the penalty being a free kick."

In the junior track and field championships of the New York A. A. U. a 35-pound weight event will be substituted for the 56-pound put.

Brooklyn has a Bicyle Riders' association known as the Cross-Country Wheelmen who will hold an endurance run from Brooklyn to Washington, D. C., on June 23.

D. A. Jenekes, a Greek Marathon runner, who has been living in St. Louis, has gone home to prepare for the Swedish Marathon games run and also the Athens Marathon to be run in 1914.

MANY OARSMEN OUT TO GREET TEN EYCK

Coach James Ten Eyck made his debut last evening. A sight that must have been very pleasing to his eye, greeted the new instructor. There were something like thirty oarsmen on the water, about the biggest number of men who have ever been on the water in a single evening. From the looks of the material the Ten Eyck boy is of the opinion that he is going to have some classy men before they have been going a month.

This evening at 8:30 at the Y. M. C. A. Ten Eyck and his pupils will meet for a little talk and a get-together meeting. Some ideas that Ten Eyck has on rowing and some other matters vital to the success of the game, will be taken up. It is especially desired that every rowing man be out.

While it is very early as yet and there are some lessons of the past that gently push the caution pedal, it can be said now that the prospects look very bright at this time. There is more enthusiasm and the men have come to the conclusion that this year is the year that Duluth has to win, some way, somehow.

With the lessons of the past in mind, and with added experience, and with a green junior crew at the Minnesota Boat club, the chances favor Duluth equally as they favor the junior crew of Winnipeg, which finished second at Kenora last season, and it is up to the men to make the greatest showing that has ever been made by a Duluth crew.

RAHIM DEFIES HACKENSCHMIDT

New York, May 2.—The arrival of a troupe of Indian wrestlers in London under the manageemnt of H. G. Benjamin, has caused a stampede among the big wrestlers who are in the British metropolis at present, and most of them are trying to avoid a meeting with the Oriental stars. There are eight real live wrestlers in the troupe and Mr. Benjamin has thrown down the gauntlet to the entire wrestling world for four of the eight, which shows what he thinks of them, and is putting up real money with the London Sporting Life to bind matches, the money to go as side bets if they will accept the same.

Here are four challenges, backed by cash deposits, Mr. Benjamin has made: First—Anything from $500 to $5,000 that Rahim, the famous Indian wrestler and champion, throws Hackenschmidt three times in one hour; second, anything from $500 to $1,250 that Karla, another Oriental of the troupe, throws Hackenschmidt in a straight match, Hackenschmidt to take 70 per cent win or lose; third, will back Iman Bux, a third Oriental of the troupe, on the same terms as Karla; fourth, will back a fourth Indian wrestler with Hackenschmidt for $500, the Oriental not to weigh over 168 pounds, and the winner to take the entire receipts.

The above offers also go for any of the wrestlers in England and Mr. Benjamin says he will match his best man against Gotch, Zbyszko, or any man in the world, and bet real money for a side wager. Iman Bux has thrown men whom Gama, the Indian, failed to throw, while Rahim is considered by far superior to any of them and is the man whom the Orientals will back for any amount of money for the world's championship.

Mr. Benjamin says Hackenschmidt had promised him a match for one of his men last year, but failed to keep the date, and now he intends to force him into a match or make him drop all claim to any championship. He may come to America, he says and if he does he will not ask for gate receipts but will ask for a match with Frank Gotch and bet him good hard coin on the side to show that he means business.

T. SCHOONHOVEN LETS OUT FOUR

Eau Claire, May 2.—Beginning to cut down his squad of twenty men who have been trying out for the last week for a berth on the Commissioners, Manager Schoonhoven last night announced the disposal of four men whom he feels need more practice at the game before they would be eligible in the positions they wish to fill.

Those to depart for other shores are Stelter, out for first base; Flaherty of St. Paul, who had his eye on Mike Breyette's post; Proue, trying out for the outfield; and Strutz, another man who had aspired to fill the hole left by "Jawn" Kading.

These boys showed themselves to have a good knowledge of the game but they are new—never having played professional ball before. They need a little more work-out before they can go the mill. They know themselves better than anyone else and were hoping in coming to Eau Claire to see just what the caliber of regulars are necessary for them to stick in professional ball.

BUYS SWELL DUDS FOR CORONATION

Chicago, May 2.—Determined that no English nobleman will have "anything on him in the way of 'togs'" Jack Johnson has purchased $3,480 worth of clothes for the coronation festivities in London in June.

Jack proudly announced today that his wardrobe included numerous swell walking suits, several Prince Alberts and plenty of dress suits. He boasted that he has a different hat for every outfit.

"Believe muh, there'll be some class to Ll Artha' when he hits the Strand," says Johnson.

NEW OPERA STAR COMING.

Maggie Teyte Will Be Plain Maggie "Tait" in America.

Paris, May 2.—Among other new and interesting stars of opera who will be heard next season in America, one of the most talked of will be Maggie Teyte, lately of the Opera Comique, whose engagement by Andres Dippel has already been announced.

Miss Teyte, who changed her name on the advice of Jean de Reszke to "Tait" in order to assure its being pronounced correctly, is an English girl, quite young, and in a Dresden china way, quite pretty.

She sang for two seasons or more with much success at the Opera Comique, where she succeeded Mary Garden in the lyrical soprano roles.

Law Held Constitutional.

Washington, May 2.—The supreme court of the United States yesterday upheld the constitutionality of the New York statute forbidding the use of a photograph or name of another for trade or advertising purposes without the permission of the subject.

IMITATORS FLATTER US.

REAL TAILOR SERVICE IS NOW WITHIN REACH OF EVERY MAN!

There WAS a time when man's sense of economy dictated that he buy Readymade Clothes ("cold storage" clothes, we call them.) Now that time is past. There's no need of your wearing a poor imitation of the tailors' art. Why? This is the reason, pure and simple: You can n-o-w wear real, high class, made-to-measure clothes and pay less for them than you did for your last season's store-suit. Our system gratifies that secret desire of most every man. That is, to wear garments whose very cut bespeaks HIS tailor's skill. HERALD CAMPAIGN FOR SANITARY LODGING HOUSES GETTING RESULTS

Long Expected Ordinance Presented to Council By Alderman Wharton.

Public Hearing Will Be Held Before It Comes Up for Passage.

After several sharp preliminary skirmishes, the lodging house ordinance has come before the city council. It was introduced last night by Alderman Wharton, chairman of the committee on ordinances and resolutions.

Following the series of articles in The Herald showing the true conditions in the lodging houses, the matter of regulating the lodging houses has received considerable attention in Duluth. Just what existed in these places has been mentioned many times in the past, but they were not fully realized until the photographs were printed in The Herald, and it was impossible in them to show how very bad some of the places visited were.

Scarcely one of them had proper ventilation. The bedding was filthy in many of them, abounding with vermin. Some of them were located in dank, dark basements, equipped with so-called "double-deckers," made of wood, and with the bunks one above the other. About the worst lodging house in the city, located in the Lake avenue Bethel, has been abandoned.

The ordinance which has been introduced will, if passed, call for many radical changes, but it is so drawn that it will not take effect until next fall, giving the owners time to make the necessary alterations. It is claimed that the tenants are not so much to blame for conditions as the agents and owners of the buildings, who refuse to do any repair work or put in proper sanitation.

Sanitary Drinking Fountains.

One of the features of the ordinance, and which is different from most other ordinances of the same kind, is that sanitary drinking fountans are called for on each floor. It is expected that this phase will call for much opposition, and it is doubtful whether it will stay in the ordinance or not. It is expected that before the committee on ordinances and resolutions makes any recommendations to the council, a date for a public hearing will be set, at which time all orguments for and against the ordinance will be heard.

"Section 1. Definition—The term 'lodging house' as used in this ordinance shall be taken to mean and include any house or building or portion thereof in which sleeping quarters are provided for more than three persons, not members of the same family, in any one room or dormitory and in which persons are harbored or received, or lodged for hire, or any part of which is let to any person in which to sleep.

"License—No building or part of any building in the city of Duluth shall be used after Oct. 1, 1911, as a lodging house unless the proprietor thereof has obtained a license as herein provided.

"Sec. 2. Any person, company or corporation desiring to use, conduct or operate as a lodging house any building or any part of any building in the city of Duluth shall file with the commissioner of health of said city a written application for such license, giving in such application the full name and address of the proprietor of the proposed lodging house, the name of the owner of the premises and the location and portions of the building or buildings intended to be used as a lodging house. Upon the filing of any such application for a lodging house license, the premises therein described shall be inspected by the commissioner of health or his deputies, who shall keep a permanent record of such inspection, giving the character, construction and size of the building; whether or not the building has proper sewer and water connections; the number, location and dimensions of each proposed sleeping room, the number and size of outside windows in each proposed sleeping room; other ventilation, if any, in each proposed sleeping room; the number of water closets on each floor; the number of set wash basins on each floor; the number and description of all bathing apparatus on each floor; the number and kind of receptacles for refuse; and the number of beds or lodgers allowed in each sleeping room. Such license shall be issued to the applicant by the commissioner of health only upon the presentation by the applicant of a receipt from the city treasurer showing payment into the city treasury of the license fee required for such license; but no such license shall be issued until all the regulations relating to lodging houses have been complied with by the applicant for such license. The annual license fee for such license is hereby fixed and established at $5 for each lodging house containing not to exceed fifteen beds and 10 cents additional for each bed in excess of fifteen. All licenses issued under this ordinance shall expire on the first Monday of May next following the issuance of the same.

Regular Inspection.

"Sec. 3. Every lodging house in the city of Duluth shall be inspected by the commissioner of health or his deputies regularly and at least once a month.

"Each general sleeping room shall be adequately ventilated and the number and size of the windows and effectiveness of light shall be satisfactory to the department of health. Four hundred cubic feet of air space shall be provided for each bed or lodger. The beds in all lodging houses and in every room in which beds are let for lodgers shall be separated by a passageway of not less than two feet horizontally, and all the beds shall be so arranged that under each of them the air shall freely circulate. No beds or bunks shall be placed one above the other, and no one shall be permitted to sleep, lodge or dwell in a cellar or basement.

Separate Beds.

"In every lodging house there shall be provided for each lodger a separate bed, with bedstead, bedding and bed clothes, and no lodger shall be allowed to sleep elsewhere than in such bed. All mattresses shall be provided with waterproof coverings and shall be so arranged as to be at all times easily inspected. All beds, bed clothing, mattresses and pillows shall always be kept clean and free from vermin. No comforters shall be permitted but blankets used instead. Clean sheets and clean pillow cases shall be furnished for each bed and shall be changed as often as necessary to keep the same clean or as may be required by the department of health. Nothing but iron and metal bedsteads shall be used.

"Sec. 4. All plumbing fixtures mentioned in this ordinance except wash bowls shall be placed in a room or compartment entirely shut off from sleeping rooms by an air tight partition extending from floor to ceiling.

"In every lodging house there shall be provided in above mentioned toilet rooms one or more water closets on each floor. There shall be provided in each toilet room above mentioned one or more urinals on each floor. In every lodging house there shall be at least one wash room on every floor. Every such wash room shall be provided with hot and cold water, set wash basins or washing appliances with running water, both in number and character satisfactory to the commissioner of health. The type, number and arrangement of such individual appliances, set basins and drinking fountains shall be provided on each floor satisfactory to the commissioner of health. In every lodging house shower baths shall be provided and in addition tub baths may be provided. All such baths shall be provided with hot and cold water and shall at all times be accessible for the use of lodgers.

Water and Towels.

"Sec. 5. In every lodging house there shall be at all times provided for the use of lodgers an adequate supply of water and clean individual towels. There shall be no common towels and no one shall be allowed to use a towel which another has used.

"Spitting and Cuspidors—In each hall, room, cubicle, water closet, washroom and bathroom of every lodging house there shall be provided a sufficient number of cuspidors or spittoons. In every such room, etc., there shall be continuously and conspicuously displayed a sign, 'Spitting forbidden except in proper receptacles.' All such cuspidors or spittoons shall be constructed of durable imperveable material, shall at all times contain a sufficient quantity of disinfecting liquid as the commissioner of health may direct and the same shall be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected at least once daily.

"Illness—It shall be the duty of the keeper, agent or owner of every lodging house to report forthwith to the department of health any person suffering from any of the diseases which are reportable to the health department. Each lodging house shall be provided with a room sufficiently tight to be used for a fumigating room if necessary.

"Sec. 7. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall, upon conviction thereof before the municipal court of the city of Duluth, be punished by a fine of not to exceed $50 or not less than $10 for each offense, or, upon default in the payment of such fine, by imprisonment not to exceed sixty days."

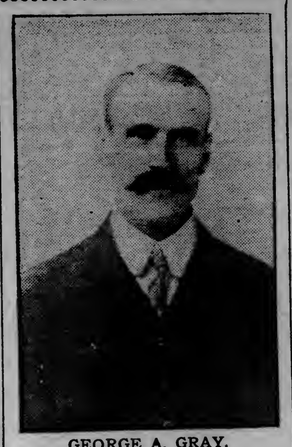
GEORGE A. GRAY COMPANY SUCCEEDS GRAY-TALLANT

The store, which since 1902 was conducted by the Gray-Tallant company, yesterday passed to the George A. Gray company, the new name being adopted when an amendment to the articles of incorporation of the company was recently filed. The change in name carries with it no change in management, for George M. Tallant retired from active business fourteen months ago and since that time Mr. Gray has been in complete charge.

Mr. Gray entered the business in 1902 when he purchased the interest of Mr. Hendren in the firm of Hendren & Tallant. The Gray-Tallant company was then incorporated and ever since that time, Mr. Gray has been actively engaged in conducting the affairs of the firm. For twelve years prior to entering the firm, Mr. Gray was credit man for I. Freimuth and he brought to the Gray-Tallant company wide business experience and good judgment.

The fire last January, which damaged the Metropolitan block in which the store is located, has given the George A. Gray company opportunity for expansion. The block is now being remodeled and will be occupied on all three floors by the George A. Gray company. The basement will also be used for display and sales rooms for household furnishings and the company will have one of the largest ground floor spaces in the city.

Mr. Gray says that the policy of the store will continue to be progressive. He says the company will endeavor to meet the demands of the people, to have a complete well-selected stock at all times and to keep up with the growth of the city in stock and expansion.



GEORGE A. GRAY.

COUNTING DULUTH MAIL

Postoffice Trying to Secure Some Accurate Cost and Efficiency Figures.

Hard Month's Work Ahead of Employes of Local Office.

Evidently the postoffice department is making an effort to get at approximately accurate cost and efficiency figures. During the month of May, all mail passing through the Duluth postoffice, as well as every other postoffice in the country, will be counted, the number of times each piece is handled will be counted and the time spent in handling will be made a matter of record.

Separate figures must be kept on outgoing mail, incoming mail, mail collected and mail delivered and the count must include the number of pieces handled, the actual time consumed in handling, the average number of pieces handled per minute and the average number of handlings each piece receives with reference to the different classes of mail matter. The classes include not only the first, second, third and fourth classes generally known, but five divisions of second class mail, two divisions of third class mail, two divisions of congressional franked mail, two divisions of departmental franked mail, foreign mail and registered mail.

The counting was begun yesterday and the employes of the Duluth postoffice see looming before them a month of solid work. It means statistical work for every man on the force and the department heads will have the job of taking care of the daily reports and entering them on the department report sheet.

In March figures were obtained by the postoffice department on the number of pieces of the different classes of mail handled by the carriers and the number of miles traveled by each carrier per day.

The impression is that the postoffice department is determined to place the responsibility for the postal deficit on the class of mail that is responsible for it and the figures when completed from all the offices in the country will give the department officials an idea of where the responsibility rests.

EXCHANGE WILL MEET WEEKLY

In line with the policy adopted when the listing system was put into effect by the Duluth real estate exchange, Jan. 1, the exchange decided at its meeting today to hold weekly meetings, at which property will be sold. The listing system has proved a success, but it has been used only by individuals in search of property or a market for their property. Now it will be used by the entire exchange, assembled. A committee was appointed to choose a place for the weekly meeting.

The exchange also appointed a committee today to make a canvass to determine how many Duluth men will attend the annual meeting of the National Association of Real Estate exchanges, which will be held in Denver in July.

JUMPED INTO RIVER.

Bemidji Piano Tuner Rescued and Examined as to Sanity.

Bemidji, Minn., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Edward Stride, 34 years old, for seven years a local piano tuner, but who has been in International Falls the past five weeks, where he escaped from a hospital and jumped into the Rainy river in an apparent attempt at suicide, but was rescued, was examined yesterday by Judge of Probate Clark as to his sanity.

County Attorney Funkley, after having satisfied himself that Stride is not in a serious condition, asked J. H. Grant, a member of the same Socialist lodge to which Stride belongs, who appeared in court in his behalf, what suggestion he had to make as to the care of Stride.

"I feel," said Mr. Grant, "that with proper care Stride will regain his health, and I am willing to take the responsibility of seeing that he receives proper care." Mr. Grant was allowed to take charge of Stride.

PROTESTS ARE OVERCOME AND POLICEMEN WEAR HELMETS

Duluth "cops" are decorated with helmets. Haven't you noticed them on the streets? They are quite noticeable, but despite the uncomfortable feeling which the policemen seem to have with the new "bonnets" on their heads, the helmets are really more becoming than the close-fitting caps which they have been using for several years past.

The Herald photographer caught one of the "city's finest" on the street yesterday with his new helmet. He appeared to be rather uneasy, but when the camera was trained on him he wasn't aware of the fact. The photographer didn't know his name, but, he noticed his number, and when it was looked up at headquarters it was found to belong to Patrolman Musolf. He is one of the new men on the force and recently distinguished himself by arresting single-handed three highwaymen who were trying to hold up a man on Michigan street between Lake avenue and First avenue east.

The men on the force petitioned against the helmets, but fearing that the caps might really be the cause of the alleged bald heads said to be apparent among the cops, their superior officers decreed that they should wear the helmets anyhow.

Charles Lavick, proprietor and manager of the company, has brought the factory up to a high point in capacity and efficiency and the quality of the work turned out is in keeping with the brand. The company covers thoroughly Duluth, Superior, Proctor, Two Harbors, the range towns and is steadily pushing its trade limits eastward and westward.

SPECIALTIES ARE MARKET FEATURES

The local market was only moderately active today but several specialties acted in an interesting manner. Carman, for instance, was the feature of the session, advancing from around 80c to $1 bid. Sales were made at 93c and 99c and the market closed strong with no offerings. The famous Chispas vein, it is said, has been found. The Chispas is one of the most famous silver veins in Mexico and has been mined for many years on the Las Chisnas property which is adjacent to the Carman. Assays from the vein encountered in the Carman workings have not been received here. The letter giving the news was received here late yesterday and the stock advanced rapidly.

Another specialty which acted well was Amazon which advanced about 15c a share and sold at 85c but which closed close to $1. Developments at the property are said to be highly satisfactory. Red Warrior was strong with few offerings. Sales were made at $1.12½, the closing bid price. Calumet & Montana sold at 39c.

The outsider market was slightly weaker on account of realizing after the advance of the last two or three days. Amalgamated sold at $63.75, $64.12½ and $63.37½. Butte Ballakiava at $5.75 to $5.62½. Butte Coalition at $18, $18.12½ and $17.87½. Calumet & Arizona at $50.50 to $51.50. Giroux at $6.37½. Greene at $6.50. North Butte at $29.25 to $28.75. Ojibway at $6.25. Superior & Pittsburg at $14.50, $14.62½ to $14.50. Shattuck at $20.

Having obtained the consent of the court and all parties interested in the case the stockholders of the Osceola Mining company met at Boston yesterday and formally voted to merge the company with the Calumet & Hecla Mining company, the vote being 61,008 to 337, the votes cast in favor of the plan being 72 per cent of the outstanding shares.

Just before the meeting of the stockholders in March, G. M. Hyams obtained an injunction from the courts in Michigan against consolidation. A vote was taken, however, but only as an expression of opinion. Counsel for and against the plan had a conference with Judge Swann at Detroit on April 15 and it was agreed that at the adjourned meeting yesterday the stockholders might take formal action, which would not be construed as contempt of court.

Eight other subsidiary companies of the Calumet & Hecla will vote under a similar agreement later in the week.

A Boston dispatch today says: Slightly more than 81 per cent of the outstanding stock of the Calumet & Hecla Mining company voted today in favor of the consolidation of nine smaller subsidiary companies with the Calumet. The only protest came from a representative of the estate of Thomas L. Chadbourne in behalf of Waldermar I. Chadbourne, the special administrator.

"THE BATTLE OF THE POOL ROOM" OR "HOLDING THE PASS OF THERMOPYLAE"

Wasn't it at the battle of Thermopyleane that the Greeks made a stand that all these years has been considered one of the greatest grandstand plays in history?

Down in the pool hall next to the drinking emporium run by M. S. Cook, right there amid the busy hum of Superior street, there is at the present time, being conducted a vest pocket edition of the grand old battle fought by the Greeks, those many years ago.

In the pool room war the Greeks are making a gallant stand, though it may be in vain.

G. Kalimanis and J. Colias are the generals in charge of the Greek forces. Mr. Cook and the Greeks are in the miniature war game up to their eyebrows, and they have become so interested that they have even ceased to read the accounts of the Mexican revolution.

Gen. Kalimanis and Lieut. Gen. Colias rent the pool rooms from Col. Cook. At the war camp of Gen. Kalimanis it was stated this morning, during a lull in proceedings, that Col. Cook has tried to execute a flank movement and oust the enemy from his precincts. The Greek forces threw up an embankment and the siege is on.

There is a big and wide door between Col. Cook's drinking emporium and the pool hall. The door is big and wide so that crowds can come through, either going or coming. No man need hit the sides of this door, no matter what cargo he carries. The Greek forces have closed this door, have barred it, and made it look in general like the door of some old mediaeval dungeon. They have gone to all this trouble so that Cook can not literally throw them out of the place.

Last Sunday the lease was up, according to the statement of Gen. Kalimanis. It was here, trailing further with the general, that Col. Cook tried to raise the rent. Instead of that he only succeeded in raising trouble. The Greek army, though small, is evidently determined, and when Gen. Kalimanis stated that he would fight before paying increased rent, the army hastily raised the barricade.

According to the statement of Gen. Kalimanis and his allies, the forces of Col. Cook have tried once or twice to storm the wall, and have failed signally. The matter has been turned over to what might correspond to The Hague tribunal; in other words it will be heard by the court.

It is stated that Gen. Kalimanis is desirous of peace if not of paying an increased rent. He likes the place and would like to stay, according to reports that have been brought in by various scouting parties. In an effort to soften the heart and alter the decision of Col. Cook, Gen. Kalimanis has taken friends, sightseers and members of his army over to the camp of Cook and bought drinks, thus hoping to show the commander of the opposing camp that he would be extremely foolish to oust the Greek forces.

Meanwhile an armed neutrality has been declared, pending outcome of peace negotiations, or the decision of the tribunal.

DEAL GAINS MOMENTUM

May "Squeeze" Strengthened as Wheat Advances—Longs Active.

Manitobas Exported—Big Decrease in World's Visible Stores.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 2.—Wheat advanced sharply today. May gained 1⅝c and July went up 1½c. Cash wheat was ¾c over May instead of 1c as formerly. Oats gained ¼c, rye was up 2c and there were no quotations on barley. Durum gained 2⅛c and was exceedingly strong. Foreigners bid for durum wheat but so far as could be learned no business was transacted as no durum could be obtained. Early in the day prices were on an export basis.

Linseed was strong, May advancing 6c, July 4c and September 6c. Cash was 1c over May. Winnipeg May closed at $2.34. There is said to be a small short interest in May linseed.

Wheat advanced rapidly from the opening. The bull interest was active and put the screws on the short interest. Crop conditions were bearish but other factors such as export business in Manitobas, frosts in the Southwest and statistics, were bullish.

The world's visible supply of wheat decreased 7,289,000 bu, causing higher cables and sharply higher markets on this side. The foreign markets were further influenced by damage reports from Russia. Winter wheat, said reports, has suffered in many localities. Shipments from Russia are expected to increase temporarily on account of the large reserves. German crop reports were slightly unfavorable. France reports complaints relative to the germination of winter. Indian harvest is proceeding satisfactorily but there is some complaint on account of rain. The crop outlook in Australia is favorable.

A bearish feature of the domestic situation was without effect as a criterion of what may be expected from other states. The May condition in Kentucky wheat is given as 97 per cent compared with 95 per cent in April and 88 last May and 85 last July, when the crop was 9,000,000 bu. A report from Atchison, Kan., said that territory along the Central branch railway extending 300 miles west from Atchison, will produce from 25 to 75 per cent more wheat than a year ago.

Frosts in the Southwest did not do any damage, but the sentimental effect was not lost on the bulls. Warmer weather, however, is predicted for the Southwest tonight and tomorrow. There is complaint from scattered localities in the Northwest to the effect that moisture will soon be needed seriously.

Export business in Manitoba wheat today was heavy. Export business in durum wheat could have been transacted, but supplies of available durum are small and there was none at hand. Eastern millers made some demands for choice No. 1 northern, but the requests cannot be met without drawing on Minneapolis stocks or unless there is a liberal movement from the interior. The choice wheat that is not owned by the big millers is closely held by elevator interests who believe in higher prices. For choice durum holders ask a premium and the article is difficult to buy.

The strength of the domestic market was aided by foreign purchases of July and September wheat in the Chicago market. The buying from abroad has been of sufficient size to become a factor in the market. Consumption abroad is heavy and there is a sharp demand for wheat in spite of record-breaking world's shipments. It is probable that a good export business will be done in the new crop winter wheat, unless the same mistake is made as last year, when prices were lifted above an export basis and held there long enough to permit competitors of this country to undersell us.

Seeding throughout the Canadian Northwest has been finished. Ideal conditions prevailed, but there is need of moisture in some places and considerable rain will be needed this month. If there is little moisture in May in the Canadian provinces and the American Northwest there will be a basis for a dry weather scare. There is an interest that is active in the Northwestern markets and at Winnipeg that will take every advantage of rumors that moisture is needed.

The speculative aspect of the May delivery is indicated by the fact that June wheat in Chicago is about 5c under the May option.

The bulls were active today and the May deal gained impetus. There is no doubt that the longs are endeavoring to pull off a "sequence." How successful they will be remains to be seen. Every effort will be made to rush wheat to primary points. There were sales of about 100,000 bu of hard winter wheat at Kansas City today for shipment to Chicago and as much wheat was said to have been bought at Indiana and Ohio points for shipment to Chicago this month.

MARKET GOSSIP

Liverpool cabled: The visible supply of wheat in Europe this week is 105,776,000 bu, against 108,704,000 bu last week. There was a decrease of 3,456,000 bu last year. Cargoes arrived off coast, two; and awaiting orders, none. Wheat in distant positions, firm but inactive. Corn, dull; limited demand.

Wheat cast of Rockies decreased 2,131,000 bu; Canada, decreased 2,158,000 bu; United States and Canada, decreased 4,289,000 bu; afloat and Europe, decreased 3,000,000. Total decrease, 7,289,000 bu; corn, decreased 2,717,000 bu; oats, decreased 352,000 bu.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: The undertone at the opening was steady, with prices unchanged. The lower American cables were offset by the closing firmness in Buenos Ayres. Following the opening there was a heavy covering movement by shorts and with the market bare of offers, prices quickly advanced ½d to ¾d with the strength in the near months. Receipts for the three days were light, with country markets fully 6d higher and expectations are for a heavy decrease in the European visible. France was still bidding for cargoes arriving and on passage, and this country purchased, late yesterday, a cargo of Australian wheat off coast at full prices. Spot markets were firm and ½d to a penny higher with Manitobas in good demand. Plata and Australian offers are firmly held. At 1:30 p. m. the market was strong for near months and ½d to ⅝d higher, with October ⅝d higher than yesterday. Corn opened ½d to ½d higher and following the opening, further advanced ½d. Shorts covered on the firmness of American offers, and the strength in American spot.

Assays of iron ore from the shaft of the Vermilion Iron Development company averaged 61.66 per cent metallic iron and .097 in phosphorus. In the last fifty feet the ore body carries more iron content and less taconite and white quartz.

A drift in the Summit mine along the South Pasquale vein, has encountered another body of high-grade ore. It recently passed through a body of first-class shipping ore in the 400-foot level and since then has been in low-grade concentrating ore. The vein just discovered is five feet wide. Four feet run 10 per cent copper or better and the other foot is extremely high grade. Ore under 20 per cent at the Summit is classed as milling ore.

The company has shown up a fair sized tonnage of ore running from 25 to 30 per cent copper and is developing a large tonnage that runs from 4 to 18 per cent in copper. The cross-cut from the shaft on the 600-foot level has been driven 130 feet toward the Pasquale vein.

Chicago Record Herald: An unparalleled situation prevails in the Chicago grain trade. Although there is easily 25,000,000 bu of grain here, there is not a bushel of it that shows a carrying charge discount under prices current for deferred deliveries. This situation is more remarkable as to wheat than in corn and oats, for the latter grains have from time to time enjoyed a good cash demand. In wheat, however, there has been no draft with 100 of contract grades on hand, larger than could be taken care of by current carlot receipts since last September, except the quantities that have been used by local mills. Of the local grain stock, which is somewhere between 25,000,000 and 20,000,000 bu of wheat, corn and oats, about 14,000,000 bu is in public elevators.

Chicago Tribune: Rumors of heavy charters for wheat to be shipped from here to Buffalo were current yesterday, but none of the cash men knew of any sales recently. It is natural to expect that some of the vast amount taken in on delivery will be shipped out by lake, as the mills own considerably of it, but the wheat will be moved able May and this wheat will be moved out without much question. It is understood that Washburn-Crosby are long considerable May wheat and will ship any hard winter delivered to them to their Buffalo mills. Other owners of May wheat may ship it out for distribution in the East.

Chicago Record Herald of Sunday: Charles A. Robinson, the selling agent for the Grain Growers' association of the Canadian Northwest, was a visitor on change yesterday. The farmers' selling organization, represented by Gibbs & Robinson, have offices at New York and Montreal and are moving large quantities of Canadian oats abroad. Practically all of the low grade oats at Fort William have been disposed of. This comprises about half of the stock there, which was about 7,000,000 bu last Monday. This organization has been buying oats for May delivery at Winnipeg as fast as it has sold them abroad, and has thus congested the Winnipeg market. New Canadian cash oats have been forced into the European markets to help the Winnipeg May deal.

Chicago Tribune: Baird of Winnipeg wired that the trade estimate there was for a seeded area of about 10,000,000 acres of wheat in the three Northwestern provinces, as against 8,250,000 acres a year ago. "The present estimates made from Winnipeg of a probable seeding of 9,750,000 acres this spring would indicate a crop of 150,000,000 bu," says John Inglis. "Ontario and other provinces would add to this about 30,000,000 bu, making a grand total of 180,000,000 bu. This would enable Canada to export about 100,000,000 bu. All the world seems to have been stimulated by recent high prices to increase its areas."

New Orleans and commission houses with other Southern connections, were heavy sellers here during the morning, but offerings were very well taken, some 4 to 5 points under the closing figures of last night and leading bull interests seemed to be supporting July. WEAKNESS IN STOCKS

Prices Fluctuate Narrowly After Decline But Close Is Steady.

Reading Makes Headway Upward and Atchison Advances Vigorously.

New York, May 2.—Trading was active at the opening of the stock market today, first quotations in most of the active stocks being about on a level with yesterday's closing. Delaware & Hudson advanced 1¾, Western Maryland 1 and American Cotton Oil ¾. Canadian Pacific lost a point.

Active stocks ran off fractionally, but there was a partial recovery later when the coal stocks moved up strongly. Their rise was based on reports that the railroad companies had worked out a satisfactory solution of the disposition of the coal business in compliance with the provisions of the Hepburn law. Ontario & Western moved up 1¾ and Lehigh Valley 1½. Rock Island preferred gained 3¼.

A heavy tone developed in the stock market in the latter part of the morning, and prices fell back from the point which they reached yesterday, after making daily advances for a week. The weakened position of the market seemed to be due to extensive profit taking, and also to the fact that the recent rise had driven bear traders to cover so effectually that the short interest was greatly reduced.

In spite of the weakness which developed today, however, there was little pressure of stock selling. Stocks of the anthracite carrying railroads were the strong features of the market, most other issues losing ground, the professionals taking advantage of the jump of the coalers to market liberal amounts of other shares. Denver & Rio Grande preferred sold 3 points below yesterday's closing, the common 1½, Canadian Pacific 1¾, General Electric 1¼, American Smelting and Missouri Pacific 1, and Union Pacific, Reading and United States Steel substantially fractions. Delaware & Hudson rose 4 points in all. Bonds were firm.

A sudden upward spurt of 2 points in American Cotton Oil followed the announcement of the declaration of the regular dividend on the stocks. The rest of the market, however, continued to sag slowly with the coalers losing considerable of their forenoon rise.

The market closed steady. Prices fluctuated narrowly and irregularly, some of the favorite issues meeting fresh supplies of stocks as soon as they hardened a trifle. Reading made decided headway, rising to near yesterday's close. United States Steel and Union Pacific, on the other hand, wavered at times. The whole list showed a more stable tone, in the final dealings, under the leadership of Atchison, which rose vigorously to 110.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, State Auditor's Office.

St. Paul, April 8, 1911.

Notice is hereby given that on May 17, 1911, at 10 o'clock A. M. in the office of the County Auditor, at Duluth, St. Louis County, in the State of Minnesota, I will offer for sale certain unsold state lands, and also those state lands which have reverted to the State by reason of the non-payment of interest.

Terms: Fifteen per cent of the purchase price and interest on the unpaid balance from date of sale to June 1st, 1912, must be paid at the time of sale. The balance of purchase money is payable in whole or in part on or before forty years from date of sale; the rate of interest on the unpaid balance is four per cent per annum, payable in advance on June 1st of each year, provided, the principal remains unpaid for ten years; but if the principal if paid within ten years from date of sale, the rate of interest will be computed at five per cent per annum.

Appraised value of timber, if any, must also be paid at time of sale.

Lands on which the interest is delinquent may be redeemed at any time up to the hour of sale, or before resale to an actual purchaser.

All mineral rights are reserved by the laws of the State. All sales of land will be made subject to the provisions of Chapter 90, General Laws of 1911.

Lists of lands to be offered may be obtained of the State Auditor or the State Commissioner of Immigration at St. Paul, and of the County Auditor at above address.

SAMUEL G. IVERSON, State Auditor.

SAY SHOE TRADE OF ENTIRE COUNTRY IS IN GRIP OF A TRUST

Manufacturers From the Middle West Heard at Capital.

Are at Mercy of the United Shoe Machine Company.

Both Houses of Congress Are at Work on the Tariff.

Washington, May 3.—The declaration that "a trust" grips the entire shoe manufacturing industry of the United States was made today before the senate committee on finance, which began hearings on the Canadian reciprocity bill. Manufacturers from the Middle West told the committee they were practically at the mercy of the United Shoe Machine company of Boston.

Both Busy on Tariff.

With the house struggling toward a vote on the free list bill and the senate committee on finance hearing arguments on Canadian reciprocity, today signalized the real beginning of the tariff extra session. Hitherto consideration of tariff legislation practically has been confined to the house.

By an agreement reached yesterday by the senate finance committee objections are not confined to the reciprocity measure solely, but because of its intimate relationship to the entire tariff question, are extended to include the free list measure. Hearings will extend throughout next week.

The senate was not in session today, but will be tomorrow.

Senators Nelson of Minnesota and McCumber of North Dakota, both have asked time for representatives of the agricultural interests to oppose reciprocity before the senate committee.

Protection and Free Trade.

Protection and free trade were the themes of debate in the house over the Winona, Minn., May 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—The following partial list of the assignments of Methodist bishops, to preside over the fall conferences, was given out today by the committee on plans, still in session, although the bishops' college adjourned last night:

D., Oct. 18.

Bishop Charles W. Smith will preside over the North Pacific group of conferences and Bishop Edwin H. Hughes over the Southern Pacific group.

PREPARE FOR ARRAIGNMENT

McNamara Brothers to Appear Before Judge Bordwell.

Californian Says He Saw James McNamara in 1910.

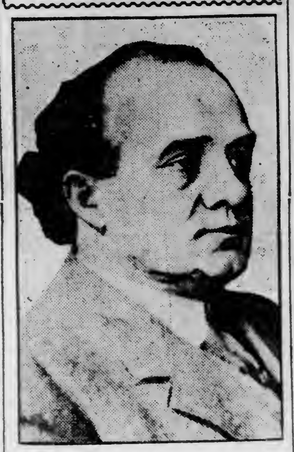
Los Angeles, Cal., May 3.—Since it has been virtually assured that Judge Walter Bordwell of the superior court of this county will preside at the trial of John J. McNamara, secretary of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, and his brother, James B. McNamara, charged with dynamiting, both the prosecution and the defense are busily preparing for the formal arraignment of the men. Arraignment probably will take place soon after the arrival from Indianapolis of Joseph Ford, assistant district attorney of Los Angeles.

The arraignment will afford Leo M. Rappaport, leading counsel for the McNamara brothers, his first opportunity to see the indictments and decide whether to attack their legality.

Asked About Powder Plants.

D. F. Young of Alhambra, a suburb of Los Angeles, has identified James McNamara as one of a party of four men who sailed with him Sept. 6, 1910, on the steamer Mandalay from San Pedro to San Francisco. He said one of them asked him about the location of explosive plants in the neighborhood of San Francisco. This one answered the description of M. A. Schmitz, according to Young.

JUDGE REFUSES TO QUASH INDICTMENT



LEE O'NEIL BROWN, Former Democratic Leader of the Illinois Legislature, Who Will Be Placed on Trial, for the Third Time, in Connection With the Bribery Scandals in the Illinois Legislature.

FUNDS FOR NEW PROBE

Senate Committee Approves Appropriation in Lorimer Affair.

Lee O'Neil Brown Fails to Get Indictment Quashed.

Washington, May 3.—Renewal of the Lorimer investigation was provided for today by the senate committee on contingent expenses, which approved a resolution covering the expenses of such an inquiry. The report will come up in the senate tomorrow and a fight is expected.

Arguments Not Finished.

Chicago, May 3.—Counsel for the Helm state senate committee investigating the election of United States Senator William Lorimer failed to complete argument in the circuit court yesterday for quashing the writ of habeas corpus obtained by Edward Tilden, George W. Benedict and W. C. Cummings, who were arrested on charges of contempt of the state senate when they refused to produce Tilden's bank books before the committee.

Frequent clashes between Attorney Allen Frost for the committee and Judge Adelor J. Petit marked the progress of the hearing, which is to determine whether Tilden and his associates

MURDERER DIES IN ELECTRIC CHAIR

Joseph Nash, Who Shot Son-in-Law, Pays Death Penalty.

Auburn, N. Y., May 3.—Joseph Nesce, alias Joseph Nash, died in the electric chair early today for the murder of his son-in-law, Thomas Delmonte. One contact was sufficient to cause death.

Nash went to the chair unfalteringly. Among the witnesses of the execution was Policeman W. H. Litzenberger of Waterloo, N. Y., whom Nash nearly killed. Muttering in Italian, "God have mercy upon me," Nash spent his last moments in caressing his crucifix.

After relinquishing the metal cross to the attending priest and after the straps were all adjusted, he called out to be allowed to kiss the crucifix again. The request was granted, and a moment later the current was turned on.

Quarrel Over Meat Bill.

Nash, who was a prosperous resident of Waterloo, called at the home of his daughter, next door, on the night of Feb. 7, 1910, and engaged in a quarrel with his son-in-law, Thomas Delmonte, over the payment of a meat bill. While Delmonte's back was turned, Nash shot him and he died a few days later.

Nash fled, but Litzberger caught him in a cornfield. Nash shot the policeman three times and escaped to Seneca Falls, where he was arrested.

Nash's conviction and sentence to death followed.

SWISS HERO FUND IS CORDIALLY ACCEPTED.

Berne, Switzerland, May 3.—It is officially confirmed that the government has accepted with cordial thanks $130,000 in the form of United States Steel bonds, from Andrew Carnegie, for the purpose of establishing a Swiss hero fund.

TIGHT RING ON WOMAN'S FINGER FOILS ROBBER.

New York, May 3.—A tugging at her right hand awoke Mrs. Lucy Skall of No. 39 East Twenty-first street, Bayonne, N. J. She beheld a tall man bending over her and trying to wrench a diamond ring from one of her fingers. The ring fitted too snugly to pass over the knuckle. Mrs. Skall's screams awoke her husband and son. The thief gave a last vain tug at the ring and then dashed downstairs. He escaped, though pursued.

WHOLE EAST GETS CHILL

Cold Wave Comes Near Breaking Records for Spring Season.

Snow Falls in New York State and New England.

Washington, May 3.—Practically the entire eastern half of the country was shivering today in the coldest weather, with one or two exceptions, that has ever been experienced at this time of the year. A cold wave began to move eastward from the Northwest last Saturday, and by last night had enveloped the lake region, Middle Atlantic states and New England in a blanket of frost. In some instances the thermometer dropped from 30 to 40 deg. in twelve hours.

Tonight it is predicted that frost will continue in these regions and extend as far South as Northern North Carolina and Memphis, Tenn.

Change Will Be Gradual.

No immediate relief from the unseasonable cold is in sight. The best that the weather bureau could say on the subject today was that there would be a very gradual warming up all along the line, but that no decided change will occur during the remainder of the week.

With 22 deg. at Alpena, Mich., the lowest reported and corresponding temperatures over all of Northern Michigan, the thermometer at 8 o'clock this morning registered 30 at Burlington and Montpelier, Vt., at Wytheville, Va., and Elkins, W. Va., while at Binghamton, N. Y., it was 28. New York's temperature was 36 deg., Boston, 38; Atlantic City, 38; Washington, 40; Asheville, N. C., 36; Pittsburg, 34; Lexington, Ky., 36, and Scranton, Pa., 32, and Duluth 31. Freezing temperatures were registered throughout the Upper Mississippi valley.

KILLS WIFE IN CHICAGO STREET

Chicago, May 3.—Fleeing down the street in an effort to escape him, Mrs. John Bartowski, 37 years old, was shot today by her husband and mortally wounded. The slayer ran into a basement, where, cornered by neighbors, he shot and killed himself. The shooting followed a quarrel.

HOLY RELICS OF THE JEWS ARE STOLEN

Ark of the Covenant and Censer and Other Sacred Vessels Gone.

Mosque of Omar Violated By European Archaeologists.

People of Jerusalem Excited —Turkish Governor Is Mobbed.

Jerusalem, Palestine, May 3.—The inhabitants have been aroused to the point of rioting by the operations of a party of English archaeologists accused of having excavated beneath the inviolable Mosque of Omar and removed relics reputed to include the ark of the covenant, the censer and other sacred vessels which belonged to the tribes of Israel.

Azmy Bey, the Turkish governor, was mobbed on the streets for supposed complicity in the profanation, and hooted as "a pig."

The mosque has been closed and is closely guarded pending the arrival from Constantinople of officials of the government, who will make an investigation.

Worked for Two Years.

The expedition worked for two years on a large scale, beginning at the village of Siloam, which lies at the southeast end of Jerusalem on the southern slope of the Mount of Olives, overlooking the valley of Kedron and the Pool of Siloam. The explorers are credited with having excavated a passage from the Pool of Siloam toward the place

IS THE ATLANTIC COAST SINKING?

Question Is to Be Determined By Scientific Investigators.

Trenton, N. J., May 3.—The theory that the coast of New Jersey is sinking at the rate of about two feet a century, with consequent important results along several scientific lines, is to be officially investigated this summer. At the meeting of the board of managers of the state geological survey, State Geologist Kummel reported that he had made arrangements with Prof. D. W. Johnson of Harvard university to make the necessary research.

Some scientists have held that the Atlantic sea coast was sinking at the rate of two feet every 100 years, and the theory has come to be quite generally accepted.

SAYS MEN SHOULD KISS AND NOT SHAKE HANDS.

Suffolk, Va., May 3.—Col. George Carrington Cabell, city attorney of Norfolk, in an Odd Fellows' address at the Academy of Music here advocated kissing among men. He contended that the osculatory greeting between masculine acquaintances carries more depth of friendship than the formal handshake and declared that he would be glad to see the custom prevail.

PEACE ENVOY AT EL PASO

Mexican Negotiations Soon Will Be Well Under Way.

Douglas, Ariz., May 3.—Refugees from Guaymas, Mex., arriving here today, said a thousand Americans were penned up in Mazatlan unable to get away because of the severed railroad connections and unable to get word to Washington to send a warship to take them away. Mexican gunboats in Mazatlan harbor prevented any egress by sea, while the rebels had the city surrounded on the land side when the last news came from the city. Wire communication with Mazatlan is interrupted.

El Paso, Tex., May 3.—With Judge Francisco Carabajal, the government peace envoy, already on the ground, and Governor Miguel Ahumada of Chihuahua, who is to act in an advisory capacity, expected to reach here before night, actual peace negotiations bid fair to be soon in progress.

The first move will be the extension of the armistice which expires at noon today. Dispatches from the City of Mexico last night announced an ex-

SETTLES SUIT FOR $1,180,000

Washington, May 3.—The government today accepted $1,180,000 in compromise of the suits against Duveen Bros., the New York art firm accused of custom frauds.

The books and papers of the firm will be retained for evidence in a criminal action. Two of the Duveen brothers now under indictment are not in the United States and it is the announced intention of the treasury department to prosecute them if they ever come within the jurisdiction of the courts of this country.

The settlement in the Duveen case involves the largest sum collected in any of the customs cases with the exception of the sugar frauds.

NEW "MURDER FARM" MAY BE UNEARTHED IN HOOSIER STATE

One Body Found and Other Men Missing Near Fowler, Ind.

John Poole Admits Killing Employe and Hiding the Remains.

Son Discovers Crime That Leads to Story Like Gunness Case.

Fowler, Ind., May 3.—Evidence that came to light today indicates that Indiana contains another "murder farm" like that of Mrs. Bella Gunness, near Laporte, that caused a sensation throughout the country a few years ago.

John Poole, a wealthy farmer, in jail here, accused of the murder of his farm hand, Joseph Kemper, whose body was found on the Poole farm yesterday, today admitted killing Kemper, but contended it was accidental.

Poole, according to the sheriff, said he killed Kemper while out rabbit hunting on Dec. 12, 1910. He said they were climbing a fence, when the shotgun was accidentally discharged, the shot taking effect in the back of Kemper's head and killing him instantly.

The farmer said that he then cut the body into pieces and buried it with the refuse from the killing of hogs.

When asked why he had not told of the accident, Poole is said to have answered that he feared public opinion was against him, and that he would not be believed, as he had shot a man several years ago.

Other Men Missing.

Two other farm hands, who were employed by Poole, have been missing a number of years and today a systematic search of the Poole farm was begun. The two men whose absence has never been accounted for are Charles Clark and Charles Mack.

Elmer Poole, 18 years old, son of the accused man, started the investigation of Kemper's disappearance several weeks ago, and it was he who found the body yesterday.

Five minutes after court had convened Mr. Williams began his opening address to the jury.

He told the jury that the state in-

OHIO SOLONS MAY CONFESS

Rumors of Coming Revelations of Bribery Are Current.

Columbus, Ohio, May 3.—Rumors of confessions by members of the Ohio legislature and of arrests of accused members were rife today when the grand jury convened to investigate charges of legislative corruption. Speaker Vining is authority for the statement that he will request the resignation from the house calendar committee of Representative George Nye of Pike county.

Prosecuting Attorney Turner reiterated his declaration that he would not accept any confessions of men who sought by confessions to escape prosecution through an immunity bath.

TROPHY FOR BEST DAIRY CATTLE

The Duluth Commercial club, which last year gave a beautiful trophy to the North Dakota State Fair association to be awarded for the best dairy butter, is this year preparing to give another trophy, which will be awarded for the best young herd of dairy cattle bred in North Dakota or Northern Minnesota.

The officers of the North Dakota association have accepted the offer of the trophy and the design is now being worked out. It is expected that one of the finest trophies ever awarded at a fair in the Northwest will be the result. The club will try to outdo itself and present a better trophy than that of last year, which brought the following words of commendation from M. C. Bachelier, secretary of the North Dakota State Fair association.

"The trophy offered by the Duluth Comemrcial club last year was one of the handsomest I have ever seen, and our state dairy commissioner, who is an expert on trophies, stated that it was the handsomest ever offered in the Northwest. I am sure your special offer will be as greatly appreciated by the dairy breeders of the state as it is by this association."

WEATHER: Generally fair tonight and Thursday; slightly warmer tonight with frost; moderate westerly to easterly winds.

WORK NORTH OF AVENUE DONE

Pile Driving for Long Section of New Trestle Finished.

That part of the Canadian Northern trestle, between Fifty-ninth avenue west and Central avenue, was finished today as far as pile driving is concerned, and as soon as the work of tearing down the old "shirt factory" building, Fifty-fourth avenue west and Grand, is finished, the pile driving outfit will be moved to the south side of Grand avenue. A long overhead bridge of concrete and steel will span the intersection of Grand and Central avenues.

A crew of men has been following the pile driving crew and laying the deck on the piles for the track. It is expected that within another month, rails will be laid on the completed part of the trestle.

West of Fifty-ninth avenue, the grading has not been completed and at the present time a fill is being made between Fifty-ninth and Sixty-first avenues west. Within the next two weeks, it is expected that the earth will be soft enough to work with a scraper. The grading work on this stretch can then be finished.

The location of the depot has not been announced.

HAND TORN BY DYNAMITE CAP

Workman Loses Two Fingers in Explosion Near Ironton.

While handling a dynamite cap, which he had picked up from the ground while walking along the right-of-way of the new Canadian Northern road at Ironton this morning, Charles Laek, aged 22, had his left hand nearly blown off by an explosion of the cap.

The blow stunned Laek. People living nearby heard the explosion and called for a physician for the young man. Dr. Graham responded and Laek was taken to the Duluth hospital. The first and second fingers of the left hand were blown completely off and the others badly lacerated.

Laek is a Finn and can speak no English. He could not make the hospital attendants understand how the accident occurred. Through an interpreter, he declared that he had stepped on the cap and had thus caused the explosion. This might be possible, but is hardly probable, they think, and believe Laek must have had the cap in his hand.

Laek said that he lived at 22 Sixth avenue west and that he was at Ironton in search of work on the new railroad.

The new road will open up a thoroughfare of easy grade from a large farming community to West Duluth.

The Kreidler Piano Co.

A reorganization of the Hall-Kreidler Piano company, through the retirement of W. J. Hall, has resulted in a change of name of the concern to the Kreidler Piano company. The company is now well established in its new quarters, 108 East Superior street with a fine line of high grade pianos and player pianos. In view of the removal specially low prices are being made for quick clearance of a number of excellent instruments. The new company comprises F. M. Kreidler, president and treasurer; A. J. Kreidler, vice president and D. D. Kreidler, secretary. The concern is one of the best known at the Head of the Lakes, having been in business on both sides of the bay for a number of years.

MAY TERM IN SESSION

Heavy Calendar in Both the Civil and Criminal Branches.

Grand Jurors Have More Than Thirty Cases to Consider.

The May term of the district court began this morning with the call of the calendar by Judge J. D. Ensign, who is the presiding judge at this term of court.

The calendar is one of the heaviest in several years. This is due to the fact that under the new law there are fewer terms of court during the year. There has not been a term of court since March, and the May term is the last until the September term.

In all there were 236 cases on the calendar. Of this number 136 were for trial by jury and 100 for hearing by the court. Eleven cases were continued, 13 were stricken, 2 were transferred to the range, and 2 were dismissed.

This cuts down the calendar but little, and it is probable that the courts will be busy the entire summer disposing of the cases.

After doing his first work as judge at Two Harbors yesterday, Judge Daneer was on the job this morning. He held court in Judge Dibell's room as alterations are being made in the one to be occupied by him. His first local work was to hear a motion to strike from the calendar the case of the Anglin-Bancker company against Mrs. John McAlpine.

The grand jurors reported to Judge Ensign who read to them their instructions and they went immediately into secret session with Assistant County Attorney Warren E. Greene, who will assist them in their work. The grand jury has more than thirty cases to consider and it is expected that it will be in session for at least two or three days. The criminal calendar is the heaviest in several months.

The divorce mill will probably begin to grind late this afternoon, Judge Ensign will this month hear the domestic troubles of those who wish to be separated. There is a large number of cases and it is not likely that they will be finished before the end of the week.

Judge Dibell is still holding court at Carlton. Two judges were busy this afternoon hearing motions.

The work of the March term was still going on this morning while the May term was being inaugurated. While the calendar was being called the jury in the case of Matt Tammenin against the Adriatic Mining company brought in a verdict for $450 for the plaintiff. He had sued for $15,000, claiming that he was hurt while working in the Adriatic mine. Judge Cant is still busy with a case from the March term that has been on trial for several days past. It is seldom that the work of two different terms runs so closely together.

WARSHIP AS MUSSEL BED.

London Daily Graphic: The cruiser Champion, training ship for second-class stokers at Chatham, has just been taken into dry dock after lying seven years in the Medway. The Champion's bottom was found to be covered with an immense accumulation of barnacles and weeds. It is estimated that forty tons of mussels alone have been got off.

AMENDMENTS NOT ADDED

Dock Bill Slipped Through Without Restrictions Agreed Upon.

They Will Probably Be Incorporated in Lease By Auditor.

Despite the fact that the Duluth dock site bill went through both houses of the legislature and was signed by the governor with none of the amendments decided upon by the committee attached, it is entirely likely that the lease for the dock site will be prepared by the state auditor so as to incorporate the restrictions which were intended to be imposed by the committee report. The adoption of the restrictions is more than probable that the next legislature will amend the act so as to restrict the lease as intended.

The bill slipped through in the confused closing hours of the session and that it passed as originally drafted, providing for a lease of ninety-nine years and unhampered control of the site by the city during that term, was purely an oversight.

When the committee reported to the senate, recommending that the term of the lease be fixed at twenty-five years, that the city be restrained from sub-leasing the site except on permission of the state railroad and warehouse commission, and that within twelve years, the co-operative elevator companies of the state shall be given a portion of the site for a terminal elevator if they so wish, the committee report was adopted.

Evidently the senators thought that the adoption of the committee report amended the bill in itself, and nobody thinking otherwise, the bill went through. In the house, the opponents of the bill as originally drawn, thought it had been amended in the senate and there the bill went through with little protest. The governor signed it and it was not until several days after the close of the session that the fact that the bill had not been amended at all was discovered.

The Duluth people who worked for the bill are not disposed to take advantage of the legislature's mistake and hold out for the law as it now stands. The amendments will very likely be adopted at the next session of the legislature without protest from the St. Louis county representatives and the lease will be prepared with the restrictions which the amendments were meant to impose.

EVERYTHING THAT INTERESTS A BOY IN Y. M. C. A. EXHIBITION

The second annual Duluth boys' exposition promises to excel all previous efforts. Every day is bringing in new entries for the big fair, which will open formally Friday afternoon at 4:30, and remain open to the public until Saturday night. Nearly every school is represented and some schools have as high as thirty-five single entries.

The exposition is open not only to the school boys, but to every boy in the city under 19 years of age. The only thing necessary is to get an exhibitor's certificate, which will entitle the holder to as many competitions as he desires. Entries can be made up to Thursday evening and exhibits may be brought to the building up to Friday at 1 o'clock. Nothing will be received after that time.

There will be a large exhibit of manual training work, from the simplest articles up to book cases, chairs, and fancy tables. In the electrical department arc lights and wireless telegraph instruments have been entered. Other electrical contrivances will also be shown. In the arts and crafts contest there promises to be a much larger exhibit. The art department will be large and will include water colors, portraits, landscapes, animals, still life. There will also be showings in drawings, maps, penmanship, designs for book covers, and photography.

There will be all kinds of collections of stamps, coins, buttons, postal cards, etc. The boys' favorite pet, the dog, will have his place at the exposition. One member began last week to give his dog a daily bath in preparation for the big affair. Those who want an object lesson on how to cook cake, bread, or candy, will have an opportunity. This department is new this year and is proving an added attraction.

Friday night will be contest night, when the boys who excel in piano playing, solos and cornet playing will come to the front. Two choruses have been registered. There will also be orchestras, gymnastic squads, and orations. The contest will commence promptly at 8 o'clock.

THREE GREAT SALES IN ONE

Coats, Suits, Dresses

This news will bring hundreds of women to this store Thursday. We plan to make the "week's end" at this store the focal point for saving women.

The garments offered in this sale were selected by Mr. Silberstein, in person, thus eliminating any guesses or hodge podge accumulation that is sure to result from telegraph orders or New York buyers, who know nothing about the tastes or needs of Duluth women.

Furthermore, you take no chances here, for every garment is of the usual S. & B. standard of excellence. We permit no questionable garments to come into the store, no matter how cheaply they may be quoted to us.

100 Suits at $25.00

Every one is a $35 to $45 Suit, and of the usual S. & B. Co. type—same tailoring, same finish, same smart styles. It's a special purchase and means great savings to you.

The Coat Sale

We are offering Coats in this sale at $15, $19.50 and $27.50, that we know cannot be duplicated elsewhere under $25, $29.50 and $45. These were the final output of a prominent manufacturer, which we were fortunate enough to secure thru the presence of our Mr. Silberstein in New York at the time, and the coats were selected personally by him.

A Great Dress Event

Included in this sale are many handsome gowns, as well as street dresses in chiffons, marquisettes, crepe de chene, crepe meteor, foulards, poplins and pongees, serges, broadcloths and other fabrics—every one selected personally by Mr. Silberstein in New York ten days ago.

$12.75 for $20.00 Dresses
$15.00 for $29.50 Dresses
$19.50 for $35.00 Dresses

Our Hats at $5 and $7.50

Have all the style of our more expensive hats. You don't pay any more to get a smart-looking tailored or dress hat here than for an indifferent and ordinary style elsewhere. We are just as particular in hats at $5 and $7.50, as in hats at $25 and $35.

See these before deciding where your new hat is going to be bought.

WANTS SLICE OF PROPERTY

Judge William A. Cant of the district court granted a writ of attachment this morning, on the property owned in Duluth by Mary Le Flohic (Madame Gain.)

The property will be tied up until the action brought by Frank Doyer to recover the value of 997 shares of the capital stock of the Alecsi Real Estate company, the concern that Madame Gain incorporated some time ago when she intended going to Paris, France, is settled. Since that time she has apparently changed her mind for she is still in Superior, it is said.

The stock, Doyer claims, is worth $50,019.50. He claims that it is due him for acting as Madame Gain's advisor in property matters, and for work, labor, service rendered and money advanced to her at various times.

The papers in the action were filed with the clerk of the district court this morning and the writ of attachment was later turned over to the sheriff. Benjamin M. Goldberg is Doyer's attorney.

Madame Gain owns property valued at nearly $250,000 in Duluth. She owns the Lincoln hotel on West First street, some Superior street property and some valuable residence property located in different parts of the city.

Doyer claims to have been in Madame Gain's employ for a number of years. He claims that he has advanced her money at various times and that for a number of years, he has had complete charge of the property.

He claims that some time ago she turned the stock over to him, but that later she took it away. Then she refused to pay him for his services, return the money that had been advanced, or turn back to him the stock he claims.

He now seeks to get the value of the stock and has appealed to the courts.

RAILROADS

DULUTH IS FEATURED

Soo Line Is Widely Advertising Zenith City in Folders.

Also Gives Prominent Mention of the Water Carnival.

Score one for the Soo line.

The new folder issued by the company to advertise the short line between Duluth and Chicago is about as nice an advertising feature for Duluth as anybody would want to cast his eyes upon. The people into whose hands the folder finds its way, will know that Duluth is very much on the map. Incidentally, they will know that Duluth will have a water pageant this year.

One of the covers of the folder is given over to a picture of the Soo station at Chicago, while the other cover has a fine picture of the Soo station at Duluth. The first page has an announcement of Duluth's water pageant. The middle of the folder has a picture of the general waiting room in the Soo station here. The picture covers four pages and the announcement says the station is one of the finest in North America. Other pictures are of the basement waiting room of the Duluth station and of Duluth from the hillside.

Beginning June 4, the Soo train which now leaves here at 7 o'clock each evening for Chicago, will leave at 6:45 p. m. and will arrive at Chicago at 8:45 a. m., instead of at 9 o'clock as at present.

TEAMSTER HAS NARROW ESCAPE FROM INJURY.

Louis Cohen, a teamster for J. D. O'Connell, a local contractor, had a narrow escape from serious injury about 11:30 o'clock this morning when a neck yoke ring on the team which he was driving down Second avenue east broke. The wagon was heavily loaded with dirt and ran into the horses, which immediately jumped ahead.

Fortunately, the accident occurred but a short distance above Superior street. Cohen jumped from the wagon, but came within a couple of inches of falling under the wheels. The horses tried to make the turn on Superior street, but ran into a post and a fire alarm box on the lower side of the street. One side of the wagon was smashed, as were the post and the fire alarm box. The horses were uninjured.

CHARGED WITH ASSISTING IN EXPRESS WAGON THEFT.

William Whittaker was arrested by the Superior police this morning for the Duluth authorities on the charge of having been an accomplice of Thomas McDonald, who was taken into custody for stealing three packages from an express wagon on Lake avenue south, several nights ago. Whittaker had one of the bundles in his possession when arrested. He accompanied McDonald to Superior on the ferry, but got away before the policeman who arrested McDonald could land him.

The men were seen taking the packages from the wagon by two citizens, who followed them to Superior and notified the police on the other side of the bay. Whittaker will probably be brought to Duluth today. He has been arrested before.

TWO HIBBING MEN FINED FOR INVADING HOSPITAL.

Hibbing, Minn., May 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Trying to enter the new detention hospital last night while laboring under the effects of too much drink two men threw the nurses into a panic and were arrested. They were fined $50 in municipal court today.

SERVICES IN ENGLISH

Departure From Custom at Bethany Swedish Lutheran Church.

Pastor Says There Is Tendency to Drop Mother Tongue.

Will the English language eventually supplant the Swedish and Norwegian in the Scandinavian speaking churches of Duluth? There seems to be a growing tendency among the younger generation of Scandinavian Americans to have English services in the churches instead of the Swedish or Norwegian.

Rev. Carl G. Olson, pastor of Bethany Swedish Lutheran church, Twenty-third avenue west and Third street, one of the largest Swedish churches in the city, has realized this fact. For the first time in the history of Bethany church, confirmation communion services will be held in the English language next Sunday.

Of the sixty-eight members of the annual confirmation class, most are of Swedish parentage. However, of this number, only fifty can understand Swedish sufficiently so that the catechism could be taught them in the mother tongue. The other eighteen were given the catechism in English. On the Sunday following the confirmation exercise, communion services are always held. The class was confirmed last Sunday and next Sunday the communion will take place. Heretofore this service has always been conducted in the Swedish language although many of the children could not understand it. There are practically none of the children who do not understand English.

Rev. C. G. Olson today stated that there was a growing tendency among the young Swedish Americans to drift away from the mother tongue and to absorb the English language in preference to the Swedish. Thus, he says has gone so far that it is necessary to hold English services occasionally in the church.

SODALITY MEMBERS HOLD A SMOKER.

The Young Men's Sodality of St. Clement's church held a large and enthusiastic smoker and meeting last night in the clubrooms in the basement of the temporary church. After the new improvements to their hall, which includes the installation of a bowling alley, shower baths, reading room, smoking room and a thoroughly equipped gym, the young men promise to be heard from this coming year in the different branches of sport.

Although the material on hand is very scant and this is their first attempt at baseball, the sodality will organize a team under the direction of Manager Ben Owens to compete with all the fast amateur teams about town.

The musical part of last night's program was furnished by James Wade, John Garvey and Charles Kremer. Lawrence Drohan gave a declamation on the "Mad Actor," which was loudly applauded. He responded with an encore on "Horses Chawin' Hay."

WILL ENTERTAIN GOOD TEMPLARS.

Further plans for the entertainment of the delegates to the annual state convention of the Scandinavian grand lodge of the Independent Order of Good Templars, which will be held in Duluth June 22, 23 and 24, will be made by the central committee at its meeting Friday evening at the home of Anton Wicklund, Forty-first avenue west and Eighth street.

A big public meeting will open the convention Thursday evening, June 22, at 8 o'clock. There will be several addresses by state officers. The principal meetings of the lodge will be at the Maccabee hall, Lake avenue. One of the meetings will be held in a hall at West Duluth.

Friday will be "sight-seeing day." In the afternoon automobiles will take the visitors for a drive around the boulevard and on Saturday there will be a steamboat excursion around the harbor and up the river. A big banquet will be held Saturday night.

The following is the committee in charge: Gust Landin, chairman; Gust Hjerpe, William Landin, Otto Person and Carl Carlson of North Star lodge; Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Simonson, P. A. Nelson, P. C. Nelson and Miss Julia Hoverson of Lyngljmpt; Conrad and Anton Wicklund, Gust Hedman, P. J. Borgstrom and Peter Dockem of Morning Star lodge.

RATE CASE APPEAL HAS BEEN ALLOWED

Minnesota Assigns Thirty-Four Errors in Judge Sanborn's Ruling.

St. Paul, Minn., May 3.—Judge Walter H. Sanborn in the United States circuit court of appeals has granted the petition of attorneys for the state for an appeal in the so-called Minnesota rate cases to the supreme court of the United States. Attorneys for the state set up thirty-four assignments of error on two general questions in Judge Sanborn's recent decision against the state.

Judge Sanborn refused a petition to continue the injunction against the Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Minneapolis & St. Louis railroads restraining them from putting into effect the rates ordered by the railroad and warehouse commission pending the final decree in the case.

He extended the duration of the present injunction, however, until July 1 instead of June 1. After that date the three roads named may or may not go back to the old schedule or higher rates.

The other six roads concerned in the litigation are not bound by the injunction and will be obliged to maintain the present rates as ordered by the state railroad and warehouse commission.

BANKERS INDORSE THE ALDRICH PLAN.

Nashville, Tenn., May 3.—With every member in the city attending the executive council of the American Bankers' association unanimously adopted a resolution offered by Frank O. Watts of this city, president of the association, approving the report of the currency commission of the executive council. The report which was indorsed is in most respects identical with the plan suggested by Senator Nelson W. Aldrich of Rhode Island, regarding monetary legislation.

MORE POSTAL BANKS TO OPEN EVERY MONTH.

Washington, May 3.—Assured of the success of the postal savings system, Postmaster General Hitchcock has decided to designate from this time forward from 50 to 100 additional postal savings banks monthly until the system has been generally established throughout the United States.

Telegraphic reports received from forty-five postal savings depositories opened for business May 1 show that 400 accounts were received, the deposits aggregating $10,000.

TALK ABOUT PROPOSED ARBITRATION TREATY.

Washington, May 3.—Several tentative drafts of the proposed arbitration treaty between the United States and Great Britain were discussed by President Taft and his cabinet yesterday. Following the cabinet session Secretary Knox and officials of the state department continued the discussion of details and phraseology, but no draft was accepted as final and it may be weeks before the treaty can be submitted to the senate or to Great Britain for ratification.

The president is of the opinion that Great Britain will not frame a separate proposal, but that it will await the submission of the one drawn up here. The president told visitors that he did not know how long the treaty would run.

Ready to Rebuild Bangor.

Bangor, Me., May 3.—Preparations for rebuilding Bangor's business district, swept by fire Sunday night, causing an estimated loss of $3,000,000, are fairly started. Nearly every business concern burned out, plans to resume. Many of them are established in temporary quarters and there is little evidence of discouragement. Several prop-dence of discouragement. Several properties owners have already begun clearing away the debris to make ready for new structures.

Mabray Gang Loses Appeal.

St. Paul, Minn., May 3.—The failure of attorneys for members of the so-called Mabray gang to print a record of their case in the appeal from the decision of the United States district court at Council Bluffs, resulted in the dismissal of the case by the United States circuit court of appeals. The members of the gang are alleged to have promoted fake races at Council Bluffs and had appealed from an adverse decision of the United States district court in that city.

CONDEMNS BAZARS AS HELD BY CHURCHES.

Philadelphia, May 3.—Commercialism in churches and the raising of necessary funds by bazars, strawberry festivals and lawn parties, was condemned by Maj. Moses Veale in an address at yesterday's session of the national conference of church clubs.

"There is not enough of the teaching that giving is a matter of worship and of rendering to God part of what God has given us," said Maj. Veale.

The following officers were elected by the conference: President, H. Blanchard Randall, Baltimore; first vice president, V. L. Marvin, Cleveland; second vice president, John J. Collier, Philadelphia; third vice president, Lawrence B. Evans, Tufts college, Massachusetts; secretary - treasurer, Charles F. Chase, New Britain, Conn.

DULUTHIANS ENTERTAINED.

Grand Forks People Were Glad to See Zenith City Delegation.

The people of Grand Forks, N. D., gave the Duluthians on the Minnesota Special an enthusiastic welcome on their arrival in that city, according to Fred A. Hills, northern passenger agent for the Great Northern road, who returned yesterday.

Automobiles were provided and the few hours in the North Dakota city passed all too quickly. The Duluthians were driven about the city and shown the principal points of interest.

The Duluth car was attached to the regular Minnesota Special at Grand Forks. The train consisted of twelve coaches. The Duluth delegation had a banner on each side of the car with the one word "Duluth" in large letters.

The Duluth delegation will start back from Helena Friday afternoon or night.

St. Paul, Minn., May 3.—Robert A. Smith, many times mayor of St. Paul, left his sick bed Monday to attend the meeting of the Ramsey County commissioners, to vote for his old time friend, N. P. Langford, for member of the board of control. Mr. Langford was selected. Mr. Smith is 80 years old, and was advised not to leave his bed, but he believed that he was doing a good thing for a good friend.

HELENA EXPECTS 1,500 DELEGATES

Minnesota Party Will Receive Welcome in Montana Capital.

Helena, Mont., May 3.—A royal welcome is being arranged for the special train nearing here on the Great Northern railroad bringing the Minnesota and North Dakota delegates to the Northwestern Development league meet which begins here tomorrow morning. The Minnesota special last night skimmed through the Milk river valley in the northern part of the state stopping this morning at Havre, where the Montana Central road running to Helena branches from the main line of the Great Northern. The visitors have been royally entertained at all Northern Montana towns, getting an uproarious reception at Havre. The Minnesota special reaches Great Falls this afternoon where a big reception is to be given. Automobiles will be furnished the visitors for trips to the Boston & Montana smelter, the giant spring, the falls of the Missouri and other points. The visitors will be entertained at lunch at the new $400,000 Rainbow hotel opened Saturday at Great Falls. From Great Falls the special will run to Helena without a stop, reaching here either late tonight or early tomorrow morning.

Advices received here indicate there will be about 1,500 delegates on hand when the big meeting is called to order in the Auditorium here tomorrow at 9 a. m.

The city is decorating in honor of the event and the town is filling up with visitors from all parts of the state as well as from other states.

FOOD IS INSPECTED.

State Officers Will Keep Duluth Up to Legal Standard.

The food which is offered for sale in Duluth is being investigated by T. W. McIntosh, secretary of the state dairy and food commission, and two deputies. It is stated that out of 100 samples which have been taken in different stores, 90 per cent of them have been found to be below the legal standard. The pure food laws of Minnesota are among the best in the United States and it is asserted that they will be enforced. Among other things the state deputies will investigate the local milk supply.

BUTTON STRIKE ENDED.

Terms Are Considered Victory for the Workers.

Muscatine, Iowa, May 3.—With the ratification by the members of the Button Workers' Protective union late yesterday afternoon of the agreement formulated Saturday by Governor B. F. Carroll and representatives of the union and the manufacturers' association, Muscatine's long button strike came to an end. Work was resumed in the factories this morning and it is probable that Governor Carroll will order the militia companies now on duty to be withdrawn. The ratification was celebrated by the blowing of whistles and the ringing of bells.

The terms of settlement are considered a victory for the union forces. According to the agreement, which was ratified by a vote of more than 2 to 1, all employes are to be taken back without discrimination, and the wages, count and weight are to be the same as those when the factories closed Feb. 25. A number of improvements in the factories also are to be made.

CROWD VISITS NEW AUDITORIUM

Roller Rink at Third Avenue East and First Street Opened.

The new Auditorium, Third avenue east and First street, recently built by L. Hammel & Co., was crowded last night with roller skaters and spectators. The handsome structure was opened to the public for the first time. The Children's Home benefitted, as receipts were turned over to that institution.

Mayor Cullum made a short speech. He was introduced by Architect Frank H. Young. The mayor said the rink was a credit to the city and he referred to the charitable purpose to which the receipts were devoted.

Hereafter the Auditorium will be open daily. In the morning children may attend from 10 to 12 o'clock. The afternoon hours will be from 2 to 5 o'clock and in the evening, 7:30 to 10:30 o'clock. There will be music morning, afternoon and evening. Skates will be furnished at the rink. Rules have been established and will be rigidly enforced so that guests will receive every courtesy.

W. L. Downer of New York city, who has had several years experience as a manager of roller rinks, is in charge of the Auditorium. Instructors have been engaged to teach regular and fancy skating.

The Auditorium is a brick fireproof structure and contains a skating surface 80 feet wide and 130 feet long, of clear maple. There are check rooms, a balcony for spectators, a smoking room and waiting rooms. Music for skating is provided by a large military organ equal to an orchestra of twelve pieces. The building can be used also as a hall for conventions and large gatherings.

Glennon yesterday pointed out the dangers and temptations which confront the immigrant in America, and referred to the "white slave" traffic as one of the evils that beset young women coming to this country. The objects of the organization as explained by the archbishop, are: To promote and direct Catholic colonization; to build up Catholic communities around schools and churches; the formation of a central bureau for relief and colonization work. Rev. Julius De Vos of Chicago is temporary president of the society.

FOR FISHWAYS IN THE RED RIVER OF THE NORTH.

Washington, May 3.—At the request of Representative Steenerson of Minnesota, the state department has taken up with the British government the question of providing fishways in the Red River of the North and its tributaries in Canada, so that the branches of the river in Minnesota may be well supplied with fish. Mr. Steenerson recently protested to the state department that dams were built in the river and its tributaries north of the border without being provided with spillways for the fish.

DOCTOR ENDORSES THE UNITED DOCTORS

Old Practitioner Tells How They Cured Him After His Own Remedies Failed.

The new "united" system of treatment, originated and used in Duluth only by the United Doctors in their institute on the third floor of the Columbia building has effected so many marvelous cures after ordinary doctors had failed, that it is now indorsed by thousands and thousands of cured patients all over the country, and is attracting attention of the medical profession.

Dr. H. Z. Leonard of 1406 Market St., Logansport, Ind., is one physician who has tried the "united" system of treatment in his own case and now writes the following letter for publication:

"I would like to take this opportunity of informing my many friends and acquaintances of the wonderful opportunity they have here in Logansport of regaining their lost health by having one of the institutes of the United Doctors located in this city. As I am well known all over the country, and several of the old residents have known me since I was American consul to Canada, and also knew me during my sixteen years of active practice of medicine, I want to take advantage of this moment to let every one know how I suffered and where I first obtained relief.

"It was on the 14th day of November, 1910, that I came to the office of the United Doctors after having read a great deal in the papers of their wonderful treatments. I had been suffering with what the doctors called eczema for over four years and no one could give me any relief. I had tried remedy after remedy with no avail and was at the point of despair when, luckily, I came to the United Doctors and the specialist told me exactly what my trouble was and that I could be benefited. At that time my limb was swollen way above my knee and was so inflamed and itched so that at times it seemed that the pain and itching would be unbearable.

"I want to say that immediately after these doctors' first application of medicine I experienced my first relief in four years, and I am sure it was due entirely to their skillful and conscientious treatment.

"Words cannot express my gratitude for this wonderful relief which I have experienced, and any one wishing to know anything of my past or present condition will do me a favor by writing or coming to see me. God bless the United Doctors in their great work is the best recommendation I can give in my old age of retirement. H. Z. LEONARD. M. D.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

MUST CHANGE MEET'S DATE

Northern Minnesota and the State Firemen's Tournament Dates Conflict.

Plans on Foot for Changing Date of Northern Minnesota Gathering.

Cass Lake, Minn., May 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—The regular monthly meeting of the Cass Lake fire department was held last night and besides the regular business transacted, delegates were elected to the number of three to attend the state firemen's meeting, which will be held at Owatonna on June 20 and 21. Those chosen were: Pat Cain, chief of fire department; Dan Lilly and A. F. Ittner, president relief association.

As the dates set for holding the state meeting and that of the Northern Minnesota Firemen's Tournament association conflict, a letter was received from R. F. Pray of Akeley, secretary of the association, stating that the date for holding the tournament would have to be changed on account of their by-laws stating that the dates for holding their tournaments should not conflict with the dates set for holding the state meeting, and as a result letters have been sent out to the different towns in this association asking their opinion as to what date they prefer for holding the tournament.

As far as Cass Lake is concerned, one week earlier, or on June 13, 14, 15 and 16, would be suitable, but this decision will not be reached until all the towns have sent in their opinions, the majority opinions of which will set the date, either one week earlier or later.

Matt Gross has disposed of his cigar factory here to Charles E. La Gesse, who will operate it in the future.

Dr. Thomas F. Rodwell returned yesterday from a visit of several weeks at Washington, D. C., on business.

UNKNOWN DIES IN GREENBUSH LOCKUP

May Have Been J. H. Hanson of Middle River Who Dropped From Sight.

Crookston, Minn., May 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. J. H. Hanson of Middle River yesterday received an anonymous letter undated and unsigned which read "I am dying." Enclosed was $30 in cash. As her husband is missing and she does not know where he is, she is at a loss to know whether the letter is from him or not. Coincident with this was the fact that an unknown man went up on the Warroad train yesterday and got off at Greenbush, presumably to get a drink. He missed the train and was in Greenbush all day and was locked up in the calaboose at night intoxicated. This morning he was taken to the hotel ill and died a few hours later with delirium tremens. His identity is as yet unknown and he may be Mrs. Hanson's husband.

SCHOOLS PROSPER IN GRAND FORKS

Report of Secretary of Board of Education Shows Good Condition.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dr. A. A. Westeen, serving his second term as member of the board of education, was elected president of the new board at the first meeting and the two new members, Dr. F. H. Slyfield and P. O. Thorson took the places of H. N. Wells and John Lunseth. Two additional weeks were added to the school year, setting commencement about June 18, and the auditorium was secured for the commencement exercises. They have formerly been held in the Metropolitan theater.

The report of the secretary, F. F. Burchard, showed the schools to be in splendid financial condition despite the fact that a new school building was erected this year and a complete domestic science and manual training equipment installed in the high school. The plans for the addition to the Winship school were taken under consideration, report to be made later.

WORLD-WIDE CONFERENCE

Of Churches Proposed at Bishops' Meeting at Winona.

Winona, Minn., May 3.—Bishop Robert McIntyre was assigned to the Minnesota and Dakota conference and Bishop John W. Hamilton to the Wisconsin conference by the Methodist college of bishops here. The other bishops will be given their assignments this evening.

A memorial favoring the movement for a world conference of all evangelical churches to promote more harmonious relations between the churches and to do away with all petty differences of creed, was drafted yesterday and will be presented to the general conference to be held in Minneapolis next May. The movement was inaugurated by the Protestant Episcopal church.

The quarterly conferences were directed to estimate the amount of money required to support retired preachers in their conferences whether or not they were in need. This is to facilitate the pension work.

In considering the recommendation of the Rock River conference that the transfer of bishops from one conference to another be mutual, the bishops decided that as far as possible they are doing so now.

The soft bottom of the creek was responsible for their narrow escape from injury. The animal fell backwards in trying to disentangle itself from the harness and just by a lucky chance missed falling on Mrs. Burkhart and the children.

BIG ROSEAU DITCH WILL BE CONSTRUCTED.

St. Paul, Minn., May 3.—The state drainage board has decided to go ahead with the construction of Drainage Ditch No. 72 in Roseau county, in spite of the fact that the legislature failed to make a sufficient appropriation for drainage work in that country.

John Kohler some time ago was awarded the contract for the construction of the ditch for $60,000.

The ditch will drain a large area of land between what is known as Roseau ridge and Roseau river. The state drainage engineer was instructed to make a survey of a smaller ditch in the western part of the county and report at the next meeting of the board. It will cost about $12,000.

AFTER 7 YEARS SUFFERING

I Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Waurika, Okla.—"I had female troubles for seven years, was all run down, and so nervous I could not do anything. The doctors treated me for different things but did me no good. I got so bad that I could not sleep day or night. While in this condition I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and began its use and wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice. In a short time I had gained my average weight and am now strong and well."—Mrs. SALLIE STEVENS, R. F. D., No. 3, Box 31, Waurika, Okla.

Another Grateful Woman.

Huntington, Mass.—"I was in a nervous, run down condition and for three years could find no help.

"I owe my present good health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier which I believe saved my life.

"My doctor knows what helped me and does not say one word against it."—Mrs. MARI JANETTE BATES, Box 134, Huntington, Mass.

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has cured many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, and nervous prostration.

BIDS TOO HIGH

For Remodeling Pennington Courthouse and Are Rejected.

Thief River Falls, Minn., May 3.—(Special to the Herald.)—The Pennington county board opened bids for remodeling the city hall which the city of Thief River Falls donated to the new county for a courthouse. The bids were beyond the amount the commissioners had decided to expend so no award was made. New bids will be called for.

The joint meeting of the commissioners for Pennington and Red Lake counties to divide the county property did not materialize last week. An expert was hired and placed at work on the books of the county of Red Lake to determine the credits and debits of the county in order that an equitable division of the property and debts might be performed. The new $90,000 courthouse which the commissioners of Red Lake county constructed two years ago and which precipitated the division fight is completed and will figure largely in the settlement.

UNFORTUNATE VICTIM OF AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

LAWRENCE HAYES AND HIS LITTLE SISTER.

Lawrence Hayes, the unfortunate boy who was killed by an automobile today, was on his way home from the Jefferson school, where he was in the First grade. He was accompanied by the small son of Bob Blackwood, who resides in the same neighborhood. Lawrence jumped off the furniture wagon first and skipped in front of the automobile, which was traveling eastwards at a moderate rate of speed. The car was driven by Peter Pastoret, the owner. The Blackwood boy jumped off the wagon a second or two after his chum, but stood still behind the furniture wagon. Had he not done so, it is probable that a double tragedy would have resulted. The Jefferson school is near Ninth avenue east and the boys caught the wagon for a "lift" towards their homes after the beginning of the noon recess. Both lived near that corner and got off there. The Hayes youth was knocked unconscious immediately. The car was stopped within a short distance and he was lifted into the car by Court Officer Peter McDonald. Mr. Pastoret hurried with him to St. Mary's hospital, but he was beyond medical aid, dying about twenty minutes after he had been carried inside the institution.

Mr. Pastoret later went to his home at 1408 East Third street. The woman at the house who answered the telephone stated that he was not at home and then asked the central girl not to ring any one on their telephone. It was impossible for that reason to get Mr. Pastoret to get a statement from him. It was stated at St. Mary's hospital that he was grief-stricken over the sad affair, and that he was almost overcome by the shock.

Edward Hines Excites Curiosity of Hotel Lobby Frequenters.

"I have nothing to say; no, really nothing to say."

This was the response of Edward Hines, the millionaire lumber magnate, as he sat in the Spalding this afternoon. He was asked if he would make any statement for publication, and declined, stating that there was nothing whatever that he had to give out at this time.

Mr. Hines got in this morning on the Omaha train. Isaac Baker, one of Mr. Hines' right hand men, is with him. S. J. Cusson, general manager of the plant at Virginia, is also with him. A. J. Underwood, another of the Hines men, is in the party.

This morning Mr. Hines went to the mill at West Duluth and made a thorough inspection of the plant. It is understood that he will go to Virginia and look over the plant there, also transacting some business while in the city.

Mr. Hines looks worried. There is no doubt about that. He even spoke to the interviewer with more than his customary courtesy. As he sat in the lobby of the Spalding he was the object of much curiosity.

Men whispered around to each other that Hines "was sitting over there near the cigar counter." Others walked by just to get a look at the magnate who just at the present time is filling the newspapers of the country with news, speculation and gossip.

On other trips to this city it is seldom that the coming or going of Mr. Hines at the Spalding have attracted more than the usual attention, not even ruffling the surface of the hotel lobby gossip.

Isaack Baker said business was not very good, and then he smiled broadly.

"I'll bet," said the interviewer, "that Mr. Hines hates the sight of a newspaper man."

"I'm sure I don't know," answered the diplomatic Mr. Baker, and he gave the reporter a very wise and knowing grin. "You will have to go and ask Mr. Hines that question."

Several Duluth business men greeted Mr. Hines in the lobby. He was deep in conversation with a prominent citizen of Duluth and seemed quite oblivious to the scrutiny he was being subjected to.

COPPERS HIGHER; TRADING IS LIGHT

The copper market opened firm, but quickly declined. Toward noon the market rallied and toward the close values generally advanced. There was no pressure to speak of and the light buying caused the market to firm.

The sentiment is mixed, traders believing that there are two sides to the situation and that bearish conditions have been fairly well discounted. On the recessions there seems to be buying of a good character, although the purchasing ceases on the hard spots, standard issues were considered cheap at prevailing prices. With the materializing of large crops the sentiment seems to be that business will revive and the market will soon discount this expected enlargement of the business volume.

Amalgamated sold at $63.12½, $62.75 to $63.62½ to $63.50, Butte Ballaklava at $5.50 to $5.62½, Butte Caolition at $17.75 to $18.25, Giroux at $6.31¼ to $6.37½, Superior & Pittsburg at $19, North Butte at $28.25 to $29.

The Calumet & Arizona Copper company has elected W. E. Corey and H. D. Rea, a steel man of Pittsburg, directors of the Calumet & Arizona which now includes the Superior & Pittsburg. Mr. Corey succeeds L. W. Powell. Mr. Rea fills a directorate recently created. J. C. Greenway took Mr. Powell's place as general manager. Mr. Powell was also third vice president. This office has been abolished, temporarily at least.

It is reported that Mr. Coroy will become a member of the directorate of the Amalgamated Copper company. The fact that he has entered the directorate of the Calumet & Arizona gives impetus to the rumor that the proposed copper merger has not fallen through but that promoters are waiting until supreme court decisions are handed down so they may know along what lines to proceed.

John D. Ryan, president of the Amalgamated Copper company, which recently acquired practically all of the stock of the United Metals Selling company, has been elected president of the latter company, succeeding Adolph Lewisohn. There have been no other changes in the official personnel of the United Metals Selling company. The Amalgamated Copper company, under the new arrangement, will have control of the marketing of the output of the Anaconda and several other copper mining companies in which in normal times aggregate about 550,000,000 pounds copper a year.

When the stockholders of the Ahmeek company met at Boston yesterday afternoon to vote on the consolidation question it was announced that an order had been granted by one of the courts in Michigan preventing the stock of the company owned by Calumet & Hecla from being voted at the meeting. The order was issued at the request of F. W. Denton, general manager of the Copper Range properties, and others. The Ahmeek meeting was then postponed for a week.

SUPERIOR BOLT KILLS AGED WOMAN

News of a peculiar accident, resulting from a dynamite explosion, in which an aged woman was killed at noon today at Iron River, Wis., reached Superior this afternoon.

An iron bolt was driven through the body of Mrs. Henrika Dahl, 86 years old, by an explosion of dynamite in a burning barn. Mrs. Dahl and others were standing around the burning structure, unaware that it contained the explosive.

Others were also hurt, but none were injured seriously, according to the reports received from the Wisconsin town. The barn caught fire shortly before noon. The blaze attracted many people, and the old lady was among the onlookers.

The explosion sent burning timbers in every direction, and the panic-stricken onlookers scattered at once. Only a few were struck. Mrs. Dahl was killed outright. When she was picked up, it was found that a bolt, evidently from the door, had been driven through her body, probably causing instant death.

The incident caused considerable excitement in the village. Besides the barn, five other buildings were damaged by the flames after the explosion

To Use Rock Crusher.

The county rock crusher, which has been loaned by the city of Superior for the prisoners at the Rockmont workhouse, will be put into commission some time this week, according to Supt. Phillbrook. The prisoners heretofore have been accustomed to crush the rock with large sledges. The amount of crushed rock per day will be greatly increased when the machine is installed. The rock is used by the city on the streets.

BOARD MEMBERS NAMED.

Mayor Crumpton's Appointments Promptly Confirmed By Council.

Mayor Crumpton's appointments for various board places in the city administration were confirmed last evening at a meeting of the city council. A. Holzberg was named school commissioner from the Fourth ward and will serve two years, replacing George Brenner. P. J. Eckstrand was reappointed to a three-year term on the board of public works, F. B. Jerrard to another five-year tearm on the fire and police commission, and Robert Kelley to a three-year term on the park board.

The council passed a resolution ordering the street railway to build a street car line from Bay street to the Union depot, to run on Broadway and thence on Oakes avenue to Winter street and from there due west to the west side of Billings park.

Mayor Crumpton submitted his annual message.

CELEBRATE THE FOURTH.

Duluth now has an ordinance which absolutely prohibits the sale of fireworks within its borders, and which prohibits their use except under police regulation and by permission. Also, that ordinance is to be enforced.

This is wholly good. Fireworks never were the Fourth of July, anyway. Besides killing and maiming a lot of people, they tended to distract attention from the real significance of the day, and there are a lot of things about that day that are worth thinking about, that the people should think about, and that they will think about if they get half a chance.

However, fireworks, properly regulated, are good fun, and there isn't any need that the people should go without them altogether. Under the admirable restrictions of the ordinance, there is no reason why there should not be a splendid exhibition of fireworks to round out the people's holiday on the nation's birthday.

Mayor Cullum is trying to get together a thousand dollars to be spent on a public exhibition of fireworks on the evening of the Fourth. Though the Fourth is two months away, and though his idea only recently became public, contributions have already begun to come in. They ought to come in faster, and within a few weeks the amount of money necessary ought to be in the mayor's hands, so he can make his purchases in plenty of time.

There will be several private exhibitions, notably that of the Northland Country club; but these are necessarily private. The people who can't afford fireworks may stand at a distance and see something of the show, but that isn't like having a show of their own.

And that's what the mayor proposes: a people's fireworks show that will be worth seeing and that will be handled under reasonable regulations that will eliminate all possibility of injury to anybody.

It's a good idea, and men with spare $5 bills—not to speak of checks for larger amounts—can give the people pleasure and themselves satisfaction by contributing to its success.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF FOOLS.

"The fool hath said in his heart, There is no God."

There are lots of other things that the fool says. He says the welfare of those about him is no concern of his. He says it makes no difference to him whether men live honorably or dishonorably. He says it is immaterial to him whether the affairs of city, state or nation are managed well or ill. He says he has no interest in the suffering or sorrow of other persons.

Take him by and large, the fool is a most unpleasant kind of individual to have around. He looks and walks like other men. He engages in business, and he takes part in social diversions. He mingles with those of the human race who are all about him, and he takes advantage of their presence and company to get that enjoyment out of life that makes any human being glad he is alive.

Any yet, the fool is a decidedly unpleasant fellow to be thrown with. He sneers at your petty, heart-felt joys and sorrows. He laughs at your expressions of sympathy with or pity for those who are less fortunate. He ignores your appeals for assistance in cleaning out rottenness and graft in civic affairs. He tells you that he lives his life to himself in his own way, and that if you want sympathy or help or anything else, you will have to go to some other source for it than to him.

There is nobody quite so selfish, quite so opinionated, as the full-blooded fool. He refuses to see the beauty in nature or in character because he is so busy contemplating himself that he does not want to spend the time to look about him. His attitude toward wrong-doing is that of the self-righteous man who fears to as much as look at evil, lest by so doing he find his garments contaminated. He dreads to touch human suffering lest his own self-complacence may be ruffled.

What does such a one as this know of the joys and benefits of human existence? Nothing. He goes about in an atmosphere of egotistical separation from his fellows. He knows nothing of the quick response of mind and heart when joy or sorrow come into the life of a friend, for he has no real friends. If he himself is overtaken by misfortune, there is none to feel real pity for him. If he himself finds great joy there is none to share it with him. His cynicism, his sneers, his aloofness have estranged men and they fear to join him in any genuine emotion lest they find that he has but sought to make an opening for new gibes and ill-timed jests.

He lives a life apart—at first because he chose it, this poor, human worm, thinking himself all-sufficient; and later because he has driven from him all human sympathy and kindness and love. He builds up for himself a philosophy of falsehoods, and the end of that philosophy is solitude and wretchedness. He may amass wealth, but of what use is wealth if one cannot enjoy it with others? He may achieve position, but what is the worth of position if it brings nothing but "mouth-honor, breath, which the poor soul would fain deny, and dare not?"

"No man liveth to himself." He who attempts it defies a law of nature, and however apparent his worldly success, he must pay the penalty for that defiance. He who adopts the philosophy of fools must be content to abide by its teachings—that as no other man's affairs are concern of his, so his affairs are no concern of anybody else. He robs himself more than he robs others. And when he "has fallen into the sear and yellow leaf" he will realize his mistake. He will know that his vaunted superiority was in fact nothing but the philosophy of fools, and that he was a fool to adopt and follow it.

WASHING BEHIND THE EARS.

Like Tom Sawyer, whose weekly Sunday morning ablutions left a bright and smiling face bounded by a dreary waste of unexplored territory which stretched into utter darkness behind the ears, Duluth must slosh its head around in the bucket and reach for the soiled portions with the soap and sponge.

And The Herald takes some little pride in posing as Aunt Polly superintending the cleansing process, and watching sternly to see that the youthful Tom doesn't weaken, while Health Commissioner Webster supplies the soap and the city council holds the water bucket.

All of which is apropos of the new lodging house ordinance presented to the council Monday night by Alderman Wharton, following on the heels of some sufficiently realistic pictures taken by a Herald photographer, and a Herald reporter deputized as a health inspector, in the lodging houses of the St. Croix avenue, Lake avenue and West Superior street districts.

Slopping some warm water and soap around a few basements and attics might not seem a very important task. Substituting individual towels for the limp, disconsolate and overworked roller that hangs from the nail might seem over fastidious. Installing a sanitary drinking fountain to replace the boarding house tin cup that serves more purposes than the country drug store on county fair day, might appear a trifle. It might be argued that a lodger who pays 15 or 25 cents for a bed should not expect 400 cubic feet of air, sheets which still bear some semblance of whiteness, mattresses which do not contain countless small and steady lodgers, and a chance to take a shower bath when he pleases.

But these items spell the difference between health and sickness; between a city spotted with the red quarantine signs of the health department and a city free from epidemics.

From the rank, damp basements of Duluth lodging houses, comes tuberculosis; in the stuffy, filthy, vile smelling attics, scarlet fever, smallpox, and diphtheria germs find breeding places that suit their fondest fancies; around the unspeakable plumbing, the typhoid germ thrives.

Any Duluthian who knows his city, knows how filthy some of these lodging houses are. He does not have to be told. Those who do not come in touch with these conditions learned of them in The Herald's local columns. Those were actual photographs taken a few hours before they were published, and they did not lie. They told their own story.

The men who come from the big woods are not naturally filthy in their personal habits. The men who work in the mills and factories and on the docks, do not shun warm water and soap from choice. Theirs is not work which can be done without soiling the hands. Above all other men they need facilities for keeping their persons clean. Under present conditions they are denied these facilities. The cows in Duluth's dairies are provided with better quarters than the men from the woods. The dairy inspector would never allow a cow to be kept in some of the lodging houses that were shown in The Herald pictures. But Duluth has allowed conditions to come to their present state, expecting men to sleep in these reeking holes and keep their self respect.

Washing behind the ears is never accomplished without some protests, but it is a necessary part of the ablutions, and the ordinance now before the council should pass. There may be some sections that need revision; there may be some changes to be made, but the ordinance as a whole is meritorious—more than that, necessary. The important points in it were published in The Herald Tuesday night, and it is commended to every man who takes a bath once a week or oftener.

EASE OFF, MAN! EASE OFF!

Summer is coming—and that goes if the weather man hears it—and along with summer will come the time for annual vacations. You will know when it gets here. Your conscience may not tell you about it, but something else inside of you will. It will knock at the door of your brain and at the source of your vitality and tell you to get away from business for a few days at least; to get out and walk or ride or play some outdoor game or fish or boat or something, but whatever you do, to get away and forget it all.

That is the way nature tells you that it is vacation time. And you had better believe that nature knows. You are not a machine, to be driven and driven and occasionally patched up and then driven some more. Of course some men try to do that, and for awhile it looks as if they succeed. But later comes the sapping of nerve force that cannot be revived; the flagging of energy that no sort of stimulant can restore; the weakening of the grip on affairs that is necessary to the man who would succeed in this hustling age.

Maybe you noticed that statement made recently by one of E. H. Harriman's associates, to the effect that the late railroad magnate's death resulted from his working hard all day and planning more work at night. That is one way to wear one's self out, and you know it. You have seen it done by others, and you know, if you have ordinary common sense, that you will go the same way if you do not give yourself a chance to rest up.

Our bodies are wonderfully made, and they have wonderful powers of recuperation. But they won't go on forever without a rest, and it is our duty to give them that rest. So when vacation time comes, just ease off. Drop everything that has to do with your work and get out somewhere, if it is only for a couple of weeks. Don't worry about the time you will lose from business. You will be more than able to make that up with the extra strength and vigor you will get from having taken a rest. Make your vacation a real vacation and you will find that you have done a good thing for yourself, your employes and your business. Ease off, man! Ease off!

But of course there is a possibility that the "great dynamite conspiracy" itself will blow up.

Prof. See says every star is inhabited. Pshaw! Kipling beat him to it when he wrote that about "each in his separate star."

THE OPEN COURT.

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest. Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

MONEY NEEDED FOR EGYPT EXPLORATION FUND.

The aim of the Egypt Exploration Fund, excavating under direction of Monsieur E. Naville at Abydos during 1910-1911, was to finish its examination on the unworked ground at Omm el-Gaab, a part of which is occupied by first dynasty royal tombs (already dug by Monsieur Amelineau and Prof. Flinders Petrie), and to continue a search for graves in the neighboring cemeteries.

This particular task has now been completed. But it must be remembered that Abydos was one great sanctuary of the living and the dead, so that in turning from its tombs to its temples, forecasting the work of a season, we pass only to another part of the same sacred site.

The ground behind the temple of Seti within the temenos wall was, at the suggestion of Prof. Petrie in 1901-1902, opened in several places by Miss Murray. The pits revealed a chamber, giving the cartouche of Merenptah, a great hall and the entrance to a sloping passage. Only a few inscriptions were copied, however, and the whole was filled in again and abandoned. Five or six days of our investigation this year carried us as far as Miss Murray had gone, fully corroborating her opinion that this passage extends towards the temple.

We further believe, judging from Monsieur Naville's experience in the eleventh dynasty temple at Deir el-Bahari, that this passage, like the one there leading to the sanctuary, may be the entrance to the shrine of Osiris itself. Strabo's description of what he calls a well, below the Memnonium (the temple of Seti), "reached by passages with low vaults consisting of a single stone and distinguished from their extent and mode of construction," appears to coincide, in part at least, with the structure of this building on the longitudinal axis of the temple of Seti. To this important building, which we may tentatively call the Osirelon, the Fund hopes to devote next season. Sir Gaston Maspero expresses great interest in the excavation and agrees that it must give interesting results.

It may well be asked why so important a building has lain ahead so long unexcavated. It is because the hypogeum was known to be unique, of vast subterranean extent, a treasure-sanctuary of precious inscriptions, and that the concerted, sustained effort of the entire working force would be required there from early in November to the season's end in April, while other unfinished operations at this great sacred site demanded completion first, for whatever is left open becomes a hunting ground to be plundered by the natives throughout the summer.

The purpose of the Egypt Exploration Fund is the excavation of such a site as this and as that at Deir el-Bahari, where the Fund discovered and excavated a temple entirely unknown.

Monsieur Naville, who is pre-eminently the great temple general, expects to lead this work himself, with assistance, in which I hope to have the honor to share as the American representative on the staff of the Fund.

Work must begin in November. Five thousand dollars is necessary. For this sum I turn to America, that America may have part in this distinguished enterprise.

A subscription of $5 to the Fund gives the subscriber membership for a year and entitles him to the memoir of the excavation and the archaeological and annual reports for the year. Patrons subscribe $25, a sum that will support a spade for the season; $125 constitutes life membership. Checks should be made payable to the Egypt Exploration Fund and sent to Mrs. Marie N. Buckman, secretary for the United States, 527 Tremont Temple, Boston, Mass. Illustrated circular will be sent upon request. I am, sir, yours respectfully,

THOMAS WHITTEMORE.

Arabat el-Madfuna, Beiyana, Egypt, April 8.

ONE DEEP, LONG HOWL FROM AUTO OWNER.

Just a word, Mr. Editor, in regard to the wheelage tax. It is time to pay again, and while I don't expect that this letter is going to get anyone out of it, it relieves my mind somewhat to give way to my feelings for a few minutes and get sorry for myself as well as some others who labor under a tax system where we are taxed several times for the same article.

It is on the plan of "The Assessor and the Woman." Time, the present. Place, front steps. Assessor: "Have you any jewels?" (Business of great agitation on the part of the woman) "Mercy, no; just a gold band ring and this comb."

The same woman appears at the opera the same night and sits next the assessor, her hands, arms and hair glittering with jewels.

(Dark change.) Place, front steps of a house which fronts on an alley. Assessor: "Madam, I perceive a piano in your front room. How dare you have a piano?" (The piano is being paid for at $1 a week, but it goes on the list just the same.)

That is part of the injustice of the tax system. But listen, Mr. Editor. Here is another one. Suppose you own a 30-horse power car. You will pay the county $16 as a tax. You will then pay the state $150 for the privilege of operating it. Then you will pay the city $1 for the same privilege, and if there are more than one in the family who would like to drive it, they will all pay $1 each. Then you will pay 50 cents a horse power, or $15, for the same privilege. If there are but two in the family who care to drive, it will cost you $34 before you dare take your car out on the streets. On a 60-horse power machine the cost would be just double. Fine! I feel better. Thanks so much for the space. A. L.

Duluth, May 2.

TRACTION COMPANY CANNOT COMPLAIN OF BUSINESS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

This town is growing too fast or the street railway company is not growing fast enough. On the East Fourth, Lakeside, Woodland and West Duluth lines cars are packed and jammed with people early in the morning and about 6 o'clock in the evening.

Lakeside cars, inbound, early in the morning frequently are full at Forty-fifth avenue east so that no more people can get on. Woodland cars are so full that people transfer at Twenty-fourth avenue east and Fourth street and board Fourth street cars for downtown. Similar congestion prevails on the West Duluth lines.

In the evening one is compelled to board cars eastbound before they pass Third avenue west. By the time Third avenue east is reached usually there is no room for any more passengers. This condition is true also of East Fourth street cars in the evening. West Duluth cars are usually full to the guards when they leave Third avenue west. How anybody can get on afterward is usually a puzzle to me.

What this town needs, Mr. Editor, is a public utilities commission.

A STRAPHANGER.

Duluth, May 2.

WANTS SOME OTHER PLAY BY BERNHARDT.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Cannot Madame Bernhardt be induced to play something in this town besides "Madame X?" We recently saw that melodrama adequately presented by an actress who was capable of giving a realistic impersonation of the leading character. She also had splendid support.

Let us have Bernhardt in some play more worthy of Bernhardt's transcendent abilities. Since leaving this country she has tried out several new plays and some of them went with a "bang." Let us have one of them instead of "Madame X." If necessary give us some of the old favorites with which Bernhardt's name has been long associated.

Slip the Divine Sarah a tip, Mr. Editor, before it is too late. She'll draw a big crowd, of course, but I believe there are many people who would not attend her performance of "Madame X." It has recently been seen here; some people consider it revolting and others do not fancy Bernhardt in melodrama. These are sufficient reasons why Bernhardt should present something here other than "Madame X."

AN ADMIRER.

Duluth, May 2.

DULUTH AND THE HERALD.

Was Lorimer Next?

Albert Lea Tribune: The Duluth Herald has an editorial under the caption, "Getting Next to Lorimer." But who wants to get next to Lorimer? The real question is, was Lorimer next to the "slush fund," and recent developments before the Illinois investigating committee look as though he might have been.

Congdon For Senator.

Wilkin County Gazette: Some of the state papers are already mentioning the possibility of Chester A. Congdon of Duluth becoming a candidate for the United States senate at the next election. Mr. Congdon is one of the brainiest men in the state, but he is many times a millionaire and with the present radical feeling against the owners of great wealth this might interfere seriously with his chances of election. But one thing is certain, if he should get into the race and win, Minnesota would have no cause to be ashamed of him.

"Back To the Farm."

Hibbing Mesaba Ore: The Salter school of Duluth is to have a school garden and forty boys will be taught the art of cultivating land. It is a fine thing and is the only way we will ever get people of the cities "back to the farm."

Few Better.

Virginia Virginian: At the annual meeting of the Associated Press held in New York Tuesday, Anton C. Weiss, publisher of The Duluth Herald, was again chosen one of the directors. The honor conferred upon Mr. Weiss shows his standing among the big newspaper men of the United States and it is a most deserving one, as there are few better papers published anywhere than the Duluth evening publication.

Struck By a Whirlwind.

Aitkin Age: George E. Vincent, the new president of the state university, after making a speech at a Duluth Commercial club dinner, was declared a "six-cylinder man with the throttle wide open," and the newspaper men said they were hypnotized and couldn't take time to make accurate notes on the speech. Duluth is used to breezy things but knows when it is struck by a whirlwind.

Never Again.

Red Wing Republican: A Duluth witness in a court case stated that he would lie at any time if there was money in it. The judge promptly arrested him. That fellow will probably never tell the truth again.

Need Real Men.

Greenbush Tribune: The Duluth Herald gets up on its tin ear and roasts the snobs at the national military academy for refusing to dance in the same hall with a bright, intelligent, but deserving young lady who earns her own money and pays her own bills. Well, said foolish snobs need roasting, or better still, should be kicked out of Uncle Sam's naval school. We need real men for our naval officials, and not a lot of bigoted upstarts.

Shotguns and Tacks.

Princeton Union: Duluth is having its share of trouble with automobile scorchers and will try the experiment of stationing plain clothes policemen on the streets with stop watches in an attempt to check the obnoxious practice. A more effective way would be to arm the policemen with shotguns loaded with tacks.

In Mexico.

Pessimist, pessimist, high and low,
What did you find in Mexico?—
Nothing novel in act or word,
More than I ever have seen or heard;
Men are yet as they long have been;
Saints or sinners—whiche'er will win;
Brother with brother and race with race,
Bartering blood for power and place,
Strong men dying by night and day,
So the living could have their way.
Thus it has been and is ever so,
Where the pleasures and passions grow.

Dreamer—delver in long-ago—
What did you feel in Mexico?—
Shades of the Toltecs lingered there—
Aztec conquerings filled the air;
Cortez striking with greedy fangs—
Guatimozin in torture-pangs;
Star-flags greeting in bloody fray,
Cerro Gordo and Monterey.
Small Napoleon's empire-boast,
Maximilian's unhappy ghost.
All seemed wandering to and fro
There in the lilils of Mexico.

Patriot, seeking the sunrise-glow,
What did you love in Mexico?—
Heroes teeming with bravery grand,
Fighting for God and father-land,
Still in the faith of duty strong,
Whether their cause were right or wrong.
Still did they suffer, toil and fight,
Still did they seek with main and might,
Something perhaps they could not see,
But that they hoped was yet to be.
Thus with their blood there yet may flow
Future blessings for Mexico!

—Will Carleton, In Every Where.

The Ben Davis Apple.

New York Sun: The Ben Davis, that cheat of the apple family, long ago found out everywhere else, has at last been measured for its true worth by its sole remaining supporters and defenders, the Missourians. They have stripped off its deceptive mass, dissected its juiceless fiber to the core and are going to pitch it over the orchard wall.

"There are probably 30,000,000 apple trees in Missouri," said W. L. Howard, professor of horticulture at the University of Missouri. "Of this number 75 per cent are Ben Davis, or varieties equally poor in general qualities." Many of the orchards are of trees from ten to twenty years old, and the growers have hesitated to uproot them and to wait for a number of years for young orchards to come into bearing. But new systems of top grafting have been tried with success, and the department of horticulture has taken up the work of educating orchardists in order to rid the state of the Ben Davis and "varieties equally poor" as quickly as possible. All the hope that remains for the Ben Davis is that it has the "merit of being a first-class keeper and shipper," and for this reason there may be "an excuse for growing a small percentage of the variety."

"A fallen idol," "its days are numbered," comments the Kansas City Star. Who cares? The tasteless, juiceless, tough old fraud will have few mourners.

The Dog.

Life: So often we call a man a dog when we wish to reproach him.
And yet, a dog
Doesn't lie,
Doesn't swear,
Doesn't cheat,
Doesn't drink,
Doesn't smoke,
Doesn't swindle,
Doesn't flirt,
Doesn't borrow,
Doesn't pretend,
And wouldn't even resent it if you called it a man.

But Does It Work?

Harper's Bazar: Stella—What causes her insomnia?

Belle—She takes so many beauty exercises before retiring that it is morning when she finishes.

Just for a Change.

Catholic News: Johnny—Mamma, I wish I had a little sister.

Mamma—Why do you wish that, dear?

Johnny—'Cause I'm tired of teasin' the cat.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

•••The body of Nicholas Peterson was found in his shanty near the village of Sturgeon Lake on the St. Paul & Duluth road yesterday. When last seen alive he had $130 in his possession, but no trace of it can be found. An inquest was held and the jury quickly found a verdict of murder.

•••Zimmerman & Truax's men on the Piedmont avenue contract went on strike yesterday for $1.75 a day, and most of the men employed by Cooper & Davis on the West Second street joined them. Today other laborers joined the strike, and the demands of the men were increased from $1.75 to $2.

•••The Legion of Select Knights, A. O. U. W., held its first meeting last night in the Hayes building. The following are the officers: Fred Bennett, commander; E. D. Timberlake of Duluth as a fish commission created by the recent legislature. Dr. Sweeney has been on the old board for seventeen years.

•••J. J. Mack has moved from West Duluth to South Superior, where he will keep books at the brickyard of Saeger & Gunniss.

•••Manager George B. Haycock has practically filled his available dates for the opening season of the Lyceum theater. It will be a very short season, lasting only from May 18 to June 17, but it will furnish fine attractions. The Bostonians will open the house on May 18, provided the theater can be made ready in time.

•••The National Iron Works company has leased the old shop facing on West Michigan street to Kelley & Co., who will start a first-class woodworking shop.

•••The people of Tower have taken steps to build a fine brick high school, which will cost at least $20,000.

•••Henry V. Holmes, formerly a successful grocer of Alpena, Mich., has arrived in the city and will go into partnership with Grocer Cannon.

•••W. A. Carpenter has been appointed general freight and passenger agent of the Eastern Minnesota railway, in place of E. F. Dodge.

•••C. T. Cash has resigned his position in the People's Savings bank.

•••James McKay, formerly an insurance agent here, and one time a grocer, has returned from Chicago and expects to remain in Duluth.

MINNESOTA OPINIONS.

Cannon and Davis.

Le Sueur News: It is more than amusing, it is passing strange, to hear that Uncle Joe Cannon of Illinois and Congressman Charles Davis of this district are working in a double harness after calling each other by titles not found in the Bible for many years past.

People Should Select.

Waverly Star: Under the Oregon plan, which is embodied in the Keefe bill, the people designate their choice and it is then up to the legislature to either comply with or reject the people's wishes. A great many Republican politicians fear that some time in the future the people of the state may approve of a Democrat for senator as they did in Oregon, and it will then be up to the legislature. It does seem as though the people ought to be able to select whom they please regardless of the party brand.

What All Think.

Littlefork Times: Here is what Governor Eberhart says of the secretary of the Northern Minnesota Development association to a Bemidji Pioneer representative: "That man MacKenzie—W. R., I mean—is one of the greatest boosters. I not only like him very much personally, but I want to give him full credit for the work he has done for Northern Minnesota this winter. He deserves it. He is a good man." We know it's true, and all goes to increase the power for corrective advancement. Mr. MacKenzie is steadily pushing. You'll see him at Duluth on June 1-2.

Breach of Good Faith.

Detroit Record: Both the Democrats and Republicans were pledged to reapportionment. Members of both parties have failed to meet their obligation to the people. No reasonable excuse can be offered from the legislature to do its plain duty. But the burden of this breach of good faith must fall upon the Republicans, who had a large working majority, but who failed through motives of local jealousy, personal interest, and petty bickering, to get together and give the people what they were entitled to, and what they were paid to do. The failure to enact a fair reapportionment bill constitutes a breach of good faith and establishes the incompetency of the members for the transaction of public business.

Victory for the People.

Belgrade Tribune: The bill providing for the nominating of United States senators by direct vote of the people, of which Joseph R. Keefe, Democratic representative from Fergus Falls, is author, which passed at the recent session of the legislature, has received the signature of Governor Eberhart and becomes a law. This is a decisive victory for the people and no doubt will cause alarm among the "standpat crowd" of Minnesota.

Income Tax Amendment.

Buffalo Journal: One of the most inexcusable acts of negligence of the legislature was its failure to ratify the constitutional amendment providing for the income tax, as submitted by congress. The matter was sent by the governor to the senate in January, and it would appear the governor should have shown sufficient interest in the matter to call attention to it later in the session. Thirty states have ratified the amendment and two more are necessary to make the change in the Constitution.

Much Like the Parrot.

Stillwater Gazette: That man C. F. Weihe of Chicago, secretary of the Edward Hines Lumber company, who was quoted as having said he knew all about the Lorimer "slush fund," because he gave $10,000 towards it, is now very indignant and filled with wrath because the newspapers have printed statements not pleasing to him. He says he would slaughter all the reporters and writers on the Chicago papers, but it is not generally understood that he will. Maybe he is too much like the parrot.

Spring Surely Here.

Little Falls Transcript: With the arrival of spring comes the announcement of the appearance of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" in St. Paul next week; and Little Eva will once again "ascend into heaven" for the 'steenth time.

Pointed Paragraphs.

Chicago News: Many a man is unable to believe a word he says.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

New York Press: A resolution we can keep is not to make any.

When anybody has a sweet disposition it's a sign he's sure to be imposed upon.

A great trick is to be able to kiss relatives with money just as if you didn't mind.

Four Stages of Book Making.

New York Evening Post: At a recent dinner of the American Booksellers' association, one of the souvenirs on the table was a paperweight which bore this text: "To write a book is an easy task; it requires only pen and ink and some patient paper. To print a book is slightly more difficult, because genius often expresses itself in illegible manuscript. To read a book is still more difficult, as one must struggle against sleep. But the most difficult task that any one may attempt is to sell a book."

A MOMENT WITH THE WITS.

Birmingham Age-Herald: "Could you give up drinking for my sake?"

"I'm not drinking for your sake."

Buffalo Express: "Why don't you name your mule, Uncle Jackson?"

"Aint no name ornery 'nough to fit dis mewl, suh."

Toledo Blade: "My son, never be afraid to tell the truth."

"I ain't Pa. What bothers me is how to tell a lie without being afraid."

Puck: Smith—"I want to sue Jones for damages for being run down by his automobile, but I'm afraid he has no money."

Lawyer—"Oh, that's all right. I can use his car."

Washington Herald: "There are many delightful dishes to be made from left-over food."

Judge: "Pa, what's an acolyte?"

"Something that grows on the roof of a cave and hangs down like an icicle. Now run out and play. I'm busy figuring up the batting averages of the home team."

Judge: New Reporter—The auto turned terrapin and—

Washington Star: "Was the interview published as coming directly from you authentic?"

"I haven't decided yet," replied Senator Sorghum. 'I am waiting to see what effect it has on my constituents."

Boston Transcript: "I'm afraid Maud's second marriage is a failure."

"Did she say so?"

"No, but she's beginning to speak well of her first husband."

Hardships.

Indianapolis News: More hardships. The government is going to call in the greenbacks of large denomination, and now you'll have to carry your money in bulkier form.

WARM ATTACK MADE ON COWAN

George A. Bangs Makes Closing Argument for the Prosecution.

Bismarck, N. D., May 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—The closing arguments for the prosecution, the last that will be made before the court of impeachment before the case of John F. Cowan is turned over to the senate for its decision, were made today by Counsel George A. Bangs for the board of managers. He declared that the question before the court of impeachment was not that of whether this or that charge had been established beyond reasonable doubt, but whether or not it had been shown that Judge Cowan is an unfit man to longer hold the office of district judge.

"It is for this court to proclaim to the world the standard that it has placed upon the judiciary," he said.

Through the course of his remarks he condemned the administration of justice in the Second district as having reached the point where the district judgeship has become a cesspool, a reservoir of corruption and dishonesty, where litigation has been allowed to rot and the stench of which has aroused the population of the state.

BIG SLUMP IN SHIPPING

April Ore Figures 777,000 Tons Less Than in 1910.

Only About a Quarter as Much Ore Shipped to Date.

APRIL ORE SHIPMENTS.

	1911. Tons.	1910. Tons.
D. M. & N.	51,042	309,427
D. & I. R.	156,674	396,756
Great Northern	76,739	355,307
Total	284,455	1,061,490
Decrease, 777,035 tons.

The ore shipments for the month of April on all the range railroads has shown a woeful falling off from the figures established during the latter part of April of last reason.

Especially noticeable is the falling off of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern and Great Northern roads in comparison with the figures of last season.

Last season the navigation was officially opened on April 15 as was the case this season, and during the remainder of the month, though ore shipping did not start very much earlier than it did the present season, the Missabe shipped 309,427 tons from the docks in West Duluth.

Last month only 51,042 tons were shipped from the docks. Several reasons are given for the slump. The lull in general business and a slow demand for ore and also a slow opening, according to the program of the steel company, were responsible.

While the present month is expected to show a very much better comparison with May of last season, it is not expected to be as heavy as the same month last season, according to opinions expressed today.

The figures of the Iron Range show more ore taken down this month. The work of ore carrying started earlier on the Iron Range, and the loading at the Two Harbors docks has also been heavier and steadier.

Last month 156,674 tons were loaded, against 396,756 in April a year ago.

The Great Northern also showed a big slump.

SMOKELESS STOKER.

Experiment Is Being Tried on Graham & Morton Boat.

If a "smokeless stoker," used with success on the first boat equipped, continues to show "class," it is probable that all tugs and many vessels on the Great Lakes will be fitted out with the apparatus.

The device is known as the underfeed stoker and has been placed in the furnace of the Benton Harbor, an excursion vessels of the Graham & Morton Transportation company. The vessel is the first on the Great Lakes to be equipped with an automatic stoker.

The underfeed stoker has been installed on several tugs in the Chicago harbor and has given satisfaction. The use of the device, it is said, will cut down coal bills for vessel owners. Greater efficiency can be obtained, also, even with the use of a cheaper quality of coal than that now used.

The device is automatic. The fuel is fed into the furnace when the steam has reached the desired pressure. The appliance can be used on all vessels except tug boats of old design.

Deepening Channel.

The channel leading up to the new Soo ore dock on St. Louis bay is being deepened and cleaned out by dredges this week. Shipments from the dock are scheduled to begin May 15, and it is expected that the work will be completed before that time. The channel will be deep enough for the largest lake vessels.

GRAIN BUSINESS IS DEMORALIZED.

The grain situation, so far as lake shipments are concerned, is demoralized. Line boats are getting driblets at 1¼c and the big boats are asking 1⅛c. The latest cargo worked for shipment this week was on a basis of 1⅛c. If grain could be obtained in sufficient quantity it is probable that a rate of 1c could be obtained.

STEAMER IS AGROUND IN DETROIT RIVER.

Detroit, Mich., May 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fouled wheel chains caused the steamer J. J. H. Brown, owned by Brown & Co. of Buffalo, to run aground on the east bank of Lime Kiln crossing during the night. The boat is out eight inches all around and the tugs Harding and Trotter and the lighter Rescue are now working to release her. The channel is not blocked.

Will Bring Back Gopher.

The officers and a part of the crew of the local Minnesota naval reserves will leave shortly for Toledo to bring the U. S. S. Gopher back to Duluth. She has been at the lower lake port since last fall and has been thoroughly overhauled and repaired throughout. The ship will be in first-class condition for the big cruise this summer.

U. C. T. MINSTREL SHOW SATURDAY

Duluth Will Be Entertained By Program of Knights of Grip.

The United Commercial Travelers of Duluth have worked up a real minstrel show and expect to play to a crowded house at the Lyceum Saturday evening of this week. The traveling salesmen are natural entertainers and by putting forth a little effort and choosing some of the most entertaining of the great crowd of entertainers, they have worked up a show that they say has real merit as a minstrel performance.

The fund to be raised by the performance Saturday night will be used to pay the expense of taking the Third Regiment band of Duluth to Fargo for the annual U. C. T. convention this year. The travelers intend to make the trip to Fargo a "Boost Duluth" expedition. Stops will be made at numerous towns on the way to and from Fargo and the Duluth travelers will parade through town with the band at the head of the procession, letting the people know that Duluth is a good town.

MANY PAYING WHEELAGE TAX

The wheelage taxe licenses are coming in about as fast as they can be handled by the deputies in the office of the city clerk. Thus far this month 179 licenses have been issued, bringing the city an estimated revenue of $800. The largest fee which has been received was turned in this morning by the Fitger Brewing company, a check for $128.0 being handed across the clerk's desk.

After the elapse of a reasonable time the city officials will start a campaign to check up every rig in the city, and the owners of those who have not taken out their licenses for 1911 will be arrested. This work will be under the direction of Special Officer James Walsh, who says that no excuses will be tolerated for nonpayment. The ordinance calling for the payment of the license was passed last fall.

CHAMBERLAIN HYDE WILL RESIGN AT ONCE.

New York, May 3.—Charles H. Hyde will resign as city chamberlain at once. Under indictment and under the fire of practically every newspaper in New York, he announced that, although he is "the victim of one of the most wicked conspiracies in the history of the city," he will relinquish the position in order not to embarrass the Gaynor administration. He has been the mayor's protege for years. Hyde's resignation has been in the mayor's hands since last Saturday, it is understood, but the mayor has said nothing.

The chamberlain's statement predicts his complete exoneration. He was indicted mainly, he adds, on the testimony of the discredited and self-convicted Joseph G. Robin, who has "been enjoying the hospitality of the district attorney's office." He specifically denies an alleged transaction with the Northern Bank upon which one indictment is based.

BIDS WILL BE OPENED MONDAY

Work Will Soon Begin on New St. Louis County Sanitarium.

At a meeting of the St. Louis county sanitarium commission to be held Monday afternoon, the bids for the new buildings to be erected on the ground recently purchased at Midway, will be opened.

The contract for the work will be awarded shortly after the bids are opened. All bids must be in by Monday noon.

As it was announced some time before the calling for bids that work must begin as soon as the contract has been awarded, it is very probable that within a few days after the letting of the contract the materials will be sent to the site and the building begun.

At present some work is being done at the location of the new hospital. A well is being dug and a small portion of the land about where the main buildings are to be, is being cleared.

Hillsiders Will Meet.

There will be a meeting of the Central Hillside Improvement club at the Franklin school this evening.

A notary with the petition for grading Ninth street will be present to take signatures. All property owners are requested to be present as the petition must go to the council Monday evening.

Prof. Denfeld will speak on a topic of interest.

The Sixth street committee will report on the completion of that street and the final payment. A number of owners think they should not be required to pay the final assessment until the street is finished. It has been reported that the work has been accepted as finished by the engineering department, and on that acceptance paid for. A number of the property owners are finishing the grass plats in front of their homes, believing the contractor has abandoned the job. A member of the board or the engineering department will be present and explain what is going to be done.

All interested are invited to be present and take part in the meeting.

Dr. Parker Heads S. A. R.

TWENTIETH CENTURY SPEECH.

New York Mail: Students of philology cannot fail to be interested in our modern vernacular, colored as it is by commercialism, art, invention and what not. It was a Bostonese clergyman who lately arose in his pulpit, just before the collection was to be taken, and under the inspiration of indigenous culture remarked: "My brethren and sisters, the accumulation of moneys will now ensue." It was, of course, commercialism that dictated the outburst on the part of the convert who said in prayer meeting: "Let us sing Hymn No. 95, reduced from 100." But the gem of recent contribution to the vernacular is that based upon telephone jargon, which is fast making its way into all circles. According to the Republican of Jewell City, Kan., a local minister at a church meeting held there last week made this announcement: "We will now sing Hymn No. one-oh-one."

THE STRANDED ACTOR.

Chicago Daily News: "Chicago is the best city in the United States in which to be stranded—if one must be stranded," declared an actor. "There are so many theatrical people here that one can easily make a 'touch' if necessary. Also there's a chance that one can find a part with another company, though it's a stage axiom that a part picked up is a part of few 'sides' and of little importance.' If worst comes to worst, the stranded Thespian here can find another job, not necessarily on the stage, but something that will tide him over until he finds another berth.

"It isn't often a show of any consequence is stranded, but when it happens then there is a hurry and a scurry among the members of the company to pick up something else in the profession. There's always something available in Chicago it seems; hence when I must be stranded, strand me in the Windy City."

WHISKERS OR A BALD HEAD?

Spirited Debate Held Before the National Press Club.

Taylor, Longworth, Joe Cannon and Tom Carter Argue in Vain.

Washington, May 3.—Whether whiskers are a greater detriment to a man than a bald head is still a mooted question. Four of the ablest men in public life debated the subject before the National Press club here last night. The bout was under Marquis of Queensberry rules, and when the bell rang, the referee threw up his hands in despair.

Speaker Champ Clark of the house of representatives, called on in the emergency, declared he couldn't see any use in either whiskers or a bald head and referred the whole matter to the ways and means committee of the house, which now has the wool and hair schedule under consideration.

The bald-headed side of the question was in the hands of Senator Robert L. Taylor of Tennessee and Representative Nicholas Longworth of Ohio. The chin-curtain side found their champions in Former Senator Thomas H. Carter of Montana and "Uncle Joe" Cannon of Illinois.

Cheered the Combatants.

Messrs Taylor and Longworth entered the ring amid cheers. Their hairless domes sparkled beneath the radiance of myriad electric lights. Senator Carter and Uncle Joe came with their whiskers combed for the fray. The shouts that greeted them were deafening.

Dr. "Pure Food" Wiley of the department of agriculture was chosen as the time-keeper and each contestant was allowed ten minutes. Scott Bone represented the Press club as referee, but gave way to Speaker Clark at the end. The audience included most of the prominent men of Washington. The absence of a verdict prevented any money from changing hands.

Representative Longworth, the first speaker, declared that he did not believe "a hair on the head was worth two on the chin." Neither was he willing to assume that a bald head, provided he should be considered bald, was in any sense a handicap either in public or private life. Mr. Longworth claimed that on his birthday every man has a choice between hair and brains. His choice, he declared was apparent.

Whiskers "On His Chest."

"The condition of the disputants on the other side is utterly inexcusable," asserted Mr. Longworth. "In olden days whiskers were excusable—they were sworn by — but now-a-days they are only sworn at. There is no excuse for such whiskers as those that adorn the chin—or rather chest—of the former senator from Montana. I claim that whiskers are insanitary and I appeal to the time keeper to uphold me."

The timekeeper promptly called time. Mr. Longworth insisted that he had been interrupted and that these interruptions should not be taken from his time. Dr. Wiley insisted that the interruptions were the best part of the argument.

Senator Carter was introduced as "Exhibit A," for the whiskers.

"No man," said he, "ever voluntarily wore a bald head. A bald head is an affliction, a standing joke, a physical infirmity. We pity, but do not blame, our opponents."

Senator Carter insisted that the "beard" was the real thing. He ridiculed moustaches and declared they first called out the name of whiskers, as they whisked back and forth in the breeze.

Fair Maids Convinced.

"No fair maiden," he said, "ever feared a promise from a bearded man. The beard is a badge of manhood. A bearded man needs only opportunity. The first man to cut off beards was Alexander the Great. It was a brutal measure of warfare, to prevent antagonists from seizing the soldiers by the beards. Let us all wear beards and there will be no more warfare in this troubled world of ours.

"There is another thing about the bald-headed man. He naturally goes to prison without previous preparation. The subject is ready for the work. It takes some trouble to prepare a bearded man for that unfortunate habitation. Our opponents tonight, having neither hair nor whiskers, were compelled to take the side assigned to them."

"Ivory Pated Moses."

Senator Taylor, introduced as an "Ivory Pated Moses of the Tennessee Democracy," declared that when Mr. Cannon was speaker of the house he shook pestilence and war from his horrid beard. He dwelt upon the nobility of the bald peaks of the mountains and the bald head of the American eagle circling about them in the azure atmosphere. Coming down to bald facts, he added:

"When I was born a few short summers ago, I had a bald head. My father before me had a bald head and when I opened my eyes and looked upon his burnished dome I thought all the world bald-headed. And when my mother pressed her smooth cheek to mine, I did not think there was such a thing as whiskers.

Symbol of Innocence.

"Once I had raven tresses," Senator Taylor wistfully said, "but like autumn leaves they left me. Ever since I lost them I have had a horror of hair and supreme contempt for whiskers. On the other hand I have always admired a bald head as a symbol of purity and innocence."

Uncle Joe Cannon declared he had never been funny in his life—at least not consciously so, and he quoted from a writer who recently was in Turkey and who declared the saddest man he found in the empire had a bald head. He was the harem guard.

"He that hath a beard," said the former speaker, quoting Shakespeare, is more than a youth and he that hath no beard is less than a man. Hair upon the face always has been an evidence of manhood."

Clark Tells His Troubles.

When Speaker Clark was called upon to settle the dispute he said that "Uncle Joe had protested against his presence at the party on the ground that he neither had whiskers nor a bald head. Mr. Clark said he wouldn't have missed the debate for the world, despite the fact that his wife did not approve of his coming.

"She said there wasn't any sense in the whole performance," he declared.

Mr. Clark insisted that the reason a majority of men no longer wear whiskers was because they are all trying to look like William Jennings Bryan. He rather rapped the whiskerites when he said that a good looking man could afford to have a smooth face, while an ugly one had better keep his beard.

"Observe, gentlemen," he concluded, "that I have a smooth face."

"SWAT THE FLY" BUT DON'T FORGET THE MOSQUITO, ALSO

Dr. H. E. Webster, health commissioner, has received a bulletin from the department of entomology at Washington which has been carrying on a crusade against the house fly under the slogan, "Swat the Fly." The latest bulletin concerns the mosquito.

The local board of health commends the instructions in the bulletin to those people who would get rid of the pestiferous mosquito as well as the busy fly. The bulletin follows:

"Since the discovery that mosquitoes are not only nuisances but are also conveyers of malaria, yellow fever, filariasis and dengue fever, a great deal of remedial work has been done by individuals and communities," says the bulletin.

Should Be Screened.

"Where the rain barrel and rain water tank are necessary they should be screened. The waste places in the immediate vicinity of a house should be carefully searched for tin cans, bottles and wooden or tin boxes in which water can accumulate, and all such receptacles should be destroyed or carried away. The roof gutters of every building should be carefully examined to make sure that they are not clogged so as to allow the water to accumulate. Where the branches of tall trees overhang roofs this is especially likely to occur by agency of falling leaves or twigs.

"The chicken pans in the poultry yard, the water in the troughs for domestic animals, the water cup of the grindstone are all places in which these mosquitoes will breed, and water should not be allowed to stand in them for more than a day or so at a time.

Found Breeding in Furrows.

"In slightly marshy ground a favorite breeding place is the footprints of cattle and horses. In one country village, which contains many small vegetable gardens in clay soil, during a rainy season mosquitoes were found breeding abundantly in the water accumulating in the furrows.

"Even in the house these mosquitoes breed in many places where they may be overlooked. Where the water in flower vases is not frequently changed, mosquitoes will breed. They will breed in water pitchers in unused guest rooms. They will breed in pipes and under stationary washstands, where these are not frequently in use, and they will issue from the sewers in back yards of the city houses during dry spells in summer time, when the sewers have not recently been flushed by heavy rains.

Little Water Is Dangerous.

"Public dumps are great breeding places, because here accumulate old bottles, cans, boxes, bits of tin or iron vessels, and other objects in which water may accumulate for a time. Even a small amount of water will make a breeding place for many mosquitoes. It is quite possible for a half of a beer bottle to contain enough water to give out literally thousands of mosquitoes.

"All such breeding places should be abolished by covering, draining or treating with kerosene. To keep mosquitoes away temporarily camphor, oil of pennyroyal, oil of peppermint, lemon juice, vinegar, oil of tar and oil of citronella are recommended. A few drops on the face and hands or on a towel hung over the head of the bed are sufficient."

GIVE FATHER A CHANCE, TOO

"Mother's Day" Will Be Followed With One for Pater.

The country has celebrated "Mother's day" for some time, and now father will get a chance at the spot light.

The third Sunday in June has been set aside by several cities in this country to honor father. The idea originated in Spokane, where they originate ideas about every half minute. Chicago has joined in the movement, which promises to become national.

Sveral Duluth clergymen said today that they had not heard of the movement, but that they thought father, true, modest and honest, ought to be held up to the country in his true habiliments. It is possible that several clergymen will preach about "father" on the third Sunday in June.

SETTLERS ARE GETTING FISH

Suckers and Red Horse Easily Taken in Vicinity of Couderay, Wis.

Couderay, Wis., May 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—All the settlers within a radius of twelve miles of Sucker creek, near here, are laying up a supply of suckers and red horse for the summer. The fish during spawning season are running from Lake Chetek to Knudson lake through Sucker creek, a stream eighteen inches deep. It is said by truthful ones that at short intervals, when a shoal of fish start from one lake to the other, they pack the stream so full that the water looks like it is boiling. Coming over the small rapids the floundering of the fish sounds like thunder, and it is then that the men jump into the stream and use the unusual method of fishing, throwing the fish out on the bank with their hands and others using potato forks. One man usually throws out about 100 pounds of fish during a night weighing from two to four pounds each. Soon as the shoal have passed the men get out on the banks, kill, clean and salt their haul and wait for the next shoal to appear.

SECURING ADDITIONS TO LESTER PARK.

The park board is completing plans for the extension of Lester park by taking over large tracts of land adjacent to it and located in section 5-50-13 and in sections 31 and 32-51-13. Notice of expropriation has been served upon the owners and the application will come up for a hearing about the middle of the month. The suggestion has been made that certain parts of the park be thrown open to campers the present season. This would enable families of moderate means to enjoy living outdoors while necessitating little change in their everyday program.

O'GORMAN TALKS OF DAY'S ISSUES

Says People Are Looking to Democrats for Relief From Burdens.

New York, May 3.—In an address to the National Democratic club at a dinner last night in his honor, James A. O'Gorman, the new Democratic United States senator from New York, said in part:

"Today the American people are looking hopefully to the Democratic party for redress against economic and political conditions which weigh heavily upon them and which cannot be successfully defended. There is a growing and widespread public sentiment that the American consumer must be relieved from unjust and unnecessary tribute. New Jersey, Connecticut, Maine, Ohio, New York and other states have united in the general protest.

Praises Work of House.

"The house of representatives, Democratic for the first time in sixteen years, has set a splendid example of advanced, necessary and expeditious legislation during the last month. The pledges of the party have been kept and the record of the house is one of achievement.

"I believe the people of the land want an immediate downward revision of the tariff. They demands a parcels post. They demand that the Panama canal be fortified. They demand the election of United States senators by direct vote and they demand that the reserved rights of the states be jealously guarded against federal usurpation. I shall support these and all similar measures as they arise."

MOTHERS' CONGRESS ELECTS.

National Meeting at Washington Is Concluded.

Washington, May 3.—Mrs. Frederick Schoff of Philadelphia was unanimously re-elected president of the National Congress of Mothers, which adjourned last night. Mrs. David O. Mears of Albany, N. Y., was unanimously chosen national president. Other officers named were:

Vice presidents, Mrs. Fred T. Du Bois, Idaho; Mrs. E. R. Weeks, Kansas City, Mo.; Mrs. Ray Rushton, Montgomery, Ala.; Mrs. Orville T. Bright, Chicago; recording secretary, Mrs. James S. Buiton, New Haven; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Arthur M. Birney, Washington; treasurer, Mrs. W. B. Ferguson, Connecticut; auditor, Mrs. William T. Thatcher, Florence, N. J.; historian, Mrs. C. A. Tuttle, New York.

At the closing session "The Relation of Home to Child Welfare" was discussed by Miss Elizabeth Harrison, Chicago, and Miss Alice Bentley, Washington.

Declaring that wherever the Mormon organization controls, the church is undisputed possessor of all political power, contrary to the Federal Constitution, the National Congress of Mothers last night adopted resolutions urging congressional legislation to eliminate polygamy, recommending a constitutional amendment giving federal jurisdiction over the crime of polygamy, and protesting against the acceptance by the battleship Utah of the silver service bearing the representation of Brigham Young.

Other resolutions adopted urge parents to form associations for child study, indorse the Gallinger bill for acceptance of Nathan Straus pasteurized milk laboratory, urge laws prohibiting the intermarriage of feeble-minded and degenerate persons, denounce the use of soothing syrups and "medicated soft drinks," thank President Taft for his fight against the "white slave traffic" and deprecate the publication of anything that is a menace to public morals, particular reference being made to the "so-called comic supplement."

COMMONS PASS BILL AIMED AT THE LORDS.

London, May 3.—After the application of closure, clause 2 of the parliament bill, which is the most important section of the government's measure for the curtailment of the powers of the house of lords, was carried in the house of commons last night, 299 to 192. Later, clause 3 of the bill, providing that "any certificate of the speaker of the house of commons given under this act shall be conclusive for all purposes, and shall not be questioned in any court of law," was carried, after a closure, 295 to 132.

During the debate on clause 2, the government agreed to accept one or two minor amendments of the opposition, but rejected all which would weaken its scope. This clause relates to any bill other than a money bill, and provides that if any such measure is passed by the house of commons in three successive sessions and is rejected by the house of lords at each of these sessions, it shall become an act of parliament on the royal assent.

I Give Men This Vitality of Youth

Vitality is the thing which makes success, it gives men that compelling power which sends them forth eager and equipped to meet and overcome all obstacles; it is the thing which gives the young soldier courage to face death; it is the thing which inspires and holds his sweetheart's love and faith. No matter what your age, I can give you this same vital power, I can restore the vigor you lost, no matter what early or later indiscretion may have sapped your strength; I can make you "young" and keep you "young." From an intimate and studious observation of possibly 100,000 weakened men, I say to you that VITALITY or the lack of it means all the difference between a manly man and a half man. The man who bubbles with vital power will exert a pleasing influence upon all with whom he comes in contact; women are naturally attracted to him, as are men. Lack of vitality is a negative condition, and it even repels. You wear my HEALTH BELT all night; it sends a great glowing, health-giving curent of electro-vitality into your nerves, blood and organs; it takes all the "kink" out of your back and all the coward out of your make-up; it puts you right up in the "feeling fine" class, and keeps you there. No stimulation, no false results; just a sure return to manhood and courage. The special electro-vital suspensory, free with each Belt, carries the current to the parts needing it. Recommended also for rheumatism, pain in the back, kidney, liver, stomach and bladder disorders, it makes you feel young and keeps you feeling young forever.

Let Me Send You This Book FREE.

It fully describes my Health Belt, and contains much valuable information. One part deals with various ailments common to both men and women, such as rheumatism, kidney, liver, stomach, bladder disorders, etc. The other part is a private treatise for men only. WOMAN'S REALM.

Miss Ada Campbell, general secretary of the local Young Women's Christian association, returned yesterday from Indianapolis where she went to attend the biennial convention of the National Y. M. C. A., which was held there last week. She also visited at her home in South Bend, Ind., for several days.

Miss Campbell said that the general impression left by the convention was that it was the best one which was ever held by this organization. "The association," she said "is getting settled down to definite standards and better organization and is ready for a greater work.

"The keynote of the whole convention seemed to be the emphasis on co-operation especially with other organizations.

"The Travelers' Aid work was given great prominence and many splendid speakers were heard on this topic. It was reported that the chief of police in New York city says that there are annually 50,000 girls who disappear from New York. That is, there are that many girls leave there who never reach their destinations. The good that might be accomplished in this line through national co-operation and organization of the Travelers' aid was brought up and Miss Dodge of the New York association was authorized by the convention to represent the national association in the forming of some such plan. The work has already been started in New York and will be worked out from there.

"The immigrant work was given prominence to on the program and Miss Grace Abbott of Hull House, Chicago, spoke on this subject."

Among other special speakers were: Rev. John Henry Strong of Rochester, N. Y., President Henry Churchill King of Oberlin college, and Bishop Edwin H. Huges of San Francisco. The last named was the speaker on Sunday afternoon and the large theater where he was to speak was filled to its greatest capacity a quarter of an hour before the time set for the meeting and two overflow meetings were held with an attendance in all of about 5,000. Robert E. Spear of New York city and Rev. John McDowell of Newark, N. J., were also among the speakers.

"The convention was attended by 562 voting delegates and 527 visiting delegates, making a total of 1,115. There were 8 members of the world committee, from London, France, Japan and India; 25 members of the national board were present, among whom were Miss Grace Dodge and Miss Helen Miller Gould; 27 foreign secretaries and 42 presidents of boards and 96 other board members; 78 general secretaries and 155 city secretaries.

"One of the interesting matters which came up," said Miss Campbell, "was the announcement that a twelve-story building is to be built in New York city as a national headquarters for the association. The building is to be the gift of a young woman whose name was not announced.

"One of the most important recommendations of the convention was that concerning the association's work on the 'Women's Labor' question. The outline of the recommendation was that the association seek to educate public opinion regarding the need of establishing the minimum living wage and regulate the hours of labor for women; to establish the fact that all women over 16 years of age are entitled to a living wage; to express sympathy with the great purpose of securing the determination by law for the minimum wage and to point steadfastly to a higher standard of faithful service for the worker and justice and consideration for the employer."

Several social functions were given for the secretaries and delegates and among the important ones which Miss Campbell attended were a reception given by the national board to all delegates, a dinner for the secretaries given at the Y. W. C. A. during the secretarial association meeting which followed the national convention and a reunion for the students of the Bible Teachers' Training school of New York, which was given at the Y. M. C. A. Among the guests at this dinner were Mrs. E. C. Dayton, superintendent of the students at the Bible Training school, Miss Harriet Tayler, national secretary of the foreign department, and Miss Helen Miller Gould, member of the national board.

It is reported that Mrs. W. B. Leeds is ambitious to marry a duke and to bring her little son up an Englishman. Mrs. Leeds intends to get thoroughly in touch with the social situation in London and has leased the beautiful home of Mrs. Keppel in Portman square and is planning to give some wonderful entertainments during the coronation season. Mrs. Leeds says that Americans are so rude but that in England she meets only with kindness and courtesies. Lady Sarah Wilson will be her social sponsor during the season.

SEEN IN THE SHOPS

In another month graduation time will be here and the shops are showing many pretty pieces for the girl graduate's wardrobe. Sheer undermuslins, dainty light gowns and all the pretty little accessories, such as gloves, fans, pretty hair ornaments and ribbons are being temptingly displayed.

One of the department stores has an unusually fine line of pretty hair ornaments made of soft silk ribbons and chiffon, in white and soft colors. There are little bunches of these soft roses to be worn as a corsage bouquet or to cover the fastening of the belt in the back, which are also popular this season.

This same shop is having a sale on laces. Some splendid values in torchon laces are offered for 5 cents a yard and they also have a number of cards of the same lace for 10 cents a card. There are six yards of good lace on the card, which would make good trimming for under garments or for bureau scarfs or table covers. They had some val laces on sale too, but the values in these did not seem to be as good.

A new craze for baskets seems to have started. One of the furniture shops on Superior street is exhibiting some very fascinating ones in the unstained willow reeds. They are most of them bowl-shaped, without a handle and make a splendid sewing basket or an artistic basket for a porch, with the willow furniture. There are also some baskets in unique shapes with handles. The sweet grass baskets too, are very poplar just now, and a fine line of them is displayed in several of the stores. Many of them have tight-fitting covers.

Sound Sleep and Cold Water.

For a person who has been working hard all day, it pays to take five minutes to lie flat on the floor, close the eyes, relax every muscle, and forget all cares. Most beds are too soft for deep, dreamless sleep. Take the springs off and sleep on your back.

If you must sleep on your side, use a pillow, but train yourself to push it aside and lie on the back as soon as possible. It will be hard at first to sleep on a bed with feathers, but it will be found more refreshing.

A warm bath before retiring will insure restful sleep. A cold bath on rising will insure one against taking cold.

If a person suffers from catarrh, bathe the forehead with ice cold water for five or ten minutes in the morning.

There is nothing like cold water inside and out for pimples and poor circulation, but do not drink cold water at meal times.

ROUGH DIAMONDS

By Jane Harris.

Frank Manson owned a big cattle station with an unpronounceable native name, which custom had reduced to simply Dilly.

He married a city girl with a taste for romance. She found romance, the simple, cornedbeef life and a hankering for society incompatible. So she died a few months after the birth of her third child.

Manson's bank balance grew and so did his children—a wild girl and two wilder boys, who had learned the ways of cattle and horses and knew the huge run from end to end, but were deficient in most other knowledges. Their deficiencies did not strike him till a brother died in Melbourne, leaving a nephew to be taken care of.

The nephew was a city boy, whose knowledge of the bush was derived from small excursions to shoot tomtits. But he had been to college, and he was 20 years of age when he was dropped by a bullock waggon at the slip panels of his uncle's homestead. With him were three big boxes, one of which contained a library of impossible adventures.

The brothers and sister stared at their neatly clad cousin with eyes like cattle, and Carroll stared at them with eyes like a rat's. The mutual disapproval was plain.

"Where did you go to school?" asked Carroll.

"School! What's the good o' school, when yer's wanted for mustrin'?" said Madge.

"It teaches you to talk correctly," said Carroll. Whereupon Jim offered to fight him, scenting a reflection on his grammar. Madge interfered.

"Wait till father comes in, Jim, an' let him see if you've got anything ter fight about."

"What was it all about?" asked Frank at dinner.

"He said we didn't talk right," said Madge.

"Your grammar's awful," said Carroll. "Where did you learn to speak?" A heavy silence fell upon them all, most heavily on Frank Manson. It suddenly dawned on him that he had overlooked the educational problem. He couldn't imagine how the thing had happened. Possibly it came of leading the simple, corned beef life.

A month later an advertisement appeared in a Brisbane paper. "Refined conversation and deportment essential," were the concluding words. A month later Miss Briggs was met by Jim and Dan in a buggy.

The Mansons were expecting a long, angular lady of uncertain age to improve their English and deportment. Miss Briggs was 19, a pretty girl of gentle manners and a soft voice.

When she arrived she asked for Mrs. Manson. Her question told Frank that she was quite ignorant of what he assumed all Australia knew. Both had taken things for granted. Her extraordinary ignorance alarmed him. She appeared scarcely well informed enough to instruct his children. Madge looked at Miss Briggs as if she were a calf of unknown brand. It was Cousin Carroll who answered her question.

"My aunt died some years ago, Miss Briggs. Didn't Uncle Frank mention that he was a widower?"

"There has been some misunderstanding, for which I am as much to blame as anybody. But we can make the best of it, can't we, sir?" she said, turning to Mr. Manson.

"That's the way to look at it. By the way, what's your Christian name?"

"Madeline, sir," she said, with dignity.

"That's all right, Maddy. Call me Frank. The kids often do." Miss Briggs stared aghast. But she realized that remonstrance would be totally misapprehended. Manson raised his voice and bellowed: "Jim, you bull! Dan, you calf! Come here." They came from the stable together. "Now listen to me, you kids. I've brought Maddy here to teach you all how to speak, to behave at table, to dress properly, and you are to obey her as you would me, or I'll brand the lot of you with rawhide. Do you follow?" The lanky girl and more lanky boys grinned. Carroll laughed.

"Ain't we ter teach her anythink, Frank?" asked Jim.

"What the blazes do you think you could teach her?"

"I'll teach yer to ride," drawled Madge, her eyes suddenly lighted up. "Oh, I say, them's pretty togs you've got on."

Miss Briggs explained the difference between "togs" and a frock, and asked to be shown her room.

The three young men came in with her boxes.

"I'll change my clothes now," she said. Carroll went out. Jim and Dan sat on the bed beside Madge.

"I'll change my clothes," said Miss Briggs again. The Mansons looked at her with growing wonder. There was a strained silence, the strain wholly on the part of Miss Briggs.

"Why don't yer begin?" asked Jim at last. "We're waitin' ter see what yer other togs is like."

When the governess had finished her first lesson on etiquette, Jim and Dan were looking dazed. Nor did they know in the least what Cousin Carroll laughed at when he saw them.

The fierce summer had been and gone with its wet monsoons, and the first of the southwesterly winds was bringing its coolness over the grass, clad plains, for another good season had come. The young stock had all been branded, and Miss Briggs had learned to ride—astride and unashamed. Carroll had tried to make her ashamed of it, and failed.

In the comparatively idle time following the mustering and branding, the Mansons made a picnic of their work, and took the governess with them.

It was on the last night out on the plains. Miss Briggs felt that the stars were saying subtle things as they blinked in the vault of the night. The blue flame from the fire appeared to flash answers. The talk had gradually died away, and they were all burled under the vast silence of the night, when Carroll edged himself closer to Miss Briggs.

"Are you asleep, Madeline?" His tone startled her attention.

"No," she murmured, aloud and guardedly.

"Aren't you tired of this stupid life? I feel like a calf."

"Tired!" she exclaimed. The thrill in her tone dulled him.

"Come out of it," he said. She was silent. "I want you to come away with me; to Brisbane, and then to Melbourne. We live there. Here we vegetate. These uncouth relations of mine don't know what living means." Miss Briggs thought she saw a slight quiver in Madge's blanket beside her. "They are little better than savages."

"Hush!" whispered the governess. "I won't listen to you."

"You are not safe amongst them." It was too dark for Carroll to see the surge of color in Miss Briggs' face.

"I'm as safe as—as I want to be," she said, and turned away from him. Carroll sprang up as if he had been bitten by a bull ant. Like shadows, one by one, Madge and her two brothers rose. Miss Briggs got up slowly, shaking and trembling. The blanket fell from Jim's shoulders, and stepping forward, he took his cousin by the throat.

"Kill him, Jim!" hissed Madge, stamping her feet. Miss Briggs buried her face in her hands, and dropped on her knees. The two men rolled over, and Jim rose astride Carroll's body, silently and savagely throttling him. Madge was standing over the struggling men, her teeth gritting, her hands clenched, her knees bent as if ready to spring on them.

"Jim, Jim, for my sake, don't!" pleaded Miss Briggs, but he failed to hear her. It was going hard with Carroll, who had ceased to struggle. His eyes were protruding, and his face was darkening. With a hard sob Madge threw herself on Jim.

"You brute!" she wailed." Leave him alone!" and dragging Jim away, she threw herself beside Carroll in a storm of weeping. Jime rose slowly, and, with a hang dog air stepped to Madge.

"I'm sorry, I heard him. I didn't want to lose my temper." Madeline began to cry. Don't be frightened. You know you are safe—from me." Dan went and put his arms around Madge. The fire twitted, and a stick flickered into flame. Jim turned away.

"Jim, come back!" When he turned he saw by the light from the fire that Miss Briggs' education was completed.

Madge only sobbed. Her education had just begun.

WILDCATS FIERCE AND HUNGRY.

Oakland Correspondence Baltimore Sun: Wildcats are so numerous in Garrett county this year and are so fierce that in some sections it is not safe to venture out on the county roads after dark.

The cold weather and deep snow have made foraging difficult and the cats are hungry. A wildcat recently attacked a rural mail carrier near Grantsville, and these animals have followed pedestrians and horsemen.

The Doctor

Lung Gymnastics.

A safeguard, for consumption, if taken in time, is gymnastics for the lungs to increase their capacity and elasticity.

Doctors advise people with weak lungs to stand erect in a well-ventilated room, place the hands on the hips and take long, deep, slow breaths, varying the rhythm, and at times taking short, jerky breaths for variety. The breath should be drawn only through the nose.

The following are more suggestions for people who suffer from weak lungs:

1. Slowly raise the arms from the sides until they meet above the head, breathing deeply. Breathe out while slowly lowering.

2. Raise the arms in front; carry them as far back as possible; then down. Breathe as before.

3. Slowly rise on the toes, breathing deeply.

4. Extend the arms in front; carry one leg back as far as possible; then down again.

5. Lie on the back; raise the arms backward and over the head, while breathing deeply.

People with plenty of lung capacity can stand even bad air without suffering.

Something You Want to Know

Don't you want to know that we now make a spaghetti better than it's made in Rome?

It is so much better than any you ever tasted that you'll be amazed when you find it out.

Our chefs spent two years in perfecting the recipe. The result is a secret so valuable to us that we never have written it down.

This is the most popular dish that ever went out from our kitchens. And that means a great deal.

We have been cooking good things for nearly fifty years. Every year now the homes of America spend ten million dollars to get them.

But we never made anything which people welcomed as they welcome this spaghetti.

There are 17 ingredients used in the making, the main of which are these:

Durum wheat spaghetti.
Herkimer County full cream cheese.
Best creamery butter.
The same expensive tomato sauce we use in Van Camp's Pork and Beans.

The dish comes ready-cooked. All you have to do is to heat it.

You will invariably find it the best dish on your table, no matter how good all the other things are.

And you'll find that everyone likes it better than they ever liked spaghetti before.

One can will prove it. Order now.

"BOOST FOR MINNESOTA"

Development Association Congress Will Not Be Northern Gathering Only.

Secretary Opens Office in Duluth and Begins Strenuous Campaign.

"Boost for Minnesota" is the slogan of the Northern Minnesota Development association.

The development, not of the northern or southern or eastern or western part, but of the whole state is the object of the association, as set forth in the advertising being sent out for the meeting here June 1 and 2, and the different organizations in the thirty-four counties making up the association are being urged to send delegates to Duluth to boost for the whole state.

W. R. Mackenzie, secretary of the association, arrived in Duluth yesterday. At what might seem to many a business man an unearthly hour this morning, Mr. Mackenzie was at the Commercial club with his coat off, papers strewn on the table in front of him and his energies directed toward assembly a representative crowd of Northern Minnesota men to discuss the affairs of the state in Duluth June 1 and 2. From now until after the meeting, Mr. Mackenzie will be at his office in the Commercial club almost daily, arranging his program, corresponding with speakers, starting floods of advertising throughout the state and acting as the central generator of the boosting spirit.

"It will be a great meeting," said Mr. Mackenzie this morning. "There are matters, vital not only to Northern Minnesota, but to the entire state, to be discussed and the interest in those matters is general. I believe every county holding a membership in the association will be represented and we will have scores of visitors from other associations and organizations interested."

Mr. Mackenzie has already sent out 2,000 circulars to Northern Minnesota people. The circulars are enclosed in yellow envelopes, bearing conspicuously in their face, "Boost for Minnesota" and the date of the meeting at Duluth. In addition, Mr. Mackenzie has sent personal invitations to every member of the two houses of the Minnesota legislature to attend the meeting and hear what representative Northern Minnesota men think of matters of interest to the state. Correspondence has been had with several prominent speakers, but the program of the meeting has not yet been worked out.

Among the speakers will be E. B. Cox, the assistant United States forester, who has been offered and has accepted the position of Minnesota state forester. Mr. Cox formerly lived in Glenwood, Pope county, and has an intimate knowledge of Minnesota's forestry needs. He will probably talk on forest fire prevention.

Representative Thomas Kneeland of Minneapolis will also be one of the speakers at the meeting. His subject will be "Public Domain," a subject in which he is greatly interested.

Other speakers will be announced from time to time and the complete program, which is expected to be out within the next two weeks, will be the best the association has yet had for a meeting. Among the subjects to be discussed at the meeting are state development, the development of state lands, the conservation of soil fertility, the land show at St. Paul next December, the commission plan of state government, the national corn show at Minneapolis in 1912 and the perfection of a plan for carrying on a campaign of education to place before prospective settlers the advantages of Minnesota and to further advertise northern resources and requirements among the people of the state.

Representatives are expected to attend the meeting from each of the thirty-four Northern Minnesota County Development associations, the Wisconsin Advancement association, Upper Michigan Development association, Western Michigan Development bureau and others. The St. Louis County club and the Duluth Commercial club will have charge of the social side of the meeting and will arrange trips on Lake Superior and trips to surrounding farms, including the Jean du Lath farm and G. G. Hartley's Island farm.

"A determined effort is now under way to show those seeking homes from other states that our state holds inducements superior to others, which our close proximity to market indicates," says the circular advertising the meeting. "The next five years hold great possibilities to those states who are up and doing—Minnesota is the biggest Western state and should be in the lead in this great land movement."

AUTO ROAD IS RESTORED

Spirit Lake Branch of Boat Club Will Be Used Again.

Annual Meeting of Club at Main House Next Tuesday Night.

Arrangements have been made so that the Duluth Boat club will be able to use the Spirit Lake branch again this year. The automobile road, which is a great convenience to many of the members using the branch, will also be restored and an effort will be made to make the up-river branch more popular than ever.

The automobile road is now being put in condition. It will run through the property of the Minnesota Steel company and will be a private road. The company has, however, given members of the Boat club permission to use the thoroughfare, at their own risk.

The main house of the Boat club will be open after Friday and the cafes at the main house and the Oatka branch will open May 20. The regular dances at the main house and at Oatka will begin Saturday evening, June 3.

For the present the Spirit Lake house will be run on the winter plan, allowing the use of dishes and cooking utensils, until the regular season opens June 24. A feature will be made of the Spirit Lake branch this year. The accommodations for members will be better and every member who can do so will be urged to spend his vacation there. It may be the last year the club will have the Spirit Lake grounds.

The annual meeting of the club will be held next Tuesday evening at the main house. The business meeting will be followed by a smoker and informal entertainment and the officers' plans for the year will be announced.

INTEREST DEAD IN W.-I. LEAGUE

Wausau and Appleton Failed to Draw Even Small Crowd.

La Crosse, Wis., May 3.—After a series of games at Appleton with the champions of the W.-I. league, the Wausau baseball officials and directors are finding consolation in the fact that that city, along with La Crosse, was kicked out of the Wisconsin-Illinois organization and are congratulating themselves and the Outcasts because they are no longer in that circuit. The baseball reporter of the Lumberjacks claims that interest is practically lacking in the city where the champions hold forth and that, although excellent exhibitions of the national pastime were staged by the two clubs, the gate receipts were exceedingly small.

The Wausau Record-Herald has the following to say:

"The Lumberjacks went over to Appleton, the lair of the champs of the W.-I. league, Thursday. The result was a crowd of about 150 fans, big and little, with less than $40 in the box when the count was made. The apparent cause was not far to find. There had been practically no press announcement of the game and on the evening of the contest there was not a word so far as a reasonably careful search has been able to reveal in either of the papers of which the place boasts.

"From this distance it appears that the Papermakers should wake up in the press over there or the press should wake itself up. It may be that this little incident reveals the cause of the lack of enthusiasm in the old W.-I. league and explains in a measure why the two clubs were so anxious to dispose of their franchises to Wausau.

"There is a moral about this somewhere, but what's the use trying to point it out? It isn't needed in the Minor league, where there are boosters and to spare, and where the press and the fans and the different management work together to make the league a success.

"Here's congratulations of a mutual nature to the Outcasts and the Lumberjacks."

EIGHTS WILL BE ON WATER

According to the intimation last evening by Coach Ten Eyck, the candidates of the Duluth Boat club crews may be sent out in the eights this evening. So far this season the men have been rowed in the lapstreaks for the most part. There is a large amount of material and the weeding out process will require some time. If the men are sent out in eights this evening, there will be enough men on hand to send three eights out, which is going some for this time of the year.

Among the newcomers there are some promising men and right at the present time, according to the opinion expressed by some of the rowing officials, though Coach Ten Eyck has refused to comment as yet, the material looks very good.

NO MORE BOXING BOUTS AT RACINE

Racine, Wis., May 3.—Mayor W. S. Goodland, upon his return from the North today, where he has been since the Kelly-Thompson fight there, issued a statement which means that the "lid" is clamped tight on future fights.

"I don't believe that Racine or any other city can afford to be turned into a fight center or a wide open sporting town and you can say for me that Racine will not have another fight for some time to come. You may also say that at no time before or after my election to the mayoralty did I make any promises either for or against it."

WISCONSIN-ILLINOIS LEAGUE OPENS SEASON.

Racine, Wis., May 3.—Amid the best of weather conditions, the Wisconsin-Illinois league today opened its seventh season with games at Rockford, Aurora and Oshkosh and Green Bay. This is the first year of the league among the Class C organizations.

Larry Heffinan, manager of Racine, with a squad of fourteen men left this morning for Aurora, where a boosters' celebration was carried out.

"Smiley" Smith of the Senators of Madison is in Rockford and also is participating in an opening program.

SEMI-PRO LEAGUE FOR COPPER COUNTRY.

Calumet, Mich., May 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—The schedule of the Copper Country Baseball league will open here Saturday, May 20, Hubbell and Calumet playing. There is every promise that the Copper Country will this year enjoy the best baseball it has ever had. Calumet has been without baseball for three years, although a town of more than 30,000 people, while the smaller towns of the district have had good teams. Now some of Calumet's richest business and mining men are backing the local team and the league, and success seems assured.

The league is made up of the five clubs of Calumet, Mohawk, Hubbell, Hancock and Double H of Houghton and Hurontown. Nick Kaiser, Houghton county clerk, and the star shortstop of the old Northern-Copper Country league, is managing the Double H club. Bert Sincock, a pitcher formerly the property of the Cincinnati nationals, is with Calumet. Sweltzer, formerly with Joe Ganzel's bunch at Lansing, is also at Calumet. Hogan, a pitcher with the Three I league teams several years and later in the New England league and with the Boston Americans, is captain of the Mohawk team. Several of the clubs are importing players. Mohawk has secured Nate Cross, a first baseman, from Guelph, Ont. The league is semi-professional in character.

The Copper Country Cricket league, playing only Saturday games, will open its schedule on May 20. The league this year numbers eight clubs, Calumet, Tamarack, Kearsarge, Wolverine, Mohawk, Mesnard, Quincy and Painesdale. The reason for the great popularity of the old English sport here is that there are more than 20,000 Cornish people in the Michigan copper district.

McGUIRE RESIGNS FROM CLEVELAND TEAM.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 3.—James T. McGuire, manager of the Cleveland American League Baseball club, resigned today. In a letter to C. W. Somers, president of the club, McGuire team's showing this season, and a desire cam's showing this season, and a desire to give the management an opportunity to secure a manager who may be able to get better results, are the reasons for his resignation.

President Somers said that George Stovall, captain and first baseman of the team, would take charge of it until a new manager is selected. He said that McGuire would continue with the club as scout.

Low Prices in Groceries.

Hundreds of economical buyers for the home larder are taking advantage of the clearance sale in grocery sundries at Barthe-Martin company, 102-104 West Michigan street. The firm sells regularly at wholesale direct to the consumer, but to move a large quantity of goods now on hand has made a special cut in prices that appeals strongly to those who have been in the habit of paying the usual retail prices. The sale lasts only this week, in fact the way the special prices are moving the goods a longer period would not be necessary. Some people have an idea that it is necessary for them to buy in large quantities to get advantage of the Barthe-Martin company's low prices, but such is not the case. Goods can be purchased in as small quantities as desired at no additional price rate. If you wish to make your dollars and cents do more than double duty it will certainly pay you to send the list in Saturday's or Tuesday's Herald, or call 1315, either 'phone and get prices.

DISCOVERY OF THE PHONOGRAPH.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: Accident has had so much to do with all great inventions that it will not be surprising to hear that the phonograph was a chance discovery.

Many years ago, while Edison was experimenting on diaphragms for the telephone, he had constructed a number of small sheepskin drumheads, to compare with the metal one. To some of these sheepskin diaphragms he had attached a small needle, which was intended to project toward the magnet and assist in conveying the vibrations caused by the human voice.

The sheepskin diaphragms did not fulfil Edison's expectations, and were discarded and thrown aside as rubbish. His assistants soon discovered that by holding the sheepskin diaphragms in front of their mouths and emitting a guttural sound between the lips, a peculiar noise, approaching music, could be produced.

In passing one of the men engaged in playing on a diaphragm one day, Edison playfully attempted to stop the noise by touching the projecting metal pin with his finger, and had no sooner done so than he started.

"Do that again," said Edison, and it was repeated, and again his finger touched the pin, to his evident delight.

He went about for some time, asking one after another of his assistants to hum or sing against the diaphragm, and finally he got them to talk against it, he all the time touching the pin lightly with his finger.

Finally he retired to his den, and commenced drawing diaphragms for new machinery, which his assistants speedily made, and a few days later the first phonograph was put together.

It was a crude affair, the pin making an impression on the wax, and it talked imperfectly; but it did well enough to show Edison that he was on the right track, and he rapidly improved it.

A hundred men might have felt the vibration of that pin attached to the piece of sheepskin, but it took an Edison to instantly realize that the vibration might be made to indent a soft substance and be susceptible of reproducing the exact sounds of the human voice that caused the different vibrations.

MAKING OF A DANCER.

London Globe: Each note of dancing is taught by an expert. By and by the child dancer makes progress and her work becomes more difficult and exacting. At least she may have to practice for three hours in the morning, attend a rehearsal all the afternoon and dance in the two ballets at night.

From this it will be easily seen that the girl must be absolutely physically fit and that there is no time for gadding about or pleasure or self indulgence. It is an absolutely true thing to say that the ballet brings up the most hard working, honest and clean living class of girls in the world.

The discipline is such that it exacts with an iron hand the most stoic self-control. Promotion is low and tedious and is only earned by a very literal sweat of the brow. The girl has to work her way painfully and laboriously from the back to the front row. As a child she begins at a few shillings a week and in due time works up to the front row at £2 per week. Then if she has not wasted her time, if she has given all her thoughts and all her energies to her profession she becomes an understudy. But this is not until she is practically movement perfect.

Fred Farren tells how a young man once came to him and told him that though he had never danced he was very anxious to go on the stage and asked how long it would take him to learn to dance. And this was the reply:

"I am not quite sure. I have been at it for twenty-four years and haven't finished learning yet."

So a little girl may join the Alhambra school at the age of 6 and still be learning to dance twenty years later.

Could there possibly be a harder apprentice than this?

But there are compensations. The child who goes to the Alhambra goes to a home. She goes there as a little school girl and is watched over and guarded against temptations and troubles as though she lived with her parents.

She goes to a profession which pays a salary—certain if small—every week in the year. Legitimate houses may close, musical comedies may fail, choruses may be thrown suddenly out of employment in the middle of the season, but the ballet is eternal and the wage, whether in sovereigns or shillings, is absolutely certain.

AN OLD MAIDS' PARADISE.

A middle-aged woman was asked the other day why she chose to live in the city alone rather than among her relatives, who were comfortably situated in a little city some distance away, says the New York Sun. She laughed and replied:

"Why, don't you know that New York is the old maid's paradise?" And after she had explained it her point of view was easily appreciated.

In the first place there are not many old maids in the little cities, especially in the Middle and Far West, and the few who are there are doomed either to be the supernumerary everywhere they go, or to bury themselves in their prime, hibernate, as it were, for want of companionship.

The afternoon tea or the bridge party affords no opportunity for the exchange of ideas not even enough to disclose the fact whether or not there are any ideas to disclose. At evening affairs and dinners the guests are all coupled, and if a spinster goes she must do so knowing she is throwing the whole arrangement out of gear. If she is still young enough to care to dance, some other woman must sit out the dances she indulges in.

In a little city a spinster can go to a lecture and even to the theater, if she can find another similarly inclined, but these entertainments do not occur often in small places, and at best there is a great deal of playtime going to waste and leaving her, like Jack, very dull indeed.

In New York there is never a scarcity of enlivening things to do and never a soul to even look askance should she go quite alone. The brightly lighted, crowded streets make her solitary outings safe, and there are others like her everywhere.

The near members of one's family are, so it seems, generally agreed to look upon the spinsters belonging to them from a purely utilitarian standpoint. They are of no more consequence as a unit than an untrimmed hat is in a wardrobe, and every enterprise they undertake is looked upon as a sort of makeshift for something normally better.

In New York City there is no such feeling. Whatever may be the reason, the old maid goes and comes on a footing with the married woman. She finds plenty of ambitious associates and opportunities of any kind she may desire. The restricting little cliques of a small city are wholly lacking and the individual holds the place she takes purely by reason of her own individuality.

The fact is that in New York the spinster can enjoy and use to the fullest the opportunities of her freedom, which certainly is the thing she should make the most of, since she pays so high a price for it. And it is the thing that in towns and little cities there is no way of using.

WENT SWIMMING AT 92.

London Chronicle: "The Grand Old Man of Highgate Ponds," William McKenzie, long known as "Grandfather" by his fellow members of the Highgate Lifebuoys club, has passed away at his North London home. He was in his ninety-third year.

Up to six weeks ago Mr. McKenzie was bathing in Highgate Ponds, where he had bathed for many years. His unfailing regularity at the age of 92 probably constitutes a record in natation. Until three years ago he joined in the winter lifebuoy bathing sports. His practice was to walk over the two miles from Highbury and back for his swim.

SOX ANNEX FINAL GAME

Madison Defeated By Score of 7 to 5 in Fast Contest.

Meneice and Leber Cinch Result With Home Runs.

Madison, Wis., May 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Yesterday the Duluth White Sox defeated the local team by a score of 7 to 5 in a well-played and fast game. Sam Meneice hit the pellet over the fence, sending two men in ahead of him and cinching the game for the visitors.

Just to show he was still the slugging kid of the White Sox tribe, little Leber also knocked the ball out of the lot, it going clear over a red barn outside of the park. The home run yesterday is the seventh the little fellow has hit on the trip that ended with the game with Madison.

Worman and Woodburn held the Madison hitters in check, and errors upon the part of the locals helped the visitors. The Duluth team was full of ginger and played a hard and fast game. Only two errors were chalked up against the White Sox, while some of the Madison players bungled at critical stages of the game.

Cold weather interfered somewhat with clean fielding, and also kept the attendance down.

In the one game played here the visitors made an excellent impression.

The score by innings:

	R.	H.	E.
Madison	2	9	0
Duluth	7	7	2

Batteries — Palmer, Shaw, Carroll, Johnson and Watson; Worman, Woodburn and Hargrove.

Chicago, May 3.—The expulsion of H. L. Duvernick, Sr., and his son, H. L. Duvernick, Jr., both of California, Mo., whose names have been connected with trotting horses and driving races for many years, from the American Trotting association, was confirmed by the board of appeals, and they were forbidden ever to enter any events conducted by the association.

Two other men, Theodore Christian of Centertown, Mo., and J. E. Roberts of St. Louis, were declared by the board of the association to have been implicated in horse racing swindles with the Duvernicks and also were expelled.

The board of appeals rendered decisions in thirty-seven cases altogether, involving disputes on decisions and demands for identification of animals throughout the jurisdiction of the association.

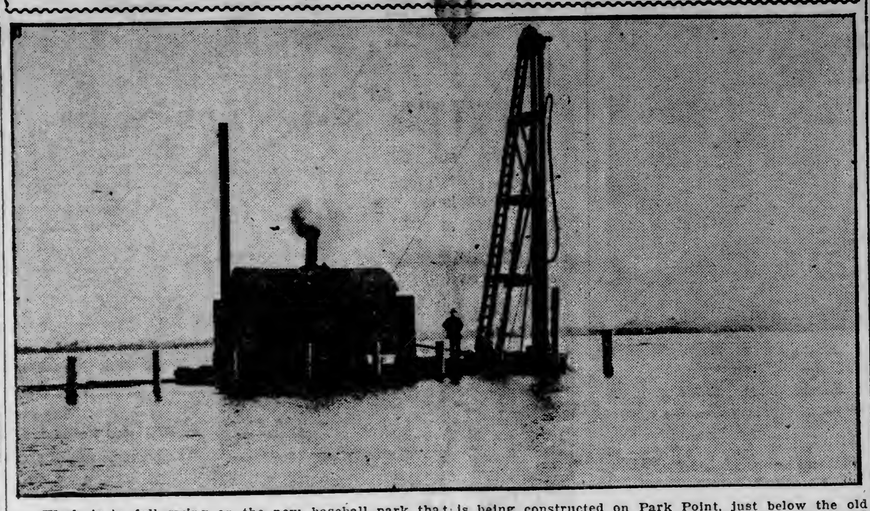
DRIVING PILES FOR DULUTH'S NEW BASEBALL GROUNDS ON PARK POINT



Work is in full swing on the new baseball park that is being constructed on Park Point, just below the old yacht club. Piles are being driven and there will be a lot of filling in to make the playing field. The grandstand will be constructed on the shore line, and work on this is due to start in the near future. It is estimated that the filling in will be completed within thirty days at the outside, when the finishing touches will be put on the grounds.

COMMENTS AND OPINIONS ON THE SPORTING PARADE

Darby and Crew Hit Superior Street Again—Jeff and the Scribes—A Warning to Eau Claire Writers—Kohl Making Good—Cubs Hitting Great Pace.

THE team is here. Hurrah! Hurrah! While the season will not be officially inaugurated until May 10, the Sox opening at Red Wing on that date, the game at Superior this afternoon will officially drag in the old baseball season and will give the fans their first taste of what is to come later.

Undoubtedly a large number of fans will journey across the bay this afternoon to cast their lamps on the new material that the orator has gathered under his wing. From the stories of extra base hits that have been coming over the wire, there are some free and easy clouters drawing Duluth currency from its hiding places.

Starting with the game of this afternoon there will be six sojrees staged between the two teams. According to the schedule that has been announced, five of these games, the first three, will be played at Hislop park, on the other side of the bay, and the concluding half over here.

Athletic park will be used for the early spring series, and from the present looks of things for some of the first games of the season. The crowd betting today should give the fans an early line on the probable strength of the Duluth White Sox. At least the games will give the fans a chance to pass opinion upon some of the pep youngsters, and that is really one of the best things the true fans do.

Right here is a pretty good time and place to paste a boost for Jawn Desmond. From present indications his cherished dream of a new park has become an actuality. In addition, he has gone ahead and has a team that he believes will be a pennant contender all through the season. He has spent good money for players, equipment and other details and incidentals that go with the operation of a baseball team, and his friends, and he has hundreds of them, wish him every success in the world. He is deserving of it, and there are a lot of fans here who would like to see genial Jawn make a go of baseball in this city, the largest in the circuit.

Naturally, it takes good baseball to rouse enthusiasm. That is just what Desmond is endeavoring to supply, and before the start of the season the wish is expressed here that the team Desmond and Darby have gathered together may be one of the best that has ever represented this city.

After the series here the Sox will leave for Red Wing to open the season with Fred Cook's Indians. Following the three-day stay at Camp Red Wing the White Sox will flag the rattler for Rochester and play on the new Mayo Athletic field for three more games. Three games follow at La Crosse and then comes a series of battles with Uncle Joe Killian and his husky Pirates. That will finish the first road trip of the season, the Sox showing on the home grounds for the opening game here, May 25.

With but a few more days before the opening of the league season, the spring series between Duluth and Superior will afford the fans an excellent opportunity to get a line on the two teams, and will, in fact, give us our first real baseball of the 1911 go off.

It's a cinch that the team will be stronger the present season than was the aggregation that blew into town one blasty day last spring. We are going to look for better things, and if the team is as good as some of the reports indicate, the Sox should be fighting with the leaders from the start.

Jeff Must Be a Lowbrow Then.

FRED LAKE, manager of the Boston Nationals, is out with a statement in which he is credited with saying that it is only the real lowbrows of the game who shun publicity. According to the estimate by the former pilot of the Boston Americans—you know Fred switched from one Boston team to the other—James J. Jeffries, the sob of Reno, is one of the worst lowbrows in existence.

When James was in this city the writer approached the bearcat with reverence and timidity. The manager was asked for a few words, and almost barked forth an answer of growling displeasure. This Jeffries is one of the kind of men who naturally and on the level hates any publicity, and yet at the same time has has made all his money off the public. He hasn't brains enough to realize the value of publicity and courtesy enough to even decently assist the very ones who were helping him accumulate this wide following from the big American public.

In the twilight of the long days to come it is very probable that James J. will hark back to the day when he gave many a feeder of the public appetite a dig, and will have some understanding of the whys and wherefores of his panning over the country at the present time.

Another Fair Warning to Otto.

IN ALL the fairness of war, notice is hereby given to Otto and Willie of the Eau Claire press that they need not expect much in the way of pennant reward. Their humble plea at the very first warm, sunshiny day of the present season has forfeited all their rights in the matter of expectancy.

It has been stated before that if some of the other scribes around the circuit did not have any more to bank hopes upon than have the two aforementioned lads from the bucolic centers of dairy industry, you could not in the least blame them for refraining from talking of the prospects of their team.

That win last year was awfully lucky for the very simple reason that Eau Claire had all the best players in the league, this season. If appearances are not very deceiving, the playing will be more evenly divided, and the butter makers will have their troubles cut out for them in breaking into the first division.

What About Eddie Kohl?

IN the opening inter-city game between St. Paul and Minneapolis, Eddie Kohl, late of this city, made three hits and stole home with the first run of the Saints. If the actor-man can keep up this kind of work he will assure himself of a permanent berth on the Kelley regulars.

Third base has been one of the places that Mike has been worrying about during the spring days. Steinfeldt has refused to report, so young Kohl was thrown into the breach. If the former White Sox makes good there will be a lot of fans in this city who will be very glad of it.

Hack Is the Boy Gotch Wants.

HERE'S a bet that Hackenschmidt meets none of the Indian wrestlers. He will get more money by meeting Gotch, and the Russian is just the man the Iowan wants. When the two line up the bulk of the American money will go on the champion, and justly so.

What About Some Old Players?

YOUR attention might be called to the spectacular playing of Jimmy Sheckerd of the Cubs, also of Schulte, Kling and Tinker of the same team. Tinker is from Helena. All these veterans have been playing such baseball this season as to make the scribe who predicted that the Cubs were getting old, think again. At least that is the case so far the present season.

It may be that later in the race the fast pace will tell on the venturesome Cubs, who, it must be remembered, have been hitting an awful baseball pace for the past five years.

The playing of Sheckerd and some of the other veterans serves to call brisk attention to what wonderful players the Cubs have had all these years. Players like Tinker, Sheckerd, Kling and Evers are truly born, like the poets, and not made. Perhaps the grandest machine ever assembled, it may be years before they get another machine like the Cubs. If the Murphy pets should come right back and win the gonfalon in the old league the present season, that feat should settle beyond cavil of doubt or argument, the fact that never in the long and brilliant history of the national game has a team of such brainy and nervy players been gathered under the same management.

There are a lot of people in this city, Western in their sympathies, who admire greatness and nerve, who would like to see the old Cubs come back just once more and take the highest honors in baseball, which mean the winning of the world's championship.

CHICAGO TRYING TO REVIVE GAME

Attempts Being Made to Bring Horse Racing Into Fold.

Chicago, May 3.—With most of the country's race tracks growing up to weeds there is a movement on foot to save Chicago's thoroughbred courses from a like fate. Ever since the late lamented season of 1904 the local tracks have produced more than their share of burdocks and now with the budding of the crocus and mushroom it is figured out that it is time to "start something."

Edward R. Bradley has been picked as the Moses of the race track people and the tailor-turfman has a plan to renew the "sport of kings," provided everybody is willing, which, as has been discovered many times before, is not a "cinch."

Anyway, Mr. Bradley, who spends his winters in Florida, has a plan to revive the dying "industry," and he has mapped out his program to some of those interested in the local racecourses. Mr. Bradley has had a talk with John Condon, owner of the Harlem race track, and inside of two weeks the blind turfman will know all about it, so he said last night.

Combine of Tracks Planned.

It is Bradley's intention to combine all the local tracks to such an extent that he can get the use of any or all as soon as he is ready to "show" the home folk.

Mr. Condon said that Mr. Bradley had discussed the plans with him, but that they were not in shape to make public at present.

Mr. Bradley will be back from the East soon and will lay the whole scheme before Condon and Tom Carey, the latter owner of the Hawthorne race track. Apparently the owners of the Worth track have not been taken into Mr. Bradley's confidence, as Treasurer William J. O'Brien said last night that he had heard nothing about it.

The plans of Mr. Bradley call for either pool betting or pari-mutuels—he had not made up his mind which to spring before he left for the East.

Although the promoters are reticent it was learned that they did not expect to start without opposition. However, it is intended to rush a test case on either method of betting adopted into the courts right after the start, and from that on "take their chances."

The promoters feel that they can afford to take big chances on account of the "fat pickings" certain to accrue from the venture, as in the past Chicago was regarded as one of the best turf centers in the country.

It was claimed yesterday that the promoters are pretty sure of their ground. The city administration has nothing to do with it, as the tracks are all outside the city limits and that leaves it up to the state's attorney and the sheriff.

Both Sheriff Zimmer and State's Attorney Wayman have stated frequently that there will be no racing if they can prevent it, so the only recourse the promoters have, it is figured, is the courts.

Should the courts decide that neither "oral betting" nor pari-mutuels is gambling the way would be clear for unobstructed racing.

SPORTING NOTES

The Harvard soccer team is eager for an early game with Haverford to settle the intercollegiate tie.

Cy Young, veteran Nap pitcher, ill with bronchitis in Cleveland, is much improved today. Young will go to his home in Peoli to recuperate as soon as he can leave the hotel.

MikeRyan, the Irish-American club's distance runner, has sailed for England from Montreal, accompanied by his trainer, Johnny Hayes. Ryan will try for the English marathon championship race run on May 27.

Fred Conklin, international amateur champion and Percy Collins, the Chicago amateur, will start tonight in a new 18.2 balk line match that promises to be highly interesting to billiard fans. Conklin is to play 1,800 points to Collins' 1,600. The match will be played in Chicago.

The entry list for the ten-mile professional foot race at Celtic park, New York, next Sunday shows that Tom Longboat, the flying Indian, who has just signaled his return to the game by beating speedy Gusta Ljungstrom in Buffalo, Hans Miller, Bill Queal and Alfred Shrubb will measure paces.

A thousand athletes will compete in a "modified marathon" race in New York Saturday, over a twelve-mile course through city streets. The entrants include the greatest distance runners in the country, who will compete for the honor of representing America in the world's marathon championship at the Stockholm Olympic games next summer.

Foxhall Keene, the former polo star, has been showing all of his old-time ability in the practice at Lakewood, and is believed to have a good chance for the American team that will defend the American cup against the British invaders. The Englishmen are "coming fast" and there is no longer the cocksure confidence on the part of the Americans there was a week ago.

The three American sonder class yachts which are to race against three German yachts at Kiel—the Blbbelot, a Herreshoff boat, the Cima and Beaver, veterans of last season—will be shipped from New York, May 11. This will be the fourth international race between the German and American craft. Two sets, sailed on this side, were won by American boats, and the other, sailed at Kiel, went to the Germans. The first race will be sailed on July 19.

SWELL TEAM, SAYS DARBY

Irish Orator and His Squad End Their Training Trip.

Says Leber Is Phenom—Had Seven Home Runs on Trip.

Darby O'Brien and his traveling troupe of baseball players alighted from the Omaha at 8:25 this morning, happy to end a spring training trip that has taken them through all kinds of inclement weather. On the casual survey the squad looks good, so much better than the troupers that Darby led into the city last spring, that one laughs with glee.

Right off the bat Darby says Leber is a wonder. This kid hit seven home runs on the trip, and according to the words of the orator, is one of the greatest young players he has ever seen. If Leber even comes anywhere near the praises sung by Darby, he will come near being about the best third baseman that Duluth has ever had.

In Hargrove and Doar the White Sox leader believes he has two catchers who will class with any of the receivers in the league. They look so good to P. H. O'Brien that he declared today that he would not send for Shaub, who caught last season.

There is "Baldy" Altermott, the demon home run hitter of last season. The word has gone out that this kid is fielding better than last season and has already started to hit. Yesterday at Madison he put one against the fence, and Darby believes that he has already struck his hitting stride.

Johnson, who some of the fans will remember as last season with Rochester, will play one of the outfield positions, with Miller and Meneice in the other two. Chesty Holstrom, one of the leading hitters of the Minny last season, will be back on first.

Doty is a pitcher O'Brien is very sweet upon. He believes he will make one of the classiest in the league the present season. This boy will work this afternoon against Superior, according to the statement of the Sox leader this morning, and the fans will have an opportunity of sizing him up.

It is probable that Blancke will report later, but that is not at all certain at the present time. In addition to Doty there are Worman, Kramer, Woodburn, Chase, a brother of the Indian with Minneapolis at the present time, and Al Cummings.

"I have a team of hitters," said the orator. "My team will average somewhere around the .270 mark. I have a team right at the present time that will finish one, two, three. They have been hitting on the trip, and some of the players have only been out a week. I am satisfied with them, in fact tickled with the boys, and unless I am awfully mistaken in my judgment, the present White Sox are going to make a big hit with the fans.

"The players I had last year will be better this season, and the new men I have secured are sure some ball players. From the present looks of the bunch I am pretty well satisfied, and the fans up here are going to see some good baseball. I am of the opinion that I have two ball players who will go up at the end of the present season. I will let the fans guess who they are.

"I have released a big bunch of players. The men left are the pick of the lot. Higley, Carter, Fisher and about fifty others have gone. I probably will stand on the team I have at the present time."

LANG AND LESTER WILL MEET MAY 13.

Sydney, N. S. W., May 3.—The date for the fight between Bill Lang, the Australian heavyweight, and Jack Lester, the Clealum, Wash., pugilist, for whom Tommy Burns is the sponsor, has been fixed for May 13. Both men are training hard. Lang is the favorite.

Maine Town Saved by Wind.

Ogunquit, Me., May 3.—A shift of the wind has turned aside a forest fire which threatened this village and the summer homes of many residents of other states. The blaze had run two miles through the woods and was heading directly for the village when the wind changed and danger was averted. The fire continues to burn fiercely in the valuable timber growth but no houses are immediately endangered

"DON'TS" OF TEN EYCK

Says Facilities and Material for Good Crew Are Available.

Last evening at the Y. M. C. A. Coach James Ten Eyck held a short heart to heart talk with the candidates for the Duluth Boat club crew. The talk was short and to the point and the men left the room with a better understanding of the man who is to instruct the crewmen the present summer.

Here are some of the don'ts of the young coach:

"Don't smoke, use alcohol or coffee. You will feel better and do better work if you cut out all these things.

"Don't try to get a running start on this, and say that you will do it tomorrow or the next day; do it right away.

"Don't eat pork or veal and don't indulge in pastry. Be careful in your diet. I can tell when you have been violating the rules of training.

"Don't be discouraged if you are not noticed the first day you are out. There is a big squad but I will get to you in a short time.

"Don't mind what I say to you when you are in the boat. Anything I say to you in the boat that sounds funny and might make you mad, doesn't go on shore. See?

"Don't expect me to do it all. I am confident that I can show you the right way to row and the right way to rig your boats, but I can't row the race for you. Remember that there is a lot up to you.

"Don't let the first burst of enthusiasm die out: keep out all season, for I can use every one of you. If you don't make the crew this season you will be in line for next year."

Coach Ten Eyck informed the men that he had looked over the boat club and that in his opinion the material and the facilities for geting into condition were equal to any club in the country.

With the material and the boats the coach informed the men that it was up to them. He placed the members of the squad on their honor, as far as the first simple rules of training are concerned, and also informed them that they owed this much, not only to themselves, but also to the other members of the squad.

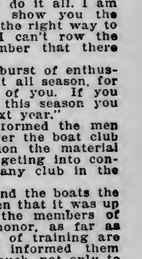
According to the program announced last evening by the coach, there will not be real hard work for the first month or six weeks. After that the real grind will start, with early morning rows and some real work that will give some of the old timers a taste of high life.

GOTCH READY TO SIGN WITH HACK

Chicago, May 3.—Combining business with pleasure, Frank Gotch, champion wrestler of the world, came into Chicago yesterday fresh from a long campaign along the Pacific coast. The Humboldt giant, accompanied by Mrs. Gotch, came ostensibly to purchase furnishings for the family bungalow, but during his sojourn here Gotch expects to sign articles for a return tussel with George Hackenschmidt, who departed some time ago for a round of the European concert hall wheel.

"Joe Coffey, matchmaker for the Empire Athletic association, holds a set of articles," said Gotch, discussing his proposed second bout with the Russian Lion, "and Jack Curley, representing Hackenschmidt, wants the match closed at the earliest opportunity. The terms offered me are $10 K. The club agrees to guarantee a purse of $20,000 and in addition I will receive a liberal percentage of the picture money. Of course there will be ample allowance for training expenses. I haven't retired from the game and don't propose to give up until some challenger succeeds in scoring a victory over me."

S.S.S. A REAL CURE FOR RHEUMATISM



So simple a thing as cloths dipped in hot water and applied to an aching joint, will often temporarily relieve the acute pains of Rheumatism. But everyone knows that such treatment would never permanently cure the trouble.

The usual cause of Rheumatism comes from weak kidneys, constipation, indigestion, etc., forming impure accumulations in the system. These sour and ferment, causing uric acid, which is absorbed from the stomach and intestines into the blood. This causes a partial fermentation of the circulation, which changes it from a thick, rich fluid to a thin, acrid stream, depositing inflammatory matter into the muscles, nerves, and joints. The longer the blood is allowed to remain in this impure condition the more severe will Rheumatism become. Gradually the muscles harden and lose their elasticity, the joints begin to stiffen, and frequently calculous deposits form knots at the finger joints.

I had Rheumatism for twenty years, sometimes being entirely laid up by it. It grew worse until my right knee was nearly twice its natural size, and was drawn up considerably shorter than the other one. A friend advised me to take S. S. S., which I commenced. Before I had been using it long I was greatly relieved, and continuing the medicine I soon found that I was entirely cured. MRS. IDA M. PALMER. 196 Fulton St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

While at work in the swampy regions of Southeast Georgia, I contracted Rheumatism, and was completely helpless for about 4 months, and spent over $150.00 with doctors, but got worse every day, and finally quit them and began S. S. S. I took several bottles, and was cured sound and well. My health is now splendid, and I weigh 175 pounds. I can recommend S. S. S. to all suffering from Rheumatism. S. C. LASSITER. Thomasville, N. C.

There is just one way to CURE Rheumatism, and that is to cleanse the blood of the uric acid poison. S. S. S., by removing every particle of the cause and PURIFYING the blood, cures Rheumatism permanently. S. S. S. eliminates the uric acid because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers. It filters out every trace of the sour, inflammatory matter, cools the acid-heated blood, furnishes the material for multiplying the rich, nutritious corpuscles of the circulation, and by its fine tonic effects assists the system to rapidly overcome the effects of the disease. Special book on Rheumatism and medical advice free. S. S. S. is for sale at drug stores.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

MUCH ROUTINE IS CONSIDERED

Two Harbors Council Has Long Session Devoid of Sensations.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Monday evening's session of the city council, while very long, was devoid of the sensations sprung at the former meeting. Before the session proceeded far an outsider who was under the influence of liquor tried to tell the city fathers how to run things and it was necessary for the police to remove him.

The question of agreeing with John Paulson over building a sidewalk on the corner of Fifth and Cedar street as to whether he or the city should build the retaining wall was discussed and referred to the sidewalk committee to settle with Paulson. The Journal News was given the city printing.

Made City Scavengers.

Frank Peterson and Oscar Beckman were appointed city scavengers. An ordinance against nuisances, patterned after that of Duluth was introduced. The Minnesota Iron company offered to sell the city the lot of half block 65 for park purposes at $40 per lot flat rate, cash payment. The matter was referred to the committee on building and grounds.

C. C. Coneczny made application for position of engineer at the water and light plant, but his application was referred to the chief engineer. Attorney Fowler presented resolutions fixing duties of employes at water and light plant. This was to provide for the new position of superintendent, which it was intended S. S. Irwin was to fill and it was consequently opposed by the Socialists. The resolution was adopted nevertheless, by a vote of 4 to 3.

A petition was presented from the property owners on the east end of Third avenue asking that the street be graded and macadamized and cement sidewalks laid this summer. The petition was presented through John Barton. The property owners desired the work to be done by contract, which is contrary to the policy of the present administration, which calls for day labor.

Fire Chief Makes Report.

The fire chief presented his report showing the report of his thorough investigation of all the public buildings about the city. In some cases, he considered the exits sufficient, but Attorney Fowler informed the council of the requirements of the state law, one of which is that the stairways shall be of non-combustible material. The city clerk was required therefore to notify each of the property owners of these state law requirements.

The city payroll of the month of April was presented. It was found that chief engineer Coleman's bill was larger than it should be. His bill was cut down to eighteen days at $100 per month and ten days at $125 per month or $101.69 for the whole month. This change was necessitated because of the fact that the ordinance fixing the salaries of employes did not go into effect until April 20. Changes were also made in the bills of the city attorney and street commissioner.

The matter of the rock crushing plant was also brought up. The plant is in need of repairs, a new set of concaves for crushing purposes being needed at once. The council ordered a new set of sixteen concaves from the representative of the firm which installed the plant.

Esse said that he had been told that the D. & I. R. had tapped the water-main on Second avenue for the barn in which were three horses, and for which the company was paying nothing. This matter was also referred to the water and light committee.

FATHER HOGAN TO COME TO DULUTH

Report About Former Virginia Priest Just Resigned at East Grand Forks.

East Grand Forks, Minn., May 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Father John Hogan, who has been pastor of Sacred Heart Catholic church in this city for the past two years, coming here from Virginia, Minn., has resigned and left Sunday evening for his old home in Ireland. He made no announcement to his congregation until the close of the last services and left shortly afterward.

Though Bishop Corbett has not confirmed the rumor it is reported that Father Hogan will locate in Duluth on his return.

Packey McFarland's Secret for Fatigue

How He Stops Exhaustion.

We are not at all pugilists and so cannot remain in the pink of condition all the time by exercise. But even a great a pugilist as Packey McFarland becomes exhausted once in a while, and his method of restoring his nervous energy is not by hardening his muscle but by using the very same method which thousands of men and women are using today.

Packey's secret is really no secret at all. Here it is, in his own words: "While training I at times become fatigued and find splendid use for Make-Man-Tablets, as I found them, from personal use, the best tonic I have ever used."

Any man or woman who will try Make-Man Tablets for building up the nerves (and we all need it at least once in a while) will find them the most effective tonic ever offered the public. The first box will prove it.

VILLAGE PLANTS MAKE LARGE SUM

Hibbing Light and Water Service Brings in Much Money Annually.

Hibbing, Minn., May 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—The water and light services are earning gross revenues of about $80,000 a year, according to the report of the village accountant J. L. Stewart, submitted to the council last night. The total gross receipts for the month of April amounted to $8,-447.56; being divided as follows: light service receipts, $4,550.16; water, $3,-583.84; heat, $313.56. The miscellaneous revenue for the month amounted to $175, being made up of peddlers and other licenses, $155, and rent $40.

A petition was read asking for a new road to be constructed for entry and egress to and from the Kitsville location to Hibbing. The petition stated that the "present road crossing the Williams property will be dug up by the stripping operations now in progress thus cutting off the petitioners entirely from Hibbing." The matter is receiving the attention of the council. The location of the Albany mine and the Nassau location are also affected by the stripping at the Williams.

The report of the clerk of the municipal court was read and approved and the regular monthly payroll passed. The remainder of the business was entirely of a routine nature.

Mayor Wetrick opposed the village doing any more paving at this time when that subject was being considered, contending there was no immediate need for it.

MONEY RETURNED TO HIGH SCHOOL

Tender Made for Rent of Hibbing Hall Results in Pleasant Outcome.

Hibbing, Minn., May 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—The regular routine of the water and light commissioners' meeting was enlivened by appearance of two members of the high school committee with $25 to pay on account of rent of hall for last year's dance, the delegation, which consisted of a number of the boys and girls, tendered the sum as the first part of the money due for hall rent, and stated that they hoped to soon wipe out the balance. When it was made plain that the boys and girls had been working for the last three months to try to pay off the debt the board, acting on motion of Supt. W. J. West, remitted the whole amount, $40, on the condition that the class utilized the money to present a memorial to the school at the close of the graduation year. The motion was readily seconded by Commissioner Angst and Chairman Wearne.

The commissioners transacted routine matters and called for bids for the year's supply of coal commencing with June 1. The question of having some of the walls in the city hall cleaned up was mentioned but it was decided not to do anything with this matter for the present time.

WANT WHITE WAY TO PIERCE STREET

Eveleth Council Gets Petition to Extend Grand Avenue's New Lights.

Eveleth, Minn., May 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—The matter of erecting an armory here with the aid of $10,-000 promised by the state, if the city furnished $1,000 and a suitable site, was favorably considered by the council last evening.

The clerk was instructed to advertise for a 50 by 120 site for a fire hall, and also for a 100 by 120 site for a public library.

The following bids were received for hauling city garbage: Saohary Lappi, winter months, $435 per month; summer, $299 per month; Matt Thomas, winter $294.95 per month, summer $239 per month; John E. Wilson, summer $400 per month, winter $240 per month; John Smoiki, summer months $283.35, winter months $215. The contract was awarded to J. Smoiki.

A petition from property owners between Grant and Adams avenues on Pierce streets, requesting that the white way be extended to that thoroughfare, was referred to the water and light committee.

Officials Make Reports.

Fire Chief Nellon reported $31,000 in damages for April. The municipal court clerk reported $61.71 in fines for week ending April 22, and $9.50 for week ending April 29. The health commissioner reported fourteen births and ten deaths for the month of April, and recommended tuberculin tests for all the cows in the city. Chief of police Farley reported seventeen arrests, and fines amounting to $119.87 for April. The estimate of the superintendent of water works of $341.25 for installing five water drains, was accepted.

The consulting engineers who recently visited the water works recommend the installation of a new pump and intake, the erection of a new pumphouse, installation of new pipe lines and other improvements that will exceed $150,000. Aldermen Sutherland, Medler and Jesmore were appointed to confer with the steel company officials relative to the installation of a spur track from the Missabe road to St. Mary's lake to convey coal for the city to the pumping station.

Sidewalks are to be laid on Kimberly, Garfield and Lincoln avenues, from Fayal road to Monroe street on Fayal road from Lincoln to Garfield streets, on Chandler avenue from Fayal road to Pierce street, B avenue from Fayal to Pierce streets, and on McKinley avenue from Jones to Cleveland streets. The work will be done by Contractor W. K. Killbride of Marquette, Mich., who laid over 50,000 feet of cement here last year. The street and alley committee was instructed to view the streets to be paved this year.

MAKING OF AURORA BEAUTIFUL STARTS

Village Council Starts Work Fixing Up Things Around Village Hall.

Aurora, Minn., May 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—The village council has commenced beautifying the village streets and property. The first move was made Monday when putting in of a concrete curb and concrete sidewalks around the village hall was commenced. As soon as this work is completed the lot will be sodded and several flower beds placed in it.

Work was also started in cleaning up the lot where the old jail and the old hose house were standing. The hose house has been moved to the village pumping station and will be used for a pipe rack. The old jail building is being advertised for sale and will be sold to the highest bidder. The lot will then be cleared, filled and sodded. It is likely that later a shed will be put on the lot for the accomodation of the many farmers around Aurora with the view of making it a public market place for them.

The streets and alleys are in a first-class condition, all walks have been repaired and placed in line and the village now presents a most clean appearance.

ADD CLAUSES TO FRANCHISE

Virginia Council Puts More Conditions Into Grant to Railway Company.

Virginia, Minn., May 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—The franchise of the Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific Railway company was again before the council last night, when a clause was embodied in which the company is to agree to purchase the present site of the public library at the west end of Chestnut street, upon the bank of Silver lake. Another clause in the new franchise is to the effect that the railway company is to pay its proportion of the cost of the improvements along Lake boulevard for two blocks from Willow to Walnut streets. This latter, it is understood, is objected to by the company, they wanting only to stand for the payment of improvements for one block. This new franchise will be submitted to the company and it is expected that the latter may be induced to comply with its requirements. It is now up to the committee on railroads to confer with the officials of the proposed new road in this regard. This committee is composed of Aldermen Staff, Osborn and Heritage.

A committee of thirty citizens was appointed to act in conjunction with the council in regard to the purchase of the light and water plants. The civic league presented thirty names with the recommendation that they be appointed upon this committee, but its request was turned down by the council, although a number of the names as mentioned by the league were named on the committee.

Those On Committee.

Each alderman and the mayor had been requested at a previous meeting of the council to select three citizens each to act upon this committee, and the following names were confirmed by the council:

First ward, by Alderman Boylan—H. J. George, William Rooney, C. B. Lenont.

Second ward, by Alderman Staff—Sam Milavetz, Matt Kostensack and Conrad Mattson.

Third ward, by Alderman Moilan—Dell Trotter, Ben Milavetz and J. G. Mattala.

Fourth ward, by Alderman Kimball—Charles S. Stevens, John Mesberg and J. M. Wall.

Fifth ward, by Alderman Heritage—B. F. Smith, E. C. Strauss, B. F. Britts.

Sixth ward, by Alderman Weber—Alexander Reid, George Hartley, M. Emian.

Alderman-at-large — Alderman Osborn—H. B. Bacon, A. B. Coates, W. B. Shaver.

Alderman E. C. A. Johnson—J. D. Lamont, A. N. Thompson, W. B. Byrne.

Alderman H. O. Johnson—H. L. Kendall, M. E. Fanning, C. H. Oesterberg.

Mayor Hawkinson—Gus Johnson, Dr. C. W. Miller, Thomas Gill.

The committee will meet Friday evening at the council chambers.

By a vote of 7 to 2 the council asked for the resignation of John Byrne, city meat inspector. Through Alderman Weber complaints had been made to the effect that Mr. Byrne was neglecting his duty. Alderman Weber stated that he had upon several occasions inspected the meat markets about town and found that some of them had been handling bad meat. The vote stood as follows:

Ayes, Aldermen Weber, Heritage, Molian, Staff, H. O. Johnson, E. C. A. Johnson and Osborn.

Nays, Aldermen Boylan and Kimball.

Harry Solberg was granted a transfer of his liquor license in the Tower hotel to William McCoy and A. V. Gould, and Gus Johnson was granted a renewal of his license at the Svea hotel.

SEEK REMOVAL OF JOHN KINSELLA

Lake County Board Will Ask Governor to Oust Present County Attorney.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Kinsella, the Lake county attorney, who has been a sort of a stormy petrel since becoming a candidate and being elected to the office, is again in the limelight. Now he must face the charges for his removal that the county board has decided unanimously to present to Governor Eberhart about the middle of the month when the governor returns from the West. Commissioner Hans Otterlee was delegated by the board to lay the matter before the governor.

The county board decided upon this drastic action in response to a numerously signed petition from taxpayers and others asking that Kinsella be ousted.

Say Public Interests Suffer.

The petition grew out of the dissatisfaction the people feel over the manner in which Kinsella is alleged to have conducted the affairs of his office. The petitioners allege that the course of justice has been retarded through the attitude of the county attorneys and that public interests require the placing of another man in the office. The protesting taxpayers allege "incompetency."

Since Kinsella became a candidate for county attorney, he has had a stormy time. With John Dwan, David Lawrence, J. Gilbert Jelle and John Olson he made the running before the voters and beat them all. As a large number of the ballots cast for him were in the form of "stickers," Dwan, who was second in the count, brought suit to prevent Kinsella taking office. The action was brought in Judge Hughes' court. He decided that the use of the "pasters" was legal and that the "pasted" votes for Kinsella must be included in his total. That put an end to the move to keep him out of the office, as the decision of the district court judge was not appealed. Kinsella took office in January.

NEW HIBBING SIGNS.

Hibbing, Minn., May 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—The new signs instructing all who read to observe the laws of the village and painted in such type "that all who run may read" are now in the city hall and will be posted within the next few days. Some of the signs state that persons are prohibited from carrying away anything whatsoever from the village garbage grounds. The danger from contamination from this source is said to be so great that the health officials took the matter up at a recent council meeting with the result that orders have been issued to arrest all unauthorized persons who are caught on the garbage grounds.

TO WED BOVEY WOMAN.

Duluth Man Secures License in Chicago for That Purpose.

Chicago, May 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charles Wilson of Duluth secured a license here yesterday to marry Josephine Thorpe of Bovey, Minn.

HIBBING WHISKY STRONG.

One Drink Sufficent to Put Two Men Out of Game.

Hibbing, Minn., May 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—One drink each of Hibbing whisky proved sufficent to put Stanley Borbaski and Joe Babia out of the running, according to the story they told the police when they came to in the city lockup whither they had been taken yesterday after being found lying in a stupor in a ditch along the Pen-obscot road. Dr. Bullen who happened to be passing made the discovery and notified the police, who brought them in in a wagon, both unconscious. It is believed the drink was drugged, but for what purpose has not developed.

WANT TO GO FASTER.

Hibbing Automobilists Said to Want Eight-Mile Hour Limit.

Hibbing, Minn., May 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—The police department and the municipal court officials are united in the determination to put a stop to fast driving of autos and all power driven vehicles within the village limits, and are placing large signs at certain of the principal entrances to the village stating that the legal limit for such vehicles is six miles per hour.

A movement is said to be on foot to have the signs altered and the speed raised up to eight miles an hour, and it is believed that the extra two miles will be allowed within the village if the proper officials are approached.

EVELETH COMMERCIAL CLUB COMMITTEE MEETS.

Eveleth, Minn., May 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—The public affairs committee of nine of the Commercial club, last evening elected John J. Gleason, chairman, and David A. Larin, secretary. The armory, library and park matters were discussed, and members of the committee appeared before the council to request favorable action in the various matters.

Rev. P. C. Keranen officiated at the funeral of Fanny Elaine, the 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lykta of Virginia, held yesterday from the Finnish Lutheran church, Virginia.

Virginia to Have Kermiss.

Marquette, Mich., May 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Pette and Miss Palmer left Monday evening for Virginia, Minn., where they will stage a Kermiss in the near future, beginning work in connection with it at once. They recently returned from the Soo, where they put on a successful entertainment.

Tried for Abandonment.

Virginia, Minn., May 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Maurin of Biwabik is being tried in the district court on the charge of abandoning his children. The case of August Paciotta against James Tomasson, et al., was decided in favor of the plaintiff. The plaintiff brought suit to recover the sum of $91.47 alleged to be due for meat and groceries.

Sues Laurium for Damages.

Laurium, Mich., May 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Bert Ruelle of Houghton is suing the town for $5,000 for damages he claims to have sustained when an automobile he was driving ran into a cable stretched across one end of a block of new paving late last fall. Two other suits, each for a like amount, will be filed, according to Ruelle's story. Ruelle's case does not look like a very clear one, as the cable carried three lanterns at the time he struck it. There were eight persons in his machine.

Great Aviation Meet.

Chicago is to have an aviation meet Aug. 8th, at which $100,000 in prizes will be given to contestants. If Chicago sustains its reputation as the windy city, it will be a hard matter to pick a day to make the flights. The sum of $100,000 is rather a big amount to pay for prizes, but in supplying families with golden grain belt beers, over half that amount was paid for crown corks alone in one year. That's why we say "they make friends everywhere." Send for a case and let it help you make friends. Get supplied by your nearest dealer or minneapolis brewing company, duluth branch.

BRAINERD'S NEW MAYOR IN CHARGE

Assumes Reins of City Government, Making Many Suggestions.

Brainerd, Minn., May 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—The new council composed of six Republicans, three Socialists and one Democrat held its first meeting last evening. C. B. Rowley was elected president and W. F. Dieckhaus, vice president. V. N. Roderick was again selected as city and municipal clerk and M. E. Ryan was re-elected city attorney.

A lengthy message was read from Mayor H. P. Dunn, the new Democratic executive, in which he advocated the securing of a source of pure water supply for the city in preference to continuing securing water from the river. He urged the inspection of stores, butcher shops, dairies, etc., in order to preserve a standard of clean food. He urged improvements in the surveying done for the city and the preservation of records. When water mains were laid he advocated the laying of gas mains at the same time to preserve the streets from being torn up again when this improvement was installed. He recommended the building of a city hall. He favored economy, and would do his best to give a good, clean, business-like administration.

Appointments Confirmed.

His appointments were confirmed as follows: Member water and light board for six years, Joseph Schwartz; member park board, six years, H. W. Lineman; for two-year term to fill vacancy in park board, Jens Molstead; library board, six years, Swan Johnson, Mrs. C. B. Rowley and Mrs. C. M. Patek, two-year term to fill vacancy in library board, Katherine Cosgrove; member board of health, six years, Dr. C. A. Nelson; chief of police, George Ridley; police captain, Henry Hurley; police patrolmen, J. P. Barney, S. W. Quinn and A. D. Peterson. William Barron was elected as street commissioner.

IRONWOOD SCHOOL FIRE.

Children All Escape and Firemen Save the Building.

Ironwood, Mich., May 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fire broke out in the St. Ambrose convent school of this city about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The children ran from the building, not waiting for call or to get hats and coats on. The fire was confined to the root and tower, that being damaged quite badly. Only the prompt action of the city fire department saved the building. It being a wooden structure, the fire soon gained quite a headway. The lower floors were not damaged, the firemen keeping the blaze confined to the top of the building.

LAURIUM YOUNG MAN CANNOT BE LOCATED.

Laurium, Mich., May 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Isaac Hoyem, the 17-yera-old son of Sivert Hoyem, a well-known Laurium baker, has mysteriously disappeared, and his relatives fear that he has met with foul play. Young Hoyem left home on Sunday afternoon, April 30, to take a walk. He failed to return. Later he was reported in company with a stranger, but has not been seen since. Searching parties have examined all the old mine pits and the woods, fields and marshes in the vicinity of Calumet and Laurium, but have found no trace of the young man. Hoyem is about 5 feet 7 inches in height, very broad of shoulder and, when he left home, was clad in a gray suit, gray winter overcoat and olive green telescope hat. A search is to be instituted in Duluth and other nearby cities in hope that Hoyem shipped out of the district on a passing freight boat or carrier.

MOTHER OF TEN BURIED AT CLOQUET.

Cloquet, Minn., May 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Mrs. Eugene Durocha took place here yesterday at the Catholic church, Father Crozier officiating. Mrs. Durocha was about 60 years old and the mother of seven sons and three daughters. Seven of her children live in Cloquet and two sons at Prairie du Chene, Wis.

FORECAST TILL 7 P. M. THURSDAY

For Duluth, Superior and vicinity, including the Mesaba and Vermilion iron ranges: Generally fair tonight and Thursday; slightly warmer tonight with frost; moderate westerly to easterly winds.

EXPLANATORY NOTES.

Observations taken at 8 a. m., seventy-fifth meridian time. All pressure reduced to sea level.

Isotherms, or dotted lines, pass through points of equal temperature; they will be drawn only for zero freezing, 50° and 100°.

Symbols indicate state of weather: ○ clear, ◔ partly cloudy ● cloudy. (R) rain, (S) snow, (M) report missing. Arrows fly with the wind. First figure, temperature; second, 24-hour rainfall, if it equals 01 inch; third, wind velocity of 10 miles per hour or more.

FAIR

"Slightly warmer tonight with frost," would be a cheering prediction if the frost part of it were eliminated. Frost and May don't go well together and we've had enough frost for one winter. If we want any more there is a lot of it in different flavors at the soda fountains. The mercury dropped to 31 deg. last night. Today is beautiful, but not warm enough to be ideal.

The sun rose this morning at 4:49 and it will set at 7:21 this evening, giving fourteen hours and thirty-two minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Frosts or freezing temperatures were general this morning in the Dakotas, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan and Ohio, and this condition occurred also at many places in Iowa, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky. During the last twenty-four hours, however, the temperature has risen considerably throughout Western Canada and Northwestern states and in the states of the Middle West. Barometric pressure conditions have not changed much in the last twenty-four hours as regards the distribution of the high and low areas, but the latter have caused more or less rain in West Gulf states, Oklahoma, Kansas, Utah, Wyoming, Western Montana, Idaho, Oregon and Washington. At the Head of the Lakes pleasant weather may be expected during the ensuing thirty-six hours."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, May 3.—Forecasts for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m., Thursday:

Upper Michigan—Fair tonight and Thursday; slowly rising temperature; frost tonight.

Wisconsin and Minnesota—Fair tonight and Thursday; slightly warmer tonight, with frost.

Iowa—Increasing cloudiness with probably showers tonight or Thursday; warmer tonight.

North Dakota—Increasing cloudiness tonight and Thursday; warmer tonight.

South Dakota—Increasing cloudiness with probably showers tonight or Thursday; warmer tonight.

Montana—Mostly cloudy with probably showers in west portion tonight or Thursday.

Upper Lakes—Light to moderate westerly winds. Generally fair tonight and Thursday except unsettled on Southern Michigan Thursday.

"I guess I have seen as many ups and downs in the theatrical business as most men of my age," said Glen Ellison, the young Englishman who is appearing at the Orpheum this week, singing a number of popular songs.

and grand opera, and then made a tour of Australia. I determined to go home by way of America. I landed in Vancouver and went to New York. For five months I haunted the offices of theatrical managers and vaudeville producers, and couldn't get even a hearing. They had never heard of me and didn't want to. It finally aroused my fighting blood, and I determined to stick it out if I starved to death. After five months I got an engagement singing in a dinky little vaudeville house, giving five performances a day at a nickel admission. From that beginning I finally got a hearing, and then Orpheum time. Now I feel free to go back to England, and I am going this summer, but I know how hard it is for an unknown to get a start in either vaudeville or musical comedy in New York, no matter what musical education he may have."

It is doubtful if a better and more evenly balanced bill of vaudeville than that being presented at the Empress this week has ever been offered at that popular theater. The acts are well chosen, all possess real merit and no two conflict. The headline attraction, "A Royal Romance," as presented by Edmund Stanley and company is a hit and proves that the average vaudeille patron appreciates grand opera. The company is composed of Mlle. Mazarett, Miss Belle Storey an' Mr. Stanley. Mlle. Mazarett is gifted with a contralto voice of great range and volume, while Miss Storey's voice is a clear soprano. Mr. Stanley's tenor voice blends beautifully with the two ladies' and the trio is one of the best that has appeared in this city in recent months. On an entirely different order but giving "A Royal Romance" a close run for favor, is the breezy little farce, "Hogan in society." George Roland is seen as Hogan, the slangy Bowery bartender. His support is excellent. Miss Josephine Davis is making a decided hit with her clever songs. Miss Davis is blessed with more than an ordinary amount of good looks, has a very pleasing voice and knows how to sing a popular song. Sandberg and Lee are also favorites. They present a line of rapid-fire patter. Miss Josie O'Meers presents a wire act that is very neat and clever.

A comedy film that has been causing a lot of laughter at the Odeum theater this week is entitled, "The Phoney Prince." It is the best comedy feature of a very good bill of photoplay. The story of the film is as follows:

"The McSweeneys having inherited money, become socially ambitious. In consequence, Jack Madden, Nora's lover, is not good enough for the old lady. The McSweeneys move up a peg. Jack learns that Nora is going to marry a Persian prince; he is therefore in deep despair. His chums, however, fix up a scheme to do up the nabob. Following out their plan they meet him at the depot with an automobile on his arrival in town and take him to Jack's apartment, where through a subterfuge they get him to take off part of his regalia, then they lock him in a room and Jack makes up as the prince. Then as his Persian highness, Jack marries the blushing Nora."

where once stood Solomon's temple, built in 1012 B. C., pillaged and restored, and finally destroyed by Titus, A. D. 70.

Failing to reach the relics sought in this manner, the explorers, according to the alleged confessions of the guards of the mosque, bribed the guards, entered the mosque, and after digging six nights, spirited away the treasures, "the whereabouts of which," says an Arabic paper, "none knew except God and these English."

Americans in Syndicate?

Mystery surrounds the expedition, whose operations have been of such magnitude as to make evident that a large sum of money was invested. It is reported that wealthy Englishmen and Americans formed a syndicate, of which the duchess of Marlborough (who was Consuelo Vanderbilt) was a member, on the strength of the discovery of the location of the relics by Scandinavian investigators.

Lorimer's Name Mentioned.

The name of Senator Lorimer was first brought into the hearing by Judge Pettit in his questions to Frost.

"Do I understand," he said, "that the senate wishes to examine all the books covering a period of five months, during which the sum of $100,000 is supposed to have been spent for the election of Senator Lorimer?"

"That is the first time that I have heard that question raised here," replied Frost.

The attorney demanded that the writ be quashed, and argued that until Mr. Tliden had obeyed the first part of the subpoena by going to Springfield, he could not go into court for protection against the demands of the second part of that subpoena.

"The motion is overruled," replied the court.

Brown Loses Plea.

Springfield, Ill., May 3. — Judge Creighton today, in the bribery cases of Representative Lee O'Neil of Ottawa, Representative Robert E. Wilson of Chicago, Louis D. Hirschelmer of Pittsfield of the state board of equalization, and Frank J. Traut, a prominent fisherman of Beardstown, overruled the motion by defendants to quash the indictments. The time for the trial has not yet been set.

The defendants are charged with conspiracy to bribe in regard to handling a fund which it is alleged had been raised among the fishermen of the Illinois river to defeat certain legislation regulating fishing on the rivers and lakes of Illinois.

Democratic bill to put agricultural implements with certain food products and manufactured articles on the free list. Mr. Tilson of Connecticut said his state usually referred to in tariff debates as a manufacturing community, held large and important farming interests; but that the farmers of that state refused to be caught by the name "farmers' free list bill" on the Democratic measure.

Messrs. S. W. Smith of Michigan and Burke of South Dakota, Republicans, opposed the measure because of its "assault upon the doctrine of protection." Mr. Catlin of Missouri declared that it would give a firmer foothold in the United States to the growing Japanese trade.

Messrs. Byrnes and Sims of Tennessee and Lever and Byrnes of South Carolina, all Democrats, defended the bill.

Mondell Opposes It.

Under Democratic tariff laws losses of more than $800,000,000 are sustained by the live stock interests of the United States, declared Representative Mondell of Wyoming, during the house consideration of the free list bill. He vigorously opposed the measure as offering opportunity for a repetition of such losses to one of the principal industries of his state. Mr. Mondell charged the Democrats with using the Canadian reciprocity bill, which passed the house and now is in the senate, as a wedge for the resumption of complete free trade.

tension of five days, but no official word has reached Gen. Madero, who yesterday offered a three day extension, including in the territory covered by the truce the town of Ojinaja, which had been beseiged by the insurrectos and the relief of which by flying federal reinforcements was related in dispatches from Presidio, Tex., and City of Mexico yesterday.

Insurrecto leaders declare that the federals have violated the terms of the armistice by bringing reinforcements into Juarez disguised as laborers. These men are said to have entered the United States by way of Laredo and then crossed from El Paso into the Mexican city. Gen. Madero called the attention of Gen. Navarro to the matter today, but Gen. Navarro denied the reports.

Prepare for Negotiations.

Judge Francisco Carabajal, immediately on his arrival, went into conference with Oscar Braniff. Esquibal Obregon and Rafael Hernandez, who have been acting as go-betweens in the negotiations thus far. At the conclusion of the conference, Senor Braniff announced that Judge Carabajal had brought "full and necessary powers" for treating with the rebel commissioners, and that no hitch would occur on that score.

Judge Carabajal refused to discuss the instructions given him. He said it was obviously impossible for him to disclose their nature at this time.

It was stated that the formal negotiations would be taken up in a tent to be erected in a willow grove on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande, half way between Juarez and the insurrecto camp.

Judge Carabajal will act alone, while Dr. Vasquez Gomez will represent the provisional government, advised by Don Francisco Madero, Sr., and Senor Pino Suarez, a lawyer and provisional governor of Yucatan.

Americans in Danger.

Nogales, Ariz., May 3.—Whatever the prospects of peace in El Paso and Juarez, there are no peaceful signs along the Western coast of Mexico. News that dribbles into Nogales from various quarters of the states of Sinaloa and Sonora tells of almost continuous fighting.

Americans in this city, familiar with the conditions across the border, regard the situation as grave. Not only is the political welfare of the Mexican states affected, but United States interests are said to be in danger. Even the lives of Americans, heretofore held sacred by federals and rebels, are no longer regarded safe in the interior of Mexico.

Railroad officials who have reached Nogales from Mexico brought warning from the rebels to remove all their families as quickly as possible into the United States and to advise all their American friends to do likewise.

Coupled with these warnings was the threat of the insurrectos that they intended, before the end of the week, to launch attacks against all the Mexican border towns. Many American families are coming across the border.

Reports of Fighting.

Word came from the Magdalena district, southeast of Nogales, of the complete wiping out of a body of thirty federals under Luis Estralla, by a band of rebels near Otates.

Reports of heavy fighting in the neighborhood of La Colorado, southeast of Hermosillo, capital of Sonora, were brought across the border today. The rebels claim to have recaptured La Colorado, which has previously been the scene of bitter fighting during the present rebellion.

The situation along the Southern Pacific railroad lines in Mexico, which parallel the western coast for hundreds of miles, is grave. Trains running on these lines go only as far south as Navajo, 100 miles south of Guayamas, and Pullman cars are being run only as far as the latter place.

All railroad connections south of Navajo are broken and there is no way of reaching the many important ports that line the coast. All wire communication is interrupted to the southward, and only the smallest scraps of information concerning the real situation are obtainable.

San Pedro Taken.

Chihuahua, Mex., May 3.—Advices received here tell of continued revolutionary activities in Durango and Coahuila, the capture of Lerdo and Gomez Palacio in the immediate vicinity of Torreon, and of the taking of San Pedro, where the revolutionary leaders have established headquarters.

The fall of Torreon is imminent, according to the dispatches. A large number of insurrectos are about the city, and from within approximately 1,000 residents are urging them to attack, the sympathy of the inhabitants tending to increase the aggressiveness of the rebel bands.

In the cities of Durango, Parrall and Zacatecas conditions are critical.

Chihuahua Isolated.

Chihuahua is practically isolated. Railroad and telegraph service is intermittent.

The southern revolutionary leaders claim that peace with Diaz still in power would be unpopular and result in suppressing the revolution only in spots.

Railroad men assert that unless the southern revolutionaries are suppressed, the whole interior will soon be tied up.

OREGON PLAN IS PUT IN DISCARD

Illinois Republicans Consign Bills to the Legislative Scrap Heap.

Springfield, Ill., May 3.—The Oregon system of electing United States senators was consigned to the scrap pile by a caucus of the Republican members of the senate held just before the senate session opened today.

By a vote of 23 to 7 it was agreed to pass the Dunlap bill, which amends the primary act to allow a legislative candidate to attach to his nomination petition a statement giving his attitude regarding an advisory vote on United States senator. He may state in his petition that he will vote for or against the candidate who has received the highest vote of the voters of his party.

By the same vote the Republican members decided to kill the Bailey and Jones bills which provided for the Oregon system of electing United States senators.

WHEAT DROPS AFTER BULGE

Country Offerings Heavier—Snow's Crop Report Is Bearish.

Shipments From Foreign Countries Liberal—Manitobas Sold.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 3.—There was some liquidation and profit taking in wheat today. There were reports of a private settlement at Chicago toward the clase, which were not confirmed. May wheat closed ⅛c up and July dropped ⅛c. Cash wheat was ½c over July. Oats lost ¼c, rye gained 6c and durum wheat was unchanged. There were no quotations on barley and the market is barren of buyers.

Linseed was weaker with a few offers. May lost 2c, July declined 2c and September lost 2c. Cash was 1c over May. Winnipeg was weaker, dropping 2c to $2.32 bid.

News generally was bearish, but trading was light and the undertone was firm. The market in the early hours averaged slightly weaker than at the opening in sympathy with the weakness at Chicago, where sales to arrive were more numerous than for some time on account of yesterday's bulge.

Snow's report on May wheat was bearish, showing the condition of winter wheat 87.6 compared with his estimate of 85.4 on April 1, and 79.8 a'year ago. In April there was improvement in every state, the advance being equal to 2.2 points. Weather conditions in April were almost perfect. The present condition is higher than the average for the last ten years. The abandoned acreage is estimated by Snow at 2,683,000 acres, of which 1,946,000 is in Kansas and Oklahoma. Kansas shows an abandonment of 20 per cent and Oklahoma of 40 per cent. The area left for harvest is 31,807,000 acres, which, with one exception, is the largest on record. On the basis of past records the condition of wheat makes possible a yield of 510,000,000 bu. The average is much larger than a year ago and the final estimates may show an increase of 1,000,000 acres.

The cash demand in the Northwest showed a slight improvement. Mills, said a Minneapolis message, display more interest in spot offerings. Flour sales show a slight improvement. A little has been worked for export and domestic sales are larger.

Dry weather talk for the Northwest was tried by the bulls, but the argument failed to have any effect. It was pointed out that reports by the government for the three Northwestern states for the last three months show an average precipitation of 2.2 inches against a normal precipitation of 2.9 inches in North Dakota, 2.4 inches in South Dakota against a normal record of 3.6 inches, and 3.8 inches in Minnesota against a normal of 4.1 inches. The deficiency seems too small to justify dry weather talk, although if precipitation is light in May there will be considerable justification for such arguments.

Rain fell in Central Kansas this morning and the government predicts showers for the eastern portion tonight. Unsettled weather with possible precipitation is predicted for the Northwest.

News was bearish. Reports from Russia and the Argentine Republic are more favorable. Interior stocks in Russia are large and arrivals at ports are heavy. Liberal shipments from Argentina are predicted for this week.

Congestion in May wheat kept bearishly inclined persons out of the market. Although conditions are extremely auspicious for lower values and the cash demand is slow in the face of heavy supplies and excellent crop prospects, the bulls were working out their problems without much opposition. In the Northwest business is slow and trading is light. Toward the close yesterday there was small business in durum wheat transacted for export. A little durum is being worked occasionally and Manitoba wheat is being sold for export almost daily. Spring wheat is too far out of line to consider the probability of export business. The shipments of wheat from this port this week may make local stocks decrease nearly 750,000 bu. It is possible that supplies toward the end of the crop year will be at a minimum. This possibility has tendency to strengthen the undertone in durum wheat and spring wheat grades, especially choice stuff.

Nicolaleff, Russia, cables that spring seeding in the southwest is about finished. Latest advices regarding the outlook for the winter crops is favorable. Canadian crop reports, as received by Finley Barrell & Co., follow: Lenore, Man.—We are having very dry weather. Land is getting pretty dry. It looked as if we were going to have rain yesterday, but it blew over. Tilson, Man.—Weather has turned cold, but no rain yet, and ground needs it badly. Some of the first wheat seeding shooting through the ground. Some breaking is being done, but they find it pretty dry. Macoun, Sask.—Fine weather, but dry, not a drop of rain this spring. Wolseley, Sask.—Seeding operations are going along fast, and if the weather keeps favorable by May 7 to 10 seeding will be all done here. Farmers on the whole think there is no cause for alarm on account of lack of moisture. Hartney, Man.—The high winds are still blowing. Farmers complain there are a few of the farms that have to draw water from the river for their horses, as their wells have given out again. This will give you some idea as to how much moisture is in the ground."

Wheat Turns Downward on Bearish Cable News.

Chicago, March 3.—Bearish cable news today gave a downward turn to wheat. Markets on the other side of the Atlantic showed no excitement over the advance here yesterday, but on the contrary acted in response to predictions of liberal shipments from the Argentine. Furthermore, there were reports of generous offerings by Russia. Cash demand in American centers gave no sign of improvement, millers not displaying the least anxiety to purchase. Besides, the crop outlook was more favorable, good rains having occurred in Western Kansas and Nebraska. Opening prices were ¼@1c lower, May leading. July started at 88⅝@88⅞c, a loss of ¼@⅝c, and steadied around the lower level.

Statements by a leading expert that winter wheat conditions were 87.6 against 85.4 last month and that spring wheat seeding shows 1,000,000 acres increase, led to further weakness. The close, however, was steady at 88⅞c for July, a net loss of ¾c.

Better weather eased off of the corn market. The fact, too, that shorts had covered freely made sentiment less bullish. July opened ⅛@¼c down at 52¾@52⅞c, and declined to 52⅝c.

There was quite a little selling pressure on oats. Not so much changing took place as usual. July started a shade lower at 32¼c, touched 32⅛@32⅜c, and fell to 32⅛c.

A big run of hogs made provisions weak. First sales were 5@17½c cheaper, with July deliveries $14.97½@15.05 for pork, $8.07½ for lard and $8.07½ also for ribs.

ADVANCES IN STOCKS

Open With Declines Under Heavy Selling But Sentiment Changes.

Strong Upward Movement and All of Tuesday's Losses Recovered.

New York, May 3.—A heavy tone developed in the early trading on the stock exchange today. Mexican Railways lost the most, the second preferred dropping 1¼. Lehigh Valley receded a point, Southern Pacific and Westinghouse Electric ¾, Reading ⅝, and Union Pacific and Southern railway ½.

Losses were extended in all directions, some of the important stocks making declines of a point or more below yesterday's closing, before the selling ceased. Covering of shorts and the execution of some supporting orders caused a sharp fractional rebound. Atchison was bought freely and advanced to 110¼.

Following an early period of unsettlement, caused primarily by heavy selling of Reading and Union Pacific, the stock market grew harder and before the noon hour substantial recoveries from the low level were the rule. In some railway issues of the second class, particularly Erie, there was decided strength. Of the industrials the conspicuous feature was International Harvester, which gained 3¼ on moderately larger sales. The fertilizer shares also were strong, American Agricultural Chemical advancing 1, and American Cotton Oil 1¼. Trading diminished on the rebound but stocks held firm at the higher prices. Bonds were firm.

International Harvester increased its advance to 5½, touching 125, the highest price of the year. The demand for this stock stimulated an inquiry for various specialties and there was a decided broadening of interest in this department. American Beet Sugar gained 1½ and the telephone and telegraph issues 1¼@1¾. Delaware & Hudson Bell 1 and Colorado & Southern 1¼.

Standard stocks began to derive some benefits from the bullish manipulation of various specialties and moved up to a parity with yesterday's closing. Canadian Pacific was lifted 1¾ and considerable firmness was shown also by Atchison and the Denver & Rio Grande issues.

The market closed strong. Greater breadth marked the trading of the last hour in which best prices of the day were made and practically all of the previous day's losses more than recovered. The buying of Reading, Union Pacific and United States Steel was especially impressive and brought the level of prices to the highest point of the present movement. The list receded slightly.

WHEAT DROPS AFTER BULGE

Shipments From Foreign Countries Liberal—Manitobas Sold.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 3.—There was some liquidation and profit taking in wheat today. There were reports of a private settlement at Chicago toward the clase, which were not confirmed. May wheat closed ⅛c up and July dropped ⅛c. Cash wheat was ½c over July. Oats lost ¼c, rye gained 6c and durum wheat was unchanged. There were no quotations on barley and the market is barren of buyers.

Linseed was weaker with a few offers. May lost 2c, July declined 2c and September lost 2c. Cash was 1c over May. Winnipeg was weaker, dropping 2c to $2.32 bid.

News generally was bearish, but trading was light and the undertone was firm. The market in the early hours averaged slightly weaker than at the opening in sympathy with the weakness at Chicago, where sales to arrive were more numerous than for some time on account of yesterday's bulge.

Snow's report on May wheat was bearish, showing the condition of winter wheat 87.6 compared with his estimate of 85.4 on April 1, and 79.8 a year ago. In April there was improvement in every state, the advance being equal to 2.2 points. Weather conditions in April were almost perfect. The present condition is higher than the average for the last ten years. The abandoned acreage is estimated by Snow at 2,685,000 acres, of which 1,946,000 is in Kansas and Oklahoma. Kansas shows an abandonment of 20 per cent and Oklahoma of 40 per cent. The area left for harvest is 31,807,000 acres, which, with one exception, is the largest on record. In the basis of past records the condition of wheat makes possible a yield of 510,000,000 bu. The average is much larger than a year ago and the final estimates may show an increase of 1,000,000 acres.

The cash demand in the Northwest showed a slight improvement. Mills said a Minneapolis message, display more interest in spot offerings. Flour sales show a slight improvement. A little has been worked for export and domestic sales are larger.

Dry weather talk for the Northwest was tried by the bulls, but the argument failed to have any effect. It was pointed out that reports by the government for the three Northwestern states for the last three months show an average precipitation of 2.2 inches against a normal precipitation of 2.9 inches in North Dakota, 2.4 inches in South Dakota against a normal record of 3.6 inches, and 3.8 inches in Minnesota against a normal of 4.1 inches. The deficiency seems too small to justify dry weather talk, although if precipitation is light in May there will be considerable justification for such arguments.

Rain fell in Central Kansas this morning and the government predicts showers for the eastern portion tonight. Unsettled weather with possible precipitation is predicted for the Northwest.

News was bearish. Reports from Russia and the Argentine Republic are more favorable. Interior stocks in Russia are large and arrivals at ports are heavy. Liberal shipments from Argentina are predicted for this week.

Congestion in May wheat kept bearishly inclined persons out of the market. Although conditions are extremely auspicious for lower values and the cash demand is slow in the face of heavy supplies and excellent crop prospects, the bulls were working out their problems without much opposition. In the Northwest business is slow and trading is light. Toward the close yesterday there was small business in durum wheat transacted for export. A little durum is being worked occasionally and Manitoba wheat is being sold for export almost daily. Spring wheat is too far out of line to consider the probability of export business. The shipments of wheat from this port this week may make local stocks decrease nearly 750,000 bu. It is possible that supplies toward the end of the crop year will be at a minimum. This possibility has tendency to strengthen the undertone in durum wheat and spring wheat grades, especially choice stuff.

MARKET GOSSIP

Nicolaieff, Russia, cables that spring seeding in the southwest is about finished. Latest advices regarding the outlook for the winter crops is favorable. Arrivals from the interior are very small, but they are expected to show substantial increase in a fortnight and to continue so, as the interior reserves of wheat are very large.

Canadian crop reports, as received by Finley Barrell & Co., follow: Lenore, Man.—We are having very dry weather. Land is getting pretty dry. It looked as if we were going to have rain yesterday, but it blew over. Tilson, Man.—Weather has turned cold, but no rain yet, and ground needs it badly. Some of the first wheat seeding shooting through the ground. Some breaking is being done, but they find it pretty dry. Macoun, Sask.—Fine weather, but dry, not a drop of rain this spring. Wolseley, Sask.—Seeding operations are going along fast, and if the weather keeps favorable by May 7 to 10 seeding will be all done here. Farmers on the whole think there is no cause for alarm on account of lack of moisture. Hartney, Man.—The high winds are still blowing. Farmers complain there are a few of the farms that have to draw water from the river for their horses, as their wells have given out again. This will give you some idea as to how much moisture is in the ground."

CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Turns Downward on Bearish Cable News.

Chicago, March 3.—Bearish cable news today gave a downward turn to wheat. Markets on the other side of the Atlantic showed no excitement over the advance here yesterday, but on the contrary acted in response to predictions of liberal shipments from the Argentine. Furthermore, there were reports of generous offerings by Russia. Cash demand in American centers gave no sign of improvement, millers not displaying the least anxiety to purchase. Besides, the crop outlook was more favorable, good rains having occurred in Western Kansas and Nebraska. Opening prices were ⅛@1c lower, May leading. July started at 88⅝@88⅞c, a loss of ¼@½c, and steadied around the lower level.

Statements by a leading expert that winter wheat conditions were 87.6 against 85.4 last month and that spring wheat seeding shows 1,000,000 acres increase, led to further weakness. The close, however, was steady at 88⅞c for July, a net loss of ⅜c.

Better weather eased off of the corn market. The fact, too, that shorts had covered freely made sentiment less bullish. July opened ⅛@¼c down at 52¾@52⅞c, and declined ½@⅝c.

There was quite a little selling pressure on oats. Not so much changing took place as usual. July started a shade lower at 32¾c, touched 32¼@32¾c, and fell to 32⅜c.

A big run of hogs made provisions weak. First sales were 5@17½c cheaper, with July deliveries $14.97½@15.05 for pork, $8.07½ for lard and $8.07½ also for ribs.

ADVANCES IN STOCKS

Open With Declines Under Heavy Selling But Sentiment Changes.

Strong Upward Movement and All of Tuesday's Losses Recovered.

New York, May 3.—A heavy tone developed in the early trading on the stock exchange today. Mexican Railways lost the most, the second preferred dropping 1¼. Lehigh Valley receded a point, Southern Pacific and Westinghouse Electric ¾, Reading ⅝, and Union Pacific and Southern railway ½.

Losses were extended in all directions, some of the important stocks making declines of a point or more below yesterday's closing, before the selling ceased. Covering of shorts and the execution of some supporting orders caused a sharp fractional rebound. Atchison was bought freely and advanced to 110¼.

Following an early period of unsettlement, caused primarily by heavy selling of Reading and Union Pacific, the stock market grew harder and before the noon hour substantial recoveries from the low level were the rule. In some railway issues of the second class, particularly Erie, there was decided strength. The industrials the conspicuous feature was International Harvester, which gained 3¼ on moderately larger sales. The fertilizer shares also were strong, American Agricultural Chemical advancing 1, and American Ice Oil 1¼. Trading diminished on the rebound but stocks held firm at the higher prices. Bonds were firm.

International Harvester increased its advance to 5½, touching 125, the highest price of the year. The demand for this stock stimulated an inquiry for various specialties and there was a decided broadening of interest in this department. American Sugar gained 1½ and the telephone and telegraph issues 1¼@1¾. Delaware & Hudson Bell 1 and Colorado & Southern 1½.

Standard stocks began to derive some benefits from the bullish manipulation of various specialties and moved up to a parity with yesterday's closing. Canadian Pacific was lifted 1¾ and considerable firmness was shown also by Atchison and the Denver & Rio Grande issues.

The market closed strong. Greater breadth marked the trading of the last hour in which best prices of the day were made and practically all of the previous day's losses more than recovered. The buoying of Reading, Union Pacific and United States Steel was especially impressive and brought the level of prices to the highest point of the present movement. The list receded slightly.

HOUSES OF PRIMITIVE MAN.

The earliest human dwellings were shelter places made by nature, as in caves, but when the progress of man had reached its Neolithic period a form of human architecture was developed, and it had much in common with the building methods of burrowing animals.

That is to say, primitive man went to earth like a hunted fox seeking warmth and refuge in pit dwellings. Why he went underground is a mystery which I venture to explain partly by that human instinct which now reconciles us to coal pits and tube railways, says M. W. Shaw in the Fortnightly Review, and partly also by the disappearance of many huge animals which in earlier prehistoric times would have broken through the roof of a pit dwelling.

Each pit was round in shape, just like the entrance to a burrow; it went downward for seven feet and sometimes for ten and over the mouth was a firm cover of interlaced branches plastered with clay and mud. From the bottom a tunnel ran upward to the surface, and along it women and men crawled to their pen pit home. Underground houses akin to the Neolithic were built in Germany during the times of Tacitus, the first century of the Christian era, for the Roman historian says that remote German tribes made artificial caves in the earth covered with vast heaps of dung, so as to form in winter a shelter from cold and a storehouse also for harvests.

Through all this unimaginable period of time, from Neolithic days to our own, that first idea of man—his instinctive liking for rounded shapes—has gone on progressing, so that we find it in prehistoric funeral mounds, in the beehive houses in Ireland, in Roman temples dedicated to Vesta, in wheel windows of Gothic architecture, in the dome of St. Paul's cathedral, and in pleasant rooms built only the other day, as in France.

Yet somehow after being the principal form in architecture for a time unimaginably long, the round became a very subordinate thing, yielding empire and precedence to a shape never to be found in nature's own work—i. e., the square, the right angle. Squares and oblongs denote repose and weight, while circles and rounded forms are identified with everything in the universe that suggests life, mystery, intelligence, light and heat, movement and speed, and illimitable space.

So long as the diameter of a round house did not exceed from eighteen to twenty feet, traditional methods would suffice, probably their thin walls of wattled poles plastered with clay being strong enough perhaps to bear up the rafters of a good roof—that is to say, a thatched roof, weather-tight and wind resisting. But circular houses of that size were for families only; there was no room in them for a chief with servants and retainers, and so we may suppose that when the headman of a tribe wanted a much bigger round house for his court, builders were troubled, since a much larger circle had to be roofed over with heavier rafters.

This put on the simple wattled walls a stronger thrust and a greater burden, there was also a larger surface for the wind to beat against, and these new factors upset the old traditional routine of unskilled workmen. It must have taken many centuries for the Saxons to evolve their system of living with retainers in great oblong halls. If the architectural problems were hard nuts to crack during the first periods of Gothic vaults, they must have been a thousandfold more difficult in primitive time, and with primeval methods of construction, and hence the importance of the diameter in building circular huts and halls.

Few things are more interesting than the fear which early craftsmen had about the security of their roofs; interesting not only because their fear was justified but because we may read in Matthew Paris how often during the thirteenth century their workmanship was blown down by storms. Even the keeps of great Norman castles were often disroofed, as was proved by a royal survey for Henry III and thus we get from the great times of architecture evidence in favor of the contention that round primitive houses lost their popularity because of the great difficulties thrust upon inexpert builders by a large diameter to be roofed securely.

Again, small round houses had another drawback; they were not friendly to a chieftain's ambitions as to rank and state ceremony, because there was no means of keeping retainers and servants at a deferential distance. In oblong halls the chieftain's end hall usually a dais, and each retainer had his rank acknowledged by the place he occupied in the hall, either near to his lord or far from him; but in round houses all this was impossible, since they were never large enough to admit of a real court life.

FOX LED HOUNDS TO DRAG TRAIL.

Baltimore American: One of the oldest experiences in the hunting field happened yesterday when the Chevy Chase fox pack were out on their regular Monday hunt. The pack was taken to the covers on the western end of the Jones place. In a very few minutes a fox was jumped which broke for the wooded banks of Rock Creek valley. Whether the inbred cunning of centuries of hunted ancestors told him what to do or not on the Rock Creek farms, he crossed the line of the drag laid for last Saturday's drag hunt, which the warm rains had brought up very strongly.

After taking several of these stiff post and rail and plank fences, with which this place is crisscrossed, the huntsmen recognized his carefully planned drag run of last week and attempted to check the pack. But it was useless. The hounds were literally flying and one by one the riders came to grief or dropped out on the race, until only the master, the huntsman and one whip were riding to the hounds.

They finally came up with the pack at a check after two miles, but only after they had cast themselves back for the line. Whipping the hounds in again, the master took them as rapidly as possible back to where the original line had been left, and laying the hounds on they ran true and put their fox to earth.

A THING AMERICANS DO WELL.

A week is devoted to the swearing in of members when a new parliament asembles at Westminster, according to a writer in the Strand. "After ministers, leading members of the opposition and other privy councillors have more or less comfortably taken the oath and signed the roll of parliament," says he, "there is an ugly rush of members from both sides to clutch stray copies of the Holy Bible laid on the tables brought in and set on the floor below the mace.

"At each table the clerk and the assistant clerk administer the oath. As many members as can, shoulder their way in and grab their share of a Bible, hear the oath recited, kiss the book and make another dash for a place in the queue formed on the way to the roll of parliament lying open on the table. Having signed it, they, following the clerk to the chair, are personally introduced to the speaker, shake his hand and disappear.

"They manage this thing better at Washington. I was present at the opening of congress summoned under the first duly elected presidency of Mr. Roosevelt and watched with interest the process of swearing in. As is the case at Westminster, the speaker (Uncle Joe) first took the oath.

"That was the sole point of resemblance between the two performances. Uncle Joe resuming his seat, the clerk called upon members representing a particular state to advance to the space fronting the platform on which the uncanopied chair of the unwigged, not gowned speaker of congress sits. Forming up in lines representing the full muster of the state representation, the newly elected members heard the oath recited and every man, having brought with him a copy of the Bible, kissed it in seal of his oath of loyalty to the Constitution.

"State by state marched to the front, paraded, took the oath and dispersed to make room for the next on the rota. It was all over in half an hour."

ICELAND JIU JITSU.

"Up to the present time," says a writer in the Strand, "Glima, the ancient pastime and means of personal defense in Iceland, has been jealously guarded from all foreigners.

"Indeed the only occasion when strangers were allowed to witness it during the whole of the last century was when it was displayed before King Christian IX. of Denmark at Thingvellir, when he visited Iceland in 1874, and even then only two men took part—the present Rev. Sigurour Gunnarsson of Stykkisholm and the Rev. Larus Holdorsson of Reykjavik.

"But times change, and thus today, even in far away Iceland, where news from the outside world is slow to creep in, we have at last recognized that no good purpose is being served by still keeping secret our ancient form of self-defense, the knowledge of which, valuable though it is in everyday life, must necessarily play a second fiddle in scientific warfare.

"On that account, therefore, today I feel no qualms in divulging the secrets of this form of self-defense, which has been practised in Iceland since 1100, when my country was a republic. It was not then limited to the platform nor to any special occasion, for throughout the land from the country farm to the Althing (parliament) it was a daily exercise in which most men took part.

"The essential idea of this Icelandic form of self-defense is to enable the weaker to hold their own with the stronger, and I am not exaggerating when I say that if she will take the trouble to learn some of the tricks and hitches of Glima even a woman possessed of only ordinary strength will be able to defend herself against and overcome an opponent possessed of far greater physical strength."

THE THIRST OF THE NATIONS.

The Hospital: The Strassburger Post has recently devoted space to a comparative statistical study of thirst as shown by the amount of liquor consumed by the inhabitants of various European states. The task is complicated by the varieties of liquid refreshment which are met with in different countries and which are common to few. It appears, however, that the Dane drinks on an average 104 liters of beer, very little wine, but twenty-four liters of brandy each year. The Swede is satisfied with fifty-six liters of beer and nine of alcohol. The Norwegian is one of the most temperate of Northern nations, consuming but thirty-one liters of beer and three of brandy per head of population.

The Russian takes five liters each of beer and vodka, whereas his ally, the Frenchman, needs thirty-two liters of beer, ten of brandy and 108 of wine. John Bull imbibes six liters of whisky or gin, two of claret and 152 of beer and stout. The Dutchman rests content with thirty-eight liters of beer and eight and a half of brandy. His neighbor, the Belgian, is more capacious, being satisfied only with 221 liters of beer and nine of alcohol. The Austrian and Hungarian each absorb eleven and a half liters of schnapps and sixteen of wine, the former needing in addition eighty liters of beer, while eleven will suffice for the latter. Of all the inhabitants of Europe the Italian is the one who drinks the least beer, a mere two liters, and the least alcohol, one and one-fourth liters; he imbibes ninety-eight liters of wine, however.

TEMPERATURE OF OCEAN.

Boston Transcript: Sir John Murray called attention to the fact that the temperature of the ocean is changing. The Atlantic deeps are colder now than at the time of the Challenger expedition, thirty-five years ago, and there is apparently a cycle of this change in the North Atlantic.

In the North sea the spawning grounds are distinctly the places of current from the Atlantic, and for the different fish correspond with the degree of salinity of the water. What the reason for this is has not yet been determined, but it is important from the food of man standpoint to know where the fish are to be found and why the places to which they resort change.

The different fish select spawning grounds and they distribute themselves from a given center, this having been determined by means of marked individuals.

Another interesting story was the means of telling the age of the fish. The otoliths, or as they are popularly called earbones, can be used for this purpose on much the same principle as the trunk of a tree gives evidence of its growth. In both there are rings, one for each year. The scales of certain of the fishes give similar indications. The herring may grow to eleven or twelve years. By the width in the earlier rings the fish may be located as to spring or fall hatch. Further than this there is evidence of certain years being better for the propagation of fishes than others. The catches of a number of seasons point to 1904 as a prolific year and the fish born in that year formed an important portion of the catch till within a year or two.

The sea is crowded with life. So minute are the forms that nets of hardly greater coarseness than a silk pocket handkerchief are used, it having been found that what was formerly considered to be fine nets caught less than 2 per cent of the actual life in the water through which they were taken. The surface growth—plankton, it is called—consists of plants and animals, and these require food just as any other plants or animals do. "The surface of the sea is a great floating meadow," said the speaker, "and there is more vegetable matter in it, including to the depth of 100 fathoms, than on any meadow or forest tract on land."

He suggested that it might be possible to cultivate the ocean by furnishing to the water, perhaps by means of sewage, some lacking elements, so that certain places might be made attractive to food fish and be economically valuable. He noted further how at the meeting of cold and warm currents the life is particularly abundant. One such place is off the elbow of Cape Cod, and there the plants and animals congregate. These small plants are the fundamental food supply not only of the surface larger organisms, but of those at all depths below.

COUNSEL TO THE GOVERNOR.

Bench and Bar: Though not always so accounted, one of the most important official positions today in the public service is that of legal advisor or counsel to the governor. And this is true whether or not the chief executive happens to be or not to be a lawyer.

For though it may be said to be first of all important that the state government should be administered honestly and that we should have in its best sense a business administration, it is scarcely less essential that as a pilot of the ship of state we should have some one with an intimate familiarity with all of those constitutional and legal channels and reefs and currents and shoals which must be successfully navigated by our state government.

Ours is a government of written instruments, of legal technicalities and subtleties. For the direction and control of a business, specialized legal knowledge may not be absolutely necessary, though almost all considerable and successful business enterprises nowadays have their regularly employed counsel. But the affairs of the state or of a large city require at almost every step precise knowledge of the constitutional and legal provisions applicable and also the judical interpretation of such provisions. No layman can possibly possess such experience or such information; it can only come from years of specialized study and concentration.

HOUSE MAY VOTE ON FREE LIST SATURDAY; SCHEDULE K IS NEXT

Fight Is Looked for in Senate Over the Lorimer Question.

Direct Election Proposal Will Be Pushed By Senator Borah.

Attack Made in House on Republican Protective Policy.

Washington, May 4.—House leaders today expressed the hope that the so-called farmers free list bill can be brought to a vote on Saturday. Many members are still pressing for time to debate the measure, however, and there may be a further delay. The debate continued today.

Chairman Underwood of the ways and means committee is anxious to get the free list bill out of the way so that his committee can go ahead with its proposed revision of schedule "K" of the Payne-Aldrich bill, dealing with wool and woolens.

The senate met today for the first time since Monday. A fight had been expected over the reopening of the Lorimer investigation following the action of the senate committee on expenditures in voting to report favorable the La Follette resolution so far as the expense of another inquiry is concerned, but Senator La Follette announced that he would not press for consideration today, preferring to await the return of a number of senators who are out of the city.

Senator La Follette is anxious to get a record vote on the question as to

SLAYER'S SON IS WITNESS

Emory Poole Tells Coroner's Jury He Feared Father Would Kill Him.

Hundreds Watch Search for More Bodies on Indiana Farm.

Fowler, Ind., May 4.—Emory Poole, son of John W. Poole, who is in jail here charged with the murder of Joseph Kemper, his farmhand, was before Coroner Arthur Lesage today. Young Poole has been the leader in the investigation of Kemper's disappearance on Dec. 12, 1909, and was the one to find the body on the Poole farm, near here, Monday.

Poole has said that he feared his father would kill him, his mother and his sister, and that he made the investigation in a sense of justice.

Children Under Bond.

Another witness who will probably appear at the coroner's inquest today is Grace Poole, daughter of the accused man, who has been studying in Chicago. She says she believes her father innocent of the crime. Both son

TAFT SATISFIES INQUISITIVE MEN

Convinces Them Potash Affair Did Not Cause Hill to Resign.

Washington, May 4.—After a talk with President Taft today, Representatives Lever of South Carolina, and Brantley of Georgia, declared they were convinced that the potash controversy with Germany had nothing to do with the recent resignation of Dr. David Jayne Hill as ambassador to Berlin. Mr. Lever, author of a resolution calling upon the president to inform congress whether the potash controversy figured in the Hill resignation, said the resolution would be dropped.

BLESSING IS PUT ON TRIAL AGAIN

Pittsburg Graft Cases Are Reopened—Convict Klein a Witness.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 4.—The councilmanic graft trials were resumed today before Judge John C. Haymaker, in the criminal court, the case of Dr. Frank C. Blessing, president of common council, being the first taken up. He is charged with bribery.

It is charged that the accused accepted a bribe of $150 for his vote on the bank depository ordinance. This is Dr. Blessing's second trial, he having been convicted at the first trial, when Ex-Councilman John F. Klein testified that he sent the bribe to Dr. Blessing at his home. Klein was brought from the penitentiary today to testify.

The selection of a jury commenced at the opening of the session.

DYNAMITE IN ROCK CRUSHER

Twenty-One Sticks Found in Machine at New Haven, Conn.

New Haven, Conn., May 4.—Dynamite in quantities sufficient to have shaken the city was discovered yesterday secreted in the grinder of the stone crushing plant at East Rock by a police officer. There were twenty-one sticks of the explosive which had been stolen from toolhouses at the East Rock park. The police are seeking the miscreants. The crusher was to have been put in operation in a few days.

EIGHT SCALDED ON LAKE BOAT

Steam Pipe on Steamer State of Ohio Bursts—Two Men May Die.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 4.—Eight men were scalded, two so seriously they may die, when the main steam pipe to one of the boilers of the steamer State of Ohio, operated by the Cleveland & Buffalo Transit company, exploded today.

The State of Ohio, which is a passenger boat plying between Cleveland, Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, was being overhauled and repaired in the Cleveland harbor in preparation for the first trip. Practically all the members of the crew were aboard.

The steamer was tied up at the Ninth street pier at the time of the explosion.

INDIAN VILLAGE AT BALLCLUB

Representative Miller Introduces Bill to Set Apart Site.

Washington, May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Representative Miller is preparing a bill to set apart a tract of 240 acres, belonging to the Chippewa Indians, to be used for a village site at Ballclub, Itasca county.

The policy of the government in times past was to separate the Indians from the whites and put them upon distant reservations. As the country settled up, this practice became involved in difficulties, and then the government adopted the policy of civilizing the Indians. This could best be done by securing an intermingling of Indians with the whites, that the Indians might assimilate some of the civilization of their white brothers.

Nowadays the Indians are allotted lands in severalty, and after the allotments are completed the surplus lands are thrown open to white settlers so that the two races are generally intermingled, but the Indians cannot throw off the old instinct of herding together, so that very recently Indians are permitted in some cases to have villages from which they go out to take care of their lands.

Last session provision was made for a village for the Winnebegoshish band and the present bill being prepared by Mr. Miller is a step in the same direction.

THREE-CENT FARES AFTER NEXT MONTH

Minnesota Roads Will Take Advantage of Supreme Court Ruling.

Other Lines Expected to Follow Those Ordered to Increase Rates.

Range Roads Alone May Keep Their Present Rates in Effect.

Passenger fares generally in Minnesota will be 3 cents a mile on and after July 1 this year. On that date also, class freight rates will be restored to the basis existing before the order of the railroad and warehouse commission on Sept. 6, 1906, which is 20 to 25 per cent higher than the rates that have been in effect since that order was made.

Some of the roads have already issued orders providing for the rate advances and others are expected to follow shortly. Although all of the big carriers are expected to take advantage of the privilege of raising rates given them by Judge Sanborn's decision in the Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Minneapolis & St. Louis cases and his denial of the petition of the state for a stay of execution pending appeal to the United States supreme court, there is more than a possibility that the two range railroads will not do so.

President W. A. McGonagle of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad, and President F. E. House of the Du-

INVESTIGATE TARIFF BOARD

Association Proposes Probe That Is Welcomed By Taft.

Washington, May 4.—In a letter to John Chandler Cobb, president of the National Tariff Commission association, President Taft today granted permission for a committee appointed by that association to make an investigation of the work of the tariff board "with a view to seeing wherein and how far the structure of the board and its methods and systems agreed with the board principle of a scientific reconstruction of the tariff-making system."

The committee of investigation will be composed of John C. Cobb, J. J. Culberson, H. E. Miles, John Kirby, John M. Jarvis and Henry R. Towne.

Both Mr. Taft and Chairman Emery of the tariff board welcomed the investigation. The president wrote that he would be very glad if the committee would send him a copy of its findings.

Indictment of Five Legislators Is Only the Beginning.

Members of House Calendar Committee Have Resigned.

Columbus, Ohio, May 4.—The Franklin county grand jury today resumed its sessions following the indictment of five members of the Ohio legislature on the charge of bribe soliciting and the indictment of an officer of the legislature on the charge of abetting bribe soliciting.

The courthouse was thronged with witnesses and others, about fifty witnesses having been summoned today. It was stated that the probe into the corruption in the legislature has just begun.

The senators indicted are: Isaac E. Huffman of Butler county, L. R. Andrews of Lawrence county, George K. Cetone of Montgomery county. The representatives are: Dr. George B. Nye of Hope county and A. C. Lowry of Lawrence county.

Soliciting Bribes Charged.

One indictment was returned against each, charging the solicitation of bribes. In addition Rodney Diegle of Erie county, sergeant-at-arms in the senate and an alleged go-between in negotiations with senators, was indict-

THREATEN MAYOR OF LOS ANGELES

Letters Received Pending Action in the McNamara Case.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 4.—Some definite announcement as to when and where John McNamara, secretary of the International Association of Bridge & Structural Iron Works, and his brother, James B. McNamara, accused of dynamiting, will be arraigned is expected soon. W. J. Ford, assistant district attorney, who arrived yesterday from Indianapolis, held a further conference this morning with his chief, District Attorney Fredericks, concerning the arraignment.

Mayor Alexander and several county officials are said to have received letters of a threatening nature similar to those sent to Detective Burns and District Attorney Fredericks.

De La Barra Expresses Hope to the American Ambassador.

Envoys Meet in Roped Space to Conduct Negotiations.

Washington, May 4.—According to a telegram from American Ambassador Wilson at City of Mexico, made public at the White House today, Foreign Minister de la Barra of Mexico expects peace arrangements between the federals and insurrectos to be perfected today.

In another telegram Mr. Wilson says that the Mexican government expects independent negotiations in the states of Moreloes and Guerro.

Says Troops Are Contented.

Maj. Gen. Carter, in command of the maneuver division at San Antonio, has informed President Taft that, despite reports to the contrary, there is no discontent among the troops under him.

"Have no knowledge of any discontent or cause therefor," the telegram reads. "With large numbers of recruits who recently enlisted in anticipation of active service, we have to expect usual percentage of desertions."

In Roped Arena.

El Paso, Tex., May 4.—Negotiations to bring about a reign of peace in war-torn Mexico began here today. The negotiations probably will progress with great deliberation because Judge Carbajal, the government commissioner, will be compelled to hold frequent consultations with the City of Mexico.

The commissioners will meet in a 200-foot ring, roped and guarded to keep out the curious. Not even Gen. Madero will be permitted to enter. Judge Carbajal and Dr. Vasquez Gomez, the elder Francisco Madero and Senor Pino Suarez, who represent the insurrectos, will be the sole occupants of the charmed circle.

GERMAN OFFICIALS HAVE ADVENTURE

Balloon Motor Breaks and Passengers Are in Danger.

Bitterfeld, Prussian Saxony, May 4.—The dirigible balloon Parseval S., on returning with a party of officers of the army and government officials from Leipsic last evening, was about to land when the motor broke down and the airship swept away to the northwest, driven by a strong wind.

The occupants experienced a few uneasy moments, but the pilot pulled the ripcord, and releasing the gas from the bags, made a skilful and fortunate landing in the darkness.

REPRIMANDS SHERIFF FOR LETTING DIETZ GO INTO A SALOON

Judge Says Defendant Must Not Be Allowed to Go About.

Tell of Gun Flashes From Barn When Harp Was Killed.

Hayward, Wis., May 4.—When court opened today for a continuation of the trial of John Dietz, his wife and son Leslie, for the alleged murder of Deputy Sheriff Oscar Harp, Judge Reid reprimanded Sheriff Fred L. Clark for allowing John Dietz to walk around town last night, and permitting him to enter a saloon.

Judge Reid instructed the sheriff that a punishment was provided by law for any officer who allowed a prisoner such latitude.

Dietz was accompanied by the sheriff at the time.

Henry Thayer of Winter, one of the deputies who took part in the assault on the Dietz home, Oct. 8 last, was the first witness called.

Saw Gun Flashes.

Thayer testified he saw gun flashes from the barn as Harp died. On being cross-examined by John Dietz, Thayer admitted he had no means of knowing it was one of the shots coming from the barn that killed Harp.

Angus Campbell, another deputy, who was with Jack Britton in the lookout when the fusillade on Leslie Dietz began, testified that he heard reports from the barn and bullets "kicked up" the sand in front of him.

John Dietz asked the witness if he could tell where a bullet was coming from by the report of the gun, and whether the gun was twenty-five or forty rods away. The witness held to his opinion.

Mrs. Dietz and Leslie, both participated in the cross-examination of the witness, asking questions of minor importance.

Tells of Conversation.

Con Hollen of Winter, another deputy, testified that just outside of Winter, Wis., while they were transferring John and Leslie Dietz from a wagon to an automobile en route to jail, Fred Thorbahn said to Dietz:

"Well, you did pretty well, anyhow."

To which Dietz answered:

"How could I have done any better? You all knew where I was and you were hidden behind stumps. I shot at you twice as you were crossing the flowage, didn't I, Fred?"

Prove Dietz Fired Shots.

The direct testimony today went to show that Dietz did some of the shooting in the battle of Cameron Dam Oct. 8.

The number of deputies called to the stand by the state was increased by noon from five to eleven, all of them certain the shot that killed Oscar Harp came from the barn.

Col. O. G. Munson, formerly secretary to the governor, and former Attorney General E. L. Gilbert are in town to testify for the state that Dietz wilfully and with full knowledge of the situation resisted arrest. They argued with him for two days before the shooting, to come out and surrender peacefully.

SPECULATORS TIE UP WHEAT IN CHICAGO

May Deal Carries Values Upward in Face of Bearish Conditions.

Legitimate Trade Is Hurt—"Corner" May Receive Investigation.

The May deal in wheat is being pushed forward with considerable success by longs in all markets.

Shorts have contracted to deliver an amount of wheat that is so large as to make it impossible for them to fulfill all of their contracts. Whether a "squeeze" will be attempted depends to a large extent on the attitude of the directors of the leading speculative market, the Chicago Board of Trade.

A special Chicago dispatch to The Herald today said that the directors are watching the operations in May closely and that if an effort is made to "squeeze" the shorts an investigation will be conducted and any speculators guilty of running a "corner" will be liable to expulsion.

It is too early to tell whether the longs will endeavor to subject the

RAILROAD SHOP STRIKE SPREADS

Brotherhoods Said to Have Indorsed Pennsylvania Employes.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 4.—The Pennsylvania railroad shopmen's strike is spreading. About 300 men employed in the shops of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne & Chicago railroad on the North side joined the movement today, and it was said men along the lines between Pittsburg and Alliance, Ohio, would go out some time during the day. Two hundred men also quit work at the Verona shops on the Conemaugh branch of the Pittsburg division, and the assertion was made that more would go out during the day.

The railroad company continued to place new men in the different shops today. No disorder was reported.

While the result of the meetings of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and Order of Railway Conductors, held at Pitcairn last night, was officially kept secret, it was declared today at strikers' headquarters that the members of the two orders indorsed the strike and promised support both financially and morally.

OLDEST WAR VETERAN WILL LEAD MEMORIAL DAY PARADE

A Civil war veteran, 87 years of age, will be honorary marshal of the Memorial day parade in Duluth. He is believed to be the oldest veteran in the city.

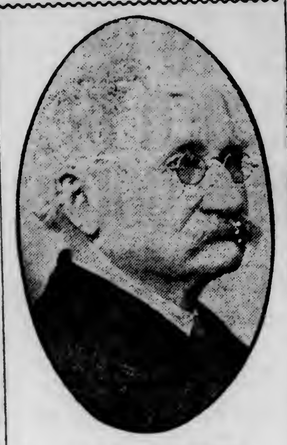
John G. Rakowsky, who has been given the honor, was born at Koenigsberg, Prussia, eighty-seven years ago. When the war broke out between Prussia and Denmark, in the early forties, he enlisted and served in the Prussian ranks.

When he was 31 years old he came to America, going first to St. Paul, but on hearing of the advantages of Superior, he came here. Duluth was not on the map at that time.

Seeing advantages on this side of the bay, Mr. Rakowsky built a shack on this side and began trading with the Indians. This business he found profitable and continued in it for some years.

He squatted on a piece of land on Rice's Point shortly after coming to Duluth. There were nearly 100 acres in the tract and after holding it for a number of years he finally sold it for a comparatively small sum of money. The same land is today worth hundreds of thousands of dollars.

When the war broke out Mr. Rakowsky, who had become a citizen of the United States, deemed it his duty to fight for the union. He went to St. Paul as there was no recruiting station at Duluth. Finding that he could not enlist there, he went to Washington where he enlisted in the Eighth regiment of New York. He was in the first battle of Bull Run. After his term had expired he re-enlisted in the Fifty-eighth of Ohio. He fought all through the war with this regiment. He was at Shiloh, Fort Donelson, Fort Henry and Vicksburg. He was taken prisoner during one of the battles and confined as a prisoner of war at Vicksburg until the union forces captured the city. He was taken to Jackson,



JOHN G. RAKOWSKY.

Miss., and confined there for some time. From there he finally escaped only to be recaptured. Later he was one of the prisoners who were exchanged. He served through the remainder of the war and then returned to Duluth.

DULUTH HOTEL MANAGERS ARE MEMBERS OF OPTIMISTS' CLUB

Despite the fact that the present season is supposed to be a rather backward one, speaking from the commercial viewpoint, the Duluth hotels are not complaining in the least.

An inquiry from the different managers has brought out the fact that every one of the leading hotels of the city is doing a very good business.

At the Spalding it was announced that there have not been enough sample rooms to accommodate the commercial trade. In addition to this the rooms of the hotel have been taken all through the present winter season, and the heavy trade is keeping up.

The manager of the Holland also announced that business was very good at the present time, and that the commercial trade was unusually heavy.

The same statement came from the Lenox and at the St. Louis it was stated that business was fairly good and was showing indications of a good increase.

From the statements made by the various hotel people, the hotel business is due for an increase, and every one of the Duluth bonifaces looks for a big business, in fact, a capacity business, during the summer months.

STILL HAMMERING ON WATER RATES

Hillsiders Ask Alderman to Begin Investigation in City Council.

Speaking before a meeting of the Central Hillside Improvement association last evening, William Craig stated that the actual cost of water in Duluth is 3.1 cents per 100 cubic feet, and that water sold for less than that was being sold for less than cost. He claimed that some of the larger users of water are getting it for less than that amount, some paying under 4 cents and some less than 3 cents per 100 cubic feet. He asserted that the city paid 7.9 cents for the water used for sprinkling last year and produced a duplicate of the bill paid by the city in support of his statement.

R. E. Patterson stated that if the council would not order an investigation of the water and light department, he believed it would pay the taxpayers to hire an attorney to take up the matter. He asserted that the hillside clubs have plenty of evidence to show that the department hasn't been conducted on a business-like basis.

Alderman Miller of the Second ward was asked to introduce a resolution in the council calling for an investigation of the water and light department.

It was stated that enough signers have been secured to insure the grading of Ninth street. By making this improvement the property owners hope to have the proposed Second ward extension of the street car line run over Ninth street.

R. E. Denfeld, superintendent of schools, spoke at the beginning of the meeting on "Vocationalization of the School System." He advocated changes in the course which would equip the students to become bread winners upon leaving school. He said that many of them now take courses leading to the professions but that the big majority do not complete their educations.

ASSESSORS BEGIN WORK

Twenty Deputies Begin Valuing of Personal Property in Duluth.

Results Expected From New Plan of Assessing Money and Credits.

Twenty deputy assessors started out from the city hall this morning to make the personal property assessment of the city, commonly termed "the annual farce."

Ordinarily the men would have started this work May 1, but because of a new law which was passed by the last legislature, they had to wait until certain blanks used in the assessment had been received. The new law puts a tax of $3 per $1,000 on money and credits, which were formerly taxed the same as all other personal property.

This low tax is intended to put large amounts on the tax rolls which were formerly secreted. It is only one-thirteenth of the tax paid last year. In the past it is stated that the men who had large amounts which would be heavily taxed under money and credits used every means in their power to keep the knowledge of their ownership away from the assessor. But when the rate is permanently fixed at 3 mills on the dollar it is believed that they will be willing to furnish the assessor with a complete list of their possessions coming under this classification. Special blanks are provided on which to make this statement, and it was for them that the beginning of the assessment was delayed.

The Instructions.

City Assessor Scott has carefully instructed the men as to what is expected of them. He has told them that no favoritism will be tolerated, and above all to "use common sense." In addition to a talk along general lines the deputies have been provided with the following list of terse instructions:

"Each deputy will wear his badge, which he should exhibit in case of doubt on the part of parties as to his identity.

"The exercise of courtesy and politeness is demanded, and no unnecessary exhibition of authority will be permitted.

"State your errand and proceed, without delay, to make your examination of the property. Remember that you are making business calls not social calls.

"In case you are refused admission to any building do not enter into controversy with the parties, but report the name and address to the office.

"Fill in the blanks as you go along, in order that no items may be omitted.

"Access to the office records will not be given. A new assessment must be made and made according to your best judgment.

"Carefulness must be exercised in the spelling of names and in stating the proper addresses. Names should be written on the outside of the blank as follows: 'Scott, J. A.' The blanks should show both the residence and business addresses, providing the party assessed is the sole owner of a business. Otherwise only the residence address, or business address, should be shown.

"Treat your friends in the same manner as you do others in making your assessments otherwise you will do an injustice to the parties and the office, and an injury to yourself.

"Do not take the statements of others as to the possession of neighbors as final, but note same and report to the office.

"Be thorough and systematic in your canvass. No items of personal property should be omitted.

"In case where parties are living together, constituting community of interests, the head of the consolidated family should be assessed for the whole. No divisions of assessments should be made. It will be well to note, however, the facts in connection therewith on the blank.

"All blanks must be filled out in their entirety, as all the information is required.

"Deputy assessor's report blanks must be filled out completely, and turned in at the office at the regular reporting dates. All names in the city must be accounted for, i. e., the names of all persons owning personal property.

"In cases where pianos, organs, fixtures, or other personal property are said to be rented ascertain the names and addresses of the parties from whom they are rented and have your blank show such information.

"You will give no information whatever in connection with any part of your work to any one. Reference should be made to the office.

"Report at the office at the close of business on every second day and turn in your reports and assessments.

"Whenever convenient have the parties themselves sign the blanks.

"Familiarize yourself with every requirement of the blanks to be filled out, so that you may proceed rapidly and accurately in your work.

"The hours of service being from 8 a. m. to 12 m. and from 1 to 5 p. m., it is expected, and demanded, that such hours be observed, unless arrangement has been made previously at the office.

"Remember you are under bond and have taken oath that you will perform your duties faithfully and justly. A literal obedience is demanded.

"Prove by your zeal and integrity that the confidence reposed in you has not been misplaced."

BIG CROWD AT BANQUET

Indoor Athletic Season at Y. M. C. A. Brought to Brilliant Close.

Handball Trophies Are Presented and Athletic Endeavor Encouraged.

A most successful indoor athletic season was wound up last evening by the annual Y. M. C. A. banquet. The big feed was staged in the auditorium of the association, and about 200 athletes and friends of the cause assembled around the well laden table, making the banquet by far the most successful that has been held by the gymnastic branch of the association.

L. C. Harris was the toastmaster and gave some flashes of scintillating humor that set the mirth chasing smiles across the countenances of the diners. The presentation of prizes was made by Physical Director A. B. Wegener. Albert S. Ames, chairman of the gymnasium committee, made a little talk, during the course of which he announced that plans are being drawn at the present time for the construction of another handball court.

Watson S. Moore opened the speech-making of the evening by a talk on athletics in general. While stating that his acquaintance with athletics in general had not been intimate, Mr. Moore said that one who observes from the sidelines can often see the good that comes to the young men through association with clean athletics. Mr. Moore stated that nothing was better for the moral and mental development of the young man than athletics, when they were conducted intelligently and on a clean basis.

"Happiness" was the subject of J. H. Hearding. In the course of his remarks Mr. Hearding said that the securing of happiness was up to every individual; that even those with the greatest material possessions in the world were not happy, for they had never laid the proper foundations for securing it. To his way of thinking, Mr. Hearding stated that the possession of happiness was up to the individual, and that with the right kind of a life, and the right conduct toward others, happiness was an object within the reach of all.

Judge Alfred Jaques spoke along broad lines of the work that the association is doing. He congratulated the boys' department upon the work it is doing, and commended in strong words of appreciation the work the general departments of the association are carrying out at the present time.

R. C. Coffin, the educational director of the association, made a few remarks. Among other things he expressed his deep regret at having to leave Duluth, where he had had so many pleasant associations.

Hans Haroldson told some dialect stories and gave some recitations that kept the crowd laughing in gleeful appreciation of the wit confined in the numerous sallies and good stories.

The prizes were awarded by W. M. Hart and Albert Ames.

The following prizes were awarded:

William Wendlandt, handball singles. A class, gold medal.

William Wendlandt and Frank Sturm, handball doubles, orders for merchandise on Kelley Hardware company.

William Johnson, handball singles. B class, medal fob.

John Hayden, handball. C class, fob.

The cup offered by the Northern Hardware company was awarded to the 4:30 class, composed of Russell Mclean, captain; A. Skelton, George Johnson, Alec McLeod and J. D. Deighton. In addition to the cup, watch fobs were presented to the individual members of the class.

WHY IT SUCCEEDS

Because It's for One Thing Only, and Duluth People Appreciate This.

Nothing can be good for everything.

Doing one thing well brings success.

Doan's Kidney Pills do one thing only.

They cure sick kidneys.

They cure backache, every kidney ill.

Here is Duluth evidence to prove it.

David H. Todd, 1102 E. Second St., Duluth, Minn., says: "My experience with Doan's Kidney Pills gave me confidence in them. Long before coming to this country, I heard of this remedy, it being considered a very valuable one in England. I first took Doan's Kidney Pills in 1897. I had been working hard and I believe overexertion weakened my kidneys. My back ached a great deal and was so lame and painful that I could hardly endure the misery. The kidney secretions were unnatural. After taking Doan's Kidney Pills a short time, there was a change for the better and as I continued using them, I steadily improved. I recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to a parent who had a child troubled by a kidney weakness and in this instance, their use brought great relief."

ATTACKS TWO WOMEN.

Man Supposed to Be Demented, Arrested By Brainerd Police.

Brainerd, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Chief of Police George Ridley arrested George Funk, said to be demented, who near the noon hour attacked Mrs. George R. Her friend, Mrs. Powell, summoned Chief Ridley. On Funk's person were found a Bible, the proceedings of the Duluth diocese of a church of some denomination, and a list of ladies of this city on which the name of Mrs. West stood first. Funk struck viciously at the chief and was handled unceremoniously as a consequence, until it was realized he was irresponsible.

Lighting Talks

NUMBER 6 DULUTH, MAY 4, 1911

THE FUNDAMENTAL CONSIDERATION

for any public utility corporation engaged in the upbuilding of a permanent business (and likewise for the community in which it operates) must be those guiding principles which shall determine its attitude and its conduct toward the people it serves.

Those guiding principles constitute the company's Public Policy.

The Public Policy of The Duluth-Edison Electric Company is made up of the great principles of Service and Co-operation.

This Public Policy is broader than the confines of the City of Duluth. That which benefits the community as a whole, benefits every individual in the community. YOU know that this company has done pioneer work in stimulating the development of this city, and that it has benefitted the community by providing an Electric Light and Power Service that is not surpassed anywhere in America.

But this Public Policy is not too broad to give careful and courteous consideration to the needs, desires, even the grievance, of any individual customer.

The management of this company knows that the only way to get a "Square Deal" is by giving a Square Deal. Our only aim in conducting this business is to DESERVE success; and we guarantee a Square Deal on all the business we transact.

Not only is our Service the BEST that can possibly be given, but our rates for that Service, to every individual customer as well as to the City of Duluth, are extremely low—are much lower than the average of the rates paid in all other American cities, as we shall prove to you in these "Lighting Talks."

This business is conducted openly. There are no secrets about any part of it. We have absolutely nothing to conceal. Complete reports on this company's business are made to the city's officers regularly every year. Our affairs are always open to the city's inspection.

We believe that the corporation which is rightly conducted is entitled to the confidence and respect of the public. That the people of Duluth agree with us in this is proved by the public confidence and respect this company today enjoys.

We want the Co-operation of every customer, and of every possible customer, for a BIGGER, BRIGHTER, BETTER DULUTH—for we are in this Electric Lighting business HERE TO STAY. This company cannot be forced out, or sold out, or confiscated.

Remember that—and read "Lighting Talk" No. 7, in next Saturday's Herald.

DIVORCE DAY BRINGS A LONG LIST OF CASES

Axel Johnson Deserted His Wife the Day After Their Wedding.

Courtship Lasted Four Years and Wedding Twenty-Four Hours.

It is divorce day today in district court.

Five decrees were granted this morning by Judge J. D. Ensign, who is hearing the cases. The mill will continue its grind for several days, probably, as there are a number of cases to be heard.

Mrs. Inga Johnson, who was one of those to whom decrees were given, proved that she had but one day of married life. She claimed that on Jan. 15, 1910, she married Axel Johnson, and that he left her the next day, Jan. 16.

Axel Johnson had courted her four years, she claimed, and as during the short time of their married life they had no trouble, she could give no reason for being deserted on the day after the marriage. Telling her he was going out to find work, he disappeared, and although she has searched diligently for him ever since, she has been unable to locate him.

She states that at the time of the marriage she lived at Winton, Minn., but that they were married in Ely. She is 21 years old and he is 24.

Mrs. Ida McDirmid, 30 years old, the mother of four children, recited a long tale of abuse she claimed to have suffered at the hands of her husband, Albert McDirmid, at the end of which she was granted a decree. She stated while on the stand that she was, at different times, pounded, kicked and knocked about and finally deserted. For a time the family lived on a farm near Duluth and she was forced to go out into the fields and plow and do other hard manual labor. Her husband, she said, had an ungovernable temper and that on different occasions he took out his wrath on her, and at times, the furniture in the house, which he seemed to take delight in breaking.

Bertha Carlson, 40 years old, claimed that in terror of being killed, she had to flee from the house and her husband, Samuel Carlson, 35, many times. She, too, was granted a divorce. They were married in Duluth in 1898. She stated that she was subjected to cruel and inhuman treatment, indignities and other forms of abuse until she could stand it no longer. She gave instances. In March, 1908, he came home drunk, she said, and called her vile names, broke the furniture and whipped the children. In June of the same year he again came home in an intoxicated condition, threatened to kill both the mother and the children and they were forced to leave the house and spend the night with the neighbors.

Ellma Waldo, 22 years old, obtained a divorce from her husband, Waino Waldo on grounds of both cruel treatment and desertion. They were married at Hancock, Mich., in 1909. She states that had she not been quick enough to dodge a blow which he aimed at her with a long knife, she would not today be alive. At different times he ordered her out of the house and finally ended by deserting, she claims.

There are a large number of cases this term and they were continued this afternoon. It is expected that they will last the remainder of the week.

SEEDING WELL ALONG.

Farmers About Thief River Falls Have Crops Well In.

Thief River Falls, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Seeding in this territory is about completed and little remains to sow except flax, corn and some potatoes.

The season has been very favorable to the work of the farm and the prospects are the best for a good crop. A large era will be devoted to the raising of corn and even the school children in every district in the county will be given pure bred seed corn with which to endeavor to raise something of a choice nature, something worthy to exhibit in the fall at the contests. The farmers here are turning their attention to dairying more than ever and the construction of silos is being advocated and many will be added to those now in use in Pennington county.

BOAT OWNERS ARE HIT HARD

Rate of 60 Cents on Ore Clouds Outlook for Independents.

Many Failed to Make Money With 70-Cent Rate Last Year.

With a 60-cent rate on ore from the Head of the Lakes, the outlook is almost hopeless for independent vessel owners. It will require good dispatch and continuous business from the present time to the last day of navigation for a vessel carrying bonds to make anything for the stockholders, is the opinion of a manager of one fleet. The independent managers cannot hope to keep their vessels in operation. It is not likely many of the independent ships will go out before the middle of June. If the season winds up with a rush as it has been known to do some years, the rates may take a jump. Such a condition seems to be the only ray of hope in many instances.

Vessel managers who have no connections and must depend upon wild ore are undecided what policy to pursue. With the rate at 70 cents last year and the amount of ore the largest in the history of the business, some fleets were able to make very small profits while some barely broke even.

The last few years have not been profitable and this year operating expenses will be as high as last year, while the present indications are water will not permit as heavy cargoes as last year. With these conditions to face the vesselmen will try to maintain wages. There is practically no business in sight and some of the vessel managers have no idea when they will send out their boats.

All but ten of the steamers of the Pittsburg Steamship company fleet are now in commission and these will be out this week. With one or two exceptions, all shippers will have fleets in commission this week. Only a few boats of a fleet owned by one shipper will be put in commission at this time, and no date has been set for starting the rest.

RATS ATTACKED DYING MAN

Body of Tug Cook Badly Disfigured By Animals.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Barnard Rennie, 60 years of age, a cook on the Ganley tug Commodore, died under dramatic circumstances while the tug was en route to the Soo from Michipicoten.

Rennie took sick on the trip and was put to bed. He was found dead on the floor on his hands and knees in the morning. His face was badly disfigured by rats. It is believed the rats attacked him just before he died.

STEAMER AND TUG IN COLLISION AT SOO.

Sault St. Marie, Mich., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—In attempting to make Kemp's slip last night the steamer Alva of the Chicago & Duluth Transportation company collided with the Great Lakes tug Boynton, damaging the tug's stern bearings and ripping off forty feet of her rail streak. The steamer went into the Great Lakes dock head-on, knocking out several piles and putting a hole in the planking. The accident was caused by mistaken signals, the engineer going ahead instead of backing.

BEGIN WORK ON NEW LIFE SAVING STATION.

Houghton, Mich., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Contractor L. F. Ursin, of Duluth, formerly of Laurium, will begin work on the erection of the proposed government life saving station at Eagle Harbor, Keweenaw point, within the next two weeks. Mr. Ursin is already arranging for the shipment of the supplies needed from Duluth. He takes the contract for $8,000, being the lowest bidder. E. H. Ropes of New York, an engineer in the service of the life saving department, is here to supervise the work and has a gang of men with him from Grand Rapids, Wis. The buildings will be frame with concrete foundations. Because of the large number of wrecks the past few years on Keweenaw point, near its extremity, the agitation for a life saving station at Eagle Harbor or Copper Harbor has been so strong, especially among the lake carriers, that the station was decided upon last fall.

GRAIN SHIPPING AT A STANDSTILL.

There is little inquiry for grain, and grain brokers here state that at the present time there is absolutely no outlook. A few stray cargoes are going, but aside from this the situation may be said to be stagnant. The rate on grain from Duluth to Buffalo remains unchanged, with few carriers in the market at the present price.

CONTRIBUTIONS COME SLOWLY

Money for Municipal Fourth of July Celebration Is Needed Soon.

The contributions needed for the fund which is being raised for the purchase of fireworks for a general municipal celebration July 4 are coming in very slowly. It is estimated that about $1,000 will be necessary for a celebration of the size planned.

Those who have the matter in charge state that the cash ought to be on hand within a comparatively short time, as it is desirable that the order be placed at the earliest possible moment. They explain that although Duluth has an ordinance calling for a safe and sane Fourth, the same is not true of most other cities in the country. The manufacturers are being crowded and it is said that if orders are to get the best of attention they should be sent in as soon as possible.

The sentiment in favor of the city celebration at the park on the lake shore near Thirteenth avenue east is generally favorable. The people seem willing to contribute, but they do not appear to realize the importance of turning in their donations early. This is necessary, and the people in charge say that there should not be the slightest difficulty in raising the money required in a couple of weeks.

The children are particularly desirous of a pyrotechnic display on the night of the nation's birthday.

The contributions can be sent to Mayor Cullum, who has charge of the fund, or they can be sent to The Herald, which will turn the contributions over to the mayor after acknowledging their receipt through its columns.

BLACK HAND GETS BUSY IN ASHLAND

Italian Resident Claims to Have Been Threatened By Society.

Ashland, Wis., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Black Hand society has made its appearance in Ashland. A local Italian telephoned for police protection at midnight last night and slept in the city jail until this morning, fearing to go home. He claims to have received overtures to join the Camorrists and refusing was threatened and his house shadowed. There are many Italians in the iron mines of Michigan and Wisconsin and quite a colony at Mellen, and this man claims that the Black Hand is organized among them.

COPPER COUNTRY BOYS CHOSEN FOR CONTEST.

Calumet, Mich., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Peter Mehelchich of Calumet, a boy of humble parentage, his father being an Austrian immigrant, a miner in the employ of the Calumet & Hecla Mining company, will represent all of Northern Michigan, including the fifteen counties north of the Straits of Mackinac, at the state oratorical contest, which will be held at Lansing. Irving Toplon of Lake Linden will represent the peninsula in the declamation contests at Lansing.

MISTAKE IN RECORDING VOTE.

It is stated that there was a mistake in recording the vote on the resolution offered at the council meeting last Monday night citing Dunlop & Thatcher to appear before that body to show cause why their license should not be revoked. The record shows that the vote was 8 to 8, which lost the resolution.

It is claimed that one of the aldermen who voted for the resolution was put down as voting against it, and that the vote should have been recorded 9 to 7 for the resolution. It is understood that the matter will be brought before the council next Monday night.

WARNING TO FISHERMEN

Game Warden Says He Means to Enforce the Law.

Limit Must Be Observed and No Fish Under Legal Size Kept.

The provisions of the state game laws regulating the number of trout which any one person may catch in one day and their size will be strictly enforced this season, according to Game Warden Thomas J. Storey.

"Every person, whether man, woman or child, who goes after trout, ought to familiarize himself or herself as to the law," said the game warden this morning. "They ought to know that no one is allowed to catch over fifty trout in one day and that they are required to put back in the stream all trout under six inches in length."

He says that all trains coming into the city, as well as the roads and trails, will be watched. The state does not allow enough money to provide men to watch all of them all the time, but the person who violates the law is taking long chances of being caught. The game warden or his deputy will make it a point to cover as much ground as possible. Baskets and sacks will be thoroughly examined. It will not be a look on the top, where the big ones are placed, but an examination to the bottom, and no consideration will be shown to those who are found with under-sized trout or with a catch bigger than the law allows. The law on the matter is plain and explicit and the penalties provided in case of conviction are severe.

Reports coming in the last few days are to the effect that the trout fishing is improving. Several good-sized catches have been brought in, some of them from nearby streams. The water is getting warmer and the streams are clearing up, causing the speckled beauties to bite harder than they have been doing since the season opened.

PREPARE BATTLE OVER LORIMER

Washington, May 4.—Preliminaries of an impending battle between senators who want a special committee of new senators to conduct a reinvestigation of the Lorimer case and those who want the whole question of a second investigation referred to the standing committee on privileges and elections, were begun in the senate today. When it appeared that the resolution reported from the committee of contingent expenses, to provide funds for another probe of the bribery charges filed against the Illinois senator, were certain to arouse a squall, the whole matter was allowed to go over until another day.

The discussion was on the La Follette resolution which proposed that another investigation be ordered and that the cost be borne by the senate contingent fund. The resolution named five new senators, headed by Works of California.

Does Not Indorse Review.

In reporting the resolution today, Senator Briggs, chairman of the senate committee on contingent expenses, made it clear that the recommendation was not to be taken as an indorsement of the demand for another inquiry. It merely indicated that the money needed for another trial was available.

Senator La Follette desired time in which to address the senate, and asked that the matter go over. Several senators who voted in favor of Senator Lorimer last session, asked that the resolution be referred to the standing committee on privileges and elections. It became apparent at once that such a motion, if carried, which would be equivalent to the repudiation of the proposed special committee, would provoke a great deal of debate. It is expected to come up again on Monday.

RYBAK COURTED DEATH.

Calumet, Mich., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The coroner's jury investigating the death of Joseph Rybak, who was struck and killed by the automobile of Ferdinand D. Petermann, a well known mining man of Wolverine, Sunday night, exonerated Mr. Peterman. The testimony tended to show that Rybak stepped in front of, or against the machine as it was about to pass him and that he doubtless was responsible for his own death. Rybak was one of the oldest and best known Polish residents of Calumet.

EASIER FOR SWINDLERS

Maximum Sentence Is $1,000 Fine or Year in Prison.

Local authorities are wondering in what way they are going to deal out sufficient punishment to those who issue checks and obtain money on them when they have no account at the bank, or fraudulently overdraw their account.

Heretofore the offense has been called larceny in the several degrees depending on the amount. It was also sometimes prosecuted as "getting money under false pretenses." If the amount was over $500, it was first degree larceny; under $500 was called second, and under $25, third.

At the recent session of the legislature a law was passed making this offense a gross misdemeanor. It provides a punishment of not more than one year in jail or a fine of $1,000 or both. Under the old system people found guilty of charges of this kind were sometimes given several years at the state prison.

The authorities say that the punishment is not stiff enough for the crime, and that if punishable only by a jail sentence, many may take advantage of it.

The members of the legislature, it is said, believed that there was no law which covered cases of this kind, and the recently passed act was put through so that there would be one. They had no idea they were cutting down the punishment, it is said.

The new law follows:

"An act to punish the giving of checks or drafts on any bank or other depository wherein the person so giving such check or draft shall not have sufficient funds or credit for the payment of the same.

"Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Minnesota:

"Section 1. Any person who, with intent to defraud, shall make or draw or utter or deliver any check, draft or order for the payment of money upon any bank or other depository, knowing at the time of such making, drawing, uttering or delivery that the maker or drawer has not sufficient funds in or credit with such bank or other depository for the payment of such check, draft or order in full upon its presentation, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not more than one thousand ($1,000) or imprisonment not more than one year, or both. The word 'credit' as used herein shall be construed to mean an arrangement or understanding with the bank or depository for the payment of such check, draft or order.

Approved April 19, 1911.

"FIRE HITCHCOCK," SAYS JEFF DAVIS

Arkansas Senator Gives Notice of Resolution in Senate.

Washington, May 4.—Senator Jeff Davis of Arkansas today gave notice in the senate that he would offer a resolution asking the president to "discharge" Postmaster General Hitchcock, unless Mr. Hitchcock replies within a week to the Davis resolution adopted April 10. In that resolution Mr. Hitchcock was asked to furnish the senate with a copy of the rulings of the postoffice department and reasons therefor in connection with its alleged discrimination against two Western periodicals, one of St. Louis, the other of Denver.

Alleging that the postmaster general had paid no attention to the resolution, Mr. Davis exclaimed excitedly:

"I want to know whether Mr. Hitchcock is bigger than the United States senate."

SCORED BY ROOSEVELT

Labor Leaders Who Denounced McNamara's Arrest Criticized.

Ex-President Praises Heney and Burns for Their Work.

New York, May 4.—Ex-President Roosevelt will have a signed article in the Outlook this week in which he severely critizes union labor leaders, "who have at once flown publicly to the defense of the alleged dynamiters' under arrest in the Los Angeles Times case. Mr. Roosevelt pays tribute to Attorney Heney as a fair and fearless officer and extols Detective Burns as Heney's "right hand man." In his article under the title "Murder is Murder," Mr. Roosevelt says:

"There is one feature of the developments as regards the arrest of certain alleged labor men in connection with the dynamite outrage perpetrated against the Los Angeles Times, to which especial attention should be called. If the explosion was not an accident, but the deliberate act of any man or men, it was an outrage of dastardly iniquity, for it was one of these crimes in which the murderer, in order to gratify his spite against an individual, not merely wrecked that individual's property, but with callous indifference takes the lives of scores of innocent people as an incident to the achievement of his sinister and criminal purpose.

Responsible For Deaths.

"The men responsible for the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building are responsible not only for the wrecking of the newspaper offices, but for the loss of many lives.

"The arrest was made in consequence of testimony secured by Mr. Burns, who has been Mr. Heney's right hand man in bringing to justice grafters who violated the laws of the United States in Oregon and grafters who violated the laws of California in San Francisco. He has proceeded with impartial severity against the most influential politicians and the richest business men. It happens that the men he has now arrested are members of a labor organization; just as men whom he formerly arrested were members of the Republican or Democratic parties, or of great and wealthy corporations.

A Wicked Thing.

"It would have been a wicked thing in the former cases with which Mr. Burns had to do, for leading Republicans or Democrats to combine to break him down and support the accused merely because the accused belonged to their political parties, and it would have been a wicked thing for big capitalists and big business men to make common cause with the capitalists against whom he proceeded merely because they were capitalists. Wherever any politician of either party or any capitalists did actually take this position, whether in the case of the men prosecuted by Mr. Burns or in any other case, the Outlook unhesitatingly and severely denounced them.

"In exactly the same spirit I state the convictions of the Outlook in expressing its hearty reprobation of the conduct of those labor leaders who, without waiting to know anything of the facts of the case, have at once flown publicly to the defense of the alleged dynamiters whom Mr. Burns has now arrested, and who talk about the arrest as being part of a conspiracy against labor unions.

Worst Service to Unions.

"No worse service can be rendered by labor union leaders to the cause of unionism than that which they render when they seek to identify the cause of unionism with the cause of any man guilty of a murderous attack of this nature. I have no idea whether the men arrested on Mr. Burn's statements are or are not guilty; the labor leaders in question have no idea whether or not they are. They are entitled to an absolutely fair trial. If they have no money to provide counsel for themselves, then it would be entirely proper for any body of men to furnish them with requisite funds, simply as an incident in securing them a fair trial.

"But it is grossly improper to try to create a public opinion in favor of the arrested men simply because the crime of which they are accused was committed against a capitalist or a corporation, and because the men who are charged with committing it are members of a labor union. This is an iniquity as gross as it would have been if when, three years ago, the sugar trust was indicted for swindling operations in the New York custom house, the forces of organized capital had been put behind the indicted men on the ground that the attack on capitalists guilty of crime meant an attack on all capital.

Capital or Labor.

"Undoubtedly there have been in the past repeated cases where representatives of capital have thus endeavored to prevent successful assault on abuses committed in the interests of capital; and in every such case, no matter how wealthy or influential the offender, the Outlook believes that he should be condemned. It now takes the same attitude, when the question is one of identifying the cause of unionism with alleged murder, that it has always taken when the question was one of identifying the cause of capital with alleged corruption; and it appeals to the honest and law abiding businessman; for both are, first of all, American citizens, whose attitude towards the fundamental questions of morality and good citizenship must be identical.

Question of Guilt.

"The question of organized labor or organized capital or of the relations of either with the community at large, has nothing whatever to do with this issue. All we are now concerned with is the grave and vital question of fact whether or not the accused men have been guilty of murder, and of murder under circumstances of peculiar foulness and atrocity. Whether we do or do not approve the policy of the Los Angeles Times—and the Outlook very heartily disapproves of its policy on certain matters—has nothing whatever to do with the question.

"The stern repression of murderous violence—above all, of murderous violence under circumstances of such cowardly infamy as always accompany the use of dynamite—must of necessity be a prime need of any civilization calling itself such. Whether the man attacked is a Socialist or a capitalist, a wage earner or a professional man, has nothing whatever to do with the question; and whether the man attacking him does or does not belong to any organization, whether of labor or capital, whether social or religious, has nothing to do with the question.

"The one and only question is as to the guilt or innocence of the man accused. Any man who seeks to have them convicted, if they are innocent, is guilty of a crime against the state, and any man who seeks to have them acquitted if guilty, is also guilty of a crime against the state."

Shevlin Bank Robbers Foiled.

Maxwell told the police that he came to Superior yesterday from Winnipeg. He will be taken to the Green Bay reformatory tomorrow.

Patrolman Hohn saw Maxwell break into Grant's grocery store, 1416 Tower avenue, at 3:30 o'clock this morning. He followed him and placed him under arrest. Maxwell pleaded guilty in superior court and was sentenced by Judge Smith.

The Stilson murder trial which opened yesterday in superior court was postponed on account of the illness of Smith Campbell, one of the witnesses for the state. Attorney M. C. Brzonkala appeared for the defendant. Ben Stilson is charged with having killed Thomas Calu a month ago in a lower Tower avenue saloon.

CHIEF OJIBWA DIES.

One of Last Chiefs of Chippewa Tribe Is Called.

White Earth, Minn., May 4.—Ojibwa, one of the last surviving chiefs of the Chippewa Indians and one of the oldest members of the reservation tribe, died Tuesday at the age of 84 years. He was one of the late distinguished Hole-in-the-day's bodyguard and was on his return trip home in company with the latter chief when they were ambushed and fired upon by their jealous kinsmen of the Leech Lake band.

Hole-in-the-day fell upon the first fire, but Ojibwa escaped and carried the news of the assassination to the agency. The alleged slayers were shortly arrested, but the government permitted them to go free on the ground that they had no legal authority to interfere in tribal affairs at that time.

Ojibwa leaves five daughters and two sons, among them being Peter Parker, who served as a private in Company D, Fourth Minnesota regiment, during the War of the Rebellion. The old chief was early converted to the Catholic faith and zealously followed the teachings of its creed until his death.

SENATE READY TO VOTE ON COWAN

Plan of Voting on the Charges Is Still Unsettled.

Bismarck, N. D., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—All was uncertainty with the court of impeachment at noon today so far as the method of casting ballots in the Cowan case was concerned. Counsel George Bangs for the prosecution having concluded his argument shortly after 11 o'clock, the senate took up a brief discussion of question, becoming involved in debate and adjourning shortly afterwards till 1:30 this afternoon to again take the question up.

The matter for settlement is that of the plan in voting on independent specifications in the charges. There are eighty specifications, and with the question of Judge Cowan's fitness for office as the keynote senators pointed out that it would be difficult to properly pass on that subject by voting independently on the specifications, but that by voting upon the main charges the result could be reached in a much shorter period.

In his concluding arguments this morning, George Bangs devoted practically his entire attention to the question of delayed cases. He took one case after another and charged in many of them that delays upon the part of Judge Cowan had been for the benefit of personal friends and that therein lies the corruption.

Tender Nerve Centres
Cause Foot Torture. Try This Sure Cure for Foot Troubles.

The nerve centers of the feet are very near the surface and are very sensitive. Undue pressure or friction from shoes too tight or too loose sets up an inflammation and acute soreness follows that is frequently an agony. Don't suffer an hour. Here is an infallible treatment that will cure this and all foot troubles. "Dissolve two tablespoonfuls of Calocide compound in a basin of hot water. Soak the feet in this for full fifteen minutes, gently massaging the sore parts. (Less time will not give desired results.) Repeat this each night until cure is permanent." The effect is simply astonishing. Every bit of soreness and inflammation is drawn out immediately, leaving the feet fresh and cool. Corns and callouses can be peeled right off. Bunions are reduced to normal. Sweaty and smelly feet, swollen and tender feet need but a few treatments. Calocide formerly used only by doctors but any druggist now has it in stock or will quickly get it. A twenty-five cent package is claimed to cure the worst feet.

RAILROADS

NO MORE EXCURSIONS.

Upper Peninsula Roads Do Away With Cut Rates.

Calumet, Mich., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—With the signing of the 2-cent rate bill by Governor Chase S. Osborn, railroad men of Northern Michigan say that no more reduced rates or excursion rates will be granted by railroads in this part of the state. The road hard hit is the Copper Range, which, while earning less than $1,200 per mile and not being forced to the 2-cent rate, must grant it in order to compete with the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic. About the only roads not affected are the Keweenaw Central and the Manistique roads, which have no competition in their particular territory.

MILWAUKEE ROAD TO TAP NATIONAL PARK.

Livingston, Mont., May 4.—While nothing will be done this spring, within a few months the Milwaukee will tap the Yellowstone park, either by coming down the Shield valley from Dorsey, or by way of Trail creek from Bozeman, according to a letter just received here by A. W. Miles from C. A. Goodnow, assistant to the president of the Milwaukee. Mr. Goodnow says that the Milwaukee already has made plans to run a line to Wonderland.

Stillwater, Minn., May 4.—(Special to the Herald.)—Judge A. E. Doe, of the probate court with local physicians has examined five more inmates of the state prison as to their mental condition and found them insane. This makes eight so adjudged within a week. Seven of them are under life sentences and the other is in for twenty years.

It is possible they will be committed to the St. Peter new addition of the state hospital, designed for dangerous and criminal insane. Judge Doe wrote to the board of control on that phase of the subject recently but has not yet received a reply.

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH

Could Hardly Eat. Gradually Grew Worse. Relieved by Peruna.

Mr. A. M. Ikerd.

Mr. A. M. Ikerd, Box 31, West Burlington, Iowa, writes:

"I had catarrh of the stomach and small intestines for a number of years. I went to a number of doctors and got no relief, and finally one of my doctors sent me to Chicago, and I met the same fate. They said they could do nothing for me, said I had cancer of the stomach and there was no cure. I almost thought the same, for my breath was offensive and I could not eat anything without great misery, and I gradually grew worse.

"Finally I concluded to try Peruna, and I found relief and a cure for that dreadful disease, catarrh. I took five bottles of Peruna and two of Manalin, and I now feel like a new man. There is nothing better than Peruna, and I keep a bottle of it in my house all the time."

FAIR

The "what is no rare?" boys may spout today with good reason. It is one of the finest spring days the weather man has sent along this year. The fag end of winter that has been hanging around for the past few weeks seems to have passed to oblivion, for the temperature just missed the freezing point last night. Today is not uncomfortably warm by any means, but one may go without a light overcoat and get away with it. Continued fair weather with little change in temperature is the prediction for tonight and tomorrow.

The sun rose this morning at 4:47 and it will set at 7:22, giving fourteen hours and thirty-five minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Dry weather prevails, except that copious rains fell on Gulf and North Pacific states and light rains over Nebraska and Kansas in connection with the extensive barometric depression, overlying the far West. Moderate temperatures are the rule tl is morning; in fact the weather is generally somewhat warmer than yesterday. Heavy to killing frosts occurred last night in the Dakotas, Minnesota, Wisconsin and throughout most of the lake region. At the Head of the Lakes pleasant weather may be expected to continue during the ensuing thirty-six hours.

General Forecasts.

Chicago, May 4.—Forecasts for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Friday:

Upper Michigan—Fair tonight and Friday; light frost tonight.

Wisconsin—Fair tonight and Friday; slowly rising temperature; frost tonight.

Minnesota—Fair tonight and Friday, warmer in south and west portions and in south portion Friday; probably light frost in east portion tonight.

Iowa—Fair and warmer tonight; Friday probably increasing cloudiness and warmer.

North and South Dakota—Generally fair tonight and Friday; warmer tonight.

Montana—Generally fair weather, except probably showers in extreme west portion tonight or Friday.

Upper Lakes: Light variable winds and fair weather tonight and Friday.

BRAIN FEVER THREATENED

P. G. Pastoret Was in Serious Condition Following Fatal Auto Accident.

Collapsed When Told of Death—No Inquest Will Be Held.

Peter G. Pastoret, the contractor who ran over and killed 7-year-old Lawrence Hayes, near Seventh avenue east and Second street about 12:30 yesterday, has been in a serious condition at his home, 1408 East Third street.

The shock of the accident completely unnerved him after he had hurried the unfortunate victim to St. Mary's hospital. When he was informed that the lad was dead, he collapsed and had to be helped to his automobile, in which he was taken to his home. A physician was summoned to care for him, and no one is allowed to see him. It was feared that brain fever might develop, but at noon today he was reported much improved.

The prevalent feeling is that while the accident was unfortunate in the extreme, it was unavoidable. It is said that Mr. Pastoret could not have anticipated that the boy would jump in front of the automobile just as he was turning to the left in order to pass the wagon in which the boy was riding towards home after having attended the morning session of the Jefferson school.

Court Officer Peter McDonald, who was only a short distance away when the boy was hit, and who put him in the automobile after picking him from the street, says that his best judgment is that the car was not traveling to exceed ten miles an hour. "It may have been going faster, or it may have been a bit less than that, but I know that it was not running at any high rate of speed," he said. He says it was brought to a dead stop by Mr. Pastoret within a very few feet of the spot where the boy was struck.

The following statement was given out last evening by Judge Lawrence of Two Harbors, attorney of the Pastoret-Lawrence company:

"Mr. Pastoret was driving at a moderate rate of speed when the boy jumped from the Kelly Furniture company's wagon, and he did not know that the lad was on the street until the machine had struck him. The boy was picked up by Court Officer McDonald, placed in Mr. Pastoret's machine and taken to St. Mary's hospital, where he died within an hour. Mr. Pastoret is so overcome by the fatality that he is physically unable to give out an interview and has authorized me to make this statement for him."

No inquest will be held.

Green Room Gossip.

With "The Triumph of Betty," the most pronounced success ever scored by Miss Adelaide Thurston, the popular Duluth actress, as a vehicle, the Maude Leone Associate Players will open at the Lyceum Sunday afternoon for a weeks' engagement.

This play has been selected after long deliberation as the best medium to present the stock players. It is a dainty and charming story in four acts of the triumph of a young American girl over the prejudice and ingrained Puritanical notions of her father's relatives of an English community, and also her foiling of the villainous design of an unprincipled scoundrel on the reputation of a defenseless woman.

Miss Leone will be Betty, and as this role was the most successful ever played by Miss Thurston, it should also present equal opportunities for Miss Leone.

There are two acts on this week's bill at the Orpheum which always travel together.

They are acts presented by Galetti's monkeys and Mignonette Kokin.

The reason is that "Mlle. Kokin" is in real life Mrs. Galetti. It is not often that the booking offices will consent to book two acts over the same route, for it greatly complicates the booking arrangements. There is only one other case in which it is done. Mlle. Capitaine, a gymnast, and the act presented by Binns and Binns, both of which played her last winter, are always booked together, because the gymnast is Mrs. Binns. Where the acts are sufficiently meritorious and where, as in this case, they demand to be booked together or not at all, the booking office relents and husband and wife are not separated. Ordinarily, however, husband and wife, unless they are in the same act, have a slim chance of playing over the circuit together.

"A splendid, high class operatic act." This is the manner in which one of Duluth's most prominent citizens expressed himself relative to the operatic singing act of Edmund Stanley and company, who are appearing at the Empress this week. "When the curtain rose on the third act at the Empress last night, the first notes of the contralto soloist behind the scenes showed the superbly trained voice of a legitimate grand opera singer, clear and pure as the tones of a beautiful cello. The fine soprano coming in a moment later filled me with admiration for the beauty, flexibility and grand control of her high voice. The subsequent solo of the tenor, Edmund Stanley, roused my enthusiasm, while the final trio from the opera, 'Il Trovatore,' contributed a tremendous climax to their previous marvelous efforts. The scenery, costumes, acting, and highly trained voices made me think of a dainty bit of real grand opera, snatched from the New York Metropolitan or the Chicago Auditorium, and placed on the stage of the Empress. Thousands in New York and Chicago pay a great deal more to hear real grand opera, and thousands in Duluth have never heard it, or have any idea what it is like. It is those that I advise to visit the Empress this week and they will know, for they will hear thorough artists. My only regret was that the curtain fell on this gorgeous act all too soon, and this only after the singers had been called before the curtain nine or ten times, which proves that their auditors appreciated the good things that are offered in this act."

The mid-week changes at the Odeum and Lyric theaters bring some new and interesting photoplays that are sure to please those who like this form of entertainment.

"The Spirit of Light" will be the feature play at the Lyric. It tells the story of a girl who drifts away from her lighthouse in a small boat, leaving a feeble old man to care for the light. He dies and after a vision, her lover returns and cares for the light for many years.

"The Leading Lady" is a comedy film, which deals with an Irish cook, who has ideas of her own. She refuses to take hints from others and good comedy is the result.

"A Klondike Steal" will be the feature at the Odeum. This film gives a good description of the country and besides having a plot of interest, it shows noted Alaska characters as well as a long trip over the ice and snow by dog team.

ORGAN RECITAL FOR TEACHERS

School Instructors Will Hear Orchestra Programs in Advance.

Duluth consistory, Scottish Rite Masons, has invited the school teachers of Duluth to an organ recital, at which several of the principal numbers to be played by the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra at the concerts given by them on Friday and Saturday, June 2 and 3, will be rendered.

The concert will be held in the auditorium of the Masonic Temple, on Saturday morning, May 27, at 10 o'clock and Miss Clara Thomas, musical director of the public schools, will introduce each piece by an explanation, and where suitable note the themes and call attention to the principal features of the number.

So far as decided on, the pieces and their order will follow those of the regular orchestra programs and, subject to a possible slight change, will be:

Symphony, No. 3 (Eroica) ..Beethoven
(a) Allegro con brio .....
(c) Allegro vivace .....
(d) Allegro molto .....
"Wotan's Farewell and Magic Fire Spell" (Die Walkuere).....Wagner
Overture to "Der Freischutz"...Weber
Symphonic poem—"Danse Macabre" ..... Saint-Saens
Andante Cantabile (Second movement fifth symphony) .....Tschaikowsky
"Espana" (Spanish Rhapsody) ..... Chabrier

This special recital is given for the benefit of the teachers so that those appreciative of the class of music to be given by the symphony orchestra may have an opportunity of becoming somewhat familiar with the selections in advance of the regular concerts, whereby they will be assisted in the better understanding and consequent appreciation of those beautiful selections.

It cannot be expected that any one instrument will bring out the music as it will sound when given by the large number of instruments and musicians, but the first curiosity of the listeners will have been satisfied, after which a comfortable study and enjoyment naturally takes place, with its attendant understanding, pleasure and satisfaction.

Brainerd, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. T. Murphy, of Superior was in Brainerd and Deerwood yesterday, on his way home from California. Mr. Murphy is a firm believer in the Cuyuna iron range. He is an officer in the company of Superior people which is drilling and developing what is known as the Jack Olmstead homestead, situated near Little Rabbit lake, in section 18-46-29. Of this company, Dr. H. J. O'Brien is president; Dr. R. J. Sewall of Crosby, vice president; Charles W. Potts of Superior, secretary; J. T. Murphy of Superior, treasurer. The drilling now in progress is being done unde the supervision of Charles W. Potts and in conjunction with the Williams-Brown interests, whose properties adjoin on the east. Ore has been struck in paying quantities and at such shallow depth as to give credence to the story that the mine may eventually become an open pit mine.

JAIL TERM FOR OLD OFFENDERS

Woman Sentenced to Thirty Days for Blind Pigging.

Following out the announced policy of giving straight jail sentences to prisoners convicted of violating the liquor laws for the second time, Judge Windom this morning sentenced Gertrude Monson to thirty days in the county jail for selling liquor without a license at 111 East Superior street.

The court stated that a fine imposed several weeks ago, had apparently had no effect. The woman pleaded not guilty to the charge of keeping a house of ill fame. Celeste Willer, held for residing in the house, also pleaded not guilty, and the two trials will be held this afternoon.

ENGLAND WILL NOT ASK TAFT WHAT HE MEANT.

London, May 4.—John Morton Griffiths, Unionist member for Wednesbury, who gave notice on Monday that he would ask Mr. Asquith immediately to instruct Ambassador Bryce to cable for instructions or parliament a verbatim report of President Taft's recent speech in New York, has received his answer. On behalf of the premier, Thomas McKinnon Wood, under secretary for foreign affairs, said that he had found in the speech no reason whatever for making any representations to the United States government.

LEAVES CHILD ON BEMIDJI DOORSTEP

Pins Plaintive Note to Infant's Covering Asking Home for It.

Bemidji, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—"Won't you please take my little baby and give it a good home? I am not able to take care of it. I know that you will be a mother to him. He was born on March 31; and you can name him what you please."

This plaintive note, penned in irregular lines was pinned to the coarse, cheap garments about an infant, whose cries, on the doorstep of the Frank Gagnon home, here, during the rainstorm Tuesday night, lead to the discovery of a little waif.

The child had been placed in a small bath tub used by the Gagnon's to catch rainwater, and in this the human mite had been set close up to the door on the porch, partially sheltered from the rain. The child was wrapped in a cheap blanket, and a bottle of milk had been tucked in beside it. Mrs. Gagnon found the child, being awakened from her sleep by a strange wail, and she decided to keep it.

"I have no idea as to the identity of the young woman who described her child, but I think she must have come from the direction of International Falls, on the night train," said Mrs. Gagnon. "If the mother sees this in the paper, she may rest assured that her baby will be well taken care of. He is a fine little fellow, and we are already in love with him."

It is apparent that the mother knew Mrs. Gagnon, and had confidence in her, as she addressed her familiarly as "Mrs. Gagnon," in her appeal to give the child a home.

TWO GRAND FORKS BOYS ARE ACCUSED

Arrested in Crookston on Charge of Burglarizing Residence.

Crookston, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Harvard Schnewels and Ralph Green of Grand Forks, giving their ages as 18 and 19 respectively, are in the Polk county jail awaiting a hearing which has been set for Friday on a charge of grand larceny preferred by Stella Hamilton. They were arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer Nelson in the brush near the power house, after a description of the suspects had been given him. Pinned to the inside of their clothing were found three gold watches, a dozen and a half of four-in-hand ties, about two dozen handkerchiefs and a few other articles which were stolen from the Hamilton residence.

Stella Hamilton was in another part of the house when the theft was committed, and in her bedroom at the time was $1,000 worth of diamonds and other jewelry, but they did not reach this room.

The boys claimed they had got the stuff from another boy, but the two arrested had been seen loitering about the Hamilton residence a short time before and when Officer Nelson discovered them they took to their heels, but he outran them.

The parents of the culprits are well known business men of Grand Forks and an effort is being made to settle the matter, but the police will not listen to any peace overtures and the boys will be made an example of.

OFFERS SITE AT KNIFE RIVER

G. Lord Says County Farm School Should Be on County Line.

G. Lord of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, has sent a cummun'cation to the Duluth Commercial club suggesting the location of the proposed Duluth experimental farm school on the county line between Lake and St. Louis counties, some distance north of Knife river. He says that such a location would give accessibility and a typical soil, the two most necessary requisites for a site.

Mr. Lord says in his letter to Maj. Eva:

"As the site for th's farm I would suggest that the county line between St. Louis and Lake counties north of Knife river,, and far enough from the lake to get away from the lake influence. This would be anywhere from one to five miles north of Knife river. The soil would be typical of this great region in that vicinity, there is almost absolute freedom from stone. Either burnt over or green timber land can be had. I can guarantee as much land as would be required at from $10 to $20 per acre. It would be accessible by good roads from Duluth or Two Harbors as the court has ordered the construction this year of a road on this line. It would be near Knife river which can be reached by boat from any point on the lake and is also on the Iron Range railway, which now has good service and which will in time and should have now, hourly service between these cities. It would be on or near the Duluth & Northern Minnesota railroad, which penetrates this great country, and in time would undoubtedly be on a trolley line connecting Duluth and Two Harbors, which route could be anticipated in the selection of a site.

"In conclusion I would state, lest some one raise the point or personal interest, that I would be equally benefited if any financial advantage comes with the location of this institution if it should be located anywhere in the vicinity of Duluth, as I have greater holdings at this time west of this point. This selection is made viewing the proposition from an absolutely disinterested standpoint as fulfilling a need that is very urgent. By being on the county line with a part in St. Louis and a part in Lake county, if so desired, equal benefit would accrue to each county for the purpose of publicity and advertising in promoting the development of this great embryonic empire."

luth & Iron Range railroad, are out of the city. J. B. Hanson, general freight and passenger agent of the Missabe, said this morning that no decision has been reached as to what course the range roads will follow. He said that because the other carriers of the state will advance rates, it doesn't necessarily follow that the two range roads will do so.

Range Roads Held Aloof.

Thus far the range roads have accepted state regulation without question. They put into effect the state laws and railroad warehouse commission's orders without protest or litigation, and have not been drawn into the controversy between the roads and the state at any time. The roads not directly affected by Judge Sanborn's decision may take advantage of that portion of the decision based on interference with interstate commerce without further question, it is said, but to take advantage of the principle laid down by Judge Sanborn's decision on confiscatory rates, it will be necessary for the roads not directly involved, to go before the court and obtain injunctions restraining the state railroad and warehouse commission from further enforcing its rulings. Local offices of the railroads have not yet been notified of any change. The South Shore road is not affected, having no mileage in Minnesota. It will be forced to lower its rates owing to the new Michigan 2-cent fare.

Some of the railroads are compelled to change the rates in accordance with Judge Sanborn's decision, as actions were brought by the stockholders against the roads and the victory of the stockholders in the courts makes it mandatory upon the railroads to put the higher rates into effect. With other roads, including the two range railroads, the adoption of higher rates is optional.

The passenger rates and merchandise rates will be advanced to apply, not only to intrastate business, but to interstate business as well. They will be restored to the old level, both within the state and as applied to business outside of the state, and things will be restored to the basis existing before the orders of the state commission of Sept. 6, 1906, and the 2-cent passenger fare and the commodity rate laws were passed by the legislature in 1907. The commodity rates have never been put into effect generally, injunctions tying them up soon after they were adopted by the state.

The action of the roads follows the decision of Judge Walter H. Sanborn in the United States circuit court. He allowed the counsel for the state to take an appeal to the United States supreme court from his decision, but he refused to grant a stay pending the appeal. In order to stay the execution of the court's order, the counsel for the state would have had to furnish a supersedeas bond, by which the roads would have a guarantee of reimbursement for loss in revenue entailed should the supreme court sustain Judge Sanborn's decision. The counsel for the state could not furnish the bond. The roads do not have to furnish such a bond.

Make July 1 the Limit.

In the cases of the Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Minneapolis & St. Louis, which were tried and the decrees entered, the court extended from June 1 to July 1 the limit by which the roads must cease, under permanent injunction to obey the orders of the state legislature and the railroad and warehouse commision reducing freight and passenger rates.

Given Time to Revise Tariffs.

By extending the limit of obeying the roads will have enough time to revise their existing tariffs and have them filed with the interstate commerce commission. Thirty days' notice is required by the federal law before any change can be made in an interstate rate, which gives the roads until June 1 to get their tariffs in shape. This will mean the revision of practically every passenger and merchandise tariff from Minnesota to the North Pacific coast, taking into account the provision of the interstate commerce act which prohibits a road from charging more for a through rate than the combination of locals. Whether the rates between St. Paul and Seattle, Portland and other important western points will be advanced is a question which the rate experts will have to decide in a few days.

Other Roads' Stockholders to Act.

While only the Great Northern, Northern Pacific and the Minneapolis & St. Louis and the Soo line, by stipulation, are forced to restore the old rates by July 1, under the present status of affairs, the other large roads in the state, it is expected, will be put in the same position. It was said before the court Tuesday afternoon that the stockholders of five of the roads will apply for a temporary injunction within a few days.

It is up to the court to decide whether to grant these later temporary injunctions. The cases of the Chicago, St. Paul, Rock Island, Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha, Burlington and Soo line have not been tried. It is pointed out that the questions of fact in the six cases may not be the same as the three cases already tried but they are similar to the questions of law. The court has held that the making of the interstate rates is in interference with interstate commerce, so it is thought likely that the temporary injunction will be granted.

They Could Make It 2½ Cents.

The court did not decide that the roads should restore the old passenger and freight rates, but should simply ignore the existing reduced rates. Under this order the roads could put in a 2½-cent rate and new merchandise rates, but the decision of the chief roads has been simply to restore the old rates in their entirety.

Take It While They Can Get It.

The feeling in railroad circles a few weeks ago was that the roads might not go back to the old rates until the cases had been determined in the supreme court. It is thought that the superior court might hand down its decision in a year at least, and to change existing tariffs until they would create confusion. But in view of the big revenues involved, the leading stockholders and the management decided to make the change immediately.

EXPECT PEACE TO BE MADE IN MEXICO IN THE NEXT FEW HOURS

was not chosen for the convenience of the newspaper men. It is on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande, midway between Juarez and the insurrecto camp. As Gen. Navarro will not allow the reporters to pass through Juarez it is necessary to make the trip to it by way of a foot bridge two miles beyond the meeting place, which necessitates the retracing of two miles or more on the Mexican side.

Rebels Expect Peace.

City of Mexico, May 4.—Anticipating the signing of terms of peace by Dr. Vasquez Gomex and Judge Carbajal, Ambrosio Figuera, one of the rebel leaders from the South, has arrived in the capital, accompanied by Col. Fausto Bellaran, to discuss terms of an armistice with the department of war.

Five days ago these two men faced each other in the field, but left their positions of their own accord and began negotiations for armistice pending the conclusion of the peace conference on the frontier.

Terms were agreed upon but the war department refused its sanction. Good advice prevailed, however, and safe conduct to this capital was promised the revolutionary leader. The federal colonel and the rebel chief talked over the situation with Minister Limantour and Gen. Cozio, minister of war. Figueroa refused to tell the details of the conference, but in official quarters the opinion is expressed that an arrangement will be reached.

Rebels Getting Bolder.

As an indication of the growing strength and boldness of the rebels it may be cited that tonight 300 men under the command of Maj. Joequin Miranda are camped on the slopes of Ajusco, the volcano, not more than seven miles from Tlapam, a suburb of the capital and the summer home of the governor of the district. This band has been operating in the rear of Tlapam for some days, frequently appearing in its outskirts.

Amecameca, the town lying at the foot of Mount Popocatepetl, in the state of Mexico, and Yauptepec, in the state of Morelos, have been added to the list of those captured by rebels. Both towns are valuable to the rebels as sources of supplies, but neither has any great strategical value. In Amecameca the rebels took possession of the city hall, filling the offices with men of their own appointment. Yauptepec a number of stores were sacked.

Federals in Battle.

A two hours' battle at Minas Nuevas, Chihuahua, was reported to the war department today. The rebels were defeated, their loss being four dead. No federals were killed.

Another battle reported to the war department was that in Penon Blanco in the state of San Luis Ptosi. The rebels under Nicolas Torres were defeated after three hours' fighting. The losses on both sides were slight.

A resident of the capital today made the trip to Cuernavaca and back, passing through rebel lines after being recognized by a friend in the ranks of the revolutionists. At Tres Mares, not more than forty miles from the capital, he says there are fully 2,000 rebels, almost all of which are well armed, under command of Moreno.

Mazatlan Captured.

Tucson, Ariz., May 4.—A Mexican arriving from Guayamas, Mex., on a delayed train, says it was reported when he left that Mazatlan had fallen into the hands of the rebels. He said that the telegraph wire was working for a brief period and that the news of the capture of Mazatlan was flashed at that time.

Nogales, May 4.—It is believed the rebels of Sonora are about to begin a campaign against Nogales, Mex., across the international border from here. Should they do so, the incident of bullets flying across the border into a United States town as in Douglas, Ariz., will be repeated. The Mexican town of Nogales is just across the line from Nogales, Ariz., and the two are in fact but a single town. A street marks the international boundary line.

Nogales is the border terminus of the Southern Pacific railroad lines in Mexico and is an important port of entry.

Rebel in American Hands.

Tecate, Cal., May 4.—Jack Mosby, leader of the rebel band which marched north from Alamo to Tecate, Lower California, and who was severely wounded in a brush with Mexican rurales, was turned over to the United States troops here by his own men. They did it to save his life, they said.

Great National Corn Show.

There is every probability that Minneapolis will secure the great corn show for 1912. To that end, the three big cities of Minnesota have joined hands, and the result will probably be a mammoth show in the city which is already so well known as the home of golden grain belt beers, the beers which "cost the most to brew, but no more to get to you." If you are not a convert to the use of the beers made with the best water, order a case today and become one. Get supplied by your nearest dealer, or minneapolis brewing company duluth branch.

The indicted men appeared at the courthouse soon after the bills were returned yesterday, accompanied by Attorney John A. Connor, and furnished bonds at once. The amount was $5,000 for the senators and Representative Lowery. The bond of Nye and Diegle was $10,000.

Detectives Not Indicted.

Three detectives, F. S. Harrison, A. C. Bailey and David H. Berry, who allege they trapped the legislators in the bribery deal and who were arrested last week, at the instance of Nye, were bound over to the grand jury Monday, but the grand jury returned "no bills" in their cases. The detectives will be the principal witnesses at the trial of the assemblymen and Diegle, which it is said will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Sergeant-at-Arms Diegle asserted that he was innocent of wrong-doing. The indicted officials also asserted they were innocent.

Resign From Committee.

Dr. Nye yesterday handed to Speaker Vining his resignation as a member of the house of representatives calendar committee, his action following that of the other six members, who followed the lead of Representatives Price, Russell of Wayne, and Lawrence Langdon of Warren. The latter resigned after notice and that they would do so unless Dr. Nye resigned.

Following Dr. Nye's resignation, Speaker Vining selected an entirely new calendar committee, reappointing only Representative Russell and Langdon, who are respectively Democratic and Republican floor leaders.

whether the Lorimer matter shall be referred again to the committee on elections or whether it shall be referred to a special committee named consisting entirely of new members of the senate.

Borah Announces Plans.

Senator Borah, in charge of the fight for the direct election of senators, had announced that he would today endeavor to have the resolution embodying that legislation made the unfinished business of the senate. The resolution recently passed the house and was favorably reported by the senate judiciary committee. As the first measure to receive committee consideration in the senate there was every reason to believe that this resolution would be given the right of way, pending discussion of Canadian reciprocity by the senate committee on finance.

Clayton Flays Republicans.

An attack on the Republican policy of protection marked the continuation of debate on the free list bill in the house today. Representative Clayton of Alabama, denounced the imposition of what he declared were "prohibitive duties."

"The Republican party," he said, "makes a tariff to restrain the American market; to give unnatural and unequal benefits to the favored interests that have been fostered by the protective system, and to allow them to exploit the American consumers by charging them excessive prices."

He declared that Governor Woodrow Wilson had given most timely expression to Democratic policy, when he said that "programs had taken the place of phillipics."

The program that the Democrats are putting through the house was pointed to by Mr. Clayton as proof of that assertion.

In the Wake of the Measles.

The little son of Mrs. O. B. Palmer, Little Rock, Ark., had the measles. The result was a severe cough which grew worse and he could not sleep. She says: "One bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound completely cured him and he has never been bothered since." Croup, whooping cough, measles cough all yield to Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. The genuine is in the yellow package always. Refuse substitutes. For sale by all druggists.

SENATE DELAYS MEETING TIME

Will Convene Hereafter at 2 p. m. Instead of at Noon.

Washington, May 4.—After a two years' fight, the senate today adopted the Bailey resolution fixing 2 p. m. as the hour for convening instead of noon, as heretofore. The new rule will be in effect "until otherwise ordered."

ORDER HOLDS UP HIGHER ICE RATES

Commerce Commission Suspends Advances in the Northwest.

Washington, May 4.—Proposed advances in freight rates on ice, made by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway and other Northwestern lines, averaging approximately 10 per cent, were suspended today by the interstate commerce commission from May 5 to Sept. 2, 1911, pending inquiry. Rates on ice to the East and Central West are affected by the order.

BANDY EPITHETS IN ITALIAN TRIAL

Abbatemaggio and Salvi Call Names at Camorrist Hearing.

Viterbo, Italy, May 4.—The trial of the Camorrists was resumed today, a substitute juror taking the place of Dr. Michele de Maria, whose indisposition necessitated an early adjournment yesterday. Again Gennaro Abbatemaggio, the informer, held the center of the stage, being called upon to confront Giuseppe Salvi and later Antonio Cerrato, both of whom he denounced as having taken an active part in the murder of Gennario Cuocolo. He repeated his original accusations against Salvi, the latter denying each in turn.

Then the two exchanged invectives, the war of words ending thus:

"Assassin" and "Cow."

Abbatemaggio—"You are an assassin."

Salvi—"You are like a cow, which is called an ass with horns. You have a muddy conscience which you have sold to the carabineers."

Cerrato, whose manner suggested that he had not forgotten or forgiven the insult of yesterday, when Abbatemaggio spat in his face, was released from the prisoners' cage, and stood before the informer.

"This man," said Abbatemaggio, "struck Cuocolo with a club after he had been stabbed by the others and was half dead!"

"You are a liar!" was the response, and in this vein the dialogue was continued.

PRESIDENTIAL BEES BUZZING

Boomlets for La Follette, Roosevelt and Taft Nursed in Minnesota.

St. Paul, Minn., May 4.—The Dispatch says: Gumshoeing about in the Minnesota political garden are two or three presidential booms—little ones rather scouting for some vantage ground and uncertain of ownership. Three of these movements are discernible, one for Senator La Follette, one for La Follette or Roosevelt, and one for the renomination of President Taft. Then, possibly on the theory that every little movement has a meaning of its own, there is a suggestion of Clapp for president, which, sifted to its bottom, is believed to be a move of the La Follette supporters to secure for the Wisconsin man the Minnesota delegation to the national Republican convention.

Progressives Are Active.

Indications are that the progressive element is lining up for one of the greatest political battles in the history of the state. In Minneapolis, such men as George S. Loftus, James Manahan and James Peterson are straightening out their lead wires for La Follette. In St. Paul, Judge Pinehout, Leavitt Cornish, Hugh T. Halbert and other progressives are lining up the clans in a quiet way for either La Follette or Roosevelt. The crowd at the Federal building, of course, is preparing to stay back of the administration. Senator Clapp and Senator La Follette are close friends, and because of their common interests it is likely Mr. Clapp would like to see La Follette the chief executive of the nation. Capturing the Minnesota delegation to the national Republican convention for him, however, would admittedly be some task. The "standpatters" couldn't see "Fighting Bob" with a field glass and the federal officeholders couldn't recognize him under any circumstances—at least openly they couldn't.

Might Make Him Second Choice.

Within the past few days the suggestion has been made that the Minnesota delegation be sent to the national convention instructed to cast its first ballot for Clapp, and thereafter to swing its entire support to La Follette. Cummins of Iowa or Col. Roosevelt. Senator Clapp is not looked on as presidential timber at this time, but it might be possible to have the Minnesota delegation instructed for him with some well-known progressive as second choice.

ILLINOIS HOUSE KILLS POPULAR MEASURE.

Springfield, Ill., May 4.—Members of the house last night defeated the initiative and referendum amendment to the state Constitution. The subject was up in the form of a resolution providing that the question of such an amendment be submitted to a vote of the people.

At the last general election the people urged the adoption of such an amendment by a vote of 4 to 1. The resolution was adopted unanimously by the senate two weeks ago. The vote, which was taken at midnight following an all-day fight, stood 93 yeas to 29 nays. A two-thirds majority, or 102 votes, was necessary to adopt the resolution in the house.

BAY STATE SENATE AGAINST INCOME TAX.

Boston, Mass., May 4.—By a vote of 11 to 10, the Massachusetts state senate refused to ratify the proposed amendment to the federal Constitution providing for an income tax. The measure recently passed the house by an overwhelming vote.

Revolt at Canton Over.

London, May 4.—A special dispatch from Hongkong says the insurrection at Canton is ended and that there is no fear of a renewal of the fighting. The viceroy has appealed to the governor of Hongkong to assist him in the suppression of the smuggling of arms.

INTERNATIONAL PRESS CONGRESS IN ROME.

Rome, May 4.—The international press congress opened at the capitol today, 500 delegates reporting. King Victor Emmanuel, Queen Helena, the members of the ministry and many government officials were present. Mayor Nathan welcomed the visitors, and Former Premier Luzzatti, who has returned to the work of a journalist, delivered a speech in which he dweit upon the increasing importance of the press.

PATENTS ISSUED TO MINNESOTA INVENTORS.

Silk Mill Strike Off.

WE DISSOLVE DISEASES

The wonderful process which we invented actually does dissolve the diseased organs and thus completely eradicates the disease.

Perhaps the greatest medical triumph of this century was the discovery of the disease-dissolving process

Since its discovery it has saved the lives of thousands and thousands of people who otherwise would certainly not have recoved.

We ourselves—the inventors—have saved many hundreds of Duluth men by our command of this process.

Our success in so-called "incurable" cases has been little short of miraculous, so some of our friends and patients inform us.

There is, however, nothing of the miraculous about it.

Scientific knowledge is the instrument that, in our hands, works the cure.

We have not just walked around the edge of this field of learning, we have completely covered it—whatever we could learn that would help us in our work for men we have learned.

We have studied this subject in the great colleges of Germany and also in those of America, but, best of all we have studied it on the actual field of battle—and there we got our most useful knowledge.

Now, after more than two decades of practice, we are in a position to cure with certainty.

WE ASK ANY SUFFERING MAN TO COME TO US AND WE WILL GUARANTEE TO CURE HIM.

Our records bear countless cases of cures of:

USE DOLLARS, NOT BULLETS

Huntington Wilson Says Commerce Has Supplanted War.

Talks at Peace Congress in Baltimore—President Voices Policies.

Baltimore, Md., May 4.—"Dollar diplomacy," the newly coined phrase applied to the expansion of American business interests through the efforts of the state department of the United States, "means the substitution of dollars for bullets; the creation of a prosperity which will be preferred to predatory strife," and "a practical mode of pursuing the ideal of world peace," according to the interpretation of Huntington Wilson, assistant secretary of state, as presented to the third National Peace congress today. Mr. Wilson presided at the forenoon session.

Among others who spoke at this meeting were Congressmen Richard Bartholdt of Missouri and James L. Slayden of Texas, Prof. E. H. Griffen, dean of Johns Hopkins university, and Dr. F. W. Boatwright, president of Richmond college.

Taft Tells Nation's Policy.

President Taft in his speech at the opening of the confernce, declared that the United States would keep hands off and not seek to extend its domain or to acquire foreign territory.

The president made no mention of Mexico, but it was evident that the troubled situation there and the suspicion in the South American republics as to the intention of this nation in regard to its Southern neighbors, had inspired him.

The president had been speaking of the recurrence of disturbances in countries not so well able as the United States to maintain order and peace and had said that it was incumbent upon the great nations of this hemisphere to exercise their kindly and peaceful influence as much as possible.

Difficulty as Peacemaker.

"One of the difficulties that the United States finds is the natural suspicions that the countries engaged have of the motives which the United States has in tendering its good offices," the president continued.

"Asseveration of good faith helps little where the suspicion is real, and yet I like to avail myself of an opportunity in such presence as this to assert that there is not in the whole length and breadth of the United States among its people any desire for territorial aggrandizement, and its people as a whole will not permit its government, if it would, to take any steps in respect to foreign peoples looking to a forcible extension of our political power.

"We have had wars and we know what they are. We know what responsibilities they entail, the burdens and losses and horrors, and we would have none of them.

Have Magnificent Domain.

"We have a magnificent domain of our own, in which we are attempting to work out and show to the world success in popular government, and we need no more territory in which to show this. But we have attained great prosperity and great power. We have become a powerful member of the community of nations in which we live, and there is, therefore, thrust upon us necessarily a care and responsibility for the peace of the world in our neighborhood and a burden of helping those nations that cannot help themselves, if we can do that peacefully and effectively."

The president spoke to several thousand people in the Lyric theater. Cardinal Gibbons, Secretary of War Dickinson, Senator Gore of Oklahoma, Andrew Carnegie and more than a dozen men prominent in the movement for world peace sat on the platform with the president. Cardinal Gibbons and Hamilton Holt, president of the conference, who spoke before the president, voiced the opinion that the negotiation of the proposed arbitration treaty between the United States and Great Britain would mark the greatest step toward universal peace that the world had ever seen.

Step Toward Ending War.

"An arbitration treaty between two great nations of the world," the president said, "would be an important step in securing the peace of the world. I do not claim any patent for a new discovery in that suggestion, because I have no doubt that it has often been made before. If such an arbitration treaty can be concluded, I have no doubt that an important step will have been taken, but it will not bring an end of war. It is a step only, and we must not defeat our purposes by enlarging the expectation of the world as to what is happening and from the disappointing of it. We must realize that we are dealing with a world that is fallible and full of weakness, with somewhat of wickedness in it; and that the reforms that are worth having are brought about little by little and not by one blow. I think that we are likely to make more progress if we express our hope with moderation and realize the difficulties that are to be overcome, than if we proclaim that we have opened the gate to eternal peace with one key and within one year."

Canadian Editor Speaks.

The president was particularly interested in a speech by Dr. J. A. McDonald, editor of the Toronto Globe, a warm advocate of reciprocity.

"If that arbitration treaty between your country and England is ratified," said Mr. McDonald, "the name of William Howard Taft will be remembered in world history so long as man loves peace.

"Above all other nations, Canada has the greatest stake in the proposed treaty; she has the most to gain by peace, and the most to lose by war.

"Canada desires the pact not for herself alone, but for the sake of the whole world. The time to do it is at hand. The hour is trembling, ready to strike; the tide is swelling to the flood, and if I ever had the right to speak for my country or for the empire to which I belong, it is now, and I ask that the parliament of Great Britain and the congress of the United States join to insure the peace of the whole world."

President Taft returned to Washington immediately after the meeting.

Need World Police.

London, May 4.—The earl of Selborn, who was governor of the Transvaal and high commissioner for South Africa, speaking in London last night, said the arbitration treaty with the United States seemed to be wholly within the compass of statesmanship, but that it was forgotten that at present there are no police of the world to enforce the arbitration decrees. Therefore, instead of talking about the beauties of international law, the people should set themselves to the solution of the great problem of who are to be the police of civilization.

LEGISLATURE SHATTERS ONE MAN'S LIFE WORK.

Springfield, Ill., May 4.—Representative H. T. Gilbert of Chicago saw his life's work discarded when the house yesterday defeated revision of the court procedure and practice act. When the roll call had been completed and it was apparent that the bill had failed to secure a majority vote, Representative Reid moved that further consideration be postponed and the motion prevailed. It is not likely that an effort will be made to bring the bill up again. But fifty-four votes were cast in favor of the bill.

Former Judge Gilbert came to the legislature for the sole purpose of securing the passage of the bill, upon which he has labored for years, and in the preparation of which he has personally expended a small fortune. Two years ago the senate passed the bill, but then, like yesterday, it failed to get through the house.

With its 1,202 printed pages, the bill holds the distinction of being the longest ever introduced in the Illinois legislature.

Our location in the low-rent district, our large wholesaling trade, enabling us to buy in enormous quantities and thus secure special trade discounts and the BEST of the manufacturers' output. STONE SMASHES SIGN.

West End Barber's "Look Up to God" Standard Demolished By Boys.

For the third time within the past three years the sign, which Andrew Monaghan, barber, has placed in front of his shop at 2222 West Superior street, has been broken. The sign is a familiar one. On one side it reads, "Look Up to God" and on the other "Lord Save My Soul."

A year ago last winter someone threw a snowball through it. It was replaced. Before that it had also been smashed and replaced. Monaghan has not stated whether he will replace the sign this time or not.

There has been much rowdyism in the West end of late by breaking windows and throwing stones at pedestrians. The police will keep a strict watch for future offenders.

WIDOWER KILLS HIS CHILDREN WITH GAS.

Boston, Mass., May 4.—Thomas Hagerty of Roxbury, meeting an acquaintance on the street last night, told him he had turned on the gas in the room occupied by his three daughters, aged 10, 7 and 4 years, and that they were dead. The police investigated, found the story true and arrested Hagerty. When the police entered the Hagerty home they found in the gas-filled room the three children cuddled together in bed as if asleep. The mother of the three little girls died a short time ago. It is believed her death unbalanced Hagerty's mind. He is 37 years old and had been employed as a butler in a Back Bay residence up to a few weeks ago.

Old Chicago Tunnel Caves In.

Chicago, May 4.—One man was killed and five others injured late yesterday when a section of the old La Salle street tunnel approaching the river, caved in, burying them. George Gluba, a workman, was crushed to death by the blocks of concrete.

Fatal Dynamite Explosion Broke Many Windows in Wisconsin Village.

Iron River, Wis., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Many windows in the village were shattered by the dynamite explosion that killed Mrs. Dahl here yesterday when Henry Ellerman's barn was burned and 150 pounds of dynamite set off as told in Wednesday's Duluth Herald. One of Mrs. Dahl's arms was completely torn off and she died from the subsequent shock and her great age, being 86. She was the mother of Harry and Fred Dahl of this city.

Mrs. James C. Smith was injured by a large cut over the eye, Ed Wallace had a large cut on the heat and Byron Jackson was injured on one leg. All the plate glass fronts on the main street on the East side were broken, including the plate glass front in the Wisconsin State building. Four horses and a large quantity of other property were burned with a very small amount of insurance.

STREET CAR MEN ARE REFUSED MORE PAY.

Philadelphia, May 4.—The demands of the conductors and motormen of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company for an increase in wages from 23 to 28 cents an hour, was refused yesterday by Charles O. Kruger, president and manager of the company, in a letter to representatives of the men. President Kruger also declined to keep alive the agitation by discussing the demands further.

President Kruger, in his letter, declares that the financial condition of the company does not justify any further increase in wages than already promised. He also declares that the supply of labor is much greater and the cost of living materially less than when, a year ago, the men returned to work under terms which fixed the scale of wages for a period of five years.

Americans Hosts in Rome.

Rome, May 4.—Harrison S. Morris, United States commissioner to the international exhibition at Rome, and Mrs. Morris gave a farewell dinner last night to Mayor Nathan, the foreign commissioners, exhibition officials and prominent Americans residing here. Mayor Nathan expressed a desire that the American pavilion be left as a permanent site for any exhibit Americans wished to make in the future. He said the municipality would give the land on which the pavilion stands.

LUMBERMEN HAVE A GOOD WORD FOR HINES.

The lumber business will be about as large as last year, is the opinion of B. W. Arnold of Albany, N. Y., well known lumberman and director in the firm of Alger, Smith & Co. Mr. Arnold is at the Spalding.

Mr. Arnold had a sympathetic word for Edward Hines, who is declared to have collected or been instrumental in the collection of the slush fund which "put Lorimer over." Mr. Arnold said: "As president of the National Lumber Manufacturers' association, Mr. Hines worked hard to kep a tariff on lumber and in doing so he made some influential enemies. He is a man of strong personality who makes strong friends and strong enemies."

Mr. Arnold said he thought indications pointed to something akin to free trade within the next few years.

J. M. Nolan of St. Paul, of the lumber firm of Nolan Brothers & Laird, who is in the city, said people who are condemning Hines for the part he is alleged to have played in the election of Senator Lorimer may be compelled to revise their opinions. He said the people do not realize the great political, business and personal animosities involved in the scandal.

Bemidji, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Beltrami county, near Blackduck, will be the scene of one of the interesting soil experiments authorized by the legislature, which is to be conducted by a reclaimation board of three members, composed of W. R. Mackenzie of Bemidji, chairman, W. J. Brown of Warren and A. J. McGuire of Grand Rapids.

FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them with the New Drug.

An eminent skin specialist recently discovered a new drug, othine—double strength, which is so uniformly successful in removing freckles and giving a clear beautiful complexion that it is sold by Boyce Drug Store under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first night's use will show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely. It is absolutely harmless, and cannot injure the most tender skin.

Be sure to ask Boyce Drug Store for double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money back guarantee.

DULUTH, JUNE 1 AND 2.

The fourth meeting of that lively and robust infant, the Northern Minnesota Development association, will be held in Duluth Thursday and Friday, June 1 and 2.

When the first meeting of this organization was projected for Bemidji, The Herald said "Go to Bemidji." When the second meeting was planned at Crookston, The Herald said "Go to Crookston." When the third meeting was held at Brainerd, The Herald said "Go to Brainerd."

And now that the fourth meeting is scheduled for Duluth, The Herald, in behalf of the city of Duluth and of St. Louis county and in its own behalf, invites you to "come to Duluth."

It may not be out of place to say that Duluth was present in force at all three of the previous meetings of the association, that it was there seeking to do its share of the work for the common good of Northern Minnesota, that it asked and expected no benefits except such as it shared in common with the other communities in the association's territory, and that as the host of the association its attitude will be precisely the same as it has been.

In many respects, the coming session of the association will be the most important it has yet held. Since the last meeting at Brainerd the first session of the legislature since the birth of the association has taken place. In the light of the results of the session the association must take stock of its achievements and of the work yet to be done. Though its achievements are not to be despised, they are vastly fewer than the tasks yet to be done; and at the Duluth meeting the association must lay its plans for doing that which remains undone.

Though Duluth never has asked the association to meet with it, Duluth was more than pleased when the decision was made to come here, and it scarcely needs to be said that Duluth will leave nothing undone that seems likely to make the delegates glad they came. If we do say it ourselves, Duluth is a good place to come to. There are many interesting things to see and do, and there will be plenty of entertainers anxious to see that the delegates see and do all there is to see and do. The work of the association itself is going to be highly important and interesting, but there is going to be time for sight-seeing and other enjoyments also.

The time is less than a month away. Secretary W. R. MacKenzie, who has been the life of the association, is on the ground busy with his plans, and the Duluth Commercial club is busy with its preparations for entertainment. May The Herald suggest, Mr. Northern Minnesota, that you get busy with your plans for attending the meeting?

There will be little trouble in inducing those who have attended the previous meetings of the association to come to this one. If any delegate ever got away from one of these meetings without being hugely interested and entertained beyond his most extravagant expectations, we never saw the color of his hair.

But besides those who have been faithful in their attendance at these meetings—of course it is eminently desirable that every one of these shall be at Duluth next month—it is to be hoped that a lot of people who haven't tried it yet will indulge themselves in the pleasure of visiting Duluth and participating in a meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development association. They will find it worth their while.

REPRESENTATIVE GOVERNMENT.

Talking to the Princeton class of 1911, Attorney General Wickersham the other evening said his say about pending movements to put more governmental power in the hands of the people—movements to which he pleased to apply the terms of "demogoguery" and "Constitution-tinkering."

Like all others of his cast of mind and habit of thought, his argument against direct legislation took the form of a eulogy of "representative government."

Advocates of things as they are and opponents of moving ahead, such as Mr. Wickersham, show themselves strangely lacking in a sense of humor when in this day and age they oppose the popular election of United States senators, the initiative and referendum and the recall.

If they did not lack the saving grace of a sense of humor, they would realize the ludicrousness of praising representative government at a time when the country rings with a hideous clamor which is proving pretty conclusively that representative government is a fizzle.

Perhaps that is putting it a little strongly. It has been so many years since this country had representative government that it is pretty hard to tell just how it might work if it were really tried.

For the chief trouble with representative government as it has been exemplified in state and nation for a generation is that it hasn't represented. That is, it hasn't represented those whom it was created to represent. It has represented something, of course, but it hasn't represented the plain people for whom the world was made. It has represented big business, for a long time with the consent of most of the people because they believed that the prosperity of big business was their prosperity. That was before the people discovered that the machinery had been skillfully rigged up so that while it seemed on its face that the prosperity of big business was everybody's prosperity, in point of fact as things were running it meant very thin and very blue skim-milk prosperity for the many and very rich cream prosperity for the few.

And, mostly, "representative government" has represented the greed of the few for more of that very rich cream of the product of a people's toil.

While the Wickershams launch their thunders against putting more power into the hands of the people, legislative inefficiency in one state, legislative corruption in another state and legislative negligence in still other states are showing the vital need of the very thing against which the sycophants of Special Privilege fuss and fume: that government shall be brought more closely into the hands of the people, so that it may be forced to represent the common good and not the greed of the plunderers who have not hesitated to debauch every branch of government they needed in their business.

Representative government was a very good stepping stone toward real democracy, and it served its purpose well until it ceased to represent anything but venal politics, allied with greedy privilege. In the meantime the people have been learning, and now that they are fitted to handle their own affairs, the time has about come for the next step ahead. That step, whether you call it "demagoguery" with Mr. Wickersham or progress with Mr. Roosevelt, consists in cutting away the red tape that hides the machinery of government from the plain people, and in putting the many in charge of that which concerns the many.

LET'S BE JUST.

It is difficult to understand why Superintendent Whittier should be so unmercifully abused for refusing to resign when resignation would be a humiliating confession that all the charges brought against him are true. No man with self-respect and courage cares to retire in the face of battle and thereby confess himself a poltroon and everything else that anybody pleases to call him.

If Mr. Whittier is the cruel and malignant tyrant that his enemies have painted him, of course he ought to go. If he is such a man there ought to be no difficulty in getting rid of him.

But here is a fact that a good many people seem to be losing sight of: that both branches of the legislature, in full possession of all the facts brought out by a complete investigation which many of the members attended in person, deliberately and after thorough consideration and full debate refused to recommend Whittier's removal. If the evidence had shown him to be all that his enemies picture him undoubtedly the legislature would not have hesitated to demand his discharge.

Minnesota does not want in charge of such an institution as the Red Wing school a man who is viciously cruel and inhuman.

But Minnesota does not want to be unjust, and it does not want to sacrifice to his enemies a man who deserves better treatment. Above all, it should avoid the possibility that an innocent man may become the victim of a skillfully arranged conspiracy between personal enemies and those with political ends in view. And there was more than a suspicion around the legislature when the Whittier case was up that something of this sort was in the wind.

WILSON.

This is a chance for the people of the country to become more intimately acquainted with the most commanding, most appealing and most admirable figure in the public life of the nation today, and they will take advantage of it wherever he goes. They will find that this man, who has so suddenly grasped the affection and the confidence of the American public, will not disappoint them on close acquaintance. Combining the graces and erudition of the scholar with the grim courage and indomitable aggression of the statesman and the warm, all-embracing sympathy of the true man with the tact and finesse of the politician, Woodrow Wilson's is a personality that has grown rapidly upon the public vision in the few months of his public life, and that seems destined to grow more rapidly still between now and November, 1912.

Woodrow Wilson is more than a scholar, more than a governor, more than a party leader, more than a people's advocate. He is a man and a citizen, and his contempt for precedents of bossism, ring rule and the autocracy of privilege fits him for the high place in the confidence of the people into which he has so suddenly been borne in the wings of his high purpose and single-minded patriotism.

THE NEW FOREST SERVICE.

The legislature of 1911 can be forgiven a good many negligences and frivolities because of the breadth of vision shown by its creation of the new forest service. It is true that it might have provided more money than it did to carry on the work. It gave $75,000 a year, only half as much as was asked; but if there are no disastrous forest fires to cause extraordinary expenses the forestry board ought to be able to get far enough along on that sum to prove to the next legislature that it is safe and wise to provide more generously.

The organization of the new service is beginning most auspiciously. The forestry board provided for by the new law includes the real enthusiasts of the old board like Mr. Scott of Duluth and Mr. Oldenburg of Carlton, and they are proceeding with wisdom and foresight.

Much—if not nearly everything—depended upon the selection of the chief forester. The policy of the law was to provide for getting a good man, to pay enough to insure getting that kind of a man, to put in his hands full authority and full responsibility, and to give him a chance to make good. The result of the board's initial task is the selection for chief forester of William T. Cox, who has had charge of tree-growing work under the Federal forest service, and who from all accounts is primed with full and practical knowledge and, better still, with that keen interest and enthusiasm without which the task before him would be appalling if not impossible. The appointment seems particularly fortunate, and hardly less happy is the appointment of D. P. Tierney, a Minnesota expert, as his assistant.

These two men have before them a formidable task, and they should have the support of the interest and patience of all the people of the state. They have an entirely new system to create, for there has been practically no system before, and this is a work that cannot be finished in a day or a week or in many months. The responsibility resting upon them is as high as any in the state, and The Herald bespeaks for them the cordial sympathy and support of the people of Minnesota.

"SPOILS" AND ELOQUENCE

By SAVOYARD.

The civilization of Rome might have survived if the Pretorian bands had not demoralized the empire by their demands upon the authorities, who basely surrendered to their exactions. And Pretorianism is not yet dead. What a sickening story is that of France, the fairest land beneath the sun, and the bravest nation of a hundred wars, under the Valois, under the Bourbon, and under Napoleon the Little. Read St. Simon, or any one of a dozen other historians of the country of Du Guesclin, of Dunois, and of Bayard, and you will see how the government was prostituted and the people crushed by the horde of worthless scamps billeted on the public purse, and the swarms of even more vile demireps, wanton with the lust of pleasure and brazen with the lust of gain, who poisoned with their seductions and tainted with their conquests.

Well, we have the thing in modified form in this country, and it is expressed in the exultation, "To the victor belong the spoils." It succeeded in the time of Jackson because there were pretty nearly enough offices to go round; but while the places have increased by mathematical progression, the place-seekers have augmented by geometrical progression. It is the bane of our system, for it is superlatively American to be a public functionary. By March 4, 1913, the Republicans will have had the presidency sixteen years. If the Democrats shall then come in, the man they put in the White House can get anything he wishes out of congress if he shall call an extra session and refuse to distribute the pie until he receives what he demands in way of legislation. What a pity it is that we do not elect the president for life and then take from him every shred of political power he has except to choose the flunkeys and the menials at the executive mansion. That would emancipate congress and render its members independent of the president.

I fell into the foregoing reflections upon reading in the newspapers that James B. Courts had been retained as clerk of the house committee of appropriations. Great was the surprise thereat, though it was not only the natural thing to do, but the inevitable thing to do. And pity it is that the rule does not maintain throughout the appointive civil service that does not require the advice and consent of the senate to make a change. Official patronage is a burden and not a staff, a liability, and not an asset, to the party in power and to the politician not in office.

The committee of appropriations of the house of representatives was carved out of the committee of ways and means in 1865 in compliment to old Thad Stevens, who was its first chairman. He appointed a man of his own name, but not of kin, Robert J. Stevens of California, clerk, who held the position until 1883, though there were three Democratic congresses—the Forty-fourth, Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth—between 1865 and 1883. But in 1877, Mr. Atkins, a Tennessee Democrat, was chairman of the committee, and he appointed Mr. Courts as assistant clerk. In 1883 he became clerk, a position he has held ever since. He was appointed as a Democrat, and every chairman since—Randall, Holman, and Sayers, Democrats, and Cannon, Hemenway and Tawney, Republicans—has retained him, because of his accomplishments and his experience. I would like to see the sundry civil bill the committee would make without his suggestions.

"But," you say, "this man might die." That is provided for. In 1897 Mr. Holman brought a young man here from Indiana, K. F. Rea, a Democrat, and he was made assistant clerk. He was continued in that position by Cannon, by Hemenway, and by Tawney, Republican chairmen. I'll tell you what became of him after a while.

The senate committee of appropriations was created in 1871. I don't remember who was its first clerk, but in 1873, Thomas P. Cleaves of Vermont, a Republican, became clerk, and he held the position till his death in 1910, and though as strenuous a Democrat as F. M. Cockrell of Missouri, became chairman of the committee in 1893.

When Mr. Cleaves died, Eugene Hale of Maine, was chairman. There were 100, nay, 1,000 men in Maine who would have jumped at the offer of this clerkship. But, however much we may disagree with Hale, he is a patriot and a statesman, and he sent over to the house committee for its assistant clerk, Mr. Rea, an Indiana Democrat, and made him clerk of the senate committee. At this time both committees have assistants who are trained to their duties, and if there are any "indispensables" at this capital they are the clerks of these two committees and their assistants.

And I repeat that it is a pity and a calamity that a man's politics should weigh in appointments to any subordinate position in the civil service. It would be just as reasonable to scrutinize the politics of a man to whom you sold a horse, or of whom you bought a pig, and in my poor humble judgment we will not have entirely sane politics until we shall completely divorce the subordinate civil service from politics, as they have succeeded in doing in England, where the "spoils" for centuries gave so much worry to the victors. If I had my way every postmaster except in cities of 100,000 inhabitants and upwards should be elected by the people of the bailiwick and he should hold office for life or good behavior, unless he chose to resign. It is an outrage to appoint a Republican postmaster in Mississippi, or a Democratic postmaster in Vermont.

Mr. Clark of Florida and Mr. Murdock of Kansas have sought to reform the Congressional Record. Mr. Clark would have that publication to contain no speech not delivered in open session, and Mr. Murdock would have the warning, "Not delivered in the House," put at the head of every "speech" inserted in the record under operation of "leave to print." These gentlemen failed in their endeavor, for the practice is well settled that the only way to abolish it is to abolish the Record itself.

There has never been leave to print in the senate, but most of the set speeches in that body are read by the authors, a practice unknown the first sixty years of the senate's history, with a single exception. The last speech of Mr. Calhoun was written, but he was not physically capable of reading it, and Mr. Mason of Virginia, perhaps it was, read it. Mr. Calhoun being present. John B. Thompson of Kentucky delivered that rollicking speech on Cuba in the senate, sitting, and most of Oliver P. Morton's speeches were delivered without his rising from his chair. It is generally agreed that Mr. Webster was our most consummate parliamentary orator, but all his speeches in the senate were subjected to the most rigid revision before they were printed. Had they appeared as they fell from his lips, Webster's name would not have been half what it was.

About twenty years ago Gen. Spinola, a member of congress from New York, died, and when the house came to "eulogize" him, Tim Campbell read a short and beautiful tribute to the memory of the dead Tammany brave, and a Mr. Miller from Wisconsin, I believe, followed the Hon. Tim. The Record next morning disclosed that the two speeches were identical in general and in detail. They had bought it from the same man, who happened to be too lazy, or too drunk, to write two speeches.

Donn Piatt, who had a mighty poor opinion of John A. Logan's eloquence, told how Logan employed a "literary feller" to write him a speech. The "Grubstreeter" made the quotation:

"Thick as leaves in Vallambrosia."

But Logan delivered it with an interpolation, thus:

"Thick as leaves in the vale of Vallambrosia."

Which was a horrible and revolting tautology. The literary chap threatened to sue Logan for damages, for it being well known on "the Row" that he wrote the speech, Logan's delivery of it was a reflection on his literary accomplishments.

There have been 10,000 volumes written about the big war between the states. Logan's is the stupidest, and that is saying a heap.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

A meeting is to be held at the chamber of commerce rooms tomorrow afternoon by those interested in the location here of a charcoal blast furnace for the reduction of iron ores. It was at first thought best to raise $100,000, but recently it was determined to get $150,000. Of this sum, $40,000 has already been subscribed. The furnace will be built in the very heart of the city if the plans are carried through.

Today those of Polish birth and extraction celebrated the national day of the old country, and Duluth had its procession with flags and banners. The procession was headed by Chief Marshal T. Helinski, with S. and W. Walczak as assistants. M. Rybak was marshal for the Progress society, A. Kwapich for the Holy Cross society, J. Majchozah for St. Joseph society and A. Bejenka for St. Stanislaus society. A meeting will be held tonight at Catholic Association hall, when addresses will be delivered by Bishop McGolrick, President T. W. Hugo of the city council, G. G. Hartley and others.

B. P. Hutchinson, the missing Chicago board of trade speculator, has been found. He left today to visit his old homestead in the vicinity of Salem, Mass.

Reports from many points in Northern Minnesota indicate that the frost was so severe last night as to cut down all wheat and garden truck. From many points in the Dakotas come reports of snow.

The income of the Duluth Gas & Water company for the year ended May 1, 1891, was $140,000, which is an increase of nearly thirteenfold over the total income of 1883, which was $11,000. The interest charges last year aggregated $79,000, leaving $61,000 for expenses and dividends, which latter have been regularly paid. The company is now arranging to sell $295,000 of 5 per cent bonds to construct a higher reservoir and pumping system and make needed extensions.

MINNESOTA OPINIONS.

Wilkin County Gazette: Nothing will do more to attract settlers to a county than good roads. It is high time our people were beginning to understand and appreciate this fact. Bob Dunn did a great deal for the cause of good roads in the last legislature, and it is now up to the people of the state to follow the way he has pointed out.

A First-Class Fighting Man.

Winona Independent: When Governor Woodrow Wilson's election reform bill was introduced in the New Jersey legislature its enactment was regarded as highly improbable. It was a revolutionary bill for New Jersey. The Massachusetts ballot form was provided for; election boards were empowered to arrest men for false registration as well as for illegal voting, and the whole election machinery was overhauled. Consequently the measure was opposed by machine politicians of both parties who hitherto have controlled the state. It had the further disadvantage coming from a Democratic governor requiring the assent of a Republican senate. The governor put the bill through the house by calling a Democratic conference and telling the members that if they failed to get right he would appeal to their constituents. The senate yielded to similar pressure. "In many instances," a Trenton dispatch says, "senators explained that the people of their districts wanted the bill passed." They wanted it passed because public sentiment had been aroused by Wilson. The enacting of the election law is a victory as important as the defeat of Smith, the corporation candidate for senator of New Jersey. It was achieved in the face of as bitter opposition in the one case as in the other. This man Wilson is a fighter.

A Fair Offer.

Monticello Times: A Kentucky woman gives the proceeds of her hens Sunday laid eggs to the church. We'll give the fish we catch to the parson if our wife will let us go fishing on Sundays.

Playing the Farmer.

Sauk Rapids Sentinel: Several of the agricultural papers of the Northwest are making the fight against reciprocity their fight. Why? We don't profess to know but it looks as though they were trying to play the farmer for a sucker and by making a big stall about the alleged injury reciprocity would work to him, make him think the agricultural papers are his only friends. Then again the appearance of cartoons furnished by the American Protective Tariff league (the greatest of standpat organizations) in some of these so-called farm papers makes one wonder what relation exists between their business officers and this league.

Death to the Blind Pigs.

Stillwater Gazette: That malt bill passed by the Minnesota legislature will prove a good thing, as it will no doubt be the means of putting out of business many of the sightless porker places, known as blind pigs. These joints sell liquors on the quiet, covering the operation by the sale of malt. The law contemplates putting these houses out of business and confining the sale of malt to places that are lawfully permitted to do so by reason of paying a license. That is a good bill and the good roads bill is a good one, as well as quite a number of others for which the legislature should have credit.

Unfair and Unjust.

Holdingford Advertiser: The act presenting a constitutional amendment providing that no county shall have more than seven senators in the legislature is unfair and unjust and will not be expected to be adopted by the state, but it will give an excellent opportunity to describe how some of the interests work their schemes among the law makers. When selfishness deliberately sets about to thwart the will of the people it is most likely to get a jolt that will put it out of business for a time.

A Problem For the Senate.

Albert Lea Tribune: And now it is said that Senator Stephenson of Wisconsin, is likely to be investigated as to the methods of his election to that body. If this thing keeps up what will become of the senate?

Lindbergh Ambitious.

St. Cloud Journal-Press: A Detroit paper is authority for the statement that Congressman Lindbergh will be a candidate for United States senator next year, and that Senator Gunderson of Alexandria will be a candidate for congress. This is probably mere speculation. Senator Gunderson would make an excellent congressman.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

New York Press: A girl knows her hair can curl naturally by her saying it does.

The only man who ever seems to get bored with his job is the devil.

Even if a man really did want little here below he'd want to get it without working for it.

A man knows a lot when he knows it isn't enough to keep him from being fooled by a woman.

Just the same, the clinging kind of woman seems to be the very one that picks a man up and carries him when he falls down.

Pointed Paragraphs.

Chicago News: The man behind the bass drum is not the only chap that beats his way through life.

And occasionally a man who has no mind for figures occupies a front seat at a burlesque show.

Care is said to have killed a cat, but there is a lot of care and a lot of cats that fail to get together.

Before marriage a woman thinks she ought to have a protector, but after marriage she discovers that she has a husband to protect.

Of course, a girl is never really angry if a young man tries to kiss her, but if she thinks the occasion demands it she can put up a gigantic bluff.

Last Word in Mob Rule.

Washington Herald: It may not prove a bad scheme to apply the recall plan to umpires.

A MOMENT WITH THE WITS.

London Opinion: Gertie—How's my young brother getting on with your firm?

Bertie—Well, what time he can spare from the adornment of his appearance he devotes to the neglect of his duties!

Philadelphia Ledger: "Oh, joy. She has written a letter saying she will marry me."

"Congratulations. When?"

"Well—er—you see, her father has to indorse this promissory note before it's good."

Chicago Record-Herald: "I have declined marriage proposals from five men," said the fair widow.

"Have you?" her friend asked. "I didn't suppose your husband had been as heavily insured as that."

Lippincott's Magazine: A New Jersey man named his twin sons Roosevelt and Taft. A friend asked him recently how they were getting along.

"Famously," was the answer. "Taft digs steadily into his breakfast bowl, while Roosevelt yells and pounds him over the head with a spoon."

Chicago Record-Herald: "I am glad," said the conceited ass, "I am not as other men."

"That probably makes it unanimous," observed one who possessed reasoning powers.

Cleveland Leader: Mrs. Stoplate—Do you remember when we were children and I used to come and play with you?

Miss Tersleep—Yes—and your mamma never let you stay more than an hour. Those were happy days.

THE OPEN COURT.

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest. Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

LUCKY TO HAVE CHANCE TO PAY TAXES.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I would (with your usual kindness) like to answer A. L.'s letter in Wednesday's issue of your paper and say that all progressive legislation takes taxes off necessities and puts them on luxuries, and to be able to answer the above complaint it is only necessary to determine whether an automobile is a luxury and in support of that contention I would say that no one would think of carrying potatoes, flour, coal or merchandise in an automobile, which goes to support the idea that even the tax on delivery rigs and auto-trucks ought to be taken off and added to the automobile taxes that already exist, as a measure of justice to all concerned, and when A. L. realizes that by being able to own and pay taxes on an automobile that he is better off than most people he will see that he has no right or reason to squeal, for the ordinary citizen, with all his endeavor, is only about able to walk the sidewalk and get a whiff of the smoke-wagon as it rushes by in the pursuit of pleasure that the worker pays for but does not get in this competitive age.

ANOTHER REQUEST FOR A CHANGE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

That letter in The Herald last evening, suggesting that Mme. Bernhardt substitute some other play for "Madame X," struck me as very timely.

"Madame X" is a good enough drama, but there are other things more distinctive of Mme. Bernhardt. She has added "Madame X" to her repertoire but recently, and I know of many people in Duluth who would much prefer to see her in something else—something that is more closely associated with her than this modern play. She has a repertoire that includes "L'Aiglon," "Camille," "Jeanne d'Arc" and "La Tosca." Most of all, however, I would like to see her in "La Samaritaine," Rostand's new play, which she has presented in some other cities.

This is not an entirely personal matter, for I have heard many others express the same opinion, and I believe "Madame X" would be the least popular drama in her repertoire, because of its recent presentation here, and for reasons I have given above. I do not know whether Manager Marshall has the power to change the bill, but if he has, I hope he will do it.

"La Samaritaine" might shock some good people in Duluth. In it, the Christ appears on the stage, but the drama, judged from what I have heard of it, is beautiful and inspiring, and I would like to see Bernhardt in it. Failing that give us one of the others.

WANTED---LEISURE.

Temple Scott, in the May Forum: Making a living is not living; making a living is only a means of living. We have not thought of this, of course. We are so tasked in the work that we have not the time in which to recover ourselves for reflection. We never do recover ourselves. Our selves are lost, drowned in the flood of labor and the waves of competition. We are so accustomed to spend the best years of our lives in efforts to keep alive that living is come to mean working in order to be able to go on working. The wage is not the stepping-stone to independence; it is the exchange value of the indispensable daily bread. So ingrained in us is this habit of work that we even count ourselves fortunate and think ourselves happy when we have secured a position which assures us the work. Like the negro laundress who thought herself lucky in the husband who saw to it that she did not want a day's washing, we also are grateful that each tomorrow finds the work ready for our hands to do, for work means food and shelter; and food and a shelter means life. Life, quotha! God help us!

It is a melancholy utinam, as Sir Thomas Browne would say, this inhuman craving for work—the cry of the starving for food, the prayer of the lost for success, the petition of the condemned for respite. The will to live is so strong in us, and the way to live so narrow and crowded, that the market for labor is like a battlefield with the fight still going on. For we have found out but one means of living—killing the weaker and taking his place. And yet the work we get is not for the fulfilment of the spirit; it does not ennoble us. We grasp after it with the convulsive, passionate hands of the drowning man screaming for a spar that will float him to a haven; and when the haven is reached we find ourselves harnessed to a mortar-wheel. Like stupid oxen or blind horses we go, henceforward, round and round in a daily grind. And man's free spirit is killed. "Thou tollest for the altogether indispensable, for daily bread." What a satire on living is this making a living.

Use of V for U.

Boston Globe: It would be interesting to know who originated in modern use the practice of substituting V for U. It is seen in Boston carved in stone on public and private buildings, painted on signs, printed on letter heads and diplomas, and stamped on medals.

We see trvst companies, mvtval insvrance companies, pvblic libraries, restvrants, men's fvrnishings,, stvdios. If the craze keeps on the only accepted spellings in Boston will be Shawmvt, svbway, tvnnel, state hovse, Harvard vniversity, Roxbvry Fanevil hall, and Dvdley street, while in the covrts will be jvdges and jvries, and in the schools pvpils will get indvstrial edvcation.

In the Roman alphabet U and V were for a long time merely different forms of the same sign, and no one can say with absolute certainty what sounds they represented. V was often written with the angle rounded like U. But for centuries the two letters have stood for entirely different sounds. They are not interchangeable. V is always a consonant. U is sometimes a consonant and sometimes a vowel. There is not the slightest excuse for confusing them. English spelling is bad enough at its best. To make it deliberately worse is inexcusable, even in the interest of "art." There is no art about it—there is only a stupid and ignorant affectation.

Let vs hope the vse of v will not vsvrp the vse of u and the practice will become more and more vniversal.

WOMAN'S REALM.

"The Girls' Friendly Society," is what it is called and the name is meant to signify just what the aim of the society is to be.

This society is one which is just being formed for the girls of the congregation of St. Paul's Episcopal church.

The plan of the society is to have a number of members from among the older women of the church, each of whom will have five or six of the younger girls under her special care. They are to use their influence in a friendly way to direct the girls toward higher aims and thoughts. Each woman will make herself chief friend and adviser to her girls.

The society now has six of these associate members making a membership of "probationers" as they call the younger girls, open to thirty-six girls. Other associate members will be added to the society soon, and more of the younger girls can then be admitted.

The society will meet this evening at 7:30 in the guild room of the church at Lake avenue and Second street when the organization will probably be perfected.

A general head of the entire society will be chosen and officers elected for the year.

Not only the girls will be benefited in this plan, it is believed, but the advisers also, who will find a worthy task in planning for their girls.

That such a club has struck the right note is evident by the enthusiasm of the girls and their evident desire to join.

A necessary addition to one's wardrobe this season is a number of scarfs to match one's gowns. Besides being extremely graceful they are figuring as an immensely important item in Paris, where they are worn as a slight summer wrap or for evening wear and dressy occasions. There are any number of styles and ideas that can be carried out at very little expense, and still if one goes to purchase them the elaborate scarfs are very costly.

THE EVENING STORY

A SANITARY DAUGHTER

By Aileen Reilly.

"Father! Father! Now where d'ye s'pose that man is? Father!"

"Yes, mother, what is it? A little slightly stoop-shouldered old man with yellowish gray whiskers and gray bushy hair that stuck out around his dilapidated cap like a fringe, came hobbling up the path as fast as his rheumatic legs could carry him.

He stopped at the back door where a tall, angular wrinkled woman, his opposite in every way, stood. She shielded her eyes with her bony hand, and with the other, jerked a wisp of black hair, which the wind had blown astray, back into its place in the tight knot at the back of her head.

There was a touch of tenderness in her glance as she watched the old man come up the walk but not a trace of it in her voice as she asked, "Father, hev you got that chicken killed yet?"

"Not yet, mother, but don't you worry 'bout it—"

"Don't worry! Well I'd like to know if I ain't got cause to worry and Emily comin' tonight, first time since her poor husband died and no chicken killed and no wood in and no mats laid in the spare room, and me busy with pies and you—" She stopped for breath giving the old man time to protest gently.

"Now, mother, don't you worry 'bout things. Jest leave 'em to Providence—"

"Providence! Providence! Ethan Armer, do you s'pose Providence is comin' down here to kill chickens or lay them new mats o' mine on the best room. I guess Providence is busy 'nough tendin' to the prayers o' the missionaries for the conversion of the heathen, without comin' down fiere to kill chickens for you, Ethan Armer." And she whirled into the house, not waiting for Ethan's good-natured "Now, mother, you never did have 'nough faith in Providence."

It was either Providence or the hired man who killed the chickens and harnessed "Tim" to go to meet the train that evening. Mr. Armer would probably have said it was Providence working through the hired man. At any rate not a pin was out of its place when the three, father, mother and Emily, sat down to supper that evening. However, Emily seemed annoyed. After casting a quick glance around the room she asked:

"Mother, why do you keep that pail of water there?"

"Why, Emmy d'ye every time I want a dipper of water for the kettle or to drink, I'm a-goin' to run out to the well and pump it?"

"Mother—do you drink that water?"

"Why, certainly, and I guess it's better'n the water you get in the city—" spiritedly from Mrs. Armer.

"But, mother," Emily's voice expressed mild horror. "Think of all the microbes in it, sitting there all day without a cover—"

"Well, Emmy if you had to bring pails o' water as many times a day as I do, you wouldn't think it set there all day, exclaimed her father, and there was a very pronounced twinkle in his eyes, "I don't believe mother lets it set there long 'nough to git these things, what d'ye call 'em in it."

"Nevertheless, I'm sure such water can't be healthful. I will try to get some large bottles, such as I keep water in, and send them to you—but be sure to keep them tightly corked and sterilize them every time you use them."

"Now Emmy, I'm sure that's real nice o' you," said the mother in a somewhat conciliatory tone, "I'm sure I'd admire to have a few good-sized bottles, but I don't think I could manage water very well in them, but I'd put up a few pickles in 'em and send 'em to you—"

"Oh, I don't think you could, mother, I fear they are too large, and you must keep them especially for water."

"That might be a good idea, all right, but I don't see how I could manage when I must use so much—" and Mrs. Armer's brows came together in a perplexed frown.

"Why, it's very simple," interrupted Emily, a little impatiently. "All you have to do is take the cork out of the bottle and pour the water out. Mother, it is nonsense to say you vwcouldn'tmanage. Of course you could. I'll put that down on my list so I'll not forget."

"Well, I'm sure it's real nice of you, Emily, but perhaps you better not," Mrs. Armer demurred gently.

Emily paid no attention. She had her eyes fixed on a glass of jelly her mother had just opened. She turned to her, saying severely:

"Mother, do you cover jelly glasses with paper?"

"Why, certainly, Emmy, jis' the same's I used to when you was a little tot and cut out the wheels for me. Remember?"

"Yes, indeed I remember, and I must say," she continued excitedly, "I can't imagine why it is all the people in the country are not dead, considering all the germs they eat. Why, they positively eat them by the spoonful."

Then followed a long lecture on germs. When she finished it was time to go to bed, and it must be confessed Mrs. Armer showed her daughter to the "best room" with a sense of relief. Her learned treatise on germs and disease had made her usually voluble mother quite speechless. But the bedroom, with its carpet, mats and feather bed, its bunch of cat-tails, brown "hyderanges," and, above all, the fire burning in the fireplace moved Emily almost to tears. As soon as her mother left her she went about the room gathering together all the little knickknacks that poor Mrs. Armer had spent hours arranging in order to make the room look cozy and homelike. She wrapped them all in the gally embroidered mantle cover and went to bed with the firm determination to fix things properly before the end of her visit.

"Emmy, what are you doin'?" Mrs. Armer coming in from feeding the chickens next morning found Emily busy taking all the dishes off the pantry shelves.

"I'm only going to clean the pantry for you—"

"Why I cleaned that all out yesterday and I'd like to know what's wrong with it—more germs?" Mrs. Armer's lips were a straight line and her black eyes snapped. Her daughter was, in her own words, "gittin' on her nerves."

"That's exactly it, mother. You know I told you last night what a hotbed of disease paper was. I'm just going to take this paper off the shelves and then pour some boiling water over each shelf. You really ought to have marble slabs, such as the butcher has for cutting meat. Marble is the most sanitary material. You see, there are no little pores where germs might live, and by pouring hot water over it two or three times a day, it is quite safe."

"Yes, Emmy, I dare say it is, but I've lived for sixty-five years in this house and I ain't dead now, am I, and I guess I never saw the pantry shelves without paper. Jes' you leave them things alone and go in the settin' room and set down. You'll find some things I guess you kin read. There's the Sunday school paper and the daily paper from Bardstown and I guess you'll find a few others there. But jes' you leave this pantry to me." Mrs. Armer took her daughter firmly by the shoulder and ushered her into the settin' room.

Emily rested indignant for some time in her father's big rocking chair. The Sunday school paper didn't appeal to her. Finally her sense of duty gained such possession of her that she began to arrange the room after sanitary principles. First she went around and took from the walls all the painted plates, paper oranges and fans, souvenirs of the country fairs or a parish social. She took the cover off the mantel, picked up all the tidies, lamp mats—eyes and floor mats. She rolled everything up carefully in newspapers she found in the paper rack which had hung for years under the mirror—but which was now laid away with the tidies. These bundles she had ready for the hired man to carry up to the attic when her mother came to call her to dinner. Mrs. Armer gasped as she looked around the dismantled room.

"What hev ye done now?" she exclaimed.

"Mother, isn't it just beautiful!" cried Emily, delighted with her morning's work. "All of those dust-catching germ-breeding nuisances gone! Now to have this room perfect, is to have the carpet taken up—"

Mrs. Armer opened her mouth as if to protest, then brought her jaws together with a snap, stopped by Ethan's gentle "Now mother, jes' you leave things to Providence."

Emily turned and met her father's twinkling eyes. She took courage. "You agree with me don't you father? It would be perfect if the carpet were up, would it not?"

"Yes, Emmy, I agree. It sure would be a perfect barn. By gosh, I declare I'd never think on a nicer place to stable Tim than in this room if ye'd only take the carpet up. I guess I'll git the man to take it up. I guess I'll noon. What d'ye say mother?"

"I say if people in the city live in such sancetary houses thet they're afraid to hev around the clean things that their own hands hev made, they're welcome to 'em." Then, turning to her daughter, she continued. "Emmy, I don't know ef ye'll eat this dinner or not 'cause I got the chicken ready with my hands. Didn't hev any saneetary gloves or marble slabs. But ef 'taint all right, we'll jes send to the city for some saneetary cookin'! You needn't eat till it gits here."

"Now, Emmy, 'tis too bad mother don't like our idee, but I guess ye better eat your dinner jes' the same. I don't b'lieve ye need worry 'bout the microbes and disease germs. You jes' leave them to Providence. He'll take care on 'em."

The next day Emily received an invitation from a friend, who had just moved into a new flat with sanitary plumbing, to come and spend a couple of weeks with her. Emily accepted. She had really grown thin after three days on the farm.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

A Few Don'ts.

Don't put a small saucepan on a large ring. This ruins the pan, burns its contents and wastes the heat.

Don't use a big flame after the water has once boiled; the gas, if turned half on, will give sufficient heat to keep the water on the boil.

Don't leave the ring alight for one moment if there is no pot above it. A few odd moments during the day amount up at the end of the quarter. Keep a box of matches always beside the stove, and relighting will be the work of a moment.

Don't heat the oven before it is necessary. Find out by experiment how long it takes to get it both warm and hot, then calculate accordingly.

Don't when roasting meat, keep the gas burning until it is time to serve the joint. The oven will remain sufficiently hot for some time after the jets are extinguished.

To Clean Water Bottles.

Take some vinegar, sand and a potato cut up into dice, and mix all well together. Keep in a covered jar for use. When cleaning bottles, put some of the mixture into each bottle and let it stand for two hours; then give it a good shaking, put it back into the jar, rinse the bottle in cold water, and it will be perfectly free from all stain.

To Sweeten Sour Cream.

When cream turns sour, put it into a basin with the juice of a lemon and a tablespoonful of sugar, and whip until stiff. This will be quite sweet, and increase the quantity.

To Heat Pies Without Burning the Crust.

To heat pies without burning the crust put the pie in a deep baking dish filled with hot water, and stand on the oven top till about twenty minutes before wanted; then put in the oven to heat the crust. The pie will be as nice as if just cooked.

Cotton Tail Pie.

Take a three-pound Belgian hare. Separate in seven parts, wash well, salt, pepper and salt in flour. Have spider medium hot. Put in spider one cooking spoonful of drippings and same amount of butter.

Put hare in the spider, fry until all sides are a nice brown. Slice over same one small green onion; add one-third cup hot water and cover.

As this cooks down continue to add water till the meat drops from the fork. Then remove meat to a baking pan, make milk gravy in spider, and pour over the meat.

Now make a rich biscuit dough and put over the top. Put in quick oven and bake to a light brown.

Whipping Children

By CARA REESE.

"The licking I got no doubt made me a better fellow—but I never liked pap as well after that."

Only a statement made long years after by one who had distinguished himself, but it furnished food for reflection. There are lickings administered so continuously that they lead up to downright hate. The estrangement between child and parent never begins on the part of the child first. There is an injustice or an imaginary injustice done, a shaking, a trouncing or a scolding given. Resentment on the part of the child is the natural outcome.

Also, because the disciplined follow the disciplinarian tamely thereafter like whipped poodles is no proof of a higher value placed on affections. It looks as though there was a cringing through fear and less unrestrained regard than formerly. There have been many good citizens made no doubt through the agency of a sound thrashing, "but they never liked pap as well after that."

This is merely a hint. Some grown folks who rebel at fate, carry the idea to further limit. The discipline of life, no doubt, is for the purpose of making better people and the reclaiming of souls—but, well, they do not care for the church and its message as well after that! There seems to be a hitch some where that nobody has figured out. Anyhow love and affection can not be thrashed into either children or adults. It can be thrashed out, however.

To judge from the beatings and buffetings vouchsafed to mortals or the discipline permitted in the way of trials and troubles it might seem to the impartially minded that the object of discipline is the mere making of tractable, dutiful subjects and leaving love out of the question. Love is erratic anyhow, and inclines to the worthless sometime such as rag dolls and prodigals equally with doll-faced fancies and modern titled nonentities. Hence, possibly it is goodness which really pays in the end and not love.

But be this as it may, the present day fathers are not as careless or unwise and neglectful of duty as the disciplinarians would have folks think. The fathers are shrewder and a trifle more long-headed than their own immediate ancestry was. They have a longing for a little enduring affection in their sons and not all of it thrashed out or thinned out by over-much chastisement. The lickings they got in youth no doubt made them better men —"but they never liked pap as well after that!"

No, and talk as you please, and bolster up sentiment and give a crown to "mother," there are any number of grown-ups in inward rebellion against the mother who nagged on the father in application of the strap. Some never like mother quite as well after that! It is just as well to think twice before whipping children. You may or may not make them more obedient, but you certainly forfeit their affection.

Are You Shy?

By VIRGINIA HARLAN.

The sufferings of a shy person cannot be understood by those who are thoroughly self-possessed and at ease under all circumstances.

Some people bear the suffering, and continue to go out into the world, and in the end conquer their nervous dread, while others give in to it, shut themselves up away from the world, and live a solitary sort of existence.

The latter is a selfish way of doing things, although one may, of course, cultivate one's talents in solitude. But those who give in to any form of shyness can be of very little help to the world at large.

Sometimes shy girls take refuge in a manner of extreme hauteur. Within they may be filled with sympathy, love, or a feeling of friendship, but it is impossible for them to express it, or to show it in any way. They suffer, for they long to give out the sympathy and love that they feel, and they also long for the affection and sympathy of others.

But shyness prevents their being able to express it, and their coldness of manner prevents others from showing to them the interest they may feel.

One of the most graceful arts that a girl can acquire is to learn to converse and keep her fingers busy at the same time. There are girls who can talk well and girls who do needlework well, but they rarely combine the two accomplishments skillfully.

One of the secrets of the art is to avoid doing in public any piece of work which requires close attention. Be clever at accomplishing a good deal by always having on hand certain kinds of work, or work at certain stages, which admits of its being done more or less automatically, and let this occupy your fingers, which will busily do a lot for you, while you make yourself agreeable conversationally to one or more companions.

Remember that courtesy requires you to give the person to whom you are talking, or who is talking to you, your first interest and attention, and that your work must be the secondary consideration. If you reverse the order you will be thought very stupid, will be avoided as any uninteresting young person, and had much better confine your work to hours especially set apart for it.

Hints for the Boudoir

By MILDRED WYCKOFF.

A good lotion for blackheads is carbonate of magnesia and zinc oxide, each one dram; rosewater, four ounces. Shake and mop on the spots, and later the bulk of the "worm," which is the thickened contents of a tiny oil tube in the skin, may be gently pressed out after the face is steamed or softened with hot water, and a reliable cold cream applied.

But be careful how to press these points. Do not bruise your face by using the finger nail or the round end of a watch key, for the harm you may do in this way may take days to remedy.

Sometimes, too, scratching or bruising leaves a discolored spot. But take a soft handerkerchief and fold it several times loosely so that it will form a pad under each thumb ball; then gently force out the "worm." This you should do at night, as there will generally be a little redness after the squeezing.

Do not clip your eyelashes with the idea of improving them. By this treatment they are often made stubby and coarse. You should also be careful, if you wear glasses, that they do not press against the lashes and so stunt their growth.

The only way to remove all of the superficial impurities from the skin of the face is by the intelligent use of water, soap and friction.

The use of shoe trees aids greatly in keeping in good shape.

Bunions affect the large joints of the great and little toes, and are caused by wearing tight shoes. Hot water does much to relieve the pain which they cause. An application which may be used is:

Salicyclic acid, one teaspoonful; cocaine, five grains; collodion, half an ounce. Paint the bunions with this twice a day.

This Week's Sunday School Lesson

WRITTEN FOR THE HERALD BY REV. J. S. KIRTLEY, D. D.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON: MAY 7. II Chron., xxvii Uzziah, King of Judah, Humbled.

THE CONNECTION.

This man, Uzziah, was grandson of Joash, and son of Amaziah. Joash started off well, as we recall, got tired and did poorly. He was murdered. His son was a much stronger man and started out to do right, got puffed up, sought war with the king of Israel and was badly whipped. That so outraged his people they put him to death. Uzziah was a better man than either and a greater king. He almost restored the days of Solomon, he and his enterprising and able neighbor, Jeroboam II., in the northern kingdom.

THE LESSON.

I.

Brilliant Success. 8-15.

"And the Ammonites gave tribute to Uzziah: and his name spread abroad even to the entrance of Egypt; for he waxed exceeding strong. Moreover Uzziah built towers in Jerusalem at the corner gate, and at the valley gate, and at the turning of the wall, and fortified them. And he built towers in the wilderness, and hewed out many cisterns, for he had much cattle; in the low-land also, and in the plain; and he had husbandmen and vinedressers in the mountains and in the fruitful fields; for he loved husbandry. Moreover Uzziah had an army of fighting men, that went out to war by bands, according to the number of their reckoning made by Jeiel the scribe and Maaseiah the officer, under the hand of Hananiah, one of the king's captains. The whole number of the heads of fathers' houses, even the mighty men of valor, was two thousand and six hundred. And under their hand was an army, three hundred thousand and seven thousand and five hundred, that made war with mighty power, to help the king against the enemy. And Uzziah prepared for them, even for all the host, shields, and spears, and helmets, and coats of mail, and bows, and stones for slinging. And he made in Jerusalem engines, invented by skillful men, to be on the towers and upon the battlements, wherewith to shoot arrows and great stones. And his name spread far abroad; for he was marvelously helped, till he was strong."

1. COMMERCE.—He established a foreign commerce, which was a new thing. He captured the port of Elah, down on the Red sea, which was a strategic move. Solomon had taken it, but had not taken advantage of it; Jehoshaphat tried to recapture it and failed. Little kingdoms, like that of Ammon, hastened to own him as overlord, and win his perpetual favor by annual tribute. He showed his wisdom by spending his first year or two in opening up trade. This was the greatest commercial achievement in the history of the nation.

2. STOCK.—He encouraged stock raising by artificial water supplies, in cisterns, which held the scanty rain fall, for the days of drought. These cisterns were situated where perennial streams and springs were not found. Here was foresight. His interest was vivid and vital because he owned sheep and cattle. He knew the needs of his people. That was good business and good statesmanship, digging cisterns.

3. FARMING.—He was devoted to husbandry and raised the cry, "back to the farm." His own vinedressers and tenants were well kept and he was the model farmer. Agriculture had a new vogue.

4. ARMY.—His army was efficient and kept busy. With one division he defended the strategic points, with the other he drove intruders back into their own countries and carried on foreign wars. He strengthened the walls of Jerusalem and built towers and engines for throwing missiles. His borders were well patroled by mounted police and his neighbors well subdued by his 307,500 soldiers. The good days of yore had come back. But trouble was ahead.

II.

Bold Sins. 16-18.

"But when he was strong, his heart was lifted up, so that he did corruptly, and he trespassed against Jehovah his God; for he went into the temple of Jehovah to burn incense upon the altar of incense. And Azariah the priest went in after him, and with him fourscore priests of Jehovah, that were valiant men; and they withstood Uzziah the king, and said unto him, It pertaineth not unto thee, Uzziah, to burn incense unto Jehovah, but to the priests the sons of Aaron, that are consecrated to burn incense; go out of the sanctuary; for thou hast trespassed; neither shall it be for thine honor from Jehovah God."

1. LUXURY.—God helped him and continued to help him, till he was mighty, both in reputation and reality. Then, he should have held on to God, as the one indispensible thing. But, just then, he let go and went alone, in his blind, brazen, irreverent way. Not only he, but the people were lulled into vile luxury by prosperity, as we learn from the prophets whom God called out to speak against them, especially such men as Amos, Hosea and Isaiah.

2. ARROGANCE.—That was too great an army. It worked hardships upon the people in taxes. Our army and navy and pensions cost us 73 per cent of all the money that comes into the United States treasury from taxes. But that was not the worst result of militarism and his general success. He ruled army and people and cowering nations, why not control religion, instead of conforming to God's plans? He did it. He swept aside the methods by which God would protect public worship from disorder and indecency, and did two wrong things—went into the temple and started to burn incense. A priest alone was allowed those two privileges. It is not necessary to say that the bold and determined effort of the priests to stop him was due to jealousy. It was superb, the way they called him down.

III.

Sudden Defeat. 19-21.

"Then Uzziah was wroth; and he had a censer in his hand to burn incense; and while he was wroth with the priests, the leprosy brake forth in his forehead before the priests in the house of Jehovah, beside the altar of incense. And Azariah, the chief priest, and all the priests, looked upon him, and, behold, he was leprous in his forehead, and they thrust him out quickly from thence; yea, himself hasted also to go out, because Jehovah had smitten him. And Uzziah the king was a leper unto the day of his death, and dwelt in a separate house, being a leper; for he was cut off from the house of Jehovah; and Jotham, his son, was over the king's house, judging the people of the land."

1. LEPROSY.—Drastic treatment was needed and he got it. Surgery is sometimes required. Any severity is justified when a man is to be saved from blighting blasphemy. God is to be worshipped, not worked. We can imagine more easily than we can describe the tragical end of that unlawful invasion of God's prerogatives. God will have no one tell Him what laws to make. If we study Uzziah's motive in that act, what do we find? Arrogance and lack of a sense of responsibility to God, all because he cut loose from God.

2. DECAPITATION.—When he was made a leper, as a divine judgment, he was not fit to rule. It was enforced, yet voluntary, abdication, for he was compelled to live apart, as all lepers were. He dropped suddenly, and was no better than anybody else. So, his political head went off. His son reigned in his place. He had plenty of time to think of his folly and pray for pardon.

WHAT THE MASTERS SAY.

In 1201 Simon Tournoy, after he had excelled all his contemporaries at Oxford in learning, and become so eminent in Paris as to be made the chief doctor of the Sorbonne, grew so proud that, while he regarded Aristotle as superior to Moses and Christ, he considered him as but equal to himself. He became such an idiot at length, as not to know one letter in a book, or one thing he had ever done.—Pollard.

The fact is, militarism and the militarist ideal, whether in ancient Israel or in modern Germany, costs heavily, demanding a terrible price from the happiness and morale of a people. It makes exactions upon the public revenue, which mean a heavy burden of taxation upon the poor, and practical enslavement of the peasant population; it alienates class from class; it draws the best young men from the land to a life of glittering unproductiveness; it creates an order of persons who fatten on the peculiar gullibility which always accompanies devotion to war, as though God had permitted men and women to suffer from a sort of penal stupidity; and above all, it ministers to self-satisfaction, vanity, and pride.—Ross.

When God had made Uzziah strong he thought he could help himself. Every financially strong man, every intellectually strong man, every physically strong man, every spiritually strong man, has the Uzziah finish if he dares to let go the power which made him strong.—Ridgeway.

PERTINEN TQUESTIONS.

1. How can one keep a right view of himself and a hold on God at the same time?
2. What is the special peril of prosperity and why?
3. What are the dangers of militarism?
4. Why should the United States government fortify the Panama canal?
5. Why is no one able to control himself apart from God's help?
6. Why does not God always punish bad rulers in such palpable ways?

LAURIER TO GO TO CORONATION

Premier to Leave Canada During Session of Parliament.

Ottawa, Ont., May 4.—As the result of a conference between Sir Wilfred Laurier and R. L. Borden, the opposition leader, an understanding has been reached which makes it practically certain that the prime minister, with Sir Frederick Borden and Hon. L. Brodeur, will leave on the Virginian, sailing from Quebec on May 13 to attend the imperial conference and the coronation.

The understanding between the two leaders is not coupled with any condition that the government will in any way abandon its reciprocity proposals.

The premier's decision is in line with urgent requests from Great Britain, and in general sentiment among members of parliament that Canada should be represented by its first minister at both the conference and the coronation. The question as to what will happen to the reciprocity agreement in parliament meanwhile is still problematical and there is no definite agreement on this point. There is no question of the government abandoning its efforts to put the agreement through at this session.

Carry Out Program.

The house may remain in session during the premier's absence and put through the rest of the sessional program, later taking up the reciprocity debate, as would be done if the premier were here.

It is understood there will be no serious objection by the opposition to finishing up such work. But after the United States has ratified the agreement, if the Canadian opposition still continues hostile to the agreement, there may be an adjournment until the premier returns to take up the fight for reciprocity.

It is believed the opposition is getting the idea that it will not be expedient for them to force an appeal to the country with reciprocity as the sole issue. Indications are that there will be an adjournment next month until September with the understanding that when the house reconvenes the government will have the assurance that the opposition will allow the agreement to come to a vote.

ENGLAND FEARS CABLE COMBINE

London, May 4.—The government is taking steps to obtain certain powers of control over the rates for trans-Atlantic cable messages, and by other means to secure British interests from any possible disadvantage resulting from the working arrangement between the Anglo-American cable companies and the Western Union Telegraph company, just concluded today. Postmaster General Samuel, replying to a series of questions in the house of commons, said that the agreement would not result in cable communication between America and England being entirely dependent upon the operations of an American combine.

In a statement, Theodore N. Vail, president of the American Telephone & Telegraph company and the Western Union Telegraph company, says than an understanding has been reached between the Western Union and the Anglo-American companies by which the cables of the two companies will be worked interchangeably, but that the details of the arrangements will not be made public until they have —been submitted to the share houders for ratification. He asserts the ownership of the Anglo-American company will not be affected.

The conditions of the agreement, Mr. Vail adds, provide that the British postmaster general will practically control the rates charged by the company, thereby assuring that they will be reasonable, and that the postoffice has under consideration a scheme for deferred service at modified rates.

Less Pig Iron Produced.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 4.—The total production of coke and anthracite pig iron for April, the Iron Trade Review says, was 2,045,786 tons, a decrease of 119,978 tons, compared with March. During April, nineteen furnaces of steel plant companies, and eight merchant stacks were blown out, but six furnaces were blown in, making a net loss of twenty-one. During the last few days of the month, the blowing out of steel companies was rapid.

The policy of curtailment of active blast furnace capacity continues with the United States Steel corporation, which now has 75 furnaces blowing, 42 out of blast, and 2 banked.

The inflammation cleared and I am far better than I have been for twenty years. The weakness and dizzy spells are a thing of the past and I highly recommend Foley Kidney Pills." TWO BOYS GIVEN LIFE SENTENCES

Dime Novels and Moving Pictures Inspire Boy Bandits.

Oklahoma City, Okla., May 4.—Albert Helfenstein, 18 years old, and Charles Ireland, 20 years old, pleaded guilty yesterday and were sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of John Rebel, who was shot in the hand on Feb. 25, when he resisted an attempt to hold up his butcher shop. He died later of blood poisoning. The boys said they came here from Dayton, Ohio, "to hold up a few people." Moving pictures and dime novels inspired them to choose the life of the bandit, they said.

YOUNG PASTOR CALLED HERETIC

Dutch Reformed Church Committee Accuses Rev. Dietrich.

Pittsburg, May 4.—A special committee of the Allegheny Classis, investigating charges of heretical teachings against Rev. John H. Dietrich, has reported to the Pittsburg synod of the Reformed church, that "the pastor acknowledged that he did not believe in the deity of the Lord Jesus Christ," and it "therefore concluded that the gospel is not preached in its purity and not in accordance with the standard of the Reformed Church of the United States."

Rev. Dietrich is a young minister of the "progressive" type. At the conclusion of the report he said:

"I deny that I said I do not believe in the doctrine of the Reformed church."

The report was adopted as read and a special meeting will be held on June 6 to further consider the matter.

The only minister of the Reformed church to have received a heresy trial was Rev. Dr. Phillip Scheff of Reading, Pa., in 1845. He was acquitted, but later joined the Presbyterian church.

SCHUBERT ACCUSED OF HITTING CHORUS GIRL.

New York, May 4.—Jacob G. Schubert, the theatrical manager, was yesterday placed under $500 bail for trial in special sessions court on the charge of Miss Marie Taylor Barnett, a grandniece of President Zachary Taylor, who is known on the stage as Peggy Forbes. Miss Barnett declared in police court that the manager struck her three weeks ago during an argument over her dismissal as a chorus girl from one of his theaters.

GRAY HAIR WILL MAKE YOU LOOK OLD

Use Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and Your Gray Hair Will Quickly Vanish.

Gray hair is a mark of age, and nothing that can be said as to its beauty will effect the disadvantages of this mark of age set upon your brow.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy darkens the hair and restores it to its youthful beauty. Our grandmothers and their grandmothers before them used sage and sulphur for darkening their hair. Nothing has ever been found more effective for this purpose than these two time-honored remedies, but Wyeth, a modern chemist, has combined the two with other ingredients which makes a delightful dressing for the hair, and which not only removes every trace of dandruff but promotes the growth of the hair. It also stops the hair from falling out and makes it beautiful.

ON THE IRON RANGES

VIRGINIA PROUD OF FINE SCHOOL

Large Number Attended Informal Opening of New Technical High.

Virginia, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The informal opening and housewarming of the new Technical high school building Monday evening was a notable event in the history of Virginia. The citizens showed their appreciation of the work of the board by turning out in large numbers. The board of education that erected this building consists of N. A. Holmer, chairman; J. H. Fleming, clerk; Helen E. Coffman, treasurer; Joseph Roskilly, R. J. McGhee, Guy H. Moore and Lafayette Bliss, superintendent. Besides many other outside visitors, the school boards from Eveleth, Nashwauk and other range towns were present. Music was furnished by the Kraft-Peterson orchestra and the Boys' Military band. Refreshments were served in the spacious domestic science rooms by a committee of teachers presided over by Mrs. Bliss and Miss Boe.

Cost About $200,000.

The new Technical high school was erected at a cost of about $200,000. It is of Harvard red, vitrified brick, with granite base, and white Bedford stone trimmings. Its dimensions are 184 by 92 feet, the main central portion being three stories high, the end wings two stories. The building is fireproof throughout, being of reinforced concrete construction. The stairways are steel with slate treads, the corridor doors and frames are steel, all interior glass is fireproof, all corridor, bathroom and toilet room floors and bases are terrazzo, all toilet and bathrooms are wainscented with Tennessee marble six feet in height.

The interior of the building was planned by Prof. Lafayette Bliss, superintendent of the city schools, and all details of construction were closely watched by him.

HIBBING FIRE IS LAID TO TRAMPS

Early Morning Blaze in Coal Shed Furnishes Work for Firemen.

Hibbing, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Tramps sleeping in a coal shed owned by the Hibbing Lumber company on Railroad street are believed to have been responsible for a spectacular fire that broke out at 3:45 this morning. The property loss was small, but the firemen were given two and one-half hours of hard work to prevent the blaze from spreading. Eighty tons of coal were stored in the shed. The loss to the Lumber company is about $500. The roof of the adjoining warehouse of the Fitger Brewing company was slightly burned, the loss being about $200 and William Closer's warehouse was damaged to the extent of $50.

A member of the fire department had a narrow escape when the wall of the coal shed fell out, just as he was passing. He escaped with a bruised hand.

NAME COMMITTEE ON MEMORIAL DAY

Hibbing Getting Ready to Observe Day Dedicated to Soldier Dead.

Hibbing, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Another move was taken last evening toward the successful observance of Memorial day, May 30, when at a meeting presided over by Jason L. Lewis, appointed a short time ago chairman of the military committee, more definite plans for paying tribute to the war heroes were formulated.

After briefly outlining the subject, the chairman called a number of those present to express their views on the best and most suitable way to celebrate the day.

D. D. McEachin, president of the Commercial club, said he was heartily in favor of the better observance of the day, and that he was only too glad to aid in any way in the proposals made. "There are only a few of the old boys left now," said Mr. McEachin, "and I am heartily in favor of Decoration day observance."

C. F. Corey stated that he did not know what would be the best way to observe the day. He could not offer any suggestions, as he was not well enough acquainted with the conditions, but was also in favor of some observance. O. M. Randall, representing the Woodmen of America, and H. E. Schneider, representing the Red Men, both expressed the willingness of their societies to assist.

The following officials were appointed: Dr. Weirick, president of the Citizens' auxiliary; O. M. Randall, vice president; E. C. Junker, secretary treasurer; Capt. George Healy, chairman of executive committee; Trustee J. J. Cox, marshal for the day.

Jason L. Lewis remains chairman of the committee appointed by the company for the observance committee.

Supt. Blair was unable to be present, but he had previously notified the chairman, Mr. Lewis, that the school children were anxious to take part in the proceedings, and that he could send out 2,000 youngsters in the parade if the committee cared to have them.

CLOTHES BURNED OFF WOMAN'S BACK

Mrs. Powell Loses Life at Her Home Four Miles From Hibbing.

Hibbing, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—A funeral held here yesterday that was one of the saddest reported here in some time gathered a large number of the friends of Mrs. Christina Powell, living four miles from here at the Harold location of the Dale-Uno mine, who was burned to death Monday morning while baking bread.

She had raked the live coals out of the oven to the yard and the high wind fanning the embers so that her clothing caught. She ran screaming for help but before neighbors could assist, her clothing was literally burned from her back and she died in great agony.

The woman leaves a husband and three small children, aged 9, 7 and 3, the husband being a track boss for the Oliver Iron Mining company. He was away at the time and did not hear of the tragedy until he returned from work. Very great sympathy is felt for the bereaved family, who are greatly respected in the community. They owned their own home and operated a boarding house for the better class of italians at the location.

Hibbing, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Jaka Jukick was up for trial in the municipal court yesterday afternoon, charged with assault upon his wife. The woman, who had only come to this country two months ago, was disposed to be lenient and did not want to give evidence against him at all at first. She asked the judge to give him just a light sentence. "I only want him arrested for two days," she said. Although the evidence was somewhat conflicting, it appeared that the man had been living with another woman for several years since he came over nine years ago, but that he had left her when his wife came here, and no absolute proof of his actions could be found. Judge Brady sentenced Jukick to a fine of $3 and $7.50 costs for assault.

Easy to Acquire Good Health

(From Health Notes)

Every one of us admires the energetic, vigorous man or woman who enjoys perfect health and whose face reflects the glow of youth. But few of us who are afflicted with impure blood (the main cause for poor health and bad complexions), really know that a very simple, old-fashioned tonic will restore health and energy.

Get at any drug store one ounce of kardene and dissolve it in one-half pint alcohol, then add one-half cup sugar and hot water to make a full quart. A tablespoonful of this inexpensive tonic taken before each meal will soon purify the blood, clear the skin, restore lost appetite, energy and perfect health. For toning up and strengthening the body generally, this tonic is very highly recommended.

A Delicate Rose-Tint Given to Complexion

(From What to Wear)

"Oily, shiny skins," says Marguerite DeVale, "can be given a delicate rose-tint and delightful clearness if powders and greasy creams are avoided and a simple, inexpensive lotion used made by dissolving a small original package of mayatone in eight ounces of witch-hazel.

"This lotion, applied to the face, neck and arms freely every day, quickly purifies the skin and gives to it a rich, velvety softness, and its continued use lends a charm and elegance to any sallow or unnatural complexion.

"Another advantage in using the mayatone lotion is that it is greaseless and will not grow hairs, while it protects the daintiest complexion from changeable weather and guards against freckles and tan."

Don't Eat All Your Salary

Eat the simple, nourishing, inexpensive foods and you will be the gainer in health and pocket. The "cost of living" generally means the high cost of things you do not need. The high-protein foods cost the most, are the hardest to digest and hence the least nutritious in the long run.

Cut out heavy meats and soggy pastries for awhile and eat Shredded Wheat, the ready-cooked, ready-to-serve whole wheat food which supplies all the material needed for building the perfect human body. In Shredded Wheat you have the phosphates for bone and brain, carbohydrates for heat and fat, the nitrates for building muscle, and the outer bran coat for keeping the bowels healthy and active.

Shredded Wheat is the whole wheat—the most perfect food given to man—steam-cooked, shredded and baked in the cleanest, finest food factory in the world.

Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits for breakfast with milk or cream and a little fruit make a complete, nourishing meal, supplying all the strength needed for a half day's work at a cost of five or six cents. Your grocer sells them.

TRISCUIT is the Shredded Wheat wafer—a crisp, tasty, nourishing whole wheat Toast, delicious for any meal with butter, cheese or marmalades. Always toast it in the oven before serving.

SPECULATORS TIE UP WHEAT IN CHICAGO

shorts to severe punishment. If the bulls do not sell wheat to the short sellers the latter will be unable to meet their contracts. They would have no other alternative than to put up the price of wheat to a level that would bring out sufficient offerings to enable them to cover their short lines.

If reciprocity is ratified it will be almost impossible for speculators to tie up wheat and demoralize the legitimate trade by running "corners." With an artificial barrier that prevents the importation of Canadian wheat, speculators can sew up the May option without much difficulty if they have strong financial resources behind them. With the Canadian wheat available for delivery in American markets, however, they could "corner" wheat only in years of partial crop failures or when unusual conditions existed.

Successive deals in wheat have hurt the legitimate trade. The outside commission business in all markets has dwindled to slim proportions and traders and commission men believe that if the market returned to the guiding influence of legitimate factors the general trade would broaden and commission business would show a marked improvement.

There is a plentitude of wheat in the world and exporting countries are shipping liberally. Crops in nearly all countries are in good condition and there is no prospect of a scarcity of supplies this year. Recent high prices for wheat have stimulated production all over the world. The winter wheat crop in this country seldom has shown such favorable promise as at the present time. The spring wheat crop has gone into the ground under excellent conditions and the acreage in this country is 1,000,000 greater than last year. While Canada has made a large increase and may produce 160,000,000 to 170,000,000 bushels of spring wheat.

There is no cash demand for wheat to speak of and the flour business is slow. In some parts of the country millers are trying to re-sell wheat. There is no legitimate reason for the present price of wheat which is up solely as the result of the efforts of a wealthy clique of speculators.

The bull leaders are reputed to be Lichstern of Chicago, the leading Northwestern millers and Eastern speculators who are new to the game. The Armour Grain company has handled the bulk of the transactions but denies being interested in the deal.

Meanwhile, the search of the farm for other bodies of former employes of Poole, principally those of Charles Clark and Charles Mack, who disappeared a few years ago, is being continued.

Grace Poole, as a witness at the inquest late yesterday, said that she had seen and remarked on blood stains on the walls of the kitchen of the house the day after the disappearance of Kemper, in December, 1909. She came yesterday from Chisholm.

Hundreds at Inquest.

Hundreds of farmers and townspeople attended the inquest and curiously watched parties searching the Poole farm for bodies. Excavations in different parts of the place are being made.

Poole was heavily guarded in the jail last night because of expressions of public feeling against him. He maintained his innocence of the murder of Kemper and held steadily to the statement in which he said he shot Kemper accidentally while hunting in a field, and cut up his body in a barn a week afterwards and buried it because he feared public sentiment against him would rise out of his having shot a neighbor a few years ago.

Emory Poole said his father had told him he owed Kemper $90 for work on the farm, and that his father had threatened Kemper with violence. He added he would testify that he had seen his father knock down men employed on the farm.

KILLED THE LAST BUFFALO.

McClusky, N. D., Man Claims to Have Slain Last Animal.

McClusky, N. D., May 4.—William Beckman, or "Billie," as he is known to his friends, is one of the pioneers of this part of the county, settling on Painted Woods creek in 1881. In company with John Oligney, who for many years conducted a harness shop at Washburn, "Billie" killed probably the last buffalo in McLean county in the spring of 1900 or thereabouts. The buffalo, a 2-year-old heifer, was 2 o'clock in that afternoon, when the exhausted animal was run into a claim shack. The hunters waited to take the buffalo alive, so they barricaded the door, cut a hole in the roof and threw a rope around its neck. In the struggle the rope tightened on the animal's neck, and before they could loosen it the beast was strangled. This, Mr. Beckman believes, was the last buffalo seen in McLean county.

MORE REWARD MONEY COMING

Additional $1,000 for Captors of Bandit Frankhauser in Clay County.

Moorhead, Minn., May 4.—There is $1,000 additional reward in sight for those who participated in the Frankhauser reward, and this sum has been paid into court through Senator Charles S. Marden, through whose efforts it was secured.

When the Great Northern undertook to transport the $40,000 (which was secured by the bandits to the West, they insured the safe transport of the money. The Marine Insurance company, Limited, of London, was the company that carried the risk. After the train was held up the insurance company offered a reward of $1,000 for the arrest and conviction of every bandit engaged in the robbery, and also guaranteed to pay over to the parties securing their arrest and conviction 10 per cent of all moneys recovered.

All are familiar with the story of Frankhauser's arrest, his escape from the Helena jail, his recapture and identification in Clay county, and his return to Helena, Mont., where he was tried and convicted.

The sum of $14,500 was recovered when Frankhauser was first captured, and by an order of a Western court 10 per cent of this, or $1,450, was divided up among the Western claimants of the reward.

Attorney Charles S. Marden took up the matter of the $1,000 reward offered by the insurance company, by notice of claim upon them, served in October, 1909. Mr. Marden appearing for A. D. Forsythe of Barnesville, who was one of the most important factors in the arrest of Frankhauser. TWO CASS LAKE FIRES; ONE HOME DESTROYED.

Cass Lake, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Two fire alarms were turned in yesterday. The first called the department to the residence occupied by Mrs. Francis Curry. The blaze originated in the kitchen after Mrs. Curry had started the morning fire, returning to another room for a short time, when suddenly the entire kitchen was seen to be in flames. Very few household articles were saved and the building badly burned. Good work by the firemen saved the adjoining residence only four feet away. Loss about $400 with no insurance.

The second fire was discovered in the hay stack belonging to David Jones, south of the tracks. The fire spread through adjoining brush, but was soon extinguished.

FIRE MENACED COUDERAY, WIS.

Swept Along By High Wind Through Forest, Nearly Claimed Village.

Couderay, Wis., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Forest fires that have been burning at a number of places in this vicinity came near wiping out this town Tuesday night and yesterday.

The high winds swept the fires towards town at an alarming speed, carrying burning leaves for long distances, setting fire to buildings and in the lumber yards. A large crew of men were kept busy putting out the fires starting from the sparks and back firing, having worked twenty-four hours and working during all last night. Last evening the fires were headed off, towards the Couderay Indian reservation, where they are burning fiercely and nothing but a heavy rain will stop them.

Thousands of acres of land has been burned over and millions of feet of standing timber has been killed by the forest fires in this vicinity in the last few days.

Nearly one hundred men were out all last night fighting and backfiring the fire. The fire is still burning, but is headed off and this town is out of danger.

The sky was lit up for miles around last night and the roar from the fires sounded like constant rumbling of distant thunder. The mills here are shut down today, all the men being out watching the fire.

Backache Means Dying Kidneys

A Remarkable Treatment That Saves the Kidneys. How You May Cure Yourself Quickly and Thoroughly.

With the progress of science comes one remarkable treatment for kidney diseases. It has been so thoroughly tested and its results have proven so revolutionary that a well-known firm in Michigan has undertaken its distribution into every part of the country.

Those who suffer from kidney trouble and the diseases resulting from it will be pleased to know that every package of this treatment is thoroughly guaranteed. This should assure at last a positive cure to every sufferer.

Every man and woman should know that backache is usually a well-defined symptom of advancing kidney disease which may end fatally unless treated in time; that rheumatism and bladder trouble are caused from nothing more nor less than kidneys that do not filter the poison from the blood; that dropsy, Bright's disease, diabetes and bladder-stones are caused by bad kidneys.

Once they are made to work properly, these diseases should quickly disappear.

This is done by the new treatment, Dr. Derby's Kidney Pills.

We urge everyone who has pain in the small of the back, profuse or scanty urination, pains in the bladder, cloudy or foul urine, not to fail to get a package today of Dr. Derby's Kidney Pills, and drop all other kidney treatments. Senator Stevenson, of Washington, writes from Olympia: "There is no question about the efficacy of Dr. Derby's Pure Kidney Pills in curing kidney and bladder trouble. I know whereof I speak."

Dr. Derby's Kidney Pills are now sold at all drug stores—25 and 50 cents, or direct from Derby Medicine Co., Eaton Rapids, Mich. If you would like to try them first, ask your druggist for a free sample package. Then buy a package; you will not regret it.

SUGGESTS NEW ROUTE FOR ROAD

West Duluthian Thinks Estimate of Engineer Is Too High.

That about a mile of the most difficult piece of the proposed Getchell road can be graded, guttered, and graveled for a consideration less than $3,000, is the declaration of J. J. Frey, who says that he is not satisfied with the estimate of the city engineering department, whose figure was $22,000 for the entire job.

Mr. Frey, who was active in the agitation for the new road, and who has worked consistently for it, says that he had a contractor go over a portion of the road this week, and that the contractor stands ready to take the job at a figure less than $3,000 at any time.

The portion of the road included in the estimate of the contractor commences at Sixty-fifth avenue west and Highland street, runs southwest to Huntington street and Sixty-seventh avenue west and from there takes a winding turn around the southern end of Oneota cemetery and runs north along Keene's creek, crossing it at a point about a half mile north of the cemetery. This is the most difficult piece of the road, and Mr. Frey says that West Duluthians believe that there must be some mistake in the city engineer's figures. The figure given to Mr. Frey by the contractor calls for a thirty-foot roadway, but no bridges.

Mr. Frey advocates the changing of the route to Proctor. He points out that a more feasible route would be to branch off from the new road at about Sixty-ninth avenue west and run up the hill to Bayview Heights, and from there straight out to Proctor on a city street, which has been graded and improved. This, he said would save considerable expense and would also provide a suitable grade for a street car line.

The matter will be brought before the West Duluth Commercial club at its meeting, tomorrow evening.

CURLERS WILL DINE AND DANCE

West Duluth Club Will Celebrate Its Fifth Anniversary.

With a dinner, a short program of music and speeches, and a dance, the West Duluth curling enthusiasts and their friends will this evening celebrate the close of the fifth season of the Western Curling club. During the evening, seven trophies will be presented to the winning rinks. The dinner will be served at 6:30 sharp. Dancing will commence at 9:30.

IMPROVEMENT CLUB WILL HOLD MEETING.

A meeting of the Hazelwood and Oneota Improvement club will be held this evening in the Hazelwood Presbyterian church, Thirty-ninth avenue west and Fourth street, and several matters which have been under agitation will be taken up for consideration.

More police protection is wanted and a similar plea is also advanced for better fire fighting facilities, it being argued that a fire hall should be located at Oneota. It is probable that definite steps may be taken to bring the matter before the attention of the city council.

London, May 4.—The parliament bill, known as the veto bill, for the curtailment of the powers of the house of lords, yesterday passed the committee stage in the house of commons, practically without amendment, amid scenes of great enthusiasm.

The refusal of A. J. Balfour, leader of the opposition, to vote against the preamble to the veto bill removed any danger that might have been apprehended from the revolt of the Laborites against the preamble, and this portion of the bill, the consideration of which was regarded as the most critical test for the government, provided votes to carry. The Unionists' opposition vanished.

COMBINE FOR DEVELOPMENT

Wisconsin and Michigan Associations Will Send Delegates Here.

Co-operation the Keynote of June Meeting in Duluth.

It is expected that the meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development association here June 1 and 2 will result in the development of a plan of co-operation between four organizations having for their object the development of the agricultural resources of their respective states.

Representatives of the Northern Wisconsin Advancement association, Northern Michigan Development association and Western Michigan Development bureau will attend the meetings and will exchange ideas with the members of the Northern Minnesota association.

Although no new organization is planned, taking in the upper portions of the three states, the interests of the sections are almost identical and it is believed that much can be gained by intelligent co-operation. The Northern Minnesota association has already proved that results can be obtained by co-operation between county associations and the same is believed to be true of state or district associations. All are working for development, and there are different plans of development, discussion of which should be beneficial.

Co-operation between Northern and Southern Minnesota is also greatly to be desired and the officers of the Northern Minnesota association have set about a campaign of education to prove that the association plans to benefit the state by benefiting Northern Minnesota. Many of the state legislators have already notified Secretary Mackenzie that they will attend the Duluth meeting and it is believed that such a visit will prove beneficial. Mr. Mackenzie has sent much advertising for the meeting through Southern Minnesota and he hopes that many of the people interested will come to Duluth to learn that Northern Minnesota people are honestly anxious to develop their part of the state and supply its needs.

Probably ten people per day pass and read your sign, "Furnished rooms for rent." And eight of the ten don't want rooms, and the ninth wouldn't live in a place that had the "boarder sign" hanging out. How much cheaper it is to spend 30 cents in a want ad and reach thousands who are really looking for rooms for rent. Hundreds are doing it every day in The Herald and easily rent their rooms. Why not you?

Col. Nelson Will Speak.

Col Ben Nelson, who is in charge of all Scandinavian Salvation Army work in the West, with headquarters at Chicago, will speak at a coffee social to be held at the Duluth branch of the army at 1631 West Superior street this evening. Ray Byrnes, the 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Byrnes caused his parents a decided fright when he disappeared from the St. Louis hotel, where his parents are stopping, about 4 o'clock in the afternoon and failed to return last night. They didn't know what had become of him and feared that he had met with some serious accident. This morning it was learned that he had stayed over night with his brother and sister, who are living in another part of the city.

COPPERS DECLINE; SELLING LIBERAL

Congressional Investigations and Crop News Depress Prices.

The copper market declined today in sympathy with the general market. The inquiry by congress into the affairs of the United States Steel corportion, the American Sugar Refining company and the American Woolen company caused considerable short selling. The reports of dry weather in the Northwest also induced some selling in Northwestern rails which helped to depress the entire market. The metal market was devoid of news.

Red Warrior sold at $1.06¼ to $1.12½, Calumet & Montana at 38c, Keating at $3.50, $3.67½ and $3.43¾.

Amalgamated sold at $63.12½ to $62.50, Giroux at $6.25, Butte Ballaklava at $5.50 to $5, Butte Coalition at $18 to $17.50; Greene at $6.18¾ to $6.12½, North Butte at $28.75 to $28.25, Superior & Pittsburg at $14.62½ to $14.75 to $14.50, Shattuck at $19.25, Ojibway at $6.

N. L. Amster, president of the Arizona Commercial Copper company, says: "Conditions today are very different from what they were this time last year. At that time the company had a floating debt of about $400,000, was pumping about 4,000,000 gallons of water every twenty-four hours, had no working capital, and the seventh level looked very poor. We now have very little water to pump, no floating debt that has to be liquidated, and we have ore on the tenth level, and a fairly good-sized working balance in the treasury. We are now sinking a winze from the 700-foot level to connect with the 1,000-foot level; sinking the shaft to the 1,200-foot level; drifting on the vein on the 1,000-foot level, and crosscutting to the Old Dominion vein, which traverses our property to the north of the Black Hawk vein."

The stockholders of the Allouez & Centennial Mining company ratified the plan to consolidate with the Calumet & Hecla company at an adjourned meeting yesterday.

In the stipulation entered into between the government and the Anaconda Copper company for the settlement of the "smoke case," whereby the company agrees to use its best efforts to prevent and ultimately to completely eliminate the smoke nuisance, provision is made for a board of experts to determine whether the stipulation is being complied with. John Hays Hammond, the most prominent mining engineer in the country, is chairman of the board, and its other members are J. A. Holmes, director of the bureau of mines and mining and Louis D. Ricketts, an expert selected by the company.

MONTANA MAN MURDERED.

Helena, Mont., May 4.—Walter Whitworth, foreman for a sheep ranch on Flat creek, sixty miles northwest of here, has been brought to the county jail, charged with shooting and killing Adolph Lavin, aged 30, unmarried, a neighboring ranchman. Eye witnesses of the tragedy says Whitworth rode up to where Lavin was plowing and, as the latter made a move toward him, pulled a weapon and shot him dead. The men had had an old standing difficulty.

GOOD PICTURE OF CAMORRIST INFORMER

This is Abattemaggio, the most extraordinary figure in the extraordinary trial of the Camorrists at Viterbo. Abattemaggio is as good as dead. He has accepted the situation and now, apparently released from fear of death, he goes cheerfully about his revelations concerning his fellow criminals. There is no corner of the earth where he can hide and he knows that when he is released from prison, after he has finished testifying against his associates, a knife is sure to find some vital spot in him before long.

WILSON SIGNS BILL TO STERILIZE CRIMINALS.

New York, May 4. — Governor Woodrow Wilson has affixed his signature to the so-called sterilization bill passed by the New Jersey legislature, the Tribune says today. With its adoption New Jersey joins Indiana, Connecticut and California in legislation providing for the sterilization of criminals and the hopelessly defective. A board of examiners is yet to be appointed.

Governor Wilson left New York yesterday for a four-weeks' tour of the West. His first stopping place will be at Kansas City.

Minneapolis "Trustees" Break Jail.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 4.—For the first time in years two prisoners made their escape from the Hennepin county jail Tuesday.

Matthew Wold and Oscar Wenisch, both serving county jail sentences on grand larceny charges, one for six and the other for nine months, and both being "trustees," owing to their model behavior during the three months they have been in confinement, are the men who made their getaway.

JAPAN'S SEA POWER.

New York Sun: The expansion of the Japanese navy proceeds deliberately, and in no case of rivalry. Japan's present establishment is greatly inferior to that of the United States, and a stern chase, if Japan were disposed to engage in one, would be beyond her facilities and her resources. Messrs. Vickers, Sons & Maxim laid the keel of a 27,000 ton cruiser for Japan on Jan. 17, and there was much criticism among her people because it was a departure from the policy of building ships in home yards. The navy department issued a statement that the order had been given to an English firm because the government desired to obtain the latest model of warship and a valuable example of the art of naval construction. Several Japanese naval officers recently passed through New York on their way to Barrow to study the methods of the English builders. There need have been no mystery about their business, for no secret had been made of it.

Imagine the United States sending her naval officers to England to learn how to build warships! The incident ought to be reassuring to those patriotic souls who are visited by nightmares in which they see a mighty Japanese fleet convoying uncountable transports bristling with troops across the Pacific to lay our coast cities in ruins, seize the canal zone and desolate the country west of the Mississippi. In the preface of Jane's "fighting ships" (1910) any one may read: "New construction in Japan at present appears to be proceeding very slowly." And there has been no change since. strength of the navy of Japan gave her 14 modern battleships; 13 first-class cruisers, armored and unprotected, of 8,000 tons and upward; 7 second-class cruisers of 4,500 tons and upward; 13 third-class cruisers of 2,000 tons and upward 57 destroyers, 59 torpedo boats, and 13 submarines. At the same time the United States navy consisted of 24 modern battleships, 9 older battleships, 15 first-class cruisers, 3 second-class cruisers, 14 third-class cruisers, 40 destroyers, 33 torpedo boats, and 35 submarines. French opinion of the United States battleship fleet was recently reflected in the columns of the Naval and Military Record:

"The prolonged sojourn of the United States battle divisions in the Brest and Cherbough roadsteads has called the attention of French naval men to the rise of American naval power as well as to the special methods of American naval construction. It is the prevailing opinion that, outside the British home fleet, no European sea force could safely tackle Rear Admiral Schroeder's armada. The Dreadnoughts (Delaware, North Dakota, South Carolina and Michigan) have been much admired and are judged much superior, with their aggregate broadside of 36 guns and 305 mm. bore, to the four Nassaus of the Fatherland, which can put in line abeam only 32 weapons of 280 mm., and similar inferiority depreciates the German Deutschlands (broadside of 1,800 kilos) when compared with the larger Georgias and Louisianas (broadside of 2,500 kilos), which have the towfold advantage of volume of fire and of greater penetration."

It is the opinion of Rear Admiral Casper F. Goodrich that either the South Carolina or the Michigan, 16,500 tons, is more than a match for the Dreadnought, 17,900 tons. The fact is the United States battleship fleet is a tremendously efficient sea force, and in gunnery, ship for ship, it far excels any other service, except the British, which stands comparison with it very well. The United States navy will soon be re-enforced by the super-Dreadnoughts Utah and Florida, 21,825 tons, full load 23,400, and next year the Arkansas and Wyoming, 26,400 tons, will be in commission, to be followed each year by two other super-Dreadnoughts, according to the present building program. The program can be doubled or trebled if it seems expedient. It is not a question of money, but of policy.

Japan's building program is more a question of money than of policy. Her resources by comparison with ours are slender, and circumspect economy must be practised. She has two Dreadnoughts in commission, the Aki (19,750 tons) and the Satsuma (19,250). Her two ships next in effectiveness, the Kashima and Katori (16,400), would be no match for the South Carolina and Michigan, and when comparisons are made with other battleships of the Atlantic fleet the inferiority of Japan grows more marked. Her Dreadnought construction seems to have no settled plan. It will be two years before the Kawachi (20,800) and the Setsu (20,800) go into commission. The big cruiser building at Barrow may not fly the mikado's flag before 1914.

A cursory examination of Japan's present sea power and a survey of her construction policy ought to have a tranquillizing effect upon minds sensitive to impressions of the warlike tendencies and sinister designs of the mikado's government.

TAFT AIDS EIGHT MEN

Executive Clemency Extended to Violators of Laws.

Some to Be Freed at Once and Others' Terms Shortened.

Washington, May 4.—President Taft today extended executive clemency to eight men convicted of federal offenses.

John Lee Browne of St. Louis went to Chicago four years ago to look for work and fell into bad company. He soon was convicted of counterfeiting. Having served three years of a five-year sentence in Leavenworth penitentiary, his sentence has been commuted to expire at once.

Morris J. Hanske and Fred Gross of Baltimore, who defrauded the government of tax on oleomargarine, were sentenced to six months' imprisonment and fined $500 each. Hanske's fine has been reduced to $250 and Gross' sentence to four months.

C. A. Calvert of Spokane, Wash., convicted last October of selling whisky to Indians, and sentenced to two years, will get out as soon as he has served half his sentence, so he can support seven children.

Montana Man Freed.

Henry O. T. Lee of Helena, Mont., now serving fifteen months' imprisonment in Leavenworth for complicity in counterfeiting, will be released at once because of his youth.

The president pardoned Hans Kruse, Alex Raeburn and Thomas F. Brennen, all of Omaha, convicted of selling liquor to Indians. Executive clemency was extended because a decoy sent by revenue officers, a practice the attorney general does not approve, figured in the case.

Hearing on Boiler Tests.

SUGGESTS NEW ROUTE FOR ROAD

West Duluthian Thinks Estimate of Engineer Is Too High.

T [illegible] a mile of the most difficult piece of the proposed Getchell road to be graded, guttered, and [illegible] for a consideration less than $5, is the declaration of J. J. Frey, who says that he is not satisfied with the estimate of the city engineering department, whose figure was $22,000 for the entire job.

Mr. Frey was also active in the agitation for the new road, and who has worked consistently on it, says that he and a committee go over a portion of the road this week, and that the contractor stands ready to take the job at a figure less than $5,000 at the expiration of the road included in the schedule of the contractor commencing at Sixty-fifth avenue west and Grand street, runs southwest to Lincoln street and Sixty-seventh avenue west and from there takes a westerly line around the southern end of Oneota cemetery and runs north along Keene's creek, crossing it at a point a little more than half a mile north of the [illegible]. This is the most difficult piece on the road and Mr. Frey says that the Indians believe that there is some mistake in the engineers figures. The figure which Mr. Frey has the contractor agree to a forty-foot roadway, but no [illegible].

Mr. Frey also discusses the changing of the road at Proctor. He points out that a more feasible route would be to turn off from the new road at the west end of Grassy street and run along the Barrow Heights, and then straight out to Proctor on a line which has been graded [illegible] would be said would be considerable expense and would provide a suitable grade for a car line.

The matter will be brought before the West Duluth Commercial club at its meeting, tomorrow evening.

CURLERS WILL DINE AND DANCE

West Duluth Club Will Celebrate Its Fifth Anniversary.

With a dinner, a short program of toast and speeches and a dance, the West Duluth curling enthusiasts and club friends will this evening celebrate the close of the fifth season of the Western Curling club. The banquet will be held at Wade's hall, covers will be laid for 200 and the wives of Rev. Apostle's Episcopal church will serve the meal.

George J. Mallory will preside as toastmaster. Among those who are down for talks are Walter Evered, president; E. A. Barnes, J. Allyn Scott, D. H. Martin, E. M. Tredway and Steele H. Jones. C. B. Collier will give the invocation. Music will be furnished by Flaten's orchestra.

During the evening, seven trophies will be awarded to the winning rinks. The rink will be served at 6:30 sharp. Dancing will commence at 9:30.

IMPROVEMENT CLUB WILL HOLD MEETING.

A meeting of the Hazelwood and Oneota improvement club will be held this evening in the Hazelwood Presbyterian church, Thirty-ninth avenue west and Fourth street, and several matters of vital interest to the district will be taken up for consideration.

More police protection is wanted and a similar plea is also advanced for better fire fighting facilities, it being claimed that a fire hall should be located at Oneota. It is probable that definite steps may be taken to bring the matter before the attention of the city council.

CHARITY SOCIAL FOR SICK NEIGHBOR.

Neighbors of a destitute family on Fifty-second avenue west will hold a charity social tomorrow afternoon in Odell's hall. Several of the women of the neighborhood will gather there and each will bring a pound of eatables and such other articles as may be of use to the stricken family.

LORDS' VETO BILL IS PAST COMMITTEE STAGE.

London, May 4.—The parliament bill, known as the veto bill, for the curtailment of the powers of the house of lords, yesterday passed the committee stage in the house of commons, practically without amendment, amid scenes of great enthusiasm.

The refusal of A. J. Balfour, leader of the opposition, to vote against the preamble to the veto bill removed any danger that might have been apprehended from the revolt of the Laborites against the preamble, and this portion of the bill, the consideration of which was regarded as the most critical test for the government, provided votes to carry. The Unionists' opposition vanished.

COMBINE FOR DEVELOPMENT

Wisconsin and Michigan Associations Will Send Delegates Here.

Co-operation the Keynote of June Meeting in Duluth.

It is expected that the meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development association here June 1 and 2 will result in the development of a plan of co-operation between four organizations having for their object the development of the agricultural resources of their respective states.

Representatives of the Northern Wisconsin Advancement association, Northern Michigan Development association and Western Michigan Development bureau will attend the meetings and will exchange ideas with the members of the Northern Minnesota association.

Although no new organization is planned, taking in the upper portions of the three states, the interests of the sections are almost identical and it is believed that much can be gained by intelligent co-operation. The Northern Minnesota association has already proved that results can be obtained by co-operation between county associations and the same is believed to be true of state or district associations. All are working for development, and there are different plans of development, discussion of which should be beneficial.

Co-operation between Northern and Southern Minnesota is also greatly to be desired and the officers of the Northern Minnesota association have set about a campaign of education to prove that the association plans to benefit the state by benefiting Northern Minnesota. Many of the state legislators have already notified Secretary Mackenzie that they will attend the Duluth meeting and it is believed that such a visit will prove beneficial. Mr. Mackenzie has sent much advertising for the meeting through Southern Minnesota and he hopes that many of the people interested will come to Duluth to learn that Northern Minnesota people are honestly anxious to develop their part of the state and supply its needs.

CITY BRIEFS

Runs Into Street Car.

Sam Segan, 7 years old, ran into a street car on Second street between First and Second avenues east yesterday afternoon, and sustained a minor injury to his shoulder. He evidently didn't see the car and bumped into the middle of it. He was thrown to the street, away from the wheels.

Removal Notice.

The Grand Union Tea company is now at 214 West First street, one-half block east of French & Bassett's.

Temple Services.

"The Disease of Americanitis" will be the subject of the sermon of Rabbi Lefkovits at Temple Emanuel tomorrow evening.

Rent Your Rooms.

Probably ten people per day pass and read your sign, "Furnished rooms for rent." And eight of the ten don't want rooms, and the ninth wouldn't live in a place that had the "boarder sign" hanging out. How much cheaper it is to spend 20 cents in a want ad and reach thousands who are really looking for rooms for rent. Hundreds are doing it every day in The Herald and easily rent their rooms. Why not you?

Col. Nelson Will Speak.

Col. Ben Nelson, who is in charge of all Scandinavian Salvation Army work in the West, with headquarters at Chicago, will speak at a coffee social to be held at the Duluth branch of the army at 1631 West Superior street this evening. There will be a program of music and addresses. The Swedish Mission church choir will sing.

Fined for Assault.

Herman Rumple was found guilty after a trial in police court yesterday afternoon of assaulting Frank Miller, and fined $5 and costs, which he paid. The men had some trouble over a wagon which Miller and William Shields had repaired for Rumple.

"Every Little Bit."

COPPERS DECLINE; SELLING LIBERAL

Congressional Investigations and Crop News Depress Prices.

The copper market declined today in sympathy with the general market. The inquiry by congress into the affairs of the United States Steel corportion, the American Sugar Refining company and the American Woolen company caused considerable short selling. The reports of dry weather in the Northwest also induced some selling in Northwestern rails which helped to depress the entire market. The metal market was devoid of news.

Red Warrior sold at $1.96¼ to $1.12½. Calumet & Montana at 38c, Keating at $3.50, $2.67½ and $3.43¾.

N. L. Amster, president of the Arizona Commercial Copper company, says: "Conditions today are very different from what they were this time last year. At that time the company had a floating debt of about $400,000, was pumping about 4,000,000 gallons of water every twenty-four hours, had no working capital, and the seventh level looked very poor. We now have very little water to pump, no floating debt that has to be liquidated, and we have ore on the tenth level, and a fairly good-sized working balance in the treasury. We are now sinking a winze from the 700-foot level to connect with the 1,000-foot level; sinking the shaft to the 1,200-foot level; drifting on the vein on the 1,000-foot level, and crosscutting to the Old Dominion vein, which traverses our property to the north of the Black Hawk vein."

In the stipulation entered into between the government and the Anaconda Copper company for the settlement of the "smoke case," whereby the company agrees to use its best efforts to prevent and ultimately to completely eliminate the smoke nuisance, provision is made for a board of experts to determine whether the stipulation is being complied with. John Hays Hammond, the most prominent mining engineer in the country, is chairman of the board, and its other members are J. A. Holmes, director of the bureau of mines and mining and Louis D. Ricketts, an expert selected by the company.

MONTANA MAN MURDERED.

Helena, Mont., May 4.—Walter Whitworth, foreman for a sheep ranch on Flat creek, sixty miles northwest of here, has been brought to the county jail, charged with shooting and killing Adolph Lavin, aged 30, unmarried, a neighboring ranchman. Eye witnesses of the tragedy says Whitworth rode up to where Lavin was plowing and, as the latter made a move toward him, pulled a weapon and shot him dead. The men had had an old standing difficulty.

This is Abattemaggio, the most extraordinary figure in the extraordinary trial of the Camorrists at Viterbo. Abattemaggio is as good as dead. He has accepted the situation and now, apparently released from fear of death, he goes cheerfully about his revelations concerning his fellow criminals. There is no corner of the earth where he can hide and he knows that when he is released from prison, after he has finished testifying against his associates, a knife is sure to find some vital spot in him before long.

JAPAN'S SEA POWER.

New York Sun: The expansion of the Japanese navy proceeds deliberately, and in no case of rivalry. Japan's present establishment is greatly inferior to that of the United States, and a stern chase, if Japan were disposed to engage in one, would be beyond her facilities and her resources.

Messrs. Vickers, Sons & Maxim laid the keel of a 27,000 ton cruiser for Japan on Jan. 17, and there was much criticism among her people because it was a departure from the policy of building ships in home yards. The navy department issued a statement that the order had been given to an English firm because the government desired to obtain the latest model of warship and a valuable example of the art of naval construction. Several Japanese naval officers recently passed through New York on their way to Barrow to study the methods of the English builders. There need have been no mystery about their business, for no secret had been made of it.

Imagine the United States sending her naval officers to England to learn how to build warships! The incident ought to be reassuring to those patriotic souls who are visited by nightmares in which they see a mighty Japanese fleet convoying uncountable transports bristling with troops across the Pacific to lay our coast cities in ruins, seize the canal zone and desolate the country west of the Mississippi. In the preface of Jane's "Fighting Ships" (1910) any one may read: "New construction in Japan at present appears to be proceeding very slowly." And there has been no change since. strength of the navy of Japan gave her 21 modern battleships; 13 first-class cruisers, armored and unprotected, of 8,000 tons and upward; 7 second-class cruisers of 4,500 tons and upward; 13 third-class cruisers of 2,000 tons and upward; 57 destroyers, 59 torpedo boats, and 13 submarines. At the same time the United States navy consisted of 24 modern battleships, 9 older battleships, 15 first-class cruisers, 3 second-class cruisers, 14 third-class cruisers, 40 destroyers, 33 torpedo boats, and 35 submarines. French opinion of the United States battleship fleet was recently reflected in the columns of the Naval and Military Record:

"The prolonged sojourn of the United States battle divisions in the Brest and Cherbough roadsteads has called the attention of French naval men to the rise of American naval power as well as to the special methods of American naval construction. It is the prevailing opinion that, outside the British home fleet, no European sea force could safely tackle Rear Admiral Schroeder's armada. The Dreadnoughts (Delaware, North Dakota, South Carolina and Michigan) have been much admired and are judged much superior, with their aggregate broadside of 36 guns and 305 mm. bore, to the four Nassaus of the Fatherland, which can put in line abeam only 32 weapons of 280 mm., and similar inferiority depreciates the German Deutschlands (broadside of 1,800 kilos) when compared with the larger Georgias and Louisianas (broadside of 2,500 kilos), which have the towfold advantage of volume of fire and of greater penetration."

It is the opinion of Rear Admiral Casper F. Goodrich that either the South Carolina or the Michigan, 16,500 tons, is more than a match for the Dreadnought, 17,900 tons. The fact is the United States battleship fleet is a tremendously efficient sea force, and in gunnery, ship for ship, it far excels any other service, except the British, which stands comparison with it very well. The United States navy will soon be re-enforced by the super-Dreadnoughts Utah and Florida, 21,825 tons, full load 23,400, and next year the Arkansas and Wyoming, 26,400 tons, will be in commission, to be followed each year by two other super-Dreadnoughts, according to the present building program. The program can be doubled or trebled if it seems expedient. It is not a question of money, but of policy.

Japan's building program is more a question of money than of policy. Her resources by comparison with ours are slender, and circumspect economy must be practised. She has two Dreadnoughts in commission, the Aki (19,750 tons) and the Satsuma (19,250). Her two ships next in effectiveness, the Kashima and Katori (16,400), would be no match for the South Carolina and Michigan, and when comparisons are made with other battleships of the Atlantic fleet the inferiority of Japan grows more marked. Her Dreadnought construction seems to have no settled plan. It will be two years before the Kawachi (20,800) and the Setsu (20,800) go into commission. The big cruiser building at Barrow may not fly the mikado's flag before 1914.

A cursory examination of Japan's present sea power and a survey of her construction policy ought to have a tranquillizing effect upon minds sensitive to impressions of the warlike tendencies and sinister designs of the mikado's government.

TAFT AIDS EIGHT MEN

Executive Clemency Extended to Violators of Laws.

Some to Be Freed at Once and Others' Terms Shortened.

Washington, May 4.—President Taft today extended executive clemency to eight men convicted of federal offenses.

John Lee Browne of St. Louis went to Chicago four years ago to look for work and fell into bad company. He soon was convicted of counterfeiting. Having served three years of a five-year sentence in Leavenworth penitentiary, his sentence has been commuted to expire at once.

Morris J. Hanske and Fred Gross of Baltimore, who defrauded the government of tax on oleomargarine, were sentenced to six months' imprisonment and fined $500 each. Hanske's fine has been reduced to $250 and Gross' sentence to four months.

C. A. Calvert of Spokane, Wash., convicted last October of selling whisky to Indians, and sentenced to two years, will get out as soon as he has served half his sentence, so he can support seven children.

Montana Man Freed.
Henry O. T. Lee of Helena, Mont., now serving fifteen months' imprisonment in Leavenworth for complicity in counterfeiting, will be released at once because of his youth.

The president pardoned Hans Kruse, Alex Raeburn and Thomas F. Brennen, all of Omaha, convicted of selling liquor to Indians. Executive clemency was extended because a decoy sent by revenue officers, a practice the attorney general does not approve, figured in the case.

Hearing on Boiler Tests.

WHITE SOX DROP OPENER

Kid Taylor's Buccaneers Take Initial Contest By 5 to 1 Score.

Game Won in Opening Round —Sox Show Class Despite Defeat.

In the opening soiree of the spring series between the red and white hose teams, played yesterday afternoon at Hislop park, Kid Taylor's band of rapacious buccaneers made the merry White Sox walk the gang plank to a doleful dirge defeat of 5 to 1.

Despite the defeat administered in the opening game, the Sox really look good. In the face of the bombardment served up by Doty was met with enthusiasm, the O'Brienites did not lose heart and did not play boneheaded or dumb baseball.

In the first inning Bancroft hit safely, advancing to second on Bennett's out at first. Hoffman hit one to the outer precincts for three bases, driving Banny across the counter. Red McCullach hit one fairly on the nose for three sacks and the second run of the game was over. Lizzette singled and the star first sacker came scurrying across. Lippold caught the contagion and hit for two sacks, sending "Liz" home. Taylor singled, scoring Lippold, and the torture was ended.

In the fifth, the only inning in which the spikes of our fair athletes dented the plate, Holstrom walked and Baldy Altermott hit nothing more substantial than the rah rah atmosphere of Hislop park. Darby binged one safely, sending the chesty person scampering to third. Hargrove hit to Bancroft, the shortstop erring and Holstrom scoring on the misplay. Darby was held at second on the play. Doty hit to Lippold and the orator was forced at third. Miller flew to left, ending the inning.

In the third, Altermott hit one over the fence for two bases but he was unsupported in his clouting enthusiasm. It also might be added that the Sox almost scored in the first—but not quite.

Smiling Al Cummings relieved Doty after the fifth and pitched nice ball. Gilchrist, Dahlgren and Dunlap did slab duty for the Red Sox, and held the Sox helpless.

Leaving the detail of the play, it may be said that Hargrove looks like a real catcher. Yesterday he neatly waylaid three would-be pilfering Taylorites, his throws being almost ideal for the baseman to handle. While the receiver wasn't hitting, he handles himself like a sure enough ball player and should supply a long felt want behind the pad and mask.

While no team looks especially good when the members are not hitting, the White Sox look right at the present time—and some of them have not been out a week—50 per cent stronger than the team that started the season last year for Duluth.

We know the worth of Holstrom, Altermott, O'Brien, and some of the rest of them, so that it is the size up of the youngsters that will interest the fans. It is hard to judge in one day's showing, but frankly the team looks good, with no small chance to judge, and it ought to get away well at the start.

The two teams will renew hostilities this afternoon at Superior, and will also battle there tomorrow. A big howling, enthusiastic and gleeful crowd saw the game yesterday.

ACTION POSTPONED ON LEAGUE SCHEDULE.

A meeting of the Commercial Baseball league was held last evening at the Northern Shoe company's building. The schedule was not formulated last evening for the reason that the sixth team has not been decided upon as yet. With the Board of Trade, F. A. Patrick, the Northern Shoe company, The Wolvins and several other teams with applications in, the officials decided to postpone action until next Wednesday evening, when the schedule will be made out.

It is very likely that the Stone-Ordean-Wells company, or the Rust-Parker-Martin people will place a team in the league. It is the desire of the officials to have six teams in the organization, and that is the most important reason for postponing action on the schedule.

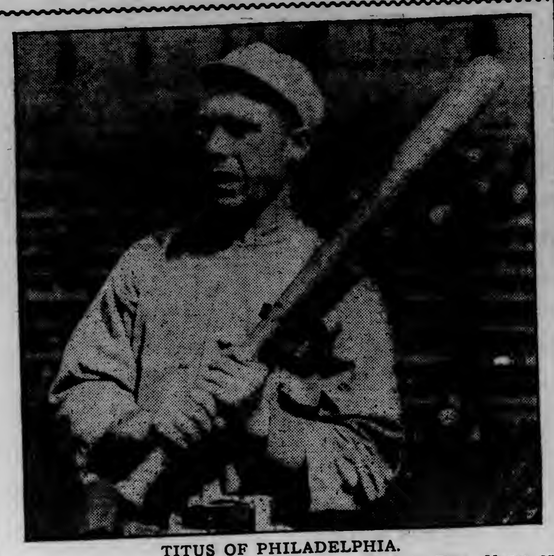
PHILADELPHIA NATIONALS HAVE GREAT OUTFIELD



TITUS OF PHILADELPHIA.

The Philadelphia Nationals have a great outfield in Titus, Magee and Paskert. Paskert was obtained from Cincinnati in that famous trade which President Fogel at first refused to sanction. Magee was the real leader of the National league last year, with a batting average of .331. Titus has been with the Philadelphia team for some years and is a reliable fielder and a good batter. He has been hitting the ball on the nose this year and is helping to keep his team at the head of the league.

CHICAGO PLEASED OVER BOXING BILL

Chicago, May 4.—The action of the senate at Springfield Tuesday, in passing a bill by a vote of 30 to 3, legalizing six-round, no-decision boxing bouts in Illinois, met with hearty approval in local pugilistic circles. On learning the news, several persons immediately began to make preparations for the drawing up of charters to have clubs incorporated.

Although the bill passed the senate by a larger vote than was expected, the measure has yet to pass the house and receive the O. K. of the governor before it becomes a law.

The passage of the bill was the main topic of conversation among ...tic fans. Every one connected with the game in Chicago is eager to have the bill passed and if the measure is put through, Chicago will be the fight center of the country.

From now on the fans and boxers will have their eyes focused on Springfield and if the bill is passed Chicago fight fans will have plenty of opportunity of seeing some of the best boxers in the world in action. Chicago is the home of Heavyweight Champion Jack Johnson, Bantamweight Champion Johnny Coulon, Packey McFarland, one of the most dangerous contenders for the crown of Ad Wolgast; Hugo Kelly, one of the best middleweights in the world; Jack White, claimant of the featherweight title held by Abe Attell; George "Knockout" Brown, claimant of the welterweight championship, not to mention a score of other fighters, whose services are in demand in all sections of the country.

BLANCKE MAY RETURN TO SOX

Lank Twirler Looked for in Two Weeks—Many Players Carried.

Blancke may report to the White Sox within the next two weeks.

According to the news given out at baseball headquarters, the chief objection to the lanky twirler in coming to this city, is that his wife objects. But, even with so strong a barrier to overcome, the baseball officials have received information that leads them to believe that the old boy will be back.

With his arm in shape Blancke would be one of the best twirlers in the league. He has everything when he is right, including a head and nerve, and he would prove a valuable asset to the team.

Harry Hughes was lost at the very last moment. Waterloo grabbed the youngster when it looked as if he would be with the Sox. This was one of the hardest blows of the trip, one that had counted on this chap as a winning pitcher the present season.

As stated yesterday Higley proved too inexperienced and was dropped. "Bugs" Carter reported to Darby in overalls. He had about six days' growth of alfalfa on his rotund countenance and a hungry look. He followed the team, riding on boxcars, and would generally show up at every town just as the Sox were pulling out.

Darby says the queer one is even more queer than ever, and but for this reason, he would have been signed by the orator, as he is one of the best ball players in the minors.

Wing, Blake and McDonald proved to have energy and nothing else. Hamm, Smith, Dawning, Mountain, Mitchell, Kohl, Fisher, Allen, Van Ulm and about fifteen others were dropped at various points on the training trip. The squad on hand at the present time is the pick of the small army of recruits that the orator had working out, starting with the first ones he took from Cleveland.

The experience of any manager with recruits is often trying. Sometimes there are cases where he has hard work to decide. In the present case Darby believes he has saved the very cream of the players he has handled since early April, and he also is of the opinion that he has several finds in the squad.

HARRY FORBES TO MEET FITZGERALD

Chicago, May 4.—Harry Forbes, the "come-back champion," has been matched to meet Young Fitzgerald of Milwaukee, at the National Athletic club of Gary, Ind., Monday, May 8. Manager Sam Sax of the Indiana club closed the match for the club's second show over the long-distance phone.

Forbes and Fitzgerald will box ten rounds and will weigh in at 118 pounds at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of the bout.

Teddy Murphy, who is looking after the interests of the Milwaukee fighter, says that Fitz is in much better form now than he has been since he boxed Champion Johnny Coulon two and a half years ago.

At that time Fitzgerald was considered a likely bantam-weight champion, and his showing with the present little champion—hard draw with Kid Murphy and wins over such men as Eddie Greenwald, Tommy Scully, Patsy Brannigan, Joe Mandot and Cass Walsh—entitle him to recognition from the best men among the little fellows.

Fitzgerald will do his training at Milwaukee, but will come here a few days before the Gary bout to put on the finishing touches. Forbes has already started training for the bout.

Harry will work with Trainer Fred Whittingham, and have Stockings Kelly the old West Side battler, to help him on the road.

COMMENTS AND OPINIONS ON THE SPORTING PARADE

A Tribute to Cy Young—Sammy Is Leaving Us—The League Season Is Approaching—Other Sport Notes.

NOT SO long ago an editorial in the Boston Transcript gave a fitting testimonial of the worth in which Denton T. Young, the famous farmer of Paoli, Ohio, was held by the millions of baseball followers throughout the length and breadth of the country.

The editorial is of interest because it throws some new light on the character of probably the most famous baseball character of the past decade.

It tells of the day that old Cy took tickets at the gate, in the deciding game between Boston and Pittsburg, back in 1904, because he could not bear to witness the game and not be in the box. He had pitched his team to the place where victory was possible, and was very glad to have Bill Dineen, one of the greatest of all pitchers, go in and twirl the deciding game.

Dineen won, and it is said that old Cy was one of the first to congratulate him on his victory. These qualities of quaint and quiet good fellowship have done much to make Young the idol of the millions of fickle fans quite as much as his wonderful ability as a pitcher.

There are those of us who hope that the old fellow will come back this season and pitch some of his best ball. Young is getting to that stage where retirement is only a question of a very short time. Young has gone on like the brook, and fans have pondered deeply over the problem of the almost superhuman endurance shown by this quiet giant, whose modest life has been the subject of columns of newspaper and magazine space.

When a great man dies or even gives up the business which he has made conspicuous success, there are always those who have not achieved greatness, who pause from the swift march of every day events, and ponder, even if it be only for the passing moment.

It would seem that old Cy Young is passing, even if he sticks through the present season. His passing will be a distinct loss to the great national game of the American people. If not the Washington of baseball, for was it not Harry Chadwick who was called the father of baseball, Denton T. Young may be at least called the most imposing figure of its later days.

Great as he was, and is, as a baseball player, Young's character is fine and big, and he is one of the greatest figures that baseball, a grand game, has ever had, and it seems certain, even in this material age when great deeds are easily forgotten, that the memory of Young will be green long after he has quit the field of his great activities.

Is Going Across.

PICKING up the paper, just the other day, we noticed how Sam Langford is going to sail away. He's going to cross the ocean blue, big and wide, for to have a fight or two. Why don't he stay at home, the query you may hear, and we haste to answer, that the other fighters fear, revere and are sincere, regarding this little spade, one that's not afraid, and he's one that has made other fighters jump along the fear path.

With smiles that are forlorn, we are thinking, thinking, of the days when fighters born, not with fear and shaking sides but with tough and callow hands, would go out and do battle with foeman white or black.

But those days are past, no doubt, and the fighters that are out, are for money first and last, for the glorious days are past; now the pugs are out for glory, though not for glory that is gory, and the way to get the mon is the way to have the fun. That's the best way.

And so to the white-cliffed shores of Albion he's a sailing, while the fight fans are a wailin', just for one good scrap or two. And bleak prospects greets our eyes, as we slowly do surmise, that the big lobs want none of his game.

Yes, he's going to sail away, and he may fight some other day, perhaps, but not ove- here. And in the meantime we are waiting for a hope, who will lope, through the ranks of the heavies as a farmer swings his flail, like a whale sporting through the splashy sea. There are "hopes" and there's despair, and as yet we're not aware of a geek who could make the farmers in the vicinity of Hackenschmidt sit and take notice.

Coming Down to the Cases.

ANOTHER season of strife in the Minny league will soon be ushered in, brother. Already the affray with dreaded Superior has started. Ever and anon in his sleep will the true fan roll and turn, muttering, half-sleepily, that had so-and-so clouted to the woods in the fatal eighth the catastrophe would have never happened.

The annual baseball fever is approaching, brothers and sisters. The preaching of the cold dinner day or the evening of the cold dinner is at hand. The day is at hand when the patience of the wife must be as that of Job of old; when children cry not for castoria, but for dinner that father in the bleachers is keeping waiting.

Oh, verily, brothers and sisters, though stocks may shrink like woolen washed not with wool soap, but with the pure suds of boiling wrath; though the ore may remain in the very pit for want of association with steel rail and tall building, baseball, like the streamlet that Alf Tennyson wotted of, goes on forever.

Prepare ye all, for the game is with us.

IN SPEAKING of the noble game of horse racing, an Eastern racing official rises to the remark that the sport of kings is dead. After reading of the reduced allowances that have been made to some of the petty potentates of gay dispositions, we are inclined to the belief that the king game has been doused in several directions.

TOMMY ANDREWS, the somewhat famous sporting editor of the Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin, is back from a long tour of several countries. From several of the things he wrote while in the land of the Kangaroo people is a very preety wager to cast your fortunes with the belief that the dean of the Milwaukee sport writers is very glad to be back in the dear old land of the proud stars and stripes, once more.

THERE are three kinds of sports. One wears a pink tie with a green shirt and gets loudly exhilirated on four beers. He is also liable to be rude to his wife and to boss the kids around. There is also the lowbrow who likes brutality and honestly believes the Police Gazette is the best literature. Dog fights and prize fights and any old fights are his highest form of recreation. There is also the game chap, pretty white all the way through, who enjoys clean sport and fair play above all. It is really a pity that some reformers are not in the least discriminating.

THE very rumor that Thomas Burns is to receive $10,000 for a few games of lacrosse, raises the question as why he should re-enter the ring, especially when Jack Johnson and Sam Langford are hanging around in search of easy money.

CONNIE MACK, traded Jack Knight, the wonderful Boston American infielder for old Jimmy Collins, the year the Athletics were fighting so hard with the Detroit Tigers for the pennant. As Collins was only used a short time, one might also say that it was a play of a Knight for a Day.

GOTCH'S DEMANDS MAY PREVENT MATCH WITH HACK

Chicago, May 4.—Because of the demands of Frank Gotch, the proposed wrestling match for the world's title between Gotch and George Hackenschmidt, the Russian lion, scheduled to be held at the White Sox ball park on Labor day, has been called off by officials of the Empire Athletic club.

Gotch asked $20,000 for his end, besides an allowance of $1,000 for training expenses and a 50 per cent interest in the moving pictures. Joe Coffey, match-maker of the Empire Athletic club, caalled a meeting of the members of the organization, and opinion was that Gotch was unreasonable in his demands. Unless Gotch would accept the flat sum of $20,000, Coffey was instructed to call off the match. Coffey went back to see Gotch, but the big gladiator was just as insistent in his demands, and Coffey said there would be nothing doing.

In regard to calling off the match, Gotch said as long as he holds the title he intends to get something for meeting the foreigners who come over here in quest of his crown.

When Gotch wrestled Hackenschmidt before, the Humboldt farmer said he received $6,000 for his end, while Hackenschmidt received at least three times as much. The champion said he had to accede to the Russian's terms when the latter was champion, and now that he is the title holder he is going to make Hackenschmidt meet his terms.

Although a meeting has been fixed for today, Gotch said he would not concede a single point.

SPORTING NOTES

Catcher Joe Crisp, taken last season from the Newark Eastern league club by the St. Louis Browns, insists that he has retired from baseball, but refused to report. Crisp was released to the Topeka club.

A team of crack Hawaiian athletes will reach here in July and will be matched against New York athletes. An elimination contest will be held in Honolulu to select the contenders in June.

The date of the fight betwen Bill Lang, the Australian heavyweight, and Jack Lester, the Cleelum, Wash., pugilist, for whom Tommy Burns is the sp--sor, has been fixed for May 13 in Sydney. Both men are training hard. Lang is the favorite.

Fred Conklin, international amateur billiard champion, is today looking for another opponent, following his defeat of Percy Collins, the Chicago champion. Conklin ran up a string of 306 to Collins' 151.

Henry Knaupp, shortstop of the Cleveland American league team, was sold to the New Orleans club of the Southern league yesterday. He reported to the local club from the Victoria, Tex., team last summer.

Manager Charley Dooin, who is baseball's sweetest singer, is thinking of organizing a Phillie quartet of himself, Earl Moore, Dode Paskert and Jack Rowan and going on the road at the end of the baseball season. Dooin believes that such a stunt would prove a big attraction.

That Chicago may have an automobile speedway which will make the Indianapolis course look to its laurels is the indication today. According to report a syndicate has been formed of automobile manufacturers and owners and a track will be built probably in the near future.

Frank Chance, manager of the Chicago Cubs, who has been out of the game since he twisted his ankle seriously in Cincinnati, probably will be able to resume playing for some time. Chance had hoped to be able to go back to first this week, but his foot pains him so greatly that he can hardly walk.

George McQuillan, the former Philadelphia National pitcher, who went to Cincinnati, with Moren, Bates and Grant for Beebe, Lobert, Paskert and Rowan, has been suspended by Manager Griffith of the Reds for imbibing too freely while in St. Louis last week. According to dispatches from Cincinnati, McQuillan was shipped home by Manager Griffith from St. Louis.

Four college mates of Kenneth Nash, shortstop on the Brown university team, care more for the baseball prowess of their alma mater than for their physical feelings. They have each yielded a goodly portion of skin to patch up an injury to Nash sustained in a game with the Providence Eastern league team. As a result of their sacrifice Nash will be able to resume playing.

President Powers of the Danville club of the Three-I league today notified the other league magnates that he would hold the Danville team together for a short time, pending a settlement of the league fight. He added that Danville would play in either a ten or an eight-club circuit, but that if neither was agreed upon within a very short time the Danville team would be withdrawn from the league.

Connie Mack, who is in New York with his champions, says that Detroit is 30 per cent stronger this year than last and is going to be a hard team to beat. "If it was some weak team that had jumped to the front as Detroit has, playing away ahead of its true form, I would not be a bit afraid. But Detroit presents a different proposition. I do not believe the Tigers have been playing ahead of their game. The other clubs will have to get better and not rely on a slump by the Tigers, if the latter are to be overhauled.

George Sutton, former 18.1 and 18.2 champion billiard player of the world, whose high average of 100 for 500 points still remains a world's record, announces that he is ready to meet Willie Hoppe, present holder of the title, for a side bet of $500 a game. Sutton declares he will post $500 on Sept. 1 to bind a match with Hoppe to be played in November, for either the 18.1 or the 18.2 championship, optional with Hoppe. Also he said he would post $500 for the alternate championship in the game to be played in January.

ABE ATTELL IS IN "VODVILLE"

Featherweight Champ Seeks to Elevate Stage While Arm Is Mending.

New York, May 4.—Sighing for new fields to conquer, Abe Attell, the featherweight champion of the world, is now busily engaged in elevating the stage. The "elastic champion," as the crafty Californian has been called, because of his ability to box in the bantam, feather and lightweight classes, is appearing at the Fifth Avenue theater this week. Abe has a monologue and conducts himself after the manner of such famous performers as Tom Sharkey, "Battling" Nelson, "Knockout" Brown and others.

During the course of his monologue Attell tells some of his experiences both in the ring and on the road, and his act ripples with a bright line of comedy. Among the opening lines of his speech are these: "I asked the management if they wanted me to give a boxing exhibition, but they told me they wanted a box office exhibition. The stage is different from the ring. In a fight they ring a bell every three minutes and give you time. In this game you can ring a bell all day and they won't give you your time."

Perhaps the best story of the lot is an account of Attell's first appearance in Springfield. Abe had just fought and won a big fight in the West and was signed by the manager of a sporting club in Springfield to come and box an exhibition. When he arrived in the city his pictures were spread out on posters and banners, but the only newspaper he found carried not a line of his coming. He asked the manager what that meant, but that worthy explained that the journal in question was a religious sheet and carried no fight news whatever.

"Don't worry over that," the manager said, "they all know you here." Attell went over to the hotel and registered. He wrote his name in three times the proportion he usually employed. The clerk looked up, glanced at the name and calmly asked: "Do you want a sample room, Mr. Attell?" Such is fame.

McFARLAND AND "AD" MAY MEET

Stock Yards Champion Intimates He Will Call German's Defi.

Chicago, May 4.—Unless someone backs down there is every reason to believe today that the superiority of Champion Ad Wolgast or Packey McFarland, the stockyards lightweight, may soon be determined. In Chicago a few days ago Wolgast offered, among other things, to meet McFarland at 134 pounds at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of the battle and to bet $5,000 he could dispose of the Chicago champion inside of twenty rounds.

McFarland, who has returned from the East, declares he will accept such an offer and meet Wolgast just as soon as the champion is ready. No bout between the two, however, is possible until late in the summer or early in autumn, since Wolgast is to fight Frankie Burns on the coast this month and Owen Moran on July 4.

SCOTS IN AMERICA TO BE ASSURED OF FAME.

Boston, Mass., May 4.—A movement started two years ago has resulted in the organization here of the Scottish Historical Society of North America. Its object is the collecting and preserving of historical data relating to the achievements of men of Scottish birth or blood on the North American continent. Under the constitution adopted, each state, territory and province is to be represented by a vice president, and to date acceptances have been received from thirty-eight states and seven provinces. The membership includes many prominent men of Scottish blood living in America. William A. Neilson of Harvard university was elected president.

DRY WEATHER BULL FACTOR

Traders Take Notice of Lack of Rain in the Northwest.

Shorts Punished Again—Rye Soars—Linseed Is Weaker.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 4.—Wheat went up today on sustained buying, the Northwestern markets leading in the advance. May gained 1c and July went up 1¼c. Oats walked forward ⅝c, rye gained 4c, an advance of 10c a bu in the last three days. There is a scarcity of rye and the market is extremely strong. Durum wheat gained ⅝c and cash wheat was ½c over the July delivery.

Linseed was slightly weaker, May losing ½c to $2.37½. July gained ½c and September was up 7c. Reports to The Herald indicate that the linseed acreage in North Dakota may be 25 per cent smaller than that of last year. Plata April-May seed at Antwerp was quoted at $2.18 a bu. An Antwerp cablegram to the writer said there is a good demand for spot seed and that German crushers are steady buyers. Prices for spot oil are strong and the demand for cake is heavy on account of the coolness of the weather. Crushers are working half time and some have closed down on account of the scarcity of seed. The weather is turning warmer and the demand for linseed cake is expected to shrink. Rain has fallen on the meadows to a small extent and cattle are returning, which will further reduce the demand for cake.

Shorts were given no respite today. The strength in the Northwestern markets dominated the wheat situation and values advanced rapidly until noon, when buying lost power and values marked time or fluctuated within a narrow trend. The fear of continued dry weather in the Northwest was the motive for the sustained buying of wheat. Having in mind the crop fatalities of last year the trade was in a mood to become quickly apprehensive. As one man expressed it, "If I am going to get scared I want to get scared early."

There is no basis for immediate fear of dry weather. If rain comes within the next two weeks or if there are plentiful rains after the next two or three weeks the basis for a dry weather scare will have been removed. Yet it cannot be denied that absence of moisture thus far in this month is sufficient reason to cause some apprehension despite the fact that spring wheat went into the ground under favorable conditions.

The markets took notice, also, of the results of last year's crop failure in territory tributary to Duluth, noticeable in the rapidly decreasing stocks of wheat here and the small amount of spring wheat available. The shortage of first-class spring wheat in this market is enhanced by the shipment this week of 100,000 bu to Chicago. If any sort of Eastern demand materializes there will be keen competition for the spring and durum wheat in this market and a strong cash market is likely to develop. The cheaper Manitoba wheat in bottoms at Buffalo is not available and buyers have been buying on a hand-to-mouth basis in the hope that reciprocity will be ratified. There seems to be no reason for expecting the ratification of the reciprocity agreement until very late in the summer, if then.

Dispatches from North Dakota to The Herald today indicate that spring wheat seeding in that state has been practically completed. In the Red river valley seeding has been completed under favorable conditions. In the central and western portions of the state seeding will be completed in a few days. The increase in the acreage seems to be about 10 per cent over that of last year. There has been considerable seeding of barley and the acreage of oats has been increased. Much spring wheat has sprouted and winter wheat and rye are several inches above the ground and are making a first-class stand.

There was a better tone to the Minneapolis cash market today, which helped the values in the speculative market. Flour sales were reported to be moderate.

Fair and warmer weather is promised for tonight and Saturday in the Northwest. There may be showers in Kansas and Missouri. Fair and warmer weather is predicted for Nebraska. The report of Price Current said that the favorable position of the winter wheat crop was not disturbed last week. Spring wheat seeding, said the Cincinnati Journal, has been under excellent conditions and starts out with a good promise.

The German statistical bureau affirmed reports of the favorable position of the German crops. Beneficial rains have fallen in Argentina and the sowing of the new crop in Middle Argentina is well advanced. Argentine shipments this week are expected to increase.

Dispatches from places in Saskatchewan said that the precipitation for April in that province was 1.34 inches compared with .25 inches in 1910, and .13 inches in 1909, and for the first four months of the year 4.89 inches compared with 1.15 inches last year. The soil is in prime condition and prospects for a bumper crop could not be bettered.

The shorts are still in a precarious condition. The open interest in the Chicago market is estimated at from 8,000,000 to 10,000,000 bu above the cash wheat that has already been delivered on May contracts. The question as to whether Chicago could continue to maintain the pace set in the last two weeks was not put in a position for solving today as the Northwestern markets were the center of strength and Chicago followed their lead.

There is a general tightening of the bulls' grip on the new crop months and the shorts' camp is pervaded with a feeling of uncertainty and apprehension. That they oversold themselves cannot be doubted.

MARKET GOSSIP

"Never in the history of the west slope has there been at this season of the year a better outlook for a good crop; the weather the last week has been ideal for work on the land, and farmers have been improving the opportunity, with the result that business has been unusually quiet in the city," said a Grand Forks, N. D., report. "A trip through the country both north and south shows a large acreage put in, and that a large amount of land is being prepared for planting corn, potatoes and crops other than small grain. The way the farmers are working the land shows the result of dry farming or better farming lessons that have been taught. Some of the fields are worked and reworked until they look more like land prepared for a lawn than like a portion of the wheat tract."

Chicago Tribune: Bulls in the deferred wheat futures are now counting on dry weather in the Northwest as the principal factor. At the present time the majority of reports from the spring wheat, while admitting the deficiency of moisture the last few months in some sections, say that the present outlook could hardly be bettered. As has been the case with all the bull arguments so far this season, the believers in higher prices are banking more on future developments than on present conditions.

A number of reports to Barrell from Minnesota points said that seeding was nearly completed, with a perceptible lack of moisture at present. In general the reports indicated that the area of wheat and flax would show an increase, while the acreage of oats would be a little less than last year. In the spring wheat the weather has been cold recently, which was considered a favorable circumstance at this season.

This market will ship 100,000 bus of spring wheat to Chicago this week.

Broomhall's foreign crop summary says: "United Kingdom—Crop outlook is generally favorable, although there are some complaints of the plant being backward. France—Crop outlook is favorable, but only an average crop is expected. Consumption of foreign grain continues on a large scale, and is expected to be so in the future. Germany—There have been general rains and the crop outlook shows improvement. Offerings of native wheat are very small, while there are larger purchases of foreign wheat. Roumania—Crop outlook continues favorable, with the weather seasonable. Hungary—Crop shows improvement, with the weather conditions very favorable. Russia—In the southeast the weather is favorable, with the crops showing improvement. Arrivals at the ports are very small, with stocks decreasing. Wheat market firm. Italy—Crop outlook is generally favorable, with the weather seasonable. There has been increased foreign buying. North Africa—Crop outlook for the wheat crop is less favorable than earlier indications."

Chicago Record-Herald: Year delivery wheat was traded in yesterday for the first time since the days of B. P. Hutchinson and Ed Pardridge. Trades ranged from 86c to 87¼c. The desire to trade in year delivery probably grew out of the uncertainty over the May deal. In the event of its collapse the seller of the year delivery would have a place to limit his loss on any holding he might have of any other delivery, while the chance was made too enough to be made attractive to any believer in current wheat values. Brokers representing the leading longs in May wheat were bidding for June delivery, ostensibly for the purpose of giving an appearance of stability to the May deal. It was noticeable that none of the bids for June were more than ¼c over the price current for July. The May delivery, however, was 5⅞c over July at the close.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Our Argentine agent estimates the wheat shipments this week, 3,200,000 bu, last week, 2,120,000 bu, last year, 2,168,000 bu. Corn this week nil, last week nil, last year, 130,000 bu. Beneficial rains have fallen in the South. The sowing of the new crop in the center is well advanced. Realizing was induced at the opening here by the weaker American cables yesterday and the forecast of larger Argentine shipments this week and values were ½d to ¾d lower. Further pressure was induced by the continued favorable crop advices all over Europe and America and Argentine and the general trade is inclined to the bear side and short selling. During the morning there was some disposition shown to support and the market recovered part of the decline, prices advancing ¼d to ⅜d. This was due entirely to shorts covering on a report from London of an improved demand for cargoes which were rather more freely held. At 1:30 p. m. the market was unchanged to ⅛d lower than yesterday.

THE CHICAGO MARKET

Drouth Gossip Is Received and Wheat Prices Lift.

Chicago, May 4.—With the weather map showing continued absence of rain northwest, drouth gossip took a fresh start today, and helped lift the price of wheat. Cable reports of an improved demand for cargoes at London furnished additional encouragement to the bulls. There was also talk of lighter supplies at Buenos Ayres. On the other hand, fine crop prospects both in Europe and America furnished a little comfort to the bears. Opening figures were the same as last night to ⅛@⅜c down. July was unchanged to ¼c off at 88⅛@88¾c during the initial trades, and then rose to 88¾@88⅞c.

A further advance followed. May rose rapidly more than 2c on stoploss orders for small amounts. The close was steady with July 89¼c a net gain of ⅞c.

Heavy selling by a packer-speculator failed to depress corn, except for a short while. The knowledge that shipments from elevators here this week will be large formed the basis of much of the market strength. July opened a shade to ⅛c lower at 52@52⅛c to 52¼c, touched 52c and rallied to 52⅞@52⅝c.

Lightness of country sales led to some additional gain. The close was steady at 52⅛@52⅜c for July, a net advance of ⅜@.

Cash houses were good buyers of oats. Price changes followed the lead of corn. July started unchanged to ¼c up at 32@32⅛c to 32⅛@32¼c and rose to 32¼c.

Big receipts of hogs gave an easy tone to provisions. First sales were 2½@7½c cheaper, with July delivery $14.90 for pork, $8 for lard and $7.92½ for ribs.

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Wheat Is Bullish on Account of Fear of Crop Damage.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 4.—Fear of damage to the spring wheat on account of the slight deficiency in moisture created a bull market today. September was stronger than either of the near months. Cotton Market.

New York, May 4.—Cotton opened barely steady at an advance of 2 points on the old crop but generally 10@20 points lower under general selling, inspired by the more favorable showing of the weather map. Liverpool made a steady showing and the English spot sales continued large, accounting for the relative firmness of the near months early, but May and July soon weakened in sympathy with new crop deliveries, as some of the leading brokers appeared to be selling. The entire market was nervous and unsettled after the call, with active positions ruling about 8 to 13 points under the closing figures of last night.

Spot closed quiet, 10 points lower; middling uplands, 15.35; middling gulf, 15.60. Sales 700 bales. Futures closed easy: closing bids: May, 15.20; June, 15.15; July, 15.21; August, 14.65; September, 13.42; October, 12.90; November, 12.83; December, 12.79; January, 12.78; March, 12.86.

DECLINES IN STOCKS

Prices Started Lower, Rallied But Slumped in Final Hour.

Heavy Selling of United States Steel Affected Other Issues.

New York, May 4.—The stock market was subjected to heavy pressure at the opening today and prices yielded quickly. Canadian Pacific declined 1¾ on the first sale. Reading on sales of 3,600 shares yielded a point and Lehigh Valley the same amount. Losses of ¾ were sustained by United States Steel, Missouri Pacific, Great Northern preferred and Denver & Rio Grande preferred.

The decline was arrested, and although there was a considerable development of strength in various specialties, the representative stocks did not rally much, and were ruling at the low level again at 11 o'clock. Brisk bidding for International Harvester sent it up 3¼ to 127¾, and the preferred also gained 2 points. Local traction stocks and bonds were lifted sharply, and there was a large absorption of American Beet Sugar at higher prices.

Prices ruled somewhat lower on the stock exchange this morning, but after showing symptoms of acute weakness early in the session, the market rallied and held fairly steady. Bear tradeing made use of the Mexican crisis, and prospects of congressional investigations of corporations and attacked the market sharply at the opening. Although they succeeded in causing a temporary break, supporting orders were sent in in sufficient volume to check the movement. There was some further realizing which was partly responsible for the lower range of prices. The bond market showed considerable activity and strength with a large demand for Rock Island collateral 4's, Interborough-Metropolitan 4½'s, Third Avenue certificates, Wabash debentures and New York city 4¼'s, which made another record, selling at 104¼.

The market closed heavy. Heavy selling of United States Steel in the last hour precipitated further declines in which Reading, Union Pacific and the general list participated and lowest prices of the day were registered. The movement was assigned largely to shorts covering and resulted in uncovering of stop-loss orders, particularly in United States Steel which sold down to 74⅝. Final operations were marked by a feeble rally.

Whereas, one George Dunlop and George W. Whereas, It appears that one Minnie Cookman was convicted in the municipal court in said City of Duluth on the 6th day of April, 1911, of conducting a house of ill-fame and of selling liquor without a license on the second floor of said building known as No. 228 Lake avenue south, of which premises she was the lessee from the said George Dunlop and George W. Resolved, By the Common Council of the City of Duluth that they, the said George Dunlop and George W. WITNESS FOR STATE AGAINST DIETZ HAS SUDDENLY VANISHED

Gun Expert Expected to Identify Fatal Bullet, Leaves Town.

Prosecution Is Said to Have Decided Not to Call Kane.

More Deputies Tell About the Battle of Cameron Dam.

Hayward, Wis., May 5.—For some unexplained reason, Capt. Robert Kane, the Milwaukee gun expert, who came here to testify in the trial of John Dietz, charged with the murder of Oscar Harp, that the bullet which killed Oscar Harp came from one of the guns of the Dietz "arsenal," has left town. It is said he is not coming back, although there is another report that he has gone to Winter to make an investigation of his own.

The story most credited, however, is that the prosecution found that Capt. Kane was not so sure about the bullet as they thought he was and the state's forces decided it was better not to allow him to go on the stand.

Theodore Surdson of Rice Lake was the first witness this morning. He was a spectator at the edge of the woods while the shooting was going on.

Dietz Wants Subpoenas.

Dietz asked this morning that the following be subpoenaed: A. G. Stew-

NORTH DAKOTANS WILL PROTEST

Five Men to Go on Anti-Reciprocity Mission to Washington.

Fargo, N. D., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Five North Dakotans will go to Washington to protest against the reciprocity agreement, leaving here Sunday night or Monday morning. They are Former Senator Purcell, Former Lieutenant Governor Lewis, Former Speaker Twichell, Col. Kingman and J. A. Buchanan, who was a candidate for governor at the last primaries.

MARK TIME IN EASTERN STRIKE

Sixty More Pennsylvania Railroad Shopmen Join Walkout.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 5.—Both sides were marking time in the Pennsylvania railroad shopmen's strike today, and there was little change in the situation, except that sixty more men joined the movement at the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne & Chicago shops on the North side. The company continued to put new men in the shops. No disorder has been reported today at any point. The men along the lines East are being paid today and the strikers are receiving their wages for April.

The strike spread yesterday to the Allegheny shops on the Fort Wayne division and the Verona shops of the Allegheny Valley division. At the former 340 men walked out and the company asserted that 312 men were still at work. At the Verona shops, where 457 men are on the payroll, it is claimed more than 300 have joined the strikers.

Of 2,066 men at work on the Pittsburg division last Friday, the company claims to have 969 working.

GOVERNOR WILSON VISITS KANSAS CITY.

Kansas City, Mo., May 5.—Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, arrived here this morning, and tonight he will deliver the first speech of his Western tour before the Knife and Fork club of this city. Governor Wilson will leave tomorrow morning for Denver.

LONDON NEWSPAPERS GET REAL "YELLOW."

Portsmouth, Eng., May 5.—The reports published in London papers on the damage done to the Dreadnought cruiser Invincible, while she was being docked here for an overhauling on Tuesday, were greatly exaggerated. When the warship was docked it was found that some of the wooden blocks upon which the great weight rested had been improperly placed and it was necessary to float her and replace these blocks. The vessel was but little damaged.

OPIUM CONFERENCE PUT OFF ONE YEAR.

Washington, May 5.—The international opium conference which was to have met at The Hague on July 1 has been postponed for one year. Germany, Japan and Portugal are not prepared with the data which Great Britain desired should be presented before the opening of the conference.

Taft Back in Washington.

Washington, May 5.—President Taft arrived this morning from Philadelphia, where he was a guest last night of the Medical club of that city.

HEADS AMERICAN SOCIETY FOR PEACE

—Copyrighted by George Grantham Bain.

THEODORE E. BURTON
Of Ohio.

Baltimore, Md., May 5.—At the annual meeting of the American Peace society yesterday, the principal business was the election of officers. United States Senators Theodore E. Burton of Ohio was chosen president, Dr. Benjamin F. Trueblood of Boston secretary, and George W. White of Washington, D. C., treasurer. A long list of vice presidents also was elected.

LAST BATTLE IN COLORADO

Caucus Against Caucus Is Situation in Senatorial Fight.

Adams Forces May Make Deal to Prevent an Election.

Denver, Colo., May 5.—Caucus against caucus is the prominent feature of the Colorado senatorial situation today, the last day but one on which the legislature will ballot for a successor to the late United States Senator Charles J. Hughes, Jr.

In a caucus called by the chairman of the joint Democratic conference committee to meet tonight, followers of Mayor Robert W. Speer of Denver hope to find the key by which the deadlock may be ended.

In caucus called by those in charge of the campaign of Former Governor Alva Adams of Pueblo to meet in the senate chamber at the same hour, the anti-Speer Democrats hope to find the means to keep the deadlock unbroken.

MULCT LAW HITS THE DRUG STORES

Three Des Moines "Luncheonette" Places Are Refused Liquor Permits.

Des Moines, Iowa, May 5.—Judge Degraff in the district court today held that under the Iowa mulct laws, a drug store cannot serve lunches and sell liquor at the same time. The court refused permits to sell liquor to three of the largest drug stores in Des Moines because they do a "luncheonette" business connection with the soda fountain trade. This, according to the court, puts them in the same class with restaurants, which are prohibited from selling liquor under the mulct law.

RECIPROCITY FOR BRITAIN AND JAPAN

New Commercial Treaty Ratifications Are Exchanged.

Tokio, May 5.—Ratifications of the Anglo-Japanese commercial treaty were exchanged today.

Great Britain and Japan negotiated a commercial treaty which will come into force on July 17, replacing the existing treaty, expiring on July 16. The new pact removes the opposition of British merchants to the recently adopted Japanese tariff, which heavily increased the duty on British manufactures, as Japan grants reductions varying from 12 to 30 per cent upon a large number of British imports.

ALL PLEAD NOT GUILTY

Indicted Ohio Men Will Claim They Decoyed Detectives.

Some Legislators Eager to Confess to Gain Immunity.

Columbus, Ohio., May 5.—State Senators George K. Cetone, I. E. Huffman and L. R. Andrews; Representatives A. C. Lowry, and George B. Nye, and Senate Sergeant-at-Arms Rodney J. Diegel, under indictment for soliciting bribes, were arraigned today before Common Pleas Judge E. B. Kinkead in the criminal courtroom, and pleaded not guilty.

Each of the accused is preparing to fight, but the defenses are expected to be similar. The few statements made indicate a purpose to claim that dealings with the detectives were for the sole purpose of catching and exposing bribe-givers.

Herded With Felons.

The accused legislators, with the exception of Nye and Lowry, who were arraigned later, were brought in along with seven criminals, one a murderer, and others accused of petty thefts and burglary. The legislators sat down while being arraigned, while the murderer and other criminals stood up.

Following the pleas of not guilty, the prosecutor fixed the time for trial as week after next. Attorney Belcher, for the defendants, objected to trial at that time, saying he would be engaged in a murder trial next week and could not prepare for the defense. The court told Mr. Belcher that the assignments were made by the prosecuting attorney, and that he had nothing to do with it, but that the assignments, after made, were subject to change, intimating that the prosecu-

WANTS STATES RESPONSIBLE

Peace Congress Resolution Deals With Outrages Upon Aliens.

Baltimore, Md., May 5.—The chief feature on the program today at the third National Peace congress was the report of the committee on resolutions, which was scheduled for presentation at the close of the afternoon meeting.

One of the resolutions indorses the Anglo-American arbitration treaty and calls for its ratification. Another asks that congress pass such acts as will make the government hold each state responsible for any outrage committed upon the person or property of foreign subjects within it. Still another resolution approves the proposed celebration of the 100 years of peace between the English-speaking nations, and pledges support to the movement.

Scouts Japan War Scare.

At the forenoon session Dr. T. Iyenaga, a native of Japan and a professor in the Chicago university, spoke on "Peace in Asia." Dr. Iyenaga said that what vitally concerned Japan is the continuation of peace in Asia, and scouted the idea of war between Japan and the United States.

CANADIANS WILL DELAY RECIPROCITY

Vote on Measure May Not Be Taken Before August.

House at Washington Working on the Farmers' Free List.

Vote on the Bill Will Come Monday, Says Underwood.

Ottawa, Can., May 5.—It has been practically decided that the house will adjourn during the absence of Sir Wilfrid Laurier at the imperial conference and the coronation, thus delaying ratification of the Fielding-Knox reciprocity agreement at least until August. The recess will begin June 1 and will continue for six weeks.

Information from Washington that the senate may not reach a vote on the question for two months influenced the government to a great extent in agreeing on the recess.

The adjournment is taken without securing the opposition's consent to a vote upon the agreement immediately after the recess, a condition heretofore demanded by the government leaders. It is conceded, however, that a vote cannot be long deferred after the house reassembles. The Liberals will hold public meetings during the recess for the purpose of stimulating a popular demand for immediate ratification.

Congressmen Are Busy.

Washington, May 5.—The house was still hammering away today at the farmers' free list bill, while the senate ostensibly was idle. As a matter of

MUST LAY DUST BETWEEN TRACKS

St. Paul Street Car Company's Liability Declared By Supreme Court.

St. Paul, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city of St. Paul has won its case against the St. Paul City Railway company, in which the city sought to establish its right to compel the company to lay the dust between its rails on city streets. In a decision prepared by Justice Lewis and handed down this morning by the state supreme court, the rights of the city are upheld in their entirety.

The city council passed an ordinance in October, 1909, in which it required the company, under penalty of $100 fine, or imprisonment for thirty days, to lay the dust by sprinklers, between tracks.

Collision Near Wyandotte Sends Argo Steamer to the Bottom.

Detroit, Mich., May 5.—The steel steamer Fisher was sunk early today opposite Wyandotte in the lower Detroit river in a collision with the steamer Stephen Clement of Cleveland.

Chief Engineer W. W. Auhl and Steward Louis Sugden and Sugden's wife, who was assisting him, are missing, and are believed to have been drowned.

The Fisher sank with a big hole amidships in a few minutes. A boat from the Clement rescued the remainder of the Fisher's crew, who jumped overboard in their night clothing.

The Erwin L. Fisher was a steel steamer, 220 feet long with 40-foot beam and fifteen feet depth and was built in 1910. She was owned by the Argo Steamship company of Cleveland.

London, May 5.—Halsey Cooley Ives, director of the City Art museum of St. Louis, was stricken with apoplexy here today and his condition is very serious.

Mr. Ives is 65 years old and is widely known in this and other countries, having been many times decorated in recognition of his attainments in art. Part of his early education was acquired in the technical schools of South Kinsington. On several occasions he has represented the United States government as commissioner abroad. He was chief of the art department of the Chicago exposition in 1893 and of the St. Louis exposition in 1904. Mrs. Ives was formerly Margaret A. Lackland of St. Louis. Mr. Ives was born at Montour Falls, N. Y.

GUN FIGHT NEAR WINGER

Deputies Capture One Alleged Burglar of Dugdale Store.

Second Man Escapes After Trying to Kill Pursuer.

Crookston, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—After a desperate battle in the dark with two desperados, Deputy Sheriff Ed Kelly of this city and Herman Camp of Dugdale, captured a man giving the name of Williams five miles north of Winger. Williams' companion escaped. A sack full of knives, cutlery and other goods stolen from the camp store at Dugdale the night before and about $25 in stamps taken from the postoffice, which is in the same store, were recovered. Kelly had but a .32-caliber pistol which he had borrowed, while the robbers had .38-caliber automatic revolvers.

The robbers had been in hiding in the timber along the Soo line all day, having been traced to near Erskine by Kelly and Camp. The latter took the train to Winger, figuring that the thieves would start south at night along the track. Kelly and Camp

GENNARO FACES ABBATEMAGGIO

Hears Story of Cuoccolo Murder and Denies It in Court.

Viterbo, Italy, May 5.—Mariano de Gennaro, who, it is alleged, was the first to attack Gennaro Cuoccolo, stabbing him with a dagger, was given the chance today to confront his accuser, Gennaro Abbatemaggio.

As the accused and accuser stood before the judge's bench today Abbatemaggio recited what he affirms was the part played by De Gennaro in the tragedy at Torre del Greco on the evening of June 5, 1906. He said in substance:

"De Gennaro was armed with a dagger and also carried in a pocket a kitchen knife which had been taken surreptitiously from the Cuoccolo home. This knife was later placed in the right hand of the dead man, to give the impression to those who might discover the body that Cuoccolo had been slain in a duel.

Story of the Murder.

"When the assassins, accompanied by the unsuspecting Cuoccolo, reached the spot selected for the murder, De Gennaro suddenly drew his dagger and stabbed the victim. Cuocollo attempted to defend himself with a pocket knife and wounded Corrado Sortino on the hand, but he was soon overpowered. Nicolo Morra also stabbed him and Antonio Gerrato struck him over the head with his cane.

"When Cuoccolo ceased to breathe, De Gennaro placed the kitchen knife in his hand, while others took a ring from his finger and from a locket a latchkey to his apartments."

De Gennaro denied this story and emphatically protested his innocence of the crime with which he is charged jointly with other members of the Camorra. During the exchange between the informer and De Gennaro, a brother of the latter, who was in the audience, attempted to interfere and was ejected from the courtroom upon the order of President Bianchi.

REPORT BY AMBASSADOR

Wilson Notifies Washington That Conditions Are Intolerable.

Report of Peace Agreement Is Denied By Figueroa.

Insurrectos Hope Diaz May Celebrate Holiday By Resigning.

Washington, May 5.—Increasing anxiety, approaching alarm, is felt by administration officials for the safety of Americans in Mexico, especially in the vicinity of Acapulco on the West coast. Conditions described as intolerable were reported to the state department today by Ambassador Wilson, and it is probable that naval forces will be ordered to Acapulco at once.

All Calm at Capital.

City of Mexico, Mex., May 5.—Sunday calm marked the anniversary of the Battle of Puebla, which had been heralded as the date set for an attack on the capital by revolutionists and the forced resignation of President Diaz. Up to noon there had been no indication of disorder in any quarter.

Denies Peace Pact.

Contradicting the information of the war office last night, Ambrosio Figueroa, representing the rebels in Guerro and Moroles, said today that no agreement for peace had been made between him and Minister of War Cosio. The conferences thus far, he states, were merely those of courtesy.

Figueroa admits that his campaign in the states of Guerrero and Moroles is under the general direction of Francisco I. Madero, Jr., who, he says, has instructed him by telegraph to await the result of the peace conference at the border.

Although today, May 5, one of Mex-

POOLE'S LAWYER STICKS TO HIM

Farmer Refuses to Make Insanity Plea—No More Bodies Found.

Fowler, Ind., May 5.—Elmer Barce, attorney for John W. Poole, wealthy farmer, who yesterday was bound over to the circuit court without bail on the charge of having killed Joseph Kemper, his farm hand, on Dec. 12, 1909, said today that he had not withdrawn from the case and "would fight it all the way through."

Mrs. Poole, the prisoner's wife, Grace Poole, the daughter, and Emory Poole, the son, who has been the leader in the investigation, are under bonds as witnesses. Mrs. Poole and the daughter signed their own bonds, while thirty farmers eagerly attached their names to Emory Poole's bond.

The search of the Poole farm continues today, but with less enthusiasm, and people here are beginning to doubt that other bodies will be found.

Rejects Insanity Plea.

John W. Poole refused to permit his two attorneys to make a plea of insanity for him.

"I killed Kemper, but it was entirely accidental," was Poole's only statement. His preliminary hearing was held at the home of the sheriff because the authorities were afraid to take him to the courthouse, where 1,000 farmers and townspeople had gathered. Poole's son, Emory, told the authorities that his father frequently had chosen, rather than pay employes' wages due, to drive them off by threatening them with a shotgun or a club.

JAPANESE OFFER FUNDS TO CHINA

Subscribe $8,450,000 for $5,000,000 Loan at Tokio.

Tokio, May 5.—Subscriptions to the $5,000,000 loan which Japan has made to the Chinese government through the Yokohama specie bank aggregate $8,450,000. Foreigners will be allotted more than $2,500,000.

The loan was quietly negotiated and came as a surprise to the representatives of foreign financial interests, since it was announced there has been an outcry from the provincial Chinamen, who are jealous of the Japanese and who are easily inflamed by those having political purposes to serve.

However, it is not thought that this opposition will be serious, and the conclusion of the loan at a time when financial negotiations between China and other countries are pending, is the cause of much satisfaction here. The loan will be used to meet a railway deficit, and China gives in security 6 per cent railway bonds.

FOR WELFARE OF ALL WOMEN

Department of National Civic Federation Holds a Meeting.

Mrs. John Hays Hammond Addresses Session at Washington.

Washington, May 5.—The annual meeting of the woman's welfare department of the National Civic federation is in progress in this city today. The business session was held at the home of Mrs. John Hays Hammond, national chairman of the department, the program including addresses by Mrs. Hammond, by Seth Low of New York, president of the Civic federation; by August Belmont, chairman of the department on workingmen's compensation, and by William R. Willcox, chairman of the employers' welfare department.

Mrs. Taft, wife of the president, an honorary chairman of the woman's welfare department was an active participant in today's meeting. Mrs. Taft late this afternoon will entertain the visiting delegates at a garden party in the White House grounds. A reception tonight by Mrs. Hammond will bring the meeting to a close.

Mrs. Hammond's Address.

In her opening address Mrs. Hammond said in part:

"Do you realize that every morning an army of 3,000,000 working women march out to meet the day?

"What are we doing—we women who are not in the wage-earning class, but who are enriched and benefitted by our patient sisters of toil? This is a question we cannot ignore. It is your duty and mine, in the name of humanity and patriotism, to work to ameliorate the condition of the less fortunate of our community so as to remove any just cause of grievance that now exists against the more prosperous of the country.

"Although barely three years old, this woman's welfare department, through the efforts of my predecessors in office and their co-laborers, has achieved most gratifying results."

WEST END WOOD DEALERS WILL FIGHT

West End Men Opposed to Ordinance of Alderman Bernard.

Wood dealers of the West end object to the regulation by the council of the size of their wood piles and will do all in their power to defeat the ordinance introduced in the council Monday by Alderman Bernard of the Seventh ward, prohibiting the piling of large quantities of mill wood adjacent to dwelling houses.

L. A. Jentoft, who is the owner of several wood piles scattered through the West end, is leading the opposition. He has drawn up a petition and several wood dealers and other interested parties have signed it. They claim it an infringement on their rights and will fight the passage of the ordinance.

That a lively fight over the matter is brewing is evidenced by the interest that West end people are taking in the matter. Alderman Bernard says: "A nuisance of this kind should not be permitted for a moment. Not only is there serious danger from fire, but the wood piles have a tendency to depreciate the value of property nearby. The woodmen should find some other place to pile their stock."

The piling of several hundred cords of light mill wood at Twenty-fourth avenue west between First and Second streets, a locality where there are a large number of frame residences, is said to be responsible for the agitation which resulted in the introduction of the ordinance. The residents in that portion of the West end point out that the breaking out of a fire in that light wood during a high wind would mean certain destruction for many homes and might endanger the entire West end.

RECORDS SHOW NEED OF MORE POLICEMEN.

That the West end is entitled to more police is brought out clearly by a comparison of the number of arrests in West Duluth and the West end and the number of men on duty, according to a West end business man who is behind the movement for a larger and more efficient police force at the West end.

In the West end, thirty-three arrests were made during April with seven patrolmen on active duty distributed over a twenty-four-hour day. In West Duluth there are several more policemen on duty and the number of arrests only totaled twenty-two. This, it is claimed, is about the proportion of arrests in each district from month to month.

Of the thirty-three arrests made in April at the West end the offenses were as follows: Discharging firearms, 1; obtaining money under false pretenses, 1; robbery, 1; assault, 1; indecent exposure, 1; violation of the wheelage tax, 1; vagrancy, 2; drunk, 23; runaway boy, 1.

BRANCH LIBRARY GROWING RAPIDLY.

Remarkable strides have been made the past year in the growth of the circulation of books at the West end branch of the public library. A gain of over 50 per cent is brought out by a comparison of the figures of the circulation last month and a year ago. In April of this year, 1,262 books were circulated against 771 of April last year. There was also a corresponding gain in the attendance figures. During the past month 1,653 persons patronized the institution as compared with 1,316 last year in April. In the juvenile department the past month the circulation was 827, of which 208 were non-fiction. The branch is located in the Neighborhood house, 2423 West Superior street, and is open on Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons and Saturday afternoons and evenings of each week.

West End Briefs.

A fire broke out yesterday afternoon in a barn on Twenty-seventh avenue west and Huron street. It was put out by firemen from Hall No. 2 before much headway was gained. It is thought that the blaze started from a cigarette stub.

The May concert held last evening at the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church under the auspices of the Epworth league and direction of Mrs. Elizabeth Morton Dworshak, was a decided success in every particular. The audience was a large one, the seating capacity of the large church being taxed to overflowing. Among those who contributed to the program were: Miss Frances Berg, Mrs. C. W. Peters, Louis Dworshak, Rudolph Bjorquist, Miss Valborg Gunderson, Miss Florence Hyland.

S. E. Burke of Minot, N. D., is a West end business visitor today.

The Orpheus Singing society of the West end held a May concert last evening at the St. Jean Baptiste hall, Twenty-fifth avenue west and Third street. The program was well planned and carried out. Most of the numbers were given by the Orpheus chorus.

MURDERED GIRL'S "GHOST."

Haunts Telephone Operators During Still Hours of Morning.

Evansville, Ind., May 5.—Haunted in the still hours of the morning by a ghostly figure, the girls of the night force of the Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph company here believe the shadow is the ghost of Miss Josie Gray, former bookkeeper for a furniture store in this city, who was brutally murdered four years ago.

Miss Gray was assaulted and her body then locked in a vault in the rear of the store, where she had been working late on the night of the murder. The cash drawer in the safe was robbed.

Guy Prescott, a porter at the store, is under indictment, charged with the murder, but he disappeared from the city the day after the murder occurred and has not been found. The furniture store is back of the Cumberland telephone building and the girl operators have seen mysterious lights in the rear of the furniture store and a ghost-like figure that flits across the windows.

There is great consternation in the telephone exchange building every morning after 2 o'clock.

GIVE MEDAL TO CARNEGIE

Twenty-One Nations Unite in Honor to the Ironmaster.

Give Token in Recognition of His Efforts to End War.

Washington, May 5.—Andrew Carnegie today received what he called his greatest mark of honor, when twenty-one American republic bestowed upon him a gold medal bearing on one side the words, "Benefactor Humanity," and the other "The American Republics to Andrew Carnegie."

According to John Barrett, director-general of the Pan-American union, it was the first time in history that such a tribute from so many nations had been paid to an individual. Senor De Zamacona, the Mexican ambassador, made the speech of presentation; Secretary of State Knox presided, and President Taft spoke in eulogy of the gifts which Mr. Carnegie has made for the peace of this hemisphere and throughout the world.

Members of the diplomatic corps and men high in official life filled the hall of the Pan-American union building, where the ceremony was held and for the erection of which Mr. Carnegie gave almost a million dollars.

Carnegie Tells His Feelings.

In accepting the medal, Mr. Carnegie told of his feelings on being informed of the honor conferred upon him by the Pan-American conference at Buenos Ayres.

"I was sitting at my desk in the highlands of Scotland last autumn," he said, "when a telegram was handed to me, which I opened and read without seeming quite to grasp the meaning of the words. I was stunned. Was I dreaming? Could such things be, and overcome us like a summer's cloud without our special wonder? My hands went to my forehead and I bent my head to my desk.

"Slowly the truth developed and established itself and I began to realize what it all meant. Truly, my friends, I never before felt so completely overwhelmed and crushed as it dawned upon me that the honor which the conference had voted to confer was without parallel, 160,000,000 of people, forming twenty-one sovereign nations bestowing upon poor me an honor the like of which had never before been bestowed upon a human being.

Quotes From Hamlet.

"Still ashamed to stand up, I felt as if I should like to sink into the ground, conscious that I could never have the audacity to accept it, but as the days passed, Hamlet's words came to me—'Treat the poor players not after their deserts, but after your own honor and dignity. The poorer their merits, the larger will be your bounty.' I was indeed in the condition of the poor players. The republics had followed Hamlet's advice and treated me not after my deserts, but after their own dignity and honor, and this thought resigned me to my fate."

Referring to President Taft's address a year ago, when he voiced a sentiment for a reign of peace among the Pan-American republics, Mr. Carnegie said: "Thus, the president's first invitation to establish a reign of peace was properly made to you. Much has taken place since then. He recently held out the olive branch of peace and it instantly was accepted by the other branch of our English speaking race with such enthusiasm, not by one but by all parties, that today we have every reason to believe that war as a means of settling disputes between the two branches of our race will soon became a crime of the past."

Praises Taft's Policy.

In offering thanks to the nations, through their diplomats present, for the honor bestowed upon him, Mr. Carnegie asked them to accompany the expression with the ardent wish on his part that prompt action should be taken by the twenty-one republics to establish a reign of peace by adopting President Taft's policy of submitting all disputes to arbitration.

DECISION APPLIES HERE

Duluth Street Railway May Be Compelled to Lay Dust.

Ruling in St. Paul Case Will Help Duluth Get Action.

The city council can compel the street railway company to sprinkle between its tracks throughout the city, without regard to the benefit which may or may not result to the residents along the street.

This matter has been brought before the council by Mayor Cullum several times, but no action has been taken pending the decision of a case deciding the powers of the city of St. Paul by the state supreme court.

The decision was handed down this morning and City Attorney Bert Fesler was notified shortly afterwards. It states that the provision requiring that the dust between the tracks be laid by the traction company is not unreasonable. The only exemption is when the temperature is below the freezing point.

The power of the common council comes under that section of the city charter which gives it the right to adopt such regulations as may be necessary for the preservation of health and the suppression of disease. As the situtaion in Duluth and St. Paul is similar, it is expected that the local street car company will be laying the dust along its lines the coming season. The decision, as telephoned to Mr. Fesler from the office of the clerk of the supreme court at St. Paul is as follows:

"Under the provision of Section 61, city charter, which is a grant of power to make all regulations which may be necessary or expedient for the preservation of health and the suppression of disease the common council of the city of St. Paul have authority to take such reasonable measures as may be necessary to regulate the raising of dust by the operation of street cars in the city streets. The common council is not limited in reference to dust raising in the operation of appellant's cars to the provision of ordinance No. 1227, which provides for the cleaning of that part of the street occupied by its tracks.

"It is within the power of the common council to require the operators of street cars to take reasonable measures to protect the passengers from dust raising by the cars without regard to the benefit which may or may not result to the residents along the streets. It is no defense to the enforcement of reasonable regulations by the use of water to prevent street cars from raising dust, that there might be created a monopoly as to water, that oil would be a more efficient agent or that the installation and maintenance of sprinkling system would be expensive.

"An ordinance providing 'that each and every person, company or corporation operating any street car line within the city of St. Paul, Minnesota, shall water their tracks so as to effectually keep the dust from being raised on the same while the cars are in operation; provided, however, such watering shall not be done when the temperature is at or below the freezing point is not unreasonable in that it requires the tracks to be watered during the winter season when the temperature is above the freezing point."

TWO HARBORS RESIDENTS ARE MARRIED IN DULUTH.

Miss Agnes Johnson and J. H. Robbins, both well known residents of Two Harbors, were united in marriage in Duluth yesterday. The wedding was a quiet one and was performed by Rev. M. S. Rice, pastor of the First M. E. church. The groom is a machinist in the employ of the Duluth & Iron Range railroad and the bride has made her home in Two Harbors since early childhood. Mr. and Mrs. Robbins will continue to live in Two Harbors.

YOUNG, BUT HAS A BAD RECORD

John Krergi, 18 Years of Age, May Be Deported.

Although John Krergi is only 18 years old, he has an unenviable record, according to the immigration authorities. He was in a reform school and later in a penitentiary in Finland, it is said. He came to the United States about a year ago and it is said that he was involved in a cutting scrape at Hibbing recently. He has been taken in charge by the immigration officials and will very likely be deported.

Inspector James H. Daly will leave Sunday evening for New York with three aliens to be deported. Bruno Dattilo, an Italian, has a horror of work and will be deported as an undesirable citizen. Markko Vukonic has been insane, and recently walked from Dickinson, N. D., to Aitkin, Minn. He was sent to the poor farm on his arrival here and developed typhoid fever. He has now recovered and will be sent back to his home in Austria. Miss Gerda Johannassen, a Swedish girl, has tuberculosis and will be sent back to Sweden as a person likely to become a public charge.

PRIVATE PARTIES HAVE DREDGED BAUDETTE RIVER.

Baudette, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The water in the Baudette river is at such a low stage it was found necessary to dredge a channel before even the small launches could make a landing at the docks of Baudette and Spooner. The Commercial clubs of the two towns took the matter in hand and raised the funds with which to hire a Canadian dredge to do the work. Permission to have the work done was obtained from the war department. The water in the streams here is the lowest that even the oldest inhabitant can remember.

The report of the settlement of the land dispute between Thomas Cathcart and the Canadian Northern railway here has proved to be true. Although the exact settlement is not given out, it is said to have been very satisfactory to both parties.

BOY'S COMRADES ATTEND FUNERAL

Friends of Little Lawrence Hayes Pay Their Final Tribute.

The funeral of Lawrence Hayes, the 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hayes of 615½ East First street, who was killed Wednesday about 12:30 o'clock by the automobile owned and driven by Peter G. Pastoret, took place this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the family residence. The services were conducted by Rev McGaughey and were attended by a number of the unfortunate boy's youthful acquaintances.

The floral triutes were many and beautiful. Interment was at Forest Hill cemetery.

The accident occurred at Seventh avenue east and Second street as the boy was on his way home from the Jefferson school. He had been riding on a furniture wagon and jumped off in front of the machine, which he failed to notice. He was hurried to St. Mary's hospital, where he died twenty minutes later. Death was due to concussion of the brain, the shock of hitting the pavement rupturing a blood vessel in the brain. No inquest was held. The auto is said to have been traveling about ten miles an hour.

Mr. Pastoret was overcome and the afternoon and night following the accident was in serious condition. He has greatly improved, however.

FIRE THREATENS THE SANITORIUM

State Institution Near Walker Surrounded By Forest Fires.

Walker, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—A call for fifty men to fight forest fires was sent in from the state sanatorium this afternoon and Chief Kulander of the Walker department dispatched fire fighters to the state grounds. A fire is raging close to the state institution and already several hundred cords of wood are burned. A strong wind is blowing from the south and the smoke from the fire has enveloped this city. While the main building is as yet in no immediate danger adjacent buildings will be consumed unless the men detailed from here can successfully combat the flames.

The surrounding country is exceedingly dry.

COBB FLIRTING WITH POLITICS

Washington, May 5.—It has leaked out here that the Hon. Ty Cobb has been taking his first plunge into national politics. And a winning plunge at that. To most Southerners politics is as the breath of life, and it appears that Ty has it like the rest of them. He cannot act as a disinterested onlooked when there is a political scrap going.

When the Democrats came to Washington for the extra session, their first task was the organization of the house of representatives, including the election of a speaker and other officers. Among the candidates for house postmaster was a one-armed veteran of the Confederate side of the Civil war named Dunbar. He was from Georgia, and he was Ty Cobb's candidate, although this fact is only now becoming known here.

"How did you come to vote for Dunbar?" asked a Florida member of one from Mississippi the other day. "I thought you were going to vote for the New Jersey man."

"I was; but I got a letter from Ty Cobb asking me to support Dunbar, and of course I could not refuse."

"That was my case exactly," said the man from Florida. "In fact I had felt that we of the South ought not to ask for any of the chief offices of the house after we had taken so many committee places, and elected a Southern man speaker. However, when that Jim Dandy ball player from Georgia requested me to support his man I could not decline. I simply had to do it."

A little investigation revealed that Cobb had been very thorough in his canvass for Dunbar. He did not confine himself to Southern members. Even Mr. Doremus of Detroit was importuned. The result was that the plans of the politicians, who had intended to give the postmastership to a New Jersey Democrat, were knocked into a cocked hat by the great Detroit centerfielder. He pulled so many votes away from the Jerseyite that to the surprise of the Democratic caucus Dunbar ran away with the office. The Jerseymen say it was a base hit, but the evidence is plain that it was a home run.

OPPOSITION TO ILLINOIS FIGHT BILL

Chicago, May 5.—Chicago is on the verge of a civil war over the fate of the Carroll bill making pugilism legal. Members of the big clubs on Michigan avenue—the Chicago Athletic association and the Illinois Athletic club—have taken up cudgels in support of the bill, and a fine battle royal is imminent between the clubmen and the clergy, as well as Christian Endeavor societies of Cook county. There will be concerted opposition by the one side representing the church and possibly as much campaigning in favor of boxing by the clubmen and liberal element which has gone without this kind of sport for almost seven years.

At a meeting yesterday of the board of directors of the Illinois Athletic club President E. C. Racey was appointed a committee of one to pitch his headquarters at Springfield, where he may apply himself to the task of booming the bill. The Illinois Athletic club is reported to be keenly in favor of boxing and bouts will be conducted at that institution in strict compliance with the law in the event the bill is successfully engineered.

No such action has been taken at the Chicago Athletic association, although the members are said to favor the resumption of boxing as one of the regular features of the club program. In the old days all the headliners of the fistic art were wont to mix at the "cherry circle" gymnasium.

"In case the bill becomes a law," said President W. R. Abbott of the Chicago Athletic association last night, "we will undoubtedly stage bouts at the club as we did before the lid forced the game out of commission."

VOLLEY BALL AT BOAT CLUB

At the cabinet meeting of the Duluth Boat club last evening, some important business was transacted.

It was decided to order twenty new canoes of the latest design and to place big arc lights around the tennis courts at the main house, in order that volley ball may be made one of the sports at the club, and may be played in the evening.

Arrangements were made for a coaching launch for the oarsmen, and it was also decided to hold boat races and motor boat races on the alternate Saturdays during the season.

There are so many launches seeking stalls that it may be necessary to construct piling in the breakwater for some of the launches to tie to. This will probably be done, if it is found necessary, within the next two weeks.

The field captain was authorized to order some lockers for Oatka, and this will be done immediately.

It was reported that work is progressing very rapidly on the tennis court at Oatka, and that the courts will be completed within a very short time.

Guy Warren and Joe Horak were appointed an entertainment committee to arrange the program for the annual meeting of the members of the boat club, next Tuesday evening.

NOGI DECORATES RUSSIAN'S TOMB

Hero of Port Arthur on Memorial Mission at St. Petersburg.

St. Petersburg, May 5.—Gen. Nogi, the Japanese hero of Port Arthur, arrived here today on a special mission of placing a wreath on the tomb of Maj. Gen. Kondratchenko, commander of the Seventh East Siberian rifles, who was killed at the battle of 203-Meter Hill in 1904, during the Russo-Japanese war. The Novoe Vremya will say tomorrow that the mission of Gen. Nogi affords new proof of Japan's amicable feelings for Russia.

Gen. Nogi later will proceed to London, being one of the Japanese coronation party.

IMPORTATION OF CHINESE CHARGED

Pacific Mail Company's Demurrer Is Overruled By the Court.

San Francisco, Cal., May 5.—The action against the Pacific Mail company for $205,000 damage for alleged violation of the law forbidding the importation of laborers under contract, will go to trial at once. Judge J. J. De Haven in the United States circuit court, yesterday overruled the company's demurrer to the action, and the opposing attorneys today agreed to submit their legal arguments to the court upon a statement of facts to be prepared jointly.

The action was brought in 1904 on complaint of Andrew Furuseth, secretary of the sailors' union of the Pacific. He alleged 205 Chinese seamen had been brought to this port in one vessel and then transferred to another vessel to work as crew. A penalty of $1,000 is demanded for each of these 205 Chinamen.

Clark, Miles and Keifer Are Designated By the President.

Washington, May 5.—Mr. Taft today designated Rear Admiral Charles E. Clark, U. S. N.; Lieut.-Gen. Nelson A. Miles, U. S. A., retired, and Former Representative J. Warren Keifer of Ohio as members of the Perry Centennial commission, which will supervise the erection of a memorial to Commodore Perry at Put-in-Bay, Ohio. Congress appropriated $250,000 for this memorial and ten states are expected to contribute $500 more.

JURY TO PASS UPON HOPE DIAMOND CASE.

Washington, May 5.—Holding that the affidavits of Edward B. McLean and his wife, Evelyn Walsh McLean, in defense of the suit of Cartier, the New York jeweler, to recover $180,000, the purchase price of the celebrated Hope diamond, are sufficient in law, Justice Bernard of the supreme court of the District of Columbia today declined to grant the motion of the plaintiffs for summary judgment. He declared the McLeans entitled to have a jury pass on the matter.

Carrier at Barrett.

Washington, May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—E. A. Cederberg was today appointed rural carrier on Route No. 2 at Barrett, Minn. No substitute was named.

DOG LICENSES ARE NOW DUE

Dog licenses are due. Better see that your pet is decorated with the necessary brass tag, or the poundmaster may get him.

In addition to keeping stray cows and horses off the streets and lawns, the ordinance makes it the duty of the poundmasters to check up all the canines in their districts. If the city hasn't received the cash for them called for under the ordinance, the dogs will be impounded. If they are not claimed and the taxes paid, they will be put out of existence in the quickest and most painless manner possible.

The tags are issued at the office of the city clerk, on the first floor of the city hall, Second avenue east and Superior street. Tomorrow being Saturday it is expected that a considerable number of children will insure their dogs against destruction.

A KENTUCKIAN'S BUSY SHOPPING DAY.

Sandy Hook Democrat: Allen Mays went to mill in town Saturday and while there purchased a collar and hat. He got his meal and started home. Getting a short distance he found that he had lost his collar; he climbed off his horse, hitched him to the fence and started on a hunt for his collar. After finding it he returned to find the horse had plunged the meal off and trampled it beneath his feet. He laid the hat on the bank while he placed the meal on the horse and started home. He got there all right, but he left his hat on the bank.

Make this "work hunt" the shortest one you ever made—by starting, quickly, a Herald want ad "campaign."

SUPPLIES FOR GARDEN

Seeds and Slips Are Finding Ready Sale in Retail Markets.

Green Vegetables Are Growing Cheaper—The Week on Michigan Street.

Seeds and slips are among the displays in all the retail markets this week.

Fine seed potatoes, the Early Ohio variety at $1 a bushel are in the market and onion sets are selling for 10 cents a quart. There are also some geranium slips at 20 cents apiece or $2.25 a dozen. Rose bushes at 10 cents apiece have been on sale all week and have sold exceedingly well.

Green vegetables are getting rapidly cheaper now. Wax beans and green beans are both 10 cents a quart this week and fine young asparagus is only 10 cents a bunch. Cucumbers are 20 cents apiece and some new Southern cauliflower is in, priced at 30 cents a head. Head lettuce is still off the markets, being extremely scarce. Spinach is 15 cents a pound or 45 cents a peck.

New egg plants, fine large sound ones, have just come in again and are bringing 20 cents apiece, and potato artichokes are still in for 15 cents a pound.

The line of fruits remains about the same. Strawberries in quart boxes are 18 cents a box today and look very tempting. They are the Louisiana berries and are large juicy ones.

Down on Michigan street the feature of the butter and egg markets this week is the remarkable firmness displayed in comparison with weakness in most outside markets and voluminous receipts everywhere. The produce trade in other lines fared just as well and there were few recessions in prices of any commodity, fruit or vegetable. An exceptionally broad consumptive demand was responsible for the buoyancy displayed by the butter market, prices being fractionally firmer than at the beginning of the week. Top quotations remain the same but bottom asking prices advanced to a level with the best quotations of the previous week. Prices are now firm and there is no discrepancy in the prices of holders.

Elgin creamery men have refused to lower values this week, although the prices at Chicago have dropped 1c. Duluth has held firm and there is no necessity of shaving prices to attract business which is good. Buyers have accepted the firm position of the market without a murmur and the week closes with the market enjoying a broad trade. It is in a healthy position. Prospects for the future indicate that the movement from the country will show a further increase as grass is becoming plentiful. It is expected that values will ease off unless speculative demand comes to the support of the market.

Eggs are firm and practically unchanged from last week. Buying by speculators who are anxious to stock up liberally with April and early May storage packed eggs, served to take surplus offerings off the market and keep the trade in good condition. This support is being withdrawn from the market, however, and it is expected that values will seek lower levels as the consumptive demand is not regarded as urgent.

The cheese trade was exceedingly quiet this week. There was a slight reduction in the prices of domestic makes. There are heavy stocks of last year's cheese still to be disposed of and as the new make increases pressure to sell becomes more urgent. With butter prices near the lowest level in several years, it is expected that more cheese will be manufactured and dealers who have supplies in coolers are anxious to liquidate in order to make room for incoming supplies. Not much good is expected of the market until values have been brought down to a level that will permit free export buying.

Potatoes are slightly cheaper and the market has lost much of the snap displayed by it in recent weeks. Dealers were fairly well stocked up a few days ago and could not be induced to take hold liberally although price concessions were offered to them as an inducement. Values touched a basis 10c lower than the recent high point without stimulating the demand to any perceptible extent. The market closes the week in a depressed and congested condition.

Chickens led the poultry list. They are meeting with an urgent inquiry. Buyers were demanding concessions, however, toward the close of the week. Broilers met with a broad outlet.

The Louisiana strawberry season is drawing to a close and receipts from the South are decreasing sharply. Prices are firm and the market is in a strong condition. Pieplant is beginning to arrive in large lots from Washington and the shipments from Illinois are not in as large volume. Prices for the Washington article are cheaper.

Oranges and apples are higher. The supply of the latter is small. The market has narrowed down to three or four active varieties. A brisk business is being transacted in Southern green vegetables. Prices are steady. Jersey cranberries are out of the market and a fair business is being done in Michigan berries.

The raisin crop has been seriously injured by frosts on the Pacific coast. The seedless varieties have been damaged about 50 per cent and muscatels about 25 per cent. Reports have had the effect of stimulating the market on sultanas and Thompson's seedless which were already in a strong position because of the limited available supply. A coast report said that the carryover stock of muscatel raisins is between 8,000 and 10,000 tons, half of which is under contract to Eastern jobbers for forward shipment. What remains of the 1910 crop, it is believed, will not be sufficient to care for the consumption until the new crop is available.

With canned asparagus lower than in many years, a much better consuming demand is expected in this vegetable. Already under the lower prices that became effective recently there has been a greater demand from the retail trade. A large carry-over from last year and a bumper crop of asparagus in California this season, are responsible for the marked decline in prices. Most retailers are still carrying asparagus bought at the higher prices that prevailed some time ago and the consuming public will not get the benefit of the jobbing reductions immediately. For the first time in the history of asparagus raising the consumer can buy a can of No. 2 square for 25c. Prices are so low, however, both retailer and jobber can make a profit at that figure.

While no future prices have been made on dried peaches it is understood that one or two coast operators are trying out the market with f. o. b. quotations of 8c for choice and 8½c for extra choice and 9c for fancy. In apricots the market has not fully opened. A few packers have accepted orders on a basis of 13½@14c f. o. b., the coast.

PROGRAM FOR LIBRARIANS

Meetings at Pasadena Will Be of High Literary Order.

Chicago, May 5.—The program committee of the American Library association has just published the program for the annual conference, which will be held in Pasadena, Cal., May 18 to 24. First-class talent, both in and out of the library profession, has been secured and the meetings will be of a high professional and literary order. The president's address by James I. Wyer, Jr., director of the New York state library, will be on the subject, "What the Community Owes the Library," and this will be the underlying theme throughout the sessions. Librarian Arthur E. Bostwick of St. Louis will discuss "The Exploitation of the Public Library," and Henry E. Legler, librarian of the Chicago public library, will give an illustrated lecture on library work with children and tell why so much time and effort is justifiable.

Francis F. Browne, the editor of the Dial, and Willard Huntington Wright, literary editor of the Los Angeles Times, will both address the conference. Dr. Benjamin Ide Wheeler, president of the University of California, Dr. J. A. B. Scherer, president of the Throop Polytechnic institute, and Prof. Arthur H. Chamberlain, who attends as the accredited delegate from the National Educational association, will also appear at various sessions during the week.

The conference will end on Wednesday, May 24, with a brilliant California program, in which Governor Hiram Johnson, John Muir, the venerable forester and mountaineer, Luther Burbank, the plant wizard, Lincoln Steffens, the magazine writer, and Mary Hunter Austin, the novelist, will be participants. Papers and discussions of a more technical nature will also be presented and participated in by a number of prominent librarians from all parts of the country. Pasadena is making extensive plans for the entertainment of the visitors.

IN THE DAY'S WORK AT WASHINGTON

Probe All Sugar Refiners.

Washington, May 5.—An investigation of all sugar refining companies in connection with the proposed inquiry into the American Sugar Refining company is contemplated by congress. The house committee on rules has appointed a sub-committee, consisting of Representatives Hardwick of Georgia, Pou of North Carolina and L. F. Root of Wisconsin, which will broaden the scope of the Hardwick inquiry resolution so as to include other companies that may have violated the law.

The rules committee will call up the Stanley resolution to investigate the United States Steel corporation soon after the house has passed the free list bill.

Investigate Civil Service.

Representative Godwin of North Carolina, chairman of the committee on reform in the civil service, has introduced a resolution authorizing his committee to examine "into all the affairs of the civil service commission," extending back "as far as the committee may deem necessary."

Never Annex Canada.

Representative Fuller of Illinois, during debate in the house, declared that Canada never would be annexed to the United States. Mr. Fuller condemned the annexation sentiments of Representatives Prince and Madden of Illionis. He said that annexation talk was being spread for purposes unfriendly to Canadian reciprocity, and that he had no sympathy with that method of attacking it.

Costly Tariff Debate.

Declaring that the tariff debate is costing the country $10,000 an hour, Representative Focht of Pennsylvania urged the house to quit talking on a bill that was sure of passage.

Representative Sims of Tennessee complained that such a statement conveyed a wrong impression to the country. He said the cost was just as great whether the house was sitting or not.

Foresees Mexican Invasion.

Invasion of Mexico within the immediate future was predicted in the house today by Representative Focht. He said an army officer just returned from the border, told him intervention was inevitable. Mr. Focht did not name the officer.

Talk of Canada's Ambitions.

Representative Focht made the somewhat startling declaration that Canada desires annexation to the United States. Representative Sherly of Kentucky insisted that Canada's ambition was to remain in the British empire, where she enjoyed practical sovereignty. Mr. Focht insisted, however, that the real sentiment in the Dominion is for union with the United States.

Borah Gives Up.

Senator Borah sought vainly yesterday to have the house joint resolution providing for the election of senators by popular vote made the unfinished business of the senate. He finally yielded to a request of Senator Clarke of Wyoming for time to prepare a report on the resolution, and permitted the matter to go over. He indicated that he would make the request again early next week.

MONKEY'S $50 MEAL MARKED DOWN TO $5.

Washington, May 5.—The firemen connected with No. 2 engine house, which faces the Capitol grounds, have a monkey for a pet. The engine went to a blaze yesterday and the monkey went visiting. He returned to his home in haste about the time the engines returned. Close behind him was a photographer, who runs a shop in the next block. The monkey made for his roost and the camera man made for the chief.

"That blossoming freak ate up and ruined every film in my shop while I was out at lunch. They cost me $50 and if I don't get the money the monkey has got to go," he said.

The chief consulted his assistants, while the photographer talked to a small crowd about the monkey.

"The boys say you ought to let them down easier. They don't want to lose Gip, but $50 will put an awful hole in their checks," said the chief.

"The boys—hell!" said the photographer, smiling. "I thought the government would have to stand the damage. I guess $5 will cover the damage if the boys have to pay!"

SIX HUNDRED GIRLS IN PANIC AT SMALL FIRE.

New York, May 5.—Six hundred and fifty girls, employed in two shirt waist factories in lower Broadway, rushed screaming for the stairs from the third and fourth floors late yesterday at sight of a trifling awning fire below them. The congestion became terrific, a hand rail snapped and thirty girls fell to a hallway below. Fourteen were injured, but only three had to be taken to hospitals. A great crowd, attracted by reports that the Washington Place disaster was being duplicated, watched police and firemen as they quieted the terror-stricken operators.

Fifty Candidates Will Be Led Across Desert By Aad Temple Nobles.

Temple Planning for Special Train to Rochester Conclave.

The nobles of Aad temple, Ancient Arabic Order of the Mystic Shrine, will hold a business session tonight and a ceremonial and business session in the Masonic temple, May 19 at 7:30 p. m., when about fifty candidates from Duluth and the ranges will walk across the hot sands and buck the blistering simoon. While their husbands and friends are at the ceremonial the women visitors from the ranges will be entertained at a theater party.

A novel performance will be pulled off at the Lyceum theater under the direction of Noble A. F. M. Custance, June 1. Funds will be obtained by means of it to pay the expenses of the band which the Shriners will take with them to the imperial council meeting and conclave at Rochester, N. Y.

The imperial council will meet July 11 to 13. Duluth Shriners will leave here in a special train over the Soo line at 6 o'clock in the evening, July 8, arriving in Chicago at 9 o'clock the next morning. From Chicago to Rochester the party will travel over the Wabash. Delegates to the imperial council are Jesse Norton, Henry Nesbitt, A. P. Cook and W. D. Underhill.

The "Fall ceremonial" will be held in November. Imperial Potentate Fred A. Hines of Los Angeles is expected to make his annual visit at that time.

Anti-Suffragist Reason.

Giving a reason for voting against woman suffrage, one Hennepin county legislator stated that in Hennepin county there were records of more than 300 white women who had wedded colored men, while only one white man had taken out a license to marry a colored woman, and he was not of sound mind. He stated that this was enough to convince him that women were prone to extremes, too much to be trusted with the ballot. On the other hand, it could be argued that women were as discerning as men, because they favor golden grain belt beers as a table beverage, the same as the men. CHINESE BOY IS ADMITTED

Charlie Sing Lee's Son Will Join Father in Duluth.

After negotiations with the immigration authorities, running over several years, Charlie Sing Lee, the leader of Duluth's Chinese colony, has been successful in having one of his sons admitted to the United States. Ho Non, 17 years old, is now at Seattle and is expected to arrive in Duluth within a few days.

Some years ago, Hop Yip, an elder son, came to join his father. He attempted to gain admittance at Portal, N. D., but his answers to questions did not correspond with the information his father had given the immigration authorities and the young man was sent back to China. Lee opened negotiations again recently for the admittance of the younger son and was successful.

Charlie Sing Lee is 71 years old and has been in business in Duluth for over twenty-five years. He has built up a successful wholesale and retail trade in Chinese merchandise and will instruct his son in the handling of the business.

WELLESLEY GIRLS WANT NONE OF JOHN D.'S GOLD.

Wellesley, Mass., May 5.—A petition to the Wellesley college trustees to return to John D. Rockefeller the $150,000 presented by him to the college several years ago for a heating plant, is being circulated by students. The petition was drawn up after a warm debate in a freshman class meeting, at which it was voted to appoint a committee to frame the petition and circulate it. The petition closes with the words:

"We, the undersigned, do not feel that our college should rest under the shadow of this gift."

CHILDREN SEEK WORKERS' PERMITS.

The annual rush for permits which enable children to stay out of school and seek employment is on.

Many visit Miss Poirier's office in the courthouse each day. They all seek permits and want them at this time as they think they have a better chance of getting work now than if they waited until school is out for the summer vacation.

No child is given a permit until his case is thoroughly investigated. But few permits are being issued as it is found in a large number of the cases that the parents are able to keep the children in school.

VETERANS TO TWO HARBORS.

Will Be Entertained at Campfire By Dr. J. D. Budd.

About thirty veterans of the Civil war, members of the Culver post, G. A. R., will go to Two Harbors this afternoon for the purpose of attending a camp fire and general celebration given by Dr. J. D. Budd of that place. Dr. Budd is a member of Culver post. The program for the entertainment of the visitors includes a trip about the town in automobiles and a short boat ride on the lake. The veterans will return late tonight.

NEGROES OF CAPITAL WILL HAVE A Y. M. C. A.

Washington, May 5.—With $60,000 already on hand for the purpose, the Washington Y. M. C. A. has accepted the offer of Julius Rosenwald, of Chicago to give $25,000 to any association that will raise $75,000 for a building to be devoted exclusively to work among young negro men. The additional $15,000 will be subscribed here within sixty days.

Former President Roosevelt laid the cornerstone of the negro Y. M. C. A. here eighteen months ago, but it was found that funds were insufficient for completion of the building, and work has been at a standstill pending the securing of the Rosenwald donation. President Taft interviewed Mr. Rosenwald in regard to the matter when the latter was here recently. Chicago and Philadelphia already have availed themselves of the Rosenwald offer. It is stated that Y. M. C. A. work among negroes generally will be based on the future on a subscription campaign.

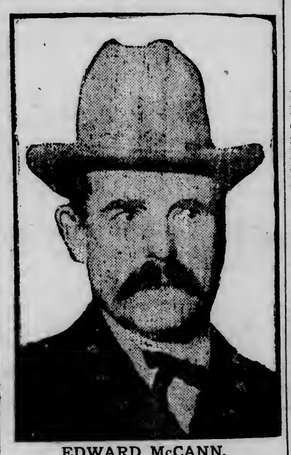
McCANN GIVEN FULL PARDON

Chicago Police Inspector Freed By Governor Deneen.

Springfield, Ill., May 5.—Edward McCann, the Chicago police inspector, has been given a full and unconditional pardon from Joliet penitentiary by Governor Deneen.

The McCann case made history in the annals of the police departments of the great cities of this country. McCann, who had a reputation as being one of the most conscientious and efficient officers in Chicago, was stationed, because of his capability, in a vice-ridden district on the west side of that city. His record in his station was noted for his unrelenting warfare against vice and he had rescued hundreds of women from a life of shame.

In a crusade against bribery in the police department of the city of Chicago, the police inspector was caught in the net of the county officials. McCann was tried for bribery and resort keepers alleged on the witness stand that they had paid him tribute for allowing them to continue in their illicit business.



EDWARD McCANN.

McCann was sentenced to the penitentiary at Joliet for an indeterminate term.

Helped by Roosevelt.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt interested himself in obtaining McCann's release from the penitentiary, and a letter from him to Governor Deneen was read before the pardon board a week ago. In his letter Mr. Roosevelt declared that while commissioner in New York, he had learned it had been a not infrequent custom for lawbreakers to seek to remove, by trumped-up charges, officers too zealous in the pursuit of wrong doing.

BRYAN DEFENDS THE SCRIPTURES

Challenges Doubters to Produce Their Equal in Literature.

Chicago, May 5.—William J. Bryan, speaking at the tercentennial celebration of the King James translation of the Bible, last night challenged materialists and those opposed to the theory of divine inspiration of the Bible to show they were right by producing a book superior to that volume.

"Atheists and materialists declare that the Bible is merely the work of man," said Mr. Bryan, "and that it was written under the limitations that apply to human wisdom.

"Taking this position, they necessarily must contend that, unless man has degenerated in ability and declined in wisdom, he can produce a book equal to the Bible. Let them produce it.

"Atheists and materialists have assailed the Bible at every point; they have been as bold as the prophets of Baal in defying the living God and in heaping contempt upon the written Word. Why not challenge them to put their doctrines to the test?"

Follow Elijah's Example.

"When Elijah was confronted by a group of scorners who mocked the Lord, he invited them to match the power of their god against the power of his, and he was willing to concede superiority to the one who would answer with fire.

"Now, why not a Bible test? Let them collect the best of their school to be found among the graduates of universities—as many as they please from every land. Let the members of this selected group travel where they will, consult such libraries as they please; let them glean in the fields of geology, botany, astronomy, biology and zoology, and then roam at will wherever science has opened a way; let them use every instrumentality that is employed in modern civilization, and when they have exhausted every source let them embody the results of their best intelligence in a book, and offer it to the world as a substitute for this Bible of ours.

With Pathetic Earnestness.

"They have prayed to their god to answer with fire—prayed to inanimate matter with an earnestness that is pathetic; they have employed in the worship of blind force a faith greater than faith requires, but their Almighty is asleep.

"But to the doubter and 'I don't knows' of the agnostic, the Christian, Bible in hand, answer, 'I believe.'"

Telegrams from President Taft and Ambassador James Bryce were read at the celebration.

FORMER SENATOR KITTREDGE DEAD

South Dakotan Passes Away in South—Burial in New Hampshire.

Hot Springs, Ark., May 5.—Former United States Senator Alfred Beard Kittredge of Sioux Falls, S. D., died here at 9:30 o'clock last night after a month's illness with liver and kidney trouble. He had been unconscious for forty-eight hours. His senatorial service concluded two years ago.

Senator Kittredge's body will be taken to Keene, N. H., for interment in the family burial grounds. The senator's brother and sister and other relatives and friends, who have been at the bedside for the last week, will accompany the body. A funeral party will leave Hot Springs today.

Alfred Beard Kittredge was born in Cheshire, Bucheshire county, N. H., March 28, 1861. Immediately after his graduation from the law school at Yale in 1885 he began the practice of law at Sioux Falls, S. D.

He was appointed to the United States senate July 11, 1901, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator James H. Kyle and took his seat Dec. 2, 1901. He was elected to succeed himself in 1903, his term of office expiring March 3, 1909.

Early in his career he was chairman of the inter-oceanic canal commission and in that capacity investigated for the United States the title to rights on the Isthmus of Panama, purchased from the French government. His report on this matter was regarded as an unusually strong document.

ALFRED BEARD KITTREDGE.

The senator was a lawyer and for many years served actively as a member of the judiciary committee. He was a stalwart Republican, active in his advocacy of party solidarity.

Senator Kittredge is survived by his father, Russell H. Kittredge, of Jeffereys, N. J.; a brother, H. W. Kittredge, of Jeffereys, and two sisters, Mrs. Chester Pearson of Gardner, Mass., and Mrs. Mary L. Hall of Wakefield, N. H. Senator Kittredge was unmarried.

TAWNEY AGAIN FOR CONGRESS?

Politicians Believe He May Be Candidate at Large.

St. Paul, Minn., May 5.—With the reapportionment bill passed by the federal house of representatives and pending in the senate, where it is expected to encounter little opposition, speculation is rife as to whether or not James A. Tawney will enter the race for congressman-at-large in Minnesota. At present Minnesota has nine congressmen. Under the reapportionment it will be entitled to ten. The last legislature having failed to redistrict the state, the additional congressman must be elected at large—and this provides Mr. Tawney's opportunity. Many politicians believe that he will make the race.

Mr. Tawney will not run again in the First district. He said so while on a visit to St. Paul yesterday. "I am laying no political wires at all," he said. "I will not be a candidate to succeed Sidney Anderson. The people have expressed their choice, and for my own part I will not ask them to change their minds."

Mr. Tawney said he couldn't agree with Frank Day, in his prediction that the Keefe bill would open the way for the election of Governor Eberhart to the United States senate. "I don't think there is a thing in the report that Eberhart has senatorial aspirations," he said. "Of course, Frank Day has been in Missoula for some time, and maybe he knows more about Minnesota politics than I do."

Mr. Tawney expects to leave for Washington later in the month to attend a meeting of the Canadian waterway boundaries commission.

"There are two Minnesota projects which the commission will deal with," he said, "the Lake of the Woods and the International Falls power plant questions."

ILLINOIS LEGISLATORS REFUSE TO TAKE MONEY!

Springfield, Ill., May 5.—The Illinois house has killed the bill increasing the salary of the members of the general assembly from $2,000 to $3,500 for the two years' term, by a vote of 69 to 48.

Every Man Read This

This treatment is said to have acquired a wonderful reputation throughout the East, owing to its peculiar propensity to fortify the nerve force and generate health and a consequent personal magnetism, so essential to the happiness of every normal human being. It is claimed to be a blessing to those who are physically impaired, gloomy, despondent, nervous and who have trembling of the limbs, dizziness, heart palpitation, cold hands and feet, insomnia, fear without cause, timidity in venturing and general inability to act rationally as others do. Also of vast benefit to writers, professional men, office workers and the victims of society's late hours and over-indulgence in wines, liquors, etc.

By preparing the treatment at home secretly, no one need know of another's trouble, while the ingredients are much used in filling various prescriptions, so that even the purchase of them separately need occasion no timidity.

If the reader decides to try it, get three ounces of ordinary syrup sarsaparilla compound, and one ounce compound fluid balmwort; mix and let stand two hours; then get one ounce compound essence cardiol and one ounce tincture cadomene compound (not cardamon) mix all together, shake well and take a teaspoonful after each meal and one at night.

This contains no opiates whatever and may also be used by women who suffer with their nerves with absolute certainty of prompt and lasting benefits.

DISORDERED DIGESTION

If Neglected May Develop Into a Severe Form of Stomach Trouble.

The Best Safeguard Is to Keep the Stomach Toned Up and the Treatment Should Be Begun When the First Symptom Is Noted.

Palpitation of the heart does not imply that the vital organ is diseased.

Pain in the back does not necessarily mean kidney disease.

Headache does not often indicate that there is anything wrong with your head.

All of these symptoms are caused by stomach trouble and when this is righted the alarming symptoms disappear. If you have them look to the condition of your stomach for the cause before you start to treat the symptoms rather than the disease.

Mrs. George E. Shields, of No. 1130 Pierre street, Manhattan, Kans, says: "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills effected a remarkable cure for me nine years ago. For four or five years previous to that time I had suffered at intervals of from six weeks to two months from what the doctors called acute indigestion. My physician put me on a diet but in spite of all precautions those spells came on just the same and my suffering was most intense. I could not eat anything at all without distressing pains. It seemed as if there was a knot in my stomach and it was being twisted around. My stomach was so sore that even the pressure of my clothes kept me in constant misery and at times it was hard for me to breathe.

"Then I was persuaded to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and when I had taken only about half a box I saw that they were helping me. I continued to take them until I had used three boxes and in the meantime ventured to eat things which I had never dared to eat before and suffered no ill effects.

"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cured me and I have never had a spell of indigestion during the nine years which have elapsed. I have gained in weight from scarcely one hundred pounds to one hundred and thirty-eight and feel perfectly well. Words cannot express the gratitude and confidence I have in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

Have Beautiful Hair.

Soap and water if used too frequently will spoil any head of hair. The best hair treatment is a dry shampoo made as follows: Get six ounces of pulverized orris root and two ounces of vilane powder. Mix thoroughly and keep in a tight box or jar. At night apply a heaping tablespoonful to the hair; distribute with the fingers all through the hair to the scalp. Next day comb and brush until all trace is removed and as a result any man or woman will have beautiful fluffy hair.

This removes dirt, surplus oil, dandruff, etc. It is the best thing ever devised for excessively "greasy" hair.

Many Easterners now use it regularly. Men use it daily and ladies one to three times a week.

Best in Twenty Years:

Mr. J. A. Spiller, Rockford, Illinois, says: "I have found your Blackburn's CascaRoyal-Pills at Alton's Drug Store, and they are the best medicine I have ever taken for constipation, and I have doctored constantly for twenty years for that trouble. I have never found anything to compare with Casca Royal-Pills; I would not be without them, etc."

NEWLYWEDS GO TO WASHINGTON

Influx of Brides and Bridegrooms Fills Parks and Mall.

Washington, May 5.—The national capital has gracefully capitulated to Cupid and his cohorts. The annual influx of brides and bridegrooms is in full blast. The public buildings and their environs, usually crowded with long lines of staid sightseeers, have only a few visitors, and these seem to go in couples. They gaze into each other's eyes and pay little heed to the historical objects about them.

Potomac park, the Mall and Rock Creek park are filled these spring days with long strings of two-seated vehicles. Larger vehicles and "carryalls" hav given way to the "low neck hack" and the two-seated machines.

From the East and the West each train brings in a quota of couples. New Englanders stop en route to the South and Hot Springs and Southerners look in at the seat of legislation while going toward the New England cities.

So great has been the influx this year that the Rev. Z. Copp, pastor of Bethany chapel, told his congregation last Sunday:

"A great and dangerous germ, on which the skill of the surgeon or the physician has no effect, has our city by the vitals. I look about me in wonder as I contemplate the effects of this intangible contagion.

"On every hand I see evidence of its work. In the streets and in the parks, the avenues and the alleys I see its effects. Love is in the air," he continued, throwing up his hands, "and what can we do about it, we poor old prosaic souls?"

The Seeing Washington cars complain that business is unusually quiet. They are open and so very public.

Is this your pocket-book?

NORTON TO SUE STATE

Asks $100,000 From Connecticut for Illegal Confinement in Asylum.

Door of Skeleton Closet of Rich Family Is Opening.

Norwich, Conn., May 5.—Influences alleged to have brought about the commitment to a sanitarium at Cromwell, Conn., of Harry A. Norton, member of a wealthy and influential family, are to be revealed, it is predicted, at the trial of a suit for $100,000, which Mr. Norton will bring shortly against the state of Connecticut.

According to his brother-in-law, Harry H. Walker of this city Norton escaped after spending a few weeks in the sanitarium. His commitment was illegal, it will be claimed.

Norton is a nephew of Mrs. Blackstone, the Chicago society leader, whose husband, once president of the Chicago & Alton railroad, left a $1,000,000 estate, to a large part of which Norton was heir. Mrs. Norton's uncle was Stephen B. Roath, a pioneer packer of Chicago, from whom she received a large property.

An insight into the testimony Norton may bring out in his suit may be furnished at the trial of a suit his wife has brought against Leonard H. Harris, a livery man, to recover costly bric-a-brac, paintings, china and furniture removed improperly, she alleges, from her beautiful Broad street home last March in her absence in Atlantic City, where she spent the winter with her sister, Mrs. Walker, of 236 Washington street.

Husband and Wife Parted.

The property was moved at the instigation of Mrs. Norton's husband, Mr. Harris asserts. An auto truck was taking it to New Haven in March when it was attached by lawyers for Mrs. Norton.

Although Norton and his wife have been living apart at intervals since August, 1909, when he was taken to the sanitarium, Norton occupied his wife's Broad street home while she was in Atlantic City. He is now at the Wauregan house. Recently his wife sued him for separation through Charles F. Thayer, mayor of Norwich.

Friends of Mrs. Norton say the suit of replevin is merely a friendly one to decide the ownership of goods which Norton's friends, in turn, assert he claims as his own. It is hinted, however, that something more important than appears on the surface is involved.

Norton's brother-in-law, Harry Walker, speaking of the suit Norton will bring against the state, said:

"Norton's commitment was illegal. He had been at the sanitarium only a few weeks when he walked out and took a train for New York. There he consulted lawyers, who informed him that he had suffered a great injustice. They advised him to return to his home in Norwich, asserting that the state officials wouldn't dare lay a hand upon him. Norton returned. The justice and right of his having left the sanitarium has never been questioned."

Norton was committed in August, 1909, by the then Acting Judge Albert Kneeland, on a complaint sworn to by Mrs. Norton that Norton was mentally unbalanced. Mrs. Tingley and P. H. Harriman corroborated the testimony Mrs. Norton gave to indicate that her husband had been acting insanely. The hearing was kept as secret as possible, and Norton was driven in his own automobile to the sanitarium.

Not to Leave Norwich.

Recently Mrs. Norton sold her Broad street home to a cousin, Clarence B. Roath, son of the late Stephen B. Roath. When she and her sister, Mrs. Walker, returned to Norwich from Atlantic City last week and opened the Walker home on Washington street, facing the beautiful Chelsea Parade, it was reported that both would sell their property and leave Norwich because they are annoyed by stories they had heard. Mrs. Walker denied this, saying that four generations of their family had resided in Norwich and they would not leave a town of so many tender memories. Both Mrs. Norton and Mrs. Walker are enthusiastic automobilists, although the latter is an invalid. They have been noted in Norwich for their charity

Mr. McKenzie, up to the time he took up the study of Christian Science, was a minister of the Presbyterian church. So much that is entirely erroneous is being published and there is so much misconception of what Christian Science is, that the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Duluth, has secured Mr. McKenzie to make plain the truth about Christian Science. The lecture is free and the public is cordially invited.

THE MAY HEAVENS.

Venus and Jupiter Are Most Brilliant of the Planets.

May heavens present some interesting and brilliant aspects according to data provided by the Washburn observatory.

Venus and Jupiter, the most brilliant of the planets, both appear in the evening sky. The former is still the bright evening star and is seen to the west and northwest as it descends slowly to the horizon. Meanwhile Jupiter is ascending the southeastern sky until it reaches the meridian at midnight or somewhat earlier. Mercury, which has been showing so well as an evening star passes through inferior conjunction May 2 and toward the close of the month becomes favorably situated for a morning star. The planet may then be seen nearly over the east point of the horizon. Saturn has been passed by the sun so that the planet now rises before the sun. Toward the close of the month Saturn may be seen in the dawn rising some distance south of the point of sunrise.

The times of the moon's phases are: First quarter, May 5, 7:15 a. m., full moon, May 13, 12:10 a. m.; last quarter, May 21, 3:23 a. m.; new moon, May 28, 12:24 a. m.

The principal fixed stars visible during the month in the evening hours are as follows: To the west: Capella, Caster and Pollux, Procyon and Regulus. To the east: Sulca, Arcturus and Vega.

C. P. MEYERS RETIRES FROM THE GLOBE

VINDICATION OF JUDGE J. F. COWAN

Wild Scenes in State Senate When Voting Is Concluded.

Judge Found Not Guilty of All Charges Against Him.

Bismarck, N. D., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—There was a great demonstration in the state senate last night when the final vote was taken on the charges against Judge John F. Cowan of the Second judicial district and it was announced that he had been completely vindicated, having been declared not guilty on every charge. When Lieutenant Governor Burdict announced the verdict of the senate, which was sitting as a high court of impeachment, chairs were overturned and desks were torn from their places as the excited crowd rushed to congratulate Judge Cowan. Congratulations were also extended to Tracy R. Bangs of Grand Forks, chief attorney for Judge Cowan, and the associate counsel.

Vote on the Charges.

The vote on the specific charges, which numbered seventy-four, was as follows:

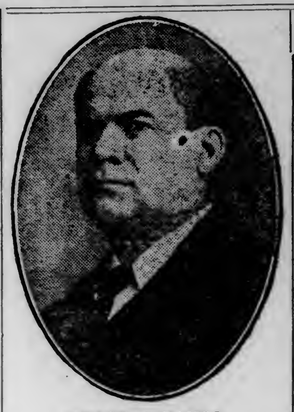
Habitual drunkenness—3 guilty and 43 not guilty.

Drunkenness in Rugby courthouse, June, 1909—19 guilty and 27 not guilty.

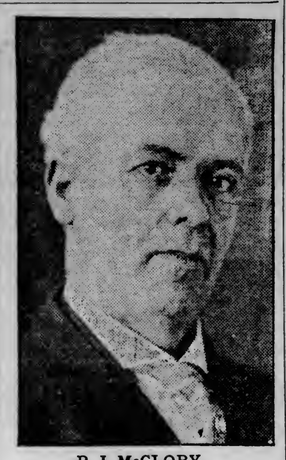
In Raymond hotel, Rugby, June, 1909—18 guilty and 28 not guilty.

Drunkenness at Grace hotel, Lakota—21 guilty and 25 not guilty.

Drunkenness in courtroom at Devils Lake during January, 1909—2 guilty and 44 not guilty.



TRACY R. BANGS,
Chief Attorney for the Defense.



P. J. McCLORY,
Associate Counsel for the Defense.

Drunkenness in Vanderhoof hotel, Jan. 25, 1909—No senators voted guilty.

Drunkenness at court hearing in Vanderhoof hotel—15 senators voted guilty and 30 senators voted not guilty.

Drunkenness at drug permit hearing, Devils Lake—14 guilty and 31 not guilty.

Drunkenness in courtroom at Devils Lake, Aug. 4, 1908—15 guilty and 30 not guilty.

Drunkenness on primary election day—13 guilty and 33 not guilty.

Drunkenness in Devils Lake postoffice—No senators voted guilty.

Drunkenness in Devils Lake courthouse Oct. 31—7 guilty and 39 not guilty.

Drunkenness on election day—21 voted guilty and 25 voted not guilty.

Drunkenness in county auditor's office, night of general election day—17 guilty and 29 not guilty.

Drunkenness in Gordon livery barn night previous to election—15 voted guilty and 31 voted not guilty.

Drunkenness in Hansboro, being so-called shirt incident—2 senators voted guilty, 44 voting not guilty.

On the charges of frequenting drug stores, there were 22 senators voting guilty and 23 senators voting not guilty.

There were five specifications of this nature, it being charged that he purchased liquor in such stores.

On the drug store charges and delayed court cases, the vote ran about the same as on the charges of drunkenness.

TWO FIRES IN EARLY MORNING

Frank Crassweller's Residence Is Damaged—Viaduct Is Threatened.

The residence of Attorney Frank Crassweller, 4701 Cook street, Lakeside, was damaged by fire about 5 o'clock this morning. The blaze is supposed to have started from defective wiring towards the rear of the residence and the fire was confined to that part of the house. Considerable damage was done by water. Mr. Crassweller stated this morning that he was unable to place an estimate upon the loss, but that it is fully covered by insurance.

Fire broke out about 4:30 o'clock this morning in a large pile of timbers and planks which were taken from an old building which has been razed near the lower approach of the Sixth avenue viaduct. The reflection of the flames was seen from Superior street by Patrolman Nels Perry, who, after a hurried investigation, turned in the alarm. Had the fire not been discovered as soon as it was, the viaduct would probably have been destroyed.

tor might delay the trials for a few days to give the defendants' attorneys more time.

Mass of Evidence.

Intimations that the knowledge of Prosecutor Turner and Attorney General Hogan possess concerning bribery in the general assembly was limited to the few cases in which detectives had posed as lobbyists to trap legislators were refuted when the grand jury adjourned last night until Monday. The recess was taken solely for the reason, according to the prosecutor, that such a mass of incriminating evidence had been accumulated that a few days' time was necessary to go over it and sort it out so that it could be presented in an effective way before the grand jury.

Eager to Confess.

There is no longer doubt that certain members of the assembly are ready and anxious to get in their testimony and confessions if they can gain immunity. Prosecutor Turner probably will avail himself of some of this testimony.

Turner has been in possession of some valuable leads to testimony through anonymous letters. Presumably these have come from persons who unwillingly were made to contribute to corruption funds in order to secure even meritorious legislation.

fact, however, the senators were unusually busy. Many of the recently organized committees were at work and attempts were being made to get the senate machinery adjusted. The wheels of the upper legislative body have not been running with the old time smoothness this session, and the friction does not give great promise of diminishing in the near future.

A Republican caucus to select a president pro tempore of the senate to replace Senator Frye, who has given up the position because of ill-health, is expected on Monday, the day the senate is next scheduled to meet.

Republicans at Outs.

If the regulars do not name a senator acceptable to the insurgents, the latter may put a candidate in the field and thus block a selection, neither side being able to control the situation as against the Democrats, while the latter, of course, cannot muster the necessary majority.

The debate in the house on the free list bill promised today to move with a little more rapidity. Chairman Underwood of the ways and means committee formally announced that he would force a vote on Monday. The bill will then pass, and be sent to the senate to take a place on the calendar, following Canadian reciprocity.

Grange Master Active.

Concord, N. H., May 5.—Farmers throughout the country are urged to send representatives to Washington to attend the hearings before the senate committee on finance on the Canadian reciprocity bill next week, in a letter sent out by N. J. Bachelder, master of the National Grange, Patrons of Husbandry. The communication says:

"The farmers are practically unanimous in opposing what they consider a most unfair discrimination against their interests, and if they make their wishes known to their senators, the reciprocity bill cannot become a law. Delegations of farmers from at least fifteen state granges will attend the hearings to present the views of their members on this important question."

Fifty-one votes are necessary to elect a senator. The Democratic majority in the legislature numbers sixty-six. Of these twenty-nine have consistenly supported Speer, sixteen are claimed by the Adams forces and the rest are scattered.

Factions Lay Plans.

The Speer faction will try to get fifty-one Democrats into the regular caucus, bind each member of the caucus to abide by the decision of the majority and elect Speer on the first ballot tomorrow.

By getting enough members to attend their caucus, the Adams forces hope to prevent a legislative majority in the regular caucus, and thus defeat its purpose. Apparently the advantage is with the Adams forces.

In the event of the success of the Adams faction, final balloting for senator will commence at noon tomorrow and probably continue until midnight, the time set for the adjournment.

Deal to Prevent Election.

Reports are current of a deal between the Adams Democrats and the thirty-four Republicans who have held aloof from the fight up to now, whereby the joint session shall be dissolved after the second ballot tomorrow and Colorado left with a vacancy in the senate for the next two years.

MAY SEND WARSHIPS TO PROTECT AMERICANS

ico's great national holidays, as the anniversary of the victory of Gen. Diaz's troops over the French, has been fixed by rumor as the date for a concerted insurrecto attack upon many cities and even the capital, residents of the capital were inclined to smile today at mention of an attack.

Reports of approaching trouble are still most plentiful, however, and the rebels are admittedly stronger today than they have ever been before. But there is no good reason, says the department of war, for believing that they contemplate an immediate attack upon the capital.

Army of Defense.

Should the attack be made, the rebels will be met by a garrison composed as follows, according to information from the war department: Two thousand artillerymen, 1,000 infantrymen, 500 cavalry and 2,000 policemen.

While realizing the growth of the revolt, residents of the capital are showing more optimism today than for some time past. Reports from El Paso regarding the peace conference have caused official Mexico to believe that the end of the war is at hand. Minister de la Barra is confident that a satisfactory agreement will be reached and his opinion is shared by most of the government officials.

Madero's Terms May Fail.

There is, of course, a possibility that Madero's agreement to the terms may not be recognized by all the rebel bands, but the government believes that with this main difficulty adjusted, it will have little trouble in dealing with the smaller leaders.

Diaz May Resign.

El Paso, Tex., May 5.—Cherishing the hope that President Diaz would make good his privately announced intention of laying down the reins of government by a public announcement that he has done so, and thus end at once the revolution that is tearing Mexico to pieces, insurrecto leaders at the Madero camp across the Rio Grande waited expectantly today for news from City of Mexico.

Judge Carbajal, the government peace envoy, remained in his room at a hotel here to receive telegraphic instructions as to how to deal with the rebel demand for the president's resignation. The envoys of both sides deemed it useless to go to the neutral meeting ground across the Rio Grande until a definite answer to yesterday's proposition had been received.

The commissioners are confident of arranging the other conditions of peace within forty-eight hours if the Diaz question is once settled.

Decide Fate of Mexico.

Upon the interpretation of the Mexican president's reply depends the fate of Mexico, rebel leaders declared today. Should an unfavorable reply be received, they declared, they are prepared to break off peace negotiations and continue the arguments with arms. They have no alternative they say, for telegrams have been pouring into the headquarters of Gen. Madero from revolutionary chieftains in all parts of Mexico warning him that if he consents to any arrangement which will continue Gen. Diaz they will renounce his leadership and continue the rebellion independently.

Reports also have been received at the Madero camp of the mobilization of large bodies of rebel troops prepared to march on the City of Mexico if necessary.

The present armistice for the Chihuahua district will expire at noon tomorrow, and should peace negotiations fail, an attack on Juarez would be imminent.

Proposal by Madero.

The peace commissioners yesterday formally presented to Judge Carbajal a statement signed by Francisco I. Madero, Jr., appealing to President Diaz to make public assurances given privately that he intended to resign.

After offering his own resignation as president of the provisional government of the republic, Senor Francisco I. Madero, Jr., suggested that both President Diaz and Vice President Corral resign and that Senor de la Barra, the minister of foreign relations, become president ad interim until a general election shall have been held.

The statement, couched in most courteous Spanish phrases, informs President Diaz that there is no other way out of the present difficulty, and that a word from him will bring peace in a few days.

Senor Madero calls upon President Diaz particularly to make known to the people of Mexico his "irrevocable resolution to retire from power as soon as peace is established in the country."

The Madero statement was presented by the rebel commissioners only after a heated discussion among the revolutionist leaders. Some of them had declared that it was absolutely essential that President Diaz make public announcement of his intention to resign in order to bring about complete tranquility. Peace, they said, would not follow an agreement backed up only by private assurances which hardly could be transmitted to militant leaders in the south and central parts of the republic.

"Diaz Must Resign."

Some of the rebel chiefs went so far as to address a letter to Gen. Madero stating that unless he asked for the immediate resignation of President Diaz or at least a public announcement of future intentions, they would not support the peace negotiations.

Gen. Madero, somewhat alarmed by the extent of the insurrection which he has created, now desires to settle into a state of peace. He finally wrote the following proposition:

"In order to assume the immediate pacification of Mexico and to furnish to the world an example which will increase the prestige of our country, both contending leaders, Gen. Porfiro Diaz, and myself and the vice president of the republic, Ramon Corral, shall resign, and in the interim, the minister of foreign relations, Senor Francisco De La Barra, shall be president, calling a general election according to the Constitution.

"As far as I am concerned, I am offering my resignation with great satisfaction, as I wish only to serve my country as circumstances demand. If Gen. Diaz is inspired by the same partiotic sentiment I have no doubt he will make public what he has manifested in private.

"I believe that the country will become quiet alone through the expression of Senor Diaz to retire, and as soon as all the arrangements you are affecting with the representatives of President Diaz are put into operation.

"FRANSCICO I. MADERO.

"Provisional President of Mexico."

Rebel successes in the southern and central parts of Mexico, where the resignation of President Diaz is said to be prefererd above all other demands for political reform, it is known, caused Gen. Madero to take the stand he did. He feared, it is said, that his peace negotiations would be of little avail no matter what formalities were pursued, if the main issue were disregarded.

Battle is Expected.

Tucson, Ariz., May 5.—Seventy-five federals here left Nogales to meet a band of rebels approaching from the south, according to advices received here. The insurrectos plan to attack the city on three sides with 1,000 men, and, it is reported, will use nitro-glycerin bombs. Five hundred Indians under Madame Talamantes, it is said, will be in the attacking party. Gen. Ojeda, who is in Nogales, was with the command which executed her husband and sons.

New York, May 5.—Should the negotiations for peace between the Madero and the Diaz administration fail, the "country will be in a blaze of revolution from one end to the other as soon as the news gets out."

This was the message received here from City of Mexico by the board of foreign missions of the Methodist-Episcopal church, in a letter written April 28 by the Rev. John W. Butler.

Confirming the gravity of the situation in the capital, there followed a telegram from Dr. Butler dated today reading:

"Excitement exists. Outlook serious. Circumstances have changed for the worst. Insurrection prevailing throughout the field."

started north, and met the thieves five miles north of Winger and got within fifty feet of them before the robbers saw them. When ordered to halt they left the track and started down a country road, firing as they ran.

Thought Clubs Were Guns.

Kelly and Camp each carried a club, and Williams took these for rifles, and when outrun by his partner, surrendered. He was taken to a farm house and guarded by Camp, while Kelly pursued the other thief in the dark. He followed him by the noise of crackling bushes. The desperado finally rose up from behind a stump and shouted, "I might as well give up, you have got me," and at once opened fire on Kelly, whose coat was pierced by bullets. Kelly returned the fire with the weapon he had taken from Williams, but it was dark and none of the shots took effect. Kelly gave chase but the fugitive outran him and finally escaped in the brush. A description of the man will be sent to the Twin Cities and Duluth police. Williams is in jail here and refuses to talk. Camp's hat was pierced by a bullet in the first encounter.

STEEL CRAFT IS RAMMED

crashed together off Grassy island. The big Clement, 480 feet long, struck the smaller boat bow-on, amidships, and tore a great hole in her hull. While the crew of the Fisher, awakened by the shock of the collision, were tumbling from their berths and running to the rail to jump overboard, their vessel turned on her side and went to the bottom.

Engineer Auhl is believed to have been trapped at his post in the engine room, while Steward Sugden and his wife are supposed to have been drowned in their cabin.

Second Engineer Injured.

The Fisher's second engineer, whose name was not learned, was severely injured about the hip when his vessel was struck, and was at first missed by the small boats searching the water to rescue the sunken vessel's crew. In his disabled condition he managed to keep afloat while he drifted half a mile down the river before being rescued.

The Fisher lies in sixteen feet of water.

The survivors of her crew were brought to Detroit by the Clement.

The cause of the accident has not been explained. It was shortly after midnight when it occurred.

The Fisher had a load of coal and a deck load of steel rails for Port Arthur. The Clement had a load of ore for Buffalo and is owned by John Mitchell of Cleveland. The Fisher sank a little to the eastward of the ranges, her spars pointing out into the channel. Boats can pass to the eastward of the wreck. The Clement was sailed by H. H. Townsend and the Fisher by George Cottrell.

MILWAUKEE MAN IS ARRESTED ON COAST.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 5.—John Radke, a resident of this city, has been arrested on a fugitive warrant from Milwaukee charging him with embezzlement from Fred Usinger, a meat dealer of that city, in 1909.

Superior Man Appointed.

Madison, Wis., May 5.—Governor McGovern has appointed Attorney Charles H. Crownhart of Superior, and Prof. John R. Commons of Madison as members of the state commission to administer industrial accident or workmen's compensation law, just passed by the legislature. State's Labor Commissioner J. L. Beck will be reappointed, and by virtue of his office becomes a member of the commision.

TAFT PRAISES THE DOCTORS

Tells of Great Work Done By American Medical Authorities.

Philadelphia, May 5.—President Taft was the guest of honor at a reception given here last night by the Medical Club of Philadelphia. The president was hailed as the chief executive who had done the most for the advancement of medical science, and his recommendation that a national department of health be created by congress was dwelt upon approvingly by Dr. W. L. Rodman, who presided.

President Taft referred in his address to the efficiency of the medical corps of the army and pointed out that in the camp at San Antonio, where 18,000 troops are quartered, only one case of typhoid fever has occurred. He compared this with the dreadful scourge in Cuba during the Spanish-American war, where he said 90 per cent became infected within eight weeks from the date of mobilization.

Lessons From Spanish War.

The president said that much money had been expended and many lives sacrificed in the Spanish-American war, but that they are as nothing compared with the benefits to humanity which have accrued from the discoveries made during that period.

Surgeon General George Torney of the army spoke on "sanitary progress in the fort and field," and Surgeon General Charles F. Stokese of the navy, told of the "hospital ship and its mission of mercy."

The president praised the doctors of the United States army and doctors in general for the efficiency they have displayed in conquering disease in Cuba, in the Philippines and in the Panama canal zone. He found justification for the war with Spain in the stamping out of yellow fever in Cuba that threatened death to our Southern cities.

COMMONS LAUD STATE INSURANCE

Lloyd-George's Scheme Is Received With Extraordinary Approbation.

London, May 5.—The long promised scheme of state insurance against unemployment, sickness and invalidism, introduced in the house of commons yesterday by David Lloyd-George, chancellor of the exchequer, was received with an extraordinary approbation by all parties in parliament, which must have greatly astonished the minister. It will be difficult to avoid the conclusion that the praise bestowed by his political opponents conceals a side thrust at his old age pensions measure, which has always been severely criticised by the Unionists because it was not contributory.

While the government's supporters hail the insurance measure as the most comprehensive plan of constructive legislation ever introduced in parliament, far exceeding in compass anything anticipated, and better than the German system, the Unionists offer ungrudging testimony to the capacity and the mastery of intricate details displayed.

Do Not Oppose It.

The general opinion is that Chancellor Lloyd-George is too optimistic with regard to the cost of the scheme to the state and employers, and a strong note of criticism is already emanating from the great manufacturers, who are certain to be heavily burdened. In brief, the situation appears to be that even if the opposition dislike the measure as socialistic, they will not dare oppose it after the success which attended the pensions scheme.

She had not been able to walk downstairs before in past five years, except by stepping down on each step with one foot at a time. This is remarkable. Send five more boxes."

No matter what ails your feet or what under heaven you have used without getting relief, just use TIZ. It's different. It acts right off. It cures sore feet to stay cured. It's the only foot remedy ever made which acts on the principle of drawing out all the poisonous exudations which cause sore feet. Powders and other remedies merely clog up the pores. SOCIALIZING THE COUNTRY

Isolated Communities Now Being Developed Through Social Agencies.

Where the Church Has Seen Its Duty and Its Privilege.

Boston, Mass., May 5.—The crying need of the country, as differentiated from the city, is better social life and more of it. The privileges of the city, music, the drama, lectures and similar means of relaxation, many of which are furnished to city dwellers without money and without price, are denied to isolated communities, and they are literally starving mentally for wholesome recreation. The abandoned farms, found everywhere throughout rural communities, speak eloquently of the hard struggles for mere existence which have ended in dwarfed lives and broken spirits and have driven the younger generation cityward to find employment away from the farm, and fuller, richer lives amid the opportunities of the big cities.

But since all the dwellers in rural districts cannot change their abiding place, since of necessity some must live amid these conditions, the solution of the country problem lies in changing the conditions—in bring the best of the city's opportunities—its education and its recreation—for the uplift of the little hamlets and towns, remote and alone. Here is where the church has seen its duty and its privilege and here is where it is instituting new work.

How the Work Is Organized.

As the problem of saving the rural districts is a national one, so also is the remedy becoming national in its scope. County work by trained experts has been organized in this country and in Canada, extending now to fifty-two counties in twenty-two states and provinces, reaching some 25,000 men and boys in 750 different rural communities. The work is well systematized; one or more paid men give their entire time to traveling through the country, studying the local problems, discovering and training the local leaders, and redeeming in so far as they may that particular field. It is also a part of their work to obtain the names of the boys who have left the farms and drifted cityward, that the local churches and Y. M. C. A.'s may look up the individual boys, often bringing help and friends to them at just the time when both are needed. Only two per cent of the counties in the United States have as yet this organized effort, but the number is doubling every three years and increasing in effectiveness.

How is this social work, this uplift work successfully carried on? It is all done through a system of local leadership. Take, for instance, the educational work. Each community, however small, has its leading citizens. To them the worker turns for co-operation. The country doctor, the successful farmer, the lawyer, give practical talks to the boys and young men who have yet to choose their vocation. As the county secretary travels from place to place one-day courses are arranged to show the boys, discontented with farm life, the possibilities of soil culture and production. For this purpose there are contests in corn growing, poultry raising and fruit growing; classes and demonstration in potato raising, dairying, reforestation and stock judging, experts to serve on these occasions being secured from experiment stations and agricultural colleges to give the instruction, until farming, in the eyes of the country boy of today is dignified from drudgery to a science, and life on the farm to seem more worth while. The county secretary will travel with the expert instructor from community to community, a rural center will be organized and courses instituted by the extension department of agricultural colleges.

Where Play Comes In.

And then the people to whom life brings much that is hard and discouraging are taught that play is as necessary as work in normal living. Community play days and carnivals are arranged by these secretaries when sometimes 90 per cent of the entire place will turn out and spend the day in the games and sports, the politician and the selectman enjoying baseball and the tug-of-war equally as well as the small children enjoy their sand box.

For indoor recreation everything from Bible study to amateur theatricals is planned by these workers. The difficulties here are great, for not infrequently the only places in the town suitable for accommodating the audience are the church and schoolhouse. The old code of morals still forbids the use of the church for any save distinctively religious purposes, and so the schoolhouse, poor and inadequate though it is, is the only choice as an assembly room for debates, for reading clubs and for clean little plays. A many-sided program is usually arranged during the season, and to many tired, lonely craving souls in that community it is the only bit of social life that comes their way.

Religious Side.

After education and recreation have been stimulated, the religious life is ministered to. Nowhere, heretofore, have denominational lines been more closely drawn or the denominational spirit been more bitter than in the country. How many of our grandmothers died with thanksgiving on their lips that they had never set foot in a church of another denomination than their own. Today church federation is a very real thing in some of the rural communities, through the efforts of the Y. M. C. A. and other organizations. Just here the college man of today is coming to the fore, throwing the best of his enthusiasm, his talent and his virile manhood into this work for the country boy.

Dartmouth college is already a leader in this hand-to-hand work. Five or six of the finest men in the college comprise the team that, under the direction of a county secretary, are sent to some isolated community for several days' work, with the aim to reach every young man and boy by personal work and bring him into Christian service. There is a Saturday night entertainment, open to the entire town, a rollicking good time such as only college boys know how to give, at the close of which the teams are solid with the entire boy constituency of the place. Sunday morning finds the secretary in the pulpit of the little country church. The students themselves conduct the Sunday afternoon evangelistic service for men and boys, using plain student terms which never fail to appeal to the boys present. The teams always include a quartet which adds no small part to the effectiveness of the Saturday evening frolic, or to the attractiveness of the Sunday services. What Dartmouth college has so successfully been doing for six months, New Hampshire State college is also undertaking, and other colleges will doubtless fall into line as the value of the results become apparent.

Through this association of the college man with the country boy new recruits for the colleges are gained, new ideals given to the boys, and new life infused into the community. It is a service worthy of the best men in our colleges, a service whose returns should yield a hundredfold.

THIS MARQUIS WAS NOT REAL

For Years, However, Paris Society Folk Were Deceived.

Paris, May 5.—The beautiful castle of La Verrie, near Nantes, is without its "master," for the police are looking for the "Marquis de Roquefeuil" on charges of bigamy and fraud.

The case has caused considerable of a stir in France, for the "marquis" was a prime favorite with upper crust social set in Paris, where he married Mme. de Boumene, who, in addition to her city home, has a fine old chateau at Paimboeuf. The charge of fraud is based upon the fact that the man is not a marquis at all, but stole the papers of a man who was a marquis and who died insane. The bigamy charge is due to an alleged first marriage in Algeria.

The Marquis Was Versatile.

The "marquis" is the son of a wine merchant named Reiss and his experiences would fill a book. He became acquainted with a rich South American planter visiting in Paris and returned to Argentina with him. He made a small fortune there in two years and came back to Paris, where he became a "financier," operating on the bourse. Next he became a Trappist monk, next an explorer, visiting the wilds of Asia and Africa. He started a newspaper in Algeria and it was while doing this work that he met the Marquis de Roquefeuil, an inmate of an asylum for lunatics, where he died. Reiss is said by some to have stolen the marquis's family papers, by others to have appropriated them after the marquis turned them over to him with the request that they be delivered over to his people in France. Anyway, he got them.

Almost Deceived the Brother.

Just when Reiss started calling himself Marquis de Roquefeuil is not clear. But he eventually turned up in Paris and at once became exceedingly poular as the marquis. In highest circles he met the widow of the rich de Boumene and married her. Their receptions, balls, dinners and social functions generally, both in Paris and at their Castle de la Verrie, were of the most brilliant nature. In all of these affairs the "marquis" was the dashing, witty center of a large group of admirers.

One day the brother of the Marquis de Roquefeuil saw the name of his dead brother in the list of those present at a social gathering in Paris. He called upon the bogus marquis and the latter bade the caller welcome, declaring himself to be the Marquis de Roquefeuil and the visitor's brother. The visitor left the house half convinced that his brother had not died in Algeria as he had believed. Reiss took fright, however, and fled.

HIT BY QUEEN MARY'S EDICT

Lady Decies Obliged to Have Entire New Wardrobe.

London, May 5. — Everybody who has seen the gorgeous trousseau of Lady Decies is wondering what the pretty American bride will do now that Queen Mary's ban has gone forth against hobble effects and tight skirts at the coronation. Wherever a young woman has appeared she has been remarked for the ultra tightness of her American-made clothes. English court matrons state that Lady Decies will be obliged to have an entire new wardrobe.

The former Miss Gould's wedding gown was made with regulation court train, however, with the coronation in mind. Even it must be remodeled to meet the almost Victorian prudishness of Queen Mary. As for her other frocks, they were all cut in the tight hobble fashion.

At the Punchestown races recently Lady Decies astonished the Irish ladies by wearing draperies so tight that her big husband was obliged to help her up the grandstand stairway. While her gown was of brilliant silk, accompanied by a plume trimmed hat, the others about her appeared in heavy tweeds and strictly walking hats.

Among the pretty frocks seen on Lady Decies, but which are tabooed on account of the court edict, is a tailor-made white serge with a skirt with inserted plaited panel, trimmed with buttons. The panel gives the hobble effect, so much disliked by the queen. With this gown Lady Decies wears a black straw hat trimmed with black velvet and pink rosebuds.

According to friend, who have seen all her gowns it will cost the little bride a small fortune to obey Queen Mary's edict.

FAVORED BY DEMOCRATS

Parcels Post Legislation Is Scheduled for Passage By House.

Believed That Senate, After Some Delay, Will Pass It.

Washington, May 5.—Parcels post legislation is scheduled for passage by the leaders of the Democratic house. They want all the votes they can get from the farmers a couple of years from now and they know the farmer is crying for the parcels post plan, even if the country merchant is not; and the farmer is more numerous than the country merchant. They will not confine the system to rural routes, however, but will respond to the popular demand generally and frame legislation to make the parcels post universal.

This legislation was not a part of the original program laid out by the Democrats for this session. It would be going rather far to say that there is a final decision on the part of the Democratic leaders to undertake the legislation at this session, but the leaders say the probability is that after the other items on the original legislative program have been disposed of a bill for parcels post will be passed.

Since the opening of this session demands for parcels post legislation have been coming up from the farmers in every section of the country. This demand has made an impression on the Democrats. Many communications from farmers have been received saying that if congress is bound to ratify the Canadian reciprocity agreement it certainly ought to be willing to do something for the farmer. Of course the so-called farmers' free list bill was brought forward by the Democrats as a sort of offset to the reciprocity legislation, but the farmers are letting the legislators know that they will not be satisfied unless they get both the free list legislation and legislation introducing the parcels post.

Will Be Good Business.

The Democratic leaders say that they have from the first had in mind the passage of a parcels post bill, but that the original program was not to take up this legislation until the regular session. However, as already noted, they are now practically convinced that it will be good business for them to take up parcels post while the farmer has Canadian reciprocity and the Democratic free list on his mind. Speaker Clark said today that he has every reason to believe that a parcels post law will be in operation before the congress ends. He said he realized that the senate had always been unfriendly to such legislation, but he believed the situation in that body is now such as to warrant the conviction that if the house pased a bill the senate would, after some delay, accept it. Speaker Clark added that he supposed there was no doubt that the house would pass such a bill, if not at this special session, certainly at the regular session which will open in December.

It is doubtless true that the meeting of the Postal Progress League here has had a good deal to do with the sudden activity of the Democrats on this question of parcels post. The Postal Progress League has been working for various postal reforms for several years without achieving much success. Its recent meeting here, however, attracted attention. Representative business men from every section of the United States were present. Labor organizations and the various organizations with which farmers affiliate were also represented. The feature of the meeting was a demand for a general parcels post—a service that will take the place of that now performed by the express companies. Undoubtedly the Democrats of the house suddenly reached the conclusion after this convention that it would be well for them to take up the parcels post business at once.

Easy Sailing in the House.

Parcels post legislation will have easy sailing in the house of representatives. The house has always been in favor of legislation of this sort. Heretofore the senate has been opposed even to the establishment of an experimental parcels post on rural mail routes. But the old senate is no more. Most of the senators who were so bitterly opposed to parcels post legislation have been retired to private life. In their places are men, some of them Republicans, some Democrats, who favor the introduction of the parcels post system. The new chairman of the senate committee on postoffices and post roads, Senator Bourne of Oregon, is an advocate of the parcels post system. It is not at all certain that a majority of the members of the reorganized committee on postoffices and post roads are in favor of the proposed legislation, but the legislation is undoubtedly much stronger with the committee than ever before. For many years Senator Thomas C. Platt of New York, as the head of one of the largest express companies, was undoubtedly influential enough to block parcels post legislation every time it made its appearance in the senate.

The Postal Progress League has submitted to congress information based on official figures, showing that under the present postal laws the merchandise traffic is only 1.12 per cent of the business of the department; in weight, 4.29 per cent, and in revenue, 4.44 per cent. The league also shows that the weight of the average piece of postal merchandise at present is only .45 ounces, and its average haulage 687 miles. It is also pointed out that the average family posts less than nine parcels a year—less than three pounds.

The postmaster general estimates the cost of this business at 18.3 cents a pound. The Postal Progress League says that this estimate is absurd. The league points out that the American Express company is now carrying English postal parcels of from three to eleven pounds from New York city to any other part of the United States within the American Express company's jurisdiction at the common rate of 24 cents, or at less than 3½ cents a pound on eleven pound parcels. The league maintains that this is conclusive evidence that if congress will arrange for a reasonable system the general merchandise business of the postoffice service will fully pay its way.

How She Keeps Her Baby Healthy--Test Free

An easy way for any mother to raise sturdy children.

So far back as the memory of man goes every mother has had her own peculiar ideas about how to keep her children healthy. But women are getting to agree on the main point more and more, and that is that it is of first importance to keep the little one's bowels open.

From the bowels comes health or sickness. Unless a child is born diseased it can be kept healthy, and made to grow to vigorous maturity, if the bowels are kept free and pure in infancy and childhood. It is the main point for the mother to look after. The amount of romping and playing a child does keeps its bowels moving naturally, but there comes a time when they overeat or eat something that does not agree, and then a laxative is absolutely necessary.

Don't wait until matters get worse—give a laxative at once. What laxative are you going to give? Stewed fruit and things of that kind? No, not when the child is really constipated. Give a scientific laxative, a formula based an forty years of experience with children. Such a laxative is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which thousands of mothers are already giving in these emergencies. It is the mainstay of the children of Mrs. J. R. Whiting of Lena, Wis., Mrs. Chas. H. Reichert, Richmond Hill, L. I., and numerous others.

Don't give pills, tablets or strong cathartics for the child doesn't need it. Go to your druggist and buy a fifty cent or one dollar bottle of Syrup Pepsin. It is mild, gentle, free from griping and exactly suited to the needs of infants and children. If you want to try it before buying write Dr. Caldwell and he will send you a free sample bottle. He has sent thousands such bottles to mothers.

Dr. Caldwell does not feel that the purchase of his remedy ends his obligation. He has specialized in stomach, liver and bowel diseases for over forty years and will be pleased to give the reader any advice on the subject free of charge. All are welcome to write him. Whether for the medical advice or the free sample address him Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 541 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

'PHONE LINE FOR CROSBY

Growing Cuyuna Village Has Received Two Applications for Franchises.

Water System Will Also Be Installed, Pipes Being Laid Through Village.

Crosby, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The growth of this village is illustrated by applications just made to the council for telephone franchises.

An application for the privilege of stringing wires and installing a system was made by the Aitkin-Deerwood Telephone company, which, if granted permission, will install a central energy of manual system plant. Another application for a like franchise was made by the Blake Electrical Construction company of Crosby. Both these applications, with that of H. Alexander, of Park Rapids, heard at a previous meeting were laid over to be thoroughly considered before acted upon.

A tmporary water system will be built here immediately and four large tanks will be erected in convenient places in the city. A well is to be driven on Carlson's point, and a gasoline engine will be installed to do the pumping. Pipes will be laid through the village connecting with the tanks and this temporary plant will bridge over matters until the permanent plant can be completed. Company mills will do the work and in the six-inch casing a four-inch galvanized pipe will be placed. Boring will proceed until a good strata of water is struck.

E. W. Hallett has his two story building erected east of the Spalding hotel.

M. F. Crosby has made many improvements to his pretty cottage near that of Dr. it. J. Sewall in Crosby.

George Crosby To Build.

George H. Crosby will soon commence the construction of forty more residences, to be built in the Lake park division.

On May 10 the First National bank will let the contract for the construction of its two-story brick block, measuring 25 by 60 feet, to be built of pressed brick and cut stone. Architect Beebe of Fargo, N. D., drew the plans and they may be seen at the office of the bank. It will be erected on the corner of Main street and First avenue west, a short distance from the present location of the bank.

Ben Samuelson of Brainerd and three Little Falls bricklayers are working on the "dry" at the Kennedy mine.

P. W. Donovan, C. D. Sheldon, Dr. R. A. Beise and E. Beise, all of Brainerd, were at Crosby last week.

YEGGMEN BOUGHT OUTFIT IN DULUTH

That Is Latest Theory of Unsuccessful Attempt to Crack Shevlin Bank.

Bemidji, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—All efforts to capture the men who tried to burglarize the bank at Shevlin Tuesday night have failed. At first it was thought that the yeggs after making their unsuccessful attempt to loot the bank came to Bemidji, but no trace of the men has been found here.

The yeggmen took few precautions to hide their movements in the bank. They kept all the gas lights in the bank burning brightly, left the window shades up and occasionally went out into the street to hold a consultation as to further proceedings, there being seven different explosions in the unsuccessful attempt to crack the bank's safe.

The robbers were watched by Mr. Rauk, a hardware dealer, his family and several other residents of Shevlin.

They Outfitted in Duluth.

When the yeggs fled from the bank they left all their heavy tools. From the wrappers on the dynamite caps and the soap, it is believed that the robbers bought their supplies in Duluth.

That it was only currency that they were after was evident from the fact that they did not touch any of the valuable papers or securities in the outer safe, which they easily uncovered, although they failed in reaching the money drawer. The yeggmen are believed to be the same who attempted to rob the bank at Anoka several days ago. They met with the same result at Anoka as at Shevlin, blowing up the outer plates but failing to get the cash.

STATE SEEDS PLANTED.

Minnesota Fire Sufferers Generally Have Used Donations.

Remidji, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—More than 80 per cent of the grass seeds given by the state to the residents of districts injured by the forest fires of last fall has been planted properly and by persons entitled to the seed, according to Thomas Cooper o fthe Minnesota agricultural school who has just completed an inspection tour.

Mr. Cooper's last work, before returning to St. Paul via Duluth, where he will locate the new agricultural school, was in Bemidji, coming here from Baudette and Spooner where he found that with few exceptions the seed had been given out to good advantage and planted as outlined by the state.

SETTLING UP COUNTRY.

Many Families Being Brought Into Menominee Sugar Beet Belt.

Menominee, Mich., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Menominee River Sugar company has located a large number of people in this section. Special trains, with five and six coaches, and an equal number of baggage cars, have already arrived in the territory. Each family, according to a contract entered into with the farmers, is to be furnished a house and firewood and paid a certain sum per acre for taking care of the sugar beets.

George W. McCormick, general manager of the sugar factory, believes that bringing so many people into the upper peninsular will confer a permanent benefit on the territory. The majority of the newcomers are enterprising and thrifty, and after one season in the beet fields will no doubt turn their attention to cheap lands in the county. A family of four or five can save $500 or more during the season. With this as a starter they can purchase a good forty acres of land in Menominee county and in a short time have it under cultivation.

LIVED LONG IN MINNESOTA.

Two Minneapolis Pioneers of Over Half Century Are Called.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 5.—Two Minnesota pioneers of more than half a century died Wednesday in this city.

Nathaniel Gardner Longfellow, 66 years old, had lived sixty years in Minneapolis.

He was one of the group of men who prepared in 1862, when he was only 17, to protect the settlers at St. Anthony, before it was Minneapolis, against the danger of massacre by the Sioux Indians. He retained a vivid memory of the old times and frequently recounted tales of the stirring times of the early Civil war period. He was a member of the Eleventh Minnesota volunteers.

Funeral services will take place at 2:30 p. m. this afternoon at the home, with interment at Lakewood.

After a residence of fifty-three years in Minnesota and identification with the development of the Minnesota river valley and Minneapolis from territorial days, Mrs. Lydia E. Houghton, widow of Capt. George Houghton, died at her home, 320 University avenue southeast. Mrs. Houghton, whose maiden name was Holmes, came to Minneapolis in the statehood year, 1858, from Pittsburg. Her relatives lived in Carver county where she spent the major portion of her life, coming to Minneapolis to live, later on. She had a wide local acquaintance with the pioneer men and women.

Capt. George Houghton, her husband, who died about eight years ago, commanded the steamer Antelope that plied the Mississippi river from St. Paul to Carver.

SCUFFLE ENDS FATALLY.

Young Southerner Injured in Bemidji Dies in Minneapolis.

Bemidji, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Abscess on the hip, following a fall in the Crookston mill here, caused the death of Wade McCann, 18 years old, in a hospital in Minneapolis.

McCann came to Bemidji from Nashville, Tenn., less than two months ago to learn the lumber business. He was a well educated, clean cut young man. He got along well with his work until about ten days ago, while in a good natured scuffle with another young man, he fell at the mill, striking his hip against a wooden horse.

It was not regarded as a serious injury, but in a few days McCann was compelled to go to the Bemidji hospital where his condition became complicated and he was taken to Minneapolis.

His parents were notified but death beat them in the race for their son, McCann dying an hour before his mother arrived.

How Ladies Improve Looks!

"Many ladies, old and young, suffer a round of tortures with their nerves, and many are so frail, thin and bloodless that their splendid features are lost sight of while a vain attempt to conceal the angularity of the figure, deceives no one but themselves and really excites the pity or ridicule of the world," said a well known, largely employed practicing physician, in a recent lecture at a young ladies' college. "I do not mind exposing a little secret of mine to all such, as it can do no harm and may result in much happiness and health. It is simply this: Any thin, bloodless, nerve-tortured man or woman, can become as fit as the fittest by taking regularly for several months an easily obtained pharmaceutical product known by the profession and pharmacists, as "three-grain hypo-nuclane tablets,' put up in sealed packages with directions for home use."

S.S.S. CURES ALL SKIN DISEASES

Health in its magnificence appeals to everyone, and especially is this true of a clear skin, free from eruptions and disease. We instinctively realize that back of this desirable condition pure, rich blood is flowing through the system, furnishing nutriment to all the tissues.

This perfect condition of the skin exists as long as the blood is normal, but when it becomes contaminated with humors and acids its supply of nutritive properties is greatly lessened, and it becomes a sharp, acrid fluid which diseases instead of preserving the natural health and texture of the skin. Then come Skin Diseases; the character of the eruption depending upon the nature of the humor with which the blood is infected. If there is an excess of acid in the circulation the trouble is characterized by itching and burning eruptions. Other impurities produce watery blisters, rashes, etc., commonly known as Eczema, Tetter or Salt Rheum, while still other morbid matters in the circulation cause Acne, pimples and like troubles.

Dear Sirs:—My body broke out with a rash or eruption which, in spite of all efforts to cure, continued to get worse. The itching, especially at night, was simply terrible; it would almost disappear at times, only to return worse than ever. I had tried many highly recommended preparations without benefit, and hearing of S. S. S. determined to give it a fair trial and was inexpressibly delighted when a few bottles cured me entirely, removing every blemish and pimple from my body. I shall not fail to recommend S. S. S. whenever an opportunity occurs to do so.
Escondido, Cal. L. MARNO.

It is right and proper to get what relief one may from the application of washes, salves, etc., but such treatment should not be depended upon alone to produce a cure—only a thorough purification of the blood can accomplish this.

S. S. S. cures Skin Diseases of every character and kind, because it purifies the blood. It goes down into the circulation and removes the humors and acids, builds up the weak, acrid blood, and completely cures Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Acne, pimples, rashes, eruptions, and all skin affections. When S. S. S. has cleansed the blood of the impurities the skin is nourished with rich, cooling blood, the tissues and fibres are strengthened, the pores and glands are stimulated to their full duty, and every symptom passes away. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice free. S. S. S. is for sale at drug stores.

TEACHERS MUST KNOW SOMETHING OF AGRICULTURE

What is a mulch?
What is a Bordeaux mixture?
What are layers, cuttings, scions?
What is a humus?

Name two breeds of dairy cattle, two breeds of swine, three breeds of chickens, two breeds of sheep and two breeds of horses?

If you can not answer such questions as these, you can not be a school teacher for they are taken from the list of questions put to those who yesterday tried for state certificates at the state examination held at County Supt. of Schools N. A. Young's office at the courthouse.

The paper on agriculture was a feature of the examination.

The state will hereafter demand that its teachers know something about agriculture as the state wants the children to grow up with at least some idea as to what uses the soil can be put to.

There were seventeen teachers taking the examinations yesterday for first grade certificates. Forty today took the examinations for second grade certificates.

SAVED BY AN ELEPHANT.

Philadelphia North American: An old showman tells the following exciting story of his experience when connected with a well-known menagerie during an engagement at a town in Kentucky: "After the exhibition was over," he says, "I passed into the menagerie to tal kto the watchman. For some cause he was absent from his post, and I walked across the amphitheater toward my old friend the elephant to give him an apple, for we were the best of friends. He was one of the largest elephants I ever saw, and was as good-natured as he was large.

"I was half way across the ring when I heard a growl, and, looking around, saw to my horror one of the lions out of his cage and approaching me in a crouching manner ready for a spring.

"I thought of a thousand things in a moment, and among them I must have regretted perpetrating so many wornout jokes at the performance that night. I had sufficient presence of mind to realize my dangerous situation and to know that it required the utmost caution to extricate myself from it.

"One hasty motion on my part and I would be in the jaws of the monster. I felt that my only hope was the elephant, if I could reach him, but he was chained by the foot and could not reach me.

"Nearer and nearer came the lion, waving his tail in a manner that meant business. If I turned my back he would spring; if I took my eyes from him I was lost.

"It was a terrible moment. I glided backward as swiftly as I dared. I had another fear. I feared stumbling backward, and knew if I did fall I would never rise, but that where I fell I would make a meal for that lion.

"As I neared the elephant I saw that the lion understood my movements, and, fearing he would be balked of his prey, he prepared to bring the matter to a crisis. I then saw that I had but one hope, and that was to rush with all my speed to the elephant.

"I think I must have jumped twenty feet when I turned, and I know the lion jumped thirty, but he just missed me.

"How I completed the race I do not know. I only know that the elephant's trunk was around my waist and he was lifting me up on his head. I only knew that I was saved."

THE PARENT OF WHEAT.

Chicago Tribune: The parent of all the wheat in the world has recently been found. At least the finder, Dr. Aaron Aaronsohn, a distinguished botanist, claims that it is the patriarch of wheats, and he is a good authority. It grows in Palestine, in the Upper Galilee district, and is of good quality and an exceptionally adaptable and hardy nature. It reproduces itself vigorously on Mount Hermon, 6,300 feet above sea level, and also along the shores of the Dead Sea, which is absolutely arid and lies 500 feet below the level of the Mediterranean. An effort will be made to transplant this species to the wheat country in the extreme north of Canada, where it is on to find a crop that is cold-proof. The same plant also has been sent to Algiers, Tunis and Egypt, to be sown in waste and desert lands where no other profit-bearing plant will thrive.

AN ANCIENT CITY OF ARIZONA.

Chicago Tribune: Still another "oldest city in the world" has been discovered. When T. Hewitt Myring found vases in Peru in ruins which were said to be 7,000 years old it was imagined that the remains of early civilizations had been pushed as far into antiquity as they would ever go.

But A. Lafave, a mining engineer, has found the relics of a town in Arizona table land near Phoenix, which he insists are at least 10,000 years old. The buildings are on a level stretch of country where neither silt nor wash was possible, and yet the ruins were covered with ten feet of prairie dust, which the discoverer claims required ages to accumulate.

The buildings of sandstone show great architectural skill, and in the walls were found a box of cotton balls and a sealed jar of corn, both well preserved. The Arizona climate does not permit the growth of cotton in the present age, so Mr. Lafave assumes that sufficient time must have elapsed since the cotton which he found was grown to have wrought a complete change in the character of the country This period he also gauges as something like 10,000 years.

He is satisfied that the ruins are older than those of Nineveh or Babylon. He believes that the race which built this town was possessed of a high civilization from the abundance of artistically wrought pottery and that it subsequently was broken up by internal dissension and possibly degenerated into the cliff dwelling tribes.

AIRSHIPS TO SCARE NATIVES.

Paris Correspondence Chicago News: A project for the use of aeroplanes with which to frighten the natives of the French colonies in Africa into submission has been introduced in the chamber of deputies in the form of a bill providing for an appropriation of $80,000 for "colonial military aviation." It seems probable that the measure will be passed in view of the recent defeat of the French by the tribesmen of Onadai, when Col. Moll, commander of the French forces, was among the slain. Deputy Gasparin, who is a strong advocate of the plan, said to the correspondent of the Daily News recently:

"Would the sad events of Onadai have happened if Col. Moll had had at his disposal a few aeroplanes? Perhaps not. Anyway, in the desert region, where the means of transportation are very meager, the aeroplane could be used to carry orders. Certainly the sight of a great white-winged airship sailing overhead would be sufficient to inspire the natives with a salutary fear and tend to calm their warlike feelings. They would understand that they had no chance against the power of France and would submit to its domination loyally.

"Yes, there should be aeroplanes not only in West Africa, but also in Indo-China, the Kongo and Madagascar. The last named country offers superior conditions for experiments. The inhabitants have long demanded a railway connecting Tananarivo with the west coast. Instead of devoting immense sums to this work and burdening the colony with heavy debts, why not consider an aeroplane service. I understand that M. Picquie, governor of the island, is actually studying the question of using aeroplanes for carrying the mails. Undoubtedly French prestige will be tremendously increased when the natives behold the first aeroplane skimming over the capital of Madagascar."

BLIND WEAVERS AT WORK AT THEIR LOOMS

RAISING BANANAS IN MEXICO.

Consular Reports: The soil in which the banana is planted should be a sandy loam, and when ploughed and gently turned the ground should be measured in squares of 3 meters (1 meter equals 39.37 inches), which gives about 400 plants to the acre. While the field is being prepared the seed bulbs should be set out in the shade to germinate, requiring only a thin layer of earth to cover them.

When the sprouts reach the height of 1 foot they may be transplanted. When the land is marked into squares a hole three feet square and three feet deep is made; the plant being placed in the center. The reason the bulb is planted at this depth is because of the accumulation of leaves and debris, which forms a fertilizer and also retains the moisture.

The land now being set with bananas may be planted with corn, beans or garavanzos, thus reducing the cost of clearing and cultivation the first year. It requires twelve months for a stock to mature and produce a bunch of fruit from the bulb. During the growth of the first stock there will come several shoots, the largest one being allowed to stand, while the others are taken up and replanted.

The stock left will attain sufficient growth to produce one bunch of bananas in four months or three bunches from one plant or 1,200 bunches an acre a year. Planters in the state of Tabasco receive 20 cents gold a bunch at the plantation, and as the cost of production is $50 an acre, very satisfactory profits are realized.

There is a demand for hogs all over Mexico, which bring $40 to $45 each in American currency. On a banana plantation hogs could be fed on small and broken bunches of bananas at a cost not to exceed $5 each, to which may be added $5 for other expenses, which leaves a profit of $30 to $35 and 25 per cent can be added if the hog is slaughtered and rendered into lard and the meat sold.

CONFIRMED HIS STATEMENT.

Indianapolis Star: Senator John Kern of Indiana tells this story about his predecessor, the late Senator Dan Voorhees.

Voorhees frequently made the claim that more Democrats than Republicans had been enrolled from Indiana in the Union army during the Civil war. On one occasion he made the assertion in connection with a speech in Sullivan county.

"I guess anybody will admit that considerably more than half the people who went into the Union army from Sullivan county were Democrats," he declared with emphasis.

A Democrat down in one of the front rows had taken a drink or two before he came to the meeting and he confirmed Voorhees' statements.

"Yes, it's true," he shouted. "Gol darn it, they drafted us!"

A RECLAMATION DEMONSTRATION.

Not enough attention has been given to the law passed by the Minnesota legislature providing for the reclamation of ten 40-acre tracts of state land in Northern Minnesota as an experimental demonstration of what can be done in the way of turning idle cut-over lands into rich farm acres.

Though it was one of the minor measures of the session, and though it has thus far received attention accordingly, in its results it is quite possible that it will turn out to be one of the most important products of a none too productive session.

The plan provided by the law is that the board of reclamation created by its provisions shall select ten 40-acre tracts in various sections where the state has large land holdings, and clear twenty acres in each tract, keeping careful account of costs in each section. Afterward the land is to be sold for its appraised value plus the cost of putting it in readiness for cultivation.

The state needed just such work as this, and its progress will be watched with great interest. It must be done thoroughly and it must be done at reasonable cost to make the experiment a success.

There is no question about the fertility of the cut-over lands of Northern Minnesota. There is no question that they can be cleared and made ready for planting. There is some question about how much it costs to make the change from wilderness to fruitful farm land. During the debate on this very measure one member of the house—from Southern Minnesota, of course; in fact it was the man Klemer who leaped from meek and innocuous obscurity to state-wide fame on the wings of a bitter phrase—said that Northern Minnesota wasn't fit to live in and never would be fit to live in, and that it would cost from $150 to $200 an acre to clear its cut-over lands. Of course that is absurd, but even if it were true it might be possible that the fertile land of Northern Minnesota would be worth clearing even at that cost.

If Klemer had this idea of the soil of Northern Minnesota and of the commercial practicability of clearing cut-over lands, no doubt others have it, too, and the demonstration provided by this law will be worth while if it serves no other purpose than to brand such statements as Klemer's as they should be branded—as falsehoods.

The reclamation board which was appointed promptly upon the passage of the bill has gone at its task wisely, and its selections of localities in which to do its work speaks well for its knowledge of Northern Minnesota and its appreciation of the meaning and importance of its work. The counties in which the work will be done are St. Louis, Lake, Aitkin, Hubbard, Cass, Beltrami, Itasca, Marshall, Roseau and Koochiching. This list includes an area wide enough to make it certain that all types of soil and timber conditions will be made subjects of the experiment, and that is absolutely necessary to the success of the plan.

It is doubtful if the amount of money provided by the legislature—$8,000—is enough to complete the work on all ten tracts. In that event there is but one thing for the board to do, and that is to complete as many tracts as it can. To spread the available funds over the ten tracts, and not be able to complete any of them, would be to leave the experiment wholly void of results.

THE NEW REAPPORTIONMENT.

The ease with which congressional reapportionment goes through, as a matter of course after each decennial census, is calculated to make Northern Minnesota turn pale green with envy, or would be if Northern Minnesota were not already fiery red with indignation over the failure of legislative reapportionment in this state.

And that again calls to mind the speculation, indulged in in these columns some time ago, as to what would happen if reapportionment were delayed in the nation until its injustices were as hideous as they are in Minnesota, and until some populous section were as grossly under-represented as Northern Minnesota is today. It wouldn't take very many sessions of congress at which reapportionment was refused as it has been refused by the last half dozen sessions of the Minnesota legislature to breed a lot of trouble.

But that speculation is rather idle, perhaps, because never has congressional reapportionment failed. The readjustment has come as promptly as the census, and never yet has any state or section had reason to complain of under-representation in the national congress. Any little difficulty there might have been about the matter has been solved by the simple process of increasing the membership, so that no state ever loses representation and the house of representatives has had practically a steady growth from the handful in the first congress to the 433 members proposed in the Crumpacker bill, which has passed the house and will undoubtedly pass the senate.

The increase in the house membership from 391 to 433, a gain of forty-two members, is the largest relative increase in the history of the country with the exception of the reapportionment of 1870, when the membership was increased by fifty-one over that of 1860. Twenty-four states make gains, and the rest remain as before. No state loses.

Minnesota gains one member, and as the congressional reapportionment falls between legislative sessions, the new member must run at large and conduct a primary election campaign and a general election campaign before the entire electorate of the state. Though this is a good deal of a task—rather it is two very large tasks—it is not to be expected that there will be any lack of candidates. The man who wins this place, however, can hardly hope to gain anything permanent, whatever his expense of time and labor and money. The legislature of 1913 will redistrict the state, making ten congressional districts instead of nine, and wherever the congressman-at-large may live, the chances are very much against his being lucky enough to have a district carved out for him. It is true that there is no constitutional or legal requirement that a congressman shall live in his district, but custom, and the natural desire of each district to be represented by one of its own citizens, are as strong as any law.

The steady increase in the size of the house of representatives, while not a cause for alarm, is not reassuring as to betterment in congressional deliberations. For years, running back to a time when it was much smaller than it is now, the house has been unwieldy. It was the fact that it was unwieldy which gave occasion for the formation of the system under which the house ceased to be a representative and a deliberative body, and became a mere appendage to the Cannon organization. Cannon is gone, and the system through which he ruled got its death blow from the rules adopted by the Democrats when they came into power. Still, the house is more unwieldy than ever, and the temptation to concentrate its power will still remain in spite of the new rules and in spite of any rules that can be made.

The only safeguard against abuses that will naturally arise in a body so unnecessarily large is public vigilance.

THE KEEFE BILL.

Judging from the country press comments that have been published on this page since the close of the legislative session, the legislature builded better than it realized when it passed the Keefe bill providing for the direct popular election of United States senators. The comment is uniformly favorable and enthusiastic, and beyond question it is an echo of the popular thought on the subject.

In point of fact the Minnesota legislature did nothing finer in its recent session than the passage of this law which puts the selection of United States senators from Minnesota where it belongs—into the hands of the voters. Though the old guard may gnash its teeth and gag at the bitterness of the dose, the people will rejoice; because hereafter the people, not the bosses, will pick the senators.

The first application of the new system will come next year, when a successor to Senator Nelson will be elected. The senate, of course, will not be pledged because its members hold over until 1914; but with the election of 1914 in their visions, the senators will be found voting in 1913, with few exceptions, for the choice of the people as expressed at the primaries and the polls.

A CORNER IN MAY.

There was an interesting local story in The Herald last evening about a corner in May wheat that has been engineered by skillful speculators. It seems that a number of less fortunate or less skillful speculators have sold a lot of wheat that they did not have, expecting to buy it in for delivery later at a price lower than that at which they sold, pocketing the difference as their profits.

But the men to whom they sold bought so much of the available supply that now when the time for delivery is at hand, the misguided gentlemen who sold wheat when they owned none must go to the gentlemen who control the supply and pay whatever price those in control choose to ask. That is, they will have to do this unless the directors of the Chicago Board of Trade step in and protect them against the greed of the men who engineered the corner.

On its face this looks like a struggle between gamblers—beg pardon, speculators—which the people can witness with complacent disinterestedness. However, the price of bread is based on the price of wheat, and if those in control are allowed to have their will the success of the corner would mean dear flour and harder living for the many. That gives the affair a direct public interest.

Should the men who were cunning enough to make a "corner" in May wheat and squeeze the "shorts" into it be permitted to charge what they please for the wheat they control? If you believe that "business" should not be interfered with in any way, and that the law should keep its hands off "enterprise," to be consistent you must hold that the owners of the corner should be allowed to squeeze the "shorts" for the utmost possible profit.

But if you believe that the needs of humanity are of greater consequence than speculative business, and that the interests of bread-eaters are of greater public concern than the interests of speculators seeking profits for which they make no return to society, then you must agree that the Chicago Board of Trade is justified in stepping in, and that if it didn't the law should step in with a heavy foot.

HAIL AND FAREWELL.

James Aiken, after thirty-one years of continuous service, has sold the Redwood Gazette to Grove E. Wilson, a well known St. Paul newspaper man, and is resting after his labors, seeking recovery of shattered health in the mild climate of California.

The change is of more than passing interest, in itself and as exemplifying changes that are taking place constantly in all lines of business, when youthful vigor supplants tired age. Mr. Aiken has put in a generation of hard work in Redwood Falls, giving loyal service to his community and state, running a good newspaper and being a good citizen. The best wishes of the fraternity will go with him into his retirement, with the hope that it will be but temporary.

Good wishes, too, for abundant success in this new opportunity for usefulness, flow out to Mr. Wilson, who has been one of the most alert and most successful of city newspaper reporters. He goes to a mighty good town, and he has got a mighty good newspaper. Redwood Falls and the Gazette, too, have gained a mighty good man, and the combination ought to start something.

If America is sending citizens to Canada to stir up annexation sentiment there, it is remarkable that so admirable a stirrer-up as Representative Prince has been allowed to stay in this country.

Out of the effete East comes a declaration that a family of five can live comfortably on $600 a year. It seems pertinent to ask if that same amount would be expected to apply to leap year too.

THE OPEN COURT.

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest. Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

STRIKING PROOF OF SOCIALISM'S GROWTH.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The great May day demonstration by Duluth Socialists should furnish food for reflection.

When 2,000 men and women form in line and silently and solemnly, march three miles through a city's streets merely to show their faith in a great and growing cause, it must hold significance for those who are thoughtful.

What a tremendous protest against the evils of decaying capitalism, that long silent procession.

A dozen nationalities, many of whom could not even converse with each other, yet who understood each other perfectly, bound together by a common desire—the emancipation of the workers throughout the world, and displaying a bit of red—emblematic of the red blood that flows through the veins of all. Silently they march, with stern faces lifted, determined their cause shall live.

These are the hosts of labor, these are the champions of humanity, in such manner is the light diffused.

What other party can muster such strength at such a time?

Where were the noise, the excitement, the red fire and cheap cigars?

Did you see any intoxicated men in line? Not any, thank you. These people had a purpose. Each one felt his own responsibility for the success of the event and like a great magnet they drew recruits until 3,000 people sought admittance to Lincoln Park pavilion.

Where is the fellow who said Socialism was dying out?

Let him speak!

German Electric Lines.

New York Sun: Germany has taken the first step toward the electrification of her railroad system. The Prussian house of deputies has adopted the government proposals as contained in the estimates for the ministry of public works which embodied an appropriation of $12,500,000 as a first instalment for the electrification of several sections of the Prussian state lines.

There has been electric traction in one short section, however, between Bitterfeld and Dessau, a distance of seventeen miles, for some months past, where a mile a minute speed has been maintained, and the experience gained on that line has been so encouraging that the ministry of public works has assented to the proposal of its expert advisers to extend the process of electrification at once to the important Madgeburg-Leipsic section, eighty miles long, and to several lines in Silesia.

In all an installation for the transmission of current will have to be constructed along 720 miles of single rails. Apart from the main lines there are sidings and additional lines in or near station which involve an additional 240 miles. The work of preparing this aggregate distance of 960 miles of single rails for electric traction will be intrusted to several great electric firms and must be completed within two years. Germany will by 1913 thus enjoy the advantages of electric traction over 360 miles of main line.

The Prussian state railroads are not purely a commercial enterprise, inasmuch as strategic considerations are taken into account in constructing and managing them, so that the assent of the ministry of war was necessary before the process of electrification could be carried out. It is understood that the military experts hesitated at first, owing to the opinion entertained by some that it was easier for the enemy to interrupt traffic on an electrified line than on a steam railway, but the objections were withdrawn.

The Prussian ministry of public works intends to propose further electrification of the state lines as speedily as the money can be found for this purpose by the minister of finance and voted by the Prussian diet.

Training British Oarsmen.

That the training of British university athletes differs from that undergone by American students is proved by the following from the London Chronicle: "At Putney for the final few days before the race the crew are quartered together, and they can accept the hospitality of the neighborhood without interfering with the habits of training. For by this time these young men have achieved the habit of training, which has gone on almost continuously through two or three years, the habit of self control. For there is no compulsion upon the two crews that are in training for the Oxford and Cambridge race.

"Ever since they sat on their Greek lexicon and were sent to bed by the captain of the boats they have been on their honor. And when the oarsman reaches Putney he has only his youthful conscience, which tells him to live the proper life that has brought him through to this glorious end of a career that is just beginning.

"The professional trainer is not allowed by the college etiquette. But the young rowing man at Oxford is always in training. And he finds his finality in the freedom of the varsity oarsman who is trusted to train himself."

Editorial Staff Rejuvenated.

St. Louis Post-Dispatch: The publication of that fine old journal, the Congressional Record, has been resumed. Its staff of contributors has undergone several changes and the Record is expected to run a higher class of matter.

How Chewing Gum Is Gathered.

Harper's Weekly: In Yucatan the gathering of the chicle chewing gum is an industry that employs the services of considerable bands of natives known as "chicleros." They go into the deep forests, under experienced leaders, armed with heavy knives of special make and pails and ladies for the sap, and each one is provided with a strong rope, more than eighty feet long, to be used in climbing the lofty sapota trees from which the gum is procured. The sap flows from gashes cut in the bark. A camp of chicleros, where the sap is boiled, resembles in some respects an American maple sugar camp. After months of work the chicleros return from the forests laden with bricklike blocks of aromatic gum. The finest gum is collected from the fruit of the sapota, mostly by the native women, and it is said that it is seldom exported, because it is too well liked at home.

Regret Faces Hines.

New York World: "We put Lorimer over and it cost us a lot of money, but it is well worth it," Mr. Hines of Chicago is said to have boasted. But if the senate now puts Lorimer out instead of over, won't the money be regretted?

Minnesota's Lesson.

Milwaukee Free Press: Minnesota is learning that it is much easier to pass a law reducing railway rates than it is to enforce it.

They "Called the Colonel's Bluff."

During the Spanish-American war, soon after Andy Burt was made colonel of the Twenty-fifth colored regiment, the Housekeeper says, he informed his men, then at Chickamauga, that they must play ball half an hour every day in order to get hardened up.

"And while we are playing," he said, "remember that I am not Col. Burt, but simply Andy Burt."

During the first game the colonel lined out what was a sure home run. "Run, Andy, run, you tallow-faced, knock-kneed galoot," yelled a black soldier at the coaching line. The colonel stopped at first base, got another player to take his place, put on his uniform and announced:

"I am Col. Burt until further orders."

MINNESOTA OPINIONS.

Why They Oppose It.

St. Cloud Journal-Press: The placing of an export duty on flour between this country and Canada can hardly be of any benefit to American mills, as it shuts them out of the Canadian market. The American people will keep on using the flour made by American mills, and there is no duty on the home consumption of flour. The duty on most articles in the Canadian reciprocity agreement was for the benefit of the Dominion manufacturers and not for those on this side of the line, and that is why—and quite consistently—the American manufacturers are generally against the treaty.

May Be Not So Far Wrong.

Stillwater Gazette: Looks very much as if Frank Whittier, superintendent of the Red Wing training school would either be obliged to resign or be separated from his office by the governor. The latter is said to have written a letter to the board of control calling for the resignation of Mr. Whittier or his dismissal. Maybe in the due course of time it will be demonstrated that the superintendent wasn't so far wrong in his ideas of treatment as some people appear to think at this time.

Better Luck Two Years Hence.

Kanabec County Times: Reapportionment is dead for two years. Its temporary defeat may be attributed largely to the fact that the Southern Minnesota senators did not want to lose two years off their term of office, and the further fact that the brewers did not want to face another campaign for the election of state senators two years from now. These obstacles will be eliminated two years from now and Northern Minnesota may then reasonably hope for some kind of a reapportionment bill to pass.

Afraid of the People.

Kittson County Enterprise: Minnesota is now committed to the Oregon plan of electing United States senators by popular vote. The plan is condemned by exactly the persons who would be expected to condemn it and for reasons which everybody knows. Fearing to say that they are afraid of the people, they say that the people "can't be trusted." And the reason is that they know in their innermost hearts that the people have little reason to trust them.

Worth Remembering.

Pine River Blaze: While so much is being said in the country press favorable to the "progressives" of the Dr. Stone stripe, it will be well to remember that these same "progressives" were the very ones who took advantage of dilatory tactics throughout the session and made impossible the passage of important measures which were pending in both bodies of the legislature. The only really good bill passed was the "Bob" Dunn good roads bill, and on that they dared not balk. That was truly progressive legislation, yet Dunn himself, the author of the bill, was a "packed member of a packed committee" and one of the speaker's "kitchen cabinet."

Murdock's Opportunity.

Cass County Pioneer: "The Congressional Record is a deplorably dull daily newspaper," declares the Hon. Vic Murdock. Well, why not put a little bit of pepper into it, Victor?

Will Keep Its Grave Green.

Cass Lake Times: Meanwhile the people of Northern Minnesota have planted forget-me-nots and rue on the grave of the reapportionment bill which was so brutally murdered by the cowardly assassins of the legislature of 1911, and these same people will see that the grave is kept green.

After the Farmer Vote.

St. Cloud Times: Senator Nelson has presented a number of amendments to the Canadian reciprocity agreement, any one of which, if adopted, would defeat the agreement. The senator says they are in the interest of the farmer—yes, to enhance Farmer Nelson's chances for securing the farmer vote for re-election.

Where Does He Stand?

Cannon Falls Beacon: Can anyone tell by his leadership how the governor of Minnesota stands on popular election of senators, the initiative and referendum and recall, the extension of the primaries, the tonnage tax, the distance tariff and other matters in which the people of the state are vitally interested? Oh, for a Woodrow Wilson on Capitol Hill!

AFRAID OF THE PEOPLE.

Owatona Journal-Chronicle: Some of the old-time politicians are worrying much about the possibilities held forth by the Keefe bill which provides indirectly for the direct election of United States senators. According to this new law, voters may express their choice of candidates for United States senator. It is also provided that candidates for the legislature may sign pledges to vote for the candidate for senator who receives the largest popular choice vote; and as a matter of fact few candidates for the legislature would dare refuse to sign such a pledge. Thus it appears that the man whom the greatest number of voters indicate that they want for United States senator is pretty sure to be elected by the legislature.

This causes the old-timers to point out with horror that under this law it is possible that a Democrat be elected senator by a Republican legislature.

Well, what of it. He wouldn't be unless by the choice of the people, and are the people not the boss? The people have a right to a United States senator of the Democratic brand if they want him.

The basis of such arguments against such a law is the secret, only now-and-then revealed belief of the old-timers that the people can't be trusted to do the right thing and that the people's wishes must be juggled and twisted and side-tracked for the ideas of the few who alone are fit to judge.

There's where the old-timers are totally out of sympathy with modern political progress which believes in putting up to the people as directly and strongly as possible the vital things in government.

Of course it would be painful to a Republican legislature to have to elect a Democratic senator—as a Republican we kind of hate the idea ourself—but if a Republican legislature never does anything worse the commonwealth will be lucky.

For Texas Roads, $25,000,000

Dallas News: Some one—the National Good Roads association, we suppose—has ascertained that last year New York spent more than any other state in the improvement of its highways, the amount being $8,000,000. Texas is placed second by the same authority, its expenditures having been $7,000,000. In the matter of "projected expenditures" for the current year Texas is put decidedly first, the amount being fixed at $25,000,000, whereas no other state contemplates an expenditure of more than $9,000,000.

"A Live Oak."

One of the handsomest booklets advertising a newspaper that has come to this office is a thirty-odd page booklet about the New Orleans Item, entitled "A Live Oak." The significance of the title is clear to those who know the strength, beauty and usefulness of the Southern live oak, and its applicability is clear to those who know the Item. The Item, which is published by James M. Thomson, is the oldest afternoon paper published in New Orleans, yet its contents and methods are strictly modern and highly progressive. The booklet at hand tells about the Item and its various departments, giving good photographs of each and of the several chiefs, and liberally interspersed are terse paragraphs about New Orleans and Louisiana.

A Constructive Fourth.

Indianapolis News: "A constructive Fourth" does sound a little better than "A sane Fourth." As a matter of fact both are very nearly the same thing—or really are. The Milwaukee Journal is making a strong plea for the "constructive" type. It remarks:

"Such celebrations as those in Springfield, Mass., and Washington, D. C., have indicated the possibilities of the Fourth as a day both of quiet enjoyment to parents and happiness to the boys and girls. Pageants, games, concerts, dances, addresses, etc., give children far greater opportunities for 'doing things' than does the haphazard shooting off of firecrackers, and at the same time makes it possible to present to them vividly some of the reasons why they celebrate. In other words, such a program is constructive not destructive."

A constructive Fourth, however, needs construction, Madison, Wis., offers the suggestion of how to proceed in the work of laying the foundation. First a working organization of citizens; then, under its direction, meetings at which pictures—lantern slides are available—are shown of the pageants and other festivities in such celebrations at Boston, Washington, Springfield, Mass., and Ripon, Wis. These meetings are to be held in the public schoolhouses and are open to all. Following these visualizations of what constitutes a "constructive Fourth," each section of the city elects its members of a central working organization. Here is the formula for preparing the ground. Each city or community must then of course, work out its own details.

With this general formula goes also a "don't." That concerns cannon firecrackers. They, at least, are to be forbidden. A lurid touch may be provided on a community basis, in the form of a great night fireworks display.

It's Both Bird and Beast.

What is perhaps the long-sought missing link between quadrupeds and birds has just been brought here from Colombia, says the New York Evening Mail, and will be presented to some museum or zoological society.

The peculiar creature was captured in the mountains near Santa Marta by E. N. Squires, purser of the United Fruit company's steamship Zacapa. Mr. Squires has sent his valuable find to his home in New Jersey in a warm cage, as an equable temperature is essential to its life.

Similar in general aspect to the remarkable ornithorhynchus of Australia, which has a bill like a duck, although distinctively a quadruped, the creature taken by Mr. Squires is covered with a growth almost feather-like and brilliantly colored in red and green, shading to white on the under parts.

It is four-footed, looks something like a cross between a beaver and a badger, and emits a plaintive note when annoyed. It is about twenty inches long and half as high, while its movements have almost the agility of the wonderful mongoose. Mr. Squires came upon the animal unexpectedly while it was asleep. None of the natives had ever seen or heard of such an animal.

A Lesson in the Art.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: A local victim of street car pickpockets resolved to get even. He put in his pocketbook nothing but a slip of paper, on which was written:

"This is where you lose, fellow."

Then he climbed into a pay-enter car and waited. Twenty minutes passed and nothing happened. Twenty more minutes flitted by. The sleuth left the car then, having assured himself that his purse was safe. He repaired to a safe place and looked things over. There was a slip of paper, just as he had wrapped it up. But when he opened it, the thing had a new sentence on it. It said:

"Ain't you the kidder?"

FREE LIST ATTACKED

Hill of Connecticut Assails Democratic Tariff Measure.

Says It Would Drive American Industries to Other Countries.

Washington, May 5.—Not since the Republican guns were unlimbered against the Democratic free list bill by Minority Leader Mann over a week ago, has the debate in the house developed such an attack on the measure as was made yesterday afternoon by Representative Hill of Connecticut, a Republican member of the ways and means committee, and one of the leading Republican advocates of the Canadian reciprocity bill.

Mr. Hill said that the bill devised by the Democratic leaders, removing the tariff duties from many food products and manufactured articles, was so crudely drawn and so indefinite in its terms that no estimate could be made of the revenues it would cut off or the effect it would have on business and commerce. He declared that instead of $10,000,000 reduction in revenue, as the Democrats expected, it might make a reduction of $50,000,000, and that its effect upon business would be to transfer many flourishing industries to Europe.

As to the Trusts.

"You intended to halt the trusts," said Mr. Hill to the Democrats. "You will wake up to find you have helped the trusts; taken away the revenues of the government, and put the money into the pockets of the trusts instead of into the pockets of the people whom you claim to be helping."

Mr. Hill explained that the International Harvester company, the large sewing machine companies and other great manufacturers would be able, under the Democratic bill, to manufacture parts of their machines cheaply abroad, and bring them into this country to be assembled by cheap labor here. Mechanics and skilled labor would suffer loss of employment he said.

He declared that the Democratic bill was so general in terms as to admit almost anything free of duty. Woolen goods, all kinds of wire, all sorts of fabrics, zinc, lead, pig iron and a number of other things he specifically mentioned.

As to Free Manufactures.

Mr. Hill particularly attacked the bill for making many manufactured products free of duty, like shoes, harness, etc., while leaving a duty against the raw materials that American manufacturers have to import. He said also that in attempting to make free of duty the bagging used to wrap up cotton bales, the Democratic bill would let in free the bagging used by the fertilizer trust, the cement mills of the United States Steel corporation, and by other monopolies which would give no corresponding reduction in prices to consumers.

Chairman Underwood of the ways and means committee interjected that Mr. Hill's whole argument was from the standpoint of the American manufacturer, that its real purpose was "to reduce prices and cost of living for the American people."

Mr. Hill declared that the reductions would in almost every case be taken up by the big corporations that control the markets. The speech was enlivened by many interruptions and much partisan comment from both sides of the house.

POSTS DEBTORS' NAMES.

New York Saloon Keeper Finds Bulletin Board Plan Pays.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 5.—Joseph Miller, a local saloonkeeper found recently that some of his customers had neglected to pay their bills, and after trying ordinary means of collecting them he placed a bulletin board in his window and there posted the names of his debtors, their occupation and the amount due.

Whenever a man pays an account he is credited on the bulletin, so that the public may know just how well his scheme is working. Miller, who says he has collected half what is due him, has received a number of threatening letters, which he ignores.

FREE LANCE IN CONGRESS

Neither the Republicans Nor the Democrats Recognize Mr. Akin.

He Ran Independent and Overturned the Standpat Majority of 7,000.

Washington, May 5.—Representative Theron Akin of the Twenty-fifth New York district is known in Washington as "the man without a party." Judged by his course in the house and by the circumstances of his election last fall, Mr Akin is entitled to the distinction.

In classifying Mr. Akin as an "independent Democrat" the newspapers of the country have been in error. Even the official roll call issued by the house at the opening of the session fell into the same error, and Mr. Akin has been misrepresented up to the present time.

If any title could attach to Mr. Akin as a political designation it would be that he is an independent Republican, or insurgent. He gained the name of being a Democrat because the regular Republicans of his district accused him of bolting the party when he became an independent candidate. They called him a Democrat. But if there is any thing that Mr. Akin is not in politics, it is a Democrat.

Brought Up a Republican.

"I want you to say," Mr. Akin told a reporter today, "that I have been a Republican all my life. My father was one of the first Republicans in the country. He was what might be called a charater member of that party. I was elected by independent Republicans, Democrats, Socialists, Prohibitionists and members of the Independent League of my district, and every man who voted for me knew that I always had been a Republican.

"But they did not send me here to be a Republican. They sent me to Washington to vote in their interests, and not for any political party, and that is why I am staying out of all party caucuses."

Akin defeated Cyrus Durey, a Republican standpatter who was running for his third term and had been elected in 1908 by more than seven thousand majority. Here is the story of the dethronement of the standpat machine and the election of a man without a party from the Twenty-fifth New York:

How It Came About.

Mr. Akin lives at Akin, a village which is a suburb of Amsterdam. It was named for Mr. Akin's father, who had owned the land on which the village was built. Two or three years ago the town of Akin was incorporated under the village law of New York, and the residents decided it would be the handsome thing to elect as the town's first president the son of the man for whom the town was called. Mr. Akin was selected by a vote of 195 out of 200 votes cast at the election.

Mr. Akin owns a farm of fifty-six acres inside the limits of the city. He formerly was a dentist, but his father had been a large land holder in Iowa, and as a boy young Akin had been attracted to the country life. After ten years spent in the practice of dentistry he heard the call of the farm and went back to the soil in Iowa.

Got Insurgency In the West.

"I have bought cattle in Kansas City and shipped cattle to Kansas City a good many times," said Mr. Akin today, "and maybe I gathered my insurgency from the West."

Anyway, the farmer-president of Akin was a progressive and refused to do what the politicians wanted done.

One day he went to the county chairman and asked him to give a young man work in the construction of a canal.

"He had been a worthless young fellow," said Mr. Akin today, "but he was trying to reform and do something to help his old mother who was a cripple."

"I would like to do it," said the county chairman, "but you know that you have not been friendly to the organization," and the request was refused at first, but finally granted with the warning to Akin that "the boys" were objecting to the appointment.

Within three weeks the young man was discharged, and when Akin asked for a reason he was told that the man had been discharged for drunkenness. Akin investigated and found that there was no truth in the charge. That was the incident that sent Akin to congress. He raised such a row that he was called into a conference and told that if he would stop his fight the organization would send him to the legislature.

"You can't send me anywhere," retorted Akin. "I am going to congress on my own hook."

To the People Instead.

He was told that he could not be nominated.

"You'll never get into the convention," the bosses told him.

"I am not going to the convention," he told them. "I am going to the people."

And he did. He circulated petitions, and got his name on the ballot.

He made his fight without an organization of any kind. He had no committee, chairman, secretary or campaign manager. He traveled his district in a motor car and gave every voter a card bearing his platform, which contained these four short planks:

Opposed to the methods that have created the high cost of living.

For direct primaries and the parcels posts.

Qualified by forty years as a farmer to guard their interests.

Cannot be bought, sold or intimidated.

And Liver 14 cents.

That was all. On the reverse side was a little paster which read:

> Dr. Theron Akin. Foe of Bosses, Champion of Direct Primaries. Beef 28 cents a pound; Liver 14 cents; Wages $1.25 a day.

The Twenty-fifth New York district is the home of Lucius N. Littauer, of glove fame, who figured in the tariff session of two years ago. The district also joins that of Vice President Sherman. Sherman and Littauer took part in the campaign to defeat Akin. Saratoga Springs, where the Republicans hold their state conventions, is in his district. But Akin was elected by 231 majority. His home county gave him 1,200 majority.

"I have no party," said Mr. Akin today in talking to a correspondent, "but I have a progressive constituency which expect me to vote for it instead of any special interests, either commercial or political, and that is what I propose to do."

Akin voted for Cooper of Wisconsin for speaker and against the Canadian treaty. He will vote for the pending free list bill in the house.

Town to Give Silver Collar to Yellow Mongrel Dog.

New Haven, Conn., May 5.—A. S. Crosby of Orange, near this city, heard a plaintive whine on his porch one stormy night last winter, and when he opened the door a gust of wind-driven snow swept in a little yellow dog. Crosby could not resist the appeal in the eyes of the half-frozen animal. As his pedigree seemed obscure, Crosby called him Nit and gave him a home.

Saturday evening 4-year-old Chester Swartzenger, whose home is near Crosby's disappeared. By midnight several hundred men were searching for him. With lanterns they beat the woods, calling and shouting all night. There was no sign of the boy. At daylight another party took up the hunt. They skirted a swamp in the woods back of Orange, but none ventured into the bog, the theory being that if the child had wandered in there he had been swallowed hours before.

By Sunday afternoon hope of finding the boy was practically abandoned, but the pleas of the parents to make one more attempt before darkness set in induced the tired men to start out again. This time they were accompanied by Nit. When they got near the swamp Nit suddenly turned off in the direction of the bog. Crosby called him, but a yelp was the only answer. The party supposed the dog was after a rabbit and forgot about him.

Ten minutes later they heard Nit barking furiously. All but Crosby and a few others were inclined to pay no attention to his cries; he was only a mongrel and would bark at anything, they said. But Crosby felt certain that his pet was in earnest. Half a dozen men went to the swamp.

There, five feet from the edge, they saw the face of little Chester sticking up from the muddy ooze. He had been there nearly twenty-four hours and was slowly being drawn to his death. It took some time to release the child from the grip of the bog. He was unconscious when taken out. When he was revived he said he had shouted till he "went to sleep."

Now the town wants to give Nit a silver collar and medal as a testimonial.

WOMAN'S REALM.

Mayor M. B. Cullum spoke before the members of the Woman's council which met this morning at the library clubroom with Mrs. W. H. Burris presiding.

He spoke of a few plans in which he would like the co-operation and indorsement of the council, and of the public dance halls of the city which the members of the council have been investigating, in line with their amusement committee work.

He said that one point which he wished to emphasize particularly was the advisability of establishing a work farm not only for men but also for women who are brought in to the two jails of the city. He advocated some plan to help make these people more useful citizens by bringing into their lives in the jails uplifting influences.

He said the "small criminal" is devoid of viciousness and usually his trouble is because of whisky.

"My object in coming here this morning," he said, "is to impress upon you that I am willing and anxious to help to bring about the highest public mark and will help in any respect in any projects which you may take up, and will join most heartily in any feasible project. I am as willing to receive counsel and follow recommendations as to make them."

The council expressed its willingness to aid in the establishment of the work farm, to its best ability.

Playgrounds.

Mayor Cullum also spoke of the opening of the playgrounds this summer and said that the association had deemed it advisable to secure supervisors for each playground center, and it would also ask the aid of the council in this matter.

During the business session the playground committee reported on this point and stated that the Playground association would raise $1,000 for the securing of supervisors, and means of raising at least part of this were suggested, but the council decided to wait until next month before taking up this work definitely.

In connection with the work being done by the poor farm committee, Courtenay Dinwiddie, secretary of the Associated Charities, talked on the work which had been done in other institutions in giving the inmates something to do, and something to look forward to. He had visited the poor farm here and said he thought work of this kind might well be inaugurated here, especially among the cripples. He said that the county officials who are connected with this institution were very much in favor of it and steps will probably be taken soon to give light forms of employment to these old people.

He told of places where the inmates had been taught to make raffia baskets, mats and rugs, bead chains, and metal and wooden articles which were serviceable and saleable. The hearty indorsement of physicians, he said, had been given to this plan as it benefited the people in a physical, mental and moral way. In one sale from one ward over $400 was raised for the makers of the articles.

The chairman of this committee reported a visit to the poorfarm and asked for more donations for the comfort of the people there. She said people might give playing cards, games, chairs and that fruits, too, were especially welcome. There are several wards and she said any one sending fruit ought to designate what ward it is meant for.

She told of one old woman, over 80 years of age, who is very thin and helpless, bedridden, and who is still always cheerful. Her only complaint is that her mattress is hard. If any one has a soft mattress for a single bed which she can send out it would be very much appreciated, she said.

The Dance Halls.

The amusement committee, which has been investigating the places of amusement in the city, particularly the dance halls, reported the most pleasant cooperation from all the managers of these places and stated that there did not seem to be any really grave conditions to be met with in any of them. She spoke of a few conditions which had been bettered through their suggestions, and in Mayor Cullum's talk he said that he had been watching these places for the past year and that he had never had bad reports from his officers.

He said that he felt dancing could not be done away with and that the only thing which could be done would be to keep the surroundings as good as possible for young people who were fond of dancing.

It was suggested that the curfew law should be enforced and the committee decided to investigate this question and see what could be done along this line also.

SISTER DIVIDES FORTUNE WITH HER

MRS. BURKE ROCHE.

By the will of Frank Worth which was filed for probate in New York, Mrs. Frances Ellen Burke Roche Batonyi received no definite legacy, but is restricted to such allowance as the executors may make. But it is reported that a friendly arrangement would be made under which the will would be ignored and Mrs. Burke-Roche and her sister, Mrs. Peter Cooper-Hewitt, divide the entire estate, the value of which, is many millions. Mrs. Roche's sons, Maurice Edmond Burke-Roche and Frank George Burke-Roche, must become American citizens, take the name of Worth and keep a permanent legal residence in the United States to share in the estate.

ANNIVERSARY.

Y. W. C. A. Celebrates Second Year in New Building.

The Young Women's Christian association is celebrating this month the second anniversary of the opening of the local association building on Second avenue west and Second street and a special program will be arranged later in the month on this account.

Miss Nettie E. Trimble of Minneapolis, city secretary for the North Central territory, of which the Duluth association is a part, will be in Duluth, a guest of the local association, from May 13 to May 17, and during her visit the celebrations will probably be planned.

Vesper Services.

Miss Ada Campbell will speak at the vesper services at the Young Women's Christian association Sunday afternoon. She will give a report on some of the work done at the convention in Indianapolis last week.

The meeting will open at 4 o'clock and all members and friends interested are invited.

"SAN SOFIA."

Prof. Seymour Gives Interesting Historical Lecture.

Prof. Seymour gave his lecture on "San Sofia" last evening at the auditorium of the Central high school with his usual vividness.

The work of Constantine was outlined by him, particularly the work of the building of San Sofia by him and its rebuilding by Constantine II, its destruction by fire twice and the erecting by Justinian of one of the most magnificent churches on earth and probably the most costly. He described the decorations, told of the coming of the messengers of Mohammed announcing his ministry and the two invasions by the Arabians of envoys sent by the chief of the Russians in the tenth century to find the true religion, how they were convinced by services of San Sofia that they had found it, which resulted in the adoption by all the Russians of the doctrine of the Eastern church. He told of the strife with the church of Rome, the passing of the Greek empire and the capture of Constantinople.

"CHANTECLER."

Dr. Rubinkam Delivers Special Lecture on Rostand's Drama.

Dr. Rubinkam gave his lecture on Rostand's drama, "Chantecler," last evening at the Commercial club before a large audience of men and women.

He opened with a pleasing description of their home and life of the poet and the conditions under which his masterpiece was produced.

In regard to the play he said: "The drama 'Chantecler,' is not a philosophy of the farmyard; it is a satire on present day society. It is a French dramatic epic. Chantecler, the Hen pheasant, the Blackbird and all the multitudinous fowls and animals, large and small, in the play are the models of humans not only in Paris, but in New York, Chicago and Duluth. You may see Rostand's farmyard any day in Chicago on State street and Michigan avenue or on many corners in your city.

"The nightbirds, the owls, and toads infest our saloons and dives. They hate those who make the world go and conspire against those who sing the world's songs.

"The drama is rooted in human nature itself and not in the nature of fowls and animals.

"In the play Chantecler is the world's idealist—in many of the phases of his personality, he suggests to us Faust, who is a symbol of the typical idealist, beset with weaknesses and illusions. On the other hand the Blackbird who is the cynic, a doubter, the jester of the play, suggests a sort of Mephistophiles. He sneers at the cock's idealism and illusions and sports over his self importance and egoism. The turkey says of him, 'Our Blackbird forces you to think while obliging you to laugh. He is a teacher in wit's clothing.

"The Hen phesant is the eternal woman.

"Chantecler," he continued," in human society is the illustrious personage; the man everybody knows about; the man whose portrait has become famous to everybody through the newspapers, whether in the world of politics, or the world of finance, of art, literature or science. He is the cock of the walk. You must displace from mind the rooster and the feathered tribe. The play reads better than it appears on the stage because you must always get rid of the animal forms which hinder the imagination.

"Rostand's drama is the masterpiece of the present decade. It presents the idealist, as he goes through our motley world. He has his fights and his social demands which are so distasteful to him. He has his illusion that his crow makes the sun rise and when he is disillusioned he remains optimistic. He sings on though his song does not make the dawn appear. He triumphs because his ideal is light and his dream is beauty."

Dr. Rubinkam will lecture again Saturday evening at the same place on Puccini's grand opera, "Madam Butterfly," with vocal and instrumental illustrations supplied by Prof. Horace W. Reyner, making this distinctively a musical evening.

Hip-Reducing Exercises

By CONSTANCE CARRUTHERS.

It is not surprising that people who have big hips are wondering how to reduce them, as the style of dress is meant for those women whose figures are what one might describe as "straight up and down." Hips of any size whatever are, therefore, quite out of the question when one is determined to wear fashionable attire.

A preliminary exercise (which is intended particularly to loosen the muscles) is the following:

Place your feet together, then bend first one knee and then the other, keeping the unbent knee quite stiff. This exercise should be done as rapidly as possible, and should be kept up about five minutes, or until you are tired.

Then rub your hips vigorously up and down with your hands, until the flesh is in a glow. Knead it well, too. This all helps to get the muscles into a fit state for subsequent exercises.

The first exercise proper is as follows:

Place the heels together, raise your right arm high above your head, and let the hand fall over your left ear.

Bend your head, also your body at the waist line, to the left, and stretch your left arm down as far as possible, the right arm being still over your head.

The knees must be kept quite stiff all the time. Repeat to the right side, and do it alternately from ten to twenty times each morning.

Again place your feet together, keeping your knees straight.

Now bend your body forward from the waist, and slowly turn it first to the left, then to the front again, and round to the right. Repeat about twenty times, then hold your body erect again. Next bend it backwards slowly, then bring it up to an erect position and repeat till your back begins to ache.

Here is another exercise which looks slightly more complicated, but it is in reality just as simple as the rest:

Place your left heel at right angles to the instep of the right foot, then take a long step backwards with the right foot, keeping the leg straight.

Now bend the left knee, and also bend your body from the waist as far as possible towards the left side. Then bend it backwards without changing the position of the legs or straightening the knee. Repeat several times, and come slowly back to position.

Reverse the exercise, bending the body towards the right side. At first you will find this exercise somewhat of a strain, so be careful not to repeat it too often, until you feel you can do it easily.

The Millionaire's Daughter

By MARGARET WATTS DE PEYSTER.

The millionaire's daughter is described as being tall, slight, with an ivory complexion, and she has abundant hair of a deep, dull brown, dressed always in the latest mode. Her every movement is grace itself; each toilette she wears is more beautiful and probably more costly than the other.

When she speaks the words that fall from her lips are golden; when she has nothing to say her silence is fraught with mystery and is full of interest to those who admire her. She may be a product of the fancy; it is just possible.

She is the type of the wonderful young daughter of the American multimillionaire as depicted by her countrymen. It has been freely stated that fully $50,000 is spent annually on one of those dainty blossoms, or "buds" as they are popularly called, ere she reaches the state of perfection that makes her parents feel justified in introducing her to a critical society.

Every talent possessed by the American girl is carefully cultivated from the moment when she begins to show the first promise. If she has a voice, the best teachers are engaged for her as soon as lessons are possible. She goes to Italy or Paris under the care of a chaperon, whose duties form no sinecure, and whose salary is in proportion to the care and interest in her ward expected from her. A maid is sent in attendance on the young lady and she is surrounded by the retinue due her position.

It is small wonder that the American girl, daughter of a multi-millionaire, is highly cultured. Authorities in art have taught her how to understand pictures and if she cannot always paint, she can talk intelligently, if not intellectually, about the great masters of the past and their works.

She has seen world-famous pictures in the galleries of Europe; she has also visited exhibitions of modern works, so that she can compare and even criticize.

If she dances she does it well. Motoring is a favorite pastime with some of these young ladies, others go in for fencing, yachting, sport in almost every form is patronized by them.

a long gash lay across three fingers. He watched the running blood passively, with no thought of binding the hurt. The forest was spinning like a wheel in the sun, and the men moved like shadows upon mist, huge and distorted. "Senor, senor! It is dead! Look!"

Shuddering, Warton leaned over the arm of the chair. The snake's body severed cleanly from the head, still beat the earth with a ghastly suggestion of life.

"What I feared," said Petro, cheerfully, as he cleaned his knife, "was that the head should fall on your hand, senor. Praise the saints it did not!"

"Petro!" said Warton, helplessly. "Petro!" Love, loyalty, sacrifice looked for a moment from Petro's black eyes as he watched his senor's face. With an indescribably swift movement he leaned forward and touched the young man's unsteady hand.

"I have hurt you," he said with a little sob. "I have hurt you! I am sorry, sorry—"

"Petro!" said young Warton again, shakily, "Petro!"

For a minute they looked at each other—the senor and the little savage. Then Petro rose, shrugged his shoulders, and swaggered to the edge of the verandah under the fairy sprays of flowers.

"Hello friends!" he shouted. "Do you hear me? Bring a cool drink to our master! And run swiftly!"

PAY TAXES IN KIND.

London Globe: The natives of the Congo pay their taxes in kind, as might be expected in a territory just beginning to be civilized. The value of domestic animals in that country is such that one wishes it were nearer London, in view of the high price of meat here. A bullock is valued at about 19s. 6d., a cow £2 2s., a horse £3 15s., a sheep is 3d. The camel commands the highest price, viz: £4.

The custom of payment in kind is not so remote as most persons would think. The reverend the late Prof. Flint of Edinburgh, we know, has stated that during the time he was professor of moral philosophy in St. Andrews he was accustomed to receive part of the emoluments of his chair in kind from the farms belonging to the university. This would be prior to 1876, in which year he was translated to Edinburgh.

Shuddering, Warton leaned over the arm of the chair. The snake's body severed cleanly from the head, still beat the earth with a ghastly suggestion of life.

"What I feared," said Petro, cheerfully, as he cleaned his knife, "was that the head should fall on your hand, senor. Praise the saints it did not!"

"Petro!" said Warton, helplessly. "Petro!" Love, loyalty, sacrifice looked for a moment from Petro's black eyes as he watched his senor's face. With an indescribably swift movement he leaned forward and touched the young man's unsteady hand.

THE EVENING STORY

LOVE'S TOKEN

By Arthur Angrave.

In a shady corner of the veranda of his bungalow the orchid collector lay back on his lounge chair, fever and quinine chasing each other in waves up and down his spine. The Indian sun beat down on the parched land in all its brilliant, fiery grandeur; the forest was nothing but a blur of green and gold and crimson, running like an unrolled ribbon round the collector's little clearing; on his broad verandas the men were at work packing the precious orchids in crates of twigs and rawhide.

They represented reeking months of killing, racking toil, those orchids, but Warton was content to pay the price. He had found a new species. Behind his eyelids he dreamed of a tiny white label which should make him immortal.

Meanwhile the quinine roared in his ears like a waterfall, and the anxious group in front of him grew huge as figures in a fog, and then dwindled and shrank small as monkeys.

Petro, his boy attendant, squatted obediently in the shadow of the orchids that hung drying from the roof, each bound to its piece of bark or lump of moss. Petro was all Indian, except for the soft light in the great black Spanish eyes which stared immovably at the senor in the long chair.

The great reeking, blazing world was very still. Petro sat very still also. The Indian melancholy was upon him. That fat Pedros had overcome, disgraced, humiliated him. During that long journey from his home by the river, a mile behind his brother—whom he had surreptitiously followed in his ardent desire to serve the senor, and for which Pedros had beaten him—if he was frightened by thoughts of snakes and jaguars, he handled the big cigar, and felt himself a man.

Now he had not the heart even to look at it. He was only a bad boy, who would help the cook for his keep. He did not want to help the cook. He wanted to hunt flowers for the mad, but illustrious Warton, among wild forests full of ghosts, demons, savages with blowpipes and buried cities of gold.

The senor also was very still. He lay half asleep in the rough chair, the lines of his worn young face showing sharp in the shadow. Petro saw in him a leader to live and die for. And, instead, he was to scrape pannikins for a few days, and then be sent back in disgrace to his home. It was not to be endured!

The unmeasured moments passed. Above, some of the orchids still swayed long racemes of blossom, purple, white and living gold, crimson the color of blood and pink the color of dawn. One, fluttering wings of pale lilac, had a heart of coral, red as a flame.

The blazing ball of the sun was dropping towards the forest, and a long beam shone upon the orchids. The coral heart of the lilac cypripedium seemed to move, to grow in the golden light. It opened, lengthened, became like a ribbon of flame swinging in the hot air.

The light, living weight fell to young Warton's shoulder, writhed down his arm, and lay upon his open, extended hand. With one great shock of fear he awoke, but his trained nerves did not betray him. Even his hand remained motionless.

At first he could see nothing through the fogs of quinine and fever. Then his senses became abnormally clear. He saw his own arm lying along the arm of the chair, stretching out, apparently, to an impossible length, and a small snake lying in the upturned palm. No need to look at the fiery coral red, at the yellow checkerwork along the back. Young Warton knew that he held in his hand one of the most dreadful deaths known to man.

The whole world seemed very still. Warton heard nothing but the pound of his own over driven heart, saw nothing but the little length of flaring color coiled sluggishly in the curve of his palm.

Before that danger sign of red and yellow every beast and bird gives place. In his trade he faced death hourly in steaming swamp and rotting jungle. But this—this was too sudden, too horrible! He was in deadly fear lest he should shudder, and irritate the gorgeous thing. His one chance lay in remaining motionless. He began calling, scarcely above his breath:

"Antonio! Antonio!"

Old Antonio was the one most likely to keep his wits at such a time, but he was far out of hearing. Warton could see the others, working over the crates, rising, stooping, bending with the slow regularity of machines. The snake, angry from its fall, still swayed its blunt head restlessly, and might strike at a sound. He dared not call aloud.

The orchids swayed softly in the hot wind. Warton was sick with fear lest his fingers should twitch; they were growing cold and stiff under that little clammy weight. One moment his hand was a mile away from him; the next the uneasy coral red coil was close to his face. And he dared not call.

"If you keep still"— a voice in his brain seemed to be very calmly telling him what he must do—"if you keep still it may go to sleep, and you'll have a chance of slinging it on the floor. Keep still, keep still."

And then his face grew wet and cold, and he groaned. For he knew that in a minute he would not be able to keep still; his fever-wrecked nerves would not obey his will.

"Keep still, senor. Senor, keep still. I am coming."

Young Warton moved his eyes—he dared not move his head—and saw Petro moving toward him across the sun and shadow of the beaten earth floor, crawling without a sound. Under the coppery skin the lithe young muscles rippled and shone; he carried a big knife bare in one brown hand. And Warton felt a light headed sort of wonder as to where the boy could have concealed it in his abbreviated garments.

"Sit still, senor, and do not be frightened. I am here."

Such splendid assurance! Warton caught back his breaking will power with a swift gasp. He set his teeth desperately to control the shivers that threatened to shake him from head to foot. "Be quick, Petro!" he breathed. "Be quick!"

Petro nodded, rising with infinite caution to his knees, the broad knife poised in his hand. "Keep still, senor," he said again, "keep still and do not start. I shall not fail."

Warton shut his eyes, and with an infinite effort held himself rigid, flattening his fingers under the snake. Disturbed, it reared higher. Warton felt the movement and his heart drove in painful throbs. "Petro, be quick! Be quick!" He thought he spoke aloud, but he did not.

The buzzing flash of steel grazed his shirt. Something stung his fingers. There was a whistle, a slap, and a thud. Dully he opened his eyes, staring at his hand. It was empty, and

MURDERER KILLS SELF

Werner Barlund Murders Girl Who Refused Him, Then Takes Own Life.

Double Tragedy Enacted Near Moose Lake, in Northern St. Louis County.

Virginia, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The law will never have to proceed further in the case of Werner Barlund, who shot and killed Matilda Helmien on the shore of Moose lake, near Cook, and about thirty miles north of Virginia, yesterday afternoon, as he anticipated justice and shot himself. His body, with a hole through the head, indicating suicide, was found not far from where he killed the girl. The discovery of the second crime was made by Deputy Sheriff Andrew Mollan of this city, who went to Moose lake yesterday evening upon being advised of the killing of the woman.

Barlund's Love Spurned.

From all that can be learned of the affair here, Barlund killed the woman, who was about 23, and who lived with her widowed mother upon a homestead, near the lake, because she refused to become his wife. Barlund, who was about 35, and a farm hand, once served ninety days in the county jail at Duluth for making an assault upon the girl's mother. This was in August last year. In November of the same year he was brought into court here on a charge preferred by the young woman he killed yesterday. The complaining witness at that time testified he wanted her to marry him, but she declined and wanted nothing more to do with him. The jury disagreed and Barlund was released.

It is presumed he visited the Helmien home again yesterday and renewed his offer of marriage. Maddened at being repulsed he shot the woman and then fled, killing himself to cheat the law. So far as known no one witnessed the murder, the report being the two had left the Helmein homestead and were walking about the lake when the murder was committed.

Deputy Coroner Crowe will conduct an inquest into both deaths, the bodies being brought here.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. R. McLean, who secured the contract for the construction of the retaining wall at the rear of the courthouse, has started work. The surveying of the ground is being done by John A. Brown. Piling has been delivered on the ground for the base of the wall by Charles Brock.

At a meeting of the village council held Thursday evening the contract for the construction of a thirty-five foot stone culvert on Sleeper avenue between the Great Northern tracks and Third street, was let to C. Hibbing Man Runs Afoul Officers and Pays $216 for Experience.

Hibbing, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The municipal court imposed the heaviest fine in a long time yesterday afternoon when Frank Delinar was mulcted of $216.75. In the morning Delinar was fined $100, and costs for taking a sum of $89 from a girl by the name of Anna Legar. The court also made the man reimburse the complainant with the $89.

After taking the money for the first fine the police officer read a another warrant for his arrest charging him with resisting a police officer, and trying to evade arrest, and he was immediately rearrested and taken back to the jail.

He was again brought up and assessed with another $100, fine and costs, and last night he again paid his fine and was given his liberty.

CLOQUET FIRM GETS CONTRACT

Redfield & Colburn Will Build New Cohasset Schoolhouse for $23,110.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The contract for the construction of the new school house at Cohasset was let here last night to Redfield & Colburn of Cloquet, for $23,110. The bids were opened at a meeting held last week, but all were found to be too high except two, and these two were given an opportunity of taking the job after some alterations had been made in the plans, the bids being $23,110 by the Redfield & Colburn people, as against $23,195 by Hegstrom Bros. of Minneapolis.

Charles Brock was awarded the contract for moving the old Cohasset school building onto one corner of the block on which the building now sets. As soon as the new building is completed the old building will be offered for sale. Mr. Brock has started with the work of moving, and has the work well along.

CLAIM IRWIN HAS PROVED RECREANT

Two Harbors Socialist Local Wants Member of City Council Ousted.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Following a stormy session the Socialist local last night adopted a resolution calling upon the city council to oust Alderman H. J. Irwin, who was elected as a Socialist but who the Socialists claim always voted with the non-Socialists in the council, therefore beating Socialist control of that body, the council standing 4 to 3, Socialist.

It is claimed, as stated in former dispatches to The Herald, that Irwin has strayed away from Socialism and is not following the tenets of the faith, therefore he should be separated from the $1 per night members of the city council draw for running the city. Like the other Socialists, when he took office, Irwin agreed in writing he would give up the office whenever his party believed he should be recalled.

Irwin on the contrary, claims he has always acted in the interest of the administration of the affairs of the city on a business basis, therefore he should not resign. A stormy time is expected in the council when the resolution adopted by the Socialists last night is presented.

POSTAL BANK IS EVELETH'S WISH

Commercial Club Starts Movement Towards Securing Such Concern.

Eveleth, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Secretary John P. Treddinnick of the Commercial club last evening was instructed to write the postal authorities urging the establishment of a postal savings bank at Eveleth. Congressman Miller will also be requested to aid in having the bank established. Mayor Saari presented a petition from thirty residents of the town of Colvin, township 56-15, who are very desirous of being connected with the Miller Trunk road.

Greening were appointed to make arrangements for the observance of Memorial day, and to confer with Mayor Saari requesting him to issue a proclamation ordering the local business places to remain closed during the time of the entertainment which will be held at the high school.

HIBBING HAS ANOTHER FIRE

Department Called Out Thursday Night to Scene of Morning Blaze.

Hibbing, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The second fire in twenty-four hours occurred last night when the department was called to the Close warehouse.

The same building was on fire yesterday morning when the Hibbing Lumber company's coal shed and the Fitger company's beerhouse were damaged.

The building used as a warehouse, contained boxes, cases, mattresses and furniture. Both stories were burning fiercely and the men had a very hard time fighting the flames. Several times an adjoining building caught fire.

The origin of the fire is a mystery as the owner was on the premises at 6 o'clock in the evening. Although the same building was afire earlier in the day, having caught from the burning embers of the beerhouse roof and coal shed, yet the chief believes the fire could not possibly have been started from that source.

GILBERT OFFERS BASTILE FOR SALE

Range Village to Sell Jail Because of Insanitary Condition.

Gilbert, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The village council has passed a resolution to advertise the village jail for sale and also the two lots occupied by the same. In doing this the council is acting on the advice of the state board of control who have condemned the jail and suggested a change of site. The salary of the chairman of the board of health was placed at $31.50 per month.

Owing to the fact that the plans and specifications for the new sewer system were not completed the date for opening the bids was extended to May 29.

It was decided to ask the school board of school district No. 18, for $5,000 as their share of expense in installing the new sewer system.

The water and light commission has served notice on the consumers of these commodities that hereafter the bills will be paid at the First State bank. Heretofore a collector has been employed. If bills are not paid by the 10th of each month the water and light will be cut off and any one connecting same without paying will be fined $10.

It was stipulated that Kinsella should repay Olson the loans and interest within ninety days and this the county attorney agreed to do.

FAIR

The lowest temperature in Duluth last night was 50 deg. Did you jump that closely? Fifty deg.! My word, but that looks good after the frigid depths to which the mercury has been sinking nightly since along in last October or thereabouts. Turn the spring poets and the spring fever germs and all other harbingers of spring loose, for spring has really come. Continued fair weather and unchanged temperatures are on the weather man's cards for tonight and tomorrow.

Fair but chilly weather prevailed a year ago today.

The sun rose this morning at 4:45 and it will set at 7:23 this evening, giving fourteen hours and thirty-eight minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Light rains fell over Kansas, Oklahoma, Florida, California, Oregon and Washington during the last twenty-four hours. With these exceptions dry weather continued the rule. Temperatures continued to rise over most northern districts of the Rocky mountains, but frosts or freezing temperatures occurred again last night in Wisconsin, Iowa, Michigan, Indiana and Ohio. Generally fair weather and moderate temperature will probably continue at the Head of the Lakes during the ensuing thirty-six hours."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, May 5.—Forecasts for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Saturday:

Upper Michigan—Fair tonight and Saturday; warmer in extreme east and south portions tonight.

Wisconsin—Fair tonight and Saturday; slowly rising temperature; light frost tonight.

Minnesota—Fair tonight and probably Saturday; warmer in south and west portions tonight.

Iowa—Fair tonight and probably Saturday; slightly warmer tonight.

North Dakota—Generally fair tonight and Saturday.

South Dakota—Generally fair tonight and Saturday; warmer tonight.

Montana—Generally fair in east and central portions; showers in west portion tonight or Saturday.

Green Room Gossip.

The Maude Leone Associate Players will return to the Lyceum for a week's engagement, beginning Sunday evening. They will open in the comedy drama, "The Triumph of Betty," in which Adelaide Thurston, the Duluth actress, scored one of her biggest successes. The play will continue all of next week, with a matinee Sunday, Wednesday and Saturday.

"Monkeys are like human beings who entirely lack the quality of self-control," said Prof. Galletti, who is at the Orpheum this week with his band of trained monkeys.

"A monkey is subject to jealousy, rage, mirth and all the emotions and passions of a human being, and it never seeks to control those emotions. A human being controls his emotions, and the more developed mentally he is, the greater his power of self-control. The monkey lacks self-control entirely. If he is angry, he promptly flies into a fit of rage, and chatters, bites and scratches. Monkeys are very jealous creatures. I have one animal in the troupe which becomes enraged every time it sees my wife, Mignonette Kokin, who is also on this week's bill. The monkey flies at her in a rage, when she approaches, and one night the monkey attacked her on the stage in a New York theater, tearing her dress and biting her before being recaptured. It created a great sensation in the audience. They are very intelligent animals, but need very careful handling, both from a physical and mental standpoint, for they are very delicate, being subject to the diseases of mankind, and their nervous, irritable temperaments make them hard to handle."

The majority of theatergoers who see the breezy, little, comedy sketch, "Hogan in Society," which is being presented at the Empress this week imagine that the plot of this sketch is nothing more than the product of the imagination of some successful sketch writer. This is not the case, however, "Hogan in Society" is taken from real life. This laughable little playlet is from the pen of Bert Leslie, the famous slang writer. Mr. Leslie gets the material for most of his writings by visiting the Bowery in New York. While in search of material, Mr. Leslie dropped into a Bowery saloon one morning and overheard a bartender telling of the experience he had after taking a well-known clubman, who had been out slumming, to his home. This gave Mr. Leslie the idea he was searching for and he returned to his office and wrote the sketch, "Hogan in Society." In the course of the sketch, Mr. Leslie has introduced a great many of the slang phrases used by the bartender and the result is laughable in the extreme. Mr. Roland, who presents the leading role, Hogan, is known all over the country as the "King of Hicks" and has made a specialty of this sort of character work. "Hogan in Society" has been voted one of the best comedy sketches that has ever been presented at the Empress and is delighting large audiences at every performance.

There is an amusing little comedy film at the Odeum this week, which shows the value of outdoor exercise to a young woman.

Mary, an orphan, comes to live with her aunt. Being in rather poor health, and what some might call homely, the poor girl despairs of ever receiving any attention either from her pretty cousins or their gentlemen friends. One of the cousins, however, who is an athletic girl, takes her in hand. The first dose of medicine is a bout at boxing, then a run along the country road, followed by a cold plunge. This is kept up daily for two months, at the end of which time no one would know Mary, such a transformation having taken place. The other girls are now in fearful dread of losing their sweethearts, as they seem too well pleased with the result.

EXPERIMENTS WITH FLAXSEED

Duluth Man Will Compare Results From Different Kinds of Seed.

The federal government has taken notice of the decreasing flaxseed acreage in the Northwest and is about to take steps to prevent a continued slump in the production of that grain.

The Herald market editor has been asked by the government to write a monograph on flaxseed for distribution to farmers, paint and linseed oil people, after he has experimented with seed from India, Russia, the Argentina Republic and the Northwestern states sent him by the government. He will sow the seed on a small plot of land within the city limits and will note the growth and development of each variety.

The government is trying to find out what kind of seed can be best grown in the Northwest and will spread broadcast the monograph which the Duluth man will write concerning his experiments.

STEEL TRUST BUYS PACIFIC COAST PLANT.

San Francisco, Cal., May 5.—The sale of the Risdon Iron & Locomotive works of San Francisco to the United States Steel corporation, reported here last week, was confirmed yesterday by the recording of the deeds for the transfer of the property, at a price said to be approximately $2,000,000. It was announced by representatives of the corporation in San Francisco that eventually a plant would be built second only in size to the works in Gary, Ind.

GRAFT CASE IN OHIO CITY ENDS IN ACQUITTAL.

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 5.—On the recommendation of Denis Cash, first assistant prosecuting attorney of Hamilton county, Judge Charles J. Hunt late yesterday instructed a jury to acquit J. H. Sundmaker, director of public service of Cincinnati, who had been on trial all week on charges that he had permitted the use of inferior cement in certain paving work.

DIVINITY STUDENT IS NOT GUILTY OF MURDER.

Olathe, Kan., May 5.—Upon the order of Judge J. O. Rankin, a jury in the district court here tonight found Karl M. Bickel, a young divinity student of Kansas City, Mo., not guilty of killing his sweetheart, Miss Frances Peters. The defense introduced no testimony. All the important witnesses for the state were absent when the case was called.

Bickel does not expect to enter the ministry now. He is a printer by trade.

Miss Peters and Bickel went to a hotel here on the night of Sept. 1 last and registered as husband and wife. The girl used some medicine Bickel purchased for her and on Sept. 13 she died of blood poisoning. Bickel was charged with first degree murder.

STEEL MEN TALK OF WORKING CONDITIONS.

New York, May 5.—Laboring men will know in a short time further details of the employers' attitude toward improved working conditions as expressed by prominent men in the steel trade. E. H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the United States Steel corporation, gave a private dinner at the Waldorf last night to eighty men connected with the corporation, at which the welfare of the workingmen recently discussed by the American Iron and Steel institute was gone over in detail. An official stenographer took down the talks, Mr. Gary explained afterwards, so that a report of them may be made public in a few days.

Broadly speaking, the steel men discussed shorter working hours, holidays, higher wages and improved sanitary conditions.

MANY SITES ARE OFFERED

Agricultural Experts Have Twelve Locations for School to Choose From.

Final Choice Rests With the Board of Regents of University.

Prof. Andrew Boss, professor of agriculture and farm management, and Prof. Thomas P. Cooper, assistant professor of farm management and director of demonstration farms, of the state agricultural school, are in Duluth today looking over the proposed sites for the demonstration farm provided for at the last session of the legislature.

The visiting experts will eliminate as many of the sites as can be eliminated for lack of some of the requirements. The others will be reported on as to accessibility and soil and, if a soil survey is judged to be necessary, a recommendation that soil experts be sent to Duluth will be made. The disposition on the part of the board of regents and Dean Woods of the agricultural school is to select the site as soon as possible and get the farm laid out.

"Accessibility is probably the most important requirement to be kept in mind in selecting the site and with accessibility, soil as nearly typical of the region as possible must be obtained," said Prof. Boss this morning. "We can not hope to get a farm that will have soil typical of every kind of soil in St. Louis county, but we hope to get soil suitable for demonstration purposes as related to St. Louis county. "We hope to make the institution here not only a school and a farm to demonstrate what can be grown in St. Louis county, but also a farm that will demonstrate that scientific farming can be not only successful in point of production, but that it can be made to pay on a large scale in this county. This will be a model farm and a model farm school and the agricultural school faculty is greatly interested in it."

Twelve sites have been offered for the consideration of the state school authorities. The general locations are: North of Knife River, at Lakewood, north of Lakewood, northeast of Lakewood, north of Woodland, between Highland and the poor farm, near Proctor in Hermantown, nead Grand Lake, west of Adolph between the D. M. & N. and Canadian Northern tracks, near Munger, west of Calvary cemetery and in Hermantown.

The final selection of the site rests with the board of regents of the state university, but the recommendation of Dean Woods will undoubtedly be approved by the agricultural committee of the board of regents and the whole board, in turn. Although Dean Woods is anxious to select the site and get the work started as soon as possible, enough time will be taken for careful consideration of all sites submitted and when a site is settled upon, it will be the site which the best judgment of all those concerned considers the best site that could be obtained.

MONEY FOR REPAIR WORK

County Board Spends Greater Part of Session Discussing Roads.

Superintendent of Schools and Treasurer Get Extra Office Help.

The time of the county board, which met this morning in the board room at the courthouse, was taken up mostly with routine business.

There were the usual road petitions, petitions for liquor licenses, bids for clearing roads, applications for positions with the county, and other routine business which included the visiting of several delegations from the country districts who asked for roads. A part of the morning was taken up by the visitors who spoke of the need of roads in their respective districts.

Out of the special road fund it was decided to expend $1,000 on the Sundby road; $1,500 on the North Shore road; $1,500 on the East Duluth and Lester River road; $160 on Calvary road; $200 on the Howard-Gnesen road; $400 on the Rice Lake road, and $2,000 on the old Vermilion road. These roads are in fair shape, it is said, but they need improvements in order that they may be kept in good repair.

Neal McInnis, chairman of the board, invited the other members of the board, the county officials and the general public to be at Virginia tomorrow when the new district court building will be formally turned over to the county.

The range officials are today moving into the new building. Several petitions for supplies were received and granted by the board. Judge Dancer will hold court at Virginia Monday.

The county auditor was authorized to call for bids for a reinforced concrete bridge over Amity creek, on the East Duluth and Lester river road.

A. E. Dyer reported to the board through a communication, that the work of his department was steadily increasing and that he thought it necessary that he be allowed another assistant county surveyor. He suggested that A. J. Bawden be given the place and the board authorized the appointment.

N. A. Young, county superintendent of schools, suggested Miss F. W. Barnhardt for a place in his office and the appointment was approved. W. A. Holgate asked for additional office help during the summer months and he was authorized to hire two clerks at salaries of $70 per month each.

AUTOGRAPH LETTER

Of Henry W. Longfellow in the Hoe Collection Is Missing.

New York, May 5.—During the Hoe library sale it was announced that an autograph letter of Henry W. Longfellow was missing from the collection. This letter was to have been sold with Longfellow's book, "Outre Mer." It was dated in 1856 and related to the book. The book was a rare Frost edition. Representatives of the Anderson Auction company conducting the sale said that no one seems to know what has become of the letter. It was said that both letter and book would bring at least $600.

SPRINKLING RATE IN MAY

Water Board Applies Low Charge One Month Earlier This Year.

Change in Location of Booster Pump for Woodland System.

The low rate of 5 cents per 100 feet for water for sprinkling purposes is applied for the month of May this year, the board of water and light commissioners reaching that decision yesterday. The rule has been to apply the low rate June 1, but the number of demands for the granting of the rate in May has been so large and the people have pointed out so insistently that the dry weather required the use of a large amount of water for sprinkling this month, that the board decided to deviate from the rule.

As the regular rate for water is 17½ cents per 100 feet for home consumption, the lower rate for sprinkling purposes is an important concession. To obtain the rate, the householder must show that he uses water for lawn sprinkling. No separate meters are required, the difference between the greatest consumption of the first four months as a normal and the consumption in the summer months, being allowed as the amount used for sprinkling lawns and gardens.

The question of the condition of the intake pipe at the Lakewood pumping station has not yet been decided. It may be disposed of tomorrow morning, when Diver H. H. Thompson will meet with the board and verbally report on the manner in which he performed the contract awarded to him last fall. President Phelps reported yesterday that he had written the Great Lakes Dredge & Dock company, setting forth that the report of Diver Harry Halverson was not specific enough to be accepted by the board, and the company had written that the report was as specific as is usually given, but the company would go into greater detail on receipt of a blue print of the intake pipe for guidance in drawing a diagram. The blue print was sent and a more specific report is expected.

In the meantime, some understanding with Mr. Thompson may be reached. Mr. Halverson reported verbally at the time he made the examination that some of Mr. Thompson's work was defective. If that can be shown, it is very probable that some arrangement will be made for supplying the defects.

Residents in the vicinity of Victoria street and Woodland avenue have raised such a protest against the location of the proposed booster pumping station for the Woodland system at that point that the board has decided to change the location to about a block south of Woodland avenue. A trip was made to the proposed site this morning. The board will build a near pumping station of brick and stone and will install an electric pump with a capacity of 1,500,000 gallons daily. The board also decided to purchase the remaining ground needed for a 5,000,000-gallon reservoir where the Woodland system tanks are now located on Minneapolis avenue. When the purchase is made, the board will have 224 by 290 feet at that point. It is expected that the reservoir will be constructed next year.

The board has also decided to replace the gas pump now used as a booster pump for the Orphanage system with one of the electric pumps now located at the West Duluth booster station. At that station, there are two electric pumps, each with a capacity of 1,000 gallons a minute. A new pump with a capacity of 2,000 gallons a minute will be installed and one of the 1,000-gallon pumps will be retained as an auxiliary. The consumption of water has increased so rapidly in West Duluth that the new pump is required this year.

Two petitions for extensions, one on Cooke street between Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh avenues east, and the other on Eighth street between Fifth and Sixth avenues east, were received by the board yesterday.

MORE ACTIVITY IN THE HARBOR

Busiest Day of the Present Season Is Reported.

The busiest day of the season is reported in the Duluth harbor during the past twenty-four hours, counting from yesterday morning.

While this improvement does not mean that the business is in the least heavy, it is a very large increase over what has been doing in the harbor since the opening of navigation.

Two cargoes of grain went out since yesterday and the lumber business has shown the first activity of the season. There is considerable lumber at the Head of the Lakes, but lumber agents say that with the very light demand for lumber that there is at the present time, it is not probable that much will go down the lakes for some time to come.

So far the present week there has been a gradual increase in the ore movement, but at the present time it is very light, with nothing like any wild tonnage in sight. There is no ore for the independents in sight as yet.

There is no complaint on the package freight movement to the West, but there is a light eastbound movement which is expected to last through the present month.

STEAMER GROUNDS AT SAULT STE. MARIE.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—In a dense smoke that obscured the ranges the steamer Keystone of the Keystone Transportation company of Montreal, bound down with wheat, grounded at Vidal Shoals at 3 o'clock this morning. The tugs Sabin and Schenck went to her assistance and pulled her off and she passed the canal at 7 o'clock.

Ice fields in Whitefish bay broke loose last night and today the river is choked from Point Aux Pins down, greatly hampering lockings. It will be a couple of days before the flow passes.

TWO BOATS WRECKED ON LAKE ONTARIO.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., May 5.—Two vessels were wrecked in a wind storm on Lake Ontario yesterday. From one of the boats the passenger steamer Alethia, passengers and crew escaped in life boats. The bursting of a steam pipe disabled the Alethia's machinery and she drifted about until she struck a submerged rock near Kingston, Ont., with a big hole in her bottom.

Out of her course, the steamer Glenwort of the Montreal Transportation company went hard aground on a shoal near Nine-Mile light yesterday with 80,000 bushels of wheat for Montreal in her hold. The wrecker Chieftain with barges and divers has gone to the aid of the steamer.

DEFECTIVE ROADBED BLAMED FOR WRECK.

Easton, Pa., May 5.—"By the evidence before us, we conclude that the accident was caused by a defective road-bed" was the finding of the coroner's jury in Phillipsburg, N. J., following the inquest of the victims of the wreck on the Pennsylvania railroad at Martins Creek last Saturday. This finding was made in connection with the death of Eleanor Rutherford, a Utica school teacher, who died from her injuries in the Easton hospital.

WEST DULUTH CARS ARE OVERCROWDED

"A Subscriber" in the Open Court column of The Herald last evening called attention to the lack of cars of the street railway company for rush hours.

This seems to be generally true in all parts of the city.

A resident of West Duluth who comes to the city every morning on a West Third street car, stated this morning that the car on which he usually goes to work is loaded to the gates every morning. He stated that he has often noticed that from 100 to 125 fares have been rung up on the register. The aisles, and particularly the rear half of the car, is packed, according to his statement. Unless one gets on towards the end of the line, he says that it is impossible to get a seat, as the car fills up before it has gone more than a few blocks.

In the evening he claims that the condition is just as bad, and that unless a person boards a westbound car before he gets to Superior street, the passenger is required to hang on to the straps, if he can get one, until his destination is reached.

HEN TAKES HER LIFE

When Her Brood of Fifteen Chickens Are Drowned.

Lebanon, Ohio, May 5.—Depressed over the fact that her brood of fifteen chickens had been drowned in a thunder storm, an old hen belonging to Mrs. Frank Aldridge of this city committed suicide by placing her head in a steel set trap. She evidently had seen rats caught and killed in this manner, for when she discovered her loss she walked to the trap before the eyes of her owner and sprang it with her bill. Death was instantaneous.

O'BRIENITES LOSE AGAIN

Kid Taylor's Gang Grabs Second Game By Score of 4 to 1.

Altermott's Drive for Four Bags Saves Sox From Shutout.

Again yesterday the White Sox bowed in humble submission to the prowess of the Taylorites, the second defeat of the inter-city series being rubbed to the credit of Superior, Darby's pets losing out by the score of 4 to 1.

Worman and Chase, a younger brother of the Indian with Rochester last season, were used as hillmen by the orator, and the gay and exuberant Kid Taylor used Parker and Johnson with excellent results.

It is not that the White Sox played so bad—it is that the bunch from across the bay played better. That's the answer to the question. Comparisons at this stage of the season are odious, and that is a very gentle word to use in the light of the beating yesterday. As he was leaving the grounds yesterday Mr. Darby O'Brien stated that one swallow does not make a summer. We all hope so.

In the very first frame the demon batters of Superior started the assault. Bancroft walked and Bennett beat out a bunt. Hoffman offered one to Leber and Banny was cut off at the plate, both runners advancing on the play. A little breathless juncture of the soiree Red McCulloch singled to right and both runners were over. Lizette and Lippold were easy outs.

In the second what little glee we gathered during the afternoon, was mirthfully served up in the manner of a home run upon the heroic part of young Col. Theodore Roosevelt Altermott. The demon cloister of last year met one on the end of his war club, and when the ball stopped gamboling in deep left the colonel was crossing the counter. The fireworks were abrupt and to the point. Altermott's run was the last, as the day previous and hence blessed be his memory for deliverance from the dreaded calcimine.

Second Chief Chase mounted the mound in the fifth and his debut was the signal for the second assault on the fort. Bancroft hit one too hard for Leber to handle, and advanced to second when the Red Skin uncorked a wild heave. Bennett singled sending Banny along to the third corner and scored when Hoffman singled to the right garden. Lizette hit a long sacrifice fly to left, Cy coming home with the second run of the game.

Duluth played good baseball, but failed to hit. The Red Legs hit when hits were needed and consequently parted in clusters. What we need in the remaining games of the series is more liberal use of the war club. With enthusiasm upon the part of the willow wielders, there may be a different story in the four remaining games.

This afternoon at Hislop park the last contest to be staged in Superior.

GIANTS HIT HARD AND WIN EASILY.

CARDINALS HUMBLED IN ROARING FARCE.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 5.—The game here yesterday was a farce, St. Louis being beaten with ridiculous ease. Pittsburg broke the record for this season by scoring seventeen times, the previous mark having been fifteen, made by Brooklyn on April 14. St. Louis got only two hits off the Pittsburg pitchers, both singles. One of these drove in the only run made by the visitors. In the sixth and seventh innings every Pittsburg player went to bat. In the seventh two runs were forced over the plate by Laudermilk giving, with two men on bases, three bases on balls in succession. With the bases full Wagner then put the ball over the wall for a home run. St. Louis used fifteen players. Score: R. H. E.

CINCINNATI PITCHERS GENEROUS TO CUBS.

Chicago, May 5—Gaspar and Fromme were both wild yesterday. Chicago bunched hits and with the assistance of errors had little difficulty in winning, 9 to 5. The visitors hit McIntyre freely in the last inning and made four runs. Evers was ordered out of the game for arguing a decision of Umpire Rigler in the ninth inning. Score: R. H. E.

WALSH PITCHES GREAT BALL AGAINST CLEVELAND.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 5.—Chicago defeated Cleveland, 7 to 1 yesterday, with Walsh pitching the best ball seen here this year. He fanned eleven men, including all of Cleveland's best hitters. Errors gave Chicago five of their runs. Score: R. H. E.

WOOD HOLDS NEW YORK TO TWO LITTLE SINGLES.

New York, May 5.—Joe Wood led the Boston Americans to a 3 to 0 victory over New York yesterday, holding his opponents to two singles, one of which was a scratch. Only two balls were hit to the outfield by the locals. Speakers' batting was as clever as Wood's fielding. Score: R. H. E.

CENTRAL WILL MEET CLOQUET

This afternoon Central high's baseball team will play the high school nine of Cloquet in the first game of the season. So far the local high school players have shown class and the game promises to be a very good exhibition of the national game.

Kelly will don the pad and mask for the Duluth boys, while Morty Harris will be in the box. Waldron at first, Wharton at second, Boyle at short, and Greenfield at third, will make up the infield. McClaran in left, Mat Brown in center, and "Bunk" Harris in right, will take care of the garden.

This will be the first real game of the season and the supporters of the Central team are most anxious to get a line on their palyers. Central students believe the team will have little trouble in disposing of the lumber merchants.

"Bugs" Raymond has so far taken part in two games and got away with them both. He has been on the water wagon and if he continues on his good behavior the chances for the pennant for the Giants look bright. "Bugs" is one of the few spit ball artists in the National league. He was of little value value to the team last year but McGraw decided to give him another chance to redeem himself.

COMMENTS AND OPINIONS ON THE SPORTING PARADE

One Lost Practice Game Does Not Make a Tail Ender—The Parson Starts—Some Good Things—Other Sport Notes.

(BY BRUCE.)

BECAUSE the Taylorites have taken two games from the O'Brienites, don't for the moment think that the suburbanites have the least shading on us. Not by any means. That old stuff about the one swallow failing to determine the summer, goes in this instance.

This is not sitting down and framing an excuse for the White sox. Few men will attempt to dope a team on the first few games. Wait until the players hit their stride and then lay the judgment stick on.

In the early spring games it is often a matter of the pitchers entirely. In the game the day before yesterday the two teams battled on evenly after Mons. Doty had received that little welcome-to-our city celebration that had been lovingly and thoughtfully prepared by the Superior players. But—and there are lots of but's during a season—for the fusilade of hits that greeted our young twirler in Superior's first time at bat, the game would have been hard fought and close all the way through.

Viewing the team from the first game or so, it would seem that we are stronger on the infield and have a much better catcher than was the case at any time last season, forgetting the fierce proposition we were up against at the beginning of the season.

This man Hargrove throws like a big leaguer, or at least he did in the game of Wednesday. He flagged three of the venturesome Taylorites, getting them all by clean and well placed throws. Not since the passing of the famed Baron Otto Mueller have we had a catcher who could peg with that nicety of speed and general accuracy of aim that meant death to the pilfering rascals.

In little Leber at the third corner, it looks as if we had a man who could play the bag better than any man since the dear days of the very much missed Sylvester Breen, now catching with the Milwaukee team.

About the outfielders, it is a bit too early to judge. These early season predictions at the best are very risky propositions. Of course the fans in this city know what Menelce used to be able to do. Just how good he is at the present time more baseball will tell much better than columns of words.

Johnson was with Rochester last year and some of the fans with long memories know something of his work. Johnson played some good ball for Rochester last season and ranked quite well with the gardeners of the league. Little is known in these parts of Miller. He has not been hitting the ball as hard as he might on the training trip, but may remedy this fault later.

If Blancke should recover the use of his arm the fans would welcome him back to the city. When a man can pitch some of the games this fellow pitched with a bum whip, it's a sure bet that he would be mighty useful with his arm in good condition.

It is best to wait until the season has been going a bit to take judgment on the team. Even at that there are four more games to play in the series and there may be a very different story to tell before the six games have been completed.

However, that is not the question. Whether the Sox win or lose the majority of the games, the fact remains, sticking its right hand up for recognition, that it is rash and often harsh to take snap judgment on a baseball team, which early judgment virtually is.

The Poor Parson Starts.

TUCKED away in a very obscure corner of one of the Eastern sporting sheets, under a very small and insignificant headline, came the news of the departure for Europe of Parson Davies, famed all over the sporting world at one time as the manager of Peter Jackson and some of the most famous fighters of the time, including the wonderful Joe Choynski.

The poor old Parson is very far from being a well man. The story of his going to the other side of the ocean in search of a white man who comes under the general and very deceiving name of a "hope," seems strange indeed.

Has the poor old chap caught the contagion?" And, besides, one would think England the very last place in the world where any man would search for a "hope."

This example of the old fight manager crossing the ocean in vain pursuit of a man who can dethrone the big black title holder, is simply given as an example of the length this fad of getting a "hope" has been carried to. When you stop to consider the thing seriously, calmly, you must come to the conclusion that it is very, very, foolish.

There is really nothing in it. There is about one man in the world at the present time who has even a chance with Johnson. That man is Langford and his chance is a very remote one. Come to think of it, have you heard of one "hope" that you could take in the least seriously? They have trotted out a lot of boobs, and from present accounts this Oklahoma product is the worst of the lot.

Some day in the future some man will rise up, unheralded, until he has won a few victories, and will show us some real fighting. The O'Kellys, the McLeod's, and the young man from the wild and woolly precincts of Oklahoma can go clear to the dark end of the hall and retire, for all the interest the true fight fans have in them.

He Will Try to Make It Stick.

BILL" STEELE has taken over the old Duluth Athletic club rooms and intends to run a quiet and nice little gymnasium. If Bill will have some boxing gloves around so that some of the boys can take a workout once in a while, there will be some of the bunch around town somewhat glad.

At one gymnasium in this city boxing is looked upon as a very rough and terrible sport. It is quite next to impossible to get a pair of gloves for a friendly and scientific tilt. As a matter of fact there is no greater exercise in the wide world. Wrestling and boxing develop the body as few of the new fangled exercises, expert opinion to the contrary.

Boxing develops the eye and brain and quickens a man's thoughts and also makes him think and act at the same time, which is a mighty valuable asset for the man in the every-day walk of life. A blow that stings is good for any chap. The fellow who will quit when a little hurt is generally a little lacking in some of the essentials of manhood. These protected parlor athletes are somewhat of a joke, at the best.

If boxing in this country was regulated and placed under decent restrictions, and every kid in the country was provided with a pair of boxing gloves, we would have a better lot of men in the next ten years or more, and there would be a lot of better ideas in this old land of ours.

What we want in this country is physical and moral health and the man who is a good boxer is generally a credit to his community.

Hang the gloves around the wall, Brother Steele.

Some Good Things of the Age.

BASEBALL players going into "vodville."

Prizefighters playing the part of heroes in melodramas.

Philadelphia Jack O'Brien stepping six rounds with Jack Johnson.

Baseball players writing for magazines.

Selling aeroplanes to millionaire aviators.

Fighting in England, where there are no fighters, so to speak.

Being a white "hope," if you have a good press agent.

Teaching the president how to reduce weight and play golf.

Trying to "come back" if you go into vaudeville first.

Writing a history of a flighty soul, if you have cultivated your hair and the aesthetic side of your nature, and "my life and battles" if you have paid more attention to the biceps and pectoral muscles, letting the hair be trimmed short.

There are quite a few good things of the age, and if you have any specialty you are hereby advised to get into the game.

Not Shy On Nerve.

"JED" of La Crosse comes out and hints that the Outcasts might have an outside chance for the pennant, after the two teams at the Head of the Lakes have portioned off their claims. This is really very bold of "Jeddy," and for this action he should be chastised severely on the wrist. After the showing the Outcasts made last season there are a lot of us fans who will want to be shown.

And, by the way, "Jed" joins in and sends his condolences to Otto and Willie of the Eau Claire press. To date three papers around the circuit have sympathized deeply with the boys of the dairy section. Are there any more of you fellows who would like to draw cards and help buy the crepe?

MANY MEN OUT FOR CREW

Coach Ten Eyck Has Long List of Men to Choose From.

New Material Looks Promising During Early Practice Workouts.

In all the years of rowing at the Duluth Boat club there has never been such a list of crew candidates nor so many men on the water. It will require time to ascertain just how good the material is, but for numbers Coach Ten Eyck has no complaint to make. If numbers and enthusiasm count the club should make a very creditable showing the present season.

First, there are the old men, the leftovers from last season. Thompson, Forgette, Quimby, Sole, Lathrop, Kent and Slack are out. It is very probable that Hare, the Wisconsin oarsman will be out later in the season, and there is also the possibility that Bill Crawford may be out with the bunch.

Oppel is a 190-pound recruit, who has strength and willingness. Tronsen and Paddock are fairly large, and Grant and Killorin are also large and well built athletes. While Helmick is not so large he is "all there" and is looked upon as a very promising man for the eight.

Schneider is a bantam, while Brown is out for the eight. McClelland is a big husky chap and should make a good fight for a seat in the eight. Hammerbeck is also another husky chap, and has so far made a pretty fair showing. Hathaway is another heavyweight. McKenzie is a little fellow who looks awfully good for a seat in the bantam four.

Olson, Henderson, Walter and Johnson are all heavyweights who are trying hard for a place in the boat. La Page, Quinn, Short and Dugan are all fairly heavy men, out for their first year.

Thorburn was out last season and made an excellent showing. Dreves Avery, Lourie, Lovering and St. Pierre are all trying for the bantam boat, and they all look pretty good. Many nice things have been said of this man St. Pierre, who is touted as a comer. If he lives up to the expectations he has roused in the minds of the coaches, it may be that he will be seen rowing with the bantams before the season is very old.

Horak and Mapp are out for the doubles, while Walker, Refus, O'Donnell and Talboys, the old bantams, are also out. Ffau is another bantam who has shown promise.

What would rowing be without the inspiring presence of little Arthur Michaud? Dismal indeed. He will be out the present season for a position of cox, according to announcement, and there will be several other candidates out. Harry Johnson, Bert Smith and Vierck are some of the other candidates for the job Artie held down last season.

It is expected that there will be three eights out on the water every evening, at least during the first part of the season. Coach Ten Eyck is being assisted by Capt. MacGregor of the rowing department, and also by Bill L'Estrange and Ross Anderson, both veteran oarsmen.

While the positions in the eight are not settled for the time being, progress is being made rapidly and for the next month the work of the men will be gradually increased. Long easy rows will be the program for some little time.

It is understood that Coach Ten Eyck would like to develop a sculler and probably some attention will be paid to this branch of the rowing game. It has been years since Duluth has been represented at the Northwestern International Rowing association by a single man, and the idea is looked upon with favor by several of the boat club members.

"FINGY" CONNORS MAY ENTER BOAT

Buffalo Man's Courier May Contest for Kelley Cup.

Famous "Fingy" Connors of Buffalo, chairman of the New York state Democratic committee, owner of the Buffalo Courier and a national figure because of his picturesque rise from the lowly position of dook worker, may send his famous speed motor boat, the Courier, to Duluth for the big July water events.

William Jones, lovingly known to his friends as "Bill," has received a letter from the Sterling Engine people, in which they state that they are planning at the present time on sending possibly two boats to the Head of the Lakes. No definite decision has been made as yet by the Sterling people, but Mr. Jones is confident that they will send at least one boat up here after the cup at the present time held by Richard Scholl.

The Courier is one of the fastest boats in the country. If "Fingy" Connors does decide to send his boat up here it will prove a great addition to the motor boat events that are carded for the three days of the carnival events.

As the Sterling people are long on cups and have a collection at the present time that is one of the finest in the country, it is believed that when they learn the exact details connected with the cup that is held at the present time by Dick Scholl, they will have at least one entry for the race that promises to be the banner event of the carnival sports.

There is another surprise in store, which cannot be given out at the present time. The race should be a great one, however.

DULUTH BOY MAKES WHEEL CHAIR FOR INVALID MOTHER

Two Other Lads Complete a "Glider" That Will "Work."

Some Amazingly Good Craftsmanship Shown in Boys' Exhibit.

The mother of a 13-year-old exhibitor at the display of handiwork of school children in the building of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. will not attend the exhibition which opened this afternoon and which will be continued tonight.

She can not see the exhibit because one of the principal entries is an invalid chair which the boy made for his mother. The woman is a sufferer from rheumatism and the lad made her an invalid chair out of some old wheels and a relic of a wicker chair. The average observer can not tell the difference between it and the regularly manufactured article. In order that her son may display his handiwork she is compelled to remain indoors.

The basement of the boys' department building in Sixth avenue east near Fourth street contains some remarkable examples of the skill of Duluth school children in designing and creating the products of both brain and hand. One of the most interesting exhibits is a glider fashioned after a bi-plane. It was made by Steven McGiffert and Ralph Dunning. The boys worked on the machine until midnight last night and got up at an early hour this morning so that the bi-plane could be completed in time for the exhibition. They intend to make flights in it after they put on a few finishing touches to add strength and solidity.

There is a wireless telegraphic outfit made by Duluth school boys. It works perfectly. Near by are several home-made motors and three arc lights that were made by school boys. A model of a ship is the product of a 13-year-old boy who worked on it for two months. There are some creditable oil paintings, charcoal work and line drawing. Marine subjects and life work appealed to the youthful artists.

A 13-year-old boy got a handful of agates from the lake shore and cut and polished them with the skill of a professional. Near by are several loaves of bread and fancy cakes made by boys. They look edible, and the judges will not have any qualms about sampling them if appearances are a criterion of their excellence. A piano stool of quarter-sawed oak looks as if it had come from Grand Rapids, Mich, or better, East Aurora.

Stories were written by the youthful workers and bound in Roycrofter fashion. Mottoes were sketched and painted on boards and cards. A 13-year-old boy (most of the exhibitors seem to be of that age) did a charcoal marine scene that is worthy of a professional. There is a colored map that might have come from within the covers of a Rand & McNally. Another map ingeniously shows the leading products of various localities in the United States. The artist pasted corn on the map where corn is grown, a lump of coal went to Pennsylvania, a bottle of oil and some wheat to Kansas, and the Southern states are lavishly decorated with cotton, while Minnesota is sprinkled with cereals, a piece of wood and a chunk of iron ore.

A sled that will slide, a leather couch made at the Bryant school, unique basketry done at the Webster school, shells and buttons tastefully displayed are included among the exhibits.

The prizes will be awarded tonight.

WHITMORE WILL SPEAK HERE

Is Promotion Secretary of New Religious Movement for Men.

The speaker for the Sunday afternoon men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. will be James A. Whitmore, promotion secretary for the Men and Religion Forward movement.

The Men and Religion Forward movement is to be a continental campaign, and the hope and expectation is that every city, town, community and local church will unite with it whether they are to be visited by the special team of experts or not. The scheme is large enough to include every man and boy and every community on the continent. Ninety odd cities will be visited with this purpose in view. As in the Laymen's Missionary movement, committees will be sent out from these centers to visit neighboring communities.

Mr. Whitmore is making his first visit to Duluth to complete the organzations and the details for the conducting of one such campaign in Duluth. His address Sunday afternoon will be of peculiar interest to the men of the local churches and especially to those connected with the brotherhoods.

Miss Glen Bartholomew of Superior will be the soloist, and those who heard her at one of the "Pop" concerts will be gladt to hear her again. She will sing "The Lord Is Mindful of His Own."

TWENTY-ONE NEW INDICTMENTS

McNamara Brothers and McManigal Are Once More Accused.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 5.—Twenty-one new indictments, according to reliable authority, were voted late yesterday by the grand jury against the alleged dynamite conspirators, James B. and John J. McNamara and Ortie E. McManigal. Nineteen of the indictments, it is understood, are against the McNamaras alone, and charge them with murder in connection with the blowing up of the Los Angeles Times newspaper plant on Oct. 1, and the consequent death of twenty-one men. The other two are said to be against McManigal as principal and the McNamara brothers as accomplices in the Llewellyn Iron works explosion, Christmas day, in which no one was killed.

The prisoners will be arraigned tonight and a date will then be set for them to enter their pleas.

McManigal Chief Witness.

McManigal was the principal witness heard by the grand jurors, about whose movements and meeting place a veil of secrecy was thrown. McManigal was examined for more than two hours. Immediately afterwards the grand jury adjourned.

The grand jury heard several witnesses besides McManigal. Among them were employes and officials of the Llewellyn Iron works, and Paul Stuperich, proprietor of a hotel at Sau Salito, Cal., where the man known as Bryce visited during the wrecking of the newspaper plant.

Another witness was Douglas Burrowes, partner of Howard Baxter in the ownership of the launch, Pastime, which, according to the detectives, was used to transport the dynamite purchased by the alleged conspirators.

Judge Bordwell called the editors of the press associations into a conference. He said he was anxious that the prisoners should have a trial in which there should not be anything savoring of unfairness, and asked their co-operation.

GRANTS HIS FIRST DIVORCE

Judge Dancer Gives Mrs. Sophia Bayard Decree on Desertion Charge.

Judge Dancer heard his first divorce action this morning. He granted Mrs. Sophia Frances Bayard, 32 years old, a divorce from her husband, John H. Bayard, 28, on grounds of desertion. They were married, according to the evidence, at St. Paul in March, 1906. She claimed that he deserted her in January, 1909.

The work of the divorce mill seems to be dropping off for some unknown reason. Although there are a great many cases to be heard, there was but one ready for trial this morning.

Eight decrees were granted yesterday by Judge Ensign. Most of them were granted on grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment and desertion. Harriet B. Helbing was given a decree from Louis H. Helbing; Amelia Graham was given a decree from Donald Graham, and Sadie McCary was granted a divorce from John McCary.

There are still a number of cases to be heard. They will probably be taken up Monday morning by Judge Ensign.

Monday the petit jurors will report and the regular civil and criminal cases will go on for trial.

DULUTH MAN DIES IN CHICAGO

Herbert Capen Passes Away in Windy City After Brief Illness.

Herbert Capen, 20 years of age, died in Chicago Wednesday evening, where he went from here about two months ago to accept a position. He formerly resided at the Y. M. C. A. where his two brothers, Ralph and William Capen are now stopping.

He was a bookkeeper by occupation. The body is being brought to Duluth for interment and is expected to reach the city this afternoon. Besides his brothers he is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Capen of Fort William, Ont. His mother is now in the city and his father will be here tomorrow. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the undertaking rooms of C. J. Stewart on Third avenue west. Interment will be at Forest Hill cemetery. The young man has resided in this city for some time and was well and favorably known.

CANNON AND MANN

Make Bigger Hit Than Do Clowns at the Circus.

Washington, May 5.—"Say, Jim, it smells like spring. Let's get out."

These were the words that Uncle Joe Cannon, former speaker of the house of representatives, addressed to Representative James R. Mann, who is now minority leader of that body, as things were drifting along in a leisurely manner in the house after the noon hour a few days ago.

They "got." When they emerged on the porch and saw the greensward they thought of things youthful, and their minds turned to the circus.

The parade had made its round and the three rings were beginning to make the youngsters' heads swim when the two youngest of them all, "Uncle Joe" and "Jim" Mann began their march around part of the ring to their reserved seats. They were soon "spotted," and attracted all the attention and most of the applause. They shamefacedly acknowledged it by raising their hats.

FREE STORAGE FOR TWIN CITY JOBBERS UNTIL MAY 15

Railroads Will Store Goods in Transit for Extra Month.

Rule Is Most Unfair to the Zenith City Shippers.

The extension from April 15 to May 15, this year, of the period of free storage in dock warehouses at Duluth of lake and rail freight in transit to points beyond Duluth has caused Duluth jobbers, private warehouse interests, traffic commissioners and commercial interests generally to take renewed interest in the action now pending against the railroads in the supreme court of the state. Nobody who could be reached in Duluth knows just the status of the action or if an early decision may be expected, but a determination of the question of the right of the railroads to engage in warehouse business would be gladly received by Duluth people.

Duluth people have always maintained that the free storage of freight in transit and the privilege given consignees of diverting shipments from the warehouses here to points in Northern Minnesota or in any other state, providing the destination is on the line of the railroad storing the shipments, is a discrimination against Duluth jobbing interests. There has always been a question of the railroads' right to carry on the practice, but the proper steps have never been taken by Duluth to obtain a judicial determination of the question.

A year ago last January, private warehouse interests in Minneapolis applied for an injunction against the railroads, restraining them from storing freight any longer than a reasonable time for its removal from the warehouses. The claim was made that the railroads were in the warehouse business and that it was not covered by their charters. When the actions were brought, the railroads promptly abandoned the warehouse business and gave the applicants for an injunction, temporarily at least, the relief they sought.

Wanted Permanence.

The warehouse interests were not satisfied with that. They declined to withdraw their action, maintaining that they wanted something to prevent the railroads from re-entering the business at any time they saw fit. The lower court declined to pass on the question, holding that the conditions which the applicants sought to remedy had ceased to exist. The petitioners carried the case to the supreme court and asked a decision on the question. There the case rests, Duluth people believe.

Duluth interests would like to see a decision handed down. If no action is taken, it is not unlikely that something will be done by Duluth people to get the courts or the interstate commerce commission to settle the matter finally. In the opinion of the members of the Duluth traffic commission and others who have studied the subject, the practices in use in the dock warehouses here are in violation of the railroads' charters, are discriminatory against Duluth and are discriminatory against some classes of freight in favor of others. If the railroads can give free storage in anticipation of shipment, they are discriminating in not giving free storage after shipment, it is maintained.

A Minneapolis jobber may have a consignment of freight shipped from an Eastern point, lake and rail, and may hold it in the warehouses here. Then he may sell the goods through Northern Minnnesota, direct a change of destination and instead of having the goods sent to his house for rehandling, he may have them sent to the destination where they are sold, the lake and rail rate to that destination applying. He escapes dock charges, storage charges and handling charges. If he is unale to sell the goods before the time limit on free storage he may have them carried to Minnneapolis and no storage charges for the time in Duluth apply.

A Duluth jobber may consign his goods to an inland point and hold them for reconsignment if they are sold beyond Duluth, but if he fails to sell them for reconsignment he must pay 40 cents a ton dockage, 40 cents a ton a month storage charges and 15 cents a ton switching charges if the service is given, providing he must withdraw the goods from the railroad warehouse and have them taken to his own warehouse. The Minneapolis jobber can't lose, no matter which way it turns out. The Duluth jobber who tries to beat the game is playing with fire.

It means that Twin City jobbers not only have the advantage of a lake-and-rail rate that Duluth jobbers consider a discrimination, but they can compete with the Duluth jobber in his own territory and have the railroad company perform the handling and storage service for which Duluth jobbers must pay. There are no taxes to be paid on freight in railroad dock warehouses, no payroll for handling, and nothing to be paid but insurance. A jobber with a consignment beyond Duluth may let it lie in Duluth from any time in the season of navigation until April 15 following—May 15 this year—and if he sells it before that time he can divert it and escape all expense except freight charges.

Some years ago the Duluth Commercial club started an action before the interstate commerce commission, claiming discrimination. The action was never pushed, as it applied only to Duluth, and the same condition held at Chicago, Milwaukee and other lake ports. To get the proper results before the commission, if any results can be obtained, all ports and all railroads will have to be included. The fact that the railroads abandoned the practice in the Twin Cities when they were threatened with court proceedure is pointed out by Duluth jobbers as an indication that the railroads did not look for successful defense against the action.

STEEL CORPORATION DIRECTORS IN SESSION.

A meeting of the directors of the United States Steel corporation is being held in New York city today. Frank B. Kellogg of St. Paul, counsel for the interests of the corporation in the Northwest, is present.

It is rumored that the corporation contemplates the purchase of more iron ore lands and that the meeting was called to determine the advisability of the purchase. It is reported that the corporation intends to enter the Cuyuna range. There is no basis for this report so far as can be learned, although the meeting may be productive of news of especial interest to this city.

RAILROAD WINS CASE

Settler Fails to Recover for Burning of His Homestead.

A verdict for the defendant was returned this morning by the jury in the case brought against the Duluth & Northeastern railroad for $5,850 by Charles Norling.

The verdict was sealed and while returned yesterday it was not opened until this morning. The trial of the case took place before Judge Cant of the district court. It has been on for some days, having lasted over from the March term of court.

Norling claimed that sparks from one of the company's engines set his homestead on fire. He claimed that 30,000 feet of pine logs as well as some spruce and cedar and tamarack ties were burned.

PAPER MAKER OPPOSES PACT

John Strange of Wisconsin Urges Rejection of Reciprocity Plan.

Washington, May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Strange, formerly lieutenant governor of Wisconsin, who is a manufacturer of print paper, and is here opposing the Canadian reciprocity bill, has addressed a letter to senators urging them to vote against that measure. His letter states that the annual consumption of spruce pulp wood for news print paper in this country is about 1,500,000 cords; that Maine alone has a standing supply of 80,000,000 cords and that the annual growth or increase of Maine's spruce is 3,000,000 to 4,000,000 cords or about twice the annual consumption for news print paper. He writes:

"There are easily 150,000,000,000 feet of spruce now standing and growing in the United States, the annual growth of which is not less than 5,000,000,000 to 6,000,000,000 feet or 10,000,000 to 12,000,000 cords. Only about one-seventh of this growth is at present used in the manufacture of news print paper in all the states of our Union. There is no dearth of pulp wood in this country."

SUPERIOR

MURDER CHARGE NOT SUSTAINED

Ben Stilson Acquitted of Charge of Killing Thomas Cain.

A jury in superior court yesterday afternoon freed Ben Stilson from the charge of having murdered Thomas Cain five weeks ago in the Bank saloon, Fourth street and Tower avenue, Superior, and he was released from custody. The case went to the jury at 2 o'clock and a verdict of not guilty was returned at 7:30 o'clock.

Stilson claimed that he woke up in the rear end of the Bank saloon to find Cain going through his pockets. He said that he gave Cain a push and in falling, Cain struck his head against something and the injury, so far as he knew, caused Cain's death. Stilson denied striking the man with a whisky jug.

Cain died on the night of March 28 in St. Mary's hospital, a few hours after the fracas. Physicians stated that he died from a blood clot on the brain. A contusion of the scalp showed that he had come in forcible contact with some blunt object.

M. C. Brzonkala, who defended Stilson, argued that Stilson acted as any other man would have done and claimed that his client was only defending his own property. District Attorney McKay represented the state.

LONG DELAYED TRAIN ARRIVES

Fifteen Ore Cars Were Derailed and Toppled Into the Ditch.

After having been delayed for several hours, by an accident which occurred yesterday afternoon between Blackhoff and Frogner, in which fifteen loaded cars were derailed and toppled into a ditch, the first train of fifty cars loaded with ore, arrived in Superior at 11 o'clock this morning over the Soo road from the Cuyuna range.

It was in charge of Conductor Otto Peterson.

The cars were switched to the Stinson avenue yards until they can be taken to the ore dock on St. Louis bay. All of the track from the yards to the docks has not been laid. The accident was caused by one of the hoppers giving away and allowing a load of ore to spill upon the track.

Crownhart Appointed.

News came from Madison yesterday of the appointment by Governor McGovern of C. H. Commons of Madison are the other members of the board.

DUMP CANADIAN COAL INTO SEA

Alaskans Emulate Members of Boston Tea Party at Cordova.

Seattle, Wash., May 5.—Private cables received from Cordova, Alaska, say that a mob has boarded an Alaska steamship company's vessel that just arrived there with a cargo of Canadian coal and began dumping it overboard. The steamship company is said to have appealed to President Taft for troops.

Several days ago agitators are reported to have begun urging the formation of a mob to emulate the "Boston Tea Party" of Colonial days, and throw the Canadian coal into the sea. The coal is owned by the Alaska Steamship company, which buys it from Columbia mines, and in addition to being sold for domestic use, furnishes fuel on the steamships between Seattle and Alaska, and the trains on the Copper River & Northwestern railroad.

Since the announcement that the federal supreme court would not consider until October the appeal from the decision of Judge Cornelius H. Hanford, quashing the indictments against the English group of Alaska coal claimants, and that nothing toward opening the Alaska coal fields could be done until the court had passed on the case, the people of the Copper River district have been greatly exercised.

Business men of Cordova and adjoining towns started a flood of messages to President Taft urging immediate action on the coal cases and protesting against forcing the people of Alaska to pay high prices for foreign coal while the native coal lies untouched.

FEASTING ON GRASSHOPPER EGGS.

Greeley correspondence Denver Republican: Attracted by the grasshoppers' eggs which the farmers are exposing by disking the soil, thousands of blackbirds are enjoying a feast. Blackbirds have always been plentiful here, but where there were formerly a score of birds now there are hundreds, and others are joing the forage ranks.

Farmers all over the country are making a thorough raid on the ditch banks, roadways and other places where the grasshoppers have deposited eggs. These places were first burned, then disked, and will be harrowed several times before spring. Never before have the farmers started so vigorous a campaign against the pests. In the Eaton country, where grasshoppers destroyed hundreds of acres of crops last year, the farmers have been at work for two weeks.

OAK LOG A HERMIT'S BANK.

Maeytown Correspondence St. Louis Globe-Democrat: A heavy oak log with veins of $10 gold pieces was discovered yesterday in the cellar of a hut occupied by Jacob Zeis, aged 74, a hermit.

On Wednesday Herman Klasterman, who lives on a farm near the Zeis hut and who had not seen the old man for several days, went to his home to investigate the cause of Zeis' absence. Zeis was found dead in bed. A note on the table said he was too ill to go to a doctor and that he had considerable money secreted in the cellar. Coroner Wilhelmy was called and made an investigation.

Search of the cellar revealed a heavy oak log in one corner and when this was closely examined a number of small holes with wooden plugs were seen. One of the plugs was extracted and gold pieces fell to the floor. An hour's work rewarded the coroner with a pile of $10 gold pieces amounting to $300.

Zeis being without relatives, the money was turned over to Public Administrator Zimmer of Monroe county.

WOMEN AS DOCTORS.

London Globe: Women as doctors is not, a Paris contemporary observes, a product of modern "feminisme." It seems that in the eighteenth century there was a lady student at Florence. She came from Malta under the patronage of the Knights of Malta. The administrator of the Majeur hospital was somewhat embarrassed with his new pupil, but he found a means out of the difficulty.

The chief of the Order of the Knights of Malta in introducing his lady protege to the professors of the Florence School of Medicine wrote: "It seems to me that the matter could be arranged without any great inconvenience if the young lady were boarded during the period she was studying at your medical school with the nuns in a neighboring convent, for which we would pay five crowns a week. In regard to her instruction she should assist in operations at the women's hospital, notably those performed by Prof. Mannouni. He should also give her some private lessons at the convent, for it apears to me that she should not be present in classes with young men."

The council of the hospital, being well disposed to the knights, adopted the suggestion. More than a century elapsed before another lady was enrolled in the schools of Florence. She was a Russian and was admitted to the schools of Santa Maria Nuova.

SANG AT HIS OWN FUNERAL.

Christian Herald: We hear now and then of a man reading his own obittary in the papers, but it is a rare thing for a dead man to sing at his own funeral. Pietro Pieco, a shoemaker and amateur musician, had a very great fondness for the phonograph.

He purchased a good many records and occasionally sang into his own phonograph and kept records of the songs. He was taken seriously ill. He realized that he could not recover, and being a poor man and unable to get up much of a funeral he requested that they use his phonograph to furnish the music for the funeral services.

He picked out the "Angel's Serenade" and Gounod's "Ave Maria," sung by himself, and these were used, and thus the dead man took an important part at his own funeral service. He instructed that his phonograph and seventy-two records, a number of them his own, should be sent to his mother in Italy.

MOB MARCHING IN CHAMPAGNE DISTRICT

Wine flowed like water, literally, in the champagne district of France. Infantry and cavalry were called to Epernay to suppress the rioting caused by a quarrel with the government over the delimitation of the champagne district. The government decided recently to restore the department of the Aube to the recognized champagne district. A previous decision had been that wine from that department should not be called champagne. The wine growers and dealers of the department of the Marne attacked the wine growers and dealers of the other department and destroyed 280,000 gallons of champagne by breaking casks and bottles and pouring the wine into the gutters. This was at one spot only—Dizy-Magenta, and similar destructive demonstrations were made elsewhere. There has been burning, as well as attacking of private houses and enormous damage has been done.

TALK ABOUT THE BIG NORTHWEST

Delegates at Helena Meeting Discuss Interests of Six States.

Helena, Mont., May 5.—How best to develop the land and the most effective means of building up and enriching the cities of six states, were the principal themes discussed today by the delegates to the Northwestern Development league meeting here. The speakers included E. D. Weed of Helena Prof. Thomas Shaw of Minnesota, J. H. Worst, president of the North Dakota agricultural college and president of the International Dry Farming congress; C. C. Chapman, manager of the Portland Commercial club, and H. C. Sampson of Spokane.

Election of officers for the permanent organization and the choice of the next place of meeting were on the program for the late afternoon session. In his speech yesterday Governor Eberhart of Minnesota extended an invitation to the delegates to hold the next meeting of the association in the Minnesota capital.

STATE MILITIA TO GET $30,000

Gen. Wood Brings News From Washington—Camp Dates Set.

St. Paul, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Adjt. Gen. F. B. Wood of the Minnesota National Guard returned from Washington this morning with the news that the war department had ordered $30,000 worth of new equipment to be delivered to the Minnesota militia. This includes blankets, tents, olive drab uniforms, caps, ponchoes, overcoats, hospital equipment and army stoves. Gen. Wood said this latest gift of the war department would be enough to fully equip the two regiments, which will be placed in the field at the civic celebration to be held in Minneapolis in July. Among the equipment are a number of tents which will hold eight men.

The $7,300 appropriated by the state to reimburse the National Guard for the equipment used for relief work at Spooner and Baudette after the forest fires of last year, is also available now.

Gen. Wood announced this morning that the regular summer encampment of instruction will be held at Lake City this summer. The First regiment will leave on July 12, the Third on July 5 and the Second on July 15.

A WOMAN GUIDE OF MAINE.

Maine's famous woman guide, Fly Rod Crosby, was a visitor in Old Town the other day for the first time for many years, having spent most of the time with the Penobscot tribe of Indians.

She is now unable to hunt and fish as she used to, but she retains all her old cheerfulness, wit and strong personal qualities, which have gained her hosts of friends. She is greatly interested in the welfare of the Penobscot Indians, from whom she learned many of the tricks of woodcraft and of the traits and characteristics of animals which have been of such value to her in her woods experiences.

SLAVIC EXPERT'S TOBACCO CREED.

Chicago Tribune: Just now a man may either smoke or not smoke and still have at his back the most eminent medical authorities. Anyone who studied the old physiologies in the public schools will remember what a horror of tobacco and its deleterious effects was inculcated in the minds of impressionable youth, and many of the medical fraternity still oppose the use of tobacco in theory.

The Slavic expert Pawlow has recently made a statement of his tobacco creed in which smoking at least is exonerated from most of the charges made against it. He claims that it does not injure or hamper digestion, but actually aids it. He claims that the pungent products of combustion start a flow of saliva and that as all the glands work in a sort of harmony when saliva flows gastric juice also becomes active. Smoking after a meal is especially beneficial to persons of a hypopeptic tendency because it is certain to set up an increased flow of the gastric juices.

PASSING OF THE PRONG-HORNED ANTELOPE.

Chicago Daily News: The prong-horned antelope, an animal peculiar to North America, is in danger of extinction. This antelope, which has so many peculiarities that naturalists class it in a family by itself, once existed by thousands on the open Western plains. The naturalists of the country fear its absolute extinction in the near future unless protection is given to the few remaining.

In 1908 the biological survey estimated that the total number of antelopes in the United States had been reduced to 17,000. Of these about 10,000 were in Montana, Wyoming and the Yellowstone National park, and the remaining 7,000 were distributed in twelve other states.

HOW HE MET THE JAMES BOYS.

Kansas City Journal: Of the thousands of reminiscences of the days of Jesse James and his brothers, which have been awakened by the death of Mrs. Zerelda Samuels, their mother, an incident in the memory of James A. Gillis is probably the most distinct.

Forty years ago Gillis had just come to Kansas City from his home in the East, and his first position here was as room clerk at the old St. James hotel. On his second night on duty two men rode up to the hotel and registered as Jesse and Frank James. At that time rewards aggregating many thousands of dollars were offered for the capture of the two men, and their reputations had brought them notoriety in all parts of the United States. Gillis, then a young man, was so frightened that he could barely have the men shown to their rooms, but he did muster up enough courage to notify the sheriff that they were in the house.

The sheriff, who had a wholesale regard for the prowess of the brothers, lay in wait for them the next morning, but made no effort to disturb them when they appeared to mount their horses and gallop down Independence avenue. The incident served Gillis as an introduction to the West, and it was many years, he says, before he overcame its effect upon him.

BEER ROUTS WHISKY.

The official figures for the consumption of alcoholic beverages in this country show that the per capita consumption of spirits fell from 2.52 gallons in 1840 to 1.37 gallons in 1909.

Since the drinking of spirits is almost entirely confined to whisky, rum, gin and brandy, it is apparent that the consumption of the liquors which contain the largest proportion of alcohol has been reduced about half.

If the figures for the closing decades of the eighteenth and the early decades of the nineteenth centuries were available, says the Independent, they would show that there was even more "hard drinking" at this early period.

The consumption of wine has more than doubled from 1840 to 1909, increasing from .29 to .70 gallons. A large part of this increase is due to the consumption of native wines.

When the per capita consumption of beer and ale is considered the greatest change is apparent. This has increased from 1.56 gallons in 1840 to 19.97 gallons in 1909. To how great an extent this change is due to the German immigration, which first came to this country in large numbers about 1848, is of course problematical. Many of the wine drinking races, like the Italians, after a brief residence in this country become consumers of beer.

Although there has been a great increase in the total consumption of intoxicants during the period from 1840 to 1909, there has been a change from those drinks containing a high percentage of alcohol to those containing a low percentage—and this is the one cause for encouragement.

A 24-POUND CATFISH ON HOOK AND LINE.

New Orleans Times-Democrat: Arthur L. Zap and Dr. F. E. Hays of Louisville, Ky., while fishing the other day in the Bogue Falay river landed a 24-pound "little blue" catfish. Considering that the catch was made with rod and line, and that the fish, which is an unusual member of the catfish family, is seldom found in these waters, the captors are proud of their prize.

COUNTING HOLES SHOT IN KITE

It was conclusively proven, at the target practice of the Atlantic fleet about ten days ago, that the American battleship can hold its own against an attacking fleet of aeroplanes. During the target practice, the battleship Mississippi conducted the experiment with kites as a substitute for an aeroplane and demonstrated that an enemy approaching through the air would be shot full of holes before it could get near enough to inflict damage. Two box kites were let afloat from the high tower on the Mississippi, one 5 feet and the other 8 feet long. When the smaller kite reached a distance of about 300 yards from the ship an order was given for a squad of ten bluejackets to fire on the kite with regulation rifles. The firing continued for two or three minutes and when the aeroplane target was pulled in it was found that it had been hit about forty times out of about 100 shots. The large kite rose to a height of about 500 feet at a distance of about 5,000 yards. After three volleys from the Springfield rifles of the bluejackets the cord was shot away and the kite sailed off into the distance. There is no question but that the large kite was hit with every volley. After the first volley it could be seen that part of the bunting was torn, but just how many holes were shot through the big kite will never be known. The kites were constructed under the direction of Commander Cleland Davis, acting under orders from Captain William F. Fullam, the commander of the ship. According to the tests the theory that an aeroplane can be successfully attacked only by an aeroplane is disproved. It is likely that aeroplane shooting will become part of all future target practices in the navy.

The trophies won by the various rinks during the past season were awarded and a program of speeches and music given after the dinner. The meal was served by the women of the Holy Apostles' Episcopal church.

Walter Evered, president, welcomed the curlers and their friends to the fifth annual function and stated that the purpose of the gathering was purely social and that it should be the object of all to have a good time. He introduced George J. Mallory as toastmaster.

Mr. Mallory declared that the past witner had been a most successful one, both in a financial and social way. He spoke of the trophies played for and won, of the success of the Western Curling club at the Northwestern bonspiel and took occasion to thank the donors of the trophies.

Stephen H. Jones brought the greetings of the Duluth Curling club, of which he is president. He had some interesting things to say about co-operation between the West Duluth and Duluth clubs and recommended that more contests be held between the clubs in the future, as he desired to see a friendly spirit as well as a keen rivalry prevail. He suggested that a joint committee be appointed next winter to arrange for such contests. Mr. Jones spoke of Duluth's prestige as a center for winter sports. He wanted the moral support of the West Duluth curlers in the attempt of the Duluth association to build a new curling skating and hockey rink next year on London road.

Its Social Value.

L. A. Barnes told the curlers what a factor the club was in the social life of the community, declaring that the association had been about the most important factor in getting the people acquainted with each other. The curling game, declared Mr. Barnes, inspires such characteristics as endurance, patience and skill, and has about it that spirit of liveliness that makes it not only fascinating for the Scotchman, but interesting for the onlooker.

J. Allyn Scott kept the audience in good humor with his explanations of "Why My Rink Did Not Win a Game." In the first place, he said, it was not because they could not curl, for one had only to follow the games and they would see for themselves that they were either defeated in the finals, the semi-finals or in some previous game. He said that, anyway, it was more blessed to give than to receive. This, he said, was the secret of the rink's losses.

Harry Lanners and Neil J. Buckley paid their compliments to the fair sex in response to a toast to "The Ladies." F. H. Martin, who was to have appeared on the program for this toast, was unavoidably absent, and Toastmaster Mallory stated that he would confer the distinction on Mr. Lanners and Mr. Buckley.

The presentation of trophies followed. The donors or their representatives made the presentation speeches and the skips responded. The list of trophies and their winners is as follows:

The Hurst event, four medals, donated by W. F. Hurst, jeweler, won by the A. G. Macauley rink.

The Esterly event, silver cup, donated by E. E. Esterly, jeweler, won by the iitis rink.

The West Duluth Commercial club event, four buttons and cup, donated by the club, won by the Brown rink.

The Henricksen event, silver cup, donated by Henricksen, jeweler, won by the Judson rink.

The James Smith trophy, a special Washington's birthday event, a cut glass punch bowl set, was won by the Judson rink.

The Swanson trophy, a special Christmas day event, donated by A. E. Swanson, four boxes of cigars, won by the Method rink.

After the presentation of the trophies the banqueters repaired to another hall and spent the remainder of the evening in dancing. Flaaten's orchestra furnished the musical program at the dinner and dance.

Much credit for the success of the affair is due to the committee on arrangements which comprised the newly elected officers: Walter Evered, president; Dr. C. R. Keyes, vice president; D. C. Wakeman, secretary, and W. B. Getchell, treasurer. The reception committee consisted of the officers and the following: F. H. Wade, F. H. Martin, N. J. Buckley, Stanley Gilpin, Ed Holland, Frank Ashley, E. J. Zauft, Melvin Olson and W. J. Sullivan.

LUCINDA'S EXPERIENCES.

New York Sun: "Certainly I do have extraordinary experiences," said Lucinda, "and sometimes things happen that I can't account for. You take things like this, for instance:

"Yesterday afternoon I was walking west on the north side of a cross-town street above Thirty-fourth street, in the block between Fifth and Sixth avenues, a good old residence block with a few business places now mixed in, and as I walked along west on this block I heard coming behind me along the street headed in the same direction an automobile.

"There wasn't anything very unusual about that, was there? But do you know when I heard that automobile coming I wondered what would happen to me if anything should happen to it as it came up to where I was, and I looked around to see what I could do. At the moment this thought came to me I was walking in front of a brownstone high stoop house with a basement area in front, this area being depressed about three feet and protected along the inner edge of the sidewalk by a stout stone fence; and I thought that if that automobile should cut up any capers when it got opposite to me —and it would be there now in about two seconds—I would just jump down in that area. But do you know what actually did happen? I will tell you.

"I heard the burr-r-r and whizz of that automobile coming fast, and two seconds late at the same time when I had thought it possible that it might be coming toward me I heard a clatter in the street and when I looked around I saw that automobile half way up across the sidewalk directly opposite to where I was on the other side of the way, looking as if it was going right on up the steps of a house that was there and straight through the front door

"As a matter of fact it didn't climb the steps and it didn't go into the house; the chauffeur checked it on the sidewalk; but if that wasn't an extraordinary happening to see that big automobile—it was a big, heavy limousine—that I had imagined might come toward me and that just one minute before had been coming down the street as fast as it could go, now climbing the sidewalk on the opposite side of the way—if that wasn't an extraordinary happening I don't know what you'd call one.

"But the most extraordinary thing of all about it was that I should have had in advance any thought that anything might happen. I think it might be accounted for in this way:

"Something happened to the automobile that put it for the moment beyond control or beyond complete control, perhaps for the moment altogether beyond control, as the chauefeur realized; and at the same instant he saw me on the sidewalk just ahead and by thought transference he warned me; and then in the next instant he gained sufficient control of the machine to make it swerve in the other direction. I don't pretend to be able to account for all this definitely and finally, but the things I have told you did happen."

WILD DUCK REFUGE.

San Rafael correspondence San Francisco Call: Filled with compassion for the hundreds of starving ducks that lie helpless on the marin shore from the effects of crude oil dumped in the bay, Town Recorder Herbert de la Montanya has converted his home into a refuge for the birds. His friends are bringing them to him by the score and De la Montanya spends his spare moments cleaning the oil from their feathers with hot water and wood ashes.

Aided by his three sons, he has built coops for his feathered patients. His artistic country estate has taken on the appearance of a duck ranch. In one portion of the inclosure the town recorder has erected a shed which serves as a receiving hospital for the ducks.

The feathers of the birds are glued to their sides from the coating of oil. Recorder de la Montanya places the birds on an impovised operating table and scrubs them with ashes and water. When the oil is removed he gives them a good feed and places them in a coop.

The free duck hospital is divided into wards, ducks being housed together according to their species. Canvasbacks, teal, widgeon, bluebills, each have their special department. When the ducks are fat and well again De la Montanya will turn them loose in San Pablo bay for the good of the sport.

A 60,000 RUBLE REAPING JOB.

Rosary Magazine: M. Maxim Kolibaba, a provincial commissionary of the Russian province of the Tauride, had for years attempted to found a girl's intermediate school at Kamrat, but the 60,000 rubles necessary for the building and foundation were not forthcoming. He complained of this to M. Tsanko, a local millionaire, who retorted that he did not believe in education, as what Russia wanted was good agricultural laborers, and sneered at M. Kolibaba as a type of educated good for nothing.

M. Kolibaba retorted that, despite his education, he could reap his own twenty-three acres of oats with a hand sickle and without help, and he undertook to do this in twenty-eight days. The incredulous millionaire declared that if this were done he would subscribe the whole 60,000 rubles needed for the school.

M. Kolibaba thereupon set to work and, despite a temperature of 40 deg. Reaumur, reaped the whole twenty-three acres before the term expired. The millionaire fulfilled the terms of the bet, and paid over the 60,000 rubles for building the school.

M. Kolibaba, who lost fourteen pounds during the operation, is now being bombarded by other localities which want schools and expect the commissary to get money for them by further reaping exploits.

REVENGE AFTER 26 YEARS.

London Express: A tinman named Gastebois living at St. Enogat, near Dinard, met an old school comrade called Beslon by accident some days ago. Gastebois took his friend out to dinner and generally made much of him.

Yesterday the two men lunched together When after luncheon they went into the garden Beslon suddenly drew a revolver. "You brute," he said. "Do you remember what you did to me twenty-six years ago?" Before Gastebois coul answer Beslon fired and as his old friend fell smashed his skull with the butt end of the revolver. Neighbors who had heard the shot took the man prisoner and handed him over to the gendarmes. Gastebois was taken to a hospital, where he died last night. Beslon remained quite cool.

"Twenty-six years ago," he said, "that man struck me when I was defenceless. I have been waiting my opportunity to revenge myself and I am glad that I have done so."

HOW PERFUME IS WEIGHED.

New York Herald: It was the Italian physician Salvioni who devised a microbalance of such extreme delicacy that it clearly demonstrated the loss of weight of musk by volltilization. Thus the invisible perfume floating off in the air is indirectly weighed.

The essential part of the apparatus is a very thin thread of glass, fixed at one end and extended horizontally. The microscopic objects to be weighed are placed upon the glass thread near its free end, and the amount of flexure produced is observed with a microscope magnifying 100 diameters.

A mote weighing one-thousandth of a milligramme is said perceptibly to bend the thread.

RECKLESS USE OF GAS.

Oil and Gas Journal: This winter is witnessing the passing of natural gas in some Ohio towns. For the first time in many years residents are compelled to use coal and wood for fuel.

The Madison Gas & Oil company, that has furnished the fuel at Gibsonburg, issued a statement notifying its patrons that the gas suply had gradually dwindled until it was no longer possible to supply the public. Every effort has been made by officials of the Madison company to connect its mains with those of some of the many companies operating in the central Ohio fields, but without result.

Once the gas center of Ohio, the final failure of the gas is a sad blow to Gibsonburg. That it was a luxury was never realized until the present. During years past the gas was so plentiful that it was wasted with recklessness, as if the supply would never be exhausted. Residents of nearby villages are still enjoying the privileges of gas, although the pressure is weak at times.

LARGE SALES IN INTERIOR

Heavy Purchases of Wheat to Arrive at Chicago—Values Off.

Manitobas Exported—Wheat Overbought—Dry Weather a Factor.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 5.—Wheat lost its early strength today on account of reports of heavy sales of winter wheat, mostly Nebraska, to go to Chicago and profit taking by longs having small and medium sized lines. The situation became congested and the weakness was the natural outcome. The apparent bullish conditions, so far as the immediate future is concerned, were not minimized.

Export business in Manitoba wheat was heavy, foreigners being liberal purchasers on account of reported damage to the Southwestern wheat in Russia because of absence of moisture. The damage, of course, is not noticeable, but it is feared that lack of moisture will prevent the spring wheat from germinating and will interfere seriously with the successful maturing of winter wheat.

May wheat here lost ¼c and July declined a similar distance. Cash wheat was ½c over July. Durum wheat was strong, advancing 1c. Supplies of durum wheat are exceedingly small and the market is on an export basis, but no business is being done. If the Eastern demand should strengthen, the situation would be exceedingly tight. The undertone to the durum market is strong. Rye and oats were unchanged.

Linseed was slightly weaker. May declined 1c and July was unchanged. September was not traded in. A Russian cable said the absence of rain in the Southwest is endangering the seed just sown, as it is feared that much of it will not germinate. The acreage affected by drouth, however, is small compared with the general Russian acreage.

Continued dry weather in the Northwest was the chief cause for the strength in wheat today. There were a few stop loss orders on small accounts at the opening and the market opened considerably higher than yesterday. The bulls seized with some satisfaction on reports from Webster, S. D., which said that dust storms were prevalent in that neighborhood and rain is needed. The Herald wired several towns in North Dakota to get confirmation, if possible, of dry weather and received these few reports:

Minot—Rain is not needed here immediately. Wheat can get along for two or three weeks without it. Grand Forks—Precipitation would be acceptable, but it is not seriously needed immediately. Fargo—Red river valley in fine shape, farmers say. Must have seasonable rains, but moisture not imperative now. Beach—Rain is needed, but not seriously. Williston—Farmers would feel easier if rain comes this week, but think wheat can get along for two weeks yet without moisture. Antler—Farmers say moisture would help a lot. Upham—Rain needed. Situation not critical, however. Turtle Lake—Surface dry, but subsoil has some moisture. Precipitation ought to come soon. Rugby—Wheat just in ground; doesn't need rain right away; need it in two or three weeks, though, badly. Farmers say if usual May rains come there will be no basis for dry weather scare. Fingal—Have had enough moisture for present, but will need more soon. Hamilton—Farmers nervous, but conservative ones say situation not serious.

The government predicts fair and warmer weather for tonight and Saturday in the Northwestern states and scattered showers in the winter wheat region. The Modern Miller's report on the winter wheat situation is bearish.

The Ohio May condition of wheat as wired to Baker by King & Co., of Toledo shows a percentage of 87 compared with 84 for April, 85 last May and 93 for July when the crop was 31,000,000 bushels.

The cash demand for wheat in the leading cash market in the Northwest was good; millers being anxious to purchase guaranteed choice wheat to arrive for which they paid spot prices. Choice spring wheat is scarce. The flour business is irregular as buyers refuse to buy at prices which have been advanced as the result of the bulge in wheat.

Russian news was unfavorable, rain being needed in the newly seeded territory in the Southwest. The United Kingdom was a heavy purchaser of Australian cargoes at full prices asked. Light shipments from India this week induced buying by foreign speculators. Cables came sharply higher.

MARKET GOSSIP

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: Owing to the unexpected firmness in American markets yesterday and the firmness in Buenos Ayres, shorts covered actively at the opening and values were ½d to ¾d higher with the principal support in May. Receipts for three days were light and there was an improved demand for spot with speculators buying on the light shipments from India this week and also the light Argentine shipments to the United Kingdom. Following the opening there was a further advance of ¾d to ½d on the unfavorable reports from Russia and the buying by the kingdom of distant Australian cargoes which are firmly held at an advance. There was general support to the market with shorts and prominent interests buying. Just before midday there was some realizing which resulted in a small decline, but at 1:30 p. m. the market was still strong and ¾d to 1d higher.

The corn market was affected by the firmness in wheat and at the opening values were ¼d to ½d higher. Support was also attributed to the scarcity and firmness of second American offers.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Prices Advance on News of Fair Weather.

Chicago, May 5.—Fair skies today in Minnesota and the Dakotas meant higher prices for wheat on the board of trade in Chicago. With continued absence of rain throughout the spring crop belt, such a result here was almost a certainty in advance. Besides, European markets showed strength as a result of smallness of Argentine shipments and because of less favorable reports from Russia. The local bear crowd seemed demoralized, and wholly disinclined to fight. Opening figures were ⅛@¼c to ⅞c up. July started at 89⅝@89¾c, a rise of ⅜@½c, reacted to 89½c, and then ascended to 89¾@89⅞c. May gained more than 1c a bushel.

Heavy selling however, by the country, led to a decided reaction. It was denied that the drouth har as yet done any actual damage. The close was easy with July ⅜@½c net lower at 88⅜@88⅝c.

The corn pit was bare of offerings. On scant trading the market advanced in response to the firmness of wheat. July opened ½@¾c to ¾c higher at 52⅜@52⅝c, touched 52⅝@52¾c, and later climbed to 53⅜c.

The market subsequently turned easier woth wheat. The close was at 52¾c for July, a net gain of a shade.

The bullish influence of other grain swayed the oats crowd in the direction of higher prices. Business, however, was not large. July started unchanged to ⅛c up at 32⅝c to ⅜c, fell back to 32½c, and rallied to 32⅞@32⅞c.

Provisions eased off on account of weakness in the hog market. First sales were 2½c lower to 2½c higher, with July deliveries $14 for pork, $8.07½ for lard and $7.87½ to $7.90 for ribs.

STOCKS ARE IRREGULAR

Open With Sharp Recovery From Thursday But Decline Again.

Day's Advances in Active Stocks Cancelled and Close Easy.

New York, May 5.—A sharp recovery from the weakness of yesterday characterized the opening of the stock market today. Trading was active and with a few exceptions the improvement extended through the list. Union Pacific and Canadian Pacific gained a point, Reading and Atchison ¾ and United States Steel, Amalgamated Copper and American Beet Sugar ½. Pennsylvania, which closed at 126½ last night, sold this morning at 122⅛ ex-dividend and ex-rights. International Harvester made a further gain of 2½.

Moderate purchases for both accounts sent values a peg higher, the absence of any important selling on the initial advance creating a better sentiment. Interborough-Metropolitan preferred advanced a point, the buying arising from expectations of a favorable outcome of the pending subway negotiations.

A firm tone at advancing prices gave the stock market an appearance of strength during the morning trading. No attempt was made to renew the selling which depressed the market yesterday, the short interest being more concerned with covering than with attempting to extend the movement. Liquidation of long stock also seemed to have ceased, and the demand for securities at the lower levels established yesterday was far in excess of the supply so that prices rose wherever there was any active trading. The advance reached a point in many cases with marked strength in various specialties. The bond market ruled firm with a decided contraction on the volume of dealings.

The market closed easy. After the day's advances in the active stocks had been virtually cancelled the market rallied. The copper shares showed strength and advanced a point on the improved trade outlook. In the last few minutes the market weakened again.

Cotton Market.

New York, May 5.—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 1 to 3 points on the old crop, which was influenced by the cables, but one to three points lower on later positions which reflected a renewal of yesterday's selling movement and a favorable early weather map. During the early trading the market was nervous and unsettled with prices easing off to a net loss of about 4 to 5 points, but around 15.17 for July the old crop bulls gave support and prices during the middle of the morning rallied from the lowest, showing a net gain of about 3 to 5 points on covering by recent sellers and apprehensions that a storm area shown off the Southern coast of Florida might work into the Eastern belt before Sunday.

Spot closed quiet, 10 points higher; middling uplands, 15.45; do gulf, 15.70. Sales, 1,300 bales. Futures closed: May, 15.37; June, 15.36; July 15.39; August, 14.85; September, 13.49; October, 12.99; November, 12.92; December, 12.89; January, 12.88; March, 12.95. The market closed steady.

ENVOY NOTIFIED DIAZ WILL RESIGN?

FIFTEEN WITNESSES WILL SUPPORT DIETZ IN THEIR TESTIMONY

State About Through Presenting Evidence Against Him.

Fred Thorbahn Will Be Last Called By the Prosecution.

Story of Officers' Visit to Cabin in 1905 Is Related.

Hayward, Wis., May 6.—The state today will finish its case against John F. Dietz, charged with the murder of Deputy Sheriff Oscar Harp, according to a statement of District Attorney S. J. Williams.

A few witnesses remain to be examined, following the line of evidence introduced yesterday showing that Dietz resisted the service of legal papers upon him.

The last witness for the state will be Fred Thorbahn, who led the assault on the Dietz home Oct. 8. He will arrive in Hayward at 1:45 this afternoon and is expected to go on the stand as soon as he arrives.

The defense has fifteen witnesses subpoenaed.

The first witness this morning was H. G. Conlin, a member of the posse which waited at the edge of the brush when Former United States Deputy Marshal H. O. Jones and Special Deputy Charles Callahan were forcibly ejected from the Dietz place by John Dietz in 1905.

Conlin testified that when he went to Dietz's place to assist Former United States Marshal Jonas, Dietz told him to "get out," and he "got."

Protest by Dietz.

Several other former officers were called to tell how they attempted to serve papers on Dietz and to arrest him, and when Former Sheriff William Giblin took the stand Dietz appealed to the court to stop the flood of testimony along this line.

"I ask," he said, "that all the testimony regarding this and other cases against me be stricken from the record. The prosecution is trying to make a job lot out this murder case. It looks like a prearranged deal. The only question up now is whether we are guilty of killing Oscar Harp, and all other evidence is immaterial. I move that the last evidence be stricken from the record in spite of what it says in

LOWER RATES FOR WISCONSIN COAL

Commerce Commission Considers Lake Traffic Competition.

Washington, May 6.—On account of water competition, the interstate commerce commission today granted permission to the Pere Marquette railroad to carry coal from Black Rock and Suspension Bridge, N. Y., to Milwaukee and other Wisconsin points at a lower rate than intermediate hauls in the same direction. This is the first exception based upon the difference between all-rail and rail and water rates.

SUFFRAGIST RANKS FORM

Big "Votes for Women" Parade in New York Streets.

Every Station in Life Represented in Fifth Avenue March.

New York, May 6—The ranks of New York's women suffrage advocates were all agog today in preparation for this afternoon's demonstration in aid of the suffragist cause to take the form of a parade down Fifth avenue. More than 2,000 women were expected to join in the march in protest against nonaction by the legislature on the bill giving the ballot to their sex.

The leaders of the demonstration hoped to make it one of the biggest of its kind that has occurred in this country. Practically all the suffrage societies in the city were represented in the movement. Women of wealth, society women, working girls, professional women, all have been participating in the work of preparation, and there was an early gathering at the various society headquarters of womankind ready to take part in the march.

With Bands and Floats.

Weather indications were that there would be no spoiling of feminine finery or marring of the pageant by rain. Accompanied by bands and interspersed with appropriate floats and

NO ELECTION IN COLORADO

Prospects Are That Senatorial Deadlock Cannot Be Broken.

Legal Life of the Legislature Expires at Midnight.

Denver, Colo., May 6—That the fight to elect a successor to the late United States Senator Charles J. Hughes, Jr., will be waged unceasingly today from noon until midnight, the hour for the final adjournment of the legislature, with a probability that the deadlock of the last 120 days will be found unbroken at the finish, were the indications at the beginning of the last day of the eighteenth general assembly.

Efforts to bring the Democratic majority of the legislature to an agreement on the senatorship proved unavailing. A caucus called by the chairman of the Democratic joint conference committee was attended by 36 of the 66 Democrats in the assembly. Of these, 23 voted for Mayor Robert W. Speer of Denver, the other three scattering their votes.

Anti-Speer Caucus Held.

Another caucus, called by the supporters of Former Governor Alva Adams of Pueblo, admittedly for the purpose of preventing the attendance of a legislative majority, 51, at the regular caucus, was attended by 28 Democrats, two Democratic legislators holding aloof from both caucuses.

On the eve of the final struggle, 33 Democrats stand on the platform of "Speer or nobody," and 28 Democrats declare "Nobody rather than Speer." Under existing conditions, either faction is strong enough to prevent an election.

The 34 Republican members of the legislature, with whom rests the balance of power, have consistently refused to give aid of any kind to either of the Democratic factions in the senatorial contest.

OHIO WITNESSES FLEE STATE

One Official Says Last Legislature Was Worst He Ever Saw.

Columbus, Ohio, May 6.—Prosecuting Attorney Turner says he is in receipt of information to the effect that some of the important witnesses who were to have been subpoenaed in the legislative bribe scandal are missing and have probably fled outside state lines.

A well known official who has been connected with the state house for many years, is quoted as having said that this legislature is the most corrupt in his experience and he will probably be summoned before the grand jury.

May Be Perjury Charges.

It has been indicated by Prosecutor Turner that indictments for perjury were likely as a result of some evidence given before the grand jury in connection with the bribery investigation. It has been made clear that lobbyists and the men "higher up," as well as legislators, would be indicted if sufficient incriminating testimony can be secured. The indicted legislators were arraigned yesterday and all pleaded not guilty. Judge Kinkhead of the common pleas court announced that trials would begin during the week of May 15.

CHINESE REBELS THREATEN CITY

Sheklung, Near Hongkong and Canton, May Be Attacked.

Canton, China, May 6.—The revolutionaries are threatening Sheklung, on the East river, fifty-seven miles north of Hongkong and forty-five miles east of this city. The authorities have dispatched troops to intercept them.

The above is the first news dispatch received direct from Canton since the revolutionary outbreak on the night of April 27. It tends to confirm last night's advices from Hongkong, which represented the rebels in greater strength in the district to the east of Canton and north of Hongkong than has appeared from earlier reports.

PLAGUE AND SMALLPOX ARE SCOURGING AMOY.

Amoy, China, May 6—Thirty-eight deaths from the bubonic plague and six deaths from smallpox have occurred here during the two weeks ending yesterday.

FREAK ANIMALS BORN NEAR NEENAH.

Neenah, Wis., May 6—Well developed and lively triplet calves were born to a Jersey cow owned by August Luedke. On the same day a five-legged colt was born to Luedke's horse.

WHERE THE OHIO SCANDAL WAS HATCHED OUT

HARRISON'S ROOM IN THE CHITTENDEN HOTEL, COLUMBUS, OHIO.

This is the room where Detective Harrison made his headquarters. Under the couch, pushed against a communicating door, was placed a dictaphone, through which a stenographer, in the employ of County Prosecutor Turner, took a verbatim report of the conversation between the detective and the Ohio senators. The detectives charge that fifteen or twenty members of the legislature, both of the senate and house, will be implicated. Investigation was brought about by a number of business men and manufacturers of Ohio. The detectives claim that the standard price of a vote was $200.

PEACE CONGRESS IN LAST SESSION

U. J. Ledoux of Canada Is One of the Day's Speakers.

Baltimore, Md., May 6.—The final session of the third National Peace congress today was devoted to consideration of the general topic, "The Interest Which Business Men Have in the Peace Movement." John Hays Hammond presided and among those on the program for addresses were John Ball Osborne, chief of the bureau of trade relations of the state department; Charles Mason Remay of Washington, D. C., and U. J. Ledoux of Canada.

KILLED SHOWING THE CHINESE HOW TO FLY.

Shanghai, China, May 6.—Rene Vallon, the French aviator, fell from a great height today and was instantly killed.

Valion belonged in Paris and had been giving exhibitions in this country for six weeks in the hope of interesting the Chinese government in military aviation. He made the first extended flight by an aviator in China, using a Sommer biplane.

SEVENTY-FIVE ARE OVERCOME BY GAS

New York Hotel Guests' Lives Imperilled---Fire in Another Inn.

New York, May 6.—Seventy-five guests in a hotel patronized by Spaniards were overcome by escaping gas today. The leak was discovered in time to prevent fatalities.

Fire today in the basement of the Hotel Churchill, the old Morton house, filled the building with smoke and caused the upwards of 100 guests to make a hurried exit. Several invalids had to be carried out, but everyone reached the street in safety.

RACE TRACK IS TO BE SOLD AS BUILDING LOTS.

New Orleans, La., May 6.—An offer of $250,000 for the new City Park property of the New Orleans Jockey club has been practically accepted, and it is stated that when minor details and disagreements are settled the deal will be concluded. The offer was made by a local real estate corporation. It is said the property will be converted into building lots.

ARTILLERY TO BE AT SPARTA

Will Be Sent From Forts Snelling, Sheridan and Leavenworth.

Washington, May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Representative Esch today received a letter from Gen. Oliver, assistant secretary of war, in regard to the assembling of troops at Sparta this year. Gen. Oliver says that the department has taken steps to have the field artillery from Forts Sheridan, Snelling and Leavenworth proceed to Sparta so as to reach there by July 1 for the purpose of engaging in target practice and aiding in the instruction of such militia batteries from Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio as may desire to participate. The regular batteries will remain at Sparta till some time in October.

CLOSE FREE LIST DEBATE

House Members Will Vote on Tariff Bill Monday.

Statehood Bills Next to Be Taken Up in Congress.

Washington, May 6.—After two weeks of debate the Democratic bill placing on the free list manufactured articles calculated to benefit the farmers of the country reached its final day of general discussion in the house today. Though there were more who desired to speak on the question than could do so in one day, the agreement to close discussion was not disturbed.

When the bill is taken up under the five-minute rule Monday, to be passed before adjournment, a number of amendments will be presented by members of the minority. The Democratic leaders asserted today, however, that all amendments would be voted down and the bill passed as agreed upon in the Democratic caucus.

Statehood Bills Next.

Interest was centered today in the forthcoming report of the committee on territories relating to statehood for Arizona and New Mexico, which will be the next legislation on the Democratic program to be considered. The sub-committee to which the matter was referred will report to the full committee Monday and it, in turn, will report to the house probably on Tuesday.

Ratification of both Constitutions will be recommended, with the further

Anderson, counselor of the state department, to confer with representatives of Great Britain, Japan and Russia and to negotiate and sign a treaty for the protection and preservation of seals, sea otter and other mammals in the North Pacific ocean.

CLAPP PRAISES T. ROOSEVELT

Also Speaks in Favor of Referendum and Direct Election of Senators.

New York, May 6.—Theodore Roosevelt and his policies were praised in an address delivered last night by United States Senator Moses E. Clapp of Minnesota, chairman of the interstate commerce committee of the senate, at a dinner of the Progressive Republican club. Also so-called progressive clubs of the country should get together, he urged, for the advancement of principles they advocated. The senator also spoke strongly for the referendum and direct nominations, saying that although there were many objections against the system, they were "puerile and pusillanimous" when sensibly considered.

"The American people are some day going to govern this land," he continued, "and not a few favored, selfish individuals. I have traveled much in the East, the North, the West and the South and there is as much dissatisfaction in one part as in the other."

Judge Only Says President's Reply Is Not Yet Complete.

Armistice Extension Is Agreed to By Gen. Madero.

Braniff Tells of His Suggestive Talk With Rebel Leader.

El Paso, Tex., May 6.—2:30 p. m.—The armistice has been officially broken off by Gen. Madero.

El Paso, Tex., May 6.—An answer to the request of Francisco I. Madero, Jr., that President Diaz make public announcement of assurances given privately of his intention to resign, was received here early today by Judge Carbajal, official peace envoy.

It came in a long telegram of three typewritten sheets, signed by President Diaz, but what it contained or when it would be made public were questions which Judge Carbajal early today said he could not answer. Judge Carbajal notified the rebel peace commissioners of the fact that he had received a message that would warrant a conference, and arrangements were made for an immediate meeting.

Not a Full Answer.

Judge Carbajal, at 10:30 o'clock this morning, declared that he had not received a full answer as to the proposition submitted by Francisco I. Madero through his peace commissioners on Thursday. He ascribed the delay to the interruptions in telegraphic facilities, informing Madero to that effect, and suggesting that the armistice which expires at noon today, be extended. Gen. Madero said he would agree to the extension.

At the Madero camp the opinion prevails that Judge Carbajal has received a part of the government's answer, but not all of it. They are confident that an announcement of the intention of President Diaz will be made before the day is over, and are joyfully anticipating it.

The rebel commissioners, having

Mill Worker Then Shoots Himself and Is Expected to Die.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 6.—Charles Michawlaski, aged 31, a mill worker of East Vandergraft, last night shot and killed his 6-month-old baby, wounded his wife and then shot himself. Michawlaski and his wife had been separated since April 17, and it is reported the husband had heard his wife was planning to get a divorce and marry another man. Michawlaski is expected to die.

PETIT BACKS TILDEN'S ACT

Says He Cannot Be Forced to Show Private Accounts.

Chicago, May 6.—Judge A. J. Petit in the circuit court today declared that the Illinois senate could not force inspection of the private accounts of Edward Tilden.

His decision, having this effect, was to uphold the writ of habeas corpus obtained by Tilden, G. W. Benedict and W. C. Cummings after they had been arrested on charges of contempt of the state senate in refusing to present the accounts to the Helm committee.

The decision required nearly an hour to read, and included a quantity of the verbatim testimony taken before the Helm committee at Springfield.

Tilden's Oath Considered.

It was seen from the first few minutes' reading that the judge was inclined to uphold the contention of the defendant's attorney, Nathaniel C. Sears, that the senate had not the right to force entry to the private accounts of a person named as indirectly as Sears averred Tilden was, especially when that person, under oath, declared none of his accounts would throw any light on the subject at issue.

Tilden was named by Clarence Funk of the International Harvester company as a person to whom he was directed to send a check for $10,000 to make up a fund of $100,000 alleged to have been used in electing United States Senator William Lorimer.

CHIPPEWAS ON WARPATH

Want Uncle Sam to Pay Them for Lands Taken.

Important Bills Introduced By Congressmen Miller and Hammond.

FROM THE HERALD WASHINGTON BUREAU.

Washington, May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Sweeping changes in the administration of affairs on Minnesota Indian reservations are contemplated in several bills presented in the house of representatives by Representative Winfield Scott Hammond of the Second Minnesota district. During the last three weeks Mr. Hammond has been carefully looking into the situation concerning the several tribes of Chippewas, and has held several consultations with the White Earth delegation now in Washington, of which Rev. C. H. Beaulieu is the spokesman. He has also conferred with Representative Miller of Duluth, who will late today introduce two or three important Indian bills.

One of these measures provides for putting into practical operation the provisions of law enacted away back in 1889 when Senator Nelson was in the house, and which bears his name. Mr. Miller proposes a board of education or school board to be elected under a primary system by all the Indian allottees on the Chippewa reservations. Instead of sending young Indians down to Carlisle, Pa., Mr. Miller would educate them at home until they are prepared to enter the Keewatin school in Wisconsin, and $1,500 is appropriated for sending thirty high school graduates there. The board of education for the Indian schools is to consist of three members, who will receive $1,000 a year each. They will hold civil service examinations for employes and teachers.

Big Sum For Chippewas.

Representative Hammond's principal bills calls for an appropriation of $1,702,000 for the payment to the Chippewas of interest due them on funds which are placed to their credit in the United States treasury, which have accumulated for the past twenty years. Coupled with this is a provision for an accounting between the Chippewas and the government.

Another bill of great importance to Minnesota provides for immediate reference to the court of claims of a balance due the Chippewas for pine land sold during Cleveland's and McKinley's administrations amounting to more than $2,000,000. It is set forth that millions of pine was bought at a nominal figure, some as low as 65 cents per 1,000, owing to errors made by government estimators. In this connection a report submitted by Col. J. George Wright in 1896 has been dug up, showing how the Indians were defrauded of their property.

Former Congressman James A. Tawney considered a proposition to prosecute this claim before he accepted his appointment on the International waterway commission, and Charles A. Towne was once employed to look after it.

Are On Warpath.

The Chippewa delegation here are really on the warpath so far as legislation and investigations are concerned. They style themselves "progressives" and want Uncle Sam to pay them at an appraised value for 247,000 acres of forest reserve taken from them under the Morris act of 1903. They also demand pay for ten sections of standing pine and all the pine left for reforestation purposes under the existing statutes.

Minnesota senators and representatives are coming to the conclusion that the policy of the Interior department and the Indian office for the past ten years has retarded the growth and development of a large section of Northern Minnesota.

IN THE DAY'S WORK AT WASHINGTON

Calling In House Members.

Washington, May 6.—Recognizing that the real fight over the free list bill will come Monday, the leaders of both parties in the house have issued preemptory orders to absent members to return at once to Washington. The bill will be taken up for amendment under the five-minute debate rule. Efforts will be made by the Republicans to amend it in almost every particular. For many of the amendments Republicans are counting on scattering Democratic support. The Democratic leaders expect the measure to be adopted, however, with little or no change except by the addition of certain amendments definitely approved by the ways and means committee.

Warburton For Free List.

Representative Warburton of Washington, a newly elected Republican member of the house of representatives, has announced his intention of supporting the Democratic free list bill. Mr. Warburton said many of the Republican criticisms of the bill undoubtedly were well founded, but others overdrawn. He believed the bill would not do all its Democratic sponsors expected of it, but it was a step in the right direction. He urged the taking of the duty off sugar.

For and Against.

Speeches in favor of the free list bill were delivered yesterday by Representatives McHenry of Pennsylvania, Ansbury of Ohio, Hensley of Missouri, McCoy of New Jersey, Littlepage of West Virginia, Dixon of Indiana Bartlett of Georgia, and Clark of Florida. Speeches against the bill were made by Representatives Wilder of Massachusetts, Farr of Pennsylvania and Sloan of Nebraska and J. M. C. Smith of Michigan.

Mr. Bartlett attacked the so-called "cotton bagging trust." He said there was evidence that manufacturers of jute bagging for baling cotton were operating through an understanding equivalent to a combination. Mr. Gillette of Massachusetts, challenged the statements and Mr. Bartlett cited testimony before the ways and means committee in 1909. He declared the Southern farmers were discriminated against in that cotton bagging was dutiable, while binding twine was free of duty, and that Southern planters had paid $5,000,000 to the alleged "bagging trust" in five years.

War Department Probe.

Investigation of the war department will be begun Monday by the house committee on expenditures in the war department. The mobilization of the military forces in Texas will be used as a basis for the inquiry.

After Shoe Machine Men.

A bill aimed at the United Shoe Machinery company has been introduced by Representative Peters of Massachusetts. The bill provides that any owner or beneficiary of a United States patent cannot forbid the use of other machinery when leasing his patent. The United Shoe Machinery company leases its machines under contract prohibiting the lessees from using the machines of any other firm, and in this way, it is charged, controls the shoe trade. The bill was referred to the committee on interstate and foreign commerce.

All Men Honored are Dead.

Seven distinguished Americans now dead are named among the active members of the American Academy of Arts and Letters in a bill creating that body introduced in the house by Representative McCall of Massachusetts. When the academy was originally proposed, the now deceased members were living, and in presenting the bill to this congress revision of the personnel was overlooked. The seven were Samuel L. Clemens (Mark Twain) of Connecticut; Charles F. McKim of New York, Richard Watson Gilder of New York; Edward Everett Hale of Massachusetts; Julia Ward Howe of Massachusetts; Francis Marion Crawford of New York, and John La Farge of New York.

"THE ERL KING'S DAUGHTER"

Advance Sale for Choral Club Concert Assures Large Audience.

The advance sale of seats for "The Erl King's Daughter," which will be given at the Lyceum theater on Wednesday, May 17, by the Duluth Choral club, has been brisk and the outlook for an enthusiastic audience is good.

The society is newly organized and this concert will be its first public appearance.

The "Erl King's Daughter" is a dramatic opera full of splendid ensemble work and rich in choral work. It opens with a pastoral movement, hinting of wedding joys, quickens with the themes of youth and love, utters ominous warnings of the Erl King's domain and reaches its crashing climax in "He Madly Rides," the death flight of the knight to his home. George Suffel will sing the role of Sir Oluf, Miss Clara Williams of Minneapolis will sing the title role and Miss Mary Syer Bradshaw will take the part of Sir Oluf's mother. Alfred Wiley will act as conductor of the club.

EXPLOIT THE NORTHWEST

The Northwest Development League Made Permanent Body.

Will Hold Annual Land Show in Minnesota—Duluth Man an Officer.

Helena, Mont., May 6.—The Northwestern Development league yesterday adopted the report of the committee on organization declaring the object of the league to be the exploitation of the resources of Washington, Oregon, Idaho, North and South Dakota, Montana, Minnesota and Alaska. Provision is made for meeting in the Twin Cities next December.

An address was made by Louis W. Hill, president of the Great Northern Railway company. Mr. Hill referred in glowing terms to the great development in recent years of the states in the northwest, and in an optimistic strain touched upon the development that is to come. His assertion that the northwest is richer in natural resources and offered greater opportunities than any spot on the face of the earth caused vociferous applause. He urged the exercise of common sense in the conservation of natural resources.

Resolutions were adopted advocating a more liberal policy concerning forest reservations and the locating of mining claims on the reserves.

Duluth Man Vice-President.

At the closing session last night Lewis Penwell, of this city, was elected president, and among the vice-presidents elected are:

Minnesota—J. H. Dight of Duluth; South Dakota—S. R. Vessey, of Pierre; North Dakota—John Gruegger, of Williston. Among the executive committeemen are: Minnesota—C. L. Kluckhoin, of St. Paul; North Dakota—E. Y. Sarles of Hillsboro.

The committee on permanent organization of the association reported as follows:

"This organization shall be known as the Northwest Development league. It shall have for its object the exploitation of the resources and opportunities of the states of Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, the Dakotas and Minnesota and the territory of Alaska. Any commercial business or development organization within the boundaries of which the league claims for its field shall be eligible to membership on conditions to be determined by the executive committee.

Land Show in Twin Cities.

"The league shall hold its meetings in June and December of each year. The June meeting shall be known as the Northwest Development congress. That for June, 1912, shall be held in Seattle; that for June, 1913, in Spokane, and thereafter it shall be held in succession in one or other of the chief cities of Washington, Oregon, Idaho or Montana.

"The December meeting shall be known as the Northwest Land show and shall be held alternately in the Twin Cities.

"The executive committee shall determine the basis of representation in executive sessions of each June and December meeting, but all other arrangements for each meeting shall be in charge of the most numerous commercial organization of the city where the meeting is to be held, which shall also defray the expenses of the meeting.

"The officers of the league shall consist of a president, two vice presidents, a treasurer, a secretary and an executive committee of nine members. The president, vice presidents and treasurer shall be chosen by this convention and shall serve until the election and qualifications of their successors in June, 1912. They shall perform the duties usually pertaining to such officers, and the treasurer, if so requested, shall execute, an adequate bond at the expense of the league.

Salaried Secretary.

"The secretary shall be chosen by the executive committee, which shall also fix his salary and the headquarters of the league. He shall under the direction of the committee, conduct the publicity work of the league and foster the organization of local development league within the states composing the league.

"The president of the league shall be chairman of the executive committee, other members of which shall be chosen in this manner. The delegates from each state and territory shall assemble at the June meeting of the league and by a majority vote choose one of their number to serve such state or territory as its executive committeeman for a period of one year. The members of the executive committee chosen today, however, shall serve until the election and qualification of their successors in June, 1912.

"The executive committee shall meet for the transaction of business at the headquarters of the league on the first Thursday of January, April, July and October in each year. A special meeting of the executive committee shall be called by the chairman whenever he is petitioned to do so by at least three of its members. Five members of the executive committee shall raise funds necessary for the work and shall authorize and audit all expenditures, but it shall incur no obligations in the name of the league until sufficient moneys have been subscribed to meet them."

CHAMP CLARK LAUDS PEACE

Speaker Is Toastmaster at Banquet in Baltimore.

National Peace Congress Is Made Permanent Organization.

Baltimore, Md., May 6.—Speaker Champ Clark of the national house of representatives, in presiding as toastmaster at the banquet of the third peace conference in Baltimore last night, lent his council for world peace. Mr. Clark said:

"The proper function of a toastmaster is not to make a speech himself, but to introduce the speech-makers. It may be proper, however, to state that my voice is not for war but for peace—peace consistent with national honor and with national safety.

"My dear friends, Mr. Speaker Henderson was a colonel during the Civil war and lost a leg at Corinth. Several years ago, in beginning a speech to the Grand Army at Indianapolis he said: 'War is my theme and I hate it.' So say most rational human beings. So say the vast majority of the men who have fought valorously.

"Good men and good women have the peace movement as a harbinger, not of the millennium, but of a far better state of affairs than has existed on earth at any time since Cain slew Abel.

Position Makes for Peace.

"We should lead resolutely and consistently to this movement. There is every reason why we should do so. Our geographical situation, defended by the sea on east and west with friendliest neighbors on north and south, together with our immeasurable wealth and vast population, constantly and rapidly growing vaster, makes our position practically impregnable. With friendship for all nations and entangling alliances with none, with no desire to over-reach or encroach upon any nation, we can with no selfish motive, but with a sincere desire to promote the happiness and welfare of the whole human race, lead in this glorious undertaking, thereby helping to realize Tennyson's gorgeous vision of universal peace:

" 'When the war drum throbs no longer,
and the battle flags are furled,
In the parliament of man, the federation of the world.'

"In this self-appointed humanitarian task let us all be encouraged by John Milton's sublime utterance, 'Peace hath her victories no less renowned than war.' "

Indorse Taft's Plan.

Resolutions crystallizing the sentiments which have inspired the sessions of the congress and marking the development of the peace movement throughout the country, were adopted by the delegates. They contain a hearty indorsement of the federal administration's efforts in behalf of world peace through the treaty of arbitration with Great Britain and for the establishment of the international prize court and of the international court of arbitration.

The suggestion by James Speyer, a New York banker, that nations should prevent, as far as possible, loans being raised by the subjects or citizens in order to enable foreign nations to carry on wars, is favored, and the United States government is requested to include this matter in the program of the third Hague conference. This resolution was submitted by Isaac N. Seligman, another leading banker of New York city.

Want League of Peace.

The resolutions urge this government to enter upon negotiations with other powers looking toward the formation of a league of peace planned simply to settle by amicable means all questions, of whatever nature, which may arise between the contracting powers.

A general arbitration treaty on the lines of the proposed treaty with Great Britain is favored, as is also a continuous study of armaments by official commissions of the various governments interested.

The proposed celebration of the 100 years of peace between the English-speaking nations is approved and the congress pledges its support to the movement.

The gratitude of the congress is expressed to Andrew Carnegie and Edwin Ginn of Boston for their munificent contributions to the cause of peace.

Under the name of the American peace congress, the present body becomes a permanent institution, meeting once in two years. This action was taken to meet the need for a central representative body which shall serve to co-ordinate the efforts of all the societies in America devoted to the settlement of international disputes by methods other than war.

SEVEN MINERS ASPHYXIATED

Five Suffering From Gas Fumes as Result of Hartford Mine Fire.

Negaunee, Mich., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rescuers are still trying to reach the workings of the Hartford mine of the Republic Iron & Steel company here, which caught fire yesterday morning, asphyxiating seven miners and leaving five in a critical condition from the effects of the fumes. The dead:

RICHARD YELLAND, married.
WILLIAM YELLAND, his son, aged 18.
JOHN TABLYN, married.
HERBERT DOWER, married.
HARRY WARRY, single.
EDWAD PUSKE, single.
AUGUST FEDERICKSON, married.

The bodies of Edward D. Puske, Herbert Dower, Harry Warry and John Tablyn were recovered by rescue parties last night.

All the men were smothered by the smoke and gas from the fire. The fire broke out on the third level of the mine, about 400 feet underground. It is the theory that a miner left a lighted candle too near the woodwork of the shaft.

The fire seems to have forced its way into the Cambria mine which adjoins, as most of the smoke is coming from that shaft. The loss will be heavy. All of the dead lived in Negaunee.

Lighting Talks

NUMBER 7 DULUTH, MAY 6, 1911

LIGHT INSURANCE

YOU want WHAT you want WHEN you want it.

When you buy electric current for light or power you want to be sure that you can depend on it—that the "juice" will not fail at any hour, day or night, when you want it.

LIGHT INSURANCE is just as essential to Duluth's homes and business houses as fire insurance; and in building up the business of The Duluth-Edison Electric Company we have never lost sight of that fact. Our constant endeavor has been and is to maintain at all times RESERVE MACHINERY enough to make a shut-down from accident an impossibility.

So when we contracted to buy electric current at wholesale from the Great Northern Power Company for our lighting and power business, we did not dismantle or abandon our own generating plant, but kept it in first-class repair and first-class condition, and we keep the steam up at that plant for 24 hours a day, every day in the year. Why? In order to be prepared for any emergency—in order to GUARANTEE LIGHT INSURANCE to every customer of this company.

The service we get from the Power Company is excellent; there is no complaint on that. But accidents will happen, even in the best of electric generating stations, and while not frequent, they do sometimes occur here. For example: An accident forced the Great Northern Power Company to shut down for a few minutes at 5 o'clock on the afternoon of December 17, last.

At that hour on that day Duluth's stores were crowded with Christmas shoppers. Besides the losses the merchants would have suffered through missing sales and by thefts, the possibility of disastrous panic was averted solely by the fact that we are always prepared for such an emergency. By simply throwing a switch the whole lighting "load" was instantly taken on by our reserve plant, and Duluth's Electric Light service was not interrupted.

This Light Insurance is one of the things we mean by the BEST SERVICE. It cannot be guaranteed except by maintaining a reserve plant in constant readiness—for YOU know that Electricity for light cannot be kept in storage, but must be generated as it is needed and used.

This Light Insurance, further, is one of the PROOFS that we are building for the future, and that we are in this Electric Lighting business here TO STAY, no matter what happens.

Think on these things—and watch for the next "Lighting Talk" in next Tuesday's Herald.

McNAMARAS PLEAD JUNE 1

Brothers Are Arraigned in Court at Los Angeles.

McManigal Is Not to Be Given Immunity for Confession.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 6.—No further official acts of consequence are scheduled until Tuesday next in the cases of John J. McNamara and his brother, James B. McNamara, arraigned yesterday on charges of murder and of dynamiting, with June 1 fixed as the time for them to plead. Judge Walter Bordwell will confer with the prosecutor and the defense on Tuesday regarding the question of bail, in case he should decide to grant it, to John J. McNamara on the charge of dynamiting the Llewellyn Iron works, which is a bailable offense.

A few hours after the arraignment yesterday Leo M. Rappaport, attorney for the defense, left his hotel and presumably has gone to San Francisco to confer with labor leaders there who are said to have placed in his hands evidence which will affect the defense in a favorable manner.

McManigal Not Arraigned.

Although Ortie McManigal, who is said to have confessed and implacated the McNamara brothers, was charged with dynamiting in the same indictment with the secretary of the iron workers' organization, he has not been arraigned and is not expected to appear in court before the trials of the McNamaras. The district attorney declared McManigal will not be given immunity because of his alleged confession.

At the arraignment, Assistant District Attorney Ford read all the nineteen indictments charging the men with the murder of employes of the Times plant. Accused with the brothers in the indictments were William Caplan, alleged to have been an assistant of James B. McNamara in the explosion, and four others, one a woman, who were masked by the names of "John Doe," "Richard Roe," "John Stiles," and "Jane Doe."

The accusation was followed by a list of the scores of witnesses examined by the grand jury in the weeks following the Times disaster and with the late addition of Ortie E. McManigal.

FURTHER ACTION IN RADIO WIRELESS CASE.

Chicago, May 6.—Application for an ancillary receiver for the affairs of the Radio Wireless Telephone & Telegraph company, the De Forest concern, was made in the United States district court yesterday by Jesse E. Watson of New York, who on March 11 was named temporary receiver. The concern, capitalized at $2,000,000, exploited the invention of the wireless telephone by Lee De Forest, a Wisconsin man. The petition says no money outside that received from the sale of stock was taken in. The corporation had an office in Chicago and furnished wireless telephone and telegraph service to two lake boats.

PROFESSORS GET AN EARLY START

Examination of Proposed Sites for Farm School Being Made.

Prof. Andrew Boss and Prof. Thomas P. Cooper of the state agricultural school, who are in Duluth looking over the proposed sites for the demonstration farm school provided for by the last legislature, put in a busy day today. They started out at 7 o'clock this morning in an automobile and visited several sites on the hill, taking notes on the location, tarnsportation facilities and soil. They were accompanied by A. B. Hostetter, superintendent of agriculture of the Commercial club.

The two educators spent all day yesterday on the hilltop also. They visited several of the proposed sites and expressed themselves as satisfied that an ultimate selection that would be eminently satisfactory could be made.

Twelve proposed sites have been submitted and the two visitors now in the city will eliminate as many as fall short of the requirements. If soil surveys are deemed necessary, they will be made on other sites, and the final selection and recommendation to the board of regents will be made by Dean A. F. Woods of the agricultural schools.

THIRTEEN ALLEGED SWINDLERS ARRESTED.

New York, May 6.—Charles W. McDonald, wealthy contractor of Camden, N. J., caused the arrest last night of thirteen men who, he charges, were implicated in a plot to rob him through the wire-tapping game.

McDonald, according to the police, made the gang believe he had fallen in with their plan to make a lot of money through advance information of winning horses, and drew $21,000 from the bank to finance the game. Meanwhile he had notified the police and the trap was laid which led to the arrests in a house in the tenderloin. The police confiscated a number of telegraph and telephone instruments whose wires, they allege, led only as far as the walls. They also seized alleged worthless checks aggregating $159,009 and $249 in currency.

Several of those arrested, the police claim, are old offenders in the wire-tapping game.

CURES OF MEN!
Wrought Scientifically By Progressive Medical Specialists—Most Complicated Diseases Give Way to Their Methods

If you want to see the revelations of science used in the service of suffering humanity you must see the Duluth Specialists. Among citizens of Duluth and Superior the reporter today found in the crowded offices men from Bergland, Mich., Cloquet, Calumet, Mich., Ballard, Wash., Chicago, Bemidji and Aurella, Iowa, with Tumors and festering Cancers, Gall Stones, crippled from Rheumatism, ulcers of legs and the most rare diseases. Their fame has reached far beyond the borders of our state and crowds their offices almost daily.

There are people who bear the mark of pain and suffering from disease of long standing, and, asked why so many men suffer, they explained that constipation and stomach troubles cause self-poisoning. To relieve this trouble, men are forming drug habits and become slaves to it, although they know very well relief is only temporary, and their condition is worse than before. If you feel tired in the morning and you detect your skin to be sallow, your tongue coated and you have a feeling of fullness in your abdomen, you may know that your intestines are diseased and they cannot perform the work of digestion.

You are getting pale and losing flesh and your feeling tells you that you are a sick man. You have started the process of self-poisoning, your blood is diseased and your blood vessels harden, which slowly but surely prepares your grave and your suffering is a long one.

Rectal Piles cause cancer and many other diseases. The bad and stagnant blood is forming piles, and these in turn result in a train of other diseases, as cancer, constipation, rheumatism, sciatica, pain in the back, kidney trouble, heart and liver diseases and nervousness. SCHOOL BOARD DISCUSSES PLAYGROUND AND COAL

Directors Favor the Purchase of Fuel at Private Sale.

Date Set for Election—Engineers and Janitors Named.

The board of education held a meeting last night at which little but routine business came up. The only discussion was on the subject of playgrounds, the committee on buildings and grounds making a recommendation that the areaway in which the children play at the Washington school be paved. Objection was made to the proposed hard pavement, some of the directors expressing a preference for an earth surface for playgrounds. The subject was left open.

Director Barnes tried to open the subject of coal purchases, which has given the board many an anxious moment in the past. The proposition to advertise for bids was promptly turned down by the members of the board, and the present practice of buying coal at private sale will be retained.

The first steps toward arranging for the annual school election, which will be held July 15 this year, were taken. Petitions were called for, to be filed with the clerk by June 30. The directors whose terms expire this year are W. E. Magner, president of the board, L. D. Campbell and E. R. Cobb. All will very likely be called upon to be candidates for re-election.

The committee on maintenance of buildings and grounds made its annual recommendations for repairs to buildings during the summer vacation. Less money will be spent for that purpose this year than for some years, only necessary expenditures being made. Following is the estimated cost of the repairs at the different schols: Adams, $100; Bryant, $200; Central High, $1,000; Endion, $240; Emerson, $400; Ely, $200; Ensign, $250; Fond du Lac, $65; Fairmont, $175; Franklin, $200; Irving, $1,050; Jefferson, $650; Lester Park, $450; Lakeside, $425; Longfellow, $160; Monroe, $200; Madison, $230; Nettleton, $470; Oneota, $200; Radisson, $175; Salter, $125; Smithville, $10; Stowe, $450, Washington, $800; Washburn, $250; Webster, $150; Whittier, $150. Materials, $2,000.

On recommendation of the committee on schools and teachers, the following new teachers were engaged last evening: Harriett E. Dike, Anna C. Carlson, Anna L. Boucher, Alice Meighen, Jean B. Crosby, Mae A. Spencer, Marianna Hoag.

Supt. Denfeld recommended at last evening's meeting that the Bay View Heights school be closed. The matter was referred to the committee on schols for a report at the next meeting. In recommending the closing of the school, Supt. Denfeld said:

"Last week I visited the Bay View Heights school. I have felt for some time that it was unwise to keep this school in operation. It is out of the way and yet only a mile or a mile and a half from Proctor, within easy reach of the West Duluth incline. The largest number of pupilsenrolled during the year has been 18; the present number is 18. Four of these pupils are soon to move to Virginia. This will leave 14 pupils for the remainder of the present school year. Our present plan has been to send pupils of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades to larger schools in West Duluth. The teacher of Bay View Heights informs me that in September next six of the fourteen pupils in the school will enter the sixth, seventh and eighth grades. As pupils of these grades have been attending the larger schools in West Duluth, it will leave only eight pupils for grades below the eighth. These eight pupils will be distributed in the first, second, third, fourth and fifth grades, making the school exceedingly small. Present indications are against new entries in the fall. It is hardly worth while to keep the school running for eight pupils, especially when the school costs $82 per month. The present expense for this school is: Teacher, $65; janitor, $10; about $7 for fuel, making the cost for the present enrollment, which doesn't average more than sixteen pupils, for the year, over $5 per pupil per month, or an average cost per pupil in this school for the school year 1910-11 of $50. If the next year's enrollment is to be only eight pupils, it will be double this amount per pupil; in other words, it will cost the board of education to keep open the Bay View Heights school for the coming year $100 per pupil. This certainly seems to me worth thinking about, and in view of the expense, I therefore suggest closing the school and permitting the pupils to attend the larger schools in West Duluth, which can easily care for them."

MUST REMOVE ALL OBSTRUCTIONS

Many Show Cases and Signs Project Over the Walks.

Obstructions along the sidewalks must be removed, according to notices which are being sent out from the office of the assistant city attorney.

Considerable complaint has been made against show cases and signs which obstruct the walks, particularly in the downtown section. It is stated that it makes no difference whether the obstruction is fastened to the side of the building or standing on the walk. They must be taken away if they project over the building line. Pedestrians have been declaring that the streets are narrow enough as they are and that the obstructions are a nuisance.

THOMPSON WILL GO OVER WORK

Diver Agrees to Repair Defects in the Intake Pipe.

Capt. H. H. Thompson, the diver who had the contract for repairing the intake pipe at the Lakewood pumping station last fall, agreed after a conference with the members of the board of water and light commissioners this morning to go over his work and correct any defects that may be evident.

Capt. Thompson told the board this morning that some parts of the specifications were not construed by him as they were by the board and on that account some of the work might not be up to expectations. He said that he would go over the work again, tighten any bolts which may be loose, place the riprap properly and cement the expansion band inside of the pipe, as provided by the specifications.

The fact that the work was not done satisfactorily was discovered by Harry Halverson, a diver sent here by the Great Lakes Dredge & Dock company of Chicago to make an examination of the work for the water board. Halverson submitted an unsatisfactory report, but the substance of it was that some defects were evident. Mr. Thompson promptly offered to go over the work and comply with his contract.

MOURNING FOR EDWARD VII ENDS

Formal Period Closes With Anniversary of His Death.

London, May 6.—The court mourning for King Edward was ended today, the first anniversary of the death of the monarch. The occasion was commemorated with a memorial service at Windsor, which was attended by the Queen Mother Alexandra, King George, Queen Mary, practically all the royal family and the members of the king's household. The accession of King George was celebrated with the customary naval and military salutes and the dressing of the warships.

PENMANSHIP IN SCHOOLS

Not What It Should Be, Says Superintendent Denfeld.

Gratified at Results in Manual Training—New High School Courses.

Supt. Denfeld gave some interesting facts on school work in his report to the board last evening. He touched upon the work in penmanship in the schools and also referred to the changes in the course of study in the Central high school, put into effect for the first time this year.

He said in his report:

"During the past month most of the schools have been visited. The work seems to be moving along as usual—no marked changes in any particular direction, unless it be in that of penmanship. Our teachers are awakening to the fact that the penmanship has not been what it should be. A little rivalry between the different schools as well as between the upper grades in the same building is producing good results. Principals of several buildings have exchanged specimens of their work to the advantage of the several schools. No more time has been devoted to the subject although it is acknowledged that better results would be secured were it possible for us to give more practice on drill. We have tried to encourage the teachers to send work in penmanship home with the pupils for practice. Often parents dislike to have children bring work home, thinking that the school day is long enough and the time out of school should be devoted to other things. In the upper grades, beginning with the fifth grade especially, it seems almost impossible to do all of the work required in the time devoted to the school session. Work that depends especially upon drill ought to have some time devoted to it during school hours. The teachers do not require children to get lessons out of school, although home tasks are assigned, and most children find it necessary to give some of their time out of school to the preparation of school tasks.

Manual Training.

"I am especially gratified with the results in manual training throughout the system. The wood work is very well systematized. The iron work is moving along in both the Central and Industrial high schools. It has been impossible to get the molding room in good working order, but this will be done next year. I think we are now equipped in the manual training department of the Central high school, to furnish tables and such things as are required in the several rooms, in addition to teachers' desks. In talking with the director of manual training, I find that he is ready to do this and even anxious to make the department contribute articles that can be manufactured and so save expense. I am sure that from year to year we can add book shelves and even cabinets, so that only the cost of the lumber will be contributed by the board, the work being done by the pupils. It seems to me that this is the direction in which our manual training work should tend. Even in the iron department it may be possible to make tools that can be used in the different buildings. Certainly with our present equipment we are ready to turn out such articles as are usable and needed in the schools themselves. It is our intention to make this department in a measure self-supporting.

"The manual training course, however, should be continuous throughout the grades—some sort of hand labor should precede the wood work of the seventh and eighth grades. Our present plan is to do a little paper cutting and paper folding, and card board work, in the lower grades. In one or two schools basketry has been undertaken, especially in the Webster school, where some excellent baskets have been made, which are a credit to the pupils doing the work. I think this work (basketry) should be carried on more generally. All schools in the city of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades should be required to spend some time in this work. It need not absorb much of the school time—an hour a week will be sufficient. Most of the work might be done at home. This is the way it has been carried on in the Webster school. While basketry is manual training, and should be closely connected with the work in that department, it nevertheless has a close conection with the arts and crafts work and so might be a phase of drawing and perhaps should be under the direction of the supervisors of drawing. Miss Carey, of the drawing department in the Central high school, has given some attention and much assistance to the teachers and pupils in the Webster school. Another year it is our purpose to secure a better articulated course in drawing and manual training covering the twelve grades. We wish the instructors in drawing and manual training to consider the matter and evolve a course that will be well balanced.

High School.

"The work of the high schools on the whole has been very satisfactory. There are some results, however, that are not up to our expectations. We are anxious to have all the workers of each department working to a definite end. The English course should be continuous and progressive from the first year to the fourth. It is easy to observe the continuity and progress in the department of mathematics, but in the English work there are so many views—the requirements of colleges and of the business world—and unless these are considered especially in the matter of composition and appreciation of literature, there can be no progress. The freshman school teacher should take the pupil as she finds him, with the preparation given in the grades. Even in the grades the emphasis may be laid upon some feature of the work that is not very essential. I have tried to ascertain the importance the several teachers attach to the language and grammar work in the grades by asking them to submit to me the points that ought to be presented in each of the grades. With this information it is possible to outline a course that will be continuous from at least the fifth grade through the high school. Of course, it is impossible to do work of the same value for each child. I am inclined to think that dropping the Latin out of the eighth grade has not been especially helpful to the English. There are so many Latin derivatives that the student gets a better command of his English and larger vocabulary, and so has a better vehicle for his thought, than if only the English language is taken up. Latin was dropped from the grades two years ago. Students entering the present year high school have on Latin. They do not know the meaning of words and are forced to go to the dictionary. I am afraid their composition work is not entirely satisfactory. Of this, however, I shall be better informed within a few days. I have urged all the high school teachers of English to carefully consider the work and, with the principals of the high schools, evolve a course for the high school that will be continuous and satisfactory and in every way be practical for the boy who enters any field of activity after graduation.

"In the department of history the introduction of English history for the first year in place of ancient history seems to have been a move in the right direction; at least, the instructors inform me that the students get a better hold of history work and make more progress. The change was no mistake. In this department we have a very strong force and are getting good results.

"Perhaps it is not necessary to speak of the other high school departments. While the teachers are doing their best, some modifications ought to be made in the course of study. These modifications, which are not to any extent radical, but simply balance the present course, offering possibly more extensive work in the commercial course, not requiring many different subjects for the certificate of two years. The short course is accordingly divided into an accounting course and a stenographic course. The boy taking the accounting course doesn't need the stenography, and the boy or girl taking the stenographic course doesn't need to prepare himself or herself for the bookkeeping work. This plan slightly changes the work of the first two years."

SUPERIOR EARLY PIONEER PASSES AWAY

John Robinson, pioneer resident, who before any railroads were built to the head of the lakes, carried mail by dog teams from St. Paul to Duluth and Superior, died at 10 o'clock this morning at his home, 1512 Belknap street, at the age of 80 years.

Robinson came to the Northland in 1854 and was one of the best known of the pioneers in the early history carrying mail from St. Paul to Superior, he lived at St. Croix Falls, Minn.

Robinson has made his residence in Superior permanent since 1890. He is survived by two sons, M. B. Robinson and Bethel Robinson, both of whom are employed in Duluth, but reside in Superior.

The funeral will be held Monday afternoon.

This is the result of the joint declamatory and oratorical contest of the Lake Superior district of the state Lyceum league held last evening in the Superior high school auditorium. The winners will take part in the state contest which will be held at Madison later.

CONTRACT AWARDED FOR TWO NEW STORAGE TANKS

The Superior Shipbuilding company has been awarded the contract for the erection of two large tanks for the Standard Oil company to be constructed near the rest of the company's tanks just south of West Winter street. The tanks will cost about $5,000 apiece and will have a capacity of about 30,000 each. The company also plan on building six more, making sixteen in all in Superior.

EXCAVATION FOR NEW PUMP HOUSE STARTED.

Excavation work for the large pumping station to be erected by the Superior Water Light & Power company on Carlton avenue and West First street was started yesterday. The foundation for the pump alone will cost $2,000 and will require the use of 200 barrels of cement. The pump will have a capacity of 5,000,000 gallons a day.

The building of the pumping station is but the first step in a series of improvements to the city water system, which, before being completed, will involve the expenditure of thousands of dollars.

OIL PREPARATION WILL BE PUT ON THE STREETS.

Oil instead of water will be used to lay the dust on the macadamized and dirt streets of Superior this year. A special tank wagon especially equipped for the spreading of crude oil on the streets has been ordered by the city and will arrive in a few days. It is thought that by applying a half gallon to the square yard, the streets will need no other attention during the year. By means of a law, which was passed at Madison at the last session of the legislature, the cost of the oil can be charged up to the property benefited.

Plan New Buildings.

A building permit for the erection of an $8,000 modern brick structure at 1806-08 North Third street was issued to the Hamm Brewing company yesterday by City Engineer Banks. The contract has been let to E. Sedelshak. The building will be a two-story affair and will be used for a branch office of the concern. W. D. Hamm was given a permit to build a $4,000 tenement building at 1909-11 North Nineteenth street.

Good Fire Protection.

The new Soo ore dock on St. Louis bay will have splendid fire-fighting facilities. The Superior Water, Light & Power company has arranged to install a complete system of piping of more than two miles in length. Work will begin as soon as material arrives.

To Attend Convention.

John M. McCabe and Edward Conley will attend the annual state convention of the Knights of Columbus at La Crosse, May 9 and 10, as delegates from the Superior lodge. Among the speakers who will address the gatherings is W. D. Dwyer of St. Paul, a former resident of Superior.

Pastor Resigns.

Rev. A. N. Osterholm, pastor of the Swedish Mission church of Superior, has resigned, and on Sunday, May 14, will preach his farewell sermon to his congregation. He will leave soon afterwards for Princeton, Ill., where he has accepted a call to a new charge. Mr. Osterholm has been the pastor of the Superior church for several years.

COPPERS DULL AND LIFELESS

Little Trading in Curb Stocks ---The Metal Situation Stronger.

The Duluth curb market today was lifeless and featureless. There was no trading either here or in the East. The speculators seemed to be waiting for the supreme court decision Monday, and didn't care to carry any stocks over Sunday. The metal situation shows some improvement. The Copper Producers' report will be out Monday.

The efforts to boost Calumet & Montana proved futile and the stock slumped back again today.

Judge Richard E. Flanigan of the Houghton county circuit court has modified the restraining order issued by Court Commissioner Marsch last Monday in connection with the injunction proceedings against the merger of the Calumet & Hecla and nine other mining companies. The decision permits the Ahmeek stockholders to vote on the merger at a meeting in Boston today. This vote was obstructed by the court commissioner's orders.

The favorable vote of the stockholders of the Ahmeek Mining company at an adjourned meeting at Boston today brings all nine of the subsidiaries in line for consolidation with the Calumet & Hecla Mining company. Actual consolidation, however, awaits the settlement of suits brought in Michigan by minority stockholders.

At a meeting of Fremont directors the old board of directors and officers were re-elected with the exception of George H. Hance and C. S. Carpenter of Duluth, whose vacancies caused by their retirement, were filled by R. T. Goodell and August Anderson of Duluth.

The stockholders of the Superior, Tamarack and Laurium copper companies voted yesterday in favor of consolidating with the Calumet & Hecla company. Eight of the nine subsidiary companies of the Calumet have now joined in the plan of consolidation, the Ahmeek meeting of Tuesday being postponed a week to await the developments of court proceedings in Michigan.

Walker's copper letter in Saturday's Boston Commercial says:

"Copper continues moderatively active with prices easy. Lake is 12⅜c to 12½c and electrolytic 12¼c to 12⅜c a pound. It is estimated that more than 100,000,000 pounds has been sold in the past two weeks, largely for export. A great deal more could be sold by shading prices ⅛c to ¼c, it having developed that the strongest speculative interests are willing to buy heavily at around 12c a pound.

"The foreign visible supply of copper decreased 9,403,520 pounds during April and is now smaller than it has been previously since August, 1909. A very considerable proportion of this foreign visible copper is carried by speculators who purchased it at much higher prices, and who have determined to hold it, as the public usually holds mining stocks, until they are able to sell and get their money back. This copper, therefore, will not be thrown on the market at any one price, but will be liquidated on the advance, when other speculators will be buying. Copper speculation could be made a very much larger factor, and a beneficial one also, if it were properly conducted and encouraged by the producers and the metal exchanges.

"It is anticipated that the forthcoming report of the Copper Producers' association will make an improved showing as compared with those of the preceding three months. Should it mark a decrease of 5,000,000 or 10,000,000 pounds in the domestic surplus it undoubtedly would stimulate further buying by domestic and foreign consumers and speculators also. Exports in April were heavier than in March.

"Notwithstanding the fact that three or four new producers will soon become factors in the market, and that a number of the older mines will considerably increase their present outputs as the demand for the metal expands, there is a fairly good prospect that copper May advance to 13 cents in the near future. Electrical equipment is going ahead on a broad scale, and there is every prospect that copper consumption, now very large, will continue to increase, especially in this country."

MAY BUILD WAR TUGS ON LAKES

Great Lakes Builders Eligible to Bid for Naval Contracts.

Washington, May 6.—Great Lakes shipbuilders are at liberty to bid for and construct the two sea-going naval tugs authorized by the last naval appropriation act. A question as to whether the building of such craft on the lakes would not be in violation of the Rush-Bagot agreement limiting the naval force in the maintaining on the lakes has been decided in the negative by the state department.

AUTO SKIDS; NOBODY HURT

Street Sweeper, Leonidas Merritt and Three Little Girls' Narrow Escape.

Machine Knocks Sweeper Down and Crashes Into Lamp Post.

Leonidas Merritt, three small girls and a street sweper had miraculous escapes from serious injury, if not death, on East Superior street near Sixth avenue east about 10 o'clock this morning.

The automobile in which Mr. Merritt and the little girls were riding skidded across the wet pavement half the width of the street, knocking down the street sweeper, smashing an ornamental lamp post into pieces and wrecking one side of the machine.

Mr. Merritt and his party were traveling eastward on their way to Pike Lake, at a fairly high rate of speed, it was stated by persons in the vicinty. Intending to swing to one side to dodge the street sweeper, the driver threw on the brakes at the same time. The car skidded on the slippery pavement, knocked the street sweeper to the ground and went over into the lamp post. The "white wing" picked himself up when people rushed to his assistance and declared that except that he felt sore, he didn't think that he was hurt. The rear wheel of the car was broken, as were the fender and the running board on the same side.

After the girls had recovered from their fright the car was taken in charge by men at the Russell Motor company's garage and put into condition again. It was not long before the girls were playing about as happily as though they hadn't just had what was probably the narrowest escape of their lives.

CATERPILLARS STOP TRAIN IN OKLAHOMA.

Tulsa, Okla., May 6.—A passenger train was delayed in Manford, west of here, yesterday, by millions of caterpillars clustered on a bridge. The wheels of the engine crushing the larvae made the track slippery and the drivers spun on the rails. Sand was ineffective, so the train was backed up, and after gathering momentum slid through the mass of crushed worms.

The plague of caterpillars is general over Eastern Oklahoma. At Orcutt Park street cars were stopped on account of the pests and houses and trees were literally covered with them.

BUILDING UP A BUSINESS

A. F. Sheldon Tells How It Is Done---Science of Salesmanship.

Profits Should Be Legitimate ---Patrons Entitled to Square Deal.

Arthur Frederick Sheldon, president of the Sheldon school of salesmanship, creator of the science of business building, spoke in the Commercial club last night before an audience that took up all of the available room. His subject was "The Science of Building and Business."

Mr. Sheldon said this is an age of science. The science of business building is organized knowledge about building any business. Business building is the art of procuring permanent and profitable patronage. Success in business life hinges upon the power to make permanent and profitable patrons.

Everyone engaged in a useful effort, he declared, has a patron or patrons. Everyone has something to dispose of, to sell. The employe sells his services to his patron, his employer, the lawyer to his client, the physician to his patient. People who patronize retail stores are the patrons of the merchant. The merchants are patrons of the jobbers and the jobbers of the manufacturers. The latter are patrons of those who sell the raw materials.

The price of goods, he said, is materially affected ultimately by the quantity and quality of the goods delivered. This law relates to the sale of services just as thoroughly as to the sale of groceries, clothing, iron or furniture.

The speaker said there are two classes of proprietors: Merchants and storekeepers. There are two classes of men behind the counter and on the road: Salesmen and order takers There is a big difference between the merchant and storekeeper and the salesman and the order taker. The speaker told of the characteristics of each. Success, he said, is the attainment and preservation of a practicable and legitimate ideal, involving four elements: Health, sufficient money, honor and the capacity for content in a given environment. The only right way of getting money, he said, was honestly or by a legitimate profit.

Profit, he said, is a necessary element in a successful commercial existence. In the absence of profit the individual or institution cannot continue to exist commercially.

Advertising is the dynamic force in the building of a business, he declared. It is the fire under the boilers. The man who advertises just a little and then says that advertising does not pay, declared the speaker, is like the man who burned one match under a 10-gallon kettle of water and then said that fire would not heat water. A little fire will not heat much water and a little advertising will not build much business. But much fire will heat much water, and much advertisng in the right mediums is the potent factor in the building of much business.

Some people, said the speaker, are business getters, not business builders. Business should be permanent and it should be builded on justice, honesty and truth. The square deal pays because it tends to make patrons who are permanent. Busines ethics is the science of right conduct in business. The master business man in any line of trade is the master servant of the public. The science of any business is the science of service. He that profits most serves best.

Salesmanship is persuasion, said Mr. Sheldon. It is direct and indirect. There is salesmanship by the written method and salesmanship by the spoken word. There is also the wagging tongue of the satisfied patron. The indirect is sometimes more potent than the direct. There are born salesmen, but nearly everybody has certain qualities of salesmanship which education can develop.

Salesmen, he said, should know themselves, their business and the other fellow. In the final analysis the science of building business is the science of building men. The thing grander than making a living is making a life. If the life is made right the making of living takes care of itself. Specialists, he said, are devoting their lives to reading human nature. The true salesman is a teacher. The day of the human windmill and the living talking machine are out of date in selling goods.

Little Talks About Drink

Why Is It That Men Need to Take Treatment in Order to Stop the Drink Habit.

You say they can stop if they want to—if they would use their will-power. Did you ever stop to think that a drinking man's will-power is way below normal, due to the fact that his whole system has been poisoned by alcohol, and that he has not the same capacity that he would have were his mental faculties unimpaired? Never thought of that, did you?

The man who has formed the drink habit is deserving of pity and help, not censure and abuse. If you are afflicted with the drink habit and really want to be freed, or if you are interested in a friend or relative who needs treatment, write to the Neal Institute Co., corner Belknap and Seventh streets, Superior, Wis., for their free booklet giving full information and a copy of their contract. It will be mailed to you under a plain sealed envelope and everything will be strictly confidential. You can be treated at the Superior Institute, or at St. Paul, Minn., Institute, 676 Dayton avenue, or the Minneapolis, Minn., Institute, corner Fourth avenue south and Seventh street, whichever happens to be the most convenient to you.

with "votes for women," and other banners flying, the procession of women and their delegations of supporters from men's organizations will move from Fifty-seventh street down Fifth avenue to Union Square, where exercises will be held and speakers will address the thongs.

The women explorers will be headed by Miss Anna Peck, the woman who climbed Popocatapel and the Himalayas. The women farmers will be headed by Mrs. Lucy Wilson, while the artists have Miss Oiva Neergward. Mrs. Ernest Thompson Seton will march with the contingent of authors.

Mrs. Belmont Absent.

Most of the women franchise organizations in this part of the country have taken part in the demonstration, one of the exceptions being the Political Equality league, of which Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont is president.

The parade will be formed in eight divisions, wth bands heading delegations from various states, and with huge floats illustrating women's struggle for the franchise. One of the floats shows a woman carried in a sedan chair, illustrating the old time sphere of women who did not care to vote. Another float shows women of Colonial days, as homemakers and housekeepers. After that the floats exhibit women in the many branches of business activity of today.

suggestion that the question of the recall be resubmitted to the people of Arizona at an early date, and that the people of New Mexico be given an opportunity to revise the Constitution so that it may be more easily amendable. Representatives of all factions in both territories agreed before the committee that such recommendations would be carried out.

"Mischievious and Damnable."

Ottawa, Ont., May 6.—A bitter attack on the Fielding - Knox reciprocity agreement was made last night by R. L. Borden, oposition leader, in an address at a dinner attended by all the Conservative members of parliament and the premiers of two provinces:

"The reciprocity proposals," he declared, "are the most mischievous and damnable that ever have been made to Canada."

President Taft, he said, recently commended reciprocity to the American people on the ground that it would prevent the establishment of a system of preferential trade throughout the British empire. That alone, he asserted, was sufficient to condemn the whole proposition in the minds of loyal Canadians and British subjects.

President McBride of British Columbia, Premier Hazon of New Brunswick and Robert Rogers, minister of public works in Manitoba, asserted that their respective provinces were opposed to the agreement on the ground that it would lead to the separation of Canada from Great Britain.

ENVOY NOTIFIED DIAZ WILL RESIGN?

read in today's paper the Associated Press dispatch from the City of Mexico stating that the resignation of President Diaz was likely to be announced today, said they were confident of receiving through Judge Carbajal some confirmation of that report.

Madero Reserves Comment.

At the insurrecto headquarters across the Rio Grande, Madero read with beaming eyes the following headline:

"Early Resignation of Diaz Regarded as Certain in Mexico City."

He scanned the page eagerly for details. Impulsively he snatched the telephone receiver and in a moment was in communication with his brother, Gustavo Madero, at El Paso. To an Associated Press correspondent he said he would reserve comment on the news dispatches till later in the day.

He said that if the government's answer was favorable he would communicate immediately with Gen Navarro at Juarez concerning a prolongation of the armistice which was scheduled to expire at noon today.

Trouble Maker Found Dead.

What many insurrectos regard as a suspicious coincidence was the drowning today of Jules Muller, a Frenchman, serving in the revolutionist army. One hour after he had almost caused a battle between the forces commanded by Col. Villa and those of Col. Garibaldi, some insurrectos brought in the news that he had lost his life while bathing in the Rio Grande.

Gen. Madero feels that he has played his trump card. He shows plainly the effect of the nervous strain of the last few days. When the federal go-betweens first talked to Madero just before the first armistice was arranged, they found him ready to accept Gen. Diaz as president, provided certain reforms were instituted. Since then, he has been surrounded by the political chiefs of the revolution and finally has been persuaded that only through an announcement of the resignation of Diaz could peace be secured.

Statement by Braniff.

Senor Braniff has issued the following statement:

"Mr. Madero declares officially that he has been confided by some of us with the secret that Gen. Diaz intends to retire as soon as Mexico is pacified, and on the strength of this assertion appeals to his patriotism and invites him to come out with a confirmation if this secret, thus relieving the actual deadlock.

"In my endeavor to fight the anti-Diaz bogey which has been exploited by some, for purposes which in due course of time we shall make public with appropriate and sufficient proofs, privately and confidentially I told Mr. Madero that for a long time past Gen. Diaz was desirous of retiring from public life. I told him that now more than ever Diaz was anxious to retire to private life, not only because he thought that he deserved a few years' rest from the terrific responsibilities of the last thirty years, but because he wanted to have the happiness of witnessing the consolidation of his country's stability through its political emancpation to be brought about by a patriotically and discreetly exercised suffrage, and that his obligations toward the majority of voters who had re-elected him, together with the prudence of the patriot, the dignity of the executive and the prestige and credit of the government and country, both at home and abroad, precluded his retirement under pressure of an armed revolution.

Willing for Reforms.

"Alongside of this determination the government was cheerfully willing to recognize and implant promptly all such reforms, however radical, as responded to the well defined general public demands, irrespective of their presence in the revolutionary program. In demonstration of good faith it stood ready to grant all practical guarantees to the effect of irrevocably binding the administration to these reforms—but this in a dignified and decorous manner—a point which must interest every Mexican, be he conservative, revolutionist, or simply a passive citizen.'

Senor Braniff lauded the sincerity of the government and declared that "it now was up to Mr. Madero and his followers" to meet the government in the same spirit.

Quiet In Mexico.

City of Mexico, May 6.—The city was quiet this morning. An announcement of the government's attitude toward the rebel demand for the retirement of President Diaz is not forthcoming as yet. Although the cabinet meeting, which lasted until late into the night, was followed by another today, none of those concerned would say that the president was ready to resign.

Yesterday, for the first time in many years, two important features were omitted from the celebration of the anniversary of the capture of Puebla. There was no military parade and Gen. Diaz did not make the customary distribution of gold coins among the veterans who helped to repulse the French on May 5, 1862.

Rebels Capture Torreon.

San Antonio, Tex., May 6.—That Torreon, Coahuila, Mex., has fallen into the hands of the revolutionists is the news in a private telegram received in San Antonio. The telegram was in cipher.

the Scripture that 'the last shall be first and the first shall be last.'"

Judge Reid did not order the testimony stricken from the record, but sustained Dietz's objection and Giblin was prevented from telling his story on the first attempt to arrest Dietz when shots were fired in 1904.

Tells of 1906 Fight.

James Gylland, the next witness, was, however, allowed to tell the story of the affair in 1906, when a posse of officers from Milwaukee assaulted the Dietz cabin. This was the affair during which Clarence Dietz was shot in the head and John Rogiche received a bullet in his thigh.

Dietz meanwhile was entering strenuous objections to the story getting into the record.

Cross-examining the witness, Dietz asked Gylland what sort of clothes the Milwaukee posse wore.

"Blue," said the former sheriff.

"Why did you have them come in blue uniforms?"

"Because I thought there was less chance of being fired upon."

"Werent' those uniforms the uniforms of the Wisconsin National guards?"

"I don't know," Gylland replied. "One of the Milwaukee men arranged to get them."

John Dietz has subpoenaed Capt. Robert Kane, the Milwaukee gun expert, who was to have testified for the state.

Go Back to 1905.

Testimony that in 1905 John Dietz resisted with violence the service of legal papers and struck Former Deputy United States Marshal H. O. Jones twice in the head with the butt of a revolver, was introduced by the prosecution yesterday in spite of objections by Dietz. The court ruled the evidence was admissable as showing the attitude of the defendant towards officers. Jones testified he made service on both, Mrs. Dietz and John.

Twenty-three witnesses were put on the stand during the day. Part of the testimony was to show that Dietz fired shots in the battle. Louis Lambert, a deputy, told the jury he saw Dietz shoot four times from the corner of the barn.

FAIR

The weather man is still behaving and he is especially kind to the baseball fans today. He tempers his joviality with a prediction of showers for tomorrow, but nobody takes his shower predictions any too seriously. He misses too often on them. The highest temperature yesterday was 69 deg. and 49 deg. was the lowest point touched by the mercury last night.

Fair weather prevailed a year ago today.

The sun rose this morning at 4:43 and it will set at 7:25 this evening, giving fourteen hours and forty-two minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Fair weather continued except that light showers fell over Western Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, California Nevada, Idaho, Oregon, Washington and Alberta in connection with the disturbance central north of Montana. Warm weather conditions from the Rocky mountains eastward except that frosts or freezing temperatures occurred last night in Michigan and over portions of Ohio valley states. The high pressure that has appeared off the Pacific coast has caused much cooler weather over Nevada, Idaho, Western Montana and Eastern Washington. At the Head of the Lakes there is a slight possibility of scattered showers during Sunday."

BRUSH FIRES THREATEN

Cause Much Uneasiness to the Owners of Summer Cottages.

Fires in Vicinity of Lakewood Not Dangerous to Pumping Station.

Brush fires about the city caused much uneasiness yesterday and last night until the wind died down.

Several farm houses and summer residences were jeopardized, but none of them were destroyed, although in some cases hard battles had to be put up to fight back the flames.

The fires were burning on every side. Men were fighting them at Eagle Lake, Fond du Lac, New Duluth, Pike Lake and Colbyville. The wind fanned the flames and for a time it looked as though assistance would have to be called for from the city fire department, which rendered much valuable help last year when the fires were dangerous. The dying of the wind brought relief.

Several men are on watch today to see that they do no damage and to prevent any possibility of their assuming large proportions. Among the places threatened near Pike Lake were those of C. A. Duncan, Louis Anderson, H. F. Williamson and Edward Mendenhall. At Eagle Lake the cottage of John Beerhalter was in the danger zone and it is stated that the fires there were bad. No residences were threatened at Colbyville and there was no great danger at Fond du Lac or New Duluth. Some fires were also reported near the pumping station, but not in dangerous proximity.

HEAR MORE CAMORRISTS

Spectators Listen to Denials By Arena and Vitozzi.

Chaplain of Cemetery Accused of Part in Murders.

Viterbo, Italy, May 6.—Two of the moset interesting of the alleged Camorrists charged with the murder of Gennaro Cuoccolo and his wife confronted Gennaro Abbatemaggio today. They were Luigi Arena and Ciro Vitozzi. At the conclusion of the accusations and denials it appeared to the auditors that no progress had been made by either the prosecution or the defense.

Arena, according to the theory of the state, based on the revelations of Abbatemaggio, had been sent to prison after his betrayal by Cuoccolo, who was offended because Arena refused to share with him the profits of a robbery. Arena wrote to his fellow Camorrists setting forth his grievance and demanding Cuoccolo's death.

All Vehemently Denied.

All of this was vehemently denied today by Arena, who denounced the informer as a manufacturer of evidence and the paid tool of the carabineers. According to the testimony of Abbatemaggio, he had heard Vitozzi, the priest, and Alfano Enrico alleged head of the society, discussing the Cuoccolo murders at 10:30 o'clock on the morning after the assinations.

Vitozzi replied that he could prove that on the day and at the hour mentioned, he was at the cemetery of Poggioreale, of which he was chaplain.

GRANDMOTHERS USED SAGE TEA

To Darken the Hair and Restore Gray and Faded Hair to Its Natural Color.

It is easier to preserve the color of the hair than to restore it, although it is possible to do both. Our grandmothers understood the secret. They made a "sage tea," and their dark, glossy hair lon ' after middle life was due to this fact. Our mothers have gray hairs before they are fifty, but they are beginning to appreciate the vision of our grandmothers in using "sage tea" for their hair and are fast following suit.

The present generation has the advantage of the past in that it can get a ready-to-use preparation called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. As a scalp tonic and color restorer this preparation is vastly superior to the ordinary "sage tea" made by our grandmothers.

This remedy is sold under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

AGONIES OF DYSPEPSIA

Awful Distress---Unable to Eat or Sleep--Terrible Condition.

The Comfort of Living Restored By Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I have heard people tell about the agonies of dyspepsia, and I have experienced them myself. I also know what it is to be cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla and no one who has not been through these experiences can appreciate how grateful I am to this medicine. It seems to me I cannot use terms strong enough to tell of my former distress and my present relief. My stomach was truly in a terrible condition. I could not eat anything without the most awful distress. Did not even dare to drink water before I went to bed at night. If I did, I would awake in the night with such dreadful agonies I would be unable to sleep for hours. I tried about everything my friends, including the doctors, recommended, but without much relief.

MRS. H. L. JORDAN.

"Then I resorted to Hood's Sarsaparilla, and the first relief I noticed was that I did not have that awful distress in the night. I kept on taking this medicine until in a little time I was entirely cured. Today I am a well person, and thankful for the wonderful benefit Hood's Sarsaparilla has been to me. I recommend it to all." Mrs. H. L. Jordan, 167 North Willard St., Burlington, Vt.

There is no real substitute for Hood's Sarsaparilla. If urged to buy any preparation said to be "just as good" you may be sure it is inferior, costs less to make, and yields the dealer a larger profit.

Get Hood's Sarsaparilla today. In usual liquid form or in chocolated tablets known as Sarsatabs.

FOR SWEDISH AMERICANS

Big Celebration of "Midsummer's Day" Planned in Duluth.

Between 10,000 and 15,000 Will Take Part in Picnic.

Over in Sweden on June 24 it is "Midsummer's Day."

Work is dropped for the day, for it is a legal holiday; children dance around Maypoles; their elders enjoy picnics; it is the celebration of the coming of summer, and the big national festival of Sweden.

On June 23 in Duluth, one day earlier, between 10,000 and 15,000 Swedish residents of Duluth and Northern Minnesota, will celebrate "Midsummer's Day" in this city. The customs of the Old Country will be observed here as far as possible, and it will be made a day of general rejoicing among the Swedish-American residents of Northern Minnesota.

All of the Swedish societies in Duluth will combine to celebrate the day. A joint committee has been appointed, consisting of representatives from every Swedish society in Duluth. A meeting of this committee will be held Wednesday evening at Sloan's hall, in the West end, and plans for the celebration will be completed. The officers of this committee are as follows: Andrew Horngren, president; Louis Levine, vice president; George Johnson, secretary; A. T. Lind, treasurer.

It is planned to bring as many visitors to the city as possible for this celebration, the principal feature of which will probably be a big picnic at Lincoln park.

DEPUTIES GUARD DOCKS IN ALASKA

Trouble Is Threatened When Steamer Edith Arrives, However.

Cordova, Alaska, May 6.—There was no disorder here today and none is expected until the arrival of the steamer Edith, which has sailed from Nanaimo with 2,000 tons of coal from Canada for the Alaska Steamship company, arrives. Threats were made that the Edith would not be permitted to discharge her cargo. As all Canadian coal is under control of the United States customs authority until it is landed and the duty paid, the deputy collector of customs for Cordova made a demand upon United States Comissioner Tucker for protection when the Edith arrives and was assured that an ample force of deputy marshals will be on hand to protect the property.

"Serious disturbance account of Canadian coal on docks. Believe can handle situation at present. Threats freely made to destroy cargo of Edith now en route. Government must stand ready to protect."

Deputies Guard Docks.

United States Deputy Marshal Brightwell has arrived from Orcata and sworn in deputies, who are now standing guard on the dock of the Alaska Steamship company.

It was expected there would be many arrests on complaints sworn to by General Freight and Passenger Agent Harry of the steamship company, but he was counseled to wait until the excitement had subsided.

United States Marshal Sullivan has sailed from Valdez for Cordova, accompanied by United States District Attorney Walker. The marshal has no authority to call soldiers from Fort Liscomb, but these can be called out by Acting Governor Distin, if needed.

Many messages have been received from all parts of Alaska approving the action of the mob. The mob's action was taken as a desperate means of drawing attention to the state of affairs in Alaska.

FIRST PLACE FOR ADAMS SCHOOL IN BOYS' EXHIBIT

Bryant, Central and Endion Follow in the Order Named.

350 Articles Shown and 170 Boys on the Entry List.

The Adams school scored first with 96 points in the exhibition of boys' hobbies at the boys' department Y. M. C. A.

The delegation from the Bryant school was second with 89 points and the high school was third with 74 points. The Endion was next with 52, then came the Jefferson with 50, the Salter with 42, Lakeside with 34, Industrial high school 25, Ely 18, Emerson 8, University 8, and the Lester Park, Nettleton, Fairmont and Lincoln with 5 points each.

The exhibition was more than four times as large as it was last year. There were 350 different articles on exhibition and 170 different boys had exhibits. The exhibit as a whole, amazed those woh saw it, with the quality and variet yof work done.

They made everything, from cake and candy to airships, and Miss Laura Frick, teacher of domestic science at the Salter school, who was judge of the cookery, says that the candies and cakes would have done credit to any experienced cook who prided herself on that one art alone.

Crowds swarmed the building last night looking at the hobbies of the boys. The wireless station is more nearly complete this year than last and the articles made in manual training shops would look well in the window of a furniture house.

The school having the greatest number of points gets a banner as a prize. The boys who won first, second and third will receive badges. These badges will be given the principals of the different grade schools and they will be handed to the boys on graduation day.

BLOCKADE OF FEZ CLOSES

French Troops' Arrival Makes No Change in the Situation.

Rebel Chiefs in Morocco Have Growing Advantage.

Fez, Morocco, April 30, by courier to Tangier, May 6.—The arrival of Capt. Bremond's column has not changed the situation and the loose investment of the capital continues. The rebel horsemen, who are beyond the reach of the artillery, have cut off the food supplies. The sultan's troops are worn out with the constant skirmishing and watchfulness.

The rebel chiefs have a growing moral advantage since now all Morocco knows that the sultan is penned up in the capital and that his loyal troops are unable to move outside the range of their artillery. The rebels are obtaining the upper hand throughout the country. Tribes heretofore loyal are joining the rebellion through fear that the villages of those refusing will be raided.

The arrival of the French relief expedition will secure entry of provisions and the safety of the capital, but the political outlook is confused and uncertain.

Blockade Is Complete.

Paris, May 6.—At a cabinet council today Jean Cruppi, minister of foreign affairs, read a dispatch from Henri Gaillard, the French consul at Fez, in which the consul stated that the blockade of the city was complete and the ammunition of the artillery defending the capital had been greatly reduced. Food was selling at extraordinary prices, the dispatch stated. The message was dated April 30 and was forwarded by way of Tangier.

WAS LAW WEST OF THE PECOS

Unique Character Who Put Langtry on the Map—Everything From Saloon Keeper to Judge.

If old Judge Roy Bean should come back to Langtry in the flesh he would not know the clean, modern little city as the same town in which he gave vent to the eccentricities that won him wide renown and placed Langtry on the map, says a Langtry correspondent of the New York Sun.

Much that was pure fiction has been written of Judge Roy Bean, but when all this has been sifted out enough remains to stamp the judge as one of the most picturesque characters the great Southwest has ever produced.

Roy Bean was a Kentuckian. When he was about 15 years of age he embarked on a Mississippi river steamboat for New Orleans, but becoming involved in a fight on the boat he decided to go to Texas, at that time a wild, free land. So he went to San Antonio and conducted a dairy for some time. When the gold rush of 1849 and 1850 was attracting the venturesome to California Bean went with a party from Texas.

While in California Bean fell in with a Mexican who was preparing to elope with a girl. Bean decided that this elopement was not of the girl's wish, so he stole her himself. After keeping her several days Bean returned her to her family, but for his trouble became involved in a quarrel with a Mexican army officer and finally challenged him to fight a duel. The officer accepted the challenge, and, as the challenged party named lances as the weapons, Bean, who knew nothing of lances, refused to fight, whereupon they decided on pistols. This was Bean's weapon, as he showed by killing his man.

The Mexican authorities seized Bean for killing the man and sentenced him to be hanged, and to this day insist that they hanged him. Friends are said to have cut him down and revived him, hiding him until he was able to travel, when he returned to Texas.

The truth as to this hanging cannot be vouched for, as the judge would never talk about it. Certain it is that there was a livid scar around his neck and he carried his head in a peculiar manner as a result of a permanently stiff neck.

During the Civil war he was a Confederate blockade runner. At the close of the war he began carrying freight by wagon train from San Antonio to Fort Stockton. With the beginning of construction of the G. H & S. A. railway west from San Antonio, Bean fitted up a tent saloon and moved with the construction camps. When the Pecos river was reached a permanent camp was established at the mouth of the Pecos, where it empties into the Rio Grande. This town became the Vinaegaron of border history. Vinaegaron is the Mexican name of a venomous insect.

It was at Vinaegaron that Bean acquired the title of judge, he being appointed justice of the peace. Here it was that he handed down his famous decision affecting the Chinese. An American had shot and killed a Chinaman. He was hailed before the judge for trial and the court room was crowded with his friends, for he was popular. The judge after attending to the preliminaries, announced: "Gents, I have looked carefully through my law books, and through the statutes of the state of Texas, and I find no law against killing a Chinaman. The defendant is therefore acquitted."

Another case that brought the judge a great deal of notoriety was this: "A man with too much liquor aboard fell from a bridge and was killed. The judge, as coroner, viewed and searched the body and found a 'six-shooter' and about $40 in money. As coroner he found that the man came to his death by falling from the bridge. As judge he announced: 'I find this man is carrying a concealed weapon against the statutes in such cases provided and against the peace and dignity of the state of Texas, and I therefore fine him $25 and costs.' Needless to say the fine and costs 'killed' that $40."

"Uncle Dick Freeman, now a merchant at Juno, Tex., was the deputy and received the six-shooter as his fee.

He next moved his saloon and court to what is now Langtry, Tex. Here he established his "Jersey Lily" saloon and constituted himself "Law West of the Pecos," and at that time his was the only law between the Pecos and El Paso.

An amusing case, showing Judge Bean's willingness to do what's right, as well as reap what he considered his just dues, came about in this wise: Two Mexican couples came to him to be married. The following is the judge's ceremony for the first couple:

"Gregorio, you want to marry this woman?"

"Si, senor."

"Juanita, you want to marry Gregorio?"

"Si, senor."

"All right, according to the power in me vested by the state of Texas, I pronounce you man and wife. Five dollars apiece, please."

So they were married. But a few days later the same two couples came back and announced that they were convinced they had made a mistake as each man desired the other's wife, and they wanted the judge to fix them up. He could for $10. This they were able to produce. So after asking the women if the exchange was agreeable to them, he said:

"Very well, your are divorced."

Then followed a repetition of the first wedding ceremony, not omitting the judge's usual fee in such cases.

Some of the signs the judge had posted on his buildings were unique. These were so posted as to catch the eye of passengers on the trains. As all trains stopped at Langtry for water, it allowed time for a brief visit to Bean's, and many a thirsty pilgrim has quenched his thirst in the old "Jersey Lily." For even though court was in session in the barroom it would always postpone action until a customer was waited on.

One sign read: "Judge Roy Bean, Notary Public," another "Justice of the Peace, Law West of the Pecos;" another "The Jersey Lily Saloon, Billiard Hall, Ice Cold Beer." The judge, when a customer complained that the beer had evidently not been on the ice, remarked: "Whoever heard tell of ice in the summer time." On another building was this: "Roy Bean's Opera House, Town Hall and Seat of Justice," and below it, "Judge Roy Bean, Justice of the Peace, Notary Public, Marries Couples, etc."

The judge died in bed, attended by one or two friends and several pets—an eagle, mountain lion and bear—(March, 1902, aged 71 years.

A few years after Judge Bean's death Lillian Langtry passed through the town on one of her farewell tours. The train was held to allow her to visit the judge's place. She evinced much interest, and took a few poker chips and cards as mementos, as well as an old six-shooter that had been as an old six-shooter that had belonged to Judge Bean. Before leaving she presented the Langtry school with $50, to be used to repair the building.

Langtry now boasts a modern school building, good homes with flower gardens, a tennis club and a ministers' club, and above all law and order, so that the judge would not recognize his old town were he to return, except for his old building, which still stands and still bears some of the old signs.

MURDER FARM THEORY FAILS

Poole Talks Hysterically About Disposal of Kemper's Body.

Fowler, Ind., May 6.—Alternately laughing and sobbing, John Poole, a wealthy farmer, charged with murdering his farm hand, Joseph Kemper, has been talking hysterically in his cell to Sheriff Shackleton and his deputies who are guarding him, about the circumstances of the killing. He said that after he "had shot Kemper accidentally" he took the body into the kitchen of his house, his wife and daughter being absent, and cut off the legs with an ax so that he could pack the body into a trunk to be shipped to Chicago.

Kemper had a brother in Chicago, Poole said, and he believed if he delivered the body to the brother and explained the death he could resist extradition and "get a fair hearing" in Chicago. Because of public feeling against him here, he added, he did not believe he would have a just trial at Benton. Afterward he reconsidered and buried the body on his farm.

Search of the farm, on the story that the bodies of other of Poole's employes that are said to have disappeared mysteriously might be found, has been discontinued. Emory Poole, who led in the investigation that brought about his father's arrest on the charge of murdering Kemper, told the authorities he recently received a post card, dated Toledo, Ohio, from Charles Mack, one of the farm hands unaccounted for.

SWISS "GUARDIAN SCHOOLS."

In the overcrowded quarters of every large city where working people live there are always many small children who are allowed to run the streets without proper oversight. In the largest cities, like London, Paris and New York, they are numbered by thousands. With such surroundings and under such conditions it is not strange that a large percentage of them become criminals. The great question with the authorities is how to handle them and prevent them, as far as possible, from becoming criminals.

Switzerland has solved the problem, partly at least. In the city of Basel, for instance, "guardian schools," organized and supported by the state, are open every day, and from the middle of November till the middle of March, every evening. They can hardly be called schools, but rather recreation classes.

Under the teacher's direction the children play games, tell stories, sing, crochet, embroider, sew and so forth. In good weather they are taken outdoors for games or walks. Each class has about thirty-five children in it, just enough for the teacher or guardian to handle comfortably. An inspector visits the classes frequently and makes reports to the school authorities. The state provides all the materials for the games and work, and also pays for the luncheons.

Basel has a population of 130,000, and last year 2,000 children were taken care of in these guardian schools. In addition to this work Basel has an organization known as the Play association, which looks after the games for young people. There is also another society, now twenty-five years old, whose special business it is to give instruction to and provide recreation for boys on Sundays and in the evenings. Last year it had 24,000 children under its care.

SQUIRRELS RANG TELEPHONE.

Christian Herald: A lady in Englewood, N. J., was called to the telephone one day by the operator, who inquired: "What do you want?"

"Nothing at all," she responded.

"Your bell rang," insisted the operator.

"None of us rang it," replied the lady.

The next day a man appeared from the telephone office.

"I have come to see what makes your telephone bell ring most of the time," he remarked.

But none of the family could enlighten him, and he saw nothing about it which was out of order.

The next day he came again, took the telephone entirely to pieces, examined the full length of the wire. Still, he could find nothing amiss, and still at the central office the little flame kept burning in the niche dedicated to this particular family. This indicated that their bell was ringing.

At last it occurred to the authorities to examine a little box, about the size of an ordinary suitcase, which was nailed up against a large tree close to the house.

In this box several telephone wires converged. It was a sort of neighborhood switchboard.

What was the surprise of the telephone men to find this box nearly filled with nuts! They took out three peach-baskets full, each one holding at least two quarts.

Rioting among the nuts were the youthful members of a promising squirrel family.

THE SPIDER CURE.

Westminster Gazette: The request for a "nut to put aspider in to cure baby's whooping cough" which has just startled a Somerset shopkeeper recalls the spider "cures" of the past. There was, and indeed is, for instance, that Irish belief in the web as a remedy for cuts, warts and bruises and that superstition of the Eastern counties which credited it with power to cure fevers. The weaver of the web too was looked upon as a doctor of medicine.

A note from an ancient Notes and Queries gives the illustration: "One of my parishioners suffering from ague," wrote a Somerset vicar, "was advised to catch a large spider and shut him up in a box. As he pines away the disease is supposed to wear itself out." A similar belief prevailed in the south of Ireland, but there treacle had to be substituted for the box as coffin for the ague healer.

LAND IS CLEARED FOR $8 AN ACRE

Men Near Cohasset Remove Stumps From Thirty Acres at That Figure.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The cost of clearing Northern Minnesota land of stumps has been one of the vexed problems of this section for years. General interest is felt in the achievement of E. L. Buck of Cohasset, who, in company with C. C. Carrier and Owen Skelly, recently cleared thirty acres of land on the old Lyons place just south of Cohasset.

Mr. Buck stated that the land which they cleared was average cut-over land—probably a little more weathered than the average. Some time ago a crew of men was put to work clearing, the crew being in charge of a man experienced in the use of dynamite. Mr. Buck had general supervision of the work, and as he has to account to his partners for the expense, he kept close tab on the amount put into the job. When the work was completed, the area cleared was measured and found to be just thirty acres. The total cost of the work, including everything, was $248, or a little better than $8 per acre.

"This put the land ready for the plow," said Mr. Buck, "the holes made by the blowing out of the stumps filled in and even the stones removed. At the rate that land can be bought all over this northern country, and considering the great possibilities for dairying and truck or vegetable farming, land bought and cleared up at this rate is very low-priced land, comparing the cost with what farmers have to pay for land in the southern part of the state. It means first-class lands, cleared and ready for the plow, at $18 to not over $25 per acre.

GRAND RAPIDS CLEANING UP

Band Plays and People Enjoy Themselves as Huge Bonfire Burns Refuse.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald)—A grand bonfire here last night in which tons of rubbish and refuse were burned culminated an active campaign by the Woman's club, the local newspapers and others for a general cleanup of the city. All kinds of inflamable rubbish was hauled to the hollow on Third street north of the Third street fill and last night a huge bonfire was built. The Grand Rapids band turned out and rendered a concert by the light of the bonfire. Hundreds of people stood around and watched the fire until the embers burned low.

The campaign for a beautiful Grand Rapids will be continued by the Woman's club, and all means possible will be used to beautify the town. A waste paper can has been put up in front of the postoffice by the Woman's club, and other organizations are putting up like receptacles at other prominent corners in which waste paper may be thrown. More effort will be made to keep pedestrians from cutting across lots on the lawns of the public buildings, and the sowing of grass seed and planting of trees will be encouraged.

DUMPED INTO LAKE.

Taconite Fishermen Have Close Call in Lawrence Lake.

Taconite, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The citizens of the Garvey addition held their second meeting Wednesday evening, May 3, Chairman Steve Hechomovich called the meeting to order. Resolutions were adopted to use the old fire equipment until the fall and then purchase a new outfit. A disagreement as to the extension of the water works occurred, but it was finally agreed to extend them on the four principal streets. Engineer August Lindquist has surveyed the streets and they expect to begin work at once.

Capt. Cameron held a stag party at his home Thursday evening.

Michael Callahan, who has been residing at Taconite for the past winter, has returned to Michigan, where he is interested in the berry business during the summer.

Four young men of Taconite went fishing at Lawrence lake, a short distance from town, Thursday. About 12 o'clock they started to row ashore and when a short distance from land they overturned the boat, two being able to swim reached shore in safety, but the other two boys being unable to swim had to hold onto the upturned boat until their comrades came to their rescue with another boat.

There was a vaudeville and picture show at the village hall, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. The hall was crowded both nights.

Mrs. E. M. Myhra is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Trombly at Taconite for a short time. Mrs. Myhra, who was a former resident of this town, has been living at Brainerd for the past few months.

Clouds of smoke cover this section and fires are reported in many places on the Mesaba range.

Smoky Around Tower.

Tower, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—From Tower the smoke of forest fires is seen in various directions. Owing to the early disappearance of the snow and the lack of spring rains, the danger of large forest fires is very great.

Ely, Minn., May 6.—There are fringes of fire all about this village, but in all instances the flames are from brush fires about which the public feels no special concern.

EYE WITNESS OF BRUTAL MURDER

Resident of Orr Tells Deputy Coroner of Killing of Helminen Woman.

Virginia, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The bodies of the victims of the double tragedy on the shores of Moose lake, thirty miles north of here, in which Werner Barlund killed Matilda Helminen, daughter of a widow living on a homestead near the lake because she repulsed his advances and then killed himself, have been brought to a local morgue. Deputy Coroner Crowe has investigated the affair and will probably not hold an inquest. He has secured valuable evidence of the brutal murder of the woman from Otto Haglund, an aged resident of Orr, who says he witnessed the tragedy.

Witnessed the Murder.

In his statement to the deputy coroner Mr. Haglund says: "I rowed across the lake from William Orr's place to get the girl who was murdered. She was to have been employed by Mr. Orr. I went to the Helminen home and told my errand. She came toward the boat soon after when Barlund suddenly appeared. Before she could step in, he said, 'Well, I guess now's as good a time to shoot as any,' and with that he leveled the gun and fired point blank. The bullet went into her left eye. She never uttered a sound, falling dead on the shore. Barlund did not say another word but strode off with his rifle."

Kills Self With Same cWapon.

As stated in Friday's Herald Barlund, after killing the girl, went into the brush and killed himself with the same Winchester rifle with which he had shed the woman's blood, and his body was found by Deputy Sheriff Moilan of this city, who was summoned to Moose lake as soon as he heard of the killing.

The murdered woman's mother, who has three small children, was almost in hysterics when she learned of her daughter's fate. Her husband was drowned in the swamp here three years ago. His body was not found for months.

WILSON CHOICE FOR PRESIDENT

Frank Day Says Northwestern Democrats Favor the Governor.

St. Paul, Minn., May 6.—The Dispatch says: Woodrow Wilson, who is to be in St. Paul on May 24, is Northwestern Democracy's choice for presidential honors, according to Frank A. Day and Edward J. Lynch.

Mr. Day dropped in yesterday from Duluth to meet James A. Tawney. It was not a political appointment. Mr. Tawney's son is going to marry Mr. Day's daughter July 11 next and the principals partook of breakfast with their fathers. The fact that the function was an ante-nuptial affair kept politics in the background. Supplemental to the breakfast was a dinner in the evening, and the party further celebrated the coming union of the Day-Tawney families at the theater in the evening.

Mr. Day believes that Mr. Tawney could save his political face if he would only throw overboard his opposition to the referendum and the direct vote for United States senators.

Following the morning social function Mr. Day dropped into Mr. Lynch's office to learn something about political conditions.

"I have not come to hand over any crown to anybody," he declared, "for Minnesota Democracy has no boss. There is no need for a crown in the Democratic party. If Fred B. Lynch will lend his august person to the laudable work of directing Democracy in this state he could do the work as well as any one I know of in Minnesota. He has the qualities of a leader and plays the game fair and square.

"Of all the candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination I believe Woodrow Wilson is the favorite today with Northwestern Democracy. It is too early to speculate what Wilson's standing will be a few weeks hence."

Wilson's boom which may be sprung quietly when he visits St. Paul may crystalize at the Democratic pow-wow at the Auditorium on the evening of June 1. It has been definitely decided that this function take the form of a $3-a-plate banquet.

It will be progressive to the core, so say all the good Democrats. Informally, the badge of Democracy, will characterize it. There will be no invitations except to the speakers, Alton B. Parker, William Jennings Bryan, Judson Harmon, W. S. Hammond and possibly a few others.

Stomach Refused Even Cold Water

An attack of grip and bronchitis committed such havoc on Mrs. Shaw's system that her stomach would not retain anything—until she took Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, which benefited her from the first dose.

MRS. A. SHAW.

Thousands of letters of gratitude like Mrs. Shaw's are received from men and women who have been kept vigorous and strong by this great tonic stimulant.

"I was taken seriously ill in the beginning of the winter with bronchitis and grip. It affected me so that I could not keep anything on my stomach, not even cold water. I was advised to use Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, and I did. It has benefited me more than any other medicine I have ever used. It has helped me as a tonic and given me an appetite. It has cured me of stomach sickness and I recommend it every opportunity that I have as a system builder and blood purifier. It has also helped me of liver trouble."—Mrs. A. Shaw, Avery Ave., Patchogue, N. Y.

the world's greatest medicine, is an absolutely pure distillation of clean, selected grain, thoroughly malted. When taken at meal-time it stimulates the mucous surfaces and little glands of the stomach to a healthy action, thereby improving the digestion and assimilation of the food and giving to the system its full proportion of nourishment. Doctors of all schools agree that it is the best tonic stimulant to build up the body that is run down and weakened by the long strain of winter and drive out spring fever and malaria.

TRADE FEELING GOOD, BUT ENTHUSIASM IS LACKING

New York, May 6.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade today says:

The increasingly bright outlook for the wheat crop is responsible for a somewhat better feeling in business as to the future. But the actual volume of trade, while necessarily large because the daily necessities of a vast population are large, is nevertheless slow, halting and without enthusiasm. Taken in the aggregate, and especially in such basic trades as iron and steel and dry goods, consumption is much below producing capacity, and even concessions in prices fail to produce activity. Fundamental conditions, such as the money supply and the generally low stocks of merchandise, are favorable; but enterprise continues to wait for the removal of uncertainties and for that courageous leadership which is born of large faith in the future. The export trade is much more vigorous than the domestic, because manufacturers no longer finding the home market for their goods sufficient, are diligently seeking outlets abroad, and this is a process which is sure to be eventually beneficial to business as a whole.

General dullness prevails in the pig iron markets, and advices from the Pittsburg district indicate that new business is on a smaller scale, although in some instances bookings have been quite liberal. Railroad buying continues spasmodic and one mill has closed down during the month of May, but the structural division conditions are more satisfactory, as a large amount of work is pending.

Curtailment is still the order in cotton goods, while woolens are necessarily affected by tariff agitation. The shoe trade is fair but not up to high-water mark. It is noticeable that for the present at least the trade recession seems to be felt more keenly in the West than in the East, and even the fine crop prospects do not altogether offset the effect of lower farm values.

The mail order houses complain of reduced orders. The retail trade does not quite hold the improvement resulting from better weather.

COMFORTING WORDS

Many a Duluth Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Duluth readers.

L. P. Schneider, 210 W. Fourteenth St., Duluth, Minn., says: "The public statement I have given in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills still holds good. In 1898 I said that for a considerable length of time, I had suffered from pains in my back. My condition finally grew so bad that I could not stoop or lift without being tortured. It seemed as if a sharp knife were piercing me. I could not lie in one position long without becoming stiff and sore. The kidney secretions passed irregularly and contained sediment. I found no relief until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They drove away my trouble and during the twelve years that have since passed, I have never had any serious recurrence."

The spacious firmament on high,
With all the blue ethereal sky,
And spangled heavens, a shining frame,
Their great Original proclaim.
—Joseph Addison (1672-1719).

IT'S TIME THIS CEASED.

When a Duluth wholesale merchant brings goods up the lakes to Duluth for distribution to his Northwestern patrons he must take them from the transportation lines at once, store them in his own building on which he pays taxes, and distribute them from his own plant.

When a St. Paul or Minneapolis wholesale merchant brings goods up the lakes to Duluth for distribution to his Northwestern patrons he is under no such obligation, thanks to a system which was described in the local columns of The Herald last evening.

In the ordinary course of events these goods would be turned over to a railroad, shipped immediately to the Twin Cities and taken into the merchant's place of business to be dealt out to customers as they were sold. The kindness of the railroads—kindness to Twin City jobbers that Duluth jobbers do not enjoy—obviates this necessity. The railroads take these goods, put them in a Duluth warehouse which pays no taxes because it is railroad property, and leave them there without charge while the Twin City merchant has a chance to sell them. Then, doubtless, they are distributed directly to the trade.

This enables Twin City jobbers to get all the benefits of having branch houses in Duluth without any of the expense in taxes, labor, etc., that would attach to branch houses. It enables the Twin City jobbers to compete with Duluth jobbers unfairly in their own territory, and it puts a handicap on the Duluth jobber for which there is no justification in law or equity.

The railroads are not chartered to do a warehouse business, and they are exceeding their legal powers when they do this thing. Furthermore, the discrimination involved comes dangerously close to a covert system of rebating, and it could hardly bear the test of analysis in court.

It ought to be stopped, and stopped promptly.

WALKING AND WALKING CLUBS.

There was a local item in The Herald the other evening to the effect that about thirty young people, members of a local church, had formed a walking club and plan to take frequent country walking tours.

Here's hoping they all stick to it, and that a lot of other similar clubs will be formed. It will do everybody connected with them a lot of good, physically and mentally, besides giving them a valuable acquaintance with the surrounding country and with nature in her myriad moods.

The principal benefit of walking clubs is that those who join them are more likely to stick to the plan of exercise laid out for them than they are when alone. They afford the advantage of company and competition, both of which are pleasantly stimulating.

Probably because it is so cheap and so good, not nearly enough attention is given walking as a means of getting health and enjoyment. If it cost 15 cents a mile, like owning an automobile, and if it were slightly injurious to the health, probably walking would be the rage. But as it is, though automobile crazes follow bicycle crazes, and flying machine crazes probably will come next, only the wise few avail themselves of the splendid exercise and clean, wholesome enjoyment of walking.

The season when the pleasure of walking is greatest—though it has a fine zest in winter, when the frost sends the blood tingling through your veins—has arrived. If you get out in the woods now you can witness the beginning of the procession of the season's blossom and fruitage. Though the grass is but newly green and many of the trees seem almost bare, there are wild flowers to be found in the woods, and there will be many more in a few days. The air is clean and fresh and life-giving, and the roads are good.

Whether you walk singly, in couples, in parties or in clubs, there is a vast enjoyment and vast benefit in walking for pleasure and exercise. Around Duluth there are scores of pleasant foot-tours to be made, of lengths suited to your time, your wishes and your capacity. In the city there are parks with well kept walks if your time and capacity are limited, such as Chester Park, Tischer's creek, Lincoln park and Fairmount park. A street car trip to Lester Park or Woodland will leave you at the beginning of any number of good walking trips. One of the finest walks in the world, during the summer, is from the end of the Woodland car line, past the Greysolon farms to Colbyville and then down the Snively boulevard to the end of the Lakeside car line at Lester park. The boulevard along the hilltop is a beautiful walk, which you can extend from Chester creek to West Duluth if you wish. A delightful trip of six or seven miles can be made from the end of the Woodland car line west to the Howard & Gnesen road which winds over the hills to the city, through Kenwood. At the beginning of Glen Avon, west over St. Marie street runs a road on which there is a delightful short walk to Kenwood, where you can go on to the poor farm and back that way, or turn to the left and reach the boulevard near Chester creek. Along the Vermilion road from the end of the Woodland car line is a charming trip to Arnold, where you can cross to the Howard & Gnesen road and return by way of the Catholic cemetery to the end of the car line again. And these are only a few.

If you are not used to walking, don't overdo. Take it easy at first. Leave the long walks till later. Do three, four or five miles and get pleasantly tired, but don't get exhausted. You might practice up by walking to your work instead of taking the street car every morning. But whatever you do, walk. Don't waste these charming spring days, but join a walking club or make one of your own, with your chum or your wife or your sweetheart as the other member, and walk.

LAWLESSNESS.

Some of those who are properly indignant about dynamiters are inclined to be equally indignant with those who object to the manner in which John J. McNamara was taken from Indiana to answer the charge laid against him in California.

Their indignation is improperly distributed.

There can be no division of opinion about dynamiters. Any man convicted of participation in these outrages should receive the fullest possible punishment.

As to the guilt or innocence of McNamara and his fellows, that question should await the verdict of the juries that will try them. The public should and doubtless will reserve its judgment until it hears the proofs. Until they are proved guilty they stand innocent before the law, and they should so stand before the bar of public opinion.

But fighting lawlessness with lawlessness is anarchy, and those who condemn the manner of John J. McNamara's illegal extradition are standing up for law and order and the security of society just as certainly as those who are demanding the punishment of every man proved guilty of complicity in any dynamiting plots.

The Indiana law is very clear. Section 1899 of the revised statutes of that state is as follows:

> No citizen or resident of this state shall be surrendered under pretense of being a fugitive from justice from any other state or territory when it shall clearly be made to appear to the court or judge holding such examination that such citizen or inhabitant was in this state at the time of the alleged commission of the offense, and not in the state or territory from which he is pretended to have fled—and in such case the court or judge holding such examination shall discharge the person arrested and forthwith report the facts to the governor.

A law passed by the last Indiana legislature contains the following provision relating to extradition proceedings:

> It shall be the duty of such justice and city judge to give the defendant an opportunity and time to employ counsel if he so desires.

Against these plain provisions of law stand these unquestioned facts: That McNamara was in Indianapolis when the dynamite outrage was committed in Los Angeles; that he was given no opportunity to consult counsel or resist extradition; and that the prosecuting attorney was not notified, as the Indiana law also requires.

Of course, McNamara, though in Indianapolis when the dynamite explosion occurred in Los Angeles, might still be guilty of complicity in the outrage. Of course, holding himself innocent, he should not and doubtless would not resist being taken to Los Angeles for trial. Still, the fact remains that McNamara was not extradited and that he was literally kidnaped out of Indiana and taken to California in defiance of the law to the protection of which he, an innocent man before the law until convicted, was entitled.

The ends of justice and the peace of society are not well served by such methods. There is danger when even those sworn to enforce the law participate in lawbreaking in the name of justice. If these men are proved guilty there should be no mercy for them. Until they are proved guilty they are citizens of the republic and of their several states, and entitled to the full benefit of all laws framed to prevent injustice and persecution.

THE PARTISAN NEWSPAPER.

Charles H. Grasty of the Baltimore Sun, who was for a time in charge of the St. Paul Dispatch and Pioneer Press, talked to the school of journalism at the University of Missouri the other day, and he gave the students a lot of good, sound common sense that cannot fail to benefit them in the careers to which they aspire.

Among other things he talked about the party newspaper and the independent newspaper, and here are some of the good things he said:

"To take a part in this fight for democracy is the high privilege of a newspaper. But a newspaper that devotes itself to such a cause is guilty only of self-stultification if in its local policy it lends its aid to the spoils-hunting and corruption that is fostered by a party organization. The day of the party organ is past. The people will not follow—and they will not even read—a newspaper that becomes part and parcel of an unclean and dishonorable political machine. And it is more than doubtful whether a party organ can be of any account permanently either to the organization or to the party itself. Let a newspaper stand up for its principles because it believes in them, but let it give no party and no man any color of right to tamper with its honesty.

"I believe that the independent newspaper—by which I mean the newspaper that acknowledges no master but the public and that stands for the convictions of its editor—is going to play a part of increasing importance in the affairs of this country. Point No. 1 in the argument for the independent newspaper is that only an independent newspaper is in a position to be honest, and only an honest newspaper can print all the news that is fit to print. The greatest abuses in our large cities come from a failure to print the news. In the case of the party paper it is almost inevitable that it will leave out or color the news."

The independent paper is not neutral. It has a mind of its own and principles that outline a course of conduct along which it hews, let the chips fall where they may. Often that course lies along the pathway of one party or another. Sometimes it may cut away at right angles from the pathway of that party, or swerve to the pathway of another party. No party is right all the time. No party is wrong all the time.

Above all, the independent paper will print the news. Having no party to protect and no political organization to serve, it is free to print the news and all of the news. The party organ must tone down this item, exaggerate that item and omit another item because of their possible bearing on the fortunes of its party. It must deal tenderly with this big business man because he is a contributor to the party treasury. It must deal delicately with this public evil or that because they are protected by the party organization. The difficulty with the party organ is that it is not serving the public, but a party—and above and beyond that the ring in control of the party organization, with whatever corruption and shame it may embrace.

That is the keynote of the difference between the independent newspaper and the party newspaper; the independent newspaper serves the people, owes allegiance only to the people, draws its profits from the people and pays for them in loyal and undivided service; while the party organ serves a party, obeys the party organization, and therefore must often draw its profits from subsidies and pay for them in service which is too apt to be treachery to the people.

WHY NOT PLANT SOMETHING?

Said a local story in The Herald last evening: "Seeds and slips are among the displays in all the retail markets this week."

And the displays are so many invitations to go in and buy and then to go a-gardening. There is a lot of fun and pleasant interest in gardening, if it is only in a small tract in your back yard. The Herald has urged the improvement of back yards by flower and vegetable gardens for years, and it is pleased indeed to note the widespread interest in soil-cultivation that is so much more in evidence this spring than ever before.

Everybody in control of a bit of land large enough to stick a few seeds in ought to have a garden. If you have a decently large lot, and your back yard is idle, you are not dealing justly with yourself unless you make a garden out of it.

Even though the season is fairly advanced, there is plenty of time for gardening. Even though the soil of your back yard looks a little unpromising, you will be surprised by what it will do if you give it a chance. It is richer than you think, and will respond readily to a little cultivation.

The arguments for the back yard garden are four-fold: Civic, economic, physical and mental. The civic argument is that a cultivated back yard, if it is planted only to potatoes, looks vastly better than a bare one or one filled with ashes and tin cans. The economic argument is that what you raise helps out the family table, no matter how little your yield. The physical argument is that gardening is splendid exercise which gives your appetite new zest, sends you to bed pleasantly tired and makes you feel better and fitter all around. The mental argument follows closely on the heels of the physical argument if your physical condition is improved by wholesome exercise and your system cleansed by a toil-made sweat, your spirits will lighten and your mind will be at ease.

TO WIN THE RACE.

There is to be a rowing regatta in Duluth in July, and a few days ago a large class of candidates for the rowing crews that are to represent Duluth and try to win victory in its name started in to train for it.

About the first thing the coach did was to inform the candidates that they must drop tobacco, alcohol and coffee. Except that he will start them in on mild exercises, leading up to harder exercises later, and that as the races draw near he will rigidly regulate their diet, living habits and exercise, that was about all there was to the beginning of the training regime. While the mild exercise is in progress he will watch his men, weed out the unpromising and those who don't try, and long before the races are due he will have picked his crews and will have them living the life that he deems best calculated to make them win.

What that coach is going to try to do with these young men is to eliminate everything that will weaken them and lessen their efficiency, and to make them do everything that will tend to strengthen them and increase their efficiency. He finds that alcohol in any form works against efficiency, so he commands its disuse. You can't drink alcoholic stimulants and win races. He finds that tobacco, too, is bad, so he insists that its use be discontinued. Same thing with coffee. Later it will be the same way with foods that make for fat instead of muscle. He will make his men get to bed early and get up early, so that they shall get plenty of sleep during the proper hours for sleep. He will make them eat what is best for them and refrain from eating that which is bad for them. He will make them take exercise that will harden and strengthen their muscle, increase their endurance, make their heads clear and their minds active to take advantage of every possible opening toward victory in the races that are to come.

And all to what end? To the end that these young men shall reach the highest physical and mental fitness of which they are capable, so that they may win the races in which they are to be entered.

Now, if it is a good thing to train young men to win boat races, isn't it a good thing to train them to win the races in life in which they are entered? If a good, sound physical training will enable oarsmen to win boat races, won't it help them to win success in the fields of human activity in whose fierce competition they are engaged?

But, you say, winning boat races calls for muscular strength, and winning success in life calls for brains. True enough; but how can you expect to have clear, strong, sound brains in a body weakened by indulgence and neglect?

A "sound mind in a sound body" is the equipment necessary to win success in life. It's pretty hard to keep your mind clear and alert and active, as it must be to win, when you let your physical condition run down through over-indulgence in food and drink and through lack of physical exercise. If you lose track of that very important fact, the first thing you know some other fellow who has sense enough to take a lesson from the story of that training regime will race all around you and beat you to the goal by a mile.

When oarsmen go into a race, they drop everything likely to weaken them and lessen their efficiency, and do everything that is likely to strengthen them and increase their efficiency.

So ought you to do as you enter the race for success in life.

THE OPEN COURT.

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest. Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

DULUTHIANS MAY MAKE THEIR OWN CHOICE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I have noted with much interest a letter in this column regarding the appearance in Duluth of Mme. Sarah Bernhardt in "Madame X." Mme. Bernhardt has submitted to Duluth theater goers the choice of the following plays: "Camille," "La Tosca," "Madame X," "Sister Beatrice," "La Sorcierre L'Aiglon," "Jeanne D'Arc," "Sapho," "Phedre," "Monna Vanna." We have had many requests for Bernhardt in "Madame X," and few for any other play. We will be very glad to receive expressions regarding the choice of a play either in this column or by letter addressed to the undersigned.

FOREST FIRES ARE GIVEN FREE PLAY.

To the Editor of The Herald:

During a ten or twelve-mile drive out the Lester river road today, I could plainly see the need of the presence of a state fire warden at various points along the road. Fires were started and seemingly allowed to spread as it were at will. On a large farm high stump piles were burning fiercely and the fire had crossed the road and was burning easterly. At another place this side, another tract was feeding the flames while near the Kennedy farm, so called, there was still another fire left to burn itself or somebody else out. This fire business may be all right but there ought to be a law if there is not one that would compel the interested party to procure from the state fire warden a license to start a fire and furthermore the condition of that license should provide that sufficient men should be stationed on that land to be burned over, to confine the fire to the owner's property. There is a ten-acre tract north of the P. McDonald corner that was slashed last fall and is to get the torch shortly. Possibly the owner may not fully realize what the consequences might be if the fire got beyond his control, but some others may before the fire will have spent its fury. Mr. State Fire Warden go to it and personally look after these fires within your district which are devastating our forests as well as exterminating all bird and animal life within the fire zone. It's a shame.

C. B. KELLY.

Duluth, May 5.

Proposed By Signal Code.

It was an unconventional manner in which Lord Kelvin "popped the question," the Argonaut says, and in the doing so won his wife. The question of simplifying the method of signaling at sea was then occupying his attention. His plan seemed simple to him, but to ordinary folk it was rather puzzling. He was staying with friends in Madeira at the time, and one day the subject was under discussion at the dinner table, but the only person that seemed able to grasp it was his host's daughter, a woman he greatly admired.

"I quite understand, Sir William," she said.

"Are you sure?" he questioned half doubtfully. "If I sent you a signal from my yacht, do you think you could read it, and answer me?"

"I believe I should succeed in making it out," was the reply.

The signal was sent, and she did succeed in making it out, and transmitting the reply.

The question was: "Will you marry me?" and the answer was: "Yes."

Our Naval Policy.

Harry D. Brandyce, in the May Forum: Those who argue that we have no real need of a navy because we have no merchant marine are mistaken in assuming that the only need of a fleet emanates from the necessity for giving protection to water-borne commerce. We have colonies and outlying dependencies to protect—the Philippines, Hawaii, Tutuila, Guam in the Pacific; and Porto Rico and the Panama strip in the Atlantic. Furthermore, we stand sponsor for the integrity of the Monroe doctrine, and the policy of the open door in China. Would the United States attempt to insist on the maintenance of the status quo in South America and in China if she had no navy to lend force to her arguments?

If America is to maintain, and if necessary enforce, her avowed principles, a strong navy is as indispensable to her as to England. We must keep our fleet keyed up to the highest practicable standard of efficiency; and we must see to it that our coast defences shall be of such strength that they may safeguard the territorial integrity of the United States at such times as the exigencies of war may make it desirable for the fleet to absent itself from home waters. Neither of these desiderata will cost much money, and there is no reason why congress should display other than a generous policy with regard to them. We must hasten to complete the fortifications at Manila so as to protect that city from possible attack. Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, should be made a great naval base and strongly protected by fourteen-inch and twelve-inch guns; for Hawaii is strategically the vital point in the defene of our Pacific coast. And thirdly, the Panama canal must be fortified with strong land works at either end, so that our control may be absolute in war as in peace. The harbor of Guantanamo, Cuba, should be transformed into an important naval station, with dry docks and repair shops for the maintenance and repair of our fleet; and strong forts should crown the surrounding hills.

When all these necessary enterprises shall have been brought to completion, and with the canal open to provide a means of quick passage for our fleet from one ocean to the other, we may consider that we have done our duty.

Putting Prisoners to Work.

Sacramento (Cal.) Bee: Columbus, Ohio, has learned what to do with her municipal prisoners. She has put them to work, not on the rockpile, but in the cultivation of the gardens around the workhouse. As yet the system is only in the experimental stage. By and by more of the city's culprits will be put to work. Then more will be expected of them.

How much more sensible this is than keeping prisoners confined in cells, particularly such as those of our city prison, or compelling them to break rock never used for anything. Outdoor employment is the thing for men serving sentences for petty crimes. Open air and the inspiration of nature are the great rejuvenators of mankind, spiritually as well as physically. So nothing could help more in the reclamation of the vagrants, the drunkards and the larcenists, who fill our municipal jails, than work that brings them close to the soil.

The prison farm is a great success in one Canadian province, where men at liberty on honor make the soil yield, and live almost as free as their brothers. Is there any reason why the system cannot be made a success by cities? Instead of sending the offender to a cell, sentence him to work on the farm. That may help to make a man of him, if it be possible, but the other way never will.

No Rush.

Louisville Courier-Journal: No news has come about anybody being hurt in the rush to answer the Mexican government's call for volunteers to put down the insurrection.

Mixed.

Rire: Policeman (to clubman returning home late)—Here, you can't open the door with that; it's your cigar.

Clubman—Great Scott! Then I have smoked my latchkey.

THE LIFE FORCES.

Edwin Bjorkman, in the May Forum: Everything that man does and suffers has meaning to him only in so far as it helps him to keep alive or to improve his existence—or in so far as it hinders him in the pursuit of these two objects. And from cradle to grave—without any choice on his part—his life is intimately, inalienably bound up with the lives of other men, and with these he must needs share both past and future, both heritage and ideals. At every moment of his life he craves, consciously or unconsciously, to be and to grow both individually and racially. He demands self-expansion no less than self-expression. Thus we reach the four main motives of his entire active and passive being—the all-pervading motives of self-preservation and self-perfection, of race-preservation and race-perfection.

These are the ruling passions of all mankind, speaking no less plainly in the race than in the individual. For purposes of easy identification I have ventured to name them the "Will to Live," the "Will to Love," the "Will to Do" and the "Will to Rule." And collectively I shall speak of them as the "Life Forces." Characterizing them roughly, it may be said that the "Will to Live" stands for self-preservation, or conflicting order; the "Will to Love" for race-preservation, or associate order; the "Will to Do" for self-perfection, or conflicting progress; and the "Will to Rule" for race-perfection, or associative progress.

The two preservative instincts have long been recognized, and it is common among scientists and philosophers to lead our entire being, with all its crudest and subtlest activities, back to hunger and desire. But when life has been secured and love has had its hour, there remains in a wholesome organism, under normal conditions, a surplus of unspent energy. The higher up an organism stands on the ladder of life, the greater is that surplus, and the more striking is the use made of it. To me it represents life's most precious asset. For out of it comes the energy which the perfective instincts transform into growth, progress, evolution. It is principally for the sake of that surplus and what life can do with it that man has to live and love.

What an Autobiography Is.

An autobiography once was a biography written by oneself, says the New York Independent. There was always, of course, the possibility of a novelist writing an autobiographical novel, a novel illuminating in regard to himself, or conceived in the autobiographical form.

Nowadays autobiography means simply a life, or romanticized biography, written in the first person. In this sense L. C. Alexander of Holly lodge Putney, South Wales, is the autobiographer of William Shakespeare. This volume is nothing if not specific. It even tells just what books Shakespeare took with him to London when he "came up from Hoddingley"—some thirty of them.

He fell upon lean times and sold them one by one and fed upon the proceeds, "and most sparely, too." Later he played women's parts upon the stage, and took to writing certain plays on his own account. The "autobiography" breaks off, none too soon, with the planning of "A Midsummer Night's Dream." There is ingenuity here, however, and any one in doubt as to the date of the composition of various plays has only to open this volume to learn the very truth.

The Poetry of Skirts.

Detroit News: The harem skirt will die of its own puritanism. It is modesty itself, incasing the nether limbs of womanhood as in a sack, lending itself neither to the vagaries of wind nor to the grace of motion in the wearer. The harem skirt lacks zest. It is not piquant. It suggests nothing; it is nothing. In fact, it is no skirt at all. Where is there room for the dainty, fluttering fabric, for the swift vision of ankles on a rainy day, for the art that conceals art; where, in brief, is there stimulus in the puckering strings of the bagged skirt? Romance has ever hedged about the skirt. Man has followed for centuries its swish and its swirl, its vague possibilities, its remote suggestion of ankles and limbs, its tantalizing grace, and will continue to do so as long as the eternal feminine with its eternal question mark endures.

Our Money.

Indianapolis News: Since we come to think about it we all use paper money these days. Only a few years ago the New Yorker used paper dollars; out here silver dollars sagged down our trousers, and "on the coast" it was gold. The last report covering the currency shows that there is $2,503,667,601 in paper money in circulation. The recapitulation is as follows:

Denomination.	Total.
One dollar	$150,098,928
Two dollars	62,636,982
Five dollars	515,324,812
Ten dollars	669,810,417
Twenty dollars	491,444,506
Fifty dollars	75,638,590
One hundred dollars	119,132,420
Five hundred dollars	20,507,500
One thousand dollars	109,657,500
Five thousand dollars	87,785,000
Ten thousand dollars	205,670,000
Fractional parts	48,588

Forty-five per cent of the paper outstanding is in denominations above $20, and it is said that a liberal proportion of these large bills are in bank reserves. Few $10,000 bills are found in circulation, at least in the central states. Most people live and die without knowing there is so much money.

Spring Pleases Perham.

Perham Bulletin: Dear, dear, radiant springtime is with us again and how happy we are to see the green returning to the grass and the buds to the trees. The little songsters are beginning to wend their way to dear old Minnesota, after their long stay in Southern climes. We know now that spring has come and we are all looking ahead to the beautiful evenings of summer, when all the air is full of sweet perfume.

He Won the Speed Record.

Philadelphia Times: This is one of a dozen good stories which Mayor Frank B. McClain of Lancaster told to a group of Philadelphia friends at the Bellevue-Stratford the other day:

"An Irishman, an Englishman and a 'hootmon' were arguing on the superiority of the railroad service of the three countries, each contending that his country had the fastest trains.

"'My word,' said the Englishman, 'I've traveled so fast, dont' you know, that the telegraph poles looked like a hedge.'

"'An' I've goon so fas' thot the mile-stones looked like tombstones.'

"'Ah, begorra,' said the best man in the crowd, 'it was one day last wake that I was speedin' through the country, an' we passed a field of turnips, an' a field of carrots, an' a field of potatoes, an' a lake, an' we wint so fast that I was sure the landscape was an Irish stew.'"

Kipling's Interrogative Answer.

Detroit Free Press: Rudyard Kipling, the well known anti-suffragist, said at an anti-suffrage dinner in London:

"Haven't the women enough? In addition to all their other privileges, why should they now have the vote?

"I was talking to a suffragist the other day.

"'Why should a woman,' she said disdainfully, 'take a man's name when she marries him?'

"'Why,' said I, 'should she take everything else he's got?'"

Poor Support.

Southwest: Kin Hubbard, the Indiana humorist—one of them, that is to say—once was assigned to cover a performance of "Uncle's Tom's Cabin." Hubbard had his brainchild, old "Abe Martin," report the play. This was the critique: "Uncle Tom's Cabin' played down t' Melodeon hall las' night. Th' dogs was good, but they had poor support."

Force of Habit.

Boston Transcript: Reporter (at door of mansion)—There is a rumor that Mr. Greatman has just died. Is this true?

Butler—Yes; but he has nothing to say for publication.

SATURDAY NIGHT TALK

Afterthoughts.

Who has not been harassed, perhaps driven almost to the verge of despair by afterthoughts—the coming to mind of considerations bearing on a given matter too late to be of service, and yet forcing themselves upon the attention with such insistency as to become almost torturous?

"If a man' foresight were as good as his hind sight," what a difference it would make! Instead of an array of blunders, mistakes, follies and perhaps sins, we should have a mass of creditable achievements, wise strategic moves, shrewd, sensible and timely utterances. Said Pat to Mike, "Faith, Mike, can you tell me what this thing is they call repartee?" Replies Mike to Pat, "Shure and I'm not altogether certain, Pat, but I think it is saying on the spot what you think of the next day."

Presumably half the business failures registered in a year would not have occurred if those who made them had had all their wits about them when they signed the first contract, or started their new ventures. Many a minister would have been saved a humiliating experience in a pastorate if, before he accepted the call, he had bethought himself to ask certain leading questions.

Then there is the great field of potential kidness. As a rule, people are not so unkind as they are thoughtless. They do not pause to reflect on how a certain act will seem to somebody else. Many people of this type are naturally generous and hospitable, but somehow they do not happen to think in time of sending the automobile around to take the sick lady on the next street out to drive. Young people are particularly liable to be thoughtless. They make up their list for the party or the excursion without stopping to think whether it might be a nice thing to include Annie Jones, who is not always in the swim, and perhaps not quite so immediately agreeable as most of the girls in the "set."

But the point at which the afterthought germ burrows most deeply into our consciousness, relates to the doing of messes to those whose eyes are now closed in death. Probably no one yet ever lost a friend, without saying to himself or herself, "I wish I had been kinder while he lived. I wish I had thought of this or that thing which would express my deep love." And this regret is likely to be most poignant when a parent dies or some other close relative and the only near of kin has been particularly remiss in attentions and courtesies, has been too busy or preoccupied and has postponed and postponed again the service he all the time meant to render, when he was a little less busy.

Afterthoughts demand radical treatment. Spilt milk can never be taken up again into the saucer, at least not in a very satisfactory form; the water that has run down the hill will not run back. To brood over one's neglects is to lose nervous force that ought to be expended in retrieving them. My afterthought of sympathy cannot avail as respects the one upon whom I bestow it, but it can by a wondrous alchemy be transmitted into a loving deed for someone still within my reach. That may be the only way of righting ourselves of these tormenting afterthoughts.

But if we could only avoid them altogether! Perhaps we can, to a large extent, if we will only plan. Our days more carefully, take time enough to think in advance of others and their welfare and happiness. Just one little forethought each day directed toward someone else may save us at least one vexing afterthought.

THE PARSON.

A MOMENT WITH THE WITS.

Puck: Willis: "Bump has an elegant home, hasn't he?"

Gillis—"Yes, it has all the comforts of traveling."

Washington Herald: "My good man, they need laborers badly in the next town."

"Thanks for the warning, boss, I'll make a detour."

Punch: Provincial Mayor (who is making a bid for popularity, to representative of press)—"Come in; take a seat. I always treats reporters as if they was gentlemen."

Louisville Courier Journal: "Plague take that woman!"

"My friend, she is the most beautiful girl in this town."

"That may be. But she obstructs my view of second base."

Chicago Tribune: "An expert politician nowadays," remarked the cross roads philosopher, "is a sort of human 'vacuum cleaner.' He gets the dust and you can't see exactly how he does it."

Boston Transcript: "Ma, do cows and bees go to heaven?"

"Mercy, child, what a question!"

"Why?"

"Cause if they don't, the milk and honey the preacher said was up there must be all canned stuff.

Toledo Blade: Lady—"Why are you all so worried?"

Captain—"The fact is, madam, we have broken our rudder."

Lady—"Is that all? Well, the rudder is under water and it won't show. Let's go on."

Pointed Paragraphs.

Chicago News: It's a pity a jealous woman is unable to keep the lid on.

A man seldom enjoys doing a thing unless he doesn't have to do it.

Poor old Adam! There were no tonsorial artists or safety razors in his day.

The good things of life are seldom under a bushel for the purpose of keeping their shady side dark.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

New York Press: We can't help feeling sorry for the poor man who has to think twice before he can remember what his name was before he was married.

A man sizes a woman up according to her own valuation, and he doesn't have much time for one who looks like a bargain counter specimen.

When a girl gets engaged to a man she is merely sparring for time in which to marry him or not.

During the courtship a girl struts around as if she owned the earth, but a few years after marriage she walks as if she were carrying it on her shoulders.

Swampland Romance.

Boston Traveler: On a piece of land. The poorest tract may prove a fine investment. A man bought a little piece of swamp land for $11 once. Everybody said he was stung, and he hadn't lived there over night till he knew he was. Mosquitoes! Well, a kind neighbor told him that coal oil would kill mosquitoes. So he bought gallons of it, and poured it wherever he thought they might be breeding. A few days later a capitalist called on him. Owner showed him over the place, and in an hour the capitalist had given him five times what he had paid for the land. The investor won and was happy. He wonders why the capitalist is drilling wells all over the place now, but he is satisfied.

Of Course.

Popular Magazine: "Boss" Clark, the city editor of the New York Sun, and famous throughout the newspaper world, once sent a "cub" reporter to "cover" a story which had some bearing on the music publishing business. The cub returned in an hour, his pockets and arms loaded down with songs and instrumental selections.

"What shall I do with this stuff, boss?" asked the reporter helplessly.

"That man forced it on me as a bribe. What can I do with it?"

The reply of the boss was laconic. "Sing it," he said quickly.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

President Henry Truelsen of the board of public works, stated today that the board had practically decided on an Eastern man for city engineer to succeed Mr. Fuller. From other sources it was learned that the new engineer will be E. H. Keating of Halifax, N. S. He is at the Spalding and talked quite interestingly this afternoon. He says he has just completed at Halifax the largest dock in America. It is entirely of stone, has a frontal of 600 feet and a width of 102 feet. The depth of water over the sill is 30 feet. Mr. Keating is about 40 years of age and speaks with a decidedly English accent.

The special citizens' committee, composed of George Spencer, J. H. Upham and Rev. T. M. Fridley, appointed by Mayor Davis some time ago to make a secret examination of the city water supply, will present its report at the next meeting of the city council. Samples of water were taken at and near the source of supply and from various parts of the city where typhoid had existed, but the Eastern expert chemist who examined them found nothing in the water to render it unhealthy. This is the substance of the report obtained on good authority.

Contractor J. A. Robert has just received a pretty little steam launch from St. Paul, with which he will make frequent hunting excursions during the summer.

A. Robinson of Detroit, formerly clerk on the steamer W. H. Stevens, has been made Duluth agent of the old Ward line and has opened his office in the quarters occupied by Capt. Sam Shannon.

The candidates for aldermen on the Citizens' ticket in the various wards of West Duluth are as follows: First ward, C. H. Martz, E. H. Hall; Second ward, S. T. Moles, J. McCormick; Third ward, O. S. Olson, S. P. Hammond; Fourth ward, W. W. Scott, T. H. Harrison.

H. W. White, bookkeeper for Bradley & Hanford, has resigned and will go into the lumber and real estate business at West Duluth.

Gottlieb Fritz, town clerk of Hermantown, died yesterday, aged 74.

Prof. L. J. Cooke has been presented by the business men's class of the Y. M. C. A. with a purse. He will represent the gymnasium at the Kansas City convention.

At the annual meeting of the Minnesota Point Street railway the following officers were elected: J. J. Hibbard, president; R. P. Edson, vice president; Wallace Warner, secretary; B. Silberstein, treasurer; Walter Murray, superintendent.

James H. Long of 203 Maryland avenue is preparing to move to St. Paul, where he will locate permanently.

Charles Hanson, janitor of the Phoenix building, leaves tomorrow for a few months' visit to Norway.

ABOUT PENSIONS---A TALE

By SAVOYARD.

Since 1865 there has been taken out of the public purse the stupendous sum of more than $4,000,000,000 on the pension account alone. I now recollect the total amount of all the property—real, personal and mixed—billed for taxation in the state of Kentucky, when Preston Knott was governor of that commonwealth, was about $440,000,000. Thus in forty-five years the pension cormorant has eaten up nearly ten states such as Kentucky was in 1864. The present annual charge for pensions is a little less than $160,000,000, and now it is proposed by some of the congressional demagogues to increase the amount of the annual pension appropriation by an additional $45,000,000, which would swell the total to above $200,000,000 a year. This $45,000,000 passed the house of representatives last winter under a suspension of the rules, which required a two-thirds vote. The senate killed it, however, though it, too, would have passed it had a vote been taken upon it.

And thus patriotism and gratitude have been made matters of merchandise. It is an insult to the brave men who fought the war, for this immense sum was voted the soldier to seduce his vote, and not for what he had done in battle.

Politics is responsible for this criminal prodigality, and I can testify in exoneration of the Republican party as the original contriver of the thing. It is the invention of the Democratic party, which sought to debauch the soldier vote by means of liberal pensions; but the Republicans seized on it, magnified it, and expanded it, and since 1880 much of the pension appropriation has been virtually a Republican campaign fund.

I will relate some history. In 1874, James A. Garfield, himself a Union soldier of high rank, reported the pension appropriation, and it called for $30,206,778. Mr. Garfield apologized for the bill because the amount was so great, and he and President Grant promised that it should be high-water mark for pensions. At that time there was no politics in such legislation and it was a roll of honor in which all took pride, even the Confederates.

Both the senate and the house of the Forty-sixth congress were Democratic in political complexion. Allan G. Thurman was president pro tempore of the senate and Samuel J. Randall speaker of the house of representatives. That congress enacted the "arrears bill," which sought to make a merchandise of the soldier vote. There never was a pension bill that Holman or Voorhees, of Indiana, would not have voted for. By operation of the arrears bill, the pension began to run from the date the disability was incurred, instead of from the time the claim was allowed. Instantly tens of thousands of claims were filed that never would have been presented but for this legislation. One pension attorney here is reputed to have made $2,000,000 prosecuting these claims.

What was the effect? A pension appropriation of $56,689,227 in 1880, which by 1888 swelled to the enormous proportions of $88,842,720. The Republicans as early as 1881 took in vaud this Democratic brat of graft in patriotism and gratitude. But the thing was just fairly begun.

About 1887 a Democratic house and a Republican senate passed the "Pauper" pension bill and Mr. Cleveland vetoed it. A man named Steele, a Republican member of congress from Indiana, attempted to nullify the Constitution of the United States by a motion to adjourn, which was defeated. You see it was the tenth day after the bill got to the president, and when the executive clerk reached the door of the house with the veto message Steele made his motion in order to prevent its reception that day, for a bill of congress becomes a law without the signature of the president if he has not notified congress of his disapproval within ten days, unless it be enacted one of the last nine days of the session, when the "pocket veto" suffices. Now it was proclaimed from the housetops that Cleveland was beaten for re-election in 1888 because of this veto.

Ben Harrison became president and congress sent him this same pauper pension bill, and he approved it. What was the result? The next year the pension appropriation jumped to $106,093,850. In 1891 it was $117,312,690. In 1893 it had grown to $156,906,657, and about that figure it has remained ever since, except one or two years.

Everybody admired Ben Harrison for his splendid intellect. I am sure he was a patriot. I am satisfied the office of president was bought for him. I know his election cost the people billions on this pension account alone. It is absurd to say that there is not the most reckless prodigality attending it when such men as Grant and Garfield said that $30,000,000 was ample in 1874, which ought to have been high water mark for it.

Had there been no protective tariff to preserve we would never have heard of a pension appropriation of $50,000,000. It was to get rid of the surpluses in the treasury and thus argue that congress should stand pat on the tariff that occasioned the passage of the pauper pension bill that alone has swelled the appropriation $80,000,000 a year.

I one day witnessed a scene in the senate that made the G. O. P. wince. John T. Morgan of Alabama, who had been a Confederate soldier, made a speech like this: "Build the appropriation as you please, pile it mountain high, the summit cloud capped. Every cent of it is a testimony to Southern valor. If it is an honest roll, our glory is the more effulgent. If it is a fraudulent roll the infamy, all of it, is yours, and none of it is ours. But if it tells the truth then the ragged rebels were the most heroic army that ever went to battle. I leave it to you. Yours be the responsibility."

I have said that much of the pension graft is virtually a Republican campaign fund. Let me illustrate something that came under my own observation. Metcalf county, Ky., sent to swell the Federal army at least 700 soldiers out of a population of about 9,000. When the war was over and the army disbanded, at least one-half of the Union soldiers of that bailiwick who returned voted the Democratic ticket, and at the first election at which they voted the Democrat majority was 185 in a total vote of less than 1,200. And so it continued until the "arrears bill" was passed.

One Dr. Hunter, a carpetbagger from Pennsylvania, got the appointment of examining surgeon. Republicans made no bones of proclaiming from the housetops that to get a pension a fellow had to "vote and be shot." Well, it got to be so that applicants for pensions, strong Democrats, and their boys and other kin, stayed away from the elections, and we couldn't get them to the polls. That was the first step of the iniquity. But the next election they appeared and voted the straight Republican ticket, and in 1885 when I left that county, you could count every Democratic ex-soldier in Metcalf county on the fingers of one hand and have fingers to spare. I now recall but two.

If that was done in Kentucky, what must have occurred in the doubtful state of Indiana? Now, Indiana did not send as many soldiers to the front as Ohio and Illinois; but Indiana, the double decade 1880-1900, had more pensioners than either. James D. Richardson of Tennessee investigated the thing and made a conclusive speech in congress on the subject. He showed how Indiana swarmed with special examiners from the pension office just before elections, and the mission of every one of these gentry was to intimidate and cajole the poor soldier into voting the Republican ticket.

What a grand old organization the Democratic party is, to be triumphant at the close of the first decade of the new century, after surviving the era of corruption—prostitution of the pension fund, fat fried out of the tariff barons, boodle collected off the Union league, "blocks of five" and what not, especially the riotous debauchery it experienced in 1896, when it took a whirl with the Populists!

GUARANTEEING A LIVING WAGE BY LAW

Minimum Wage Legislation—Its History Abroad—Pending Measures in the United States.

By REV. JOHN A. RYAN,
St. Paul's Seminary, St. Paul, Minn.

(This article is written by an advocate of minimum wage board laws, but it is published merely as outlining the progress of and the arguments for such legislation. Though in this country most of us are not yet ready to believe that a measure of this kind is necessary or possible, we ought to know what its advocates claim for it as a remedial agency, even if we are not prepared to agree with them.)

(Exclusive Service the Survey Press Bureau.)

Boards empowered to fix minimum rates of wages were first established in Australia. In 1896 the state of Victoria enacted a statute providing for special wage boards, composed of an equal number of employers and employes, and a chairman appointed by the government. Each represents a different industry and fixes schedules of pay which are the lowest that any employer in the trade is permitted to give. "Slow workers" may, however, be hired at lower rates.

Although the law was intended to be an experiment for only three years, it was continued from 1899 to 1902, was re-enacted in the latter year at a special session of the legislature called for that purpose, and has remained in operation ever since. According to present indications it will be continued and extended indfinitely.

While not entirely abolishing, the law has diminished "sweating," has maintained wages above the amounts paid in the unregulated trades, promoted organization among the workers, brought employers and employes closer together and elevated the plane of competition. The great majority of the people of Victoria, including most of the employers in the regulated trades, seem to be satisfied. The chief defects of the scheme are the lack of a general definition of a standard living wage to be followed by all the boards, and the fact that it has not been extended to every industry.

Between 1907 and 1909 New South Wales, Queensland and South Australia adopted the wage board system. A few years ago a select committee appointed by the British house of commons to investigate the condition of the home workers in England recommended minimum wage boards as the one measure which promised relief to this most oppressed class. Legislation in accordance with this report was enacted by parliament, but, as only a few months have passed since the boards were established, there are no facts by which to estimate its effects.

The National Consumers' league is urging similar legislation in the United States, particularly in trades employing women and children. More than one-half, and possibly two-thirds of the adult male wage earners in this country receive less than $700 per year, which is assuredly the minimum upon which a man and wife and three or four children can live decently. More than half and possibly two-thirds of the girl and women workers get less than $7 per week, which is certainly the minimum living wage in any of the larger cities. The proportion of persons who are thus underpaid has not appreciably decreased in the last twenty-five years nor have their wages risen noticeably in that time. Neither competition, nor organization, nor the free action of employers, nor industrial education has helped more than a small proportion of this great mass of men and women. There is apparently no remedy that promises adequate improvement in the near future, except legislation.

An objection to any attempt to raise wages by law is that the price of products would be raised correspondingly, and that some of those now employed would be compelled to go idle, owing to the smaller demand for goods at the higher prices. Every measure that raises wages, shortens hours, or increases the provisions for safety and sanitation in the workshop, whether by trade union action or by legal enactment is open to this objection. Since these have not produced the dire results predicted, there is a fair presumption that minimum wage legislation would likewise escape the contingency of higher prices and increased unemployment. The greater part of the enhanced wage payments would probably come out of the increased efficiency of the workers themselves. Better conditions of living would enable employes to produce more; higher wages would compel employers to introduce improved processes. Any increase in the price of the products of the workers whose wages were raised would probably be more than offset by their greater purchasing power and by the larger expenditure of those willing and able to spend more. It is quite probable that employment would be increased rather than decreased by consequence of a raise of wages by legislation.

But would such legislation be declared unconstitutional? During the last few years there has occurred a change in the attitude of the courts toward laws which restrict freedom of contract in industrial relations. For example, the decisions of the United States supreme court in the Utah eight-hour case and in the Oregon 10-hour case, indicate that measures of this nature will be sustained if two conditons are fulfilled; first, that the statute aims to protect the health, safety and welfare of the workers; and second, that the latter are unable to attain this end without assistance. Depressed wages are at least as injurious as long hours and are equally incapable of remedy by the efforts of the workers.

A bill providing for the establishment of minimum wage boards with authority over the wages of women and children was introduced in the Minnesota legislature in March. While it has attracted considerable attention, it has no prospect of passing this year. About one month earlier a measure was introduced into the legislature of Wisconsin which avoids the wage board idea, and empowers the labor commission to fix minimum living wages not only for women and children but for all in industrial employments. Several hearings have been held and it is certain to get a good vote. Six months ago no one would have dreamed that a proposal of this kind would have made such progress before any law-making body in America.

WESTMINSTER ABBEY WHERE KING GEORGE WILL BE CROWNED

This is Westminster abbey, where King George of England will be crowned by the archbishop of Canterbury on June 22. The old abbey, which stands opposite the houses of parliament, is a building of extraordinary historic value. The main building of the abbey is closed for a long period for the purpose of decorating it for the coronation. A theater is erected near the center of the edifice, where the transepts divide the nave from the choir. In the front of this, facing up the choir and toward the altar, are placed the two thrones, that of the king, elevated by five steps, and that of the queen, by three. The south transept is assigned to peers, with the royal dukes in chairs before them and the north transepts to peeresses, similarly preceded by the royal princesses all in their robes. Visitors are obliged to appear either in full court dress or in uniform. Members of the parliament, however, have the further option of morning dress, while the ladies are restricted to court dress, without trains.

NATIONAL GALLERY OF ART

Recent Additions to Gallery in United States National Museum—Large Painting Loaned By T. B. Walker of Minneapolis.

Recent additions to the National Gallery of Art in the United States National museum are described by Miss Leila Mechlin, the art critic of the Washington Star, as follows:

"A new painting recently added to the National gallery collection by William T. Evans is a winter picture of New York by Guy C. Wiggins, the son of Carleton Wiggins, the well known painter of cattle, who is represented by two paintings in the National gallery. This picture gives a view of Columbus circle in a severe snowstorm. The Columbus monument looms large in the foreground centering the circle, across which gay with bill posters, is the sharp-nosed corner formed by the intersection of Eighth avenue and Broadway. These diverging streets, retreating from the observer, present a difficult problem in perspective, and one which required careful solution. The effect of snow swept by the wind is admirably rendered, and the life of the street is well depicted. Mr. Wiggins was represented in the Corcoran gallery's winter exhibition by a picture of the water front at Noank, Conn., which at the time was specially commended for its strength and colorful quality, and to the exhibitions of the National Academy of Design in New York, he has during the past season made several notable contributions.

"Mr. Evans has also lately presented to the National gallery an interesting and valuable collection of wood engravings. Over eighty prints—"artist's proofs," finely printed and neatly framed—are included in the collection. Of these fifty or more are by Henry Wolf, who is one of the few who today practices this branch of art. Before the photographic processes came into use engraving was the chief means of reproduction. All the book and magazine illustrations published before and a good many after the 60's were engraved either on metal—steel or copper—or on wood. In the 70's and early 80's there was great demand for wood engravers, for illustrations were becoming more profuse, then came the invention or introduction of the half-tone process and the majority of the wood engravers were thrown out of work. A few held to it, however, and so mastered the art that they gave it, in time, new dignity and significance.

"Among these were Timothy Cole and Henry Wolf. The former has devoted himself almost exclusively to the reproduction of paintings by foreign painters, the old masters of Europe. The latter has, with few exceptions, spent his time interpreting the works of American artists. In a double line in the south center gallery are now hung fifty-one engravings by Henry Wolf of works by American masters, which individually and collectively manifest the strength of native production, and thus admirably supplement the original works on view. For example, among the paintings which Mr. Wolf has sympathetically interpreted (are Whistler's portraits of his "Mother" and of "Carlyle," the originals of which are in the Luxembourg and the Glasgow galleries; Winslow Homer's "Eight Bells," and "The Fox Hunt," the former in a private collection, the latter in the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts; William M. Chase's "Lady With a White Shawl," also in the Pennsylvania academy; Abbott H. Thayer's "Virgin Enthroned," in the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, and Cecilia Beaux's portrait of "Little Miss Sherwood," privately owned. There are landscapes by Homer Martin, George Melville Dewey, George Inness, and others; figure paintings by John W. Alexander, Edwin H. Blashfield, Irving R. Wiles, John S. Sargeant, J. J. Shannon, Louis Loeb, Robert Blum, and Frank Benson. Two and only two of the engravings are paintings by foreign artists—"Interior" by Veer Meer, engraved at the time of the Hudson Fulton exhibition, and "Boy With Sword" by Manet.

"All of these engravings are in themselves works of art, the engraver proving himself master of technique and yet yielding his own personality to that of the painters whose works he interprets. It is not difficult to distinguish between an engraving by Henry Wolf and Timothy Cole, but neither is it difficult in the works of these engravers to identify the distinguishing characteristics of the several painters whose pictures they reproduce. There is something not only very artistic, but very sympathetic in a good wood engraving.

"The thirty or more works by other engravers have not as yet been put on view. They embrace engravings by William B. Closson, who is now better known as a painter than as an engraver; by F. H. Wellington, Timothy Cole, S. G. Putnam, Elbridge Kingsley, Caroline A. Powell and others, all of whom were extremely proficient.

"The National gallery collections have been rehung since the walls of the museum building have been tinted and some minor changes have been made in arrangement. The Evans collection still occupies, however the main gallery, the three south and the one northeast gallaries; the Harriet Lane Johnston collection occupies the northwest gallery and in the north galleries are loan collections, one of Moran's paintings of the ships of the navy and the other of works by the great masters of Europe. The latter is a most notable collection—a superb group of masterpieces matched only in the great galleries of Europe. Only eleven paintings occupy the walls, but these are worthy of a pilgrimage. To the right of the door hangs a portrait of Mrs. Towry, by Sir Thomas Lawrence, and to the left a portrait of the duchess of Ancaster, by Sir Joshua Reynolds, both of which are amazingly beautiful. On the north wall hangs a portrait of Archibald Skirving, a gray-haired Scotch gentleman of the old school, painted by Henry Raeburn, which deserved to rank with the great portraits of the world. On the west wall are portraits of men by George Romney and Nicholas Maes, very different in style, and yet with something in common. The Maes portrait is especially convincing, strong, realistic and impressively vital. On the south wall, side by side, hangs a portrait of a lady by Hogarth, painted with frank directness, and a "Madonna and Child," by Govaert Flinck, rendered with beautiful suavity. There are also in this collection a landscape by Richard Wilson, which is rendered in rich browns and golden tints, a woodland scene by David Cox, painted with characteristic literalism, a "View in Rome," by Guardi, which more than rewards protracted study, and an interesting marine by Clarkson Stanfield. For one who knows and loves great works of art this little gallery will prove an inexhaustible source of delight. With such pictures one can never become too well acquainted."

It is also interesting to note that T. B. Walker of Minneapolis, the well-known art connoisseur, has lent to the National gallery the large painting by Benjamin West, entitled "The Raising of the Daughter of Jairus," which he recently purchased in New York. This canvas, which measures 10 by 16 feet, is certain to attract much attention during its exhibition in Washington.

DEEP SEA DIVER'S ADVENTURE

Saved From the Grip of Monster Blanket Fish By Timely Arrival of Man-Eating Sharks.

TO BE buried 180 feet beneath the surface of the sea, under very nearly three tons of leather-skinned, gristle-fleshed, boneless fish, is an experience that falls but seldom to the experience of even those most adventurous of men, deep-sea divers, says the Wide World Magazine.

This is what happened to Jack Roach, of San Francisco, Cal., in the harbor of Manzanillo, on the west coast of Mexico, not long ago. To have lived through such an ordeal is enough to unnerve most men, not so with Roach. He has gone on with his lifework, thankful that he escaped when escape seemed impossible, but still clinging to his trade of diving. Diver Roach told his story as follows, and I have set it down as nearly as possible in his own language.

I was given the contract for blasting the vast coral beds out of the Bay of Manzanillo, one of the southern ports on the west coast of Mexico. The government of Mexico is making extensive harbor improvements there, and, while the water is naturally deep, the steady work of the coral animals often raises unexpected reefs and dangerous points in the bay.

To get rid of these permanently I exploded charges in all the beds, broke them up into small fragments and dredged them out of the harbor. In doing this it was often necessary for me to put on the diving suit and go down to place the dynamtie myself. I may say that I have had thirty years' experience in diving and in carrying out contracts for the removal of obstacles on the bed of the sea.

In that time I have fought sharks and swordfish, and have even had to cut my way through the deadly arms of an octopus or devil-fish, but never in all my experience have I been so near death as I was beneath that smothering blanket of flesh which came on me unexpectedly out of the clear sea.

The manta, or blanket fish—the creature which I had the battle with—is common to the warm parts of the Pacific. Around the Mexican penal colony on the Tres Marias islands, not very far from Manzanillo, it is one of the most efficient guards for the prisoners incarcerated there. Not a man has ever been known to escape from this dreaded prison by swimming. No sooner does a human body strike the water than a school of these monsters appear, flying like giant bats through the sea. They throw themselves on the hapless swimmer, crushing him to the bed of the sea, and there suck the flesh from his bones with their powerful mouths.

The manta grows to mammoth dimensions, though the one which attacked me was comparatively small, not weighing over two or three tons and not being more than fifteen feet across. The fish is nearly square in outline, the wings forming great right angles which stretch out from the body, giving it a rectangular appearance. The fish swim by flapping these wings, and are sometimes called "sea-bats" on this account.

Mantas swim with incredible rapidity for what is apparently so ungainly a fish, and once they sight anything in the water, unless it be the speediest fish or shark, they overhaul it and simply close it, wrapping the entire blanketlike body around the unfortunate victim. Even with a sharp knife it is almost impossible to reach a vital point in the manta's body. For this reason they are the most dreaded by divers of all the dwellers in the sea; and the diver's life is not without its perils, take my word for that.

Though I had often noticed the presence of these monsters in the water near me while working on the Mexican coast, I have been very careful not to disturb them. In fact, I have frequently temporarily abandoned placing a blast in one particular spot owing to "flocks" of these great seabats happening to be in the immediate vicinity.

On the eventful day, however, I had placed my blast, exploded it from the lighter, blowing several tons of solid coral into fragments, and had gone down again about 180 feet to the bed of the sea to get an idea of just what havoc the dynamite had wrought. It was near the close of my contract, and I was anxious to catch the next boat of one of the American lines up the coast to San Francisco.

I got to the bottom in safety, and was taking note of the conditions there, when I saw a school of man-eating sharks, which infest these waters, rapidly approaching. I stepped behind a huge fragment of coral, let my air-hose play loose and waited for them to pass. There was no chance for me to be drawn through the thirty fathoms of water to safety without the sharks noting my presence. They did just as I hoped, and I stepped out from my hiding place, pulled on the lift-rope—and was drawn directly against the belly of a manta! Instantly I had presence of mind enough to realize that the air rope, would be broken if my companions attempted to raise me, burdened with the fish, so I signaled to be dropped again.

This the men promptly did, but I was by no means out of my trouble. Its great, glassy eyes, gleaming with ferocity, its mouth opening and shutting savagely, the blanket-fish followed me down. I tried to step from under it, but the manta had a spread of body that must have overhung me for six or seven feet on all sides. I was completely engulfed, and as I reached for the ten-inch sheath knife I always carry I felt that my time had come.

Fortunately the air-pipe was hanging loose and the pump on the lighter running like a clock. I knew that the beak of the monster would never penetrate my diving suit, but I knew also that the men, in the course of time, would attempt to pull me up if they got no signal, and then I should be smothered to death just as certainly as though buried alive in the earth of some lonely graveyard.

The bottom of the sea about me was as black as night. Slowly the great mass of the fish's body settled down upon me and I was pinioned fast to the bottom of the bay. I was powerless now to give a signal to my assistants either to haul me up or to pay out the line, and I did some of the most rapid thinking of all my life as I lay there buried under the slimy mass.

With a great effort I turned half way over on my left side, so that my right arm was free, and slowly drew my knife. With this in my hand, a formidable weapon in any ordinary combat, I felt much as a miner must feel, buried in a sudden cave-in of some shaft, with only a pocket knife to dig his way out. My only hope was to hack away at one spot in the manta, and thereby cause it such pain, if that were possible, that it would move away.

With this end in view I commenced to hack at very center of the mass above me. Through the windows of my helmet I could see the great body quiver at every thrust, but at the same time, even through my diving suit, I could feel the great mouth moving over my body, seeking some aperture by which it could suck the flesh from my bones.

And then, just as my blows were becoming weaker and weaker, the manta suddenly slipped off me and glided away, almost on the bottom of the sea. when, glancing upward, I saw the when, glancing upward, I sa w the white bellies of at least half a dozen huge sharks, evidently in full pursuit of the sea-bat. Then, and not the knife, were my savior. Scenting or seeing the blood of the blanket-fish in the water, they had swooped down upon the monster, eager for a feast. They promptly attacked the manta in force, driving it out into the open sea, and there, as I saw later when raised to the lighter by my assistants, they killed it by repeated snaps at its great body, as wolves kill deer by snapping at their flanks. When the manta left me I pulled the signal rope and was hauled to the surface, which I had never expected to reach again. Far out in the channel I could see the battle, but I did not feel like going closer to it, nor was it for several days that I could don my diving outfit and drop down into the green waters of Manzanillo bay without completely losing my nerve.

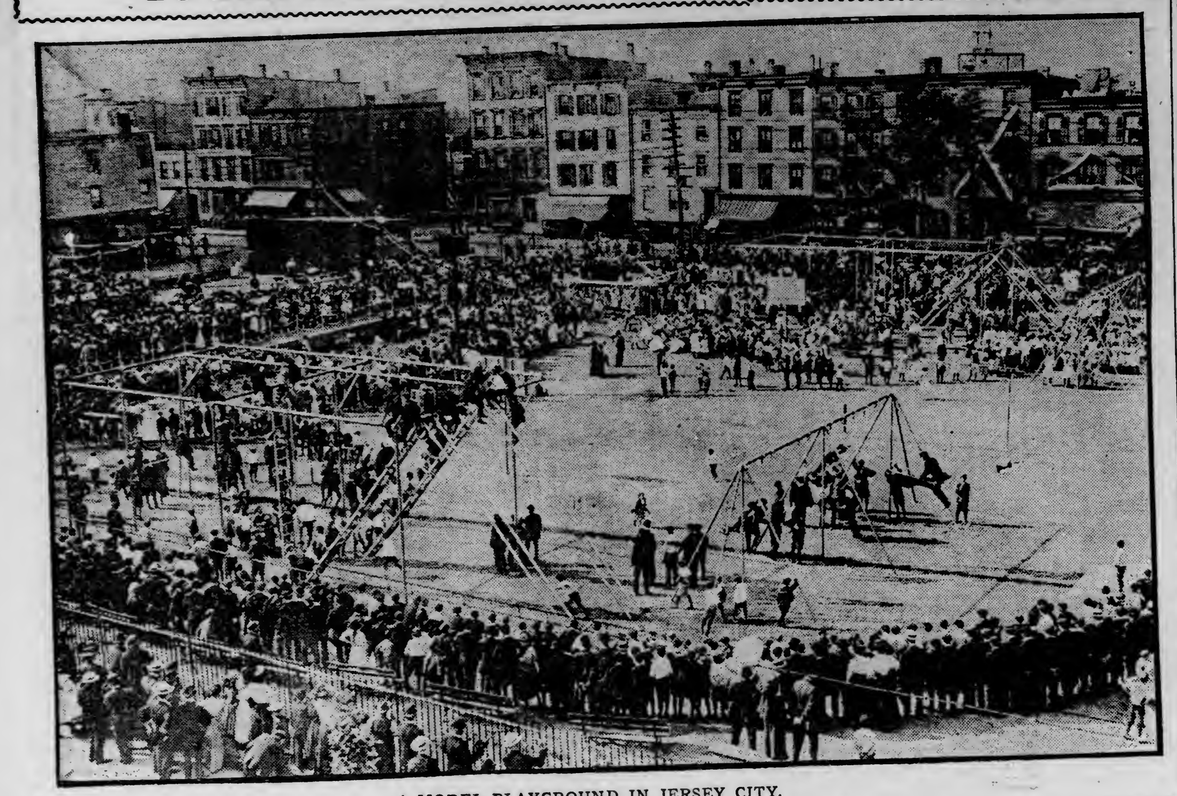
WHAT THE CITY OF DULUTH IS DOING THIS YEAR TO PROVIDE PLAYGROUNDS FOR ITS CHILDREN



A MODEL PLAYGROUND IN JERSEY CITY.

AMBITIOUS plans have been outlined for the "kids" of Duluth by the local playgrounds' association, and the members are hopeful of their successful culmination this season. Several playgrounds are in operation in the city, but the scope of the work is not nearly sufficiently extended, according to those who have been making a study of the problem. They declare that despite the magnificent advances which have been made in the last year, more should be done.

"Of course I realize that Duluth has made a great stride in the right direction," said a man who is deeply interested in the matter yesterday. "But I also am convinced from what I have read and from what I have observed that much more should be done along the line of playgrounds. We have only made a beginning here. I appreciate the fact that the park board and the other officials interested have done all in their power to promote the movement, but I also think that the citizens generally do not appreciate what the playgrounds' movement amounts to. It is probable that they have given the matter some thought, but I feel that if they were better posted they would demand as one person that more money be devoted to their development. Nothing is more important than the health of our children and I know of no way in which this can be better promoted than by outdoor playgrounds."

Three Playgrounds Wanted.

At the annual meeting of the playgrounds' association the first part of the week held at the office of the mayor, the president, Mayor M. B. Cullum, was authorized to appoint a finance committee whose duty it shall be to solicit funds for the movement. The hope was expressed that the association would be able to take charge of three playgrounds this season. Those mentioned were in the central part of the city, the West end and West Duluth. It was stated that a supervisor should be hired to take charge of each of them, with one man whose duty it would be to see that the supervisors did what was expected of them. The finance committee will have rather a difficult task, it is expected, to meet the problem which confronts it, but those who are in charge of the movement are confident that they will be able to meet all contingencies.

The hope is expressed that the playgrounds will grow to open air gymnasiums. They have been installed in other cities with wonderful success and have been instrumental in promoting the welfare of the children to a great extent. With the installation of the complete apparatus the men who have made a study of this subject state that the interest has been greatly augmented and that the attendance has been much greater than would otherwise have been the case.

Duluth has a number of playgrounds in all parts of the city, but the apparatus is of the simplest kind. As far as they have gone they have won unbounded admiration, particularly from the mothers, who have been grateful for the relief which they have afforded them. They have frequently stated that the playgrounds have been a great aid to them, as they have felt safe in allowing their children to play outdoors when they knew their whereabouts. They say that if the neighborhood were not equipped with a playground they would either have to have the children inside or be constantly running into the yard to watch them.

Mayor Cullum, who was elected president of the local organization, has been an enthusiastic advocate of the playgrounds movement. He believes that it is one of the foremost duties of the municipality to look out for the "kids" and has always lent his influence to forward any movement in that direction.

The Old Courthouse.

The playgrounds' association decided at the annual meeting to ask the county commissioners for the use of the playgrounds adjacent to the old courthouse at Seventh avenue east and Third street. They are admirably adapted to this purpose and are in the midst of a populous district. That they would be extensively used for playgrounds is proved by the fact that with the small equipment which they have at the present the lot is dotted with "kids" during practically all the hours of daylight when they are not in school. Another proof of playground popularity is found at the square across from the Irving school at West Duluth. This is also only provided with a meager equipment but it is stated by those who have had charge of the playgrounds of the city that it is probably the best example of a playground which the city has at the present time. In some parts of the city the children have no vacant lots and they congregate in the streets at all hours of the day, endangering their lives and making the existence of their parents one continual round of anixety. It is the ambition of the playgrounds' association to provide a playground for every locality of the city, and they feel that there is no doubt but that if the people in general would rally to the support of the movement, it would not be more than a year before Duluth would be ranked among the foremost cities of the United States in the playgrounds' program.

MINNESOTA UNIVERSITY

Most Artistic Junior Annual Ever Issued on University Campus.

Chapel Hour Abolished for Three Days in the Week.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 6—(Special to The Herald)—Differing in every respect from all previous annuals and larger in size, the 1912 Gopher made its appearance on the campus, without any delay whatsoever, on the exact date announced by the management.

The 1912 Gopher is bound in gray and black leather, and is larger than any of its predecessors. Each page has a border of a campus design printed in gray, taken from Cass Gilbert's plan of the greater campus. The inserts are the most elaborate in the history of Gopherdom. The volume is dedicated to "Minnesota Spirit." Three photographs of President Vincent and Dr. Northrup are included in the fore part of the volume. The Gopher is divided into five books, each a masterpiece in itself. Unlike other boards, the present management has printed the junior album at the very end of the book. The main features of the book are Dr. Burton's article on the "Masquers," Cass Gilbert's greater campus plans, "The Poultry Book," dedicated to all the old hens in college, fake advertisements, the "Baby Section," and the athletic department. Miss Therese Gude of Duluth assisted in the artistic work of the Gopher.

Playing before a large audience the "Masquers" presented their annual spring play, "The Merchant of Venice" at the Princess Theatre. The performance was a success throughout and the club deserves special commendation for its work this year.

Irving Bacheller entertained the Gopher Day chapel crowd with a short talk, in which he gave several short sketches of New and Old England characters with a dry humor which kept his audience amused. Dr. Richard Burton introduced Mr. Bacheller, after the opening services, as one of the two leading novelists today.

Work was started last week on the excavations for the new medical and dentistry buildings. These enormous twin structures will face each other across a partly enclosed court and will be near the Elliot Memorial Hospital. The outside plans for the buildings are identically the same and the interior will differ only in as much as is necessary for the needs of the different schools. The medical building is to contain the offices of the dean, faculty rooms, class and lecture rooms for the different departments and large laboratories for experimental medicine and surgery. There will also be a large elegantly furnished sitting room on the first floor for the convenience of the students. The animals will be housed on the top floor and an area way about the roof will be provided for those who feel disposed to take exercise. Both buildings will be erected simultaneously. Dean Westbrook said, "I think that the public will soon realize that the University is a highly progressive institution."

The abolition of chapel hour, the substitution for it of third hour on three days in the week, and the consequent lengthening of the noon hour by thirty minutes is contemplated in a complete revision of the daily program now under consideration by the program committee of the university faculty. It was the opinion of one faculty member that the chapel exercises should be dispensed with entirely. This idea has never met the favor of the majority. As now proposed, the third hour on three days will be devoted to chapel exercises. On one day strictly religious exercises will prevail, on another special features, such as addresses by outside speakers, will be given, while on the third day, the hour will be taken up with student activities in the nature of mass meetings and musical recitals. The plan is now in the hands of the program committee who after completing the details will submit their recommendations to the university council.

Dr. Cyrus Northrop, president of the Minnesota Peace league, was presented with the ribbon of the International Society for Conciliation, by Baron de Constant, member of The Hague peace tribunal. The honor was conferred on Dr. Northrop by the distinguished Frenchman at a meeting at the Westminster church. Dr. Northrop has also been appointed by Governor Eberhart to the national peace congress, to be held in Baltimore.

The main engineering building is being built as rapily as possible and already the foundations are in and the work on the basement is being rapidly pushed. The main building which is the central one of the group of ten buildings, faces on Church street. It will contain the offices of the dean and lecture rooms as well as several rooms for the entertainment of the engineering students. The style of the building will be simple and dignified and will follow the ideas of the Italian Renaissance.

The annual convention was held at Minnesota by the Scabbard and Blade, a national military organization. The crack squad put on an exhibition drill for the benefit of the visiting delegates. The business meetings of this convention were held behind closed doors and the affairs taken up are not open to publication. The following delegates were there: H. J. Blake and Harry Baker of Wisconsin; R. W. Whittier and E. M. Hill of Minnesota; A. T. Knight of Cornell; Lawrence Thompson of Purdue, and E. G. Hoeppner of Illinois.

Approximately $1,300,000 falls to the lot of the department of agriculture for its increase and maintenance during the ensuing year, $515,000 going to the division at St. Anthony Park, $500,000 to outside stations, $100,000 for new demonstration work, and $160,000 for current expenses. The attendance at the agricultural school will be held at its present level and a large entering class discouraged, because an extensive increase cannot be provided for. The two-year teachers' course of the home economics' department has been abolished already on account of insufficient equipment. The department is not slow in putting its appropriations to a good use and preparations are now under way for the erection of the new mechanic arts' building, increase in dormitory space, remodeling of the drill hall, and other improvements about the campus of the agricultural college. The class rooms will be remodeled and the gymnasium supplied with considerable new apparatus. The basement of the large new building for the girls is to be changed into study and rest rooms, and $10,000 is appropriated for grading and lighting the campus. Substantial enlargements are provided for the agricultural schools at Crookston and Morris, and additional barns are to be built at Grand Rapids.

WHEN PLAINS RIDERS DIE

Members of Royal Northwest Mounted Police Always True to Tradition of Their Famous Corps.

Another tragedy of the Royal Northwest Mounted police has been chronicled in the frozen wilds where red-coated constables are the physical manifestation of British law, says the New York Post. The bodies of four men, constituting the regular winter patrol from Fort McPherson to Dawson in the Yukon territory, were found the other day by a relief party sent out from Dawson after two months had elapsed without word from the riders. Two of them, Constables Kinney and Taylor, were discovered thirty-five miles from McPherson. The others, Inspector Fitzgerald and Constable Carter, were ten miles further on the road. Carter who had been married only a few months, had summoned every ounce of energy to aid him in the fight to reach safety. As for Fitzgerald, he had only obeyed the common initiative of his corps, the initiative that demands that an officer must think of his men before himself. He had pushed on in a desperate attempt to find relief.

According to the diaries of the four men, kept up to the last minutes of their lives, they had been unable to locate the Peel River Pass through the rockies and had blundered around in the snow for some days until most of their provisions were gone. Then they had turned and headed back for Fort McPherson, 250 miles to the rear. When the little food left to them had given out they began to kill their dogs, and after fifteen malamutes had been sacrificed they even chewed buckskin thongs and harness. It was hunger that mastered them in the end, not lack of grit. And it is interesting to note that the two men who lasted longest were the man who had family ties and the man who felt responsible for his detachment.

Possibly the most pathetic note in the tragedy is the fact that all four men had been picked for the detachment which will represent the "Riders of the Plains" in the coronation parade in London. As it is, four other redcoats will be detached from duty at various little isolated log-cabin posts scattered over prairie and mountainous terrain and sent to ride after the unknown master whose word they carry into the fastnesses of his vast territory up beyond the place where the "frozen fifties dip to the North."

There will be no particular amount of mourning over the men who died. Their names may be read out in the barrack square at Regina, after the pitifully brief report from the district commander has been filed with the commissioner. A record will be entered against their names—"starved to death on patrol." Inspector Fitzgerald and Constables Kinney, Taylor and Carter will have joined the long roll of the mounted police who have perished doing their duty.

From this it will be seen that the coming of civilization has not banished danger from the work of the force. Of course, it would be foolish to attempt to hold that the work of the constables is as dangerous as it was in the days, say, from 1876-78, when they had Sitting Bull's great war band of Sioux on their hands, or before Louis Riel's second rebellion, in 1885, had been got under control. Nevertheless, the lot of a constable is not an easy one. There are troublous half breeds and Indians, not to speak of white desperadoes, still to be found in the snow wastes of the North, while the patrolling of the trails as a precaution and safeguard for travelers is in itself no light task. Indeed, Fitzgerald's party were engaged upon just such a task when they met their doom.

The Royal Northwest Mounted police were organized in 1873, in response to an urgent need for an efficient body of a semimilitary character to patrol the enormous area of the Northwestern territories, at that time beginning to attract settlement, with all its attending train of troubles brought by whisky traders, trappers, stock raisers, bad Indians and the like. They started with a force of about 300 men, mobilized in six divisions, A, B, C, D, E and F, and by the summer of 1874 they were already in action.

It would be endless to tell of all the work they did. Suffice it to say that within a year they had made the name of their corps feared and respected throughout the country. A rising of Blackfeet, Cree and Assiniboine Indians had been much feared by the Canadian authorities prior to the advent of the police; but before the constables had been in the field many months the immediate danger was averted.

Up to their coming it had been impossible for small parties of white men to travel through the Blackfeet country but by the end of the year trappers reported that a woman could ride alone wherever she wished. They were always just with the Indians. This was one reason for their authority and ability to grip tense situations. The personal element, the make-up of individual men, must have had a great deal to do with their efficiency, too. Consider the inspector who sent an urgent dispatch to the commissioner at Regina, saying that inasmuch as he had a band of 3,000 Sioux braves to watch, he thought his command should be "increased to at least fifty men!"

The make-up of the corps, cosmopolitan and varied in the extreme, has been one of its distinctive features. It is no comman police force. The possibilities of excitement and adventure, and, more than this, the romantic nature of the work, with its admixture of dare-devilry, chances for primitive diplomacy and state craft, combined to make the service attractive to many men who otherwise would be holding commissions in his majesty's line regiments. They would rather serve as ordinary constables and wear the flat-topped forage cap of the private than be subalterns with a border foray in India as the most interesting prospective.

A man who was a member of the force has left this graphic description of his comrades:

"After having been some two months in the corps, I was able to form some idea of the class of comrades among whom my lot was cast. I discovered that they were truly 'all sorts and conditions of men.' Many I found, in various troops, were related to English families in good position. There were three men at Regina who had held commissions in the British service. There was also an ex-officer of militia, and one of volunteers. There was an ex-midshipman, son of the governor of one of our small colonial dependencies; a son of a major general, an ex-cadet at the Canadian Royal Military college at Kingston, a medical student from Dublin, two ex-troopers of the Scots grays, a son of a captain in the line, an Oxford B. A., and several of the ubiquitous natives of Scotland comprised the mixture.

"In addition there were many Canadians belonging to families of influence, as well as several from the backwoods who had never seen the light till their fathers had hewed a way through the bush to a concession road. They were none the worse fellows on that account though. Several of our men sported medals won in South Africa, Egypt and Afghanistan. There was one, brother of a Yorkshire baronet, formerly an officer of a certain regiment of foot, who, as a contortionist and lion-comique, was the best amateur I ever knew. There was only an ex-circus clown from Dublin who could beat him. These two would give gratuitous performances nightly, using the barrack room furniture as acrobatic 'properties.'"

It is narrated that when the Earl of Aberdeen, governor general of Canada, stopped at Ft. MacLeod on a tour of inspection, the trooper assigned to him as orderly was his own nephew. There is a constable in the battery, at Regina who bears the name of one of the proudest families of the nobility of Denmark. Yet he makes a good policeman and does his work as efficiently as any of his comrades.

Many stories of the work of the police are illustrative of the things they have accomplished. One is at a loss where to begin. Perhaps no deed was more plucky than the bluff that Sergeant McDonald, in command of the Wood Mountain Post, played on turbulent old Sitting Bull. One day the police had found the bodies of six scalped Salteaux Indians near the post. Upon investigation they discovered that the crime had been committed by Sitting Bull's Sioux. McDonald was setting forth to demand the surrender of the murderers, when Sitting Bull rode up to the post at the head of 500 yelling braves and forestalled the sergeant by arrogantly demanding the surrender of the surviving Salteaux.

To emphasize his demand the chief leaped down from his pony and thrust the muzzle of his rifle into McDonald's stomach. But the policeman was not frightened. He calmly pushed the gun aside and told the chief and two of his followers to come inside for a "pow-wow" first seing to it that the chiefs stacked their arms in the yard outside the council room. Then by sheer force of personality he browbeat them into ordering that the excited braves outside should be dispersed. When this had been done McDonald explained the law on murder, and announced that, while they waited, he would send three men into the Indian camp to arrest the murderers. He dispatched the three constables, who pushed their way through howling masses of Sioux, sought out their men, handcuffed them and carried them back to the post.

Then there is the story of how 200 sullen Crees, who had fled into the United States, were escorted to the line by a strong detachment of American cavalry, under orders to turn over their charges to a force of Northwest mounted police. The Americans were met by a corporal and two constables. The American officer in command surveyed them with amazement, as is related in "The Riders of the Plains," by A. L. Haydon.

"Where's your escort for these Indians?" he asked.

"We're here," answered the corporal.

"Yes, yes, I see. But where is your regiment?"

"I guess it's all right," said the corporal. "The other fellow's looking after the breakfast things."

"But are there only four of you, then?"

"That's so, colonel, but you see we wear the queen's scarlet."

Three men once rode 120 miles in a blinding sonwstorm to arrest a horse thief in a settlement of eighty half-breeds, all of whom were "had" and cheerfully ready to fight if they got a chance. But the three redcoats got their man and carried him back to justice. Their report was summed up in a few words. This is a way of the Northwest mounted police. "Constable J. A. W. O'Neill, on a patrol from Norway House to Keewatin for the purpose of arresting two Indians accused of murder. Time occupied, four months; distance traveled by dog train and canoes; 750 miles." That was all.

And once a sergeant and one constable conveyed two dangerous lunatics hundreds of miles over a country with which they were unacquainted in the depths of winter, with every consideration for the comfort of the poor wretches.

After all, the keynote of the mounted police is struck in the story of the youngster, barely more than a recruit, who was sent across snow covered prairies to hunt horses that had strayed toward Pendant d'Oreille. He was overtaken by a blizzard, and several weeks later, when the snows had melted, a search party found his body. In his pocket was his notebook, on a leaf of which he had scribbled:

"Lost. Horse dead. Am trying to push on. Have done my best."

"Am trying to push on. Have done my best." That is the motto of the mounted police. "Maintiens le droit" are the words that encircles the buffalo head on the coat of arms, but, sanctioned though they are by colleges of heralds and the traditions of centuries, they lack the stirring force of the dying message of the young constable who had failed, knew he had failed, and knew, too, that he had done his best.

Here is another instance—of a different sort—the succinct report of a man stationed in one of the typical frontier settlements of the Northwestern country:

"On the 17th inst., I, Corporal Hoggs, was called to the hotel to quiet a disturbance. I found the room full of cowboys, and one Monaghan or 'Cowboy Jack,' was carrying a gun and pointed it at me against Sections 105 and 109 of the Criminal Code. We struggled. Finally I got him handcuffed behind and put him inside. His head being in bad shape, I had to engage the services of a doctor, who dressed his wound and pronounced it as nothing serious. To the doctor Monaghan said that if I hadn't grabbed his gun there'd be another death in the Canadian history. All of which I have the honor to report."

Incidentally it may be remarked that the prefix "Royal" has been borne by the corps only since 1904, when it was conferred upon them by King Edward at the behest of the Earl of Minto, governor general, and in recognition of their services. To be a "royal" command is the ambition of every organization under the British flag.

There are now 649 men on the force, charged with maintaining law and order in the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan, the Yukon territory and the Northwest territories, but it is hoped that before long the effective strength can be increased to 1,000 men. Fully that number is needed to cover the country within the jurisdiction of the constables.

Are You Fat?

You know you can not stay fat, don't you? That is, you can not be fat and be in style. The day when a fat woman was tolerated is past. Nowadays all women must be in proportion or be ridiculous. This does not mean you should become skinny, however. You should not get below the hard flesh line. All you ought to lose is the bulky fat. That done you will find yourself to be a well formed and therefore handsome woman.

Now, how can this be done? By exercising and dieting? Yes, and no. These two means will bring some results, but not easily nor soon. One is very hard work; the other is torture. Besides, neither can be depended on to cause a uniform reduction. They may take off a fleshy shoulder, for example, and leave the double chin unample, and leave the double chin untouched. What you need, you see, is something pleasant to take that without injury to your health will take the fat off uniformly and quickly, say at the rate of a pound a day or so, until it is all gone where you want it to go.

For this purpose nothing is less expensive, safer or simpler than Marmola Prescription Tablets. Inexpensive because one large case, costing 75 cents only, will produce results; safe because they cause no wrinkles or stomach trouble, but rather improve the health and complexion, if anything; and simple, because they do all the work without asking thought or effort on the part of the taker. In short, they are the ANSWER if you are fat and wish to be thinner. If your druggist is of the better kind he will have them. If not, write the licensees, The Marmola Company, 491 Farmer Bldg., Detroit, Mich.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

LAND LIST NOW FILED

Leech Lake and Winnebigoshish Reservation Lands Ready for Settlers.

Superintendent O'Neil of Logging on Reserves Makes Known Land Open.

Cass Lake, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—There is much interest here in the list of lands that William O'Neil, superintendent of logging on Indian reserves in this section filed yesterday in the local United States land office. The list contains practically 32,000 acres of lands on the Leech lake and Winnebigoshish reservations, which are ready for settlement to persons desiring homesteads. Over 12,000 acres are in what is known as the Boy river country, tributary to that station on the new Soo Line in Cass county, and the balance in what is known as the Bowstring region, from the lake of the same name in Itasca county, Deer River and Bena, on the Great Northern, and Blackduck, on the Minnesota & International, are the nearest railroad points to these. For weeks there have been hundreds of homeseekers looking over these and other lands, as it was an easy matter to know in advance about what lands were to be opened during this summer on account of the cutting of the timber. It is expected that there will be several lists filed similar to this one, covering lands in other parts of the reservations, many of them immediately tributary to Cass Lake. Many people who have made selections of tracts here want have had messengers stationed here ready to ride out and give notice as soon as the list which they are interested in is filed. The lands are subject to the homestead laws and $1.25 per acre must be paid for them in five annual installments or at the time of making final or commutation proof.

Settlers All Over Lands.

Settlers are scattered all around these lands who took them at former openings and taking these lands does not mean the usual hardships connected with homesteading on the frontier. The lands are not yet subject to filing but it is expected that the filing date for all the lands settled on and in these lists will be set for a later date this season. Those settling on these lands now of course have the prior right to them and cannot be defeated by a filer who files after they have made settlement, provided of course the law as to settlement is complied with. Similar lands taken at the 1910 and prior openings have as high as thirty and forty acres and valuable buildings on them. One man who has already proved up has sold his land for sale with a local real estate man at $5,000, and he will probably get it. He expects to go back to Sweden where ore has been discovered on his father's homestead.

DRUMMERS ARE MAD.

Communication Attacking Them in Warren Paper Is Cause.

Crookston, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Traveling men coming here from Warren says that the drummers making that territory are mad clear through over a signed communication appearing in the Warren Shea, published by Postmaster J. P. Mattson of Warren, attacking the drumers and sort of siding in with the mail order houses. The communication is said to have been written by Charles J. Smith, a rural mail carrier out of Warren, who signs his name and draws the conclusion that country merchants are not able to compete with mail order houses because the drummers are like a swarm of locusts feeding on the country all the time. The article goes on to say the drummers "nag" the merchants into buying at high prices while the mail order houses have no drummers and sell cheaper. The communication concludes:

"Down with the swarm of locusts that are eating up the country people to no purpose."

The traveling men held an indignation meeting and then went to the postoffice one by one and called for mail for "John Locust," "Bill Locust," "Tom Locust" and every other locust ever heard of. Not only are the commercial travelers angry as hornets, but the merchants are angry as well.

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS SOON RUINS HEALTH

A. M. Ball Writes Letter Telling How United Doctors Relieved His Nerve Trouble.

A. M. Ball, who lives at 647 N. Main St., Fremont, Neb., is another of the many who wishes to publish a letter of praise for the work being done by the United Doctors, those expert medical specialists who have their Duluth institute located on the third floor of the Columbia building.

Mr. Ball writes:

"Fremont, Neb., Feb. 22, 1911.

"I had been running down for the last five years with general and nervous debility. I got so I would only be able to work a part of the time and my nerves were in such a condition that I could not sleep nights. Many nights I would get no sleep at all and would be in no condition to go about my work at all.

"After trying about every remedy and doctor I could hear of, I commenced with the United Doctors three weeks ago and I must say they have done me world's of good. I can now work and am not nearly so nervous; can sleep better at night and walk miles any day. I deeply appreciate what the United Doctors have done for me.

"A. M. BALL."

The records of the United Doctors show a constant increase in the number of patients treated. News of the wonderful cures being made by these specialists has spread far and wide until now patients come from long distances to be treated. All callers are examined by these specialists free of charge. Many are rejected as incurables as it is the invariable rule of the United Doctors to accept no cases that are past relief; but those who are accepted for treatment are well repaid for the trobble and expense of coming for they know they are sure of relief when once their case is accepted for treatment by these master medical specialists.

APPREHENDED IN KANABEC COUNTY

R. B. Hauge, Alleged to Have Swindled Grand Marais Bank, Arrested.

Mora, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—R. B. Hauge is being held in the Grasston lockup awaiting the arrival of the sheriff from Cook county, who has a warrant for his arrest on the charge of grand larceny. He appeared at the bank at Grand Marais a short time ago and presented what he represented to be certificates of deposit upon a Duluth bank, one for $6,000 and another for $3,000. He made a sight draft for the $3,000 through the Grand Marais bank and secured credit for the amount at the bank on the representation that he desired to make an immediate purchase of land.

Checked Against Account.

Hauge checked against the account, securing considerable cash, and left town. The drafts were not honored by the Duluth bank, there being no money to Hauge's credit.

Hauge was arrested at Grasston by Deputy Sheriff Nels Sjodin, and he will remain in his custody until the arrival of the Cook county sheriff, who will take the prisoner back to Grand Marais where he will be tried.

A couple of days after Hauge's arrest, the Grand Marais banker arrived at Grasston and identified the suspect as the man wanted. The charge preferred against Hauge is obtaining money under false pretenses.

CELEBRATES RELEASE.

Cass Lake Negro, Under Suspended Sentence, Is Facing Jail.

Cass Lake, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Wells, colored, who has been spending six weeks in the county jail awaiting the action of the grand jury on the charge of having furnished liquor to Indians and at this session of district court received a sentence of six months, but was released on probation and returned to Cass Lake, took particular pains to inform several citizens of his rights as an American citizen. Last evening he was in a local saloon, and it being alleged that he was under the influence of liquor at the time and making himself generally obnoxious, he emphasized his arguments by bringing his fist violently down on the plate glass cigar case, smashing it to smithereens. He was arrested by Marshal Lilly and on the order of Judge Stanton was taken to Walker Saturday morning, where his chances for getting an opportunity to serve his suspended sentence will probably be good.

They reached their destination in just twenty-four hours. The distance is twenty-four miles.

The three men offered to take a new sixteen-foot rowboat to Eagle Harbor for a Laurium resident. The boat was built during the winter by Henry Corgan, the well-known light keeper, and stowed away in a barn until spring. The three volunteers wanted to get to Eagle Harbor and offered to row the boat there. It was taken to the Calumet & Hecla waterworks and the journey started.

DICKINSON COUNTY, MICH., OWES NOTHING.

Marquette, Mich., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dickinson county now enjoys the distinction of having no bonded indebtedness and has a snug cash balance in the banks. It is probable that Dickinson is the only county in Michigan having no bonds outstanding.

The last one of the courthouse and jail bonds, issued some fifteen years ago, was paid at the Commercial bank by County Clerk Quarnstrom. The bond, with interest, amounted to $2,133.33.

The total issue of bonds was $22,000 and that sum represents the original cost of the courthouse and jail, including the site. The bonds were issued during the panic and were sold to the First National bank of Chicago.

SCHOOL CLERK UNDER ARREST

Nels Hallstrom of Rutledge, Pine County, Accused of Wholesale Thefts.

Hinckley, Minn., May 6.—Nells Hallstrom of Rutledge, clerk of the school board and former village recorder, was bound over to await the action of the grand jury at Finlayson, Wednesday afternoon on the charge of grand larceny in the first degree.

He is alleged to have stolen articles from Charles Foster's home. With a search warrant search was made of Hallstrom's house. Here it is alleged about everything that had been missed for several years was found. These articles range all the way from glass insulators for telegraph wires to the holy water fount of the Catholic church and hardwood flooring.

House is Curiosity Shop.

The house is said to have been a veritable old curiosity shop. Among the articles alleged to have been found are a gold watch, mantel clock, overcoat, flute and various dishes and other articles belonging to Charles Foster; 100 feet of hardwood flooring, two bales of fence wire and ten camp blankets belonging to Mr. Underhill, a quilt belonging to Sigurd Greenly, a bookcase belonging to John Reno and two grips that disappeared from the depot a year or two ago.

Hallstrom was arrested and taken to Finlayson where he was bound over. His bail was placed at $500. He was advised by the county attorney, however, not to try to secure this because new charges would be preferred against him as fast as bail was secured.

One of the furnaces is now en route from the shops of the Allis-Chalmers company, Chicago, and the other two are to be delivered within the next few weeks. The furnaces will differ in construction somewhat from the experimental furnace at this city. FUTURE BRIGHT, SAYS WILSON

New Jersey Governor Addresses Knife and Fork Club at Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo., May 6.—Woodrow Wilson, governor of New Jersey, in a speech before the Knife and Fork club of this city last night, declared that a new political era, promising much for the welfare of the nation, is now upon the American people.

The movement is one of reform, marked by a process of restoration, rather than of revolution, he said. The work of reforming present conditions is confined to neither political party, the speaker said, both parties being well represented in the efforts at reform as well as in the obstructive tactics of reactionaries.

The Democratic party is not so closely allied with the reactionary forces, "the interests," as is the Republican party, however, said the governor, and therefore, is able better to serve the people in the process of restoration.

Care in Picking Leaders.

Great care should be taken in the selection of party leaders, the speaker urged. The processes of the present reform movement are fundamentally conservative. Therefore, excitement should be avoided and the demagogue silenced.

The New Jersey executive said the initiative and referendum in the field of legislation and the recall in the field of administration are intended to restore representative government. But the recall should not apply to judges, who neither make nor administer the laws, but only interpret them.

The presence of Governor Herbert S. Hadley of Missouri added interest to the occasion. Both state executives were referred to during the evening as presidential possibilities in 1912.

Governor Wilson's speech here was the first of his Western tour. He spent a busy day here as the guest of local civic organizations. He left for Denver this morning.

In speaking of the iniquities of corporations, Governor Wilson said:

"We turn the spotlight on corporations so strongly that they can't stand it. Exposure is one of the best means to whip into line the heads of corporations. Use their names. To fine the stockholders does no good and only works an injustice on innocent persons. Get the names of the guilty ones and send them to jail."

FIRST HISTORY IN AMERICA IS SOLD

Brings $10,000 at the Hoe Library Sale in New York.

New York, May 6.—The Hoe library sale at which single treasures of written and printed art have sold for a fortune, came to the end of its first quarter yesterday with nearly $1,000,000 realized. Three thousand five hundred books and manuscripts were disposed of and the grand total for the ten days reached $997,363.50. The record breaking price of all bookdom—$50,000—was brought by the Guttenberg Bible, sold to Henry E. Huntington of Los Angeles.

Yesterday's sale developed the highest price ever paid for a bit of Americana, when G. D. Smith, who has been buying for Mr. Huntingdon, paid $10,000 for a book by John Winthrop, printed at Boston in 1645. It is the "Declaration of Former Passages and Proceedings Betwixt the English and the Narrowgansetts," and is the first book of a historical subject printed in America. Another interesting sale was $2,350, which Walter M. Hill of Chicago paid for a ten-volume edition of Isaac Walton's Compleat Angler."

Three-fourths of the great collection remains to be disposed of in a series of sales to be held in November, January and March, and buyers predict that a total of $3,000,00 will be realized.

ACCUSES UNCLE SAM.

Canadian Conservative Says America Violated Faith.

Ottawa, Ont., May 6.—"The United States has committed a breach of international honor in failing during the last two sessions of congress to enact the boundary waters fishery resolutions which, under treaty, they were in honor bound to adopt," declared J. D. Taylor, a Conservative member from British Columbia, in parliament yesterday.

Mr. Taylor asserted that under the treaty the regulations drawn by the commissioners from Canada and the United States should go into effect without amendment. Canada, he added, had made concessions to remedy conditions in Puget sound, but the United States senate had made several amendments of an important nature and had then failed to ratify the agreement. He declared that Canada should file a protest with the British ambassador at Washington.

Mr. Brodeur, minister of marine, replied that the attention of the British ambassador had been called to the matter. The treaty, he said, provided that the regulations drawn up by the two commissioners, David Starr Jordan, representing the United States, and Prof. Prince for Canada, should be adopted. The United States senate claimed a right to review the regulations, however. The minister deprecated the "intemperate language" used by Mr. Taylor. He did not believe there was ground for a formal protest.

Mr. Borden, opposition leader, asked if Canada was bound to accept the amended regulations.

"Certainly not," replied Mr. Brodeur.

HOLDS TURTLE IS NOT AN ANIMAL

Judge Releases Man Arrested Under "Cruelty to Animals" Law.

Boston, Mass., May 6.—Although a turtle was declared by a Harvard university expert to be more nearly related to a bird than to a fish, and to posses a highly developed nervous system, capable of memory, intelligence and lovable tendencies, Judge Stevens in the superior court instructed a jury to bring a verdict of not guilty in the case of John H. Weiner, a restaurant proprietor, who was charged with cruelty to animals in keeping a 160-pound green sea turtle on its back in a window last summer. Weiner had been fined $25 in the municipal court, and appealed. The defense contended that the charge of cruelty to animals would not hold, on the ground that a turtle was not an animal, but a fish.

Prof. Robert Yerkes of Harvard, witness for the government, declared that turtles are more nearly related to birds than to fish. On cross-examination Prof. Yerkes said that there was a difference of opinion about the cruelty of the act, but admitted the necessity of either placing a turtle on its back or in water if it was to be kept alive.

All the canals in the world cost less to build than will the Panama canal, by $111,000,000. The total cost of the great Panama ditch will be $375,000,000, and will stand as the greatest engineering feat of the age. The United States will surely complete the canal, for it takes the same pride in the achievement that the brewers of golden grain belt beer do, in having beaten all others in the production of a superb table beer, the name of which is a synonym for good health. BURNS MOST COMMON ACCIDENT

Records kept in hospitals, show that burns are the most common of accidents, and yet few families protect themselves against their results. Dangerous blisters, making skin grafting necessary have come from scalds in the kitchen, because the family had no special safeguard, to prevent. Now comes the University of Minnesota, with the marvelous chemical discovery, Benetol, which if kept close at hand and applied at once to burn or scald will stop the pain at once, and prevent blistering. Besides this, Benetol is many times as efficient as peroxide and has a hundred more uses.

LAND LIST NOW FILED

Superintendent O'Neil of Logging on Reserves Makes Known Land Open.

Cass Lake, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—There is much interest [illegible] in the list of lands that William O'Neil, superintendent of logging on Indian reserves in this section filed today in the local United States [illegible] office. The list contains practically 2,000 acres of land on the Leech Lake and Winnebigoshish reservations, which are ready for settlement to persons having homesteads. Over 1,000 acres in what is known as the Boy River country, tributary to that station on the new Soo line in Cass county, and the balance in what is known as the Bowstring region, from the lake of that name in Itasca county, Deer River and Bena, on the Great Northern, and Brookbuck, on the Minneapolis & International, are the nearest railroad points. For weeks there have been hundreds of homeseekers looking over these and other lands. It was an easy matter to know in advance about what lands would be opened during this summer because of the cutting of the timber. It is expected that there will be several filed similar to this one, covering lands in other parts of the reservations, many of them immediately tributary to Cass Lake. Many people are making selections of tracts and have had messengers stationed here ready to ride out and give notice as soon as the list which they expect will be filed. The lands are subject to the homestead laws and fees are must be paid for them in five annual installments or at the option of making final or commutation

Settlers All Over Lands.

Settlers are scattered all around these lands who took them at former openings and taking these lands puts a number of the usual hardships connected with homesteading on the frontier. The lands are not yet subject to filing but it is expected that the filing date for all the lands settled on since then will be set for a date later than this season. Those settlers on these lands now of course have the prior right to them and cannot be defeated by a fly-by-night who files after they have proved up. Settlement of course the law as to settlement is complied with. Similar lands taken at the 1910 and prior openings have as high as thirty and forty acres and valuable buildings on them when a man who has already proved up has listed his land for sale with a real real estate man at $5,000, and it will probably get it. He expects to go back to Sweden where one has been deeded on his father's homestead.

DRUMMERS ARE MAD.

Communication Attacking Them in Warren Paper Is Cause.

Crookston, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Traveling men coming here from Warren says that the drummers making that territory are mad clear through over a signed communication appearing in the Warren Sheaf, published by Postmaster J. P. Matson of Warren, attacking the drummers and sort of selling to well the mail order houses. The communication is said to have been written by Charles J. Smith, a rural mail carrier out of Warren, who signs his name and draws the conclusion that country merchants are not able to compete with mail order houses because the drummers are like a swarm of locusts feeding on the country all the time. The article goes on to say the drummers "rag" the merchants into buying at high prices while the mail order houses have no drummers and sell cheaper. The communication concludes:

"Down with the swarm of locusts that are eating up the country people to no purpose."

The traveling men held an indignation meeting and then went to the postoffice one by one and called for mail for "John Locust," "Bill Locust," "Tom Locust" and every other locust ever heard of. Not only are the commercial travelers angry as hornets, but the merchants are angry as well.

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS SOON RUINS HEALTH

A. M. Ball Writes Letter Telling How United Doctors Relieved His Nerve Trouble.

A. M. Ball, who lives at 647 N. Main St., Fremont, Neb., is another of the many who wishes to publish a letter of praise for the work being done by the United Doctors, those expert medical specialists who have their Duluth institute located on the third floor of the Columbia building.

Mr. Ball writes:

"Fremont, Neb., Feb. 22, 1911.

"I had been running down for the last five years with general and nervous debility. I got so I would only be able to work a part of the time and my nerves were in such a condition that I could not sleep nights. Many nights I would get no sleep at all and would be in no condition to go about my work at all.

"After trying about every remedy and doctor I could hear of, I commenced with the United Doctors three weeks ago and I must say they have done me world's of good. I can now work and am not nearly so nervous; can sleep better at night and walk miles any day. I deeply appreciate what the United Doctors have done for me.

"A. M. BALL."

The records of the United Doctors show a constant increase in the number of patients treated. News of the wonderful cures being made by these specialists has spread far and wide until now patients come from long distances to be treated. All callers are examined by these specialists free of charge. Many are rejected as incurables as it is the invariable rule of the United Doctors to accept no cases that are past relief; but those who are accepted for treatment are well repaid for the trouble and expense of coming for they know they are sure of relief when once their case is accepted for treatment by these master medical specialists.

APPREHENDED IN KANABEC COUNTY

R. B. Hauge, Alleged to Have Swindled Grand Marais Bank, Arrested.

Mora, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—R. B. Hauge is being held in the Grasston lockup awaiting the arrival of the sheriff from Cook county, who has a warrant for his arrest on the charge of grand larceny. He appeared at the bank at Grand Marais a short time ago and presented what he represented to be certificates of deposit upon a Duluth bank, one for $6,000 and another for $3,000. He made a sight draft for the $9,000 through the Grand Marais bank and secured credit for the amount at the bank on the representation that he desired to make an immediate purchase of land.

Checked Against Account.

Hauge checked against the account, securing considerable cash, and left town. The drafts were not honored by the Duluth bank, there being no money to Hauge's credit.

Hauge was arrested at Grasston by Deputy Sheriff Nels Sjodin, and he will remain in his custody until the arrival of the Cook county sheriff, who will take the prisoner back to Grand Marais where he will be tried.

A couple of days after Hauge's arrest the Grand Marais banker arrived at Grasston and identified the suspect as the man wanted. The charge preferred against Hauge is obtaining money under false pretenses.

CELEBRATES RELEASE.

Cass Lake Negro, Under Suspended Sentence, Is Facing Jail.

Cass Lake, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Wells, colored, who has been spending six weeks in the county jail awaiting the action of the grand jury on the charge of having furnished liquor to Indians and at this session of district court received a sentence of six months, but was released on probation and returned to Cass Lake, took particular pains to inform several citizens of his rights as an American citizen. Last evening he was in a local saloon, and it being alleged that he was under the influence of liquor at the time and making himself generally obnoxious, he emphasized his arguments by bringing his fist violently down on the plate glass cigar case, smashing it to smithereens. He was arrested by Marshal Lilly and on the order of Judge Stanton was taken to Walker Saturday morning, where his chances for getting an opportunity to serve his suspended sentence will probably be good.

DICKINSON COUNTY, MICH., OWES NOTHING.

Marquette, Mich., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dickinson county now enjoys the distinction of having no bonded indebtedness and has a snug cash balance in the banks. It is probable that Dickinson is the only county in Michigan having no bonds outstanding.

The last one of the courthouse and jail bonds, issued some fifteen years ago, was paid at the Commercial bank by County Clerk Quarnstrom. The bond, with interest, amounted to $2,133.33.

The total issue of bonds was $32,000 and that sum represents the original cost of the courthouse and jail, including the site. The bonds were issued during the panic and were sold to the First National bank of Chicago.

Hinckley, Minn., May 6.—Nells Hallstrom of Rutledge, clerk of the school board and former village recorder, was bound over to await the action of the grand jury at Finlayson, Wednesday afternoon on the charge of grand larceny in the first degree.

He is alleged to have stolen articles from Charles Foster's home. With a search warrant search was made of Hallstrom's house. Here it is alleged about everything that had been missed for several years was found. These articles range all the way from glass insulators for telegraph wires to the holy water fount of the Catholic church and hardwood flooring.

House is Curiosity Shop.

The house is said to have been a veritable old curiosity shop. Among the articles alleged to have been found are a gold watch, mantel clock, overcoat, flute and various dishes and other articles belonging to Charles Foster; 100 feet of hardwood flooring, two bales of fence wire and ten camp blankets belonging to Mr. Underhill, a quilt belonging to Sigurd Greenly, a bookcase belonging to John Reno and two grips that disappeared from the depot a year or two ago.

Hallstrom was arrested and taken to Finlayson where he was bound over. His bail was placed at $500. He was advised by the county attorney, however, not to try to secure this because new charges would be preferred against him as fast as bail was secured.

FUTURE BRIGHT, SAYS WILSON

New Jersey Governor Addresses Knife and Fork Club at Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo., May 6.—Woodrow Wilson, governor of New Jersey, in a speech before the Knife and Fork club of this city last night, declared that a new political era, promising much for the welfare of the nation, is now upon the American people.

The movement is one of reform, marked by a process of restoration, rather than of revolution, he said. The work of reforming present conditions is confined to neither political party, the speaker said, both parties being well represented in the efforts at reform as well as in the obstructive tactics of reactionaries.

The Democratic party is not so closely allied with the reactionary forces, "the interests," as is the Republican party, however, said the governor, and therefore, is able better to serve the people in the process of restoration.

Care in Picking Leaders.

Great care should be taken in the selection of party leaders, the speaker urged. The processes of the present reform movement are fundamentally conservative. Therefore, excitement should be avoided and the demagogue silenced.

The New Jersey executive said the initiative and referendum in the field of legislation and the recall in the field of administration are intended to restore representative government. But the recall should not apply to judges, who neither make nor administer the laws, but only interpret them.

In the presence of Governor Herbert S. Hadley of Missouri added interest to the occasion. Both state executives were referred to during the evening as presidential possibilities in 1912.

Governor Wilson's speech here was the first of his Western tour. He spent a busy day here as the guest of local civic organizations. He left for Denver this morning.

In speaking of the iniquities of corporations, Governor Wilson said:

"We turn the spotlight on corporations so strongly that they can't stand it. Exposure is one of the best means to whip into line the heads of corporations. Use their names. To fine the stockholders does no good and only works an injustice on innocent persons. Get the names of the guilty ones and send them to jail."

FIRST HISTORY IN AMERICA IS SOLD

Brings $10,000 at the Hoe Library Sale in New York.

New York, May 6.—The Hoe library sale at which single treasures of written and printed art have sold for a fortune, came to the end of its first quarter yesterday with nearly $1,000,000 realized. Three thousand five hundred books and manuscripts were disposed of and the grand total for the ten days reached $997,363.50. The record breaking price of all bookdom—$50,000—was brought by the Guttenberg Bible, sold to Henry E. Huntingdon of Los Angeles.

Yesterday's sale developed the highest price ever paid for a bit of Americana, when G. D. Smith, who has been buying for Mr. Huntingdon, paid $10,000 for a book by John Winthrop, printed at Boston in 1645. It is the "Declaration of Former Passages and Proceedings Betwixt the English and the Narrowgansetts," and is the first book of a historical subject printed in America. Another interesting sale was $2,350, which Walter M. Hill of Chicago paid for a ten-volume edition of Isaac Walton's Compleat Angler."

Three-fourths of the great collection remains to be disposed of in a series of sales to be held in November, January and March, and buyers predict that a total of $3,000,00 will be realized.

ACCUSES UNCLE SAM.

Canadian Conservative Says America Violated Faith.

Ottawa, Ont., May 6.—"The United States has committed a breach of international honor in failing during the last two sessions of congress to enact the boundary waters fishery resolutions which, under treaty, they were in honor bound to adopt," declared J. D. Taylor, a Conservative member from British Columbia, in parliament yesterday.

Mr. Taylor asserted that under the treaty the regulations drawn by the commissioners from Canada and the United States should go into effect without amendment. Canada, he added, had made concessions to remedy conditions in Puget sound, but the United States senate had made several amendments of an important nature and had then failed to ratify the agreement. He declared that Canada should file a protest with the British ambassador at Washington.

Mr. Brodeur, minister of marine, replied that the attention of the British ambassador had been called to the matter. The treaty, he said, provided that the regulations drawn up by the two commissioners, David Starr Jordan, representing the United States, and Prof. Prince for Canada, should be adopted. The United States senate claimed a right to review the regulations, however. The minister deprecated the "intemperate language" used by Mr. Taylor. He did not believe there was ground for a formal protest.

Mr. Borden, opposition leader, asked if Canada was bound to accept the amended regulations.

"Certainly not," replied Mr. Brodeur.

HOLDS TURTLE IS NOT AN ANIMAL

Judge Releases Man Arrested Under "Cruelty to Animals" Law.

Boston, Mass., May 6.—Although a turtle was declared by a Harvard university expert to be more nearly related to a bird than to a fish, and to posses a highly developed nervous system, capable of memory, intelligence and lovable tendencies, Judge Stevens in the superior court instructed a jury to bring a verdict of not guilty in the case of John H. Weiner, a restaurant proprietor, who was charged with cruelty to animals in keeping a 160-pound green sea turtle on its back in a window last summer. Weiner had been fined $25 in the municipal court, and appealed. The defense contended that the charge of cruelty to animals would not hold, on the ground that a turtle was not an animal, but a fish.

Prof. Robert Yerkes of Harvard, witness for the government, declared that turtles are more nearly related to birds than to fish. On cross-examination Prof. Yerkes said that there was a difference of opinion about the cruelty of the act, but admitted the necessity of either placing a turtle on its back or in water if it was to be kept alive.

All the canals in the world cost less to build than will the Panama canal, by $111,000,000. The total cost of the great Panama ditch will be $375,000,000, and will stand as the greatest engineering feat of the age. The United States will surely complete the canal, for it takes the same pride in the achievement that the brewers of golden grain belt beer do, in having beaten all others in the production of a superb table beer, the name of which is a synonym for good health. BURNS MOST COMMON ACCIDENT

Records kept in hospitals, show that burns are the most common of accidents, and yet few families protect themselves against their results. Dangerous blisters, making skin grafting necessary have come from scalds in the kitchen, because the family had no special safeguard, to prevent. Now comes the University of Minnesota, with the marvelous chemical discovery, Benetol, which if kept close at hand and applied at once to burn or scald will stop the pain at once, and prevent blistering. Besides this, Benetol is many times as efficient as peroxide and has a hundred more uses.

JAWN'S PETS WIN A GAME

Duluth Takes Heavy Hitting Contest From Superior By 11 to 2 Count.

Cummings and Woodburn Hold Suburban Hitters in Close Check.

Yesterday the worm turned, so to speak, and happy Jawn Desmond's hired men made up for the defeats of the two previous games by trouncing the suburbanites by the somewhat sad score of 11 to 2. Young Mister Earl Cummings, a former high school football and baseball star, had much of the spotlight during the matinee.

Young Cummings was trotted out to the hill as an experiment and remained throughout most of the game as a permanent investment. The young man had speed and benders and used good judment throughout. If his work yesterday is a consistent example of what he can do, he will be needed while we are bringing in the sheaves.

For the first time during the spring tete-a-tete the Sox showed some of the proper spirit with the bludgeon. Some of the hits by the O'Brienites had legs fitted with running shoes, so fast did they travel. We have been hearing about the clouting ability of the Sox, the tout ensemble in this respect, it might be put, and yesterday was the first opportunity that the Missouri boys in the stands and bleachers had for a laugh.

Duluth scored first, and immediately the following from this side of the berg became hopeful. It happened in the fourth. Leber hit to center and scored when Chesty Holstrom banged one against the outer boards for two bases.

That one was as piffle, as insignificant as a poor relation to the rich brother, for in the next round we scored six, and stitched up the game.

Brownlee was in the box and received familiar greeting. Hardgrove hit to left for two bases and Cummings hit safely past third. The orator walked and Johnson stopped one with his ribs that was plainly intended for the catcher's mitt. This forced Hardgrove over with the first run of the runfest. Menecie hit to Brownlee and Cummings was thrown out at the pan. Leber doubled and O'Brien and Johnson came over. Holstrom was retired at first on an infield offering. Menecie counted on an infield error. Altermott hit through short and stole second. Chase let Miller's fly get away and Leber and Altermott counted. Hardgrove went out from Lippold to McCulloch.

One more came in the seventh on a single and a double and a wild throw. In the eighth, just to make the contest sure, the Sox shunted three scores across the run register. Johnson singled and Menecie walked. Leber doubled, scoring both runners and scored when Col. Roosevelt Altermott singled cleanly.

Superior scored in the sixth. With one down Cy Bennett stopped the mad career of the spheroid with his anatomy, at least part of it, and Hoffman ambled on four. McCulloch hit cleanly, scoring Bennett. The next two were retired.

In the seventh came the next and last run of the hated enemy.

Lippold hit in the seventh session and was scored on hits by Parker and Bancroft.

This afternoon the teams will battle at Athletic park, and a goodly crowd is expected.

CASS LAKE DEFEATS PARK RAPIDS 13 TO 12.

Cass Lake, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The ball game yesterday afternoon between the Cass Lake and Park Rapids high schools proved to be a slugging match, Cass Lake winning in the ninth inning by a score of 13 to 12. The Park Rapids had the game in the eighth by an 11 to 7 count, but in Cass Lake's half of that inning they ran in four scores and added two more in the ninth, while Park Rapids succeeded in pushing one more across the pan. Last night the visitors were entertained at a "shadow social" at the Endion hotel dining room, winding up with a dance at Strawbridge hall.

AL KAUFMANN IS KNOCKED OUT BY PUEBLO FIREMAN

Giant Californian Takes Count But Moment Before Time Is Up.

After Second Round the Result Was Never in Doubt.

Kansas City, Mo., May 6.—With a hard right swing to the jaw, Jim Flynn of Pueblo, Colo., knocked out big Al Kaufmann of San Francisco in the tenth round of their fight here last night.

Never before in his career had Kaufmann suffered such punishment as he received last night. Eight times Flynn floored him. Three times did the giant Californian take the count of nine and after each knock-down he saved himself from an immediate knockout by clinching his opponent and holding on to gain strength.

When the knockout finally came, a minute before the fight was scheduled to end, Kaufmann was a bloody and pitiable sight. Blood streamed from his left eye, which was closed in the third round, and his mouth. His face was a mass of bruises. Other than a badly swollen face, due to Kaufman's left jabs, Flynn appeared unhurt.

Flynn fought his usual bull-dog battle. He rushed Kaufmann at every opportunity. With lowered head, the former fireman charged his taller and heavier opponent, swinging rights and lefts which usually went home to Kaufmann's head. Flynn used his left most frequently. He landed at least twenty hard swings with this hand alone. Kaufmann was unable to ward off Flynn's blows when once he started a rush.

Kaufmann was slow. He continually tried to shove Flynn away and make a long range battle of the affair.

During two rounds, the first and the fifth, the Californian got the kind of battling he wanted, but then he found that his left jabs and right swings were not strong enough to affect his slugging opponent.

The result was never in doubt after the second round. Angry because he (Kaufmann) had carried away the honors in the first round, Flynn rushed in at the tap of the gong in the second and before the round was a minute old, Kaufmann was groggy from a right swing to the jaw.

It seemed that Flynn would knock big Al out in that round. Kaufmann had trained faithfully for the fight, however, and in this and subsequent rounds, he displayed remarkable recuperative powers.

Every knockdown resulted from a right swing to the jaw following a fusillade of rights and lefts to the head. Rushing Kaufmann into close quarters, Flynn would hammer him until his guard dropped. Then the Pueblo puglist would swing his ponderous right.

Kaufmann took the count of nine in the third, ninth and tenth rounds. He was down for two seconds in the fourth, five in the seventh, and seven and eight in the tenth.

Twice during the tenth round Kaufmann was knocked through the ropes. Once, perplexed, Dany Shay, the referee, helped Kaufmann back into the ring after the fighter had lain helpless for eight seconds.

Kaufmann was out for fully five minutes after Flynn had been declared the winner.

Flynn weighed 171 pounds and Kaufmann 205. Flynn received $1,750 and Kaufmann $2,250.

AL KAUFMANN,
Whose Hope of a Match With Johnson Is Now a Thing of the Past.

CONFERENCE TRACK MEET

Preliminary Entries for June Meet Mailed to Conference Committee.

Several Colleges Added to the List of Invided Participants.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Preliminary entries for the conference meet to be held on Northrop field at the University of Minnesota, June 2 and 3 were mailed to the conference committee Friday. The entries had to be in by noon yesterday. The entries sent in were of all the men who may enter the events of the meet, but their particular events were not specified. These preliminary entries will be listed and mailed to every college which enters a team so that it may protest any one before the final entries are in. The final entries, in which the men are entered for particular events, will be mailed to the conference committee some time within the next two weeks.

With the preliminary entries in, the conference looms up bigger and closer than ever. A supplementary list of invitations has been sent out from the central committee at Chicago. Carleton and Hamline have been invited and will probably enter several men each. They were not invited to the conference last year. The University of South Dakota at Vermillion and the South Dakota state college of agriculture at Brookings have also been invited. In Wisconsin, Lawrence and Ripon have been added to the list. Several men are expected from each of these schools.

In order that the senior men on the track team may take part in the senior class play and that the visiting men may be able to see the play, the committee in charge decided this week that the play would be presented on two nights, Friday and Saturday, June 2 and 3. It is the plan at present to take the visiting men around the Twin Cities in automobiles some time during Friday or Saturday mornings. Saturday dinners at the fraternity houses will be dinners in honor of visiting brothers and in the evening the visitors will see the class play. It is not believed that there will be any other entertainment scheduled for Saturday evening.

The Minnesota track which has been causing Coach Grant and Capt. Hill much worry this spring was proved to be in good shape by the Wisconsin meet a week ago. The coach said that the time of Cleveland in the two-mile proved that the track was not as slow as supposed. The distance was made in 9:53. The dashes were slow but a large force of men has been put on the track and it is being packed harder every day.

Interest in track events at the University of Minnesota the coming week center in the Nebraska dual meet on Saturday afternoon with the freshman meet with Carleton at Northfield as a side issue. Not much is known at present about Nebraska. The Cornhuskers have been making some pretty good showings with the Missouri valley schools this spring but a definite line on their possibilities has not reached Minnesota. The Gopher men are feelng confident since their defeat of Wisconsin a week ago by such a decisive score that they can not only take care of Nebraska on Saturday but will also take Iowa into camp a week later.

The team which will meet Nebraska Saturday will not be materially different from the one that won from Wisconsin a week ago. The men have all been before the eligibility committee and it is now too late to enter any more. Several men who passed the committee did not enter the Wisconsin meet because they were not in form but they expect to go against Nebraska Saturday. All of the men are training hard in the hopes of being sent into the conference to represent Minnesota.

Coach Grant still feels that the Gophers are a little weak in field events in spite of the fact that the Gophers took nearly double Wisconsin's points in the field. Ganssle did not make good in the Badger meet because he practiced a few days with the 12-pound hammer and the 16-pound drew him out of the circle. He has been working hard since the Badger meet and should be good for a place Saturday. James Walker of wide football fame, has been working on the hammer and discus for several weeks and feels competent to enter against Nebraska. Wipperman, Smith and Frank have been getting out steadily and increasing their effective distance.

The freshman team left Minneapolis early this morning for Northfield where they will meet Carleton college in the afternoon. The meet will be run off in time for the team to leave Carleton and return to Minneapolis before evening. Coach Grant feels confident that the youngsters will turn the trick in the running events but feels that they are weak in the field.

The following men will take the trip:
Spink—High jump.
Cotham—High jump and pole vault.
Johnson, Cummings—Mile.
Lindeberg, Karnopsky, Perkins, Stoner—Half mile.
Bob and Palmer Hughes, Karnopsky, Bierman—Quarter.
Boylan, Bierman, Hayward—220-yard dash.
Palmer Hughes, Bierman, Breckenridge—100-yard dash.
Webster—Hurdles.
Sawyer—Shot.

FIRST OUTDOOR CONFERENCE MEET OF THE SEASON.

Lafayette, Ind., May 6.—The first outdoor conference track meet of the season will be held here this afternoon with the athletes of Illinois and Purdue university as the contenders. There are fourteen events on the program with the entry list well filled in each. The teams are about equall matched, Purdue being especially strong in the dashes while Illinois seems to have a shade the better in middle and long distance runs.

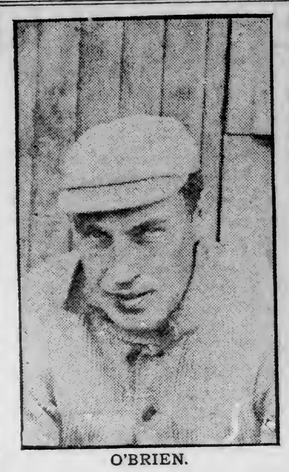
Christie Outpointed.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 6.—Wike Gibgons outpointed Gus Christie in a 10-round fight last night, and Ray Temple outpointed Kid Graves in a bout of the same distance.

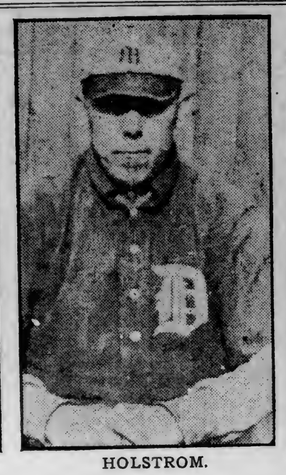
FANS HOPE TO SEE THE WHITE SOX GET OFF TO FLYING START

Team Looks Much Stronger Than at Opening Last Year.

Weak Spots on 1910 Aggregation Have Been Plugged Up.



O'BRIEN.



HOLSTROM.

DOAR.

ALTERMOTT.

DOTY.

WOODBURN.

Holstrom last season proved a hard and reliable hitter and a man well qualified to take care of the initial sack. So far the big fellow has shown that he has not forgotten in the least how to handle the war club.

Doty is regarded as a very good pitcher, and is touted to be one of the best on the staff. He has speed and good curves and is expected to show great form. Altermott should have a great year at short and should also become more reliable in his hitting. Last season he led the league in home runs and is expected to come near repeating the present season.

Doar is reported to be a very good man and will be given every opportunity to show his worth. O'Brien says he is as young as ever and has informed his friends that the present will be a great season for him.

With the team rounding into shape the White Sox are expected to get away pretty well on the first road trip.

A great deal of dependence will be placed on the recruits. Leber is touted as a star of the very first magnitude, and Johnson and Miller are expected to make good in the outfield. It is batting strength that the Orator has sought for, and he believes he has found hitting players in the present collection.

On paper and in the field the team looks fully 40 per cent stronger than the team that hit town a year ago. While no great predictions are being made here for the team until after the regular session is opened, it is a very sure thing bet that the present aggregation of ball players under the venerable Darby O'Brien will make a better showing from the start than did the team he piloted last season.

With Doar and Hardgrove behind the bat, one of the departments of the team very weak last season, will be well taken care of. First base was another position that was a thorn in the side of the management. Holstrom will take care of that position nicely. Then again third base was a place that was not filled satisfactorily until the arrival of Eddie Kohl, late in the season. So far little Leber has shown class, and if he keeps up his training trip record during the season, he will prove one of the stars of the league.

All things considered, the White Sox should get off to a flying start.

COMMENTS AND OPINIONS ON THE SPORTING PARADE

White Sox in Their Own Backyard—The Value of a Good Second—Wonderful Growth of Boat Club—Darby Is Kind—Smoked Out—The Battler Dies Hard

(BY BRUCE.)

THIS afternoon we will have the first glimpse of the White Sox on the home grounds. Starting with the game this afternoon Superior comes for three games. While some of the thirty-three degree boys have been across the line to see the team perform against the Taylorites, the game this afternoon will be the first chance most of the fans have had to see the team.

The three games with Superior will be the last opportunity before May 23, when the Sox return from the four series with Red Wing, Rochester, La Crosse and Winona. While unofficial in its nature, the game will be interesting in that it will afford those fans who like to trust to their own judgment a chance to gain an idea of what goods Desmond & Co. have in the shop the present season.

Early season exhibition games are, at the best, very unsatisfactory means of determining what a team's standing will be after the regular season has started in the regular swing. But one of the greatest things about baseball is the number of positive opinions the game will cause to be formed.

Every true fan believes he knows a baseball player the minute he claps his eyes upon him. For that reason exhibition games are of very much interest to the fans in general. At least they afford a means to become acquainted with the players. As there are a number of faces new to the fans in this part of the country, the opening at home will hold more than the ordinary amount of interest.

What Seconds Have to Do.

OUR old friend J. Alex Sloan, writing in the Los Angeles Times, touches upon the part a fighter's seconds have to do in the fight. According to the theory advanced by Sloan, a dub second can lose a fight and a wizard who knows the fight game from every angle and who also is quick witted and ready to take advantage of every opportunity, can win fights that are apparently lost to his man.

That statement is about right. But even the most experienced seconds in the world will sometimes make fatal mistakes. A good many fight fans have always held that Uncle Billy Delaney, one of the wisest and craftiest trainers and handlers of fighters in the business, made a fatal mistake in the Corbett-Fitzsimmons battle.

If you remember anything about that fight, you will surely recall that sensational sixth round, when Corbett to all intents and purposes had the Cornishman beaten and all but out. It was the advice of Delaney that kept Corbett away from the freckled wonder, and it is ring history what Fitzsimmons did to James after the storm in the sixth round had past.

Delaney figured that Fitz was stalling as he had stalled a hundred times before in other fights. It was a favorite trick of the lanky blacksmith to stall and draw an unwary opponent on for an opening. Once the opening presented itself that long left or crashing right generally started the toll of the referee.

Figuring that Fitzsimmons found it very hard to hit Corbett, and that he had adopted this means of drawing the Californian on to confidence and carelessness, Delaney yelled to the eager Californian to hold back and beat Fitzsimmons down by slow attack.

The old man recovered from the beating and began to get stronger. It was Corbett who began to grow weaker. The tide of the battle turned shortly after the sixth round, and the chance to retain his championship was lost to Corbett.

Delaney's course might have been the wise one, but many fans who bet their money on Corbett that memorable day, will always believe that Delaney made the mistake of his life by not sending Jim in to finish the Cornishman.

How the Boat Club is Growing.

JUST the mere announcement that the launch house of the Duluth Boat club is overcrowded, calls attention to the wonderful growth of one of the most unique and remarkable clubs of its kind in the country. The launch house is getting too small for the simple reason that at the present time the fleet of launches will compare with that of any water club in the West.

The ancient remark about the prophet who could go broke in his own country, or words to that effect, may apply in a measure to this club. We at home are prone to take many local institutions as a blase matter of fact, and the growth of the Duluth Boat club is probably one of the things we have looked upon and ceased to wonder at.

From time to time the sporting columns of The Herald have called attention to the fact that Duluth had a club that its citizens, whether they were members of it or not, could well be proud of. It is an asset to the city, an institution that every visitor to the city should be shown.

Yesterday in The Herald was published a short story of the inability of some of the launch owners to get their boats in the stalls of the launch house, because that commodious building is filled with the rapidly increasing fleet of launches and motor boats.

This house was constructed only two short seasons ago, and yet it is already almost too small for the accommodation of the boats of the club. If the fleet shows as consistent a growth in the future as it has in the past, it is very likely that the officers of the club will be planning even a larger launch house than the one that is one of the finest in the West.

Unique in many ways as a city, Duluth has a unique club, a water organization embracing the true principles of democracy and one of the very finest of its kind in the entire country.

He Is Most Humane About It.

IN LETTING a recruit go, I always make it a point to accompany him down to the station and pour comforting words of encouragement in his ear," said the Irish orator the other day, in relating some of the experiences on the spring training trip.

"I had a very big bunch on the trip and for a while I was letting a man out almost every day. It is very discouraging for a youngster to get let out. I have seen a good many in my day, and most of them believed they are destined to be Ty Cobbs or a second Nap Lajoie. When they are let out they are generally crushed in spirit and most pessimistic regarding their baseball future.

"That is the time when the recruit needs comfort and cheer. A pat on the back and some kind words of encouragement, with the statement that with a little more experience he will make good in fast company, does the youngster a lot of good. Sometimes, you can't tell, these discarded youngsters turn out to be real ball players after a season or two of experience.

"Any way, there is no use in discouraging and take the ambish out of a youngster, and a kind word in the right place will make many a ball player remember you. Treat a ball player right and he is generally your friend. I believe in treating them right, for we are all in the game together."

The Retort That Stingeth Much.

WILLIE and Otto have turned on their goading tormentors. Friday came a stinging blow from the pens of one of the boys. Whether it was Willie or whether it was little Otto, it was sure rubbing it in. The retort referred to the showing made last season by the White Sox and also to the game with Superior, the first one we played. If that isn't low down and mean, what is?

There is no use of crying over spilled milk when there are so many healthy cows around, and so many milkmen willing to increase the natural supply by diluting and the imaginary measure. What all of us around the circuit are interested in, is what Willie and Otto think of the chances of poor old Eau Claire the coming season. We don't think much of them.

When Napoleon was through and confined to the narrow isle of St. Helena, the poor chap used to picture the grandeur of the past. He fought over in mind and memory the glorious battles in which the tricolor of fair France triumphed over the opposing host.

During the coming season it does look as if Otto and Willie will be obliged to ruminate on the pennant of the past. There is not very much in sight for their team at the present time, and by the very hauteur displayed by one of the boys, the mitt has been tilted to the fear and also deep dread of what the season holds for Eau Claire. Have a cheer boys, better times are a coming.

Nelson is a Very Hard Loser.

PRESS reports have it that Bat Nelson will pay a visit to Hot Springs with the idea of gradually conditioning himself for one more trial at the fight game. Didn't he say that if he lost with that he would be through with the game.

The meaning of quit is really and honestly unknown to the Battler. He has never quit in his life and he fails to recognize the fact that the time has arrived when he ought to stop the fighting game for good and all. Tenacious, having the traits of a bull dog, he hangs on with grim determination, longing with all the strength of his rugged nature to show the world that the result at Richmond was all a sad mistake, that he is after all the master of Wolgast.

Those who have talked with the Battler say that really down deep in his heart he believes that he is the master of Wolgast, and that if given another meeting with the present champion he will reverse the decision that robbed him of his lightweight crown.

This idea is not shared by one fight fan in a hundred, and yet there are thousands of men throughout the country who wish that it were possible ways fought on the square. He has always fught on the square, something that some of the others have not done, and he is without doubt the gamest fellow who ever stepped into the ring.

It is pathetic, the spectacle of a good old boy hanging on to the delusion that he is still a great fighter, and when Bat does finally retire and settles down to enjoy the money he has made in the ring, there will be a lot of his friends throughout the country who will be sincerely glad.

DULUTH GETS CHIEF CHASE

Minneapolis Releases Former Rochester Twirler to the White Sox.

As announced some time ago in The Herald, Chief Chase, the Indian with Rochester last season, is coming to Duluth. The deal was swung yesterday by a representative of the Duluth Baseball association and Joe Cantillion. The aboriginee was the property of the Minneapolis team and it is understood that he comes to Duluth with a string attachment.

Pitching with indifferent support last season, Chase made a very good record all things considered. He was classed as one of the best men in the league. With a strong team behind him, Chase should be one of the best twirlers in the Minny league, and this should be a great season for the Redskin. He was South with the Millers and should feel this early spring training during the early part of the season.

The coming of Chase probably means that one or two of the present staff will go. It is hardly probable that the club will carry more than four twirlers, unless some pitcher shows such class that the management will be loath to part with him.

Kramer wants to play the outfield, and as he is a good hitter he may have his wish.

TENNIS STARS OFF FOR TRIP

Adams and Armstrong Will Represent Minnesota in Tournament.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Joe Armstrong and John Adams, university champions in tennis and each owning a long string of titles, will leave on their Eastern tennis tour next Saturday morning. Part of the expense of the trip—which is the first of its kind that Minnesota tennis men have ever taken—will be paid by the athletic association and the balance by the colleges played. On this trip the men will meet the best college talent of the country, and the result of the trip will give a good line on Minnesota's standing in the tennis world. It is also expected to start a wider interest in tennis at the university.

Armstrong and Adams will spend Sunday in Chicago and will play in the Western intercollegiate tennis tournament held there Monday and Tuesday, May 15 and 16. They will also play a match with Chicago U. on one of these days. From Chicago they will go to Oberlin college and play there Wednesday afternoon, May 17. Kenyon college, at Gambier, Ohio, will be reached via Cleveland, and the match there played Thursday, May 18.

From Gambier the team will jump to Philadelphia via Columbus, reaching the city of brotherly love Friday noon, May 19. The team will play Pennsylvania that afternoon and will go to Princeton for a match on Saturday, May 20. Sunday will be spent in New York, and Monday afternoon the tennis marks of Yale will be met on the New Haven courts. The team will then double back to New York for a day and will play the college of the city of New York on Wednesday, May 24.

Boston will be reached on the next day, and Harvard will be met on the Cambridge courts Friday, May 26. The Harvard alumni will be played on the Longwood courts in Boston the next afternoon. The team will spend Sunday in Boston and will go to Hanover, N. H., on Monday, for a match with Dartmouth. This match will be the last played on the trip, and the men will return to Minneapolis via the Erie railroad.

Armstrong and Adams are two of the best players in the Twin Cities and hold most of the amateur titles between them. Both are residents of St. Paul, although they did not do any team playing until Armstrong entered the university last year.

MACKMEN SKILLED IN SOLVING TEAM SIGNALS

"No one can make me believe that the Athletics didn't get the Cubs' signals," remarked a well known National league player during a recent tanning bee. "I've batted against Brown, Reulbach and Overall for years and know just how much stuff they can put on the ball. Beleve me, no bunch of hitters, no matter how great sluggers they are, could clout those three stars as did the Athletics willi-nilli knowing what was coming.

"I don't know how they got them, because I understand Kling was given special instructions from Chance to keep his signals well covered. I also know that Kling used as many as three sets of signals in different games with a hope of outwitting the American leaguers; but he evidently failed of success. How they managed to tip off the signs I don't know, but tip them they surely did.

"If you remember the Cub pitchers would go along for a time with fair success, then all of a sudden the Athletics would have a batting rally and sen denough runs over the plate to put the game on the ice. It's my candid opinion that it sometimes would take the Athletics three or four innings to get the signs, but when they finally did, a cannonading always resulted.

Must Give Athletics Credit.

"We are convinced me that the Athletics were wise to the pitching of the Cubs was the healthy swing that Bris Lord took at a curve ball. Cleveland fans are aware of the fact that Lord never trusts about chase a curve to the bench in an effort to connect, but in the big series it was a thing of beauty to see Lord step into a curve ball and invariably hit it on the nose. Take it from me, Bris never steps into a curve unless some one slips him the high sign.

"All is fair in love and baseball warfare, so the Athletics must be given all the credit possible for their great victory. If they got the signals as I'm sure they did, it was simply a case of outwitting Johnny Kling, generally credited as being one of the chaftiest receivers in the business."

Because the athletics appear to have such excellent success through the medium of getting the opposing team's signals, the average fan wonders why all managers don't try to follow Mack's plan of battle. To tip off the signals does not appear dangerous, yet it is a mighty risky business. If the batter is told that a curve ball is to be pitched, when in reallty a fast ball is to be thrown, the batter is in danger of meeting with serious injury. It is very easy for the coacher or whoever is getting the signals to get his wires crossed and give the wrong information to the batter. For this reason most managers don't care to take a chance.

Almost Ended Altizer's Career.

Some batters have a habit of glancing back at the catcher as he signals the pitcher in hopes of learning what is to be thrown. Such a custom almost ended the career of Dave Altizer as a ball player. Four years ago Altizer was a member of the Washington team and regarded as quite a hitter. He had a habit of running up on a curve ball and trying to hit it before it broke, while on a fast ball he always stood out knowing what was coming.

"I don't know how they got them, because I understand Kling was given special instructions from Chance to keep his signals well covered. I also know that Kling used as many as three sets of signals in different games with a hope of outwitting the American leaguers; but he evidently failed of success. How they managed to tip off the signs I don't know, but tip them they surely did.

"If you remember the Cub pitchers would go along for a time with fair success, then all of a sudden the Athletics would have a batting rally and sen denough runs over the plate to put the game on the ice. It's my candid opinion that it sometimes would take the Athletics three or four innings to get the signs, but when they finally did, a cannonading always resulted.

Must Give Athletics Credit.

"We are convinced me that the Athletics were wise to the pitching of the Cubs was the healthy swing that Bris Lord took at a curve ball. Cleveland fans are aware of the fact that Lord never trusts about chase a curve to the bench in an effort to connect, but in the big series it was a thing of beauty to see Lord step into a curve ball and invariably hit it on the nose. Take it from me, Bris never steps into a curve unless some one slips him the high sign.

"All is fair in love and baseball warfare, so the Athletics must be given all the credit possible for their great victory. If they got the signals as I'm sure they did, it was simply a case of outwitting Johnny Kling, generally credited as being one of the chaftiest receivers in the business."

Because the athletics appear to have such excellent success through the medium of getting the opposing team's signals, the average fan wonders why all managers don't try to follow Mack's plan of battle. To tip off the signals does not appear dangerous, yet it is a mighty risky business. If the batter is told that a curve ball is to be pitched, when in reallty a fast ball is to be thrown, the batter is in danger of meeting with serious injury. It is very easy for the coacher or whoever is getting the signals to get his wires crossed and give the wrong information to the batter. For this reason most managers don't care to take a chance.

Almost Ended Altizer's Career.

Some batters have a habit of glancing back at the catcher as he signals the pitcher in hopes of learning what is to be thrown. Such a custom almost ended the career of Dave Altizer as a ball player. Four years ago Altizer was a member of the Washington team and regarded as quite a hitter. He had a habit of running up on a curve ball and trying to hit it before it broke, while on a fast ball he always stood out knowing what was coming. Altizer when at the bat always glanced down at the catcher as he signalled the pitcher.

On the day in question Boston was playing in Washington, and Cy Young and Lou Criger formed the battery for the Red Sox. Criger signaled Young for a fast ball, neck high and on the inside, which Altizer surmised that Cy was going to hand him a roundhouse curve. Just as soon as Young started to wind up, Altizer started to run to the end of the batter's box. He virtually ran into the ball, never getting his bat off his shoulder. He fell to the ground unconscious, was removed at once to a hospital and was out of the game for over a month. He has since entirely forgotten that there is such a thing as signal tipping in baseball.

All Batters Fear Johnson.

There is one pitcher in the American league whom the batters respect. It is needless to say that he is Walter Johnson of the Washington team. None of the batters care to take any chances on learning what Walter will probably pitch. They all know he depends largely on his fast ball, and most of them are satisfied to stand a respectable distance from the plate when he is doing the heaving. None of them cares to step into the plate when Walter is hurling, or running up to meet his bender. A veteran member of the Nap pitching staff and one of the game's best twirlers once said:

"Walter Johnson is a wonderful pitcher, but he could be twice as wonderful if he wasn't such a grand fellow. Most pitchers with the speed of Johnson would invariably send the first ball at the batter's head. This would scare the batsman, cause him to back away from the plate, making it difficult for him to hit his fast ball and well nigh impossible to connect with his curve. Walter Johnson accidentally hit Birdie Cree of the New York Americans on the head last year. Any player who doubts Johnson's great speed has only to ask Cree.

"Walter Johnson seeks no undue advantage, however. He is content to pin his faith in his natural ability, rather than to resort to intimidation for success."

GOPHERS WILL MEET IOWA NINE

Old Rivals Will Play Two Games the Coming Week.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Iowa and Minnesota will meet in baseball in two games Friday and Saturday afternoon. The Friday game will be called at 3:30 and the Saturday game at 1:15 so that it will be over before the Nebraska track meet is called at 3:30. The policy of the athletic management of charging a small admission which will admit to both ball game and track meet will be adhered to Saturday.

Walter L. Stewart of Detroit is coaching the Iowa nine this year. He played second base for Iowa for the past three years and was captain in 1909 and 1910. In addition he has had the advantage of a year with a professional team. The Hawkeyes started indoor practice the first of March and have the further advantage of earlier outdoor training than the Gophers were able to get.

Schmidt, third baseman for Iowa, is the only member of last year's infield to be on the 1911 team. Capt. Hook will play behind the bat, Wright at second and Ferris at short. Wright played the outfield last season. Mericle and Williams will also play in the outfield. Alcorn is the only veteran pitcher that Iowa has this year and will probably be seen in one of the games against the Gophers. Waggoner, Strickler, Hermence and Baird are the other flingers carried on the squad.

Coach Clarke expects that the Gopher team which will be sent against Iowa will be the best since the beginning of the year. McGovern and Anderson are back in the game and materially strengthen the infield. It is possible that Smith may be put at second and Capt. Hartnett shifted to his old position in the outfield. The Gophers are up against it for pitchers. Sutton, Wanless, Pickering and Victor are on the staff at present but do not seem to be able to pitch often enough to fill out the needs of the schedule.

Entrance to Northrop field Saturday will be at the university avenue gate until the track meet starts at 3:30 and will then be shifted to the Church street gate. The crowd will be shifted from the baseball bleachers to the grandstand the same as it was in the Wisconsin game a week ago. The oil on the diamond is being worn in and is not bothering the players as much as formerly.

CENTRAL WINS FROM CLOQUET

High School Team Takes Opening Ball Game By 7 to 3 Score.

Central high school yesterday defeated the Cloquet high school baseball team by the appropriate score of 7 to 3. The game was the first of the season and Central showed such form as to encourage its followers to expect much the present season.

Harris pitched a steady game and held the lumbermen safe when hits would have meant runs. The hitting of Boyle was also a feature of the game. Duclet got two hits and McClaran at second put up a fast fielding game.

On the whole the showing of the high school boys was very good. The team appears to have batting strength and should come near winning the Northern interscholastic title the present season.

BASEBALL NOTES

With the outfield at Pittsburg enlarged, Hans Wagner will not get so many home runs to his credit.

Manager Chance fined Frank Schulte $50 for failure to run out a hit, and the next day Schulte made a home run.

Report from Chattanooga is that Rudy Hulswitt's ankles have gone bad and that he may have to quit the game.

The famous Polo grounds in New York city are to lose their name. When the new plant is completed it will be known as "Brush Stadium."

Mike Kelly of the St. Paul team will make Harry Howell his scout. He should ask Col. Hedges of the St. Louis Browns as to Howell's ability.

The funeral of George M. (Lefty) Craig, the Indianapolis pitcher shot by a burglar, was held at his home in Philadelphia April 26. Odd Fellows had charge of the rites.

The sheriff "done his duty as he seen it" at a recent Sunday game in Syracuse, N. Y. He arrested a dummy battery and batsman, the law was satisfied, the real players took their positions and the game proceeded.

Another upset in baseball. Washington secured three players from Youngstown, Ohio—Moyer, Conway and Sherry. Sherry looked like a poor bet, the others looked classy, but Sherry stays and Conway and Moyer have been turned adrift.

Kid Elberfeld says he is only 34, but a Washington writer declares on oath that he saw the Kid playing semi-pro ball twenty-five years ago. If true it sets Elberfeld's entry into the game at 9 years of age. It has always been in the record that he began at the mature age of 11.

McAleer will say nothing about Johnson. "He'll have to work out until he gets right," was the most that could be drawn out of him. After all, perhaps McAleer was right when he said that Johnson still had enough to learn prior to consider himself the master of all of the pitchers in the American league.

The fans who are bemoaning the decadence of the Irish ball players have just had another one, Beecher, the Cincinnati center fielder, knocked out a couple of Roger Bresnahan's teeth and got away with it. Think what would have happened fifteen years ago if a German ball player had even dared to talk back to an Irish star.

"Hub" Perdue, the Boston National league club's comedian twirler, was scheduled to play with Birmingham of the Southern league this season. Birmingham bought his release from Nashville, and, according to reports, was waiting for him to show up. Perdue started traing with Tenney's team, liked the company better, made good and Tenney decided to buy his release

Leonard Auby, a young Christy Matthewson, who hails from Deerfield, Wis., will draw pay in Milwaukee this year. The Green Bay team borrowed him a few days ago to use against a semi-pro club and Len cleaned up a no-hit game, striking out twenty-five. Having offered a Milwaukee contract and it was accepted. Auby quits high school in June.

Fred Beck of Cincinnati is much worried over the mighty deeds of Mr. F. Schulte, Cub. Last year Mr. Beck and Mr. Schulte were tied for the lead in home runs, with ten apiece. This year Mr. Beck has not yet had a chance to scintillate, being used only as a pinch batter, while Mr. Schulte is copping homers nearly every day. Hardly a fair deal for Mr. Beck, and small wonder that he is annoyed.

Fans in Lawrenceburg, Ind., the home town of Pitcher Boehler of the Springfield, Ohio, State league team, raised a purse of $200 and presented him as recogsition of the honor he had reflected on his home burg in pitching a no-hit game recently. Walter Justus of the Jersey City team, who has heretofore been the town hero of Lawreenceburg, now takes a back seat for Boehler.

F. G. Paige who tried to organize a new Pennsylvania state baseball league threw up the sponge. The circuit he said was an impossibility, because there was no chance of national protection because towns needed in the league could not be secured without becoming an outlaw organization. Mr. Paige says that the only paying towns he could secure without antagonizing organized ball were Pottsville, Shamokin and Sunbury.

When it comes to hitting pitchers, this fellow Crandall, of the Giants, still appears to have a little something on the rest of the bunch. Crandall hit for over a .300 mark last season and started out this season by winning his own game with two triples. Manager McGraw says that Crandall likes to hit too well, and instead of doing more pitching practice is always busy batting. McGraw chases Crandall away from the plate every chance he gets in practice.

A baseball record said to be unequaled was made at Battle Creek, Mich., April 24, when the Battle Creek team of the South Michigan league made two triple plays in a nine-inning game with Grand Rapids of the Central league. Battle Creek won 6 to 3. The first was made by the catcher catching a bunt and retiring men at second and first. The second was a line drive to the shortstop, the ball making put-outs being at third and first. Three players figured in each performance.

SOME BATTERS ARE MESMERIZED

Chance, Stahl and Smith Can't Dodge Back From Plate.

Why is it that some people are so constituted that, when standing on a high building or at an upper story window, it is with only the greatest restraint that they keep themselves from jumping? Why this desire to fling one's self to certain destruction? There are other similar elements in other makeups that are no less certain to bring dire results.

One of these comes in baseball and no less than three of the real stars of the two major leagues are victims of a strange force that may ultimately lead them out of baseball forever.

Ordinarily when a batsman grabs up a bingle-getter and steps to the plate he is cautious about getting hit by one of the shoots that are served un to him. One that looks too close for comfort causes him to fall back, and in hundreds of players this tendency of this involuntary movement due to the innate desire for self-preservation, leads the batter to shy-foot. However the three players referred to are not of this kind.

Frank Chance, the peerless leader of the Chicago Cubs, is one of the ball players who, when poised at the plate looking over the slants of the opposing heaver, cannot get out of the way when he sees a pitched ball coming at him. Some unknown force holds him motionless. He is aware of the fact that the sphere is traveling toward him and he realizes his danger, but try as he will he is held motionless. On several occasions the P. L. has been cracked on the head with bad results.

Jake Stahl, the Boston American first sacker, has a stripe of the same whatever-it-is in his system. He is glued to the spot when the ball starts for him. He, too, feels chained to the exact position in which he stands, and several times he has suffered in consequence of this strange mesmerizing power the approching ball has over him.

Smith Gets Hit Often.

Syd Smith, the catcher acquired from Atlanta by the Naps, and who now looks certain of a berth with Cleveland in the American league, is the third of these players. Smith says he realizes what it all means and just what is going to happen in case he does not get out of the way when the ball is coming straight toward him. He says he has tried to get out of the way but actually does not move an inch. He cannot account for the fact nor the feeling that keeps him in harm's way.

The consequences to him have been summed up by the husky backstop as "many cracks," and the chances are that there will be many more before he has finished his career as a baseball player.

This is, of course, a type of weakness to these players. Just how to properly label it is a hard one, but they are each mighty good players, and although they may at any time be victims, they can never be said to possess that other weakness that so many players have, and that spoils them, namely shy-footing.

FRED CLARKE HAS DUAL PERSONALITY

Manager Fred Clarge of the Pittsburg Pirates might by a slight stretch of the imagination be called a "Jekyll and Hyde" of the baseball world. Opponents have a habit of calling the Pirate leader a "dirty" player. By that they mean that he is none too careful with his spikes if he thinks his right to the base path is being obstructed; that he ever is ready to jostle the ball out of an opponent's hands, and that he will give an opponent the shoulder a little harder than really is necessary for smart play. Off the field he is a perfect gentleman and a good fellow.

The line of demarcation between "dirty" ball and "smart" ball is something rather too complex for the unbiased spectator, but what passes for "smart" playing when done by a home player often is questionable if performed by the enemy. Among ball players, however, the line is drawn at actual injury. It is all right to flourish your spikes at the enemy in sliding and scare him if possible so he will not tag you, but to purposely put him out of commission is wrong. To cleverly jostle an opponent is all right, but to butt into him or injure him is tabooed.

Clarke's strenuosity often gets him into rows on the field, but off the field he is a most likable fellow, an entertaining talker, who expresses himself well, and apparently the last man in the world who would harm a fly. Yet this same mild-mannered fellow will argue with hostile bleacherites and take pains to irritate them when they go after him. There is one point in Clarke's favor, however, in these verbal battles with the bleacherites. He has played so long and his ability is so well respected that in many cities he is liked and the gibes back and forth are more than half good natured.

Warning to Railroad Men.

E. S. Bacon, 11 East street, Bath, Me., sends out this warning to railroaders: "A conductor on the railroad, my work caused a chronic inflammation of the kidneys, and I was miserable and all played out. A friend advised Foley Kidney Pills and from the day I commenced taking them, I began to regain my strength. The inflammation cleared and I am far better than I have been for twenty years. The weakness and dizzy spells are a thing of the past and I highly recommend Foley Kidney Pills." For sale by all druggists.

IN STAGE LAND

AT THE LYCEUM

Tomorrow afternoon will bring Miss Maude Leone and her company of associate players back to the Lyceum theater.

During the lull of a week in the activities of the stock players there has been hard work to engage the time of the members of the company. Searching carefully for a play, and finally finding what the management of the company believes will prove the greatest success yet put here, the greater part of the present week has been put in carefully rehearsing "The Triumph of Betty," which will be the offering for all of next week.

One of the problems confronting stock production is to choose the best plays that are available.

When a play has been successful in nearly every part of the country, and has also been the most successful vehicle used by a well-known star, that play is pretty sure to have the necessary qualities that appeal to the minds and hearts of the audiences.

"The Triumph of Betty" was the most successful play that has ever been used by Miss Adelaide Thurston, known to practically every man and woman in this city. As a star of recognized standing Miss Thurston is known throughout the country, and of all the plays she has ever appeared in, "The Triumph of Betty" was the one that gave her her greatest opportunities.

Miss Maude Leone will appear as Betty Bartlett, the daughter of an English father, but born in the great West and American in heart and principle. Betty's father leaves England and a small English Puritanical settlement for the simple reason that he is tired of the narrow prejudices and small ideas, and longs for greater freedom of idea and action.

His daughter takes strongly after her father in loving independence. She has also the courage of her convictions, loyalty and love of fair play and justice.

This girl is set down right in the midst of an old-fashioned English Puritan settlement. It is almost like casting a large and growing boy into the settled home of two set old maids and a cat.

Betty shocks them all. She goes riding with the curate and does innumerable other things that the Puritanical thought fails utterly to "get."

But Betty has her part to play in the community where she is neither understood or perhaps liked, because of her life and freedom.

Maj. Pierce Bartlett is terribly in debt. He has traveled beyond his means and faces ruin if his financial difficulty is discovered. His wife goes to George Wrayburn and borrows the money, not telling her husband where she got it. It is here that the villainy of Wrayburn is shown. Unless Mrs. Bartlett consents to his evil advances he threatens to expose her methods of raising the money and place evil attachment to her action.

Into this situation steps Betty. She tries to persuade Wrayburn to act the part of a man. He refuses. Then, with the firmness and strength her father had shown years before in the same community, Betty forces Wrayburn to destroy the notes, paying the money in full that Mrs. Bartlett has borrowed out of her own funds.

There is a big dramatic climax in the play that has been commended as possessing unusual strength of line and situation, and which gives the opportunity for some intense acting. In this scene Miss Leone will have the opportunity for some very intense work.

Miss Leone will be Betty and Mrs. Annie Adams will have the part of Canon Bartlett's wife, Euphemia. James Nelson will be the canon; William Donovan, the villainous George Wrayburn; Forrest Taylor, Maj. Pierce Bartlett; James Rennie, Harvey Bartlett, and Joseph Kennedy will have a rich comedy role in the part of the Rev. Hugh Witherly, a religious but thoroughly impractical member of the flock.

There will be a matinee tomorrow afternoon and also matinees Wednesday and Saturday.

No musical comedy of recent years has won the unanimous praise of the New York critics in such unqualified measure as has "Madame Sherry," which Woods, Frazee and Lederer are now presenting in New York at the New Amsterdam, and which will be seen here in all its beauty and completeness at the Lyceum theater on May 25, 26 and 27. Adapted from a French original, which has charmed Paris, Berlin, Vienna and London for the past three years, "Madame Sherry" has been revised for the American stage by Otto Hauerbach, and given a most enchanting musical setting by Karl Hoschna.

Sir Herbert Tree, in an address of welcome to Madame Sarah Bernhardt, said: "It is not my intention—indeed, it would be ridiculous excess—to seek to gild with my dull words the refined gold of Madame Sarah Bernhardt as a woman, or to throw a perfume upon the lily of her art. She, the woman, is enthroned in our hearts, and she, the artist, is a queen unto herself. In 'A Midsummer Night's Dream' Shakespeare makes Puck put a girdle round about the earth in forty minutes. In forty years Sarah Bernhardt has encircled the civilized globe with the golden thread of her magic, and with her golden voice has spoken to each nation the universal language of art. Here she is with us tonight, still in the prime of her youth—and to remain young is the genius of life. Those whom the gods love remain ever young." She will be at the Lyceum May 29.

AT THE ORPHEUM

Porter J. White is advertised to headline the Orpheum bill next week.

The time has passed when an actor who has won more or less prestige in the legitimate field can rig up a so-called sketch and crowd the vaudeville houses with it on the strength of his name only. Some of them do it and "get by," to use the vaudeville slang, but they do not remain headliners long. Mr. White is convinced that the play is just as important to the actor in vaudeville slang, but they do not remain headliners long. Mr. White is convinced that the play is just as important to the actor in vaudeville as it is in the legitimate field.

Mr. White won his reputation by his work in "Faust," "Francesca di Rimini," "The Fool's Revenge" and "The Proud Prince," but when he entered vaudeville he did not rest on his laurels and attempt to trade solely on his reputation.

He secured what he claims is the best sketch he could find. It is called "The Visitor," and is said to be a most sensational and gripping little playlet, filled with the demoniacal of which this actor showed himself a master in "Faust" and "Francesca Di Rimini," and also in the role of "Robert of Sicily" in "The Proud Prince."

The plot of "The Visitor," which is the title of his sketch, deals with the murder of a clubman and man about town, and so closely is the story woven, it is said, that the interest does not flag from the moment the curtain rises. The character of "The Visitor" is shrouded in mystery until the last line and the denouement is said to be unexpected and sensational in the extreme. Mr. White's delineation of the strange character is described as most powerful.

The sketch is the work of his brother, Oliver White, who has contributed several other well-known playlets to vaudeville, including "Superstition," in which Charles H. Bowser is appearing.

The sketches at the Orpheum during the last few weeks have been almost entirely comedy sketches and "The Visitor" will be the first real dramatic sketch since the first of the year.

The company which will be seen in the support of Mr. White is said to be a thoroughly capable and well balanced one.

Next in importance to Mr. White on the bill, will be "The Three Vagrants." They are three European singers and musicians who present what is claimed to be a picturesque and tuneful feature. Dressed in the attractive, but careless garb of the street musicians and strolling players of the Bohemian type, they present a series of popular and tuneful songs. The act is said to be of the type that appeals strongly to the average vaudeville audience.

Two names that are always welcomed by Orpheum managers when they appear on a booking sheet, are James F. Kelly and Annie M. Kent. The manager generally feels confident that he will have at least one sure fire hit on his bill, when he sees their names.

Kelly and Kent are two of the best known performers in vaudeville, outside of the recognized stars who have entered vaudeville after establishing themselves as stars in other fields. They are typical vaudevillians, and in fact call themselves, "The Real Vaudevillians." They are claimed to be most versatile performers, knowing all the tricks of the vaudeville trade, and they present an act consisting of comedy singing and dancing. Much is expected of them by the local management, and if they live up to the record they have made in other cities on the circuit, they will be the comedy hit of next week's bill.

Another comedy singing and dancing act will be presented by Lydell and Butterworth, who call themselves "The Light Brown Girl and the Funny Dancer." The girl is said to be attractive, clever and exceptionally well costumed, while the man is an eccentric dancer. A Minneapolis critic last week had the following to say of their act: "An eccentric black face dance always goes well here and the man of the Lydell-Butterworth team pleased mightily Sunday evening. The girl is good on the hard shoes."

The "original frog man" will be seen on next week's bill. There are many contortionists in modern vaudeville, and many who have impersonated frogs, but Ferry is said to be the man who originated the idea of appearing as a frog. He carries quite an elaborate setting for his act, which is claimed to be the last word in the line of contortion.

El Cota is a young musician, only 21 years of age, who is now making his first vaudeville tour. He has been called "The Paderewski of the Xylophone" and his performance on this instrument is said to be remarkable in quality, technique and tone, revealing richer possibilities for this instrument than were usually expected of it.

Potter and Harris, who present the seventh act on the bill, are claimed to have a neat little turn, consisting of some comedy, some singing, and some acrobatic dancing.

The Orpheum motion pictures and the overture by the Orpheum concert orchestra will complete the program, which will continue all of the week, with a daily matinee. The opening performance will be given Sunday afternoon.

The bill for the week of May 14, at the Duluth theater, will be featured by "The Photo Shop," a big musical comedy act. The other acts will be: Gene Greene, Stuart and Murray, The Marvelous Rexos, John Birch, Black Brothers, and Mlle. Emerie.

KELLY AND WILDER,
At the Empress Next Week.

AT THE EMPRESS

The bill of vaudeville to be presented at the Empress commencing Sunday matinee, contains many good things for the theater-goers of this city. The bill includes: Billy Van, who is recognized as one of the greatest minstrel men ever before the public; Murray Livingston & Co., presenting "The Man From Italy," a clever character playlet; Spenser Kelly and Marion Wilder, a pair of sweet-voiced vocalists, who will sing melodies, past and present; Emerald and Dupree, two English music hall favorites, and the Great Francoli Troupe of acrobats.

The feature attraction for the week will be Billy Van, a favorite with discriminating and intelligent play-goers of almost every city in the United States and Canada. Few announcements of the present season will be ceived with as much public approval as the announcement of the coming of this venerable minstrel star. Since his re-appearance on this circuit, Mr. Van has been tendered an ovation at each performance and has been held before the footlights for almost twice the time allotted for his act. Billy Van is known to all as the star of a score of leading minstrel organizations, his latest starring tour being at the head of his own company, "Billy Van's Greater Minstrel Stars." For his re-appearance in this city, he has compiled a grist of brand new songs and narratives which will in all probability enable him to out-distance his record made upon his last visit to Duluth. Billy Van has earned fame as an interpreter of the humorous side of the negro character and he makes every facial expression, every inflection of the voice and every gesture the excuse for outbursts of laughter. He is a product of the old school of minstrels, who are recognized as being greater than any of the present day. Some one has dubbed Van, the Assassin of Sorrow. Since his last appearance in Duluth, Mr. Van has toured the entire Sullivan and Considine circuit and so great was his success that he was immediately re-engaged for another tour.

A special attraction and one that should prove a great favorite is "The Man From Italy," a character study as presented by Murray Livingston and company. This engrossing drama is from the pen of William Bonell and is one of the most interesting tabloid dramas in present day vaudeville. Mr. Livingston should please the patrons of the Empress in the role of Tony, a statue vendor. His interpretation of this character has earned him the sobriquet, "The Warfield of Vaudeville." Although the author has made the title role that of a struggling laborer, Mr. Livingston portrays it with a romantic nature that is really found in the sons of Italy. The story relates a touching incident bearing out the parental love typical of the Italian, which is shown in every phase and expression, and when it is discovered that his child whom he has crossed the ocean to seek, is the girl who has saved him from a band of ruffians, it brings to the stage a few moments of emotional acting that are said to be a distinct revelation to the vaudeville patron. Mr. Livingston has worthy support in the presentation of the little playlet and not the least enjoyable part of it, is his rendition of the charming Italian song, "Rosa Marie." No more striking tribute to the worth of the delineation can be given than an incident at the Garden theater, Buffalo, N. Y., in September, 1910, when a party of Buffalo Italians passed over the footlights to Mr. Livingston, a loaf of genuine Italian bread on which there were thirty-two candles. "May the candle light brighten your path to success, and the bread ever keep you from want," was the message sent with the unique gift.

Spenser Kelly and Marion Wilder will offer a vocal interlude that vaudevillians love to speak of as "classy." These clever artists make no pretense in presenting their offering, which is comprised of songs, solos and duets, charmingly sung. Miss Wilder is said to have a most charming manner, an abundance of magnetism and a beautiful soprano voice. Mr. Kelly is an excellent baritone soloist and is especially happy in his selection of ballads, it is said. The voices of both blend well and their mannerisms add to the effect. The following is a recent notice from the New York Clipper: "Spenser Kelly and Marion Wilder showed that real singing is appreciated always and their 'Melodies—Past and Present,' made a big hit. Miss Wilder's 'Songs My Mother Used to Sing' also won instant recognition. Both singers have capital voices and their act is a sure-fire winner anywhere. On Monday they were brought out for a number of bows and they deserved the favor shown them."

It has been several seasons since that entertaining duo of English artists, Charles Emerald and Maude Dupree, have visited American soil. On the occasion of their first visit to the United States thew were a pronounced success everywhere. These artists come direct from the Palace theater, London, with an abundance of new songs and mirthful surprises fresh from "Piccadilly." Mr. Emerald presents a satirical likeness of the eminent Scotch comedian, Harry Lauder, which is said to be a most laughable characterization. Miss Dupree is claimed to be a bright and winsome comedienne and an unusually clever dancer. Lovers of good music, as well as those who delight in clean, wholesome humor, will welcome the return of these artists from across the pond.

As the extra feature for the week the season's latest importation in the acrobatic line will be presented in "The Francoli Troupe," who offer a continental acrobatic absurdity, "The Bill Poster and the Living Lithographs." This offering is entirely different from anything in the acrobatic line ever presented at the Empress and gets away from the conventional. The Francoli Troupe comes direct from the leading music halls of England and was recently the special attraction at the Alhambra theater, London. It was a tremendous sensation everywhere and will tour the Sullivan & Considine circuit exclusively, returning to England for a long engagement.

The moving pictures will be two of the latest subjects released and will close a show which should not contain a dull spot and one that should meet with the approval of all. A matinee is given daily at 2:30 and evening performances at 8 and 9:30 o'clock. Seats may be reserved one week in advance by either 'phone. A special school children's matinee is given every Saturday afternoon at 2:30, when all students under 14 years of age are admitted for 5 cents. Special attention is paid to the comfort and entertainment of ladies and children at all times.

GOSSIP OF THE RIALTO

A department at the Winter Garden, New York, not to be found in other American theaters, is devoted to "foreign managers." Nearly every principal at the garden has a personal manager, or a personal representative or an agent and several of them—like Mlle Dazie and Tortajada, the Spanish dancer, are surrounded by a miniature company.

Even tiny little Mizzi Hajos has a "manager," who is in evidence at every performance. Yvette, the wriggling violinist, is another "personally conducted" member of the garden set. Tempest and Sunshine transact their business through an agent who draws a very handsome commission each week for doing nothing. However his name appears on the contract and that labor must be paid for. Dorothy Jardon, who had to buy her release from the management of "Madame Sherry," is stage managed by her husband, who is a well known lyric writer.

George Fisher had an agent but he bade him good bye when he signed at the Winter Garden. Stella Mayhew, who is one of the real hits of the show is spoken to through her husband, Billie Taylor who not only manages her (at least he tries) but writes her songs.

M'lle Dazie, who used to dance under the title of "La Domino Rouge" has a personal representative constantly on hand in the theater. The Hess Sisters transact their professional business through a vaudeville agent. Al Jolson is allowing his affairs to take care of themselves and judging from his nightly reception he is making no mistake.

Whether or not the plant is in every instance profitable the scheme sounds well. Mizzi Hajos, for example, is requested to drop one of her songs as the show runs too long. She objects and appeals to her manager who, in turn must arbitrate with the Winter Garden stage manager.

"If this keeps up" says William J. Wilson, the stage manager "we'll have to set aside so many hours each day to listen to the complaints of the 'personal' managers. As half of them can find no excuse for taking their salary they must needs 'start something' and, believe me, they have very active imaginations and are as sensitive as a school miss."

New York's latest place of amusement, the Winter Garden, is now an established success. Here are some facts concerning the vast enterprise:

Over 350 people are employed.

The entertainment runs from 8 till 11:45.

The cost of the theater was $225,000.

It is devoted to the continental idea of variety.

No member of the company is featured.

Smoking is permitted except at matinees.

The seating capacity is 1,800.

The first week's attendance was 28,000.

The Saturday night's receipts (first week) were $4,000.

The dressing rooms hold 225 performers.

Eighty stage hands are required.

The orchestra contains forty-two musicians.

The chorus, numbering 150, is divided into three classes, show girls, dancers and members of the ballet.

The promenade space is greater than that of any two American theaters.

There are refreshment rooms for both ladies and gentlemen.

The form of entertainment includes: grand opera, musical comedy, variety, drama, ballet and spectacle.

The main feature, "La Belle Paree," contains eleven scenes and twenty-six musical numbers.

The theater is located at Broadway and Fiftieth street and extends from Broadway through to Seventh avenue.

It is designed to represent a lattice garden house. In summer the roof will be opened. The Winter Garden will be the only "roof garden" occupying the ground floor.

There will be no vacations at the Winter Garden. Nightly performances, including Sunday, and three matinees are given weekly the year 'round.

THE NEW BILLS OF PHOTOPLAY

Programs for Coming Week at Odeum and Lyric Theaters.

Excellent new programs of photoplay are promised for next week at the Odeum and Lyric theaters.

At the Lyric the program follows: "The Shelling of the San Marcos," "A Day and the Night," "Camorrist Trial Scenes in Italy" and "What a Woman Can Do." Mr. Mistachkin will sing "Cuddle Up Together and Sing Home, Sweet Home."

At the Odeum the program will include: "A Priestess of Carthage," "The Hoyden" and "Unto Us a Child is Born." Mrs. Carl Sommers will sing "Strike Up a Bagpipe Tune."

In "A Priestess of Carthage," the acting is forceful and well balanced, the titular role being sustained with true discretion and art by Madame Gravier of the Theater de la Renaissance, Paris. The time of the story is about 150 years before Christ, when Carthage was engaged in war with Rome.

In "The Hoyden," Peter Desman, having lost the fortune of his ward, Gladys Weston, in speculation, wrote to his nephew, Lieut. Arthur Desman, asking that he marry the girl. The lieutenant answered in person and found Gladys a bolsterous girl who played a series of tomboy tricks on him. However he yielded to his uncle's entreaties and became engaged to her. Then he went away with his regiment to the Philippines. Three years later he returned heavy-hearted because of his engagement to a girl he did not love. At a ball he met a beautiful young woman with whom he fell deeply in love at first sight. That night he wrote to Miss Weston, stating the fact and begging to be released from his engagement. He received an answer asking him to call, and when he did so he found the tomboy girl of three years ago and the young woman of the ball the same. The moth had turned into a butterfly. This is a delightful story, presented in a way to delight any audience.

The pictures at the Odeum, showing the Camorrist trial scenes, show the enterprise of the moving picture manufacturers.

Last Saturday night saw the termination of Margaret Illington ex-Frohman Bowes' tour in the Eugene Walter play, "Mrs Maxwell's Mistake," which originally was produced under the title of "Homeward Bound." Elsie Janis, who closed her starring season in "The Slim Princess" several weeks ago and is now making a short vaudeville tour, played the role of rescuer last week. The victim, to the aid of whom she came, was Charles Richman, who was appearing on the same bill with Miss Janis at the Orpheum, Brooklyn. A short time before the afternoon performance last Wednesday, Miss Janis learned that Mr. Richman's sketch, "The Fire Escape," would have to be cancelled on account of the illness of Mabel Frenyear, leading woman. She immediately volunteered her services as substitute, was accepted and carried the part through, much to the delight of the audience, which had been let into the secret. Mr. Richman, in a curtain speech, explained the circumstances, saying: "Miss Janis and I have decided to do this permanently." "Yes," interposed Miss Janis, "if his wife (Mabel Frenyear) will let us."

Joseph Brooks, the associate and partner of Klaw & Erlanger, writes in recent magazine articles as follows on the subject of clean plays: "It is a matter of the keenest satisfaction to me that I was interested in producing 'Ben Hur.' It is much more than a play or a stage spectacle. It is a wonderful story and its success was made because it dealt with a subject that was near and dear to the hearts of the people themselves. But by far the most gratifying thing in connection with the presentation of this Biblical play is the number of people it has attracted to the theater—people who ordinarily never grace the doors of a play house, and they have come, not once, but in many cases, two and three times, to witness 'Ben Hur.'"

MRS. DUKE NEAR DEATH.

Former Wife of Millionaire Dying a Pauper in Asylum.

Chicago, Ill., May 6. — Mrs. Alice Webb Duke, former wife of Brodie L. Duke, multi-millionaire tobacco king, and six years ago mistress of a fortune of nearly $25,000,000, is dying a pauper in Illinois state hospital for the insane at Kankakee.

Alice Webb, daughter of a prominent New York family, was raised in a Buffalo orphan asylum. Before she was 30 she had established herself as a leading oil promoter in Texas. She married Duke in 1905. He was shortly afterwards placed in an asylum by his relatives.

When released his temper toward his wife had changed. She applied for a divorce and alimony and failed. Then she started a financial career of her own, which ended with her arrest here for passing bad checks and incarceration in the Kankakee asylum.

ANOTHER DANCER WITH A TITLE

HON. F. SACKVILLE WEST.

It is quite a common thing nowadays for titled folks to go on the stage. The latest one to adopt this profession is the Hon. Flora Sackville West, daughter of a former British ambassador at Washington. Lord Sackville was British minister to the United States in 1888. He was recalled by the British government because he advised a naturalized American citizen how he should vote in a presidential election. Miss Sackville West inherits her talent for dancing from her mother, the beautiful Josefa Duran, a Spanish dancer, around whose shadowy figure the Sackville peerage case raged about two years ago. Miss Sackville West studied dancing professionally under some of the best continental masters. She was with M'lle. Theodore, the ballet mistress at the Opera, Paris, and also with Mme. Cerutti from the Scala in Milan. She calls her dance "La Danse des Fleurs." It represents a scene between a prince and a houri girl with whom he has fallen in love. It should perhaps be described as Oriental posing, and is quite different to the Maude Allan or the Salome style.

RALPH HERZ FOR TRIAL MARRIAGE

Actor Sued for Divorce By Lulu Glaser Is Philosophical.

New York, May 6.—Ralph Herz, star of "Doctor De Luxe" at the Knickerbocker theater, is not at all downcast after being served with papers by Lulu Glaser, who is suing him for divorce.

"Actors and their wives are soon parted," misquoted Mr. Herz, when questioned about the affair. "First its object is matrimony, then no objection to a divorce.

"Seriously, however, I think that if the persons who wish to put the trial marriage plan into action would only have a law passed limiting it to theatrical people, one would have a chance to see how the idea would work in real life. Marriage is a trial anyway to professional folk, as a rule, and the trial marriage scheme would apeal to most of them.

"The trial marriage would meet the requirements of actors and actresses to nicety—and I advocate it.

"In the first place, there are so many reasons why their chances of continued happiness in the state of matrimony are very slim. Working in separate companies they are apart for months, and in modern life absence assuredly does not make the heart grow fonder.

"Professional jealousy has a wonderful opportunity for raising its head like a malicious serpent, because players are very sensitive, and both husband and wife desire a corner on glory.

"If the couple are working in the same company one is always paid a larger salary than the other, and that causes hard feeling. Then it often happens that either the husband or wife makes a hit and gets the lion's share of applause. That doesn't make for general happiness.

"The parson may have the best intentions, but on the stage two can never be one, and if they are, both wish to be 'the better half.'

"I do not wish to have anything personal to say about my present marital mix-up, save that I will do everything in my power as far as generosity is concerned, and aim toward general satisfaction. The affair will soon smooth itself to mutual agreement."

A Dainty Toilet Article.

Every lady who desires to keep up her attractive appearance, while at the theater attending receptions, when shopping, while traveling and on all occasions should carry in her purse a booklet of Gouraud's Oriental Beauty Leaves. This is a dainty little booklet of exquisitely perfumed powdered leaves which are easily removed and applied to the skin. It is invaluable when the face becomes moist and flushed and is far superior to a powder puff as it does not spill and soil the clothes.

It removes dirt, soot and grease from the face, imparting a cool delicate bloom to the complexion. Sent anywhere on receipt of 5 cents in stamps or coin.

SHAKESPEARE TRANSLATED BY THE CUB REPORTER

The Tragedy of "Macbeth" as It Might Have Been Written for the Modern Small Town Daily, and Illustrated by the Staff Artist.

MACBETH

Frantic with grief and rage over the murder of his friend and guest, Rex Duncan, J. W. Macbeth, at an early hour this morning seized his sword and plunged it through the hearts of two drunken grooms, whose bloody knives, still clasped in their hands, bore mute testimony to the brutal crime they had just committed.

Mr. Macbeth's prompt vengeance came as a most sensational climax to the most brutal and revolting murder in police annals. Mr. Duncan, a mild-tempered, open-hearted, generous man, seemingly without an enemy in the city, was stabbed in cold blood as he slept, merely for the sake of the jewels that he wore on his person. The drunken grooms, crazy from the fumes of the cheap whisky which the had imbibed, plunged their knives into the heart of the sleeping man and left him weltering in a pool of his own blood. Then overcome by the fumes of the liquor they sank down outside the door where their victim lay on the blood-stained bed and fell into a drunken slumber. There they were found with their knives still clutched in their hands by their employer and the host of the murdered man. When he realized the horrible crime they had committed, he "saw red," to use his own expression. Without waiting to count the cost or reckon the consequences, he drew his swort and plunged it into the stupid, insensate bodies of the two murderers.

Crime Discovered.

The first man to discover the murder of Mr. Duncan was George Macduff, another guest in the house. Mr. and Mrs. Macbeth had been entertaining a number of guests at a house party the evening previous to the crime, and many of them had slept late. Mr. Macbeth, Mr. Macduff and a Mr. Lennox, also a guest in the house, were among the earliest risers. Breakfast had been announced, and Mr. Macduff offered to call the guest of honor, leaving Mr. Macbeth and Mr. Lennox in the breakfast room. A moment later he came running back, his face blanched with horror, and scarcely able to form the words he was trying to speak.

"What's the matter?" shouted Macbeth and Lennox in unison.

"O, horror! horror! horror!" said the stammering Macduff. "Duncan has been murdered!"

MR. LENNOX

"What!" shouted Macbeth and Lennox together. "Did you say murdered?"

"Go see for yourselves," replied Macduff.

Macbeth and his guest ran up the stairs to the guest room, and there a most grewsome sight met their eyes. Lying on the bed, face downward, was the body of Duncan. The bed clothing was soaked in blood, and blood was dripping to the floor, forming little pools. On the threshold of the room lay the two grooms, with their bloody knives still clasped in their hands, insensible from liquor. The dead man's jewels were scattered on the floor. The men had evidently been dividing the spoil in the very room with their victim when sleep overcame them. Before Lennox could stop him, the infuriated host pulled his sword from its sheath and plunged it hilt deep into the breast of first one and then the other of the murderers. They never stirred when he drew his sword out and both died almost instantly.

Sick with the horror of it all, the two men then staggered back downstairs.

By this time the household had been aroused, and frightened guests, in various stages of dishabille, came running into the big reception room on the ground floor of the house. Mrs. Macbeth had appeared by this time, and was present in the room when her husband stated to the horrified Macduff that the two murderers were dead. She promptly swooned and had to be carried to her room.

Police Are Notified.

Meanwhile the police had been notified of the crime and a detail of detectives and officers from headquarters instantly started for the scene in the police automobile. They promptly made a thorough search of the rooms of the two men. In the trunk of one of them was found several soiled collars and the picture of a woman. The find was an important one, and convinces the police that the murder was committed for the purpose of getting money to start a laundry. They are searching for the woman, who is believed to have been an accomplice before the fact. A dragnet has been thrown out, and it is believed that she will be captured before night. The picture shows her to be a woman of medium age, of about the average height, with brownish hair and regular features. With this complete description telegraphed to all police within 100 miles, there is little chance of her escaping.

The bodies of the dead men were removed to the morgue, and a post mortem examination disclosed the fact that they were dead. There were two knife wounds in the body of Mr. Duncan. One penetrated the right lung and the other the left lung. Both cuts pierced the heart, and death must have been instantaneous. The coroner stated that either one of the wounds would have been fatal. The wounds on the bodies of the two groms were clean cut as if inflicted by some sharp instrument like Mr. Macbeths' sword, which bars out the statement of Mr. Macbeth that he killed them in a fit of rage when he discovered their crime.

Mr. Macbeth was overcome with grief when seen by a Clarion reporter. "Had I but died an hour before this chance," he said. "I had lived a blessed time; for from this instant there's nothing serious in mortality.

"THE MACBETHS HAD BEEN ENTERTAINING AT A HOUSE PARTY."

Al is but toys, renown and grace are dead; the wine of life is drawn and the mere lees is left this vault to brag of."

He was asked if he had any regrets over the killing of the grooms.

"Who can be wise, amazed; temperate and furious; loyal and neutral in a moment? No man," he said. "The expediton of my violent love outrun the pauser reason. Here lay Duncan, his silver skin laced with golden blood, and his gashed stabs looked like a breach of nature for ruin's wasteful entrance; there the murderers steeped in the colors of their trade, their daggers unmannerly breeched with gore. Who could refrain that had heart to love, and in that heart courage to make his love known?"

Mrs. Macbeth refused all callers, and would not see the reporters when they called. All that she would say, according to her maid, was "Woe, alas that it should happen in our house."

Macduff Non-Committal.

Mr. Macduff was non-committal when interviewed in his room, where he had retired after the crime.

"Mac shouldn't have done it," was all that he would say, and when asked to explain his statement, he shut up like a clam and waved the reporter away.

Mr. Duncan, the murdered man, was 67 years of age and is survived by only two sons, Malcolm and Donalbain, who were in the house at the time the crime was committed. He was born in Scotland and had lived all of his life in this country, holding the position of king at the time of his death. His two sons are officers in the army. He is said by all who knew him to have been a very mild-mannered, generous man, beloved by everyone. The sons are grief stricken over their father's death, and they left the Macbeth residence immediately following the crime, being unable to remain longer under the roof where their father had met such a horrible death. They could not be located up to the hour of going to press.

Little is known of the two grooms. They came to this country recently from England. They are believed to have been unmarried, and so far as is known had no relatives in this country. They will be interred at the expense of the county. No arrangements have yet been made for the funeral of Mr. Duncan, as the authorities are waiting to get in touch with his two sons before proceeding.

A peculiar coincidence is connected with the murder of Mr. Duncan. Just the day previous Mr. Duncan had appointed his friend Mr. Macbeth to the position of thane of Cawdor and Glamis, and one of the first acts done by Mr. Macbeth after assuming his new titles was to avenge the murder of his benefactor.

TREES KILLED BY FIGS.

In the Wide World Magazine appears a remarkable photograph taken in the Chrinda forest, South Gazaland, commonly called "The Garden of Rhodesia." The photograph clearly shows the destruction wrought on the giant forest trees by the climbing parasitic figs common to most tropical forests. The seeds of these figs are deposited by the fruit-eating birds which frequent the forest, and, rapidly germinating in any crevice containing decaying matter, speedily envelop the foster-parent — causing its death by a process of strangulation. A close inspection of the photograph will show that what at first seems to be the gnarled and knotted bulk of some forest monarch is merely a collection of the snake-like climbers. On looking farther one can see the head and shoulders of a man emerging from what appears to be the solid tree, but is in reality only a hollow shell formed by the murderous parasites.

SHE DIED "QUICK."

Detroit Free Press: When Miss Jennie Lee was on tour with the dramatized version of "Bleak House," she met with an amusing experience. One night she was in the midst of the long and harrowing death scene of poor Jo, he stage was darkened and the limelight illuminated the pale features of the death stricken boy. People were sobbing all over the house. Suddenly to her consternation, Miss Lee heard the limelight man addressing her in a brawny Scotch whisper, audible to half the house.

"Dee quick, Miss Lee—dee quick!" he roared softly. "The limelight's gaen out!"

She did die "quick," but it was for the purpose of making a speech to that limelight man which he said he would never forget.

THE FRIEND INVISIBLE.

Metropolitan Magazine: The clerk was most obliging, but the young woman customer was hard to please. Roll after roll of blankets did he patiently take down and show to her; nothing suited.

For some fifteen minutes this mock sale went on, then the young woman said condescendingly:

"Well, I don't intend to buy anything. I was just looking for a friend."

"Wait a moment, madam," cried the clerk, "there is one more blanket left on the shelf. Maybe you will find your friend in it."

MISS LILLA B. GILBERT.

Society has already begun to leave for the coronation ceremonies in England and on the Kronprinzessen Cecile Mrs. H. Bramhall Gilbert and her two beautiful daughters, the Misses Lilla and Florence Gilbert, were among those brawny Scotch whisper, audible to half sailing. Mrs. Gilbert is one of the prominent society women in New York. She is a daughter of Isaac Brokaw. Miss Lilla Gilbert is one of the most beautiful of this season's debutantes and it is generally expected that she will be a great heiress, as she will probably inherit the millions of Mrs. Preston Satterwhite. Miss Gilbert is a beautiful dancer, is tall, slender and a brunette.

HOLDERS OF ALICE STOCK OPPOSING TERMS OF SALE

Claim Mine Is Worth More Than Price Paid By Anaconda.

Pilot-Butte Expected to Begin Operations Early in June.

Butte, Mont., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—A few holders of stock of the Alice company are apparently determined to resist and set aside the sale of the property to the Anaconda company. It is contended by the protestants that the mine is worth considerably more than 30,000 shares of Anaconda stock and they propose to test the validity of the sale under the laws of Utah which require that a transfer can only be made when the stockholders are unanimous in its favor. It is estimated that in winding up the affairs of the Alice company the stockholders will be allotted equal to .075 shares of Anaconda for one of Alice. The latter company is a subsidiary of the Butte Coalition, just the same as the Red Metal company and when the two are dissolved the Coalition will receive its treasury about 520,000 shares of Anaconda company stock, 500,000 shares of which was paid for the purchase of the Red Metal company and the remainder belongs to the Alice and was received in the sale from the Anaconda. No attempt at a dissolution of the Butte Coalition company will be made this year. When the two companies mentioned are dissolved Butte Coalition will be the second largest holder of Anaconda stock. Its assets and earning power will be: 520,000 shares Anaconda, paying $2 per share, $1,040,000; 3,000 shares of International Smelting and Refining company stock, at $8, $24,000; $4,000,000 cash in treasury at 6 per cent, $200,000; total income estimated at about $1,240,000; dividend at $1 per year, $1,000,000.

British-Butte.

Norman Jenks of London, England, who has been here for some time, positively denies that there is any intention of attempting to revive work at the British-Butte placer property, just southwest of the city which ceased when Col. De Hora left the city. He says that the dredge is there and has been housed in and well protected from the elements and if any one wants to buy it they can have it at a reasonable price. Mr. Jenks has been inspecting several properties not only in this city but in different parts of the state and may make some investments, but he has not done so yet.

Pilot-Butte.

The Pilot-Butte Mining company, which is controlled by Butte, Duluth, and Minneapolis capitalists, expects to be in a position to commence operations early in June. A few days ago deeds were filed completing the final transfer of the Pilot claim to the company, one of which cancelled all the former indebtedness against the property, including the outstanding bonds. Secretary Jerry J. Harrington, who is well known as secretary of the Tuolumne company, says that already a number of persons who have been given an opportunity, have subscribed for stock and that in the course of a few weeks the general public will be given an opportunity to purchase some of the stock. The Pilot-Butte mine is located in the very center of one of the best producing districts and the promoters of the company, among whom is Edward Hickey, president of the Tuolumne company, are confident that with a few months of development work some rich ore will be encountered. The Pilot claim is now down 530 feet and it is proposed to sink the shaft to a depth of 1,000 and possibly to a depth of 1,600 feet. It has a three compartment shaft. At the time operations were closed down three years ago a cross-cut was run on the 500-foot level, 300 feet to the north and 300 feet to the south. Some time ago it was discovered that if the south cross-cut had been extended about thirty feet further it would have intersected the vein now being developed by the Badger state which is one of the richest in the whole district.

Butte-Ballaklava.

The Butte-Ballaklava company is making rapid progress with the repairing of the shaft which was damaged at the time the Anaconda company was using the same for fighting the fire in the High Ore mine. Supt. Newton says that the repair men are now working just below the 1,300-foot mark, and that when the 1,400-foot level is reached the shaft will again be in good condition and it is proposed to go ahead developing the ore body north of the shaft. He says that this ground is not included in the litigation with the Anaconda company. He says that there is no question that there is a rich body of ore at the point mentioned and that with further development there should be some good results. Mr. Newton believes that active mining operations on the 1,400-foot level should be commenced inside of another month.

Economics by the Anaconda.

The Anaconda company is today producing copper at between 8½ and 9 cents a pound, including freight charges, selling and other expenses. Possibly in a few months the cost will be further reduced by at least 1 cent a pound when various economies now being gradually introduced are brought about. The most important of the economic steps is the introduction of electricity for hoisting ore and which will eventually mean the saving of an immense amount of money in coal bills. At the present time this item alone amounts to over $2,000,000 a year. While the new compressed air plant which is to be operated by electricity will likely be in running order in a few days, it is not the intention at the present time to equip more than three of the mines with the new system. In time it is intended to extend the system to every mine owned by the Anaconda company. The Mountain View will be the first to be operated by compressed air. This mine has been closed down for over two months changing the cylinders of the engine and making other necessary alterations, but it is not expected that it will require as much time to make the changes to the engines of the other two mines. A representative of the Nordberg works is now in the city superintending the installation of the new machinery, and from partial tests made there seems no doubt that everything is going to work satisfactorily.

Georgetown District.

W. H. A. Fischer, formerly president of the Barnes-King and a New York broker, who has had considerable experience in mining matters, is still in the city. He still has hopes that he will be able to secure an interest in some of the mining properties in the Georgetown district. He is very much impressed with the Southern Cross and also the George mine belonging to the Silver Lake Mining company of which Pat Wall is managing director and Mayor Charles P. Nevin is president. In the latter at the present time there are over 2,000 tons of ore blocked out which will run a little over $100 to the ton in gold and silver. The George was first located in 1886 and a large amount of silver ore was taken out, but in the slump of 1893 the property closed down and was never worked to any extent again until last September when it was leased. In five months the leaser took out $65,000 worth of ore and then the Silver Lake company bought out the leaser and secured the option on the mine. The shaft is down 215 feet. Mr. Fischer says the Georgetown district will surely boom with railway connection.

Corbin Metals.

Corbin Metals company property is now all paid for and the company has a clear title to 196 acres of ground. M. W. O'Boyle and John H. Foye of Pittston, Pa., two of the heaviest stockholders of the company, were in the city a few days ago and paid over $20,000, being the last instaliment on the property. The two gentlemen named visited the mine and made an inspection, expressing themselves as very much pleased with conditions. The mine is down 500 feet and has 800 feet of veins. A large amount of good shipping ore has been blocked out and it is expected that some shipments will be made in the near future. Messrs. O'Boyle and Foye discussed the advisability of constructing a concentrator, and it is not unlikely that one will be erected before many months.

Other Corbin Mines.

There are two other properties in the Corbin district which are showing up well. They are the Boston & Corbin and the Blue Bird, both of which are in fine ore to the East Helena smelter. The Boston & Corbin has a lot of 4 per cent copper hoisted to the surface and it is expected that very soon arrangements will be made to have it treated.

Keating.

The stock of the Keating company has taken on quite an advance of late. This is due to another rich strike in the mine and also to the fact that a shipment of several carloads of ore averaged better than $100 to the ton. There is a well founded report that the directors in the course of a few weeks will declare a dividend. One of the directors speaking on the dividend proposition said that the treasury would warrant such a move, especially in view of the fact that the surplus was being added to each month from the earnings.

Stewart Mine.

The Stewart mine in the Coeur d'Alene is now shipping 500 tons of ore a day, and it looks as if Mr. Heinze and the other stockholders had about succeeded in bringing the property up to one of the best in that part of the country. Speaking about the mine a few days ago, M. W. Bacon, Heinze's Western manager, said that the company was adding a considerable amount of money each month to the treasury, but declined to make any statement as to the financial condition of the company, saying that a full report would be given out in due time. However, Mr. Bacon had no hesitation in saying that the entire debt would be wiped out in a very short time.

RADERSBURG ORES RICHER AT DEPTH

Keating's Experience Shows Gold Values Increase in Rapid Ratio.

Butte, Mont., May 6.—In the early history of the Radersburg district, it was generally believed that the highest gold values that possibly could be secured in the mines of that section were to be found above the 200-foot level in the oxidized zone. It is true that the values in the oxidized ores was high and the operators of mines with that depth realized fortunes. This theory has been disproced during the past two years, however, and it has been conclusively demonstrated, especially in the Keating mine, owned and operated by the Keating Gold Mining company, that with depth the gold values increase in rapid ratio.

During the past week the Keating Gold Mining company has mined the richest in its history on the 600-foot level, and at this depth the veins are much wider than on the levels above. Shipments during the past week have averaged as high as $56 to the ton, and some ore has been sent to the smelter, returning better than $100 to the ton.

The Ohio-Keating mine is making an excellent record and during the past few days has shipped several cars of ore averaging close to $40 to the ton.

To gain depth is now the aim of all of the larger companies operating in the Radersburg district.

Active development of the Butte & Radersburg Gold Mining company is to be pushed with all possible speed, according to latest reports. The company has awarded a contract to E. R. Dornblut, a mining man of wide experience, to sink the shaft from its present depth of less than 100 feet, to a depth of 300 feet, and at the latter depth crosscuts will be run to intersect three cross leads and also the main lead. W. L. Creeden has finished an exhaustive examination of the property and has reported most favorably upon it.

GOLDFIELD NEAR RECORD OUTPUT

Production in March Amounted to 25,700 Tons, Netting $846,283.

Goldfield, Nev., May 6.—The final report of the Goldfield Consolidated Mines company for the March operations shows it to be the second largest month's output in the company's history. The production amounted to 25,714 tons, containing $1,119,991. Net profits amounted to $846,238. The average value of the ore was $43. The extraction was 95 per cent and was the highest ever attained by this plant.

Supt. Thorn reports that an important discovery has been found in the Combination mine on the second level. Last week this ore yielded 565 tons of ore that averaged $300 per ton. Another large body in the Mohawk produced 1,300 tons of $50 ore. Satisfactory developments are being made in the Claremont portion of the company's holdings.

The mill is now treating 900 tons of ore per day. New developments in March were represented by 3,960 feet of work.

The net profits for the first quarter of the present calendar year amounted to $2,000,000. Cash balance after payment of the present dividend is $1,600,000.

The new refinery at the Consolidated mill is without doubt the nearest approach to perfection that has ever been constructed in connection with a milling proposition, and is one of the most interesting adjuncts of this great bullion-producing institution. In effect, it is a small smelter which turns out the bullion at about .900 fine, and handles the entire product of the mill, doing away with the shipment of concentrates or low-grade bullion.

SHOWING AT LAKE MINE

Commercial Copper Ground to Depth of 1,200 Feet Encountered.

New Shaft Now Being Opened to Displace the Old One.

Houghton, Mich., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Lake Copper company has demonstrated the existence of commercial copper ground to a depth of quite 1,200 feet measured on the dip of the formatio nin the Lake bed. A crosscut at this depth recently exposed much the same rich ground as is being opened at so many other points in the Lake workings. The lateral extent of the Lake bed is not definitely known beyond the openings actually made in it, and this will measure little better than 2,000 feet. A new shaft is being opened to displace the shaft now in service, which, because of its size and position, has proven inadequate. The new shaft is being opened by upraises from the several levels, and is expected to be in commission in early summer.

Indiana.

The Indiana Mining company is putting a steel head frame over the drop shaft which was recently sunk through 100 feet of overburden to reach the felsite bed which drill borings indicate carries copper in commercial quantity. During the progress of this work it will be quite impossible to carry on sinking, and the shaft will therefore temporarily remain bottomed in felsite in which, however, no copper is showing so far as opened. Everything in and about the shaft is of steel and concrete construction, differing in this respect from the many other exploratory shafts sunk and sinking in this district, and necessitated by the extremely heavy overburden.

New Baltic.

The New Baltic Copper company makes a good showing of copper ground at a depth of about 300 feet in the exploratory shaft which is being sunk to develop a promising copper bearing lode disclosed in the exploratory campaign a year or so ago. The shaft is being sunk to about 360 feet, at which depth a cross-cut will be run out to intersect the lode at about the point where the drill secured the sensational showing reported at that time. The shaft was started in the foot wall about twenty-five feet from the lode, which, however, has been encountered at different intervals in the course of sinking due to rolls and throws in the formation. Nearly every exposure of the lode resulted in a showing of copper, and the last showing at 300 feet, easily the strongest and best, would indicate a continuity of commercial ground from grass roots to that depth. Equipment at the shaft includes a small six-drill air compressor and steam hoist good for about 1,200 feet of depth. The treasury on the first of the year reported a balance of $75,000 and expenditures since that time and at present are in the neighborhood of $3,000 monthly.

Houghton.

The Houghton Copper company operating next south and adjoining the Superior mine is getting into more settled ground at depth. The shaft has attained a depth of something more than 300 feet. The extreme softness of the ground, which is much given to spalling, has prevented rapid progress in shaft sinking, but this condition promises to change and is already materially better. The shaft is equipped with a small hoist and compressor of sufficient capacity to permit of a thorough exploration of the company's acreage on the Superior lode, and all necessary mine buildings have also been erected. The treasury is said to contain funds sufficient for development work for the balance of the year.

Winona.

The Winona Copper company is still engaged in correcting defects in the new stamp mill recently completed, the principal difficulty lying in the rehandling of waste waters. The scheme of rock treatment in this mill provides for a rehandling of such wash water as can be sufficiently clarified of the material taken up and carried out as tailings, and in this way conserve the water supply obtained from a small nearby river and which at best is none too large. With proper adjustments yet to be made it is therefore quite impossible to operate the mill full time. About 350 tons of rock are being milled daily. The mineral product is being smelted in the Quincy smelter. The recovery is said to be better than fifteen pounds fine copper per ton of rock milled.

MINING IN THE BLACK HILLS

State Senator Henault to Develop His Property Near Deadwood.

Deadwood, S. D., May 6.—State Senator Denis Henault of Custer is arranging to do considerable development work on his property at Pluma, near this city, this summer. With his associates he has about 300 acres of ground somewhat similar to the Puritan, on which numerous ore ledges show and from which assays return from $6 to $14 per ton gold.

Work is being done on the property of the Black Tom Mining company at Mystic, in the Southern hills near the Hymalulu and Mariposa properties. The company has a ten-stamp mill, where some test runs showed that cyaniding would be the proper process for the ore, which assays from $3 to $40 per ton gold. The ore is found in several fair-sized ledges on which prospecting is now being done.

Del Canfield, C. E. McEacheron and associates, who are developing the Golden Slipper property near Hill City, have made three good cleanups and are preparing for a fourth. The recent strike of rich ore on the ground is panning out and the company is paying off indebtedness to the Empire State Mining company from shipments. Its success has led to work on other properties, and it is understood that the Summit group, owned by the Gold Medal Mining company, will shortly resume operations. Their property has been well opened up and contains some high-grade rock, part of which, like the Golden Slipper, shows free gold.

A favorable report on the property of the Evans Consolidated Mining company, a mile east of Deadwood, consisting of a dozen claims and mines, chief of which is the Lexington Hill ground, has just been rendered by an Eastern expert. The report gives the average value of ores from all the properties as about $16 per ton. Both high and low-grade ore ledges partially developed were examined, the higher grade being described as good shipping ore and the lower grade as amenable to cyanide treatment. A cyanide mill with twenty stamps is on the ground.

The Portland Mining company is getting the treatment plant purchased from the American Eagle Mining company in readiness for operations on its Bald Mountain ground, and expects to have it running by June 1.

A meeting of the directors of the Victoria Mining company, whose property is located on Squaw creek, near here, is to be held May 8.

OPERATIONS SUSPENDED

Berkshire Mine of Oglebay, Norton & Co. Is Closed Down.

Jones & Laughlin Take More Leases in Iron River District.

Oglebay, Norton & Co., who recently closed the Buckeye mine at Commonwealth, also have suspended operations at another Menominee range property. This mine is the Berkshire, in the Stambaugh field. It has been employing 100 men. The adjoining Chatham property will continue in commission. The cessation of operations at the Berkshire is for an indefinite period, dependent altogether on the state of the iron market. The property last season shipped 100,000 tons. It has been reported on the Menominee range that the Florence mine at Florence, Wis., was to be closed. This report is erroneous, however. The property may not equal its output of last year, when 240,000 tons were shipped, but it will make a good production this season nevertheless. Ore already is going forward. The mine is operated by interests represented by Ladenberg, Thalman & Co. of New York. The Dessau company, which is resuming work at the Millie mine, after an idleness of more than a year, intends to employ seventy-five men at that Iron Mountain property the present shipping season.

The Jones & Laughlin Steel company has again entered the Iron River district, at the western end of the Menominee. It has taken an option on the leases still retained by the Gleason Exploration company and is preparing to test the worth of the various tracts concerned with the aid of diamond drills. Following an inspection of Pickands, Mather & Co.'s properties in the Iron River-Stambaugh district, the safety committee of that big independent mining concern has established schools of instruction at which will be taught the correct ways of administering "first aid to the injured." The mines themselves are in as safe condition as it is possible to make them, but it is realized that accidents will happen notwithstanding. A crew of men on each of the various shifts is being trained as to the best methods of caring for fellow miners who, through their own careless or otherwise may meet with casualty. All of Pickands, Mather & Co.'s houses at the Baltic location are to be newly painted and wired for electric lights this season. Contracts for the work have been awarded. There are 110 dwellings.

Increasing the Crews.

The Breitung interests of Marquette, which a month ago added 100 men to the working forces at their mines at Negaunee, are again increasing the size of the crews. Substantial sales of ore have been made and it is expected these mines will ship practically as heavily as last season. In part because of the reconstruction of the shaft, production at the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company's Maas mine at Negaunee this year will be materially curtailed. The shipments in 1910 were 200,000 tons. Good progress is being made with the work of concreting the shaft from the surface to the ledge, a distance of some 190 feet, but it will be three months or more before it will be possible to resume hoisting. The concrete is already in to a depth of more than 100 feet. The men are working under air pressure. The Maas is one of the very biggest mines on the Marquette range, and with the shaft made safe and secure, as will be the case when the thick walls of concrete have replaced the timbering in the long stretch through the overburden, a big annual production will be possible.

The Cleveland Cliffs company's main office building, located at Ishpeming, has been rebuilt and remodeled and is now one of the largest and most complete structures of its kind in the mining region. A third story has been added, but for the time being will be used only for club purposes. Since the installation of electricity at the various Marquette range mines of the company the use of steam is gradually being discarded. Because of this separate heating plants are now being provided. Plants of this nature latterly have been provided at the Barnes and North Lake mines, and a contract has been awarded, under the terms of which a concrete building will be erected at the Princeton mine for a similar purpose. Additional underground electric motors are being installed both at the Princeton and Stephenson mines. The motors weigh six tons each. It is estimated that it will take at least a year to build the big power dam the Cleveland Cliffs company already has started to construct at Carp river, midway between Marquette and Negaunee. The structure will be 400 feet long fifty feet high and fifty feet wide at the base. The water will be backed up for more than a mile, which will give a steady pressure at all times of the year. The pressure at the power house at Marquette, to which the water will be conveyed through a pipe line five and one-half feet in diameter, will be 300 pounds to the inch. Seven thousand-horse power will be developed.

RESERVES OF ORE IN COPPER MINES

Estimates of Experts on Ore in Sight Not Conclusive.

The question of ore reserves in copper mines has been to the front since Sussman turned down Granby as having only 6,000,000 tons in sight, and Utah Consolidated has been condemned as having only about half its former ore reserve of 1,300,000 tons, says the Wall Street Journal. It never had more than 1,500,000 in sight, but it still has about 1,000,000 tons and prospects for more.

Engineer Chester A. Beatty once reported to F. A. Heinze that all his mines did not have six months' ore reserve in sight. And yet the ore reserves continue to grow year after year. In fact, Heinze continued to abstract 1,400 tons of ore per mine for the next seven years; and when these mines got into the control of Amalgamated, they sold as high as $45,000,000 and are still selling for over $20,000,000. Now, as the Butte Coaltion mines, they are among the great mines of Butte, with large reserves blocked out. In that camp they rank with the properties holding the largest ore reserves.

Anaconda engineers report that on the 2,800-foot level the property is just as good as on the 2,200 and 2,400-foot levels, and that the prospect is for a yield of fifty-four to fifty-eight pounds of copper per ton for an indefinite depth.

A mine in this district can probably be worked down to between 5,000 and 6,000 feet. As Anaconda found its copper below the 500-foot level and has not exhausted more than 1,500 feet of ground in a 30-year production, it can be figured that if the Anaconda vein continues at fair width and yields at the same rate per ton as during the past five years, there will be sixty years of life below the 2,000-foot level down to say 5,000 feet.

If in thirty years the mine is exhausted vertically in only 1,500 feet of copper ground and has produced therefrom 100,000,000 pounds of copper per annum, there are possibilities for the next sixty years, which would mean an exhaustion on the average of only fifty feet of the vein, vertically considered, each year.

NEW ORE BODY IN GREENE-CANANEA

Construction Work, Which Cost About $3,500,000, Practically Completed.

Ore running 5 per cent copper has been opened at the Sierra Cobre properties of the Greene-Cananea, according to advices received at the New York office of the company. The new ore body is reported to be forty feet wide. It was encountered in the No. 5 Eureka tunel. The silver contents, if any, have not been determined, but other ore in the property carries five ounces of silver to the ton.

Report that the company is to be placed on a dividend paying basis this year receives no encouragement from official quarters. The construction work, which has been extended over a period of two years and cost approximately $3,500,000, is practically completed. The company is making money, but with the copper market in its present condition there is little likelihood of dividend action. Cole-Ryan interests have worked wonders with the high-cost Greene properties. When they were purchased the red metal was selling close to 20 cents a pound and cost of producing copper at Greene was 15 cents. The cost has now been reduced to 10 cents per pound, with an ultimate 9-cent production in sight. On a 9-cent cost basis, with copper selling at 13 cents a pound and with Greene properties producing 100,000,000 pounds per year, the company could show a profit of $1 per share.

The Pilot-Butte Claim

On the Richest Hill in the World

20,000 SHARES TO BE OFFERED TO OUR FRIENDS AND THE INVESTING PUBLIC; THE PROCEEDS USED FOR DEVELOPMENT

Subscription Books Open May 15—Close May 30

The Pilot-Butte claim is located on the famous Anaconda hill, Butte, Mont., in the heart of the copper zone. Mines on this hill have paid to stockholders upwards of $180,000,000. The same veins from which the richest ore in Butte is mined traverse the Pilot. Three immense copper veins are traceable across the entire length of the claim.

The title of Pilot-Butte rests upon patents from the United States government and has been determined by competent attorneys to be absolute. The claim covers ten and nineteen-one hundredths acres.

Standing at the Pilot-Butte shaft, now 530 feet deep, you can hear the dumping of a dozen ore skips from as many producing mines. Looking north and west, one sees the Poser and Elm Orlu mines, owned by ex-United States Senator W. A. Clark. The Badger State, Jessie, Berlin, Speculator are all heavy producers in close proximity. The Tuolumne is a little south and east.

A Word About Tuolumne

The personnel of the Pilot-Butte Mining company and Tuolumne are essentially the same. The Tuolumne stock was sold by advertising as the same people who sold it are selling the stock of the Pilot-Butte. The Tuolumne stock is now five times its par value, at which it was first sold, and is a heavy dividend payer. It is confidently expected that Pilot will duplicate the success of Tuolumne. The possibilities for large profits are reasonably certain.

Investors will buy Pilot-Butte stock for the same good reasons that they bought Tuolumne—its splendid location, and because they have confidence in its management.

Ed Hickey, the president and principal promoter, occupies a like position for the Tuolumne Copper Mining company, and was the discoverer of the famous Anaconda mine—the richest copper mine in the world. The entire company is in the hands of practical mining men who have never been identified with a failure, but who have made millions for their stockholders.

The Terms of Selling

The Pilot-Butte Mining company is incorporated for 100,000 shares of stock at a par value of $10 a share. Only 20,000 shares of the stock are offered for sale for development purposes. Pilot-Butte stock is non-assessable.

The stock will be sold in five-share lots and in multiples of five—the smallest purchase that can be made being five shares. Each subscription must be accompanied by a certified check for $2 a share on the amount subscribed, the balance of $8 being due and payable upon issue of the stock.

Those living out of the city may forward subscriptions to the office of the Pilot-Butte Mining company, State Savings Bank building, Butte, Mont.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY 17 (2)

SOCIETY

WARM weather and sunshine have fostered the spirit for picnics and several parties have eaten lunches and suppers on the Point this week. The boat club has not been opened for the season yet, but a number of parties have made the Oatka house the destination for their parties and the house at Spirit lake, too, has had many visitors. The main house does not get as many parties of this kind, as it is not so well equipped for out of door meals, but the spirit is getting strong and it will not be long before the three houses will draw their large crowds.

With the spring cleaning finished or nearly so, and the house put in good order for the summer, and with the spring sewing mostly out of the way, the housewife welcomes the summer with its more informal life. The easily prepared picnic supper, here, is a most usual occurrence in many families and the quickly packed lunch basket, with a steak, a few potatoes, some rolls and a few other things, make a delightful change from the usual dinner of the long winter.

The chief social event of the week was the spring ball of the assembly, which was danced last evening at the Spalding hotel, under the arrangement of the committee composed of Messrs. William Donaldson White, George Edward Suffel, Charles H. McLennan, and Edward Chester Congdon. Among the dancers were:

CLUBS AND MUSICAL

HAPPENINGS IN CLUBDOM AND THE MUSICAL CIRCLES

Many Subscriptions for the Spring Festival—Program for State Music Teachers' Convention—Trees Will Be Distributed to Children—Events of the Week.

THE first act of Duluthians returning to the city from a winter or spring trip is in many instances, to write out their subscriptions for the spring festival of music to be presented in this city Friday and Saturday, June 2 and 3 by the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra with a group of assisting soloists.

Subscribers are privileged to select their seats before the sale to the general public and there is a reduction in the price for the advance subscriptions. The sale is larger this year than in any previous season. The visit of the Minneapolis orchestra will be the most important musical event of the spring months and a brilliant close of the season in this city.

The Minneapolis orchestra under the direction of Emil Oberhoffer has established itself as one of the leading symphony orchestras of America. Duluth feels a share of pride in this for the first demand for a concert outside of Minneapolis came from Duluth. Ever since then, the orchestra has made an annual visit to Duluth and this year at the close of the Minneapolis season, the orchestra could not, with a tour of eleven weeks, accept all of the offers made by outside cities.

The interest in the Duluth concerts is widespread and it is expected that all of the former many friends of the organization will be at the concerts and that a large number of Duluthians who did not previously attend will be enrolled among the subscribers and admirers of the orchestra. The subscribers will select their seats in the order in which the subscriptions have been received.

The concerts to be presented in Duluth will be two evening concerts, Friday and Saturday evenings, June 2 and 3 and a popular Saturday matinee will be presented at 4 o'clock. The advance subscriptions are for the evening concerts and the Saturday matinee. Tickets for the children's matinee will be distributed at the schools of the city.

The soloists with the orchestra this year are: Lucille Tewksbury, soprano; Agnes Staberg-Hall, soprano; Genevieve Wheat, contralto; Charles Harraden, tenor; Marcus Kellerman, basso; Richard Czerwonky, violin, and Henry J. Williams, harp.

Of the soloists, Mr. Czerwonky and Mr. Williamson and Mrs. Tewksbury were heard with the orchestra here last year.

Richard Czerwonky, formerly second concertmaster and soloist of the Boston Symphony orchestra, was secured two years ago by the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra and has become a permanent member of that organization. In securing Mr. Czerwonky, who is an artist of international reputation and one of the few great violinists located in America, the management of the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra has given another indication of its determination to make its orchestra second to none in the country. Mr. Czerwonky accompanied the orchestra on its two last spring tours as concertmaster and soloist, meeting with the great success.

Mr. Czerwonky is a native of Birnbaum, Germany, and achieved much distinction during his student years. He is a pupil of Joachim, Florian Zajic and also of Andreas Moser. Twice he won the Mendelssohn prize, once the Joachim prize, besides several others. When Dr. Karl Muck was "loaned" by the German emperor to the Boston Symphony orchestra, he brought Mr. Czerwonky with him to be soloist and assistant concertmaster, the young artist being then but 20 years old. He appeared with great success as soloist with the Boston orchestra, and was the organizer and leader of the Czerwonky String quartet which received the highest recognition from the leading critics of that city and vicinity. Since his location in Boston he has been in constant demand for concert and recital work. Louis C. Elson, the widely known Boston critic, places Czerwonky in the same class with Kreisler.

R. RUBINKAM will give his last lecture here this evening in the Commercial club. Puccini's opera, "Madam Butterfly," will be his theme and musical interpretations, both vocal and instrumental, will be given under the direction of Prof. Horace W. Reyner. The evening will be distinctly a musical one and Dr. Rubinkam's dramatic interpretation of the Japanese opera, if up to the standard of his other lectures, will be well worth while.

The hour set for the opening is 8:15.

Auxiliary Meeting.

THE Woman's Auxiliary of St. Paul's Episcopal church will meet with Mrs. Robert H Doran, 414 Eighteenth avenue east, on Friday afternoon, May 12, at 2:45 o'clock. The subject for the afternoon will be "Porto Rico," with Mrs. Josef Lonegren as leader.

Will Distribute Trees.

OVER 2,000 apple trees and shrubs will be distributed to the various schools Monday by the Twentieth Century club. These trees and shrubs have been ordered by the school children through the club. They have paid a very nominal price for them. The apple trees are only of such varieties as have been tried successfully in Northern Minnesota and are hardy and adapted to the climate and soil here. Among the varieties are the Duchess, Patten's Greening, the Wealthy and other like varieties.

The trees will be distributed to those who have ordered them for planting at their homes or where ever they please to put them. The culb in making this arrangement is trying to build up a love for the cultivation of fruits and shrubs and is giving something which can be a permanent benefit to the children and their homes. The planting of the trees is an improvement which will be lasting.

During the last three or four years when the club has been doing this work, nearly 8,000 trees have been distributed.

In addition to this work the club is furnishing earth to the children of the Webster school for their seeds and plants this spring. Usually the club has furnished seed for these children and held a flower exhibit in the fall but this practice has been discontinued this year on account of a larger flower show which will be held earlier in the summer for which the club will aid in making the arrangements.

Returns Are Large.

THE Twentieth Century club feels very well satisfied with the returns from the three benefits which they conducted for the Neighborhood House in the West end. At a meeting of the executive board Tuesday the affairs were settled and the members feel that aside from the financial side, that the benefits were a decided success. They have reached all classes of people in their two rummage sales, the entertainment given at the Y. M. C. A., and the three lectures by Dr. Rubinkham which were of a hig horder.

The club appreciateed the cordial co-operation of all people in these affairs.

THE EVENING STORY

THE DIPLOMAT

By Jane Harris.

"Old Man Nickerson" was considered the leading resident of the rural district of Brookline. His farm was one of the largest, and nothing but the very choicest breed of stock was allowed to set hoof thereon. "The stock" was the old man's pride and hobby. He could seldom be induced to part with any of it, and then it was entirely upon his own terms.

"Take it at th' price," was his usual formula, "or leave it, an' be——"

There had once been a son and heir to the house of Nickerson, but he, having fallen in love with a neighboring farmer's daughter to please himself, and having been ordered to immediately give her up to please his father, settled the matter by going away shearing, coming back armed with a check, and marrying the girl. After which the pair started a fruit shop in a distant township, and the old man solemnly scratched his son's name out of the family Bible.

Upon the day of her brother's wedding, Miss Nickerson was reported to be suffering from a severe headache. She was unable to leave her room. It may also explain her mother's question on the following morning:

"Did young Harold see you home?"

"Most o' the way," was the reply; "an' he swears he's comin' here in spite o' dad. He says he s'poses he won't be thought good enough for me, seein' there was such a fuss about Marlin marryin' his sister. Ennyhow, I think dad makes a fool o' himself, the way he plays up, an' I'm glad Marlin did marry her."

"Don't you pass no disrespec'ful opinion on your dad," said her mother; "but A. H. Brocklehurst; delegates to the state federation to be held at Sauk Center in the fall, Mrs. W. E. Whipple and Mrs. Hugh Steele; alternates, Mrs. W. B. Brinkman and Mrs. John Jenswold.

you, go right ahead an' ask him."

"Oh, lor'!" gasped Mary Jane. "Spend Christmas! Why, dad would throw the goose and plum pudding and everything else at his head! He'd be a fine old specimen o' peace on earth an' good will toward men!"

"You leave your dad to me," said Mrs. Nickerson. "I ain't bin managin' him unbeknownst to him fer thirty years fer nothin'."

Mary Jane sent the invitation, with grave doubts as to the result.

"I'm that nervous," she confessed to her mother on Christmas morning, 'that I don't know whether I'm on me head or me heels."

About 10 o'clock in the forenoon dad sat in the parlor, tapping his fingers reflectively on the table, upon which stood a tumbler and a square black bottle, testifying to the festive season.

Mum set opposite to him. She was dressed in her Sunday gown, and was smiling pleasantly. The old man was smiling, too. He had been discussing his favorite hobby, and mum, by a few well chosen remarks, had been patting him on the back. Then she said:

"That young Harold Clarkson is a great admirer o' the stock on this property."

"Ha!" said dad. He inflated his chest. "Everybody is, or orter be."

"Yes," admitted mum. "He was sayin' once, I remember, that he'd like to ride over some day, an' have a look 'roun'. But I told him you was mostly busy."

"Tush!" said he. "You might 'a' let him come. I ain't so mortal busy as all that."

"Well," said his wife, "I did tell him after, that the only day he might be sure o' ketchin' you in the house was Christmas. Dear me! How he did talk. He said you was the best judge o' an animal in the whole state."

At that moment Mary Jane put her head in the door, and beckoned her mother.

"Hello! Mary Jane!" What's the matter with your face?" asked her father. "Its like a sunset."

"She's bin bastin' the goose," explained her mother, as she went out.

"He's come!" said Mary Jane.

"Lord!" said Mrs. Nickerson. "I ain't blind. Ennyone could see he'd come by lookin' at you."

"Come in, Harold," she said encouragingly, "my old man'll be glad to see you."

Mary Jane watched him disappear into the parlor, as though she were wondering if she would ever see him alive again. She hinted as much to her mother, as they went to look after the dinner, but that lady only laughed.

Mr. Nickerson was, for him, quite affable. He said "Same," when Harold wished him the compliments of the season, but he soon lifted on to his favorite subject.

"I hear you been admirin' some o' my property?" he said. "Well, no wonder."

"No wonder at all," said Harold with a sheepish grin, "no one could help it, could they now?"

"Course not," admitted the old man. "I ain't blamin' you, young feller."

Harold grew more confident.

"I was afraid you'd have the everlastin' hump at me comin'," he said.

"Tut, tut!" excalimed Mr. Nickerson. "I ain't that selfish! My missus was talkin about not ten minutes ago."

"Then you was expectin' me?" said Harold eagerly, "an' you knew why I was comin'?"

"Yes," said the old man; "I thort it was likely you'd come today. The missus was tellin' me what you'd bin sayin'."

"And you agree?" asked Harold moistening his lips with his tongue.

"The old man laughed at the joke. "You bet I agree!" he shouted. "Why, where are you goin'? Sit down, man!"

"Neever!" whooped Harold, as he bolted for the door. "Never till I tell Mary Jane!

Dad started blankly after him. "Tell Mary Jane," he repeated. "Gosh! what the deuce——"

His wife came in with a dignified air.

"What's this I hear?" she inquired. "Have you bin tellin' Harold he could come an' see Mary Jane, or have you bin makin' a mistake?"

With a grunt of resignation Dad reached for the bottle.

"You orter know by this time," he said, "that I never made a mistake in my life! He can take her at the price," he added, by sheer force of habit, "or he can leave her an' be——"

"Blessed," finished Mum, "as it is Christmas!"

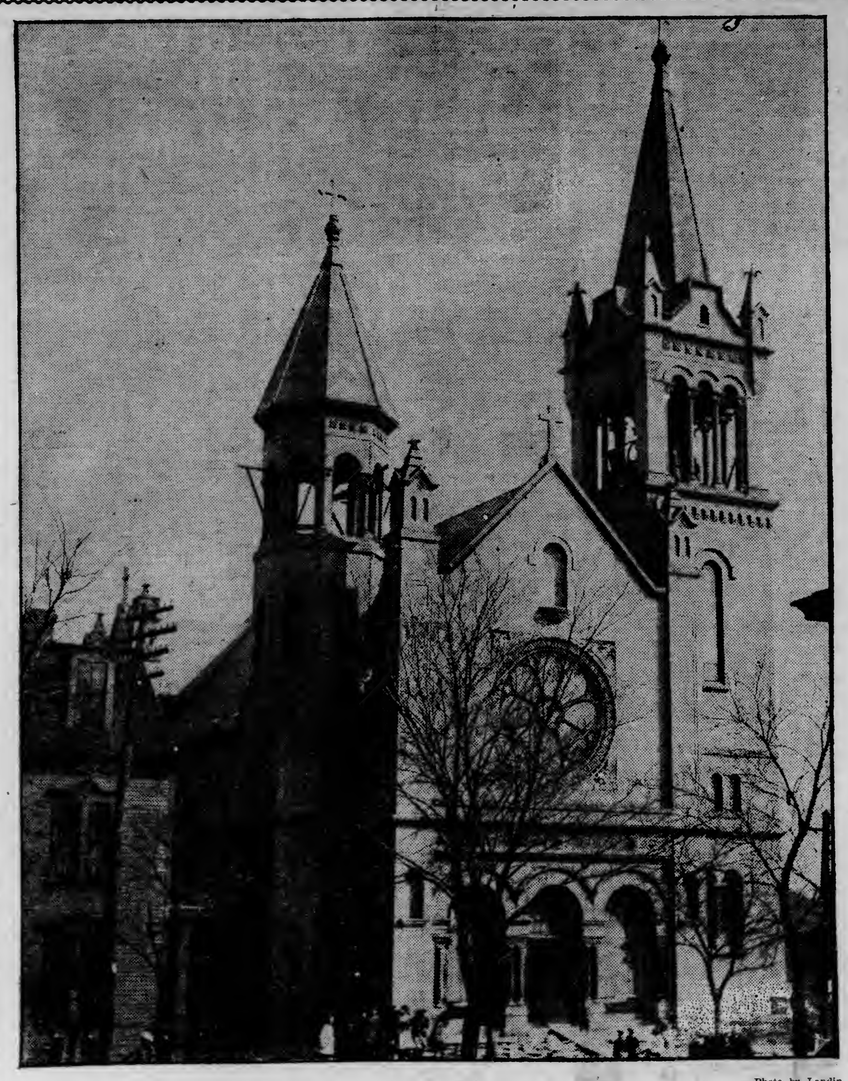
NEWS OF THE WEST END

HANDSOME CATHOLIC EDIFICE WILL BE DEDICATED IN JUNE



NEW $60,000 ST. CLEMENT'S CATHOLIC CHURCH.

Preparations are now being made for the dedication of the handsome $60,000 church, which is being erected by the St. Clement's Catholic parish at Twenty-first avenue west and Third street. The interior work will be finished about June 15 and the dedication will be held soon afterwards.

The exterior work on the building has been finished for some time. Contractor Dan Egan of Ashland now has begun work on the carpentering. The painters and decorators will follow, and it is planned to rush the work to an early completion. This week the scaffolding was taken down from the towers, after the old bell was placed. The bell was saved when the old church burned two years ago.

The new church is one of the most imposing in the city. The main body of the church is 54 feet wide, has a frontage of 62 feet on West Third street and runs 138 feet deep. In addition to the main entrance on Third street, there are three entrances on the avenue. The two towers on the front are the highest in the West end. The east one, which is the higher of the two, measures 128 feet.

The interior of the structure, when completed, will be beautifully decorated. It has a seating capacity of about 700. In the basement a winter chapel is being constructed, the duplicate of the main sanctuary above.

The cornerstone was laid on Sunday, Oct. 2, 1910.

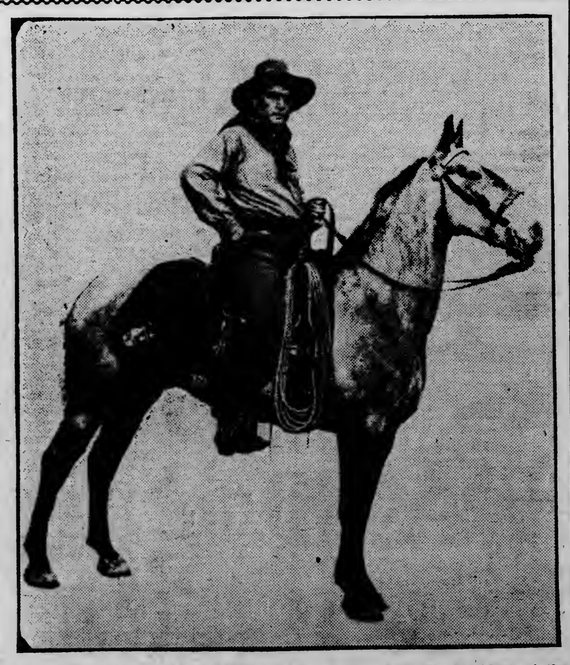
BARON IS MEMBER OF SALVATION ARMY



Sir Genille Cave-Brown-Cave, twelfth baronet of Stanford, oldest of the noble families of England, with possibly four exceptions, is now a member of the Salvation army in Brooklyn. He joined the Salvation army last October. It is said that a girl with a tambourine and a frank look in her blue eyes lured him from a saloon in New York and since then he has been acting as janitor for the Salvation army. He is trying to save, out of $3.50 a week as janitor, enough to pay the $100 matriculation fee required at the school for officers of the Salvation army.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Freshman-Sophomore Dance — Principal Young Complains of School Spirit—Mr. Denfeld Speaks in Chapel — Musical Society Active — Baseball Spirit—Zenith Due in Less Than a Month—Class Night Program to Be Changed—Teachers on Vacation.

The members of the freshman and sophomore classes have been working in union this afternoon decorating the halls of the high school for the annual dance this evening. The decorations are in the colors of the two classes together with a large number of palms, pennants and high school banners. As the dance is an open one, a large number of students and alumni will attend. The teachers of the high school will chaperone the party.

During the chapel exercises Monday Principal Young criticized for the first time the spirit of the high school students. His words were prompted by the small number of students who attended the debate between the Central and Minneapolis West Side high school teams last Saturday evening. Mr. Young admitted that any big contest, such as those with the Superior high school, are very well attended, but said that real school spirit would prompt the students to attend all contests and root for their team. Such spirit, says Mr. Young, is lacking and he would be grateful at seeing a change.

During the chapel exercises on Wednesday Supt. Denfeld interested the students with one of his ever popular talks. Mr. Denfeld especially urged the seniors to make a hard, final spurt before leaving their Alma Mater.

Senior essays and report cards are due Monday. The seniors are finally beginning to realize that their high school career is rapidly coming to a close. Among other signs of the end are the mid semester examinations and the end of the study of Crawshaw's English literature, the texts of which have been given to the juniors.

At the regular meeting of the musical society on Tuesday the soloist was Miss Winifred Thomas. Her several numbers were very well received by the members of the society and others who attended the meeting.

The musical society, under the direction of Mr. Custance, has been working hard for several weeks past in preparation for the entertainment to be given by the high school alumni association for the purpose of aiding in the Smith scholarship fund. The musical society has volunteered to furnish half of the program of the entertainment and is at the present time rehearsing some very good numbers.

During the chapel exercises Friday the choir sang "Lo, the Winter Is Past." This song is sung yearly by the choir at the beginning of summer, but Mr. Custance stated that a snow storm usually accompanies the song. Yesterday proved an exception to the rule for the day was in perfect harmony with the song.

Julius Nolte and Roger Lerch, who were selected by the judges for the oratory and declamation team, are practicing deligently for the Wallace cup contest and hope to again win the prize this year.

The baseball spirit was fairly well demonstrated at the high school Friday before the game with Cloquet. Season tickets have been on sale for the past week and quite a number of the students have invested in them, thus insuring a successful baseball season at the Central.

The Zenith is due in less than a month, unless some unforeseen accident delays the publication. The book will sell for 75 cents to every one this year. All the material has been given to the printers and the work is progressing rapidly. A surprise in store for the pupils is the dedication of the 1911 book, which will be kept a secret until the book is published.

Because of an unforseen difficulty the program which was prepared, at the cost of a great amount of labor and time, for class night by Stanley Lamb will have to be changed and some other numbers arranged. Stanley Lamb is undecided as to what he will put on in place of the original program.

Several of the men teachers of the high school left for the woods this morning to enjoy a short vacation. They will spend their time in fishing and tramping. Among the party are Messrs. Schilling, Gibson, Phillips, Phillips, Jr.; Avery, Goldsmith and Bracket.

"COUNT" IN TROUBLE.

Has Paintings That Were Brought in Without Notice.

New York, May 6.—After a trip from Los Angeles, Carlo Di Peloggio, who says he is an Italian count, was arrested here yesterday charged with failing to declare for the entrance into this country of two copies of famous paintings by old masters. Had he obeyed the law the pictures would have been admitted free under the tariff clause relating to works of art. As it is, they were seized in Chicago.

Di Peloggio was indignant over his arrest, and gave $3,500 bail for appearance in the federal courts. Meanwhile there is a federal warrant out for Julius F. B. Frankenburg, first officer of the North German liner Prinzess Irene, who is under indictment charged with engineering the scheme. The Italian says he was ignorant of the tariff laws and trusted Frankenberg to pay the duties.

According to customs appraisers, the pictures are copies of the "Holy Family" by Del Sarto and the "Vision of St. Hubert" by Velasquez. They are valued by the appraisers at $500 and $100 respectively.

ROADS ARE IN GOOD SHAPE

Highways About Duluth Said to Be Better Than Ever Before.

Many People Are Taking the Duluth to Minneapolis Drive.

The automobile touring season is now well under way.

Not a week goes by without parties making the city from Minneapolis and not a few Duluthians have gone to the Twin Cities by way of the automobile route of late.

The roads are in almost mid-season condition.

At this time last year, people were getting stuck on the different roads out of the city, but this year they are as dry as tinder and the frost is said to be gone.

The Minneapolis-Duluth run is particularly good, according to those that have made the trip. Repairs have been made at the poor spots along the road and the trip can now be made with perfect safety. With the exception of the few miles of rough going over the corduroy, the journey is delightful.

The road to Cloquet, Carlton and points west is in fine shape and many Duluth motorists are taking this as an evening drive. Back of the city the Pike Lake road, the Rice Lake road, the Maple Grove and others are said to be in better shape than ever before. To the east of the city, the East Duluth and Lester river road and the Two Harbors road are said to be in excellent shape. The Two Harbors road leads to French, Sucker, Knife and many other streams in which trout are sometimes caught. The road is almost a boulevard as far as Knife river.

The roads all about the city are in better shape this spring than ever before and motorists are taking advantage of this fact by using them very often.

RAY HARROUN WILL DRIVE

Will Drive Marmon "Wasp" Which Lowered Records Last Season.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 6.—Ray Harroun, "king of the Speedway," champion of the 1910 automobile racing season, has "come back." The famous Bedouin of the track will drive a Marmon—the six-cylinder "Wasp," with which he has won gold and glory in the past—in the 500-mile international sweepstakes race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, May 30.

This announcement by the world-famous pilot of the yellow cars confirmed the rumors that had been floating around for several weeks, and the noted pilot will defy death at the wheel of a throbbing steel space-annihilator for the last time on the Speedway track in the 500-mile race next Memorial day. The car will bear the same old number—"32."

When asked what had tempted him to return to the racing game after he had announced last fall that he would never again sit behind the wheel of a throbbing steel juggernaut in competition, Harroun's face lit up with the same smile that he wore when he was presented with the Wheeler-Schebler trophy at the July meeting of the Speedway last season.

"I returned to the game because I like it, and again I returned because of the large purse that is offered the winner of the 500-mile race," said the Bedouin pilot. "I have had countless offers to drive racing cars—indeed the many requests for my services became wearisome—and I had just one pet phrase to give to one and all, 'I am never going to race again.'

"It has not been such a long time since I told that same phrase to the Marmons, but the more I thought about the big race and the prizes offered the more I longed to sit at the wheel of one of my old cars, smell the gasoline and see the brick track gliding swiftly under my car.

"When the race starts I will roll the 'Wasp,' with which I have won many races, up to the tape, and I am going to go the 500 miles without a stop. I will go the long route and I am out to win. I don't believe there is a man in the game that can show me a clean pair of heels, barring an accident, which is one of the things we must all gamble on when we start in such a grueling race."

Harroun will drive in the same car that he won the Wheeler-Schebler trophy with and the car with which on the day following he tore a large chunk of concrete out of the heavy retaining wall and then slid along the top of the wall and came out without a scratch to show for his momentary gaze into the depth of eternity.

The Marmon driver holds many records which he made in 1910 and the official records compiled by the American Automobile association teem with the performances of the local driver. In the 231 to 300 cubic inch piston displacement Class B Speedway records, Harroun holds every mark for 10 miles to 100, with the exception of the 20-mile mark. In the Speedway records, regardless of class, he held the 100-mile record until Teddy Tetzlaff, in a Lozier, lowered the mark at Los Angeles over the same track this spring. Harroun also holds the hour records up to and including Feb. 1, 1911, with 74 miles for the hour and 148 for the two-hour grind, both made on the Los Angeles track.

Harroun won more important races than any other driver on America's speedways last season, adding fifteen firsts to the Marmon records. Among the leading speed events which were won by the intrepid driver are: The Atlanta speedway trophy, 200 miles in 3:02:31; the great two-hour free-for-all race at Los Angeles in May in which he covered 148 miles in 120 minutes; the 100-mile 231-300 class, the 50-mile 301-450 class and the 100-mile 600 class, on the same track, and the 231-300 class, 50-mile race at the Indianapolis speedway last May. At the conclusion of last season Harroun held the American speedway recods regardless of class from 75 miles in 67:15:79 to 100 miles in 1:16:21.9 and all stock chassis 231-300 class records from 25 to 100 miles. Of the forty-five races he entered last season, Harroun won fifteen firsts, ten seconds and six thirds, a record unequaled by any other racing car driver.

NO TIME TO BE FRIGHTENED

By Ralph De Palma.

To ask a racing driver to tell of the perils of race driving is like asking an army officer to sit down and write an article on how the smell of gunpowder makes him sick at his stomach. Of course there are dangers connected with automobile racing, but with a driver of speed cars it is all in the day's work and I am writing this by special request, not because I have any particular sentiments to voice or "kicks" to make, but merely because I am informed by automobile editors that certain people would be interested to know what I think about the dangerous side of racing.

When racing I think no more about the danger of the game than the army officer does of the smell of smoke. The danger is there, but there are other things to think about. It must be remembered that a racing driver has to watch out in order to keep his car on the course while at high speed. It isn't like touring where a driver can steer at his leisure. It must be remembered that a driver's brain (most of us are credited with having a few brains) is in a particularly active state all through a race—keeping tab on speed and where the other fellows are, dodging the dust of the man ahead, listening to the motor to see that it keeps firing properly, watching the tires, dodging the poor fools who run out on the course, slowing down at the bad bumps and turns, yet so as not to waste too much power and watching signals from the pits and camps.

Really a driver has to do a great deal and bearing all this in mind, all thought of danger is crowded out. Of course I am speaking of seasoned men, for I know that many new drivers are nervous in races and feel the strain.

What I consider the most dangerous thing that can happen to a man in a race is to have something go wrong with the steering gear. Under almost any other circumstances a driver can do things in an emergency if he is quick enough that will save him, but a broken steering gear renders him helpless for it is seldom possible to apply the brakes and bring the car to a stop before it is ditched or before it hits something.

At Guttenberg on Thanksgiving day my car broke a steering knuckle while going at a seventy-mile-an-hour clip and while I skidded into a ditch and brought the machine to a stop without upsetting, it was one of the closest calls I ever had. At Danbury last year the same thing happened and I plunged through a fence. I broke a thigh on this occasion, although I did not know it until I crawled out of the wreck and tried to walk.

When tires burst they frequently cause upsets, but a skilled driver is often able to control his car if the steering column is working properly. A right rear tire blowing up has a tendency to make the car slew around to the right and a rear left-hand blowout to the left, unless the car happens to be turning. If a car is skidding when a tire bursts the rear of the car usually swings with a jump in the direction in which it is skidding. When front tires blow out the skid is toward the side with the torn casing. Of course it does not always work out this way, but a quick twist of the steering wheel often prevents accident for a driver can usually tell which tire it is that ripe.

Different courses have decidedly different effects upon cars going at speed. As a road course Savannah's circuit is about ideal. Cars tore over that at remarkably high speed in practice as well as the days of the races and yet at the finish of the Grand Prix the course was in almost as good condition as it ever was. On such a course as this danger is nothing compared to that met in a race over a circuit like Briarcliff or Elgin, where the road surface becomes torn up.

DULUTH CONCERN HAS FINE LINE

The Peerless, Marmon, Interstate and Reo are the excellent lines of cars handled by the Duluth Automobile company.

The Peerless is the last word in six cylinder cars. It is a large roomy, seven-passenger machine which rides over the roughest roads like a rocking chair and it has more power than can ordinarily be used. This machine also comes in a four cylinder with two new sizes, 38 horse power and 48 horse power for 1912, making the most complete line of any of the high grade manufactures.

The Marmon is known the country over for its easy riding qualities. It is among the best known of the medium priced cars.

Several Duluthians have purchased Interstates and they are all well pleased with the performances of the car. It is a sturdy, reliable, high-powered, medium-priced car and has made good.

The Reo is especially well adapted to Duluth and the hilly country surrounding. It, also, is a medium-priced machine. The work of the Reo is so well known that further description is unnecessary.

The Baker shaft drive electric is also sold by this company. There are many Bakers in Duluth and they are, many of them, in service during the entire year. It is particularly adapted to the use of ladies for shopping and calling.

WITHOUT the permission of congress it is impossible for Americans in the public service to accept titles or decorations from foreign rulers, and all attempts to modify this hard-and-fast rule have failed. But this rule does not mean that Americans in private life may not receive favors from monarchs—may not, in fact, have them for friends. Not a few living Americans can say truthfully that royal favor or royal friendship has been theirs; and the gamut of such Americans runs from horse dealer to ex-president of the United States.

Royal favor for Americans more than once has been promoted largely by horses and the turf. Followers of the sport will be able to recall offhand numerous instances in which the English Derby has been the means of winning royal honors for enterprising Americans. The success of Richard Croker is a case in point. As head of Tammany hall he might have stormed the citadel of British exclusiveness for his natural lifetime without making a visible impression, but as the owner and exploiter of a string of thoroughbreds, each a fascinating possibility, he stepped within the charmed circle with no one to oppose his entrance and with royalty prepared to receive him as a fellow sportsman.

Making a Hit With Leopold.

Still more aptly illustrative is the instance of Col. George W. Crawford of Ohio, who took ship with 138 of the best blooded horses he could find in America, crossed over to Bordeaux and sold them at fabulous prices, and ended by establishing himself firmly in the esteem of the late King Leopold of Belgium. It would not be necessary to mention the horses were it not for the fact that the king was led by their prime quality into making the acquaintance of the man who was so good a judge of horseflesh. In time it came to the Yankee horse dealer's ears that the aged monarch held a good opinion of him, and he lost no time in getting to Brussels. That was easy enough, but it was not so easy to get into the royal palace. Day after day the colonel sent in his card, but there was always some excellent reason why he was not admitted into the presence of royalty.

One day, after he had become thoroughly disgusted with Leopold's coyness and was on the point of leaving the Belgian capital, Col. Crawford received the long-awaited summons. He was standing in a crowd beneath a palace balcony from which his Belgian majesty was to deliver an address when a court official touched him lightly on the shoulder and bade him follow.

It was a case of mutual admiration at first sight. The king invited the colonel to a dinner party that very night and the American made so good socially that on the following evening he sat beside the "boss of the Congo" in a box at the theater. Leopold's penchant for making chance acquaintances was one of his strong points, and before the play was over he and the colonel were fast friends, a friendship which endured until the king's death. Before Col. Crawford left Brussels he was created a chevalier, an honor seldom conferred by Leopold, who was chary of such gifts.

A Favorite of Siam's King.

When John Barrett, director of the International Bureau of American Republics, was United States minister to Siam, he made a great hit with King Khoulalonkorn. Previous to Mr. Barrett's incumbency no member of a foreign legation had been received on terms of intimacy at the Siamese royal residence and Siamese royalty had always maintained a sort of grand lama attitude toward the representatives of foreign governments. It was Mr. Barrett's personality that broke down the wall of Oriental reserve in this particular instance. He made himself so agreeable to the lord of the white elephant that he was invited to take up his permanent residence in the palace, an invitation he had the sagacity to decline firmly but courteously.

In time Mr. Barrett's influence over the king became so positive that the minister was regarded with a good deal of jealousy by the other diplomats at Bankok. Yet, about the only use he made of his social conquest was to break down some of the traditional bulwarks that prevent an Oriental ruler from getting a glimpse of anything like modern progress. Under the spell of his American friend's geniality the Siamese monarch began to see life as it really is, and in his turn Mr. Barrett was initiated into much that has baffled the curiosity of the Western mind.

This knowledge of the Oriental point of view has enabled Mr. Barrett to be of great service to his countrymen. When he went to China in behalf of the St. Louis exposition it was this insight into Oriental conditions that enabled him to obtain a liberal contribution to the great fair. Before he made the attempt he was warned that it would be useless; that the aged empress was opposed to the plan and would not consent to have her empire take part in the matter. Mr. Barrett went right on with his undertaking, making a tour of the various provinces and interesting the chief viceroys and men of influence and eventually obtaining audience with the empress, who was so favorably impressed by the American's manner that she not only consented to the proposition, but showed her personal esteem for the visitor by many acts of civility rarely shown to foreigners.

Mr. Barrett's visit to India at the time of the durbar at Delhi, at which the late King Edward was declared emperor, turned out to be a veritable social triumph for the diplomatic American. During the gorgeous festivities, which involved an expenditure of over $20,000,000 by the united British and Indian governments, he was the special guest of the greatest independent monarch in the empire, the Nizam of Hyderrabad, who rules over more than 100,000,000 subjects. No other American of this generation has had equal opportunities to study Oriental character at such close range.

Today, as director of the International Bureau of American Republics, Mr. Barrett is making the promotion of cordial international relations his especial work.

A University President's Afternoon With the Kaiser.

When President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbus university went to Germany to arrange for an interchange of professors between his institution and the University of Berlin, he was invited to Potsdam to visit the kaiser. The hour named in his official invitation was 1 o'clock and he expected to be accorded a short formal audience of a few minutes' duration. To his surprise and pleasure the German ruler received him informally, divested of all evidences of state and in a smoking jacket.

They talked for some time on educational subjects, the kaiser showing a lively interest in American institutions and apparently willing to talk freely about German schools. He found many things to admire in the American methods of teaching and he did not hesitate to criticise the things which did not appeal to him. He was equally unsparing in his denunciation of many of the mediaeval customs which still prevail and even confidential in his observations that he made a great "hit" with the head of Columbia.

While they were still discussing the comparative efficiency of the seats of higher learning in their respective countries the kaiser rose from his seat and invited President Butler to go with him for a walk about the park. As they strolled about the charmingly kept palace grounds the emperor pointed out the various objects of historical interest and kept up a running fire of questions that taxed his guest's facility with the German to the utmost. Occasionally the kaiser would air his knowledge of English—which he speaks passably well—but he would soon lapse into the vernacular, which he prefers as a medium of conversation.

It was almost dark when the pair returned to the palace and on separating the kaiser declared he had spent a delightful afternoon and Dr. Butler was asked to come to Potsdam whenever he could find the opportunity.

The Boy Who Forced Royal Favors.

Jesse R. Grant, the youngest son of the general, who accompanied his parents on their tour around the globe, and who now divides his time between his homes in Southern California and New York City, is perhaps the only living American who can truthfully say that he actually forced royal favors to be shown him.

When the Grant party was in England, the general and Mrs. Grant received royal invitations to dine at Windsor with Queen Victoria. Jesse was angry because he had been overlooked and declared stoutly that he intended to be present in spite of the omission. His parents tried to convince him that it would be the height of impropriety to attempt anything of the sort, but he would not be persuaded and persisted in his declaration that he should be on hand promptly when the festivities began. Although his mother advised him to let the matter drop, he continued to air his grievance and threat in public, so that in time it reached the ears of the court official who had the matter in charge.

When Queen Victoria heard of it she was greatly amused and proceeded immediately to rectify the blunder. A court chamberlain invested with all the dignity and pomp that are a part of the office presented himself at the hotel at which the Grants were stopping and "commanded" Master Jesse Root Grant to appear at the function in honor of his distinguished father. Jesse signified his intention of "obeying" the command and everything resumed its serenity.

Her majetsy was so highly entertained over the novelty of being compelled to dine with a guest who was practically self-invited that she made herself so agreeable to the young American that he has never forgotten that delightful evening at Windsor when he sat at table with the queen and several of the members of her family and a score of the greatest folk in the British empire.

Schoolmates of Royalty.

There are at least two Americans of note who may lay claim to the distinction of having been the schoolmate of those who afterward went into "the crown and scepter business." Lewis Nixon is one of the men and it happened when he was putting the finishing touches in naval architecture on his education at the Royal naval college at Greenwich. The present king of England, then Prince George of Wales and several steps away from the throne, was one of his fellow students, and Prince Waldemar of Denmark and the crown prince of Japan were two of his chums. Of the latter Nixon had many, for he was exceedingly popular at Greenwich and formed numerous strong attachments that have continued to the present time.

While he was still a student at Greenwich Mr. Nixon was presented to the late King Edward by John Russell Lowell, and a short time before King Edward died, the shipbuilder had an opportunity to renew his acquaintance with the monarch. Both of them were taking the waters at Marienbad in Bohemia, and the king found in Mr. Nixon a man of congenial tastes and entertaining conversation. They became warm friends and were seen frequently together on the promenade and in various other public places. What is probably the last photograph ever taken of the king shows him and his American friend as the center of a group on the Marienbad promenade. The royal family left the famous Bohemian resort before the Nixons took their departure, and the day before leaving for home the king had the Americans as his guests at dinner. After the final adieus had been spoken, King Edward sent his portrait and a basket of game to Mrs. Nixon, with an autograph letter, one of the last the stricken monarch ever penned.

Although Mr. Nixon made such a social hit with his former classmate's father, he never had an opportunity to talk over school days with King George. He remembers the latter, however, as a rather dignified and very studious young fellow whose chief aim in life in those days was to make himself a first-class sailor.

Mr Nixon's profession of designer and builder of warships has been an open sesame to royalty for many years. Five years ago he received an invitation from the czar to visit him at his summer palace of Tsarkoe-Solo, and when he arrived at St. Petersburg the imperial railway train was waiting to carry him southward. It was an event that set the diplomatic world agog, but only the Russian monarch and his American guest know the full particulars.

Poultney Bigelow is the other well known American who studied with royalty. His university fellow student was none other than the present kaiser, and the intimate friendship that exists between them dates back to university days. Whenever Mr. Bigelow is in Berlin he is expected to present himself at the palace and talk over old times with the kaiser.

Who Became a Favorite The Scout Of Royalty.

The expression "born favorite of kings" has proved the right to exist in the case of none other than Buffalo Bill. Nothing could have seemed less probable during the childhood and youth of this son of a victim of the "border ruffian" war than that he would in after life become the companion of those who did business under the patent of "divine right." Remote from courts as was the frontier that brought him local fame and his name of Buffalo Bill, royalty found him out and appropriated a share of him for its own.

It began forty years ago, when he was only a young man, but already a famous scout and hunter. The late Russian Grand Duke Alexis, who is reputed to have died of grief over the destruction of the navy of which he was chief by the Japanese, was in America on a tour around the globe. He was a big, husky boy of 19, handsome, amiable and afraid of nothing but ennui. The fur-enveloped and liberty-hating old Muscovite noblemen who had charge of him realized that he was to be amused at any cost, and they were "onto their job." So when Gen. Phil Sheridan, who was superintending Uncle Sam's part of the entertaining process in the West, proposed a big-game expedition, both the prince and his guardians accepted the suggestion with evident relish.

Gen. Sheridan knew a thing or two about such matters and he sent an immediate order to Cody to organize a big Buffalo drive. That memorable hunt was a three weeks' affair, and before it was ended the prince and the scout were fast friends for life. The grim Tartar admiral who was most responsible for the conduct of his youthful royal highness looked aghast at this democratic exhibition, but he consoled himself with the reflection that his charge was being amused at all events.

That was Col. Cody's introduction to royalty, and it was only the prelude to much that followed in after years. He is wont to declare with a good deal of emphasis that his first meeting with the late King Edward was one of the most uncomfortable incidents of his long career. It was not because he was averse to making the acquaintance of Britain's ruler, but he was staggered when he was informed that a dress suit was an essential part of the machinery. For the first time in his life he was compelled to replace his picturesque buckskin suit and cowboy accoutrements with the livery of conventionality, and it galled him bitterly. Afterward, when he and the king had become close friends, Cody had the satisfaction of informing the monarch that it was the "blamedest half hour" he ever "put in."

According to Col. Cody, "it's a cinch tc talk to kings." They are so accustomed to court etiquette and so tired of it all that they welcome anything in the way of linguistic novelty. Col. Cody admits that on a certain occasion he called the late Leopold of Belgium a "brick" and declares that "the old duffer was tickled to death." For Queen Alexandra he has the most unqualified admiration—"a lady from start to finish, if I know one, and I think I do," he testifies. One day she took a spin in Buffalo Bill's Denver coach and that set the fashion—all the highborn dames in England, and a lot that weren't so fortunate, wanted to follow her example, and the colonel had his hands full. Finally the male crowned heads of Europe became affected with the craze and on one occasion the coach carried a load of no less than four reigning monarchs—the kings of Sweden, Denmark, Belgium and Saxony.

A Financier and the Mikado.

Jacob H. Schiff is another eminent American who enjoyed the close personal acquaintance of the late King Edward, and their intimacy was the outcome of Mr. Schiff's energetic work for the betterment of the condition of the poor of his own peple in the slums of Whitechapel. Always practical in his charity, the banker established a system of low-priced midday meals for the working Hebrews, and the benefaction worked out so admirably that the king's attention was attracted to it and he sought an introduction to the man who had set it in motion. Mr. Schiff is one of the few Americans in private life who has received favors from the mikado, extended to him at the time of his visit to Japan a few years ago, and in return for his services in helping finance Japan at the time of her war with Russia and directly after the close of that struggle. Mr. Schiff was the prime mover in the first flotation of Japanese bonds in the United States.

Charles R. Crane of Chicago, who was selected by President Taft to be this country's diplomatic representative at Pekin and was suddenly recalled just as he was preparing to sail for the Orient from San Francisco, has long been persona grata, socially, with the czar of all the Russians. It was his friendship that partly led to the decision of the government at Washington at the last moment not to send Mr. Crane to China, after representations had been received from Japan that Mr. Crane's relations with the czar could hardly be called a guarantee to Japan that Mr. Crane would deal impartially with Japan and Russia in matters affecting both these countries and the United States.

Two living Yankee athletes who have tasted of the joys of royal favor are John L. Sullivan and Capt. Adrian C. Anson. In the days when Sullivan dominated the fistic world the big Bonstonian was seen frequently at Sandringham during his visits to England, and the late King Edward was an outspoken admirer of Sullivan's ring ability. Even divested of his muscular premiership there would be enough left of the personality of the fighter to interest a family so democratic in its everyday tastes as was the household at Sandringham, and Sullivan was sometimes entertained en famille at that hospitable board. Capt. Anson, at the time he made the historic trip around the world as the head of the Chicago baseball nine, was wined and dined by the late King Edward, then prince of Wales, and tradition has it that the captain and the prince grew quite chummy before the festivities of the evening were over.

The Cornelius Vanderbilts have been on terms of social intimacy with both the English and German courts for several years; in fact, ever since the visit of Prince Henry to this country this branch of the Vanderbilt family has stood in high favor wth the kaiser, who has been entertained aboard the Vanderbilt yacht, and, in turn, has entertained the Vanderbilts. The Nicholas Longworths have also been heartily received by the kaiser, thanks to the latter's admiration for Mr. Longworth's father-in-law.

Morgan and the Crowned Heads.

But when all is said and done, the three living Americans who have come in social contact with and received favors from more wearers of the crown than all others are Theodore Roosevelt, Andrew Carnegie and J. Pierpont Morgan.

As soon as the news reached Europe that Mr. Morgan had successfully organized and financed the United States Steel corporation he became the most prominent American figure, excepting possibly Theodore Roosevelt, who was at that time in the first year of his service as president. It was reported all over Europe that Mr. Morgan had organized and financed a corporation whose capital was in excess of $1,000,000,000. Nothing like it had ever been known in Europe. Therefore, when he visited Europe in the spring of 1902 he was received with almost royal honors, so far as that term can describe courtesies given to a private citizen.

It was made known to Mr. Morgan that the Emperor William was anxious to visit him; Mr. Morgan was at that time upon his yacht, the Corsair, in the harbor of one of the seaports of the North German coast. A cordial invitation was extended to the emperor, although it was of course informal, for it was expected that the visit would be that of one great citizen to another great citizen. The emperor spent the better part of the day with Mr. Morgan upon the Corsair. The intercourse between them was perfectly informal, but it was evident from the emperor's manner that he looked upon Mr. Morgan as the greatest of the modern sovereigns of finance. A little later Mr. Morgan was received upon the emperor's yacht, and the greater part of three days was spent in the interchange of visits.

Mr. Morgan was also received as a great king of finance by King Edward VII, who never tired of hearing from those who knew what Mr. Morgan's career had been the story of his great achievements. Recently Mr. Morgan has been the guest of the king of Italy, both men having found a common ground of sympathy and congeniality through their interest in art and especially the art which was the grandeur of Rome.

HOW FOOLISH.

"He's a nice fellow to take a girl fishing."
"Why, what did he do?"
"He fished!"

In the Way of Business.

THE tobacconist was talking with a friend, when a man came in and looked all around and asked:

"Is this a cigar store?"

"It is, sir."

"Have you five-cent cigars?"

"I have."

'Are they bang up?"

"Just as good as the ordinary ten-cent cigars you buy at other stores."

"I'll take one."

When the customer had lighted his smoker and gone, the friend smilingly said:

"Do you get that often?"

"Every hour or so."

"And you don't kick?"

"Never. It's in the way of business, you see. He knew I sold cigars, for they are all about us, but if I hadn't assured him of the fact he would have thought I lacked politeness. He knew I kept five-cent cigars, but wanted corroboration. He knew I lied when I said they were as good as ten-centers, but wanted to hope they were. He was in for a pipe the other day, and I couldn't sell him one until I assured him that this was no butcher shop.

JOE KERR.

HE WAS RIGHT.

WHEN the President called for 20,000 men to go down to the Mexican border," said the nice old man, "my wife almost had a fit.

"'Henry, it means war,' said she.

"'Oh, I dunno,' says I.

"'Bloody war, Henry.'

"'Be calm, Mary.'

"'We are going to try to take Mexico.'

"'I skassly think so.'

"'And she won't be taken without an awful fight. There'll be 50,000 men killed.'

"'Mebbe so and mebbe not.'

"'And 50,000 more wounded.'

"'Let us hope not.'

"'And Henry,' she goes on, 'they will call for volunteers.'

"'Skassly, Mary.'

"'And you'll rush off for one.'

"'I'm too old.'

"'You are 65, but I know you'll go and get shot in your tracks and leave me a widder.'

"'Be calm, Mary. There won't be any war. It's jest one of the President's little jokes. He wants to give the boys a play spell and harden 'em up to sit on the bleachers through the baseball season.'

"That's what I told her, sir," continued the nice old man, "and has there been any war? Have we took Mexico?

And he slapped his leg and smiled again and walked away rubbing his hands and feeling as good as a man who had guessed the weight of a live hog within a pound.

The Fishing Girl

VIRGINIA PEACH a-fishing went,
She wore her prettiest hat
And was a picture of content
As in the boat she sat,
With high-heeled shoes and silken hose
And simple frock but fine
She talked and watched the fish that rose,
But never cast a line.

NO catch, they said, Virginia made
While out a-fishing there
Beneath the parasol whose shade
Saved her complexion fair.
But we know better, you and I,
Since cards have come our way
All neatly graved, to notify Friends of her wedding day.

A GOOD SCHEME.

"Why does a player pick up two bats before he goes to the plate?"
"It makes one bat seem lighter; don't you see?"
"I see. It's a fine scheme. I think I'll try it on the biscuits at our boarding-house."

Something Wrong.

HE had no less than five newspapers with him, and as he looked them over one by one the other passengers couldn't help but wonder a bit. Finally a man spoke up:

"Hope there's no calamity?"

"I didn't find any," was the growling reply, "but there is a thing I'm going to kick about."

"The service on this line, sir?"

"No, sir. It's about the weather reports."

"Ah. I'm interested."

"Here are five newspapers, and each one has a different report for the day. Is the Weather Bureau reliable or not?"

"No, sir, it isn't. It is not giving us our money's worth. Yesterday there was a different 'probability' in six different papers, and yet we had 11 different kinds of weather between sun and sun. What right sir, had the bureau to beat us out of five kinds. It looks like graft, and I'm ready to go in with you and call for an investigating committee. When five kinds of weather are held back——"

The fat man threw the papers on the floor and rose up.

"Five kinds of weather that we have paid for——"

The fat man got to the door.

"Weather we were expecting in our business, but the same as stolen from us——"

The fat man stepped off the car and fell kerplunk in the mud, and the passengers craned their necks to see, and said it was all wrong—dead wrong.

JOE KERR.

UNNECESSARY LEGISLATION.

Farmer—Don't you know that you can't kill anything this time of th' year?
De Sport—I ought to know! I've shot away about forty shells already without hitting anything.

HIS ANSWER.

I called upon my sweetheart, May,
And asked her if she'd name the day.
"I may," said May, "but maybe, too,
'Twill be some other man than you.

"Just look around, and you may find
Some other girl, for love is blind,
But if you do not find one soon
Just come around some time in June."

Up at the Head.

JOHNNY," said the teacher, "what great calamity has the State of New York suffered lately?"

"None, ma'am."

"Think again, Johnny."

"Sheehan didn't get to be senator."

"No, no. That's not it. Wasn't there a great fire in March?"

"Oh, yes. The statehouse burned down."

"What was the loss, Johnny?"

"Five millions, I believe."

"And don't you call that a great calamity?"

"No, ma'am—it's a great blessing."

"Why, how you talk!"

"Yes'm. It will give the grafters a chance to gobble $3,000,000 in rebuilding."

"Johnny, I don't exactly see the drift of your remarks," said the teacher after thinking a bit, "but you can go to the head of the class until I have figured the thing out."

JOE KERR.

IN THE SPRING.

I'll tell you what I'd like to do today,
If only bosses would accommodate—
I'd like to quit this job and go away
And let the ink stand and the paper weight.

HOUSEKEEPER'S REASON.

"What is your chief objection to moving pictures?"

"The dust that has accumulated behind them."

HE HAD A REASON.

"You look as if you had lost your best friend, old man. Why the grouch?"

"I wrote some Spring poetry for those people last Autumn on the understanding that I'd be paid for it upon publication. And now they've decided to hold it over until next year."

How Smith Beat Moving Day.

THE 1st of May—oh, moving day,
Smith rose up with the sun;
It did behoove that he must move,
And work it must be done.

But Smith was calm and full of balm,
A breakfast fine he ate;
And then he smoked before he poked—
His attitude was great.

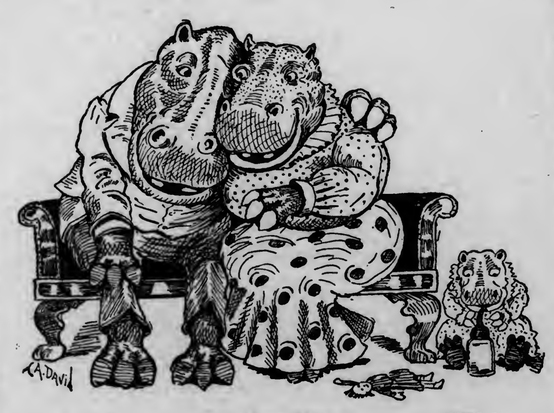
And when at last his ease was past,
And came the hour to pack;

He took it slow, and didn't go
To look for van or hack.

Beneath his arm, all safe from harm,
He took a collar box;
And out he went, a smiling gent,
And grinned at Jones and Cox.

So oft he'd moved—so oft he'd roved,
His sole possessions now;
A faded tie—a collar high,
And that was Smith—and how.

JOE KERR.



COULDN'T HELP IT.

She—Oh, Charlie! Do you love me as much as you did when I was a little slip of a girl?

He—A thousand times more, Sylphy! There's more of you to love!

POOR PLAYER.

First Golf Player—I see some man has suggested the use of dogs for caddies—what do you think of the idea?

Second Golf Player—Great! Dogs can't laugh at you.

PREPARATION.

"Why are you making those mud balls, little girl?"

"I'm waitin' for Susie Jinks to come past. You see she's Queen of the May!"

THE HERPICIDE GIRL

Advises Gentlemen.

At Mrs. Blank's reception I met a gentleman who fulfilled my ideal of a man in all but one particular. He had a good head, fine physique, perfect manners, was a most interesting personality, and bore himself with the distinguished air of a gentleman. His linen was immaculate and his clothes faultless as to cut and material. But all the pleasant first impression was ruined when I discoverqd the collar and shoulders of his dress-coat covered with loose hair and flakes of dandruff.

To me this was an indication of personal carelessness, not to say uncleanliness. I wanted to tell him to get a bottle of Newbro's Herpicide. This remarkable remedy would, in a short time remove every trace of dandruff from his head, stop his hair from falling and prevent him from becoming bald. I don't like baldheaded men; they look old whether they are or not.

Dandruff is caused by a germ and Newbro's Herpicide kills that germ. The itching, which is so frightful with dandruff stops almost instantly.

Herpicide is the Original Remedy, that destroys dandruff. There is nothing in the world just like it, nothing that is "just as good."

One Dollar Size Bottles are guaranteed by all druggists to give satisfaction.

Applications obtained at the good barber shops.

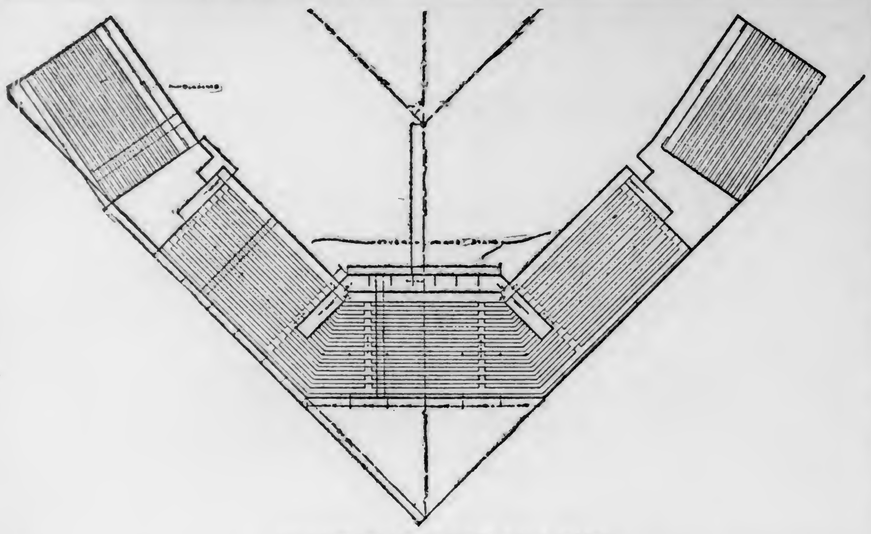
GRAND STANDS AND BLEACHERS IN NEW PARK WILL SEAT FROM 2,500 TO 3,000



GROUND PLAN OF NEW BALL PARK.

The accompanying drawing shows the plans for the grand stand and bleachers to be erected at the new baseball park on Park Point. The plans were prepared by F. G. German.

A seating capacity of about 2,500 to 3,000 is provided for under ordinary conditions, and by crowding a large number more can be seated. For ordinary occasions that will be sufficient. For big games, the crowd will have to run into an overflow.

The stands are to be erected facing the bay. The two extreme sections shown in the drawing are the bleachers, each fifty-one feet long. There are about two hundred lineal feet of covered grand stand, with eleven rows of seats. Five boxes are provided directly back of home plate.

Home plate will be fifty feet from the boxes and the plan is such that the distance from all of the stands and bleachers to the home plate is not great in comparison with other ball parks. The stands and bleachers will be of modern construction, with plenty of aisle and exit room. There will be two entrances and exits and every provision will be made for the handling of big crowds.

BLANCKE WILL REPORT JUNE 1

Pitcher Says He Is in Condition and Expects Good Season.

In a letter to Darby O'Brien, which was received this morning, Claude Blancke, who pitched last season with the White Sox, stated that he will report the first of June. If Blancke is in anything like the shape he was before he injured his arm, he should prove a very valuable asset to the pitching staff.

When he is right there is no better pitcher in the league than Blancke. In the letter he informed the orator that his arm has recovered its strength and that he looked for the present season to be the best of his career.

Blancke was secured from Dayton and was considered one of the very best twirlers in minor league baseball. His work with the White Sox was more than good, when it is taken into consideration that he pitched through many games when it caused him intense pain to even get the ball up to the plate. The nerve and grit displayed by Blancke last season is worthy of commendation.

NEW DEMOCRAT TALKS IN HOUSE

Fields Supports Free List Bill and Cannon Attacks It.

Washington, May 6.—W. J. Fields of Kentucky, a new Democratic member, began the debate on the free list bill in the house today.

"Sixteen years ago there was a wedding. Mr. Republican Party married Miss Money. They started in to live happily ever after, but there were no legitimate children. They adopted, however, three children, Andrew, John D. and J. P., and trouble after trouble followed until they have been driven from home."

Speaker Cannon took the floor in opposition to the bill. He demanded to know why live cattle, rice and other products of the South had not been put on the free list bill, when these products of the Northern farmer had been deprived of protection by the reciprocity measure. He intimated that Southern members on the ways and means committee had kept the tariff protection on Southern products.

"And you wool raisers of Montana and Wyoming are in a bad way," he added, "unless Texas comes to your rescue."

ON THIS PAGE FIND REAL ESTATE OPPORTUNITIES

SCIENTIFIC METHOD NEEDED IN CARING FOR REAL ESTATE

Some six months ago the entire country was instantly impressed and deeply interested in the testimony given by Louis Brandeis before the interstate commerce commission in Washington relative to the "scientific management" of railroads, or, rather, the lack of it, and the need of economy and the overcoming of the enormous waste which the present system of railroad management, with but few exceptions, encourages.

Since Mr. Brandeis started agitation of this question the development of its meaning to the public and its possibility of application to all industry, commerce and business has grown with rapid strides. Improved real property is something every human being is interested in, either as owner or tenant. In the building of our homes and business houses lack of economy and wasteful methods in production mean increased cost, and, in the last analysis, high rents and higher cost of living, says G. Richard Davis, writing in the Philadelphia Times.

In like manner, the same improvident methods in the management of improved property vitally affect the net income of the owner and make for a high cost of maintenance and, therefore, of rental demand to offset it.

Waste in Management.

A cursory study of the present accepted methods in our system of management of property of all classes reveals a continuous waste, small perhaps, in some cases, great in others, but in the aggregate simply enormous—a source, therefore, of unending drain on the tenant, who must pay the cost of waste if the landlord is to receive a reasonable income.

The custom of leasing apartments, dwellings and business space for short periods is quite an accepted one. As a result, the tenants of an apartment house are migratory; in that class, apartments whose rentals range from $800 to $1,500 per annum are rarely leased for longer than three years, the usual period being one year The temptation to move recurs continually, therefore, with a resultant wear and tear (i. e., waste) to the apartment, to the halls and corridors of the building, necessitating repairs and redecorating for the new tenant, to suit each individual taste and to offer attractive inducements to the homeseeker.

The custom of year-to-year leasing is one long adhered to by property owners, its probable inception being in the fact that each succeeding year the owner might increase rentals, if conditions warranted. The continuous new supply of new space for housings always offered has made this possibility very remote in all but few localities, and in all but those few seasons when supply is far behind demand.

As a result of this practice, it is safe to say that at least 5 per cent of the gross income of most apartment houses in New York is devoted to the redecorating of apartments each year, whereas if a change of tenancy were less frequent one-half this amount might be saved.

Short-Lease Custom.

In business buildings the short-term lease is less a custom, but still not nearly as long a term is insisted on in this city as is the custom of the great cities in Europe. In the large German cities leases of apartments for twenty-five years are not uncommon, and five to ten years is the general rule. The tenant makes all his own repairs, thereby receiving an incentive to take proper care of the apartment, and the saving under such a custom, or system, is, therefore, very great.

In many of the new apartment houses in Berlin the apartments are leased unfinished—i. e., without finished floors, lighting fixtures, decorations, etc. The tenant stains and paints the woodwork to suit his fancy, lays parquetry floors or plain ones, indulges in fixtures, refrigerators, ranges, and the other equipment, as his needs require or his purse allows, caring for all this at his own expense during his entire occupancy.

The average American would be indeed startled if such an idea were to be introduced here. Speculative building and competition among owners have compelled customs here that have grown to be abuses, and the waste and loss due to lack of even ordinary care of leased premises is yearly an item of great magnitude to every owner.

In the management of our buildings, methods of long ago are still followed for lack of any reason except that of "custom." The wasteful method of purchasing coal by weight instead of by burning capacity; the use of pea coal where egg coal would yield better results at less cost, and vice versa; unscientific methods of handling fires, ashes, etc., in the furnace rooms of our large buildings, are all subjects that demand attention in many cases; every day of the year time and money are thrown away by inadequate equipment and careless and unscientific methods in the production of heat and steam power in our buildings.

In like manner, our methods of lighting are still grossly inadequate and wasteful. The use of high-powered lighting lamps instead of carbon filament ones has been demonstrated to be a real saving and improvement, yet the latter lamp is still in general use.

The hanging of lighting fixtures in such a manner as to reflect light in the wrong direction, and the use of globes or shades that absorb 25 to 50 per cent of the light, is a most frequent custom, particularly in our business buildings.

The ignorance shown and the absurd methods employed in making repairs to some of our buildings costs our property owners great sums of money yearly — the wrong kind of paint, for instance, used on the exterior of a building—paint suitable for inside work, perhaps, but not for outside work, where the elements soon destroy its color and usefulness.

The use of wrong materials in cleaning and caring for floors is another instance of lack of scientific method; oil, varnish and shellac all have their uses, but different floors demand different treatment, and this very constant item of maintenance in apartment houses and other buildings is due to lack of knowledge and wasteful method or custom.

And so on through the thousand and one details of the care and management of improved property, waste continues, to the benefit of no one, but to the detriment of all.

Often Criminal Waste.

From another viewpoint the wrongful use to which property is put is oftentimes criminal in its waste by reason of the lack of deriving the proper income the property is entitled to produce.

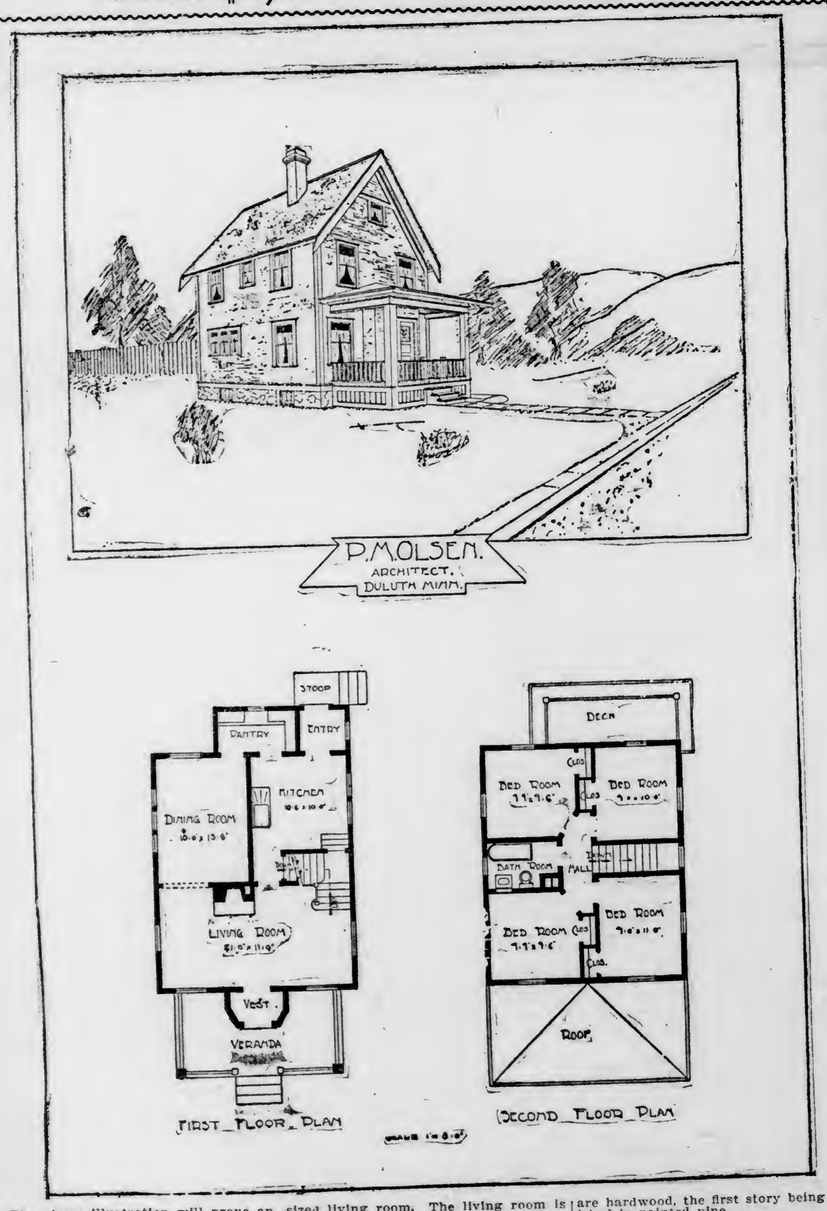
For instance, one large store may bring much more than two small stores whose total dimensions equal the greater unit; and, vice versa, a store often remains vacant for a long time, until the owner or manager subdivides his store and finds two tenants who can successfully conduct business where one tenant in the larger store cannot.

And so through the countless and various kinds of property and situations and localities in this great city; a scientific study by the manager of the property under his care will demonstrate how property for some purposes is useless or unremunerative, whereas, altered or modified to the needs of the locality, it becomes well adapted thereby, and thereafter a splendid income producer.

Until such a change is made, when change is demanded, there is a wasted income, a lack of efficient management, and scientific, or may one say "common sense" effort? The right way to do a thing so often appears to be the "customary" way; why not try to find the right way by forgetting what others have done, and really study your problem for yourself?

The writer believes in the "efficiency engineer" in business as well as mechanics. Science is striding forward from the lecture room to the workshop, from theory to daily practice, in our homes and in our business.

COMFORTABLE HOME WHICH WOULD COST $3,200 TO BUILD IN DULUTH



The above illustration will prove an interesting study for those who are planning to build a moderate priced home for themselves in Duluth.

The plans call for a neat seven-room frame dwelling with a stone foundation.

The design is simple, but pleasing, and it contains many attractive features, while every foot of floor space has been utilized.

The front door opens into a roomy vestibule, which opens into a good sized living room. The living room is particularly well arranged. The fireplace is situated as a fireplace should be—to throw the glow of its light over the entire room. The open stairway which is also accessible from the kitchen is a most convenient feature.

On the second floor are four bedrooms and a bathroom. Each bedroom has its own closet. The bedrooms are of medium size with plenty of wall space and abundantly supplied with light.

The floors throughout the building are hardwood, the first story being finished in painted pine.

The outside dimensions are 22 feet front by 26 feet depth excluding pantry and entry. The basement under the entire building is seven feet high; first story nine feet and the second story eight feet. In Duluth or vicinity a dwelling of the above design and description can be built, including hot water heating and plumbing, at a cost of $3,200.

Situated 28 miles from Superior, 36 miles from Duluth, on the D. S. S & A. Ry. Four trains daily. The 18th street Auto road runs direct to this charming lake, a distance of 24 miles. The city of Nebagamon, situated on this beautiful lake, has sufficient variety of up-to-date stores and hotels and bank to supply all needs of vacationists and dwellers. Farm land, adjoining water front lots, practically all cleared—Nebagamon river flowing from lake to Brule river, a distance of five miles, is as noted for trout fishing as the Brule. Magnificent residences and clubs now at Nebagamon, Nebagamon river and Brule river.

"By the shore of Lake Nebagamon,
By the shining, laughing waters,
Hiawatha stood and waited.
Bright above him shone the heavens,
Level spread the Lake before him;
From its bosom leaped the black bass,
Sparkling, flashing in the sunshine;
On its margin the great forest,
Stood reflected in the waters,
Every tree top had its shadow,
Motionless beneath the water."
—W. B. CARLIN.

The enchanting Lake Nebagamon has twenty-seven miles of shore line, sandy beach and is the largest sand bottom lake in the Northwest. While not large enough for severe storms, Lake Nebagamon offers sufficient surface for a long and exciting motor boat or sailing race, while the canoeists will find it ideal. The shores slope evenly and gradually downwards making the safest of bathing places. The shore line is very heavily wooded with a magnificent virgin forest of birch, oak, maple and Norway pine. Pure spring crystal water feeds the lake.

ACTIVITY IN THE MARKET

Sales of Improved Real Estate Show Increases During Week.

Improvement in the Demand for Duluth Investment Property.

The real estate market was more active during the past week than it has been for some weeks. The sales were not important in point of consideration, but a number of pieces of improved property changed hands, and the inquiry for investment property was greater in volume.

The real estate men expected that the improvement would come with May 1 and a steady improvement is expected from now on. With the arrival of warm weather the sale of building lots will increase and a number of new plats are expected to be put out this month.

WEEKLY SURVEY OF REAL ESTATE DEVELOPMENTS

Promotion of Real Estate Business By Weekly Exchange Meetings—"Is Our House in Order?"—The Investment Spirit—Real Estate Opportunities.

THE Duluth real estate exchange took an important step at its May meeting this week when it decided to hold weekly meetings for the promotion of business. The monthly meetings of the real estate men have always been important factors in the promotion of business, for they enabled the dealers to get together and discuss matters of interest to themselves as business men, and to the city. The listing system established the first of the year was a long step forward in that it gave dealers knowledge of what other dealers had to sell. The decision to hold weekly meetings is the most important yet.

At present when a real estate man is looking for a piece of property of a certain kind, he must call up or visit all the other real estate men in the city in his quest for it. When he has a piece of property to sell, he must follow the same course unless he can find a purchaser himself and does not want to divide commissions. Under the proposed system of weekly meetings, the real estate men will get together. A wants a two-family brick building in the central part of the city for a client. He can make known his want and if C or X or M has such a piece of property in his listings he can find a sale, if the two parties can be brought together on terms. Otherwise perhaps A would have to visit twenty real estate offices and would then perhaps miss the man with a client wanting that kind of property.

The promotion of business is to be the object of the weekly meetings and the members of the real estate exchange believe it will be accomplished. The real estate men of the city are showing more of a get-together spirit than ever. The disposition to pull against each other because they are all looking for business is disappearing and in its place is arising a spirit of pull-together-for-Duluth.

IT IS estimated that between this time and Oct. 1, this year, fully 100,000 people will visit Duluth.

Is our house in order?

When a man is expecting company at his home, he sees that everything around his house is as it should be. Not that things are ever radically wrong, but the carelessness of habit develops in the best regulated families and unless the members of the family watch themselves and each other, practices will arise that will not reach the standard of efficient, careful housekeeping.

So it is with a city. Unless the citizens watch themselves and each other, the city will fall behind in some seemingly unimportant details that will loom up as important in the eyes of visitors, who do not know what the general practice is or what the city is like when everybody is on his good behavior and all are pulling together.

Is Duluth's house in order to receive its guests? Duluth's streets are in good condition, generally. The boulevard is passable and furnishes opportunity for a delightful drive. Steamboats will enable the visitors to travel around the harbor and up the river. A big summer hotel would not be amiss, but on the whole Duluth has hotel accommodations for its visitors. There are a few unsightly places, some eye-offending billboards and some other marks of crudity which will be eliminated in time, but they are unimportant.

Physically Duluth's house is in order. But there is something more. Is every Duluthian ready to swear by his city? Is he ready to take the visitor in hand and tell him Duluth is the best city on the face of this globule, bar none? Is he ready to say that Duluth has the finest crowd of people ever gathered together in any city?

If he is a real estate man is he ready to tell his visitor that the other real estate men of the city are high-minded men with business honor and meritorious propositions to offer, or will he say that all other real estate men are thugs and high-binders and that every property offer that he doesn't handle is a swindle?

If he is a merchant is he ready to say that Duluth has the most progressive merchants in any city in the United States, or will he say that Duluth is infested with crooks, masquerading as merchants?

The term is much overworked, but is expressive—the "knockers" are ever with us. Duluth ought to get rid of them this year. Every man should look into himself and if he sees any sign of the "knocking" spirit, he should promptly bury the hammer where it can never be found and prepare to pull with every other man for the good of Duluth and to impress visitors with the knowledge that Duluth is a great community of people living together in perfect harmony.

"Do it for Duluth" and our house will be in order.

FOLLOWING every panic, the tendency of the investors is to seek out something that cannot be manipulated away from them. The profits in real estate do not come as mysteriously as they do in the rise and fall of stocks, nor can they disappear with the same astonishing completeness.

Investment is a necessity to every one who is making more than his board and clothes; but because it is a necessity it lines up the investing class in competition with themselves, forcing many onto the sidetrack of speculation.

In real estate, the laws affecting the increase and depreciation of values are definite. They are easily understood, and in general they are the self-evident principles and axioms of political economy. That is why the investor, seeking to play "safe," naturally turns to real estate. He understands that people can not go anywhere without carrying real estate values with them; that population makes land values; that the greater the population, the greater will be the land values; that the centers of this population will be the points of highest values and that converging lines of transportation or any natural or commercial attraction that compels a large percentage of the people to collect regularly along any street or at any point gives to that location the high earning power of a business location.

That is the first requisite in determining the investor. Location value is to be considered before everything else. If it is in the direct path of the people, they will all pay tribute—revenue in rents or profits—to the man who owns it. The man who owns it does not worry as to whether the cashier will show up at the bank. He knows that no manipulation of stocks or change in the tariff schedule is going to empty the city of its population. He does not have to sit down and watch. He does not have to sit up and worry, not to take a day from his own affairs. He does not have to know very much, so long as he knows enough to buy land in the direct path of the people.

The influx of summer visitors soon will have its effect on the real estate market. Every year, scores of Eastern capitalists, attracted by the coolness and comfort of the lake trip, visit Duluth. The capitalist always has his investment eye open. He may be out for pleasure pure and simple, but if opportunities for profitable investment are thrust before his eyes, he doesn't turn away. The business sense is too well developed. The erection of the steel plant here has attracted the attention of the investing public to Duluth. Many of the visitors will come this summer with their eyes open for opportunities. Some will be skeptical, some will be stubbornly unbelieving and some will be open to conviction. Many of them will buy Duluth real estate, for they will be quick to see its investment value.

NO CHANGE IN OUTLOOK

Hopes for Busy Season Still Rest in Residence Building.

Contract for Wolvin Building Addition Is Still Held Up.

Residence building continues to hold the center of the stage, and little but residence building is in prospect for this year. A few flat buildings will be erected, but architects and builders alike are placing their hopes for a busy season on the home builders.

The plans for the addition to the Wolvin building have been out for some time, but the contract has not yet been let, the bids having been sent to the Eastern owners. Work on the Rust-Parker-Martin building on Lake avenue is under way, and the piles have been driven for the addition to the Northern Cold Storage & Warehouse company's plant. The old building on the site of the new Cooke hotel on Superior street was torn down this week.

J. D. Mollitor has been awarded the contract for building a double house for Henry Folz on the southwest corner of Jefferson street and Twentieth avenue east. Austin Terryberry is the architect.

Ellerbe, Round & Sullivan have prepared plans for a modern residence to be built for M. F. Rosette at Eighth street and Fifty-eighth avenue west. It will be a six-story frame building and will cost about $4,000.

J. J. Wangenstein has moved his offices from the Providence building, where he was for sixteen years, to the sixth floor of the Torrey building. Mr. Wangenstein is receiving bids for a 12-family flat building for the Wahl-Messer company.

T. A. Linden has been awarded the general contract for the new building for Z. T. Mullin of Washington, D. C., on the southwest corner of Third avenue east and Superior street. The building is to be a two-story brick structure fronting seventy-five feet on Superior street and extending back to Michigan street. Bids are now being taken on the heating, plumbing and electrical work. P. M. Olsen is the architect.

The Lakeside Land company has started the erection of a modern home for Freeman K. Randall on the northeast corner of Robinson street and Forty-third avenue east. Mr. Randall recently paid $2,000 for the corner, which is one of the finest in Lakeside. It is 160 by 140 feet. The residence, for which plans are being made by P. M. Olson, will cost about $5,000.

The Lakeside Land company has also started the erection of a residence for D. R. Hanford on Wyoming street near Sixtieth avenue east, and one for Arthur McKindley of Two Harbors at the corner of Glenwood street and Fifty-seventh avenue east. The company will also build six houses, two on Glenwood street, two on Wyoming street, and two on Juniata street. P. M. Olsen is preparing the plans.

Bray & Nystrom are preparing plans for a modern brick-veneered dwelling for T. F. Upham in Crescent View Park. It will be a nine-room building.

Bray & Nystrom are also making plans for a ten-room grade school at Eveleth, to replace the burned Payal school. Bids for the Mountain Iron school, plans for which were prepared by the same firm, will be opened Monday.

DAY OF POORLY BUILT HOUSE HAS PASSED

"The time for cheap residences is gone, said a Duluth architect. "The demand now is for good houses, built with style and durability. Good frame construction, brick, stone or brick veneer are most in demand now. They must have ventilation and hot water heating before they answer the demands.

"There have been too many bungalows built for a couple of hundred dollars. Duluth has a splendid array of architecture, and there are few which can compare with us, the age of the city considered.

A five-room modern house ought to cost between $3,000 and $3,500 nowadays. Anything in a five-room modern structure which is built for $1,800 and $2,000 is poorly built. Good doors and window casings aer big things to remember—in fact, all of the mill work ought to be the best—a thing which is not possible in trying to build a $3,500 house for $2,000. Better plumbing, better heating, better hardware—all these things are the cry now.

"The time is not far distant, and, in fact, we can look to it now, when Duluth will be proud of its architecture. In the end substantial structures are cheapest, as one will pay more for repairs and fuel where a house is poorly built than would have been necessary in building a substantial home to start."

BACK AWAY FROM WHEAT

Buyers Run Before Heavy Shipments of the Real Article.

Rain and Snow Fall in Canada---Precipitation in Argentina.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 6.—Wheat declined slightly today, the contributing factor being the excessive weakness in the Chicago May delivery, it dropped 2c. Duluth May declined ¼c and July lost ¾c. September declined ⅝c. Cash wheat was quoted ½c over July, but ⅝c over was paid for choice spring wheat. Rye was unchanged and oats lost ⅜c. Barley was unchanged. Linseed was weaker. Shipments are slightly heavier both here and at Winnipeg, where values were weakest. Duluth May lost 1c to $2.56, July declined 2c to $2.56 bid and September advanced 1c to $2.20 without trading. Cash seed was 1c over May. Winnipeg opened at $2.40, but declined 2c to $2.38. Plata seed for May-June delivery at Antwerp was quoted at $2.19, including 4 per cent for impurities.

The speculative position of the May article was indicated by the action of the Chicago delivery. Heavy purchases of winter wheat, chiefly from Nebraska, were responsible for the downturn. When some of this wheat was offered in the pit against the current delivery the cash holders who are the leading longs back away from it and permitted values to slide rapidly downward. The sudden slump does not mean that the May deal has exploded nor that it is over, on the contrary, that such a slump could have taken place without shaking out a large amount of long wheat is in itself an indication of the strength of the bulls and their ability to hold the fort against their opponents, at least until they are forced to market the "corpse."

It appears to be the policy of the longs to take delivery of all the wheat they have bought and trust to future events to enable them to market their property. The May deal is not over, but weather conditions may place further obstacles in the path of the longs which will merely complicate the situation. Legitimate conditions seem bearish even though supplies at Chicago and Duluth are smaller than last year. On the other hand the big stores at Minneapolis are not significant of the true conditions in that market, so far as spring wheat is concerned, a large portion of the stocks comprising winter wheat.

The cash demand in the Northwest today was not as urgent as some Minneapolis dispatches indicated. Cash buyers said that wheat was not difficult to buy and they were not especially eager to take on wheat although they did not reject choice spring wheat when they could get it without stiffening premiums. The country is selling more first-class wheat to arrive. The sales are the natural offerings of wheat that was not needed for seeding. Minneapolis millers, said a dispatch, were discriminating against soft winter wheat because they were experiencing no difficulty in obtaining all of the spring wheat they desired.

Rain in Sight.

The weather map was an element of concern to the bulls. Rains in the Northwest probably would induce speculative selling by the bears who have hesitated to attack values so long as no new argument presented itself and the old news seemed threadbare from much usage. An area of low barometric pressure is approaching the three Northwestern states and skies over the three states today generally were cloudy. A heavy rain and snow fell in the Northern part of Alberta and at noon rain was falling in Western Saskatchewan. No precipitation of consequence was reported in the Northwestern states.

C. E. Lewis of Minneapolis wired that wheat is up along the Minot-Bismarck line of the Soo. The ground is moist and is in first class shape. The cold weather, said the message, has had a tendency to make the wheat stoll out in good shape. The lack of heavy rains will send the roots of the plant down to the moisture which will insure sturdy growth. If rain comes in three weeks, said the message, the crop outlook will be favorable. On the other hand there are some reports that the soil is rapidly drying now that the weather has turned warmer. The situation cannot be described as serious but injects considerable doubt into the situation.

The secretary of the Texas Grain Dealers' association wired that crop prospects in Texas are excellent. The condition of May wheat in Michigan was placed at 93 per cent compared with 87 in April, 86 last May and 87 in June of 1910, when the crop was 15,000,000 bu. The abandoned area is estimated at 2 per cent. The condition of oats is 96. The government's May crop report will be issued at 1:30 p. m., Duluth time, Monday. It will give an estimate of the acreage of winter wheat remaining on May 1 to be harvested, the percentage of total spring plowing contemplated and the percentage of spring planting on May 1, with comparisons.

The Liverpool market was slightly lower on account of the weakness at Buenos Ayres where realizing took place because of favorable weather for the new crop. There have been heavy rains in the North of Argentina and wheat already planted is doing well in all portions of the country. Russian news continues especially bullish. The weather has turned favorable, however, but moisture is lacking. Wheat is firmly held as there is a good export demand.

MARKET GOSSIP

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: As a result of the weaker American cables and the closing weakness in Buenos Ayres yesterday, realizing developed here and at the opening values were ¼d to ⅜d lower. Plate offers were freer and crop advices from Argentine were highly favorable. During the morning there was further evidence of support in the near months and prices advanced, recovering the opening decline. Buying was attributed to light arrivals here and further inquiry for Australian cargoes, with Indian offers firm. There was a tightening up of Canadian offers and Australian cargoes were firmly held. The continent was still bidding for distant cargoes and Paris showed pronounced strength in the face of outside weakness. At the close the market was steady, with near months unchanged and October ¼c lower than yesterday. The corn market opened ¼d lower and further declined ¼d during the morning. Selling was in the way of realizing on the freer American offers and smaller demand for Danubian offers and the quiet demand for spot. Our Argentine agent cables there has been further heavy rains in the North, and now the whole country is in a splendid condition for seeding and wheat already planted is doing well.

Closing wheat cables: Antwerp, ⅝c lower. Berlin, ⅜c higher. Liverpool, unchanged to ¼d off; corn, ½d off.

The strength of the Budapest market, wheat closing 1¾c higher than yesterday, was due to short covering upon weather which is unfavorable for growing crops. Broomhall says that this is indicative of heat throughout Southeast Europe, which is very unfavorable for the growing crops.

The crop report issued this morning by the Canadian Pacific railway general grain agent shows that while Alberta and Saskatchewan had better weather than Manitoba at the start, Manitoba is now having very favorable weather for seeding while rain is general farther west and snow rain is general farther west and snow has been felt at some points, although no damage has been done. Swift Current reports three inches of snow as a result of a six-hour fall of both rain and snow. Saskatoon reports ten hours' heavy rain and snow at most points on division. Kerr Robert reports four inches. Alberta has even more snow than Saskatchewan, but there has been no damage to the winter crops. There has been frost on the Medicine Hat to Calgary sub-division and also on the Lacombe branch. CHICAGO MARKET.

May Wheat Breaks Badly But Recovery Follows.

Chicago, May 6.—A break of 4¼c a bu in the price of May wheat today followed withdrawal of support by the leading bulls. Trade, however, was only scattered, not much demand being apparent from shorts. Other months weakened at once with the May option, although the latter delivery made a quick rally of 2⅝c. Rain in the Canadian Northwest was partly responsible for the decline. Further aid for the bears came from the cables mainly as a result of favorable crop developments in the Argentine. Opening figures here were ¾c lower to ⅛@¼c up. July started at 88¾@88⅞c to 88⅝c, dropped to 88⅜c and recovered to 88½@88⅝c.

The object in lowering the price of May was said to be to check the movement of cash wheat to Chicago. A fresh decline in May carried deferred months below the level reached early. July closed easy at 88¼@88⅜c, a net loss of ½c.

Lightness of country offerings tended to make corn firm. The break in wheat, though, acted as more than an offset. July opened the same as last night to ⅛c higher at 52⅝c to 52¾c, and receded to 52⅜c.

Thereafter the market was comparatively steady. July closed ⅛@¼c net lower at 52⅜@52½c.

Good buying on the part of a local house gave some stiffness to the market for oats. July started unchanged to ⅛c higher at 32⅝c to 32¾c and steadied at 32½@32⅝c.

Higher quotations for hogs lent help to provisions. First sales were at last night's level to 5c above, with July delivery $14.87½ for pork, $8.02½ to $8.05 for lard and $7.87½ to $7.90 for ribs.

DULLNESS IN STOCKS

Trading Perfunctory and Early Losses Recovered Near the Close.

Especial Strength Shown By Western Maryland and Northern Pacific.

New York, May 6.—Opening quotations in the stock market today showed few variations of importance from the close yesterday. The widest change was in Canadian Pacific, which lost ⅝. Variations in other stocks were almost equally divided between small gains and small losses.

The market adopted a generally declining tendency, with considerable pressure against the coal stocks. Realizing in Canadian Pacific also was a factor in depressing prices and there also was some selling on the disappointing character of the trade reviews. United States Rubber opened 3¼ down on liquidation inspired by the unfavorable annual report. Canadian Pacific lost 1½. Covington & Ohio 1¼, and Lehigh Valley 1.

The market closed steady. Trading in the final hour was even more perfunctory until shortly before the close when a moderate covering movement was effective in restoring practically all losses in the active group. Especially was strength shown by Western Maryand and Northern Pacific, the former advancing 2½ points.

Cotton Market.

New York, May 6.—The cotton market opened steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 5 points and during the first few minutes sold 2@6 points above the closing figures of last night, the advance being led by old crop months, which made new high records for the movement on covering, firm cables, the bullish week-end figures and continued bull support. The weather map made a favorable showing, however, the official Western belt forecast failing to confirm private predictions of rain tomorrow in that section of the South, and the market during the middle of the morning was unsettled with the old crop holding a net advance of about 2@4 points, while the new crop ruled 3@4 points net lower.
